Court Adjourns Until Friday Morning

District court opened in Crowell yesterday afternoon and will adjourn Friday morning. The court has not yet completed its session and no report has been made by it. H. W. Production of 70 Barrels Oil Daily Allowed at Thalia

The Thalia oil field is now beginning its third year with the daily production of six wells as has been the case for nearly two years. All of the six wells are now on proration and the production allowed from the field is seventy barrels per day. The Shell Petroleum Corporation operating all of the wells, although the Fain-McGaha Oil Corporation of Wichita Falls has an interest in two of the producers. The wells that are being pumped in the Thalia field and the amount of oil that is allowed to be pumped from each follows: Tarver A, 10 barrels; Johnson No. 1, 10 barrels; Thompson No. 1, 10 barrels; Ward No. 1, 4 barrels; Tarver B, 20 barrels; Tarver-French No. 1, 21 barrels. The Thompson, Johnson and Ward offsets to the Tarver No. 1 and four of these tests are located on each other. The three offsets are being pumped from one separator plant that is located on the Johnson lease. The Tarver No. 1 is the main separator. The Tarver B and the Tarver-French, which are located about one-half mile west of the Johnson lease, are pumped from these four tests, and are pumped from the same power plant. The Tarver-French is located at the Tarver-French.

Each week the oil is pumped through the Standalone pipe line that runs to the South Vernon field. The Standalone pipe line was constructed within about two weeks after the Tarver No. 1 was put on in June 6, 1929. There is a number of storage tanks about the field with a total capacity of 40 barrels. The oil has a 37 gravity test, which is considered good.

R. Beard has been in charge of pumping operations since April of this year. He came from Rock Hill and he and his family live in a residence that the Shell Petroleum Corporation erected near the discovery well. A small warehouse is also located next to the Tarver No. 1. Mr. Beard succeeded D. Coursey.

TRUSCOTT WINS CHAMPIONSHIP OF WHEAT BELT

Truscott won the championship of the Wheat Belt Baseball League by defeating Thalia 15 to 9 in a baseball game here Sunday afternoon before a large crowd of Truscott, Thalia and Crowell people. This was the fifth game in the play-off between the two teams as each team had won two games. Thalia was the winner in the first half of the league race and Truscott won the last half.

Truscott took an early lead with 5 runs in the first inning and held the lead throughout the game, although the score was 5 to 4 at the end of the fourth.

A triple play, a rare occurrence anywhere, took place in this game and resulted in Truscott checking Thalia rally. Roy Mints and Phillips had reached second and first on singles. With none out, Smith hit a hot grounder to Pogue, third baseman, who took the ball and touched the base on the same instant to force Mints out. A quick throw to second forced Phillips and from there the ball beat Smith to first.

B. Withrow, Truscott first baseman, featured the game with three home runs.

Community Turnip Patch Site Given By A. L. Johnson

Arrangements for one community turnip patch for Crowell have already been made and another one is planned. A. L. Johnson has donated a half acre site, located one block west from the square, for one patch. The city will furnish the water that the fire boys will use in irrigating the patch. Planting is to start at once and will be supervised by Fred Rennels, county agent.
Through this plan it will be possible to aid many people of this community who are unable to buy food.
Mr. Johnson raised a great amount of turnips on this patch last year and the ground is now in shape for planting.
Anyone having another site near a fire plug that they would be willing to furnish for another community patch are urged to get in touch with Mr. Rennels or The News office.

CROWELL AND WICHITA FALLS TO PLAY THREE POLO GAMES HERE TO HELP LEGION STATUE FUND

Three polo games between Crowell and Wichita Falls will be played Saturday, Sunday and Tuesday, Sept. 26, 27 and 29, for the benefit of the American Legion statue fund.

Both teams are offering their services free for these contests and with the exception of a small amount for expenses the entire proceeds will go into the statue fund.

These games will offer the people of this section the first opportunity in several years to see two high class polo teams in action. Although the local team has not played a game at home in some time, yet it has played many contests away from here in the last few years and has made a very creditable showing wherever it has played.

The Wichita Falls team has a reputation of long standing as being one of the strongest polo aggregations in the Southwest.

Glen Offield will captain the Crowell team, which is to be composed of Bill Barry, Everett Bell, V. C. Wardell, Jack Brown of Truscott, and Cecil Adkins, Knox County rancher. Mr. Adkins formerly lived in Dallas, where he was captain of the Dallas polo team. He was with

SERIOUSLY ILL

Mrs. S. M. Roberts, one of Foard County's earliest settlers, became seriously ill Saturday and at present her condition has not improved.

SLIGHTLY INJURED

Miss Mary Clayton Giddings was able to return to work at Harwell's Variety last Friday after recovering sufficiently from injuries that she received in an auto accident near Bronco, Texas, a few days previous while returning from a visit to Carlsbad Cavern with friends from Celina, Texas.
A tire blow-out caused the car in which they were riding to overturn. Miss Giddings received a few severe bruises and scratches.

REAL SPORTSMANSHIP NEEDED

(An Editorial)
If it were only possible for the athletic fans of Crowell to show the same sportsmanship on the sidelines that the Crowell players show on the field, then this city would suffer very little criticism as being a town of poor sports.

Ninety to ninety-five per cent of the local fans, we believe, exhibit the truest kind of sportsmanship but it is the very small percentage that can offset the good work of the team and the rest of the fans and give the town a black eye by their uncalled for personal razzing directed at members of the opposing team and at the team itself.

We are mindful of the fact that this small percentage has the interest of the team at heart, possibly more than many of the other fans, and in their enthusiasm they forget all about sportsmanship and do not realize the harm they are doing—harm to their own team; harm to their own town; harm to the feelings of visiting team members and fans; harm to the enjoyment of local fans that are lovers of true sportsmanship.

We feel that the real glory of victory comes in gaining the respect and admiration of the defeated team and its visiting fans and that it certainly is a regrettable fact when we score an overwhelming victory that our visitors leave our town with such an unpleasant impression of it that they cannot help but pass it on to others when they get home. And to think that such a situation can result, even though the local football team has played a good, clean and honorable game and that the majority of the fans have behaved in a creditable manner. The Crowell student body itself has received considerable instruction along the line of sportsmanship and as a whole it behaves excellently.

We love to see plenty of rooting for the home team, but it certainly gets under our skin to see some of our local fans resort to insulting and bitterly razzing members of visiting teams who are suffering the sting of defeat, for during the past two years and so far this year, Crowell has not lost a football game on the local field.

We admit that an opponent sometimes pulls some underhanded stunt, but that is a matter for the officials and local captain to handle and conditions are not helped any when the home fans take it upon themselves to continue a hot verbal attack on this player and the rest of the team. Our boys seem to be able to take care of themselves and do not need our help in this respect. Such razzing puts the opponents in such a frame of mind that they often resort to unnecessary roughness that would not result if sideline razzing were absent and naturally our own team is harmed instead of helped as a result of such razzing by their own fans.

In talking with members of the Wildcat squad we have learned that they sincerely desire that local fans stop dealing opponents verbal misery. Our boys have played away from home and they know exactly how it feels to be in the same position that opponents have been in here.

It should always be taken into consideration that members of other teams are out there with the same right to fight for victory that our team has and if they put up a good clean fight they are to be commended rather than ridiculed.

Let us follow the example set by our own athletic teams and be as true sportsmen as they.

CROWELL WINS FIRST GAME OF SEASON 39 TO 0

The Crowell Wildcats blasted the lid off the 1931 football season with a 39 to 0 victory over Knox City High School here last Friday afternoon. Knox City never once threatened to score and was held to one first down while the Wildcats made eighteen.

Crews Cooper, right half, raced around right end for 29 yards and Crowell's first touchdown early in the first quarter. Dick Todd, left half, scored the second touchdown just as the quarter ended with a plunge of a few feet through the line. Crowell's third and final touchdown of the half came when Doyle Carter took a forward pass from Roy Mullins across the goal line for a gain of the necessary 20 yards. This was the only pass that Crowell completed out of five attempts, two of which were intercepted.

Cooper again scored for Crowell in the third quarter with a run of 9 yards through the line. John Todd, fullback, carried the ball across for the next touchdown after it had been advanced close to the goal line. Mullins, quarterback, made the final touchdown with a short run through the line.

In most every way the Crowell team performed very satisfactorily for the first game. Besides good offensive work on the part of the backs, the line showed unusual power in opening up hole after hole through which it was possible for the backs to make good gains. The Knox City back field was able to make but slight gains, and only a very few at that, through the Crowell forward wall.

First Quarter
Farmer kicked off to Crowell with D. Todd returning 12 yards to the 34-yard line. On the first play he made 4 yards and Cooper followed with another 8 yards and a first down. On two consecutive line plays D. Todd made another first down to place the ball on the 58 yard line. J. Todd made 2 yards. Cooper lost the ball on a lateral pass. A pass, D. Todd to Cooper, failed. D. Todd punted from Knox City's 42-yard line and the ball (Continued on Last Page)

MUCH PROGRESS IN 4-H PANTRY WORK IN FOARD

(By Dosca Hale, H. D. Agent)

In spite of the dry weather and other discouraging conditions the 4-H pantry work in Foard County is improving as never before. Practically all of the demonstrators and co-operators are canning both fruits and vegetables this year whereas heretofore, according to reports, numbers have been canning only a few or no vegetables.

Last year there was one pantry demonstrator in the county, while this year there are ten. From Mrs. Wallace Scales' report, demonstrator for last year, one would judge that Mrs. Scales has found that the plan of producing and conserving home products is the best way to fight hard times. Mrs. Scales filled over seven hundred containers besides helping her friends and neighbors with their programs. This year Mrs. Scales has already filled over 1200 containers, and has helped her neighbors.

A demonstrator should be one who can carry out the requirements of the demonstration rather thoroughly and in such a way that her work will be a good example to the co-operators in this work. The demonstrators of Foard County have found that they need to can and conserve enough food for at least six unproductive months. A 6-month supply of home canning food for a family of five should include at least the following: Meat, 50 containers; leafy vegetables, 120; starchy vegetables, 120; other vegetables, 80; fruit and tomatoes, 275; pickles and relishes, 52; preserves and jellies, 52. Making and filling a canning bud (Continued on Page 5)

Goodyear Co. Designs Tire for Tractors

"The sign, 'Tractors with Lugs Prohibited,' seen on highways almost everywhere, will have no terrors for the tractor operator of tomorrow who has his machine equipped with the newly announced pneumatic lug rubber tractor tire, a brand new development of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company," according to M. F. Crowell of the Crowell Service Station, local Goodyear dealer.

"The announcement just made by Goodyear engineers is of importance to users of tractors in industry, road building and maintenance and agriculture. Pneumatic lug tires are an entirely new product, not a modified truck tire. It is designed for tractor speeds, tractor weights and stresses, for tractor requirements of sure-footedness and drawbar pull under all conditions," Mr. Crowell said.

"The carcass is especially designed and constructed for the low pressures recommended and has an efficient tractive tread design of large rubber lugs placed diagonally across the tractor surface of the tire.

"Goodyear Pneumatic Lug Tractor Tires are made in four sizes: 36x6, 38x7 and 42x9. Wheels for changeovers of present tractors are available through tractor dealers or through rim and wheel distributors. "The new tire is already in production," Mr. Crowell said.

You Can Make Your Own Electric Rate

Your true electric rate is not the amount paid per kilowatt-hour for service used on the first or top step—but the net average cost per kilowatt-hour for all current consumed. Residential customers of the West Texas Utilities Company paid, during 1930, an average of only 6.5c per kilowatt-hour—and those customers using an electric range and electric refrigerator received service at an average rate of approximately 4c per kilowatt-hour!

The statement, then, that "you can make your own electric rate" is obviously true, for the more you take advantage of the many conveniences and comforts of electric service, the more inexpensive your service will become. The addition of new Electrical Servants will reduce your average cost per kilowatt-hour and bring you new comforts and conveniences worth far more than the slight cost of the additional service required.

The average residential customer now uses fifty kilowatt-hours per month. He could increase his service to three times that amount and only increase his total bill by approximately 10c a day.

Investigate the possibilities of complete household electrification. You will be surprised to find the equipment exceedingly moderate in first cost, and the operating expense ridiculously low.

LEGISLATING PROSPERITY

A great many editors and economists have attempted to explain in understandable phrases their opposition to legislative attempts at price fixing and rehabilitation of the agricultural industry. To our knowledge, however, none of them has spoken so plainly, so succinctly and so understandingly upon the subject as J. J. Taylor (State Press) of the Dallas News. He wrote:

"If State governments legislate a total or a fifty per cent decrease in next year's crop, it will stimulate all other cotton-growing countries to their best efforts. They will take up the slack, and our cotton farmers will hold the empty bag. The sooner we get away from political price making, the sooner we shall succeed to the advantage that accrued from a free flow of trade.
When the government comes in, the wise man gets out."

That there is too much government
in business and not enough business
in government is pretty well established. It is the reason that taxes are so high, and results so disappointing. It is the reason that it costs more to do less. It is the reason that citizens are organizing all over the state and country in taxpayers' protective leagues. It is the reason for much of the uneasiness in industry. And many people think it is the reason—or, at least, that it is partly responsible—for the protracted economic depression.—Editorials of the Month.

TEXAS' OPPORTUNITY

Texas controls gas and oil enough to provide fuel for half the nation's industries, and has in reserve countless thousands of tons of combustible lignite; it has a virtual monopoly of the most important chemicals known to the modern industrial world, producing more than eighty-five per cent of the world's, and almost one hundred per cent of the country's sulphur; completion of the intracoastal canal will connect its industrial centers with all of the important cities and populous areas of the Great Lakes and Mississippi Valley regions, and its splendid deep-water ports already have given it access to all world markets. To these add a mild and salubrious climate favorable to efficient year-round industrial operations and an abundant supply of surface and artesian waters. It is a picture of incomparable industrial opportunity.

No commonwealth of ancient or modern history ever had so valid a claim upon industrial and commercial pre-eminence, yet there is a rather general feeling that we are "muffing" the opportunity. Enough Texas gas is being wasted, experts inform us, to operate all of the industries of the great Chicago and Pittsburgh industrial districts; and instead of encouraging industry to come to Texas where this abundance of cheap fuel is available, our tactics are calculated to suggest that they locate elsewhere and pipe this precious fuel to the out-of-Texas location.

There was recently established in Corpus Christi a great chemical manufacturing industry whose initial investment will range between ten and twenty million dollars. It will afford employment for approximately fifteen hundred men. This giant industry came to Texas for three good reasons: it demanded a location central as to sulphur, salt and fuel, and nowhere else could that requirement be so well satisfied as in Texas.

If we would have more industries
in Texas, like the one established at Corpus Christi, we've got to build a reputation for industrialmindedness. We've got to conduct ourselves, particularly in our legislative halls, so that a reputation for fair-dealing is broadcast across the continent. We've got to sell ourselves on the idea of building, rather than destroying, payrolls. We've got to apply to our revenue needs
the doctrine of volume—of great volume and small assessments, rather than small volume and high assessments.

A little sane and constructive thinking and acting, and Texas can capitalize upon an opportunity that is without parallel. Capital and industry merely wait until we evidence an established policy that is deeply rooted in the principles of fairness and equity.—Editorials of the Month.

LAWS AND LAWYERS

Taken man for man, it is probable that the lawyers of the country illustrate as high a type of citizenship as can be found in the ranks of any other profession or calling. It is not, therefore, the purpose of this article
to cast any reflections upon lawyers, collectively or individually, so far as their integrity is concerned.

It is nevertheless true that lawyers are in the main to blame for the multiplicity of laws with which this country is burdened today, as well as for the dilatory tactics exhibited by our courts of high and low degree.

Some time ago the Illinois Bar Association declared that "the subject of law reform is technical and the lawyers must deal with it, yet they do nothing, or are hopelessly divided." No less an authority than Chief Justice Taft condemned our present system of criminal procedure. A similar expression was made in a resolution of the American Bar Association.

Congress and state legislatures are dominated by lawyers; all laws are framed by lawyers, (many of them to be later declared unconstitutional
by other lawyers acting in the en-

capacity of judges); all court procedure is established by lawyers—yet
the highest authorities among them
admit that they have made a sorry mess of it all.

What is the remedy? We don't know. Ask a lawyer.

VALUE OF GOOD WILL

One of the striking developments
of recent years in the business world
is the increased value which individuals and corporations place upon the good will of the public they serve.

Good will is really only another name for confidence, for if a business concern has the confidence of the community it has its good will.
It often takes years of fair dealing to build up the great asset of public confidence, yet it may be lost by a shady transaction.

For this reason, everlasting vigilance is required on the part of owners of a business, to see that not only are their own principles and policies sound, but that the spirit of the establishment is carried out by every person connected with it, even to the lowest salaried employe.

"Master Farmers" Favor Control of Cotton Acreages

Austin, Texas, Sept. 17. — The
"Master Farmers" of Texas, those outstanding farmers selected yearly by the farm journal Progressive Farmers and Southern Ruralist, favor control of cotton acreages by law, according to a survey made by the magazine.

The journal advised J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture,
that a poll showed many of the Master Farmers, heretofore against legislation of any kind, "are now firmly of the opinion that acreage must be controlled by law." A majority of them favored the plan of partial reduction originally sponsored by the commissioner of agriculture, and against the Long plan of total prohibition in 1932.

Excerpts from their communications follow:
"I think Governor Long's plan unwise. No tenant farmer could weather 1932 without cotton. Mr. Mc-Donald's plan is the best yet offered."—R. F. Alfroy, Godley.

cause greater competition from foreign countries. . . . Mr. McDonald's plan would be best."—J. M. Cham-berlee, Mabank.

sound; we would still make enough cotton and be able to build up our land."—William Ranly, Lott.

ing a law to govern cotton planting."—Arthur G. Ise, D'Hanis.

THE SUN UPON YOUR WRATH

THERE is a certain family in this country, consisting of several brothers whose combined resources total many millions. They meet every day at luncheon and discuss whatever problems the day's work has developed. After the debate is spirited, but when it is over they make their decision unanimous and always act as a unit.

All their financial operations are pooled. If one brother has a fortunate investment all share the benefit. If another takes a loss, it is charged to the common account.

What has preserved their remarkable partnership? One great rule. They never allow a disagreement to carry over into a new day. If two of them have had a falling out they must meet and settle it before the sun goes down.

I have an acquaintance who recently celebrated his twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. He said that when he and his wife were married they faced frankly the fact that some disagreements would inevitably arise. Therefore, they tried to remove in advance two of the most common causes of misunderstanding.

First of all, money. Nothing causes more marital grief than the constant argument about expense. The husband who does not make his wife a regular allowance, who compels her constantly to ask for money, explain its needs and account for its expenditure, is sure of plenty of debate.

They decided what part of his income she ought to have. He then arranged that his salary check should be divided into two parts; her part was deposited not only in a separate account but in a different bank.

Second, jealousy. He said to her: "I love you and trust you.
I know that you love and trust me. When my feeling changes I'll tell you, and I'll count on you to be equally honest. Until that time I am not going to ask you any questions or fret myself, no matter what you do or whom you meet.

"As for the troubles which we could not foresee," he concluded, "we agreed that we should never take them to bed. We would make up and forgive before night-fall, and go to sleep in peace."

Many years ago St. Paul, writing to his friends the Ephesians, said: "Let not the sun go down upon your wrath."

What would happen, in business and in marriage, if we should try that good rule for a year?

there would be no wheat surplus.
Perhaps the various dieting fads are responsible for the low price of wheat. The Farm Board should look into this.

swindlers said. An investigation disclosed that there had never been

Regular Advertising—

(From a Speech by C. W. Johnson, Oakland, Nebraska, Merchant.)

"I have been in business 27 years and seldom miss an issue of the local paper with an ad of some kind.

"I believe that the constant spitting of a machine gun
does more execution than the occasional boom of a big Bertha. Its spat-spat shot gets results. So it is with advertising; the small ad run every week is better for results than the large ad run hit or miss. Consecutive advertising gets the business.

"We are told that American business now has hit the bottom, and that things will be better. Now is the time to advise our wares and get the public to start buying.

"There are all kinds of advertising schemes, and I have dabbled in them all, but the advertising in the local newspaper is best and gives the largest results for money spent.

"Put more time in writing your ads, and then talk it over with the printer. It pays in the long run to spend this extra time.

"Create a desire to possess, in your ad, and it will get the business"

"If you had a whole bushel of chain links it would not pull a load. Put them together in a continuous chain, and you have a strong and powerful thing with which to pull a load. So it is with advertising. Link your ads together, run them in a continuous string, week after week,

CLOSES REVIVAL MEETING AT CHATTANOOGA, OKLA.

Rev. Woodie W. Smith, pastor of the local Baptist Church, closed a revival of two weeks at Chattanooga, Okla., Sunday night. He reported that 25 additions to the church there resulted from the meeting. There were 26 conversions and 20 baptisms.

4-H Pantry—

get that will enable the demonstrator to give her family balanced meals throughout the year is only part of her program because it takes more than canned products to provide balanced meals. The pantry demonstrator sets the following goal:

"My farm will feed my family, if I have—1 or 2 good cows, 60 laying pullets, one-half acre orchard, five stock for meat, one-half acre year-round garden, quality supplies to exchange for staples, a good garden. From this we'll eat all we can, can enough for the unproductive months, and sell the rest."

Some give up and say it can't be done. Of course it takes work and lots of hard work, but anything worth while requires much thought and lots of hard work. Five-cent cotton and twenty-five cent wheat require these and they give a poor living in return. There is the possibility of not being able to sell the surplus but usually there is a very good market for a good product. Many times a woman fails to find a market for butter or other products not because there is too much on the market but because she is trying to sell an inferior product and doesn't realize it.

Many sit by and say it can't be done but proof that it is being done is shown by the accomplishments of Mrs. Cap Adkins of the West Rayland Home Demonstration Club. Mrs. Adkins had the following budget filled August 29th:

Meat or other protein food, 133 qts.; fruit, 43; leafy vegetables, 79; starchy vegetables, 83; other vegetables, 40; pickles and relishes, 50; jellies and preserves, 12. Mrs. Adkins expects to make enough fall tomatoes and other produce to finish out her required budget with some to sell and exchange for other produce. Mr. and Mrs. Adkins have their cows and more than supply their table with milk, butter, cheese, and other dairy products. They have raised more than enough chickens for home use, and have raised their beef and pork also. These together with an orchard furnish a good living with little expense.

The women of Foard County believe that the best way to fight "hard times" is to make "every farm a factory every day in the year." It takes lots of thinking, planning and hard work but anything worth while requires these. If the family raises a living at home there will be more money left to spend for the higher and better things of life—music, books, magazines, travel and education. So surely it is all worth while if it means a raising of the standards of living in our homes.

REV. ALLEN ENDS SUCCESSFUL REVIVAL AT BRAZOS, TEXAS

Rev. C. V. Allen, pastor of the local Christian Church, has returned from Brazos, Texas, where he conducted a revival at the Christian Church there from Sept. 3 to 14. He preached 20 sermons during this period. Seventeen additions to the church resulted. The attendance of 116 at Sunday School Sunday was the largest in the history of the town.

The church was reorganized and a pastor called from T. C. U. for preaching once each month. Rev. Allen was called to come back next year for another meeting.

Ten Thousand Dollars In Cash Prizes to Be Given by Continental

On another page of this issue of The Foard County News appears an offer of $10,000 in cash prizes for the best answers explaining "The Mystery of the Hidden Quart," and launching the largest advertising campaign ever sponsored by Continental Oil Company in the interest of Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil.

"Teaser" announcements of this campaign have appeared during the past two days throughout the country and today's advertisement announcing the cash prize contest is appearing in 1,500 newspapers, with a combined circulation of more than 9,000,000. The advertising in connection with this prize contest will constitute one of the largest campaigns ever conducted by an oil company during a similar period of time, according to Wesley I. Nunn, advertising manager of Continental Oil Company.

"During 1931 Continental will spend considerably more than half of its entire advertising budget for newspaper space," said Mr. Nunn. "Despite the general downward trend of business during the early part of this year, Continental decided to increase its advertising budget. The result has been that we have had a very worthwhile increase in volume of business this year, and have definitely proved the wisdom of going after business by a stronger advertising appeal during the so-called depression periods."

The contest announced today is one in which motorists are invited to compete for $10,000 in cash prizes, in telling how the "hidden quart" of Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil benefits motorists. The question is "What becomes of the 'hidden quart' and how does this quart benefit the motorist?" There are 20 prizes, first prize being $5,000.

The contest closes at midnight September 28, 1931, with all communications being sent to Continental Oil Company, Ponca City, Okla. Judges of the contest are: Dr. W. B. Bizzell, president of the University of Oklahoma; John A. Hunter, professor of mechanical engineering, University of Colorado; and Frank L. Martin, associate dean, School of Journalism, University of Missouri.

Mrs. Hunter Has Success With 3 New Vegetables

(By Dosea Hale, H. D. Agent) Mrs. C. F. Hunter of the Black Home Demonstration Club has tried three new varieties of vegetables this year and in spite of the dry weather has had good success with them. These vegetables have been grown without irrigation. The three vegetables Mrs. Hunter is trying for the first time gherkin vine peach, and dill.

It has been found that the gherkin does well in Foard County. From five vines Mrs. Hunter has gathered more than a bushel already and the vines are still bearing. The gherkin is used for pickles very much as cucumbers are used.

The vine peach resembles the pumpkin in flavor and color. They are used for preserves and in other ways; they are bright yellow in color. Mrs. Hunter also found that dill does well in this section. The tops of the dill plants are cut while green, tied in bunches and dried. Dill is often used in making pickles.

Mrs. Hunter finds that frequent cultivation reduces the amount of water required to raise a garden in dry weather.

CHURCHES

Christian Science

Sunday, 11 a. m. Subject for Sunday, Sept. 20, "Matter." Sunday School at 9:30. Wednesday evening service at 8 o'clock. The public is cordially invited.

At the Methodist Church

Sunday School, 9:45 a. m. Preaching, 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. League, 6:30 p. m. Woman's Missionary Society, 4 p. m. Monday. Young Women's Missionary Circle, Monday 6 p. m. Prayermeeting, Wednesday, 8 p. m.

The morning services next Sunday will be held in the Luther Gribble Memorial Park, 3 1/2 miles south of Crowell, meeting promptly at 9:45 for Sunday School. Everybody meet at the church and we shall all leave for the park at 9:15. All who have no way to go, be at the church. There will be cars and trucks to carry everybody. Let each car take a chair or two and the trucks take chairs from the church and by that means most of the people will have seats for the services. Let every family take lunch and we shall spread it together and have a good social time at the lunch hour.

We feel that it is good to get out close to God's world, under the shade of the trees, and worship Him in that way. Many of us are getting too dependent over the financial depression. This will be a very helpful service, and God will bless us, if we turn our faces and hearts to Him. After the lunch, we shall sing songs and have an old-time Methodist talk service. Come, praying and expecting a great service. B. J. OSBORN, Pastor.

Christian Church

We will give a report of the meeting at Brazos Sunday morning and certainly want everyone to be present. Seventeen were added to the church. "Principles and How God Defines Them," will be the morning subject, and "The Loveliness of Christ and the Ugliness of Sin," will be the evening subject Sunday. Bro. Moore and Bro. Long brought fine messages in the pastor's absence we understand and are certainly thankful for their fine work. "Promotion Day" will be the last Sunday in September and "Rally Day" the first Sunday in October. The C. E. Society is taking on new life. All young people are invited to attend and help. C. V. ALLEN.

Baptist Church News

Last Sunday was a fair day with Crowell Baptists. Rev. New of Trussard filled the pulpit at both hours. He brought two helpful messages. The pastor closed a fine meeting at Chattanooga, Okla., Sunday night. There were 26 conversions, 25 additions to the church and 20 baptisms. Large crowds were in attendance, notwithstanding there were two other meetings in town last week. The people of Chattanooga are a fine people. They have a large rural membership in addition to those in town. In their association this year they were one of three churches that made the "A" grade. Our church, Crowell Baptist, made a fine showing this year. By far better than most of the churches in our association. In fact, we had more additions than the church has ever had in one year before. We are very grateful to our God for this. Now that the summer is over let us look forward and press onward to the goal that is ours for the asking if we do our best. Things have settled down with the fall season before us and we look for great development this fall. With the three revivals the pastor has held this summer outside his own church, he has only been out of his own pulpit three Sundays. This was made possible by the fine spirit of co-operation on the part of the church. Next Sunday—Sunday School 9:45, preaching at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m., B. Y. P. U. at 7 p. m.; W. M.

S. at 3 p. m. Monday and prayer-meeting at 8 p. m. Wednesday. We hope to have special music Sunday. Remember a welcome awaits you at the Baptist Church. Come and welcome. WOODIE W. SMITH.

Christian Science Churches

"Substance" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, September 13.

The golden text from Proverbs 22:4, "By humility and the fear of the Lord are riches, and honour, and life."

Included in the service were the following passages from the Bible (Proverbs 8:20, 21): "I lead in the way of righteousness, in the midst of the paths of judgment: That I may cause those that love me to inherit substance; and I will fill their treasures."

The lesson-sermon also embraced the following citations from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy (pp. 468, 508): "Substance is that which is eternal and incapable of discord and decay. Truth, Life, and Love are substance, as the Scriptures use this word in Hebrews: 'The substance of things hoped, the evidence of things not seen.' . . . The only intelligence or substance of a thought, a seed, or a flower is God, the creator of it."

THE COUNCIL IN JERUSALEM Acts 15:22-19

Galatians 2:1, 2, 9, 10

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

Spiritual growth of converts was always in Paul's thinking. Derbe was visited after the stoning at Lystra. Without hesitation return was made through all the cities where awful persecutions had befallen Paul and Barnabas on the outward journey. The purpose was to strengthen the brethren in their new-found and most precious faith. Return was made from Pamphylia direct to Antioch in Syria where full report was made to the leaders who had sent them forth. Problems of procedure arose as full account of this first missionary journey was narrated. The old Jewish Christians insisted that in order to be a convert the rite of circumcision must be administered to a Gentile. The returned missionaries and many others insisted that this form was not necessary and the outward act was not essential to inward faith. When agreement could not be obtained after long and even heated discussion it was decided to lay the whole matter before the mother church in Jerusalem. It is interesting to note that as Paul and Barnabas advanced to Jerusalem they evangelized all the way. They were out to win souls for Christ and argument about procedure was only incidental. Follow the debate in the Council at Jerusalem as you read chapter 15. Though circumcision is not mentioned the Paul party won. Findings were prepared which were taken to the church at large. There were concessions on both sides. Manner of life was to be taken into account rather than any mere form. Some of the details are rehearsed when Paul wrote the special letter to the Galatians. Read the entire epistle and note the Golden text in Galatians 3:13. Councils have their place but real value is in the constructive work that follows.

SERMONETTE

OF MY OWN FREE WILL

By Arthur B. Rhinow

"Do you believe," I asked a boy scout executive, "that some day the public schools will teach scout craft and so end the need of a boy scout organization?"

"I hope not," he answered, "for I am afraid something very valuable would be lost. School work is compulsory, but when a boy joins a scout troop he does so of his own free will, and that is important in character building."

I was impressed with the reason. True, compulsion may be an aid to character building, as a sapling's growth is steadiest and directed by a support; but character will never enjoy a healthy development unless youth is given the opportunity to choose the good and spurn the evil. Compulsion and character are not on close terms. An Almighty God can place us in an environment that is almost irresistibly conducive to the forming of perfect character; but finally we have the choice of accepting or rejecting his kindness. Without that choice we would be just mechanisms; with it we are moral beings. And that gift of free choice is, indeed, a precious possession. Pity the man in whom the power to choose the right has been dulled by sin; pity him most in whom it is dead. They are slaves of a hard master. Divine love recognizes the normal man's freedom of choice by continually pleading: "Come unto me." The experience of the ages, the Bible, Sinai and Calvary, they all plead with us to choose the right and struggle through to the ever more abundant life.

Now we need a can-opener to get moratorium. Think what she would have gotten if she had won the war.

Deep in the Hearts of Worthy Men

CHURCH—The Cradle of Community Strength

The village church shares with the traditional red schoolhouse in the affectionate memories of men who have made conspicuous successes of life. 'Tis known that the education of the heart in the spirit of kindness and friendship is more necessary than training in the three R's. . . . One is first of all a human among humans—a lesson too often forgotten until the lean years bring it to mind. There is a brotherhood among men, through Christianity, which points the way to freedom from the vices of the race—greed and hatred. . . . You will find that those among your neighbors who are members of a church are the citizens of the town who are worthy of your friendship. Associate yourself with them by attending, regularly, the church of your choice.

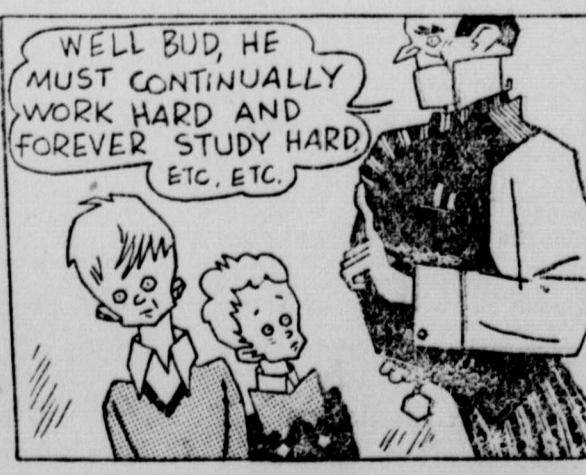

This is an appeal in the interests of better living by the Churches of Foard County. We extend a cordial invitation to you to join us in our Sunday and week-day meetings.

350 Schools Sign Up For League Football

Austin, Texas, Sept. 17.—Approximately 350 schools have already signed up for interscholastic league football this year, according to Roy B. Henderson, athletic director of the University of Texas League Bureau. The noteworthy feature of the activities of the League Bureau this fall is the increasingly large number of inquiries about the work from schools which have not previously participated in League football. Most of these new schools are small; for the last several years enrollment in Conference A, which is composed of schools with more than 500 enrollment, has been almost one hundred per cent throughout the State. Interest is rapidly growing, however, among the smaller schools as well. Last year, of a total enrollment of 503 schools, 443 were in Conference B, composed of schools with less than 500 students.

Pupils from Vivian, Thalia, Margaret and other communities and nearby towns are attending C. H. S. this year.

PEP SQUAD ORGANIZED

The pep squad of Crowell High School met at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon to organize the largest pep squad that Crowell has ever known. Two very capable leaders, Peggy Thompson and Jim Lois Gafford, were elected by great majorities. Miss Patterson was elected sponsor with Henry Black as assistant. To have the same uniforms as last year was voted on unanimously. With two sponsors and two leaders double pep is expected of every girl on the squad.

CHAPEL PEP RALLY

Friday morning the students assembled in the auditorium for the first general pep rally of the year. The pep squad, under the direction of Peggy Thompson and Jim Lois Gafford, took charge. The girls marched upon the stage to the tune of "Your Rep, Your Pep." Then many snappy yells and songs were given. The football boys and coach showed their appreciation of the pep squad by responding with appropriate yells for the pep squad, their sponsor and the team.

Waiter: You needn't call him sir, he's deady scared of them himself.
Mary Fox: How are you and your boy friend getting along?
Mary Eva: Oh, fine. He's a regular gentleman. He took me to dinner and he didn't blow his coffee like common people. He fanned it with his hat.
Oh! J, the baby has swallowed the matches, wailed Peggy.
J. M.: Here, use my cigarette lighter.

Joe: I think I'll take up horse-back riding; I think it will increase my social standing.
Jim Lois: I don't know about the social part, but it sure will increase your standing.

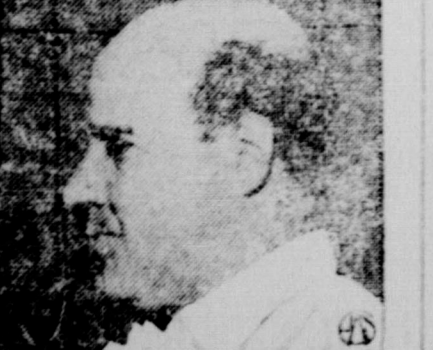

ANTI-LUE'S QUESTION BOX

Dear Anti Lue: I hear you were out at Wrinkle Sox cemetery last Friday night — who was dead?— Freshman.
Dear Freshman: All of them.
Dear Anti: When a girl is thinking about the kind of man she wants to get for a husband, which does she want most, money, appearance or social position?—Billie.
Dear Billie: Appearance — She wants him to appear darn quick.
Dear Anti: I have an aching tooth that is nearly running me ragged. Shall I do anything for it?—Orville.
Dear Orville—I should say not. What did it ever for you?
Dear Anti: What famous writer said what to whom?—Ruth Banister.
Dear Ruth: When?

Dear Anti: I am a young man 26 years of age, and for some time have been seriously considering marrying a girl of 34, but I am somewhat doubtful as to whether it would be a good idea. After all, I can not help but wonder whether it would be a good idea after we are 5 or 6 years older. What do you think?—Teddy Burrow.
Dear Teddy: Don't worry a minute. If the girl is 34 she is not going to get any older.
