ER DIRECTORS' MEETING urth of July event ne schedules fixed

The directors of the Post Chamber of Commerce reported that the celebration of the Fourth of July event, scheduled for the week of July 4, will be set up at 10 o'clock on Tuesday, July 4, and will run from 5:30 until 7:30 p.m. The fireworks display will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the annual July celebration.

The directors also agreed that the organization's beautification committee sponsor a "Yard of the Week" contest this year if no other organization plans to do so, and to recognize the winning yards with a Chamber sign and a picture in The Post Dispatch.

J. B. Potts, Chamber president, presented the park committee a catalogue of playground equipment for selection of new equipment to be installed at the City-County Park.

The directors suggested that the retail promotion committee

The Post school district has won "a bus route victory."

Supt. Bill Shiver told trustees Tuesday afternoon the Texas Educational Agency has approved another bus route for Post for the 1973-74 school year.

Last year, the district put on an extra bus at the district's own expense to satisfy complaints of rural parents north-east of Post about the length of one of the routes, especially in wet weather.

The superintendent said the state agency has approved the extra route for next year.

The school administrator told the board that Band Director Herb Germer isn't coming back next year after building the band program here successfully.

POSTINGS

We zipped down to Houston — that town ought to be spelled with a P for pollution — last weekend and enjoyed three straight home-cooked dinners by daughter Chris and three straight nights of baseball watching the Astros in the Astrodome, not to mention three days of romping with our three-year-old granddaughter Andrea.

—O—

Strangest sight in Houston was not the stuff atop our car as we drove out of the city early Sunday morning with the humidity at 97 per cent, but one of those Texas matrons walking out of the dome Friday night with her "invisible dog."

—O—

That's right — "invisible dog". She had a leash and it was attached to a dog collar that moved along steadily in front of her as some 19,000 people headed for the exits. She kept cautioning folks "not to step on Fifi."

—O—

We're in the habit of stopping on the way home now from Houston and getting the car washed clean at one of David Newby's Robo washes, instead of washing it going down. It needs the bath worst AFTER all that dirty fallout from the Houston atmosphere.

—O—

Speaking of Robo automatic car washes, Post is going to have one of its own in just about 90 days.

—O—

Joe McCowen has purchased the old Post Motel property next to his McCowen Texaco No. 2 station in the 200 block on South Broadway and will clear the property for the car wash installation. Newby, who owns four Robo washes and stations himself having just finished his newest at Copperas Cove, will sell and install McCowen's automatic car wash.

—O—

More local progress is on the way.

—O—

Speaking of advertising, as we try to do quite often, the Post Chamber of Commerce is advertising in one of the Dallas papers for carpenters, plumbers and oil field workers. They've already received one inquiry too, Prexy J. B. Potts reports.

Nixons send card to PHS graduate

Mike Smith, 1973 graduate of Post High School, sent one of his graduation invitations to President and Mrs. Nixon.

The President and his wife were too busy, of course, to attend Mike's graduation, but they did respond to his invitation with a personal card of congratulations.

Mike, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Smith of 212 South Ave. F, recently visited Oral Roberts University in Tulsa, Okla., where he plans to enroll in the fall of 1974 after one year at Western Texas College in Snyder.

Peace justice takes course

Justice of the Peace Racy Robinson has recently completed an advanced 24-hour in-service justice of the peace training course at a seminar held in Amarillo.

The in-service training programs for justices of the peace are being conducted throughout Texas by Lamar Institute, College of Technical Arts, which was contracted to execute the program by the Texas Justice of the Peace and Constables Association.

Funds for the program were made available through a grant from the Texas Criminal Justice Council and under the authorization of the federal Omnibus Crime Control Bill and Safe Streets Act.

Lamar University conducts basic and advanced training programs throughout the state. The advanced training course is designed to improve the skills of those justices who have held the office of justice of the peace for more than one year.

Green light given youth center for July opening

90-day period set by group

The City of Post and Garza County agreed at a joint meeting with members of the youth center committee Monday night to make funds available for operation of the Community Center as a combination youth center for a 90-day period—and longer if the project proves successful.

Both the city and county had already allocated funds for the project, but their action at Monday night's meeting with the committee members assured release of the necessary funds for a grand opening of the youth center the second week in July.

The meeting was held at the First National Bank, which is owner of the Community Center building, and bank officials agreed to the 90-day availability of the quarters for the youth center "start."

Mrs. Patty Kirkpatrick, a member of the youth center committee, said Tuesday that $5,625 allocated to the project by the county will be used to purchase the equipment needed to open the youth center. The city has allocated funds to pay a director's salary, which has been set at $3,000 a year and also will continue paying the $150 a month rent it is paying on the building as a community center and the utilities bills.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick said equipment to be purchased for the opening of the youth center will include ping pong tables, two pool tables, a high fidelity 8-track tape and record player.

FOLLOWING FIREMEN'S DECISION

Solution still sought to ambulance service here

Members of the Post Volunteer Fire Department decided Monday night they would be unable to take over emergency ambulance service here on a primary basis, but that they will be glad to cooperate on a secondary basis with whatever plan is finally worked out.

The proposal that firemen stand 12-hour availability shifts for emergency ambulance runs was submitted them at their Monday night meeting after the proposal was brought up at a meeting a week ago Monday of city, county and hospital district representatives with a representative of the State Health Department.

Volunteer fireman Gene Moore, who is also a member of the hospital district board, submitted the proposal at the fire department meeting Monday night.

It was pointed out that the various commitments of the firemen to their regular jobs, families, and other duties would make it impractical for them to operate the emergency ambulance service on a primary basis.

The need for emergency ambulance service here has developed with the announcement of the Hudman Funeral Home that it doesn't have the manpower to operate such service any longer than it takes public officials to agree on an acceptable plan for the emergency service.

Mayor Giles C. McCrary told The Dispatch yesterday that he plans to contact City of Snyder officials about that city's operation of emergency ambulance service, which is being done by a private firm.

Putting the emergency ambulance service "up for bidding" to private firms appears to be one of two alternatives left here. The other alternative would be to have the law enforcement agencies take over the operation on a primary basis.

Folk musical is to be presented

"Time Out," a Christian folk musical, is to be presented at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the First United Methodist Church.

Youths who will take part in the musical are: Nancy McCowen, Danna Giddens, Cindy Kirkpatrick, Connie Peary, Debbie Wyatt, Nancy Gandy, Donna Ammons, Kim Loti, Karen Williams, Christie Conner, Pam Carpenter, Patricia Bilberry.

Everyone is invited to attend the musical.

Chamber mission achieved

A youth center for Post and Garza County will soon become reality thanks to a hard-working youth center committee and the cooperation of the Post City Council and the Garza County Commissioners Court.

Back in January a Post Chamber of Commerce study committee got the youth center project under way by working up a set of recommendations for a joint youth-community center to be operated by a youth center board to be appointed by the city and county.

The Chamber group at that time urged a youth center director be hired and that the center primarily be operated as a youth center with community center activities to be fitted in.

The city and county were presented with these recommendations and last month the youth center board was named, first as a study committee which was quickly changed into a youth center board.

Of course not all of the Chamber committee's recommendations were accepted. That was to be expected. Certainly, the Chamber committee feels its mission is successfully accomplished, the youth program has been placed in the extremely capable hands of some parents who not only care but are real positive thinkers, and that this community at long last is about to bring a much and too-long talked about project into practiced reality.—JC

Emergency ambulance service

Emergency ambulance service is something we're going to have to have. There's no getting around it.

Judman Funeral Home's announcement that because of a manpower shortage it would continue to provide emergency ambulance service only until public officials could agree on an acceptable plan to take over such service did not come as a complete surprise. It has been generally known for some time now that such an announcement was forthcoming.

The City of Post, Garza County and Garza County Hospital District have been quietly working on the problem for the last few months. It has reached the point now where something will have to be worked out—and soon.

Post and Garza County are not alone in facing a cutoff of emergency ambulance service. The same problem has come up in practically every small city and county in Texas—and throughout the nation, for that matter. Just last week, the Campbell Funeral Home at Spur announced in an advertisement in the Spur newspaper that "effective June 15 our firm will no longer offer ambulance service."

Some communities and counties have solved their problems of emergency ambulance service. Others, like Post and Garza County and Spur and Dickens County, are hopefully working toward a solution.

The Post Volunteer Fire Department doesn't believe it has the manpower to provide the answer.

It now appears the city and the county have two choices: either to bid it out on a private contract at the lowest possible subsidy, or turn the ambulance duties over to their joint law enforcement agency.

Should the ambulance runs be made by law officers, volunteers probably would be asked to ride with them and assist.

There is of course no simple solution. Ambulance service always will present its problems. But The Dispatch is pleased to note that local governmental officials are working together toward a solution. It will take some time. So be patient.

Things happen faster nowadays

With so many dire things predicted for the future, it is more than a little refreshing now and then to learn that some people are concerned with the past.

Up at Lubbock, for instance, an oxbow shaped stream bed, dry now and scraped by bulldozers, is under investigation by a team of young scientists looking for a lifestyle which flourished 10,000 years or more.

The tree shaded location is the Lubbock Lake Site, and it is regarded by many anthropologists as one of the most important early man locations in North America.

We have been informed that the researchers may need three summers to find evidence of Folsom man who lived 10,000 years ago and, with luck, to find also evidence of the Clovis culture which flourished 11,000 to 12,000 years ago. It is the earliest culture known in America.

With the world, and the United States in particular, faced with energy and pollution crises, things could get worse in the next three years, however, than they have in the 11,000 years it has been since the Clovis culture flourished. Let us hope not, but let us at the same time take a long, hard look at what we have done to ourselves since becoming "civilized".—CD

The first day of summer

Today (Thursday) is the first day of summer, and last Sunday's "scorcher," with the mercury shooting above the 100 degree mark, set the stage for it.

We've learned to expect hot weather in summer, so this one probably won't be any different than those of the past. Not as far as the weather is concerned, but it is apt to be different in other ways. Tourist travel, for instance, and the response by many people to appeals to conserve electrical energy because of the energy crisis. That conservation, no doubt, will result in air-conditioners being operated less than usual.

Many of us will try to put up with the hot weather in the same manner we did before air-conditioners came on the scene. How did we put up with it then, by the way? None of the younger generation can remember that far back.

This year, the first day of summer means that the youth baseball program, which got off to an earlier-than-usual start, is nearing an end, along with the summer youth recreation program, which was set up for a six-weeks run.

The rest of June, then July and August, along toward the last of which school will open and, for all practical purposes, summer will be over—except that the first day of autumn isn't until Sept. 21.—CD

THE REV. C. H. Markley, pastor of Salem Evangelical Congregational Church in Mahanoy City, Pa., has used the theme of the times to attract potential worshippers and sinners to his church.

The bulletin board in front of the Rev. Mr. Markley's church reads as follows: "Tired of Watergate? Come Hear About the Pearly Gates!"

BUT, THEN, even the Bible tells of Water Gate confessions!

A contemporary translation, "The Living Bible," published two years ago and now appearing on the best seller lists, tells about weeping and confession of national sins at Jerusalem's Water Gate, 2,500 years ago.

THEN, AS NOW, the participants were high government officials. But in that incident, the confessions were voluntary!

It all came about when the Jewish nation, after 70 years of captivity in Babylon, returned and rebuilt the ancient gates of their capitol city. One of these was the Water Gate.

A MASS MEETING was convened at this gate to discuss the fact that the clergy, political leaders and average citizen alike were disobeying the laws God gave to Moses a thousand years earlier. Two of these same laws—"Thou shalt not steal" and "Thou shalt not lie"—are prominent again in today's Watergate affair.

In the earlier event the people broke out into weeping and confession when they realized how many of God's laws they themselves had broken along with their leaders.

BUT IT ENDED for the good of all concerned. A national reform was decided on, and agreement reached for everyone—politicians and average citizen alike—to obey all of God's laws thereafter. A happy celebration was begun, giving gifts and feasting, because everyone felt so glad that righteousness had again prevailed and God's laws were being enforced again.

The Living Bible tells of this historic event in the Old Testament Book of Nehemiah, chapters 8 and 9:

"In mid-September, all the people assembled at the plaza in front of the Water Gate and requested Ezra, their religious leader, to read to them the law of God which He had given to Moses. So Ezra the priest brought out to them the scroll of Moses' laws. He stood on a wooden stand made especially for the occasion so that everyone could see him as he read. He faced the square in front of the Water Gate, and read from early morning until noon."

THE ONLY THING that appears to have been missing in those days was television!

The man up the street says the frightening fact about heredity and environment is that parents provide both.

THE FIRST PERSON to turn in the correct answer to the "Pink Roof Puzzle" I ran in last week's column was Edna Bilberry, followed closely by Louise Gordon and DaRita Snow, in that order.

Mrs. Bilberry called about 11 a.m. Thursday and said Kate's roof was the pink one—and she was correct. Since she is already a Dispatch subscriber, we'll have the circulation department extend her subscription for a year.

LOUISE GORDON and DaRita Snow called soon after I had told Mrs. Bilberry she was the winner, and they, too, had the correct answer. There were other calls Thursday afternoon, nearly all of them correct. It's too bad I was able to twist the circulation manager's arm for only one prize.

The puzzle was: Tom, Sam, Kate and Joe lived in a row of houses with red, pink, blue and gray roofs. Sam's is blue. Tom has one neighbor and Joe has two. The red roof is two houses away from the blue. The gray roof is on the end of the block. Sam's only neighbor is a woman. Whose roof is pink?

NOW HERE IS the answer: Kate's roof is pink. Tom and Sam each have only one neighbor so they live on either end of the block. Kate lives next to Sam. So this is the order in which they live: Tom, Joe, Kate, Sam. We know that Sam's roof is blue and that the red roof is two houses away. So Joe's roof is red. Tom lives on the end of the block, so his roof is gray. The only roof left is pink. That's Kate's.

EMOTIONAL SUPPORT—GIVE AND TAKE

Those who help others need help, too. Have you ever noticed that persons who have an especially strong sense of responsibility for people often have great difficulty in seeking or accepting support from others.

It isn't always easy to see the patterns of emotional support underlying our relationships with others. The relative or friend to whom we lend support may not be the same one from whom we take it. The person who draws strength from the quiet confidence of a parent or friend may or may not return it—he may, however, give inspiration to someone else.

The person on whom an invalid relative depends—or the professional person who supplies a needed service—may find himself straining always to give. They may be so conscious of having to remain strong, they rely only on themselves.

But, if anything, greater responsibility generates greater personal need. If there are barriers to receiving from others, it's necessary to find a way around them.

Interrelationships by which we help one another stand up to the demands of life are complex—one must recognize that he has needs in order for his spirit to survive.

—O—
And now for a reminder! Since I've already started receiving canning calls, I wanted to remind you that this week isn't too soon to get things ready for canning. All canners should be checked each year before use, with emphasis on certain areas to make sure it's in good working order.

First of all, examine the cover and rubber gasket for damage.

Clean openings of the safety valve and petcock—which closes the valve—by drawing a cord through them.

Have the dial pressure gauge checked for accuracy by an appliance dealer or the manufacturer. Or, use a maximum temperature thermometer to check gauge accuracy—obtain information on this procedure from the county Extension office. Weight gauges, in contrast, require only cleaning.

Also wash the canner itself. Covers with gauges attached should be wiped clean with a cloth—not submerged in water. Remove the gasket and wash it. Turn it over before returning it to place.

REMEMBER—good canning jars are necessary. Often secondhand jars have nicks on the rims—resulting in imperfect seals which can allow foods to spoil. Also, jars in which food comes from the grocery may present similar problems. They aren't designed for home canning—so may fail to seal properly.

Cardinals champs of Little League

With the season to end Saturday, the Post Volunteer Fire Department's Cardinals have won this year's Little League baseball championship in a runaway.

With only a few make-up games to play, the Cardinals are far out in front of the pack with a 12-1 mark. Far back in second place are the A. C. Cash-sponsored Wildcats with a 6-6 record.

In Tuesday night's games, the Red Sox beat the Tigers, 8 to 1, and the Wildcats raced past the Dodgers, 20 to 2.

LITTLE LEAGUE
	W	L	Pct.
Cardinals	12	1	.925
Wildcats	6	6	.500
Tigers	6	7	.462
Red Sox	5	6	.455
Yankees	4	7	.364
Dodgers	3	9	.250

Schedule
Thursday, June 21: Cardinals vs. Dodgers; Tigers vs. Yankees.

Friday, June 22: Red Sox vs. Dodgers; Wildcats vs. Yankees.

Saturday, June 23: Red Sox vs. Yankees; Wildcats vs. Cardinals.

The Red Sox got only three hits off Tommy Lockhart, the Tigers' losing pitcher, and David Quinonez, who relieved him in the fourth inning, but errors proved costly to the Tigers. Winning pitcher Scott Walker, who went the distance, gave up just four hits, including doubles by Quinonez and Lockhart. Terry Holloway, Walker and Randy Ammons got the winners' three hits.

Mark Holly was the winning pitcher and Shawn Scott the loser in the Wildcats' 20-2 rout of the Dodgers, with the winners getting 10 hits and the losers, six.

Timmie Greathouse, with three hits in four at-bats, and Terry Odom, with two hits in five trips, led the Wildcat swingers. Danny Nelson went two-for-two and David Hawkins, two-for-four, for the Dodgers.

In Monday night's single game, the Cardinal eked out a 9-8 win in 11 innings over the Tigers, with third baseman Tommy Reed getting a solo home run for the winners.

The game was the longest of the season as far as the number of innings was concerned. The Cards' winning run came in the top of the 11th on successive singles by Reed, Kelly Baumann and Bryan Taylor.

Taylor, the third of three Cardinal pitchers, set the Tigers down in order in the bottom of the 11th to preserve the win. David Foster, who had relieved starter Raymie Holly after six innings, was the losing pitcher.

First baseman Ramon Raymond was the Tigers' batting leader with five hits in six trips to the plate. Tommy Lockhart hit safely three out of four times at bat. Besides his solo homer, Tommy Reed got two other hits in six trips to the plate for the Cards.

The Post Volunteer Fire Department's Cardinals scored three runs in the bottom of the sixth inning Saturday night to edge the Wildcats, 4 to 3.

Two of the Cards' sixth inning runs came on steals by Danny Gunn, who had reached base on an error, and Bryan Taylor, who had singled. After Kelly Baumann was hit by a pitch, Barry Tyler brought him around with a triple for the winning run.

The Wildcats outthrew the league-leaders, seven hits to five. The 'Cats scored their first run in the second inning on a single by Mike Holly and a double by Ronnie Greathouse. They got two more in the top of the sixth on singles by Larry Hambrick, Terry Odom and Greathouse and a double by Mike Holly.

Both pitchers went all the way, with Danny Gunn the winner and Terry Odom the loser.

In Saturday's first game, the Yankees walloped the Dodgers, 14 to 9, getting 10 hits to the losers' seven. Gary Lamb was the winning pitcher, with relief from Mike Macy. The Dodger starter, Mike Dye, was the loser, with Shawn Scott relieving him.

Gary Baker, Benny Kennedy, Macy and Ken Bell each got two hits for the Yankees, with one of Kennedy's hits going for three bases. Tim Morris, Mike Gonzales and David Hawkins got two hits apiece for the Dodgers.

Friday night, the Tigers won over the Yanks, 8 to 3, and the Wildcats nosed the Red Sox, 12 to 11.

The Tigers got off to a fast start against the Yankees, scoring six runs in the first two innings. James Bilberry was the losing pitcher, while Raymie Holly got the win.

Holly and Tommy Lockhart, who relieved him in the bottom of the fourth, gave up just four hits, with Gary Lamb, Gary Baker, Bryan Compton and Ken Bell getting one each.

The Tigers collected 10 hits off Bilberry, who went the distance for the losers. Raymond Gonzales, David Quinonez and Lockhart each got two hits for the Tigers.

The Wildcats scored a run in the sixth on a walk to David Poole and a single by Jesse Taylor for their 11-11 win over the Red Sox. Owen Gilbert was the winning pitcher, although he needed last inning help from Mark Holly. Neal Bradshaw, who gave up the winning run after relieving starter Terry Holloway, was charged with the loss.

The losers outthrew the winners, 15-9. Holloway got three of the Red Sox hits and Bradshaw came through with a pair of doubles. Terry Odom and Jesse Taylor, with two hits apiece, and Ron Greathouse, with a triple, led the Wildcat hitters.

Postex Plant has Division champion

Postex Plant of Burlington Industries has the Domestic Division's filler doffing champion in the American Textile Manufacturer's Institute's National Superdoffer contest. He is Chester Warren, who has been employed at Postex Plant two and a half years.

Last Friday, Noel E. Garvin, division manager, and Gene Long, division training director, awarded the division prizes to Warren in ceremonies at the local plant. The champion received a trophy shield and a $100 cash award.

Also in attendance at the award ceremony were Ed Bruton, Postex Plant manager; L. C. Davis, division personnel manager; Bobby Waters, Warren's department head; J. E. Tanner, greige mill superintendent; Jim Brown, industrial engineer, and Walter Didway, Postex Plant personnel manager.

Warren was named the plant winner after competition with

Macy and Carlen are tennis meet champs

Rancher Bob Macy of Post and Jim Carlen, Texas Tech University football coach, teamed to win the open doubles class championship in a recent tennis tournament in Lubbock.

Syd B. Wyatt, also of Post, and Don Douglas of Lubbock were consolation winners in a division of the net meet.

four other plant filler doffers. The time Warren recorded at the plant level was then in competition with other filler doffers from other plants in the same division.

Competition will now continue with the different division winners in head-to-head competition to be held at each of the competitors' plants.

Word has been received that Warren will compete against the winner of either the Greige Fabrics or Catlin-Farish Division on Tuesday, June 26, in Asheville, N. C., or Batesburg, S. C. Warren will leave Post for one of the two plants Monday, June 25, along with his department head, Bobby Waters.

The winner of the doff-off between Greige Fabrics and Catlin-Farish divisions will travel to Post to compete with Warren. The two men will then return to the visitor's plant and resume competition there. The times posted by the two champions will then be put into competition with other division times to name Burlington Industries' filler doffer champion.

The American Textile Manufacturer's Institute, sponsor of the National Superdoffer Championship, has reported that Burlington Industries entered 35 plants in the competition, more than any other company.

and excited about Chester's winning the division title," said Ed Bruton, Postex Plant manager. "Chester is a real competitor and we believe with his competitive attitude and spirit Postex Plant will be well represented in the championship doff-offs. We are very optimistic that he will go all the way in the corporate division."

Cards edge Yank team

The Cardinals beat the Yankees, 2 to 1, in a 55-minute six-inning game, one of the fastest Little League games of the season, last Thursday night.

The Cards' first run came in the second inning on singles by Barry Tyler and Brent Terry and they added another in the fourth on a walk to Tommy Reed and a double by Kelly Baumann.

Mike Macy singled for the Yankees in the fifth, advanced to second on a walk to Bryan Compton and scored on a wild pitch and a passed ball.

Dale Redman was the winning pitcher and Bryan Compton the loser. It was a pitching duel all the way, with Redman giving up five hits and Compton, four. Macy got two of the losers' five hits, while the Cardinals' four hits were scattered among four players.

The Dodgers beat the Red Sox, 12 to 3, with 10 hits off three Sox pitchers. Jimmy Odom was the starter and loser, relieved by Ray Morales and Kelly Mason. The Dodgers' 10 hits included a home run by Shawn Scott, and Mike Dye got three hits in four at-bats, two of them doubles.

Mike Gonzales was the winning pitcher, limiting the Red Sox to six hits.

Braves near title Babe Ruth chase

The Cross H Ranch-sponsored Braves, with 10 wins and no defeats through Tuesday night, apparently have the Babe Ruth League championship "sewed up" for this season, which ends July 5. Six games remain on the Braves' schedule, and the nearest team to them in the standings are the Indians, who had won six and lost five through Tuesday night.

Tuesday night, the Braves continued rolling with a 12 to 6 win over Southland, with Dan Sawyers the winning pitcher and Larry Koslan the loser. Sawyers had relieved starter Bryan Davis in the top of the second after Southland scored two runs to take a 4-3 lead. The Braves came back strong in the later innings to take the decision.

Southland got only one hit off Mark Bevers got one of the Southland hits and Curt Wheeler the other. Bryan Davis got three of the winners' eight hits, with the other five scattered among five batters.

In Tuesday night's second game, the Cubs came up with a four-run fifth inning to edge the Indians, 6 to 5, with the game called after six frames because of the time limit.

Winning pitcher Ray Martinez allowed only two hits, a double by Danny Saldivar and a single by Danny Garza. He struck out 10 Indian batters.

In the Brave-Indian game, Danny Saldivar's first inning home run and Danny Garza's single were the only hits given up by Dudley, who chalked up 10 strikeouts, issued six walks and hit two batters with pitches.

PERENNIAL WEED PESTS

The time is right for growers to get a jump on those perennial weed pests—the woollyleaf bursage (lakeweed) and johnsongrass, says Dr. Robert B. Metzger, area agronomist-cotton with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

With adequate moisture and warmer temperatures, the weeds are making rapid headway in cotton and other crops, he reports.

"MSMA, sold under such trade names as Ansar or Daconate, will effectively control lakeweed and johnsongrass," the area specialist advises.

"Ansar 529 is sold as a jug mix containing a surfactant. Growers can apply one and a half quarts per acre if weeds are actively growing. But if weeds are moisture stressed, the rates should be increased to two quarts using 20 to 40 gallons of water per acre.

"Best results are obtained during open, sunny weather when the air temperature is 70 degrees F or higher. Growers should not deep-break to control lakeweed. Cutting roots and shoots into smaller pieces often aids in further spread of this weed," he warns.

Says Metzger, "These perennial weeds will have to be re-sprayed to be effectively controlled. MSMA may be applied ahead of cotton planting, and after the cotton is three inches tall, a directed spray should be used."

The agronomist advises against applying over the top of plants or using MSMA after cotton begins to fruit.

"MSMA also is effective on other broadleaf weeds and grasses," he says, "such as cocklebur, volunteer sorghum, sandbur, and nutgrass, but gives poor control of careless-weeds."

To get around this problem, he advises, MSMA may be mixed with such herbicides as Karmex and Caparol to control these and other weeds.

"Another perennial weed, the Texas blueweed, can be controlled in cotton only by cultivation and hoeing since no effective herbicide is available," he adds. "In fields heavily infested with blueweed, producers could rotate to gain sorghum and use Banvel D or 2,4-D. However, they should make sure no sensitive crop such as cotton or soybeans are nearby."

"Controlling weeds before they mature is essential," Metzger emphasizes, "in getting

REEP FUNERAL HELD
Funeral services were held at 4 p.m. Wednesday in the First United Methodist Church of Snyder for Mrs. Martin Reep, 90, of Rotan, who died Monday. She was the mother of Marion Reep of Andrews and L. M. Reep of Shallowater, both former Post residents, and is also survived by three daughters.

58 children enrolled in reading club

Fifty-eight children are enrolled in the Summer Reading Club and eight of them already have read 12 or more books, reports Mrs. C. K. "Pee Wee" Pierce, librarian.

Mrs. Pierce said the library has one or two new enrollees each day and that there is yet time for children to enroll and read 12 books, which is the number required for a certificate. The Summer Reading Club will continue until Aug. 17.

Mrs. Pierce said the most exciting library program this summer is the story hour for pre-school age children, which meets every Wednesday morning from 10 until 11 o'clock. Cathy and Cynthia Morris are conducting the story hour, and the attendance has been great, the librarian said.

The Wednesday afternoon movie sponsored by the library has been discontinued because there was not enough attendance to keep it going, the librarian said. "There are so many summer activities we cannot make them all, but we appreciate those who did attend the movies and those who helped with the idea," she added.

337 youngsters taking part in 'rec' program

Coach Joe Giddens reported to Post Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon in City Hall that 337 youngsters are now enrolled in the "new" summer recreational program with good attendance for the classes now in their third week.

"I point out we have 164 boys and 173 girls enrolled," he said, "because some expressed concern a year or two ago because there was no summer recreational activities for the girls."

The program director said the program with classes in a wide variety of recreational activities is costing slightly under $12 per child with the city contributing $2,000 and the county $1,375 toward the overall cost of the six-week program which ends July 12.

He explained it was a "new type" program this year that he worked up during a summer physical education course and the results are obvious as only some 50 youngsters were involved a year ago. This year each boy and girl enrolls for only those activities in which he or she is interested.

He said the program could be "only as good as the instructors but we've got interested, hard-working instructors."

He attributed the big gain in turnout to the fact that a big publicity campaign was launched that "no cost would be involved" in the program to the youngsters although three gyms, a golf course, the tennis courts, and the swimming pool and other areas are all put to use.

With obvious pride, Giddens said the summer recreational program here "couldn't be surpassed by any community anywhere near our size."

Indians lose to White Sox

Although out-hit, the White Sox won a 6-5 squeaker over the Indians in a Babe Ruth League game last Thursday night, with Jay Strawn the winning pitcher and Kyle Duren the loser. Strawn gave up eight hits and Duren, five.

The White Sox got off to a 3-0 first inning lead, with Jimmy Dorland's home run the big blow. The Indians came back with a run in the third when Shorty Hester was hit by a pitch and scored on Duren's single.

The Sox widened their lead to 6-1 in the top of the sixth on two Indian errors and singles by Dorland and Donnie Great-house. Four runs by the Indians in the bottom of the sixth came on a walk to Bruce Waldrip, a single by Roger Mullenix, a double by Hester and two errors.

Mullenix doubled and singled twice for three of the losers' eight hits off Strawn, while Dorland led the White Sox batters with two-for-four.

Fitcher Ray Martinez held Southland to five hits in the night's first game, which the Cubs won, 14 to 7. Kendon Wheeler and Mark Bevers got two hits each for Southland while Larry Koslan got the other. Both of Bevers' hits were three-baggers.

The Cubs collected eight hits off Curt Wheeler, the Southland starter and loser, and Koslan, who relieved him in the fifth. Winning pitcher Martinez also led the Cub batters with three hits in four at-bats, while Billy Smith went two-for-four.

SGT. JIM PITTS

New Air Force recruiter here

Staff Sgt. Jim Pitts has been assigned to the Post area as the new Air Force recruiter. He replaces Technical Sgt. Hagan Breeding, who will be returning to his original career field in the U. S. Air Force.

Sgt. Pitts, whose main office is in Lubbock, lives in Lubbock with his wife, Cheryl, and their infant daughter. He is originally from Oklahoma and entered the Air Force in 1967.

The 24-year-old staff sergeant entered the Air Force as an aircraft mechanic and has trained into various career fields which qualifies him to work on a majority of the airplanes that are assigned to the Air Force.

Sgt. Pitts completed recruiting school in January of 1972 and was assigned to the Lubbock office in March of 1972.

Beginning last Thursday, June 14, Sgt. Pitts will be coming to the Post area every other Thursday afternoon. He will be at the post office between the hours of 2 and 4 p.m. and invites everyone to stop by and meet him and ask any questions they might have about the U. S. Air Force.

Fire loss

Williams said he would check the low bid of Tuesday with the insurance firm's claims department and report back to the board as quickly as possible. He pointed out the $54,100 bid was the only one the insurance firm had had on the damage up until Tuesday.

Jim Milam, well known Lubbock attorney who represents Post school trustees, attended the bid opening, and met with the board following the discussion to advise trustees of the legal aspects in seeking an acceptable insurance settlement of the loss.

Also on hand for the opening were Dwane McQueen and Joe Hall, also of Lubbock, both of the architectural firm.

The low bidder on the job bid a completion of the work in 90 days after his start. The board has 30 days to accept the low bid, and the contractor another 10 days to start work. That could easily bring the completion date for the resumption of class work in the school building to late October.

Alternates added to the fire repair base bid by trustees included substituting a suspended lay-in ceiling, installing a new lighting system, putting a new roof on the entire building, painting the entire exterior of the building, updating the clock and signal system, making some boiler repairs, and putting in two fire exits in the band room.

Center

The youth center is advertising in today's Dispatch for a director, who will be hired after interviews with the committee.

Representing the youth center committee at Monday night's meeting were Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Patsy McCowen and Syd B. Wyatt, city-appointed committee members, and Arnold Sanderson, one of two county-appointed committee members.

County Judge Giles W. Dalby and Precinct 2 Commissioner Ted Aten represented the county at the meeting, and the city was represented by Mayor Giles C. McCrary and Councilmen Donald Windham, Fred Myers and Jim Wells and Supt. of Public Works Pete Maddox.

The 90-day period for which the Community Center is being made available is from July 1 to Oct. 1, but Mrs. Kirkpatrick said it will be the second week in July before the youth center can hold its grand opening.

Under the terms of the agreement, the youth center will be open at 5 p.m. five days a week—every day except Wednesday and Sunday.

On Vacations . . .

By Bernard S. Ramsey

It's time to talk about vacations; those delightful, warm, lazy days are with us again. The best thing about a vacation is the fact that you can just let yourself go—provided you don't go too far—and this not "going too far" has nothing to do with the alleged gasoline shortage! In the olden, Halcyon days, it was said that the best place to spend a vacation was just inside your income, but modern society encourages the pay-as-you-go vacation and you become aware that the bigger the summer vacation, the harder the fall. The wonderful part of vacation is that it makes you feel good enough to go back to work . . . and so poor you have to! A certain member of a certain church in Post (not the FCC!) spent his vacation in Ruidoso. He wired his pastor: "Having a wonderful time . . . wish I could afford it. Please wire me $5.00 to get home on; will add it to my tithe next month! Yes, a vacation is a way of getting into the pink by going into the red.

May we suggest, that before you vacate, you remember not only to leave the postman, the paper man, and the milkman a note, but that you also leave your church a little note—say, just a little slip of paper specifying a certain sum of money to cover your regular giving while vacating, and don't forget your signature at the bottom, otherwise the bottom falls out of the treasury. Go to church somewhere—any church—we recommend some church other than your denomination. Once in Florida, we took our children boy and two girls, to a Holy Roller church. The thought every member was having an epileptic seizure one of the girls asked: "Mother, Daddy . . . Don't people get a mouthful of grit tumbling around in the Once in the North Georgia mountains, we took the "Kissing Saints" church—the girls didn't like it much—but the boy sure did! Take the Good Book with you—it's the best road map we've discovered only will it tell you how to get to where you want to go, also how to behave when you get there.

We neglected to suggest you go hear a preacher preach; there is a remote possibility it will you appreciate your home church preacher more, take prayer too; travel today is not without its hazards many loose nuts in the driving console. And don't like that Old Testament Character Jehu. Of Jehu's chariot it is written: "He Driveth Furiously" AND DO BE CAREFUL . . . the churches of Post already have too many vacant pews! HAPPY VACATION!

*Figures in this table are based on annual performance statistics of funds listed in the Management Report section of Warrenburg's Investment Company Group for the categories of bond and preferred stock funds, six-year exchange funds and international funds. Annual average performance was derived by adding each fund's performance and dividing by the number of funds. New funds were added as they appeared in the Warrenburg's column which were used in 1970, 1971 and 1972. For example, the number of funds was 40, 44 and 57, respectively. Investment results assume initial investments of $1,000 following deduction of sales charge of 5% percent and subsequent investments of dividends and capital gains, 1972 members and performance.

The Record

$10,000 to $103,528
The table illustrates how an investment of $10,000 in 1950 would have fared by year measured by the average performance of mutual funds. It shows that by the end of 1972 it would have grown to $103,528 for a net gain of $93,528.
The same $10,000 at 5% interest compounded annually would have produced a guaranteed net gain of $20,719 over the same period.

The table also illustrates the reason why mutual fund investments can flourish with confidence in the investment markets. It shows how in the "boom" years, such as in 1968 and 1972, the investment company's digits could have been twice that over the long term, the number of "up" years exceeded "down" years by nearly three to one, and gains far outweighed losses. Of course, the record of any individual fund varies with its investment objectives and performance.

The figures demonstrate the value of long-term thinking and long-term investing for those now planning for the future. While year performance is an indicator of the future, the record of the fund reflects over the long term should be an important factor in the investment decision of any potential investor.
Mutual funds are for people with faith in the future.
