Burlington 50th anniversary celebrated at Postex Plant

Postex Plant of Burlington Industries, Inc., held anniversary parties two days last week to celebrate the 50th anniversary of Burlington, which was founded in Burlington, N. C., in 1923 by J. Spencer Love.

The parties at Postex Plant were held in conjunction with a company-wide celebration during the 50th anniversary year.

The parties were held on all three shifts for all active Burlington employees here, with anniversary cakes served around the clock to approximately 450 workers.

A special made 50th anniversary commemorative rug was presented to every active employee. The rug, manufactured at the Monticello, Ark., plant was woven with the Burlington logo and read, "50th Year, Burlington Industries." The rug was blue with white logo and gold lettering.

Other party favors included book matches, stick-on Burlington decals and a specially prepared 50th anniversary brochure.

Door prizes, which included watches, radios and electric razors, were presented. Winners included Mike Basquez, Harvey Boulware, Barbara Crenshaw and John R. Rudd.

Last Thursday, four $100 prizes were awarded. The winners were Harold Johnston, a bone china set; Jesse Carvajal, a television set; Buran Matthews, a movie camera, and Ernest Clark, a record and 8-track tape player.

Participating in the drawings were five senior Postex employees. They were Maysel James, 42 years; Della Ticer, 29 years; Susie Hayes, 27 years; Liberty Anthony, 28 years, and Herman McVay, 20 years.

Also on Thursday, five names were drawn to be sent to the Burlington Corporate office in Greensboro, N. C., for the corporate prize drawings on Aug. 31. First prize will be $5,000; second, $3,500; third, $2,500; fourth, $1,000; and fifth, $500. The Postex employee names submitted as eligible for these cash prizes are Flora Davila, Estelle Samson, Mary Welborn, Alma McBride and J. C. Hodgkiss.

Burlington is also making a Golden Anniversary award of $5,000 first prize and $3,500 second prize to some two lucky employees who have been with the company 25 years or longer. Postex submitted five names (See Postex, page 10) afternoon showers had "played out" after threatening to disrupt the entire proceedings.

The Dawson County Sheriff's Posse took second place in the riding club division and the Scurry County Sheriff's Posse, third.

In the float division, Holy Cross Catholic Church won the $50 second prize and Johnny McCowen the $25 third prize with his unique "Watergate Bug."

Susan Sawyers won the first place prize of $12.50 in the decorated bicycle division, depicting a "Peanuts" comic character. Second place prize of $7.50 went to Cindy Jackson on her bike rigged up as a two-legged horse, and the third place prize of $5 to Jeff Lamb for his portrayal of "Red Raider Ed."

The trophies for the most typically dressed young cowboy and cowgirl in the parade went to Cliff Johnson of Post and Leeanne Byrd of Claremont.

Parade winners were announced and trophies and prizes awarded at Thursday night's rodeo grand entry.

Among the parade's more attractive units were "Miss Ford Country," who rode in a Smith Ford Company of Slaton automobile and threw out "sheriff's badges" to the crowds lining the wet sidewalks, and Miss Lajuana Ward of Snyder, District IV queen of the American Association of Sheriff's Poses and Riding Clubs.

Both "Miss Ford Country," who is Sandy Lankford of Graham, Tex., and Miss Ward rode in the grand entry at the opening night's show.

Following is the order of the parade, which many were heard to comment was the best rodeo parade here in several years:

Election will decide if Southland school lasts

Vote is set for Aug. 25

Some 145 students from kindergarten through high school were expected to enroll and attend first day classes at the Southland School today, but whether they'll be in those classrooms for the next nine months is headed for a new election decision, Saturday, Aug. 25.

A petition signed by 91 Southland Independent School District voters was filed with County Judge Giles W. Dalby here Friday requesting an election be called to abolish the Southland school district.

Judge Dalby yesterday afternoon set the Aug. 25 date for the special election to decide whether or not to abolish the Southland school district.

Absentee voting will start in the county clerk's office today and although the Southland district is also in Lubbock and Lynn counties all absentee voting will have to be done here, Judge Dalby said after conferences with attorneys on the matter.

He said his office has been deluged with Southland requests for an early as possible election date to decide the school district's fate.

Also in Garza district court here Friday, the same nine Southland school district property owners who earlier had filed a suit to close the Southland school district tax rolls filed another suit for a declaratory judgment and injunction to prohibit the Southland school district from issuing $500,000 in bonds to build a new school.

Supporters of the school board in the continuing controversy contend that in the end the abolishment of the district effort will be beaten at the polls, just as was an earlier effort to join the Slaton school district, though probably by not such a heavy margin.

Southland sources indicate that supporters of the election to abolish the school district have been canvassing the

Saturday shower ups rain total to 16.76

A hard Saturday afternoon shower here produced .86 of an inch of additional moisture and brought total moisture for 1973 in Post officially to 16.76 inches.

The temperature has ranged into the high 90s for the last eight days, but only seven 100-degree or better days have been reported in Post for the summer.

UNITED FUND MEETING

The first organizational meeting of the Garza County United Fund organization, preparatory to its 1974 financial drive this fall, has been called for 7:30 p.m. tonight in the basement of the First United Methodist Church by the Rev. Bob Ford, president of the fund organization.

Need to hold line on spending, says solon

Cong. Omar Burleson told those who turned out for a reception in his honor here in the community room Monday noon that "the United States government should spend within its means like the state of Texas" and that "the integrity of the dollar around the world is at stake."

The veteran lawmaker, whose 17th Congressional District this year includes Garza County for the first time, pointed to this nation's 14 billion dollar deficit of the last year and declared that "Congress must get some handles on our fiscal affairs."

Burleson said in a short talk and in fielding questions afterwards that "I don't get so excited about Watergate myself." He termed it "just a passing scene in national life."

When a woman listener asked about the high cost of food, the congressman said "if you put a pencil to it, the price of food today is the best bargain we've got."

Energy has been a real U. S. bargain too, Burleson said, but we're going to have to start buying a better price for it.

$348.75 United Fund pledges uncollected

Dr. Charles Tubbs, treasurer of the Garza County United Fund, reports that $348.75 remains to be collected of the 1973 pledges to reach the $9,500 goal. Disbursements to date have totaled $7,000.95, with final quarterly donations due from accounts in September.

Funds remaining in the account after September are earmarked for an emergency fund for local use.

Little Britches Rodeo scheduled Sept. 8-9

Garza County 4-H clubs will sponsor a Little Britches Rodeo at the Post Stampede Arena on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 8-9, to help raise funds for the state 4-H center to be built at Brownwood.

Doc Edwards of Girard will be the stock producer for the rodeo, with performances set for 8 o'clock Saturday night and 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

There will be two divisions, one for pee wee boys and girls, 11 and under, and the other for junior boys and girls, 12 through 14.

The pee wee division will include barrel race, flag race, pole bending, pee wee bareback riding, call riding and ribbon roping. Events in the junior division will be barrel race, flag race, pole bending, junior bareback riding, bull riding and ribbon roping. There will be a wild mare race each night with cash prizes.

Buckles will go to each event winner and ribbons will be presented from first through seventh places. An all-around buckle will be presented in each age group.

Entries should be mailed to 107 Ridge Road, Post, Tex., or telephone 495-3186 after 6 p.m. The books close at 10 p.m. Sept. 5, and contestants will be required to call in to find out which date he or she is to perform.

Dean Robinson to retire soon

After 58 years as a school man, County School Supt. Dean Robinson will step into retirement here Aug. 31.

Robinson, who has one more year to go on his tenth four-year term as county superintendent during which time he never had an opponent for the office, submitted his resignation to the Garza County Commissioners Court and had it accepted Monday.

A special act of the last Texas legislature abolished the office here effective at the end of Robinson's current term or whenever a vacancy occurred. That special law becomes effective Aug. 25.

The state, which pays all of Robinson's salary, was instrumental in pushing for abolishment of the office in this county as in many other Texas counties.

In retirement—thanks to his long school career—Robinson will draw more in retirement benefits than his present salary.

"There's no hard feelings," Robinson told The Dispatch yesterday.

Driver injured in truck wreck

Charles O. Spears, Lubbock truck driver, was seriously injured about 5 a.m. yesterday when the semi-trailer loaded with potatoes he was driving overturned two miles southeast of Post on US-84.

Highway Patrolman Warren Yeager of Tahoka, who investigated the accident, told The Dispatch that Spears apparently went to sleep and his south-bound rig veered across the center median, across the double northbound traffic lane and overturned in the bar ditch on the other side of the highway.

Spears was given emergency treatment at Garza Memorial Hospital here and taken to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock by ambulance where his condition, due to head and leg injuries, was reported as serious.

Smith rites are held here at Baptist Church

Last rites for Mrs. Ray N. (Mae) Smith, 71, a resident of Garza County since 1909 and a school teacher for 33 years, were conducted at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the First Baptist Church, of which she had been a member for over 60 years.

Mrs. Smith died Tuesday at the Twin Cedar Nursing Home following a lengthy illness.

Born May 31, 1902, at Roby, she was a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University, and was married to Ray N. Smith here Aug. 18, 1943. She taught school in Post for 20 years before retiring several years ago, and had also taught at Ralls, Denver City, Albany, Comanche, Okla. and Portales, N. M. She also taught music for a number of years.

Mrs. Smith was a member of the Eastern Star and active in all types of church and civic work.

Survivors include her husband; a step-son, Robert A. Smith of Odessa, a step-daughter, Mrs. William H. Uhlman of Arvada, Colo., a sister, Mrs. Frank Lanotte of Manteca, Calif., nine grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

The Rev. Glenn Reece, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated at the funeral services.

Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Mason Funeral Home. Pallbearers, all deacons of the First Baptist Church, were E. R. Moreland, Hershel Beyers, Dean A. Robinson, Arthur Jackson, J. R. Hagins and Dub Caffey. The remainder of the deacons sat as an honorary group directly behind the active pallbearers.

Winners take home over $5,000 from annual Post rodeo

Winning contestants pocketed a total of $5,260 in the 33rd annual Post Stampede Rodeo held Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

Gate receipts for the three night performances also totaled more than $5,000, according to Tommy Young, secretary of Post Stampede, Inc.

Saturday night's crowd was the largest, with a gate of approximately $2,250, but performances were not up to the first two nights because of heavy Saturday afternoon rains, which made the going soggy in all events. Seven of the 11 barrel racers scheduled to run Saturday night withdrew because of the muddy grounds.

The rodeo secretary said Monday the Stampede association would not know how it fared financially until all bills were in. "But it looks like we did okay," he said.

C. F. "Pee Wee" Johnson, Stampede president, and other officers and directors joined many spectators in calling this year's rodeo one of the most interesting and most smoothly run off of any ever held here.

The Stampede group gave much of the credit to Bucking 8 Rodeo, Inc., of Lawton, Okla., which brought a string of good bucking and roping stock and efficient hired help. This year's contestants came from over a wider area, too, with New Mexico better represented than at any previous rodeo in recent years.

The specialty acts of L. V. Sanders and his trained dogs and horse and Lisa Bramwell and her Arabian stallion, Noah, which performed Friday night, proved crowd pleasers.

The Stampede group also

Anyone for a cottonburger?

With the scarcity of beef and all, how about a cottonburger for lunch?

We're not putting our readers on, either. We're just boosting an entirely new cotton product industry which is just getting under way in Lubbock—the world's first commercial plant to manufacture flour out of cottonseed.

"We will be able to produce the highest source of protein with the lowest cost in the world," John Herzer, general manager of the Plains Cooperative Oil Mill which has built the $2.4 million flour plant, declares.

Protein content of the flour will be about 65 per cent, at a cost of around 35 cents per pound, but a concentrate from the cottonseed can be made that contains up to 100 per cent protein.

The new plant, which goes into production this week, will make flour that is completely soluble in water yet has no taste, making it ideal as a food additive.

Cottonseed has heretofore been regarded as usable only for its vegetable oil and as cattle feed, primarily due to the toxic pigment glands that were mixed with the protein-bearing seeds.

For 25 years the U.S. Department of Agriculture has worked on the gland removal problem, finally reaching the solution in a New Orleans research laboratory with financial help from the Texans.

Commercial marketing of the cottonseed flour will be handled by the Grain Processing Corp. at Muscatine, Ia. Inquiries already have come from virtually every country in the world.

Production of the cottonseed flour will mean Texas cotton farmers will see greatly increased prices for quality cottonseed.

Eighty per cent of initial production will go into commercial foods, although cottonseed flour is suitable for home use.

Now getting back to those cottonburgers. A pound of meat, if it contained a quarter cottonseed flour, would cost 25 per cent less, have the same protein value, and taste the same.

For bakery items, a loaf of bread can be doubled in protein content or a piece of cake and soft drink made to fulfill all the nutritional needs of a school child for a day.—JC

THE MAN UP the street wonders if instead of raising postal rates, couldn't we just switch to smaller stamps?

I took special pains last week to get the time of the parade in the headline rodeo story, which read, "Today's Parade at 5:30 to Open Stampede Rodeo." I did that so we wouldn't get so many telephone calls, as we usually do, asking us what time the parade would start. Yet, we got the usual number of calls anyway.

IN FACT, THE first time the telephone rang Thursday morning, it was a woman wanting to know what time the parade would start. I answered, perhaps somewhat sarcastically, "5:30, just like it says in the paper." "Well, I haven't read the paper yet," she replied, just as sarcastically, and hung up. Nice way for both of us to start the day, wasn't it?

Something new Bucking S Rodeo, Inc., producer of this year's Post Stampede Rodeo, brought with them was a Zip-a-Matic timer, behind which sat the producer's wife, Mrs. Harrell Smith, who helped Johnny Kemp keep time.

THE ELECTRONIC timer, I am sure, is not new in many other places, but it was new as far as the Post rodeo was concerned, and timekeeper Johnny Kemp and I were both so fascinated watching the timer perform that we had a hard time keeping our minds on our business.

The Zip-a-Matic was used in the time events, and since it registered time in the hundredths of a second instead of tenths of a second, there was little chance of a tie, as there often is in timed events, especially the barrel race.

IN THE BARREL race, as soon as the cowgirl starts making her run at the barrels, the device shows her time in red numerals in hundredths of a second, clicking them off until she has finished her race against time.

What will they think of next? Or, perhaps, I should ask, what have they already thought of, since the Zip-a-Matic probably isn't new to anyone except me—and, perhaps Johnny Kemp.

A NEW TRADE agreement with Russia indicates that we are sending them 3,000 cars from Detroit and they're sending us 20,000 paking places from Siberia.

President Nixon is going to talk to the nation soon on the Watergate affair. For once in his political career, Tricky Dick will be talking on a subject he knows something about.

ONE NEVER knows when or where he is going to run into an old acquaintance. Since I have my desk behind the door, most people not familiar with our desk arrangements head straight for the first desk they see when they come in the front door, and that desk happens to be Bonnie Duren's, our women's page editor. So, one day last week when a fellow walked in and headed for Bonnie's desk, I just glanced at him out of the corner of my eye.

It wasn't long, however, until Bonnie was needing some help with a couple of ads the visitor wanted to run in The Dispatch and when he turned toward my desk, I saw it was Robert (Bob) Harvick of Tahoka. I knew him when he played baseball for Brownfield in the old semi-pro Oil Belt League. Only then we called him "Red" Harvick instead of Robert or Bob Harvick.

"I KNEW YOU the minute I looked at you," Red told me. So, since we both recognized each other after some 20 years, I suppose neither one of us is like Joe Namath, who says he can't wait for tomorrow because he gets better looking every day.

Red is agency manager now for the Lynn County Farm Bureau at Tahoka, and farmers and ranchers are invited to read his ad, "Your Ticket to Service," in today's Dispatch. He is running the large ad and also a smaller Farm Bureau ad in The Dispatch for four weeks. As Publisher Jim Cornish told Red after I introduced them, "You're the kind of man we like to see come in."

RED HARVICK is also a Southwest Conference basketball official, but I'll always remember him most as a baseball player. I was the Oil Belt League statistician and also Brownfield scorekeeper when Red played over there. Once when the Brownfield team went into an awful slump that lasted through several Sundays,

CLOSE CITY MEETING There will be a regular monthly meeting of members at the Close City Community Center on Saturday night, Aug. 18, at 7:30 for a potluck supper and game night. Everyone is invited.

Red and the other players would do just about everything except bribe me to give them a hit. I sympathized with them and most of the time the Brownfield players got more than the benefit of the doubt when I had to decide between a hit and an error.

I recall that was the season when the Brownfield team had a player named White (I've forgotten his first name) at first base. That same season, Del Rio was wallowing deep in the cellar of one of the many minor leagues then in existence. One Sunday while Brownfield was in its slump, one of the fans asked this fellow White where Brownfield stood in the Oil Belt League. "We're about six games behind Del Rio," he replied without batting an eye.

College loan programs

If this nation is to remain productively strong, then educational opportunity must be within the reach of everyone including those of the poorer strata where diamonds have so often been found in the rough.

Our country's ideal has been that the desire for education should be rewarded on the basis of ability and ambition, and not just upon class, economic privilege, national origin or color.

However, even in this day and time there are still many well qualified youngsters wanting an advanced education who have found that economic factors block further progress. Perhaps we're paying for this social miscarriage.

New loan programs to help deserving students go on to college are being passed all the time. One of the newest of these is the Basic Educational Opportunity Grant program, especially enacted to benefit 1973 high school graduates who need financial assistance to attend college.

This new program is being administered locally by Lane Tannehill of the Post High School faculty. Any 1973 high school graduate who wishes to attend college, but who needs financial assistance to do so, can contact Mr. Tannehill by telephoning 2770 or 2178. He will be glad to explain the program, its requirements and its benefits.—CD

Cotton demand growing

Good news for cotton producers is that this year they can make great gains on man-made fibers. At least, that is what the executive vice-president of the National Cotton Council said recently at Lubbock.

"Inadequate plant capacity and the energy shortage have made the man-made fiber supply situation uncertain today," Dabney Wellford said at a one-day meeting to discuss problems facing cotton farmers. "For the first time, cotton has the opportunity to turn the tables. Export demand also is strong."

He said reasons for the strong demand include short crops in foreign countries, shifting from cotton to other crops in certain foreign countries, tightness of man-made fiber supplies abroad and devaluation of the American dollar.

Wellford added, however, that "to take advantage of these opportunities, every possible bale the farmer can show a profit on needs to be squeezed out of the acres now growing."—CD

More time for big crimes

That tragedy in Houston gets more appalling as each new corpse is uncovered.

One thing that makes it even more blood-chilling is the fact that in nearly every case police were notified by worried parents of a missing child, yet didn't do anything about it, at least not full scale, until the murder of the apparent perpetrator of the whole ghastly thing and the uncovering of the first corpse.

It is easy, of course, to understand why the police in our large cities cannot allow themselves to get unduly concerned over every missing child report, but in this case there were so many from the same neighborhood that the Houston police should have put two and two together sooner than they did.

One of our lawmen's troubles in recent years has been too much concentration on such things as "pot smoking"—which is not entirely their fault, since the possession of even such a minute amount of marijuana as is required in one cigarette was a felony until changed by recent legislation.

Now that the marijuana law has been changed, perhaps the police will concentrate more on the "pushers" than on the kids who smoke it—which will give them more time to go after bigger things, such as the mass murders in Houston.—CD enter the west end of the elementary building. Fifth grade students will enter the east end of the elementary building. Lunches will be served in the lunchroom at a cost of 50 cents a day. No one will be permitted to eat in the lunchroom free unless an application has been filled out and approved before the first day of school. The lunch schedule will be: Kindergarten, 10:50-11:30; first grade, 11-11:40; second grade, 11:10-11:50; third grade, 11:20-12; fourth grade, 11:30-12:10; fifth grade, 11:40-12:20. Free textbooks are provided for all students by the State of Texas. In addition, the school furnishes many types of supplies. However, workbooks, paper, crayons, etc., must be furnished by the student. A supply list will be furnished the first day of school. Also, all local businesses who sell school supplies were furnished a list early in the summer. There will be an activity fee for workbooks, weekly readers, etc., as follows: Kindergarten, $1.50; first grade, $3; second grade, $3; third grade, $4; fourth grade, $4; fifth grade, $4. (Please send or bring the correct amount of money or check the first day of school.) We believe that parents want to know more about the progress, growth and development of their children than we can give in written reports. Also, we think that both parents and the teacher will benefit by an opportunity to sit down and exchange ideas and information which might lead to a better understanding of the child. For these reasons, we will schedule at least four conferences during the year. We are always ready to confer with parents about special problems concerning their child or to explain what we are doing in our program of instruction. The required immunization schedule for all students appears elsewhere in today's Dispatch.

contestants. A total of $1,650 was paid the six winning teams. The top six calf ropers out of a field of 60 contestants were paid a total of $1,200, with $600 going to the top six bareback bronc riders, $840 to the top six bull riders, $540 to the top six barrel racers, and $340 to the top four saddle bronc riders, which drew only 15 contestants. Hometown fans got their biggest chance to cheer at the final performance when Mark Terry, a Post High School student, stayed aboard the bull Hard Times, reportedly one of the hardest to ride in the Bucking S string. Mark scored 62 points on his ride, which had him in second place behind Jesse Rollins of Big Spring until rides by Eddie Eicke of Snyder and Charles Atkinson of San Angelo left the Post cowboy in fourth place.

The crowd also whooped it up Friday night for Joe Ed Eckert, a spring graduate of Southland High School, who stayed aboard a tough bronc named Choctaw for a 66-point ride in the bareback bronc riding contest. Eckert's ride earned him third place money in the event.

Following are the money winners in each event:
Bareback Bronc: Dave Koontz, Springlake, $208.80; Ken Downey, Coleman, $172.80; Joe Ed Eckert, Southland, $136.80; Bob Doty, Abilene, $100.80; Karl Kenner, Pampa, $64.80; Sammy Wilson, Slaton, $36.

Saddle Bronc: Steve Lisemby, New Home, $136; Jud Sims, Lubbock, $102; Gary Parks, Snyder, and Larry Bates, Lubbock (tie), $51.

Team Roping: Jack Weston and Mack Weston, Clovis, N. M., $478.50; Bobby Lewis and Jack Huntley, San Jon, N. M., $396; Boyd Kitchen and Tommy Bacon, Rising Star, $313.50; Randall Wilcoxson and Dan Fisher, Crane, $231; Larry Howard and Bobby Sneed, Odessa, $148.50; Dewayne Ridley and Mike Weston, Odessa, $82.50.

MRS. JOHNNY MAC CATHEY (Laura Kay Herron)

Potluck by Rosemary Chapman

Harry Tubbs said not long ago that he was surprised to see me — he thought Columbia Records would have me in jail by now. If I'd taken the unrestrained advice that has been offered by numerous Dispatch readers, that's probably where I would be!

Kaye-Hutchins vows exchanged

Miss Karan Kaye and James "Bo" Hutchins exchanged wedding vows Saturday, Aug. 11, at 7 p.m. in the Southwest United Methodist Church in Houston.

The Rev. Robert B. Lane, pastor of the Memorial Methodist Church, performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with silver vases with arrangements of white gladiolas and purple and white poms.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Kaye of Houston are parents of the bride, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hutchins of Post.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white taffeta gown with imprinted Queen Anne lace appliques. She carried a bouquet of white poms and glamelias.

Mrs. Ann Di Marri of Houston was matron of honor. She wore a purple dress and carried a bouquet of purple poms and babybreath with purple velvet streamers.

Steve Schalit of Houston served as best man, and wedding music was provided by Harry C. Jemison.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the Houston Oaks Hotel. Decorations included floral arrangements and a three-tiered wedding cake decorated in lavender and white.

After a wedding trip to Miami, Fla., the couple will reside at 2401 Lazy Hollow, Apt. 114A in Houston.

Attending the wedding from Post were the bridegroom's parents and his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Odom.

Joy Parker was one of the few counselors who came up with a legitimate scheme for defeating Columbia, and that didn't pan out. Joy said that she'd gotten into a similar situation with a magazine company while J. E. was judge and he'd written them a hot letter on court stationery which got her off the hook immediately. She suggested that I get Judge Dalby to write one for me.

I mulled this information over for a while and decided that the next time I saw Dalby I would casually bring the subject up and see if he would write a letter to Columbia and tell them what an upright, honest, tax-paying etc., citizen I was and would they please stop picking on me. The trouble was, Dalby saw me before I saw him, and his first words were "I want you to meet the new congressman—maybe he can help you with your Columbia Record Club problem". Talk about passing the buck. I didn't even know Dalby could read minds until mine was had.

Actually, I don't need the judge or the congressman anymore because the fight's over. It's a good thing, too. If the Supreme Court dreads the idea of settling the Watergate tapes affair, they would almost certainly hang themselves over the Chapman vs. Columbia Record Club of America mess.

The concluding chapter in that long running saga goes thusly. After sending a letter, copies of two POTLUCK columns, and photostatic copies of all the letters from Columbia to the president of that organization and Bill James, Collection Director, I waited nervously for future developments. They weren't long in coming. On June 6 I got a letter from John Sullivan, Director of Operations at Columbia House. He asked that I take no

Antelope squad scrimmage set for Saturday morning

Thirty-six candidates for this season's Post Antelope football squad, including nine lettermen, will work out in pads for the first time Friday morning, with an intra-squad scrimmage scheduled for Saturday morning. Coach Bobby Davis said Tuesday.

The gridders were issued shoes and socks last Thursday, with no-pad workouts getting under way Monday. These workouts have consisted of working with weights in the morning and sprints and other conditioning in the afternoon.

With the teachers' workshop under way next week, one-day drills will be held, with a controlled scrimmage here with Petersburg scheduled for Friday, Aug. 24. The following Friday, the 'Lopes will scrimmage Spur at Spur.

Coach Davis said all the boys reported in good physical condition and have been coming through the conditioning workouts in good shape. He said the squad expects to add a few more boys after school starts in addition to the 36 out for practice this week.

The head coach sees quickness as the Post squad's main strength this season and size, along with a scarcity of experienced players, as its principal weaknesses.

"We have four experienced running backs returning in David Conoly, Donnell Harper, Jerry Tyler and Joe Moore," the coach said.

Tyler, a 150-pound senior who lettered at quarterback the last two seasons, has been moved to tailback because of his ball-carrying ability. Juniors Randy Josey and Jay Kennedy, both of whom logged some time last season, and sophomore Bryan Davis are running at quarterback. The coach said both Josey and Davis have been throwing the ball well in practice.

Lettermen returning besides Tyler are Jay Pollard, 232-pound senior guard, who was all-district and all-South Plains last season; Conoly, 145-pound senior halfback; Moore, 156-pound junior halfback; Harper, 153-pound senior fullback; Sammy Gutierrez, 148-pound junior fullback; Richard Dudley, 160-pound senior guard; Tim Owen, 166-pound junior tackle and Ricky Shepherd, 153-pound senior end.

Others who have reported, their position, weight and class, are as follows:

- Randy Josey, quarterback, 148, junior
- Bryan Davis, quarterback, 162, sophomore
- Jay Kennedy, quarterback, 131, junior
- Garland Dudley, halfback, 151, sophomore
- Lee Cruse, halfback, 130, sophomore
- Duke Bell, fullback, 130, sophomore
- Dennis McDonald, tailback, 140, junior
- Edward Price, tailback, 133, sophomore
- Charles Richard, tailback, 140, sophomore
- Roger Taylor, center, 157, junior
- George Hester, center, 158, sophomore
- Oscar Sanchez, center, 220, sophomore
- Mark Terry, guard, 133, junior
- Joe Hays, guard, 131, senior
- Ray Martinez, guard, 158, sophomore
- Johnny McCowen, guard, 147, junior

Thoughts During the Organ Prelude

By Bernard S. Ramsey

If I really knew it all, Lord, I could tell you some beautiful and great things about Yourself, but what I actually know best about You is the exciting mystery in which You wrap your meanings. I want to thank you, Lord, that ever so often You let me take a peek; let me sneak a glimpse at your inmost self . . . that here and there a banner has unfurled . . . a mystery has been revealed . . . a meaning discovered. When I have thus known you . . . it's just been great knowing you know.

Here are all these people. How shall I pray with them? They too are secret; they are mystery. They want to know and to reveal. They want to be caught up in joy and love and service and eternity. They want healing and peace. Lord, they pray for so much!

And how shall I tell them that they already have all of these things? How shall—not so much by word of mouth—but in my slightest gesture; in all my actions—how shall I share your word of love with them? Maybe best as I've said; perhaps in silence as much as in words. Certainly in trust rather than self-confidence.

But not too certainly, in any event. If I really knew, I could tell them beautiful and great things. I could tell them the mysterious source of strength that enables me to speak of you at all? . . . In church on week days? . . . In any way I can? . . . At any time? . . . In any way I am resolved to let your love just come "pushing" me and my life; in any small way I can. . . In season I know it may seem presumptive of me—but pray—and I shall speak. Will you forgive me? . . . boldness—will you use me—as you will and when you will with me? I know that You have already given me and much, much more. I know now that in season You've enriched my life far beyond that which I could enrich another. All I can do now . . . is just silently, joyous heart full of love as You pour it out—today—Lord, for letting me come to your house today—you, Lord.

Chamber directors extend deadline in slogan contest

Directors of the Post Chamber of Commerce decided at last Thursday's meeting to extend the deadline on the bumper slogan contest to Sept. 13, the date of the group's next meeting.

The slogan contest deadline was originally set for Aug. 9, but since only 12 entries had been received, the directors decided to extend the time.

The winning slogan will be printed on bumper stickers to be purchased by the directors. The contest winner will receive a Post Golden Jubilee commemorative plate.

The directors also decided to set aside a day to honor area farmers after the first bale of 1973 cotton is ginned, with the date probably to be set for sometime in October. The program will include a speaker to explain the new farm bill.

The Chamber's business breakfast was set for a date in September, with an auction of the first issue of Nativity scene plates to be a highlight.

Directors also decided at the meeting to look into the possibility of donating a water fountain to the new downtown park at the site of the old Algeria Hotel.

The directors heard a report that the order had been placed for the 5x7-inch post cards boosting Post. The post cards will have pictures, made by Ed Neff, of Postex Plant, the sextuple oil well, cattle, the Planters Gin and the courthouse. Charles Didway wrote the description for the back of the cards, which were ordered through Don Ammons.

The directors voted to send a representative to a meeting to be held soon in Austin on the proposed new tourist route, "the Port to Plains route," from Houston to Amarillo.

Secretary Kay Lamb was authorized by the directors to contact the proper authorities about the cleaning up of the Cactus Garden at the corner of Broadway and 8th Street.

Those attending the meeting, which was held at Jackson's Cafeteria, were President J. B. Potts, Arthur "Bo" Jackson, Ronald Simpson, Silas Short, Joe McCowen, Jack Alexander, Jim Wells and the secretary.

'Fall Fashion Fling' attracts large crowd

A parade of new fall fashions was viewed by approximately 35 at the recent "Fall Fashion Fling" sponsored by the Gamma Mu Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority.

The style show and luncheon was held at the Fellowship Hall of the United Methodist Church from 11:30 until 1:30. A menu of baked ham, potato salad, green bean salad, jello salad, relish tray and hot rolls was prepared and served by the sorority members.

The fashions furnished by Twins Fashion Shop were an outstanding display of new fall styles. Co-owners of the Twins Fashion Shop, Loveta Josey and Lometa Epley, helped coordinate the style show.

The guests were welcomed by the sorority president, Orabeth White, who also introduced the guest narrator, Dana Feaster, Garza County home demonstration agent. Music was presented by Mary Ann Norman at the piano.

A $20 gift certificate from Twins Fashion Shop was presented to the door prize winner, Mrs. Velma Long.

Decorations included fall leaves and fall flower arrangements on the tables covered with gold cloths and gold napkins. A small table covered with a white lace cloth over blue and centered with the sorority flower, an arrangement of jonquils, held the 1972 president's scrapbook. The ESA banner was also displayed.

Proceeds from the event will be used for the sorority's many philanthropic projects—helping needy school children purchase glasses, shoes, dental work, etc., and other special projects sponsored by the sorority.

The 21 models appeared at a

(Continued From Page Five) immediate action as they wanted to review their files. I couldn't decide if that was good or bad. However, he also thanked me for "taking the time to bring this matter to our attention" and I got a good laugh out of that. I'd only been trying to bring it to their attention for six months.

On June 12, I got a letter from Paula Copeland, Assistant Director of Operations, who, lo and behold, found me innocent and stated that she was clearing my account. She actually apologized for the inconvenience they had caused me and added that "should you receive a notice for payment due prepared before this transaction is complete it may be ignored." I promptly removed the barbed wire fence which surrounded the house, dug up the mines, and told the dogs not to kill on command after all.

Won't I ever learn? On June 20, I received another letter from Paula Copeland. This time she said they'd never heard of me, they'd never had any phone calls from me, they'd never received any correspondence from me and furthermore I owed them $18.93.

It was too much. I sat down and wrote the meanest letter I've ever written. It made me feel so much better I scratched out all the curse words, retyped the letter and sent it.

Dear Ms. Copeland,

Please examine the two letters dated June 12 and June 20 which you have sent me. In the first letter you state that you are clearing my account; in the second you seem to be starting the whole affair over again. I believe that these letters accurately reflect the on-again-off-again history of our relationship (myself and Columbia Records) over the past few months.

I have never considered myself to be an easily confused person but quite frankly, you people are driving me crazy. When you state in your first letter that I am to ignore notices of payment, does this include your own second letter? I really can't decide.

Therefore, I will make one more effort to straighten this matter out. In your second letter you state that you find no evidence of having received correspondence or phone calls from me regarding this account. Regarding the phone calls, this is not surprising because my calls were not accepted. I was repeatedly told that Mr. James was "in conference". Upon attempting to leave my name and number to have him call back (at my own expense) I was repeatedly told that Mr. James "does not make call-backs".

As for your not finding evidence of the returned records and attached letter of explanation, I confess I find this difficult to accept. The letters and records were sent to your company insured and I have the receipt. The insurance number was 704019. The package was delivered Apr. 11, 1973, and signed for by a Georgia Myers.

These are the only records that I have ever received from your company that I have not paid for. The reason they were returned as I stated in my first letter was: they were duplicates of records which you had already sent.

I would also like to add that I find it strange that I should receive a letter from your company in May stating that "in response to your inquiry" my balance was .00. If you had not received an inquiry, then how could you respond to it?

Please cancel my membership. Columbia Records and I have had a good relationship for several years. I've enjoyed the many good records that I've received from you and I assume that you've enjoyed a nice profit from me.

The fact is, however, that I feel bitter, resentful and humiliated by this present mix-up, and I think that it is time we come to a parting of the ways.

Sincerely,

Rm Chapman

On July 18 I received another letter from John Sullivan. He apologized for Mrs. Copeland's second letter, repeated that my account was clear of the charges in question and assured me that I would not be mistakenly billed again. He (Continued From Page One) air-conditioning and heating units, whether the library fund or the city were going to buy it, or them. After a little conferring we ordered it into the library addition estimates.

Now all of this is going to get the cost up there—and closer to $30,000 than we'd like. But one thing at a time. The trustees think when you see what we're doing you'll want to help pay for it and more donations will roll in.

Well, we hope so.

But right now we're stuck on the theatre wall because the district man for Commonwealth who makes the decision for us in Dallas is in Kansas City and won't be home until Friday. We don't anticipate trouble, but one never knows.

The library "dream" is so close to reality that we don't think it will bog down now. But we want our readers to know that it isn't all paid for by any means. Your dollars are welcome, no matter how few or how many.

If everything goes well, work may begin on the project Monday.

The congressman said he has "never been enthusiastic about revenue sharing" and asked: "What revenue does the federal government have to share anyway?"

As for the proposed guaranteed annual income for the poor in the welfare bill, Burleson said once that concept is adopted there "will be no return and the road will only get longer and wider all the time."
