

'OS weekend' shapes up as 'biggest' and 'best ever'

ASSIST — Stamford Artist Tom Ryan, who is the man most responsible for developing the OS art exhibit to the prominence it has attained today. Tom is the one who invites artists to participate.

HEADMAN — Jim Prather walks with his son Michael. The OS boss's dream of eight years ago has become a reality now with the "OS weekend" but he worked far harder than anybody else getting it to where it is today.

TYPICAL WESTERN ART — This is a 40 x 30 inch oil painting, "Hope Piki Bread Maker" by Ray Swanson which illustrates the fine work art lovers will find at the OS Art Exhibit in the OS ranch house.

DEFENDING CHAMPION — Lewis Kinkead, the defending OS steer roping champ, is shown about to rope a steer at last year's OS roping en route to winning crown. Lewis will be back Sunday to try to get the second leg on the trophy.

Filed sheriff, council and court in dog hassle

The "dog problem" and enforcement cooperation are back on the front burner for both the city and county commissioners court after a joint meeting Wednesday morning heard a complaint from Sheriff Jim Pippin.

The sheriff's basic complaint was that City Councilman Jim Jackson "took it on my dispatcher" in a dog complaint. Jackson denied using the name of the Sheriff's Office. Pippin quoted him as using the name and called his wife had listened to Jackson's side of the conversation.

Pippin, who has said he is "about 75 to 80 percent" of the time, told Mayor Giles McCrary "if you don't like the way I run this town, you can have it back."

Pippin got up and left the room along with Deputy Sheriff Duncan and Mrs. Pippin.

As far as the dog complaint was concerned, it was "mean dog" Pippin wanted something about, has been given by Muleshoe and is no longer a matter of concern.

The dog had bitten a local child and been penned for 15 days for observation and then released. An elderly woman was so afraid of the dog which ran loose that she put her trash and garbage in her car and drove it to a dumpster because she feared walking to the dumpster.

Commissioner Herbert Walls declared "there are dogs all over town and getting worse all the time."

County Judge Giles Dalby suggested after Sheriff Pippin departed that the city and county share the cost of a permanent dog catcher. There has been no dog catcher here since the pickup he used burned.

Both council and court have been down that road before with the problem being finding the right individual for a very difficult job and affording the cost of the operation.

Hospital Administrator Ed Zintgraff said on Pippin's way out that the emergency medical technicians needed some help on how to use the radio and coordinate with sheriff and fire departments.

Dalby promised to try to find somebody to work it out with the EMTs. Zintgraff said Pippin had been invited to a recent meeting, but did not come.

Pippin's reply was "come see me and we can work that out."

Mayor Giles McCrary said somebody has to determine what dogs are dangerous when dog complaints come in. "We can't let the public feel they're being ignored," he said, later adding, "People are going to start shooting dogs in the street and this would involve the (See Joint meeting, Page 12)

On page 6 you'll find a half page ad announcing the fact that Don Ammons, our Dispatch printer for the last 21 years, has purchased The Dispatch's commercial printing business.

It's a business transaction which pleases us very much.

Corby, as he is known to his friends, went to work for The Dispatch fresh out of high school and only a few weeks following his graduation. He has learned a newspaper and printing backshop from the floor up (one of his original duties was cleaning the mess up once a week.)

He has learned each and every step so well that he is widely known in this area today as an excellent craftsman at his trade. When The Dispatch first converted the newspaper to offset and then the commercial plant, Don took it all in stride.

Since converting to offset in our commercial side, Don has been in charge of developing our printing business and being responsible for the entire operation.

That's why the time has come for that portion of the business to be his.

Garza County's new multi-facility — the renovated building on the south side of the lake — is expected to be ready for "move-in day" about the end of the weekend in October.

Completion of the new quarters has been delayed by the late arrival of Jack Alexander, who heads the Garza County Community Action organization. At a meeting Tuesday night termed the "amazing" version of the building will house the community action offices as well as the offices of the Department of Human Resources (welfare) here, plus other services.

Alexander told his community action board that the relocation of offices will result in considerable economies of operations and that he would like to "give location a try" before making a final decision.

Alexander said he hoped a public hearing would be planned.

SPECIAL ATTRACTION — The added attraction for the "OS weekend" here will be Ken Curtis, who as "Festus Haggen" was "Gunsmoke's" deputy for 12 years. Curtis will be the arena marshal both Saturday and Sunday.

'Festus' will be new treat

The 8th annual "OS weekend" coming up Saturday and Sunday for the first time will have a celebrity special attraction. He is Ken Curtis, singer and actor, who is known to the television world as "Festus Haggen."

"Festus" for 12 years from 1963 through 1975 served as Marshal Matt Dillon's deputy on "Gunsmoke."

At the "OS weekend" he will serve as arena marshal both Saturday and Sunday and lead the crowd in singing "America" in the opening ceremonies for Sunday afternoon's OS Steer Roping.

"Festus" will be available to autograph OS Catalogs for all his admirers — young and old — and this is expected to boost the catalog sales at $5 per.

Curtis flies into Lubbock Friday afternoon and a press conference is scheduled at 1:30 p.m. in Lubbock's Hilton Inn to give the media, especially television, an opportunity to give the "OS weekend" a celebrity boost.

Curtis already has made TV and radio spots on the "OS weekend" which have been distributed to virtually every radio and TV station in Texas for publicity use.

Those who have seen Ken as "Festus Haggen" in all those years of "Gunsmoke" episodes probably don't realize that "Gunsmoke" wasn't all of his career. by (See Ken Curtis, Page 12)

Deputy suspended another is hired

Sheriff Jim Pippin has suspended one of his deputies indefinitely and has hired Don Rogers, an experienced, certified officer to bring the force back to full strength.

Rogers has been out of law enforcement, working at Wilson.

The sheriff said he would rather not name the suspended officer or the cause for the suspension.

Top roping hands here on weekend

27 artists coming too

The 8th annual OS weekend coming up is expected to be the biggest and best ever, providing the five-day forecast is accurate and the sun chases away the rain clouds today.

To date, the OS Steer Roping and Art Exhibit has never had a weather problem. Rainfall at the ranch during the week-long wet spell, has totaled about two inches less than in town because it missed most of the Sept. 20 afternoon "Cloudburst" that drenched Post.

Jim Prather, who admitted Monday night he was "nervous" about the weather, reported record entry lists for Saturday's long day of roping and for the barrel racing.

Four hundred and fifteen roping teams have entered the Saturday morning team roping, which begins at dawn (7 a.m.). At $60 entry fee per team, this creates a prize pot of $24,900 right there. There were 334 teams entered last year.

Sixty-one young women, one more than last year, are entered in the open barrel race.

The Saturday afternoon calf roping with an invited field of 50 has grown to the point where it now includes the top three calf ropers in America this year and four out of the top seven in the 1978 Professional Rodeo Cowboy Association standings.

They are Roy Cooper of Durant, Okla., defending world champion who is far in front in 1978 prize winnings with $58,432; Tom Ferguson of Miami, Okla., defending world champion all-around cowboy who is No. 2 in calf roping with $38,379; Willard Moody of Wynnewood, Okla., third in calf roping rankings with $24,126; and Ronny Sewalt of Chico, Tex., who is seventh with $17,103.

Cooper, who also will meet Phil Lyne in a 10-head match roping Saturday afternoon, was the biggest winner in the recent Pendleton, Ore., Round-Up. The 22-year-old hauled in $3,725 there in his specialty.

Cooper already had smashed his own regular-season earnings mark of $45,713 set last year, and wiped out his single-year record, including National Finals Rodeo money of $51,446.

Ferguson, who combines second place in steer wrestling ($31,806) with his runner-up spot in calf roping ($38,379), again has a big lead for the all-around (See OS weekend, Page 12)

Garza County adopts new $760,500 budget

The Garza County Commissioners Court Monday adopted the county budget for the new fiscal year, beginning Sunday, which is Oct. 1.

According to J.R. Johnson, director of the county affairs division, the budget calls for a total county expenditure of approximately $760,000 as compared with an estimated $740,000 for the current year.

Copies of the finally approved budget won't be available for about two weeks when expenditure for the fiscal year ending this week can be included.

Johnson said the county's 100 percent valuation increased approximately $2,500,000 to about $42,000,000 due basically to increases in oil valuations.

The 95 cent county tax rate, which remains unchanged will see the general fund receive only 63 cents this year, down a nickel, with the road and bridge fund going up from 10 cents to 15. The jury fund and permanent improvement funds will continue to receive one cent each and the road and bridge special stays at 15 cents.

The county also adopted its reduced $56,175 federal revenue sharing budget. That breakdown was agreed to some week's ago.

In other actions, Monday the court:

Voted a new two-year contract to the Pritchard-Abbott tax evaluation engineers for a flat fee of $2,500. See County adopts, Page 12

New center sought here

Negotiations are under way to start a family planning center in Post, Jack Alexander, who heads Garza County Community Action, told directors of the organization in a meeting Tuesday night in the Reddy Room.

Greatly increased interest is expected from Garza women when such a center can get under way here. It was pointed out that use of such a center in Tahoka requires almost a full day due to combined transportation for the group.

Alexander said he feels chances for starting up such a center are "very good."

Directors heard reports on summer activities and got a look at prospects here for new governmental housing projects from John Gilderleeve of Levelland, who heads South Plains Community Action in the field.

Rain week total -- 5.51

Thanks to "rain week", Post and Garza County are almost certain to experience a better than average year for rainfall in 1978.

Counting last Wednesday afternoon's "monsoon", moisture totaling 5.51 inches was officially recorded here over eight days ending Tuesday. That included rainfall on seven of the eight days in the period.

The "monsoon" on Wednesday dumped 3.43 inches on Post and had newly widened Broadway running "bankfull" from Main street south.

The "rain week" activities began Sept. 19 with 40 of an inch measured on the morning of Sept. 20.

Then came the Broadway "gully-washer" on the 20th. After that rainfall measurements were .08 Friday morning, no rainfall Saturday morning, .06 Sunday morning, .28 Monday morning, 1.10 Tuesday morning and .16 yesterday morning.

The "rain week" total brought rainfall here in September to 6.09 inches and for the year to date to 18.29 inches, only about a half inch under the 20-year normal with still three months left of 1978.

Skies were expected to clear by Thursday.

West Texans who take the moisture whenever they can get it weren't grumbling.

The rainfall was especially beneficial to ranchers who were very low on stock water.

Proposed tax relief amendment endorsed--with reservations

Only five weeks remain before voters will go to the polls in the November general election and name their choices for state and county elective offices.

Given much less attention than the political races are the nine proposed state constitutional amendments which will be either approved or rejected on that same ballot.

Of the nine amendments Texans will pass judgment upon by far the most important is that is referred to as "the tax relief amendment."

Readers will recall when California adopted "Proposition 13" last spring calls for a tax revolt swept the country headed basically by homeowners who were seeing their property tax valuations shooting up as if tied to the tail of a rocket.

Reacting to such citizen pressure, or better put "trying to head it off in Texas", Governor Dolph Briscoe at the urging of many legislative leaders called a special session of the Texas Legislature to enact some basic tax relief for Texans.

The result was "the tax relief amendment" and some accompanying legislation to set aside a chunk of the state's surplus funds to help school districts which will be hit by reduced tax income for school operation if the constitutional amendment is approved by the voters.

As yet with five weeks to go, no organized opposition to the amendment has surfaced in any real force anywhere in Texas. Most presume voters will give it a hearty endorsement and sit back and wait for the promised tax relief to come to their aid.

Actually, taxpayers aren't going to receive any huge amount of relief although the sum total looks quite impressive.

The tax relief amendment comprises six different parts. They would (1) exempt intangible property from taxation, (2) allow the legislature to exempt all or part of personal property from taxation if not held or used for income purposes, (3) authorize the legislature to decide whether some or all agricultural land owned by individuals, corporate-owned agricultural land, and timberland will have their taxable valuations based on productivity rather than market value, (4) makes several changes affecting taxation of residential homesteads, (5) require local governments to provide notice of increases in property taxes before they are adopted, and (6) prohibit statewide appraisal of real property for ad valorem tax purposes.

All these changes are not as simple as they sound, however.

The Texas Legislative Council has distributed a booklet analyzing these constitutional amendments and listing arguments for and against each section.

The Dispatch proposes to take a look at these six parts of the tax relief amendment in a series of editorials from now and the November election.

Just to get our readers thinking about them here is the argument for and against the amendment as a whole:

FOR: The amendment is a balanced tax relief package that could total over one-half billion dollars in tax reductions over the next three years. More important, the amendment will have the long range effect of preventing an increased dependence on property taxation for government revenue.

AGAINST: The amendment, if passed, will require future actions by the state legislature and local governmental units for the tax relief to come anywhere near a half billion dollars. The relief for the average taxpayer will not be great. The amendment is a hodge-podge of loosely-related proposals that should have been submitted separately to the voters. In addition, total government spending will not be substantially reduced by the amendment. Much of the revenue lost by local governments, especially school districts, must be replaced by the state, a situation that could lead to a state sales tax increase within a few years.

Does this give the reader some food for thought?

We doubt if the proposed editorial series will attract high readership simply because various aspects of the various six parts of the amendment are so complicated that it won't be easy reading.

Overall, The Dispatch believes the tax relief amendment is a start in the right direction — if only a start — and this newspaper endorses its adoption. But it certainly is far from a cure-all of our taxing ills and it is going to create some new problems.

Our conclusion is that the tax relief amendment was written by the legislature to head off a more serious tax revolt in Texas before it could get organized, and the politicians aren't giving the voters — and the taxpayers — any more than they feel they have to under the circumstances.

Letters to the Editor

GOOD DEED CITED

Dear Editor:
Saturday night, as my husband, son and I were eating a midnight supper at El Matahorez, two young boys came into the cafe. They were walking to Abilene, after being fired from their job at the Fair. One boy was crippled in his hip and had a bad cough. They were hungry, so Mrs. Martin Garza gave them their supper free. Then Mrs. Garza, her daughter, Mary Lou and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Martinez gave them money for bus tickets to Abilene. They let them stay there till the bus ran at 3:30 a.m.
It just goes to show that there is still some good and kind-hearted people right here in Post, Texas.
Yours truly,
Mrs. Herbert Walls

Beethoven, a musical genius, spent many lonely hours during his childhood practicing the piano. At the age of 11, he was composing his own music and conducting an orchestra, and in his teens, he went to Vienna for further study. Passing a cobbler's shop one evening, he heard someone practicing one of his compositions. He paused to listen and overheard a girl express the desire to have a real musician render it properly. He went in and found the girl was blind. He played for her into the evening. Moonlight bathed the room, and, under his inspiration and that of the blind girl, he composed "Moonlight Sonata."

Farmers told cotton check-off pays

LUBBOCK — "Cotton check-off funds" per bale assessments for research and marketing are paying off — and for the future," says Wooters, president of Cotton Incorporated, in a recent areawide meeting to report on the fiber company's progress.

Cotton growers from the Lubbock area and three other representatives from the producers' fiber group, Dr. George Slater, vice president of Cotton Incorporated, and Brian Jones, state director of Textile Research, and Clark, director of relations.

Don Wooters, president of Lubbock, a member of the cotton board, C. Unfred of Tahoka, member of Cotton Incorporated's Board of Directors, and Anderson as co-chairman of the meeting. Anderson said the federal law that specifically prohibits the use of funds collected from cotton producers for research and marketing to be used to influence legislation. He added that cotton growers cannot look totally to government programs to achieve optimum prices for cotton or to guarantee them a profitable future in cotton production.

"This can be attained in the marketplace," said Anderson, "but only if we have a strong, sophisticated marketing program. Every cotton producer has to start thinking of himself as a fiber manufacturer and supplier and realize that we are competing for markets with some of the most powerful companies in the world and competing with other countries for world markets."

Unfred added: "We can't win these marketplace battles individually, but we can compete collectively through Cotton Incorporated. We can see here today that we have a professional, aggressive staff that is getting results for us in the marketplace. Cotton has come a long way in just a few years, but we will be right back where we started when the synthetic fiber companies began taking our markets away unless all cotton producers make a commitment to give their full support to this program."

Wooters commented that Cotton Incorporated's agricultural programs produce results that are most visible to farmers and closest to their day to day concerns. "It is also essential to recognize the importance of marketing," he said, "for this is the key to increasing demand for your cotton. Increased demand is a major factor in strengthening the price of cotton."

Wooters went on to discuss the growing success of the company's high-cotton program — NATURAL BLEND fabrics — for putting more cotton into men's shirts and bedsheets. "Cannon Mills has just expanded their 60-cotton — 40 polyester sheet line for fall," he reported, "and soon we will have a major retail chain selling a NATURAL BLEND sheet under their own label."

The planned introduction of a 100 percent cotton no-iron men's shirt by Arrow next spring could be cotton's "turning point", according to Wooters. He sees this breakthrough as a means of recapturing the shirt market for cotton. "This program needs all the promotional support Cotton Incorporated can give to make sure of its success," he stated. Arrow plans to have its new shirts in the stores next spring: Van Heusen since has announced plans to have an all-cotton, easy-care shirt on the market this winter. These are the two largest shirt manufacturers in the country.

Farmers heard about the investment Spring Mills made in MOSTLY COTTON shirts. "We worked closely with Springs over a year to help them engineer Cotton Incorporated's NATURAL BLEND concepts so that they could supply the first fabric for the Manhattan Shirt Company," explained Brian Jones. Springs has expanded its MOSTLY COTTON production to other apparel and over-the-counter fabrics.

The NATURAL BLEND story originated in Cotton Incorporated's Raleigh, N.C. textile research center. Producer dollars now are showing results in a process that cleans cotton for open and spinning. "These improvements will help mills and spinners take advantage of the efficiencies in the open end system — and facilitate greater use of cotton," he commented.

Wooters told the group, "This equipment will deliver pure, white cotton at a competitive price. The potential here — primarily with disposable products — amounts to three-quarters of a million bales of new usage each year."

George Slater discussed the vital importance of another kind of "clean cotton" research needed to solve the byssinosis problem. "The new cotton dust regulations make it imperative that our research continue in finding an effective means of controlling dust from farm to mill," he asserted. Cotton Incorporated has invested more money (6.5 million) than any other group for byssinosis research.

Meanwhile, Slater continued, cotton farmers are seeing their costs of production reduced and their yields improved as a result of Cotton Incorporated research. The successes of early season cotton amount to a revolution in certain areas, he remarked, while modulating and improved gin feeding systems are saving farmers money.

Libby Clark spoke about the important role local women can perform for cotton. "Today, it's the consumer who is king," she said, "and cotton women are potentially a valuable consumer force. Women make most of the shopping decisions in this country," she pointed out, "and women in the cotton industry are equipped to take a leadership role in their communities and stores on behalf of their fiber."

Miss Clark discussed retail promotions sponsored by local Cotton Wives organizations in the Cotton Belt.

"This kind of grass roots participation results in more shoppers checking labels for fiber content," she stated. She also commented that if the local economy, cotton, does well, the stores do well, too.

DON McBRAYER As the Cafeteria's New EVENING MANAGER

Who will be responsible for the food preparation during the evening meal

You will find our service to be second to none and our quality of food to be the very best. In addition to our normal menu of fine foods, we will be serving choice steaks and at least one Mexican food item nightly.

Our steaks will be prepared on our char-broiler and cooked to your specifications. Don brings with him some fine Mexican food recipes and has his own method of preparing steaks (which we think are the best steaks we have ever eaten).

Don has a background in food service that goes back to his teens. His father has been in the restaurant business most of Don's life. This started Don's training in food service.

Don managed a cafeteria for a major chain for ten years, and managed a steak house for two years. He was president of the Lubbock chapter of the Texas Restaurant Association in 1969. He has attended food service seminars presented by the Texas Restaurant Association and by the National Restaurant Association.

Skeeter Shedd is ill with leukemia
Skeeter Jo Shedd, two year and ten month old daughter of Joe and Brenda Shedd of Seminole, will be dismissed from the Health Sciences Hospital in Lubbock this week. She was diagnosed there last month as having leukemia. She will be returning to the hospital every other week for six months as doctors try to arrest the disease.
Skeeter is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Arend of Lovington, N. M., and Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Shedd of Post.

Jacksons add evening mgr.

Don McBrayer, an experienced man in the restaurant business, is the new evening manager of Jackson's Cafeteria.
He will be in charge of preparation of the evening menu at Jackson's and also is offering charbroiled steaks and at least one item of Mexican food nightly.
McBrayer, who "grew up" in the business as his father operated a restaurant, has 10 years experience managing a cafeteria for a major chain and another two years operating a steak house.
He and his wife, Nelda, and their three children, Tommy, Leesa and Renay, for the time being will continue to live at New Home where they have resided for the past five years.

Golden achievement award is presented

Local chapter of the Crusade Society was presented the Golden Achievement Award during an afternoon board meeting by Mrs. Turner of Tahoka. Achievement has been presented to the local chapter for three years in a row and means that the chapter has surpassed its goal for the year.

This year the chapter received $3,745 which was 100 percent of division goal and 66 cents per person. Last year's total was $3,400.

Mrs. Dalby reported that 199 persons had been reached during the recent health fair in the community center.

To conclude the meeting, Mrs. Turner also presented Mrs. Dalby with an engraved letter opener for serving as District Executive Chairman in 1978.

Attending the meeting were Nelda Dalby, Frances Camp, Helen Miller, Norma Baumann, Ruby Williams, Mrs. Turner, Ed Zintgraf, Marietta Reed and Mr. Kyger.

The next board meeting will be held November 28.

Program on C. W. Post

"C. W. Post: His Influence on Our Local and Texas Heritage" was the program for the Amity Study Club when it met at the Woman's Club House Tuesday night, Sept. 26. The program was given by Ida Mae Wilks.

Roll call was answered with "An invention or product of Mr. Post."

Meditation was presented by Margaret Bull.

Hostesses Dedra Adams and Marian Wheatley served refreshments to members, Barbara Babb, Margaret Bull, Janie Davis, Iva Hudman, Anne Leake, Linda Linn, Judy McAlister, Helen Miller, Boo Olson, Janet Peel, Joy Pool, Margaret Price, Carolyn Sawyer, Sue Shytle, Ida Wilks, Carolyn Black, Marilyn Beard and Bryan Nichols.

Ladies Auxiliary has had supper

Ladies Auxiliary of the VFW met for their regular meeting Tuesday, Sept. 26 at 8 p.m. in the club house.

Hostesses for the meeting were district president, Lois Heiselman, and Sue Turner, department chief. They spent the time reviewing the records of the year here.

After the business meeting and supper was enjoyed by members attending with their husbands. Those attending included JoElla Boren, Dink Boren, Lucille Ham, Dena Morgan, Chesire, Maleecy Olson, Lois Ryan, Marjorie Sharp and Rosemary Turner.

Next meeting will be in the club house. All interested in joining the auxiliary are asked to bring their dues to the meeting or to Dink Boren.

Supper for seniors

Mrs. D.H. Lett honored Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gray with a chili supper in their home Tuesday, Sept. 24 at 7 p.m. Friends and relatives attended the supper and enjoyed the occasion.

Close City HD Satellite school club meets

The Close City Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday, Sept. 19 in the community center.

Roll call was answered with "What Foreign Country I Would Like to Visit." Oreta Bevers was the hostess for the meeting. Following a short business meeting the club spent the remainder of the afternoon quilting.

Those attending included Oreta Bevers, Jewel White, Hooter Terry, Inez Ritchie, Fannie Wardlow and Virginia Custer.

Satellite school to full time basis

Board members for the Post Satellite School met Sept. 19 in their regular monthly meeting.

The meeting was presided over by Jerri Lott, president. Mrs. Lott presented information on the budget request recently submitted to Post Independent School District and reported that PISD approved the annual budget of $2700. She also reported that plans are being completed for the renovation of the former Teen Town building for occupation by the Satellite School.

Mrs. Anita Tidwell, instructor, reported that effective Oct. 14, the school would begin a six hour day. The school has operated on a half-day basis since it began several years ago.

Other business included discussion of insurance needs for the school and pupils, to be checked with insurance representatives and a decision made in October; plans for the year.

Garden club in salad supper

A salad supper in the home of Mrs. Ida Jones opened the new year for the Green Thumb Garden Club Thursday, Sept. 14 at 7:30 p.m.

Each member brought her own 'favorite' salad. The yearbook was presented to members attending and great things are in store for the 1978-79 meetings.

Members attending the supper were Ada Buchanan, Sybil Cockrum, Wanda Cox, Thelma Epley, Gladys Hendrix, Roberta Herron, Maurine Hudman, Ida Jones, Alma Williams, Gladys Blair and Marjorie Compton.

Twin Cedars Nursing Home News

By FLETA WALLS

Sunday services were brought to us by Rev. Frank Pickett of the First Christian Church. We had a nice service and a large crowd. All our residents enjoyed the service. Next weeks service is undetermined at this time.

Visitors this week were C.A. and Lucille Walker, Mrs. Walter Crider, Jack Alexander, Rev. and Mrs. Pickett, Winnie Tuffing and several others who failed to register.

Thelma Cook and Ida Rushing, LVNs from Slaton have been coming to Post and working for us on their weekends. We appreciate this very much.

Our administrator, Darlene Kingston flew to Dallas for the Cowboy game this weekend. Our directors of nurses, Toni Britnell has also been out of town for several days.

The residents of Twin Cedars always look forward to seeing Winnie Tuffing. Winnie visits with everyone and plays the organ for us. These acts of kindness are greatly appreciated by all.

This rainy weather the past week has been nice but confining for our people. We are ready for some sunshine and outings.

Until next week....

When you get to the end of your rope, tie a knot in it and hang on.

Leah McBride to be queen at festival

Leah McBride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Auvy McBride, Brownfield, has been chosen by the Brownfield Rotary Club to represent that club as queen in the upcoming Harvest Festival.

Leah is a senior at Brownfield High School and is also the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Williams and Lester Nichols of Post.

Each civic club elects their queen and one will be crowned on the day of the festival with the winner chosen by the number of tickets they sell.

Each ticket that is sold for $1 will give the candidate 100 points and the ticket will entitle the holder to attend all the activities and coronation ceremonies as a guest of the Merchants of Terry County.

Over 200 prizes will be given away during the day, including a trip to the Caribbean, a micro wave oven, color TV and deer gun.

Anyone in Post wishing to buy a ticket is asked to call 2277.

Hay supplies to be short this year

With most of the state still dry, time is running short for hay making. Hay supplies will be extremely short this fall, with production down as much as 50 percent in some areas, notes a forage specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Hay is available in other states but the cost is high. Grain supplies are good and the cost should be reasonable. Winter pastures can also help take the pressure off hay feeding. Producers will also want to cull their herds closely before winter sets in.

Your photographs do you an injustice. They all look like you.

WOW!!! SUPER!!! T-E-R-R-I-F-I-C!!! You didn't fail me and made the dance Saturday night a huge success. Even the visiting DJs were quite carried away with your behavior and said they were anxious to play at Post again. So they will. I asked them back for homecoming.

I hope none of you suffered injuries during the album give-aways. Even yours truly got one, but they HANDED me mine.

There were quite a few college kids home for the weekend and attended the dance. To name those I talked to were Nancy Clary, Darlene Gunn, Evans Heaton, Raymie Holly, Rodney Teaff and David Morrow. All reported to be enjoying their college life.

Monday morning came quite early for some of those who attended the Foreigner concert Sunday night in Lubbock. I won't name them cause I might leave someone out. But I understand that Barry Tyler and Randy Ammons, first timers to the concerts were quite carried away with the goings on.

Congratulations are in order this week to Lance Dunn and Randy Conner for placing first and fifth respectively in the pig show at the Panhandle South Plains Fair in Lubbock. Lance place first in the middle weight hamp class and Randy, fifth in the heavy hamp.

I haven't heard anyone talking about the fair this year, I suppose the rain has kept attendance down, but if the weather clears, I bet there are several of you going this weekend.

Congratulations to the freshmen for winning the spirit stick during last Friday's pep rally. Guess you upper classmen will have to yell a little louder!

A birthday this week goes out to James Brent, otherwise known as, Shorty Bilberry. Happy Birthday!!

Speaking of birthdays, Mike Macy nearly choked on his breakfast last week early one morning when he heard a happy birthday being wished him on his 17th by Jeff and Jane on KSEL. The mysterious person who called it in is still bothering Mike. I know who she is Mike, but she prefers to remain anonymous.

Tuesday night, some of our stronger youth helped move the equipment into the new Youth Center. But the new center is not complete but the tables and etc., needed to be moved out. Thanks to Larry Rodriguez, Jody Palmer, Carla Stelzer, Jerri Baumann, Amy Babb, Chuck Black, Greg Pollard, Mike Sullivan, Brad Greer, Wade Giddens, Blake Holleman, Monte Williams, Rodney Josey, Terry Odum, Ken Bell, Kelly Baumann, Rodney Owen and Deb Palmer for helping with the move. I'm sorry if I left anyone out.

The youth center will not be closed for the next two weeks and plans have been

Meg Nelson store clerk

Meg Nelson, who is employed through the Home Economics Cooperative education program, works at Jae's at 220 East Main.

She has been working there since the first of school. Meg attends school in the mornings and works in the afternoons from 2 to 4. When asked how she liked her work she said "I like meeting people and working with clothes." She said that the HECE program is a good one because it prepares them for when they get out of school.

NHS elects new officers

Larisa Shiver is serving as president of the National Honor Society this year.

The organizational meeting was held Tuesday night, Sept. 19, along with an ice cream supper.

The members elected officers and they are as follows: vice-president, Dale Redman; secretary, Beth Elliott; reporter, Melinda Tatum; and student council representative, Melissa Tatum.

Although Nita Gunn and Brent Mason sustained wasp bites, everyone had a good time. The club is looking forward to an exciting year.

Other members present were Nita Gunn, Brent Mason, Kerri Pool, Meg Nelson, Susag Sawyers, Debbie Tyler, Shorty Bilberry, Lynn Simpson, David Poole, Leanna Davis, Lisa Cowdrey, Melodie Willson, Donna Simecek, and Donna Nelson. Sponsors for the group are Mrs. Linn and Mrs. Pool.

Weiner roast for CB club

A weiner roast was planned for Sept. 30 at 7 p.m. in the city-county park when the executive board of the Caprock CB Club met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ford, Sunday, Sept. 17 at 2 p.m.

Members of the CB club are invited to bring their families to the roast with games beginning at 4 p.m. Each member is asked to bring food for their family.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held Sunday, Oct. 1 at 2 p.m. in the bank community room. All members are asked to be in attendance.

Attending the board meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bartlett, James Halford, J.B. Guthrie and Vada Clary with hosts Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ford.

Junior play to be staged this fall

The Junior class held a meeting Thursday, Sept. 21 to discuss money making plans for the year.

The school will not have its annual all-school play this year so juniors decided to have the Junior play this fall instead of during the spring. Class members also discussed the concession stand and who would work when.

Frosh win spirit stick

The freshman class was awarded the spirit stick during the pep-rally last Friday. It was presented by Mr. Lockwood.

Theme for the pep-rally was Star Wars. Each of the football players received a Milky Way bar to add to the atmosphere.

David Foster and Kevin Craig along with the cheerleaders did a skit. This was really a spirited pep-rally and all involved hope to have more.

WINS SECOND IN THE STATE — Lance Dunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Dunn looks over the letter notifying him that his record book on "Swine" won second in the state. To say the least, Lance was very pleased.

Dunn's 4-H record book second in state

Lance Dunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Dunn, was notified last week that his 4-H record book which won district competition, won second in the state competition in College Station.

A member of the Close City 4-H club, he has been active in 4-H for seven years.

Lance entered his book in the swine division, but the book also includes his achievements while in the organization and his 4-H story.

This notification is added to a long list of honors and achievements for Lance. He received the "I Dare You" award at the county achievement banquet in 1977; won high point honors for the junior livestock judging team and was high point individual for a sheep judging contest on the senior team and besides winning grand champion in the local show, has taken home the swine showmanship award for four years in a row.

Lance is a sophomore in Post High School and is a member of the junior varsity football team. His ambition for the future is to win a major show or showmanship at a major show, or even better — both!

Old college presidents never die — they just lose their faculties.

Post Marine is in big exercises

Marine Private First Class Kenneth L. Price, son of Lee Price of 630 Pine St. Post, Tex., is participating in the major NATO exercises "Bold Guard '78" and "Northern Wedding '78" in northern Europe.

He is assigned to the 2nd Tank Battalion, based at Camp Lejeune, N.C.

"Bold Guard '78" and "Northern Wedding '78" are designed to refine coordination, command and control capabilities in the external reinforcement of NATO's northern flank and in conducting combined land operations. Taking place over wide areas of the Eastern Atlantic, North Sea and English Channel, maneuvers will include amphibious landings in the Shetland Islands and Southern Norway. A large scale landing on the west coast of Denmark's Jutland Peninsula will be followed by an overland movement of the combined allied forces for large scale maneuvers in Germany.

Participants number approximately 40,000 men, 170 ships and submarine and 800 aircraft from Belgium, Canada, Denmark, the Federal Republic of Germany, the Netherlands, Norway, the United Kingdom and the United States. This represents the largest combined NATO exercises ever held in Northern Europe.

Planners for "Bold

Guard" and "Northern Wedding '78" include General Alexander M. Haig, Jr., USA, Supreme Allied Commander, Europe; Admiral Isaac C. Kidd, Jr., USN, Supreme Allied Commander, Atlantic; and Royal Navy Admiral Sir Henry Leach, Allied Commander-in-Chief, Channel.

A 1973 graduate of Post High School, Price joined the Marine Corps in Oct. 1977.

33 Years of Leadership Prompts Us to Brag

... A Little

This leadership is no accident. It is realized because we work at. We search every market and source to bring you the best for our money that is available in today's market. We have just made one of the most rewarding finds in our long experience.

We are happy to announce a brand new line of livingroom furniture. Not new to the industry but new to our area. The SCHWEIGER Co. was founded in the latter part of the last century. Today they own their own dimensional mill where the frames of their furniture are made. A huge cutting and sewing facility and a new finishing plant in Mississippi serves this area.

We found this line at the last market and was so impressed we immediately placed an order. After looking the entire market over we went back and placed an additional order. We have received our first truck of this livingroom furniture and are more pleased than before. It comes in cleaner with better tailoring than anything we have ever shown before.

Now here is the bottom line. The place where it really counts. The price is so low that even sales representatives of competitive companies wonder how they are able to do it. You can see one of these suites in our east display window. We think you will like what you see and the part you can not see is just as good.

Long workout for defensive unit in loss to Winds

Lope attack muzzled and shut out again

The Post Antelopes' defensive unit was on the field most of the game here Friday night, and, except for three outside plays which led to touchdowns, gave a good account of themselves as the Floydada Whirlwinds rang up a decisive 21 to 0 victory in the home opener for Jackie Brown's club.

Floydada Halfback Junior Arrendondo, a 165-pound junior, did the major share of the damage as he came off the bench to ramble for 191 yards and two touchdowns in just 19 carries.

POST	FLOYDADA
4	First Downs 19
55	Net yds rushing 277
0 of 6	Passes Comp. 7 of 14
0	Yds. passing 75
0	Passes Int. by 3
3-3	Fumbles-Lost 8-3
2-10	Penalties, yds. 4-40
4-30.5	Punts, aver. 2-22

of the damage as he came off the bench to ramble for 191 yards and two touchdowns in just 19 carries.

Twice he took delayed pitches from Quarterback Todd Vickers to turn the corner and slash down the sidelines for scoring runs of 27 and 31 yards in the third and fourth periods to put on the clincher.

Vickers, who hit on seven of 14 passes for 75 yards, got the first touchdown when he passed into the right flat to Halfback Tracy Womack who went 16 yards for the TD with only 2:33 left in a hard fought first half.

Wind kicker Joey Luna missed on his conversion kick leaving the visitors with a slim 6-0 intermission advantage.

Despite two backfield changes aimed at putting more punch into the Lope attack, the offensive unit went their second game in a row without scoring a point.

Junior Rance Adkins, the passing signal caller of the 1977 unbeaten junior varsity, was moved into the starting quarterback assignment and played the entire game there.

Former quarterback Bryan Compton was shifted to starting halfback.

Enough to say that the Lopes are still to complete their first pass of the 1978 season after eight quarters.

Adkins threw six times and was intercepted on three of those occasions in the second half. He was also "sacked" three times, but the final two on the last plays of the game showed he had learned a valuable lesson.

With all receivers covered he simply held the ball and went down rather than risk more interceptions from a very alert Floydada secondary.

But the lack of offense was not due just to the failure of the Lopes' air game.

Lope backs churned out only a net of 35 yards rushing and totaled but four first downs, one of those coming on a penalty.

The Lopes also fumbled the ball away three times which with three interceptions made six more big turnovers to try to overcome.

Despite the ineffectual offense, the Lopes punted only four times. Turnovers and running on fourth down kept the kicking down.

The Whirlwinds dropped the ball much more often than the Lopes or the score might not have been as close.

Floydada dropped the ball seven times during the evening, but lost only three of them. They punted only once in each half and the effort in the second half was blocked to give them four turnovers for the game.

Winning the toss, the Winds took the opening kickoff and marched 69 yards to the Lopes' six yard line where they fumbled the ball away for the first time with Larry Rodriguez covering the oval.

Post worked the ball out to its 28 before kicking, mainly on a 13-yard scamper by the middle by Wingback Cliff Kirkpatrick, which turned out to be the longest run of the night for Post. Compton's punt sailed only 22 yards, but he was lucky to get it away as he had to field a grounder on the snap.

Floydada aided the Post cause by taking the ball at midfield and immediately fumbling the pigskin to Post tackle Greg Pollard on the Lope 44.

Staying on the ground, the Lopes moved to the Floydada 35 before Kirkpatrick lost 20 on a fourth and one try.

Arrendondo then broke for 33 yards on a delayed pitch to the Post 31, but the Lopes dug in and took the ball back four plays later on their 25.

Compton fumbled the ball

HE'S COVERED — Guard Noel Pena, Post's No. 66, has completely flattened the Floydada ballcarrier in the above action shot taken during last Friday night's Post game with the Whirlwinds. What's more four other Lopes appear ready to pounce on him too if he moves a muscle. — (Staff Photo by Don Ammons.)

Grid picker doing better

Ye olde prognosticator got six out of nine games played by the Antelopes and their seasonal foes last week to bring his winning percentage for the first three Friday nights to a not yet respectable .577, 15 of 26.

What he needs is a sweep or two to really get rolling. Maybe that is coming up this week, and maybe the Lopes will get rolling, too.

There won't be many choices which should make it easier because five of Post's opponents have open dates this week, leaving only six games to call.

Resting up for the start of district play will be Denver City, Slaton, Cooper, Hinton, and Frenship. It is only three of the AAA schools which will be in action.

So here's the way — we pick them!

POST over Colorado City. We figure if the offense can score any points, the defense will find a way to put points on the board against the Wolves, who are itching to finally measure the Lopes.

LITTLEFIELD over Lockney. The Longhorn haven't done much since beating Post, but Littlefield seems to find a way to get on the board if not the "sheet."

OLTON at FLOYDADA. The Whirlwinds have the strongest bench (namely halfback Junior Arrendondo).

ROOSEVELT at Alton. The Eagles remain unbeaten — two wins and two ties — though they have exactly been playing the area's stronger teams. But we don't think Alton is one of those.

CRANE at TAHOKA. Crane has a tough club this year. The Bulldogs have extra special. Bailey Company by a bunch at the gather steam.

Best week's results were the best yet for the Prognosticator with Cooper surprising him with a victory.

Here are those scores in his picks in capitals: FLOYDADA 21, POST 0, IDALOU 30, Frenship 7, LITTLEFIELD 7, SLATON 7, ROOSEVELT 12, HINTON 17, DEAL 7.

ANDREWS 44, Seminole Cooper 14, MORTON 27, TAHOKA 36, Dimmitt 14, OLTON 17, LOCKNEY 14.

Frosh bow to Floydada

The freshman football team lost an 'early' football game to Floydada frosh 12 to 0 Saturday morning in Floydada.

The game, originally scheduled for Thursday night was postponed due to the death of Floydada's superintendent, until Saturday morning.

Floydada scored their first TD in the second period and again in the third, but was stopped twice on their run for two extra points.

Coach Tannehill said "he was really proud of the team, as they never gave up, and scrapped until the end, but the offense just made too many mistakes, but that the defense played real well."

Post got beyond the 40 yard line for their deepest penetration. They will play at Colorado City Thursday night beginning at 5:30.

Golf tourney to be Oct. 7-8

The annual Caprock Golf Tourney has been scheduled for Oct. 7-8 announces D.H. Bartlett.

The tourney will feature four flights, plus putting and driving contests. Trophies and merchandise prizes will be awarded to winners and runnersup in all categories.

The barbecue which accompanies the tourney will be held Saturday night, Oct. 7.

Bartlett says players may sign up any time between now and tourney time or sign up the Saturday morning play begins.

Hunter safety class is set

LUBBOCK — A certain hunter safety class has been set for Oct. 2, 3 & 4 at the Adult Learning Center, 13th Street, Lubbock.

The class will meet from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. each evening and a $1 fee will be required for registration books.

The instructor will be Davis with assistance from personnel from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department in Lubbock.

The course is open to the general public interested in firearms and obtaining Texas hunter safety certification.

Lopes working hard--and ready to play Wolves

Coach Jackie Brown wasn't singing the blues this week after two straight shutout defeats.

"We're going to have a good football team," he told The Dispatch as the coaches readied the Antelope squad for their final non-district game against the Colorado City Wolves here Friday night. "But it may take some time."

"Our kids are working hard," he said. "They will be ready to play Friday night. They've had good practices this week. They realize we must cut down on our mistakes — the fumbles and the interceptions — which have been stopping us."

Brown reported the squad is back to full strength with defensive back Jeff Williams, who was injured on the season's first play at Lockney, back to practice this week. He said Williams probably won't be going over to Post on its 41. Adkins faded and threw again, and again Floydada picked off the pass on its own 33.

From here, the Winds cranked up and moved 67 yards in 11 plays for their final score with Arrendondo scampering the last 31 on a pitch right. Luna converted.

The Floydada win broke the Lopes' string of three straight over the Winds. Despite about 4 1/2 inches of rain in the 72 hours before gametime, the field was in good condition for play.

ready to play against Colorado City.

Junior Rance Adkins will be back as starting quarterback against Colorado City.

"The Floydada game was the first varsity game he's ever started," Coach Brown pointed out. "He just needs a little experience."

Brown also pointed out with a brand new offensive line and three of four new backfield starters the attacking unit is just taking more time to develop its ability to work together and not make errors.

As for Colorado City, Coach Brown termed the Wolves "a good football team."

He singled out 200-pound, 5-1 senior fullback, Gary Hulme, as one of the most outstanding backs the Lopes will face this season. Hulme was hurt early but was back in the lineup for the Colorado City opener which they dropped to Slaton 20-13. They came back to upset Class AAA Sweetwater, 14-6, and had last weekend off.

Since the Lopes have whipped the Wolves several times in a row now, Colorado City is expected to be "fired up" this week just like Floydada was last Friday night when they came to life for the first time in three starts.

The Wolves aren't exceptional on speed, just average, and they throw a lot with Gene Carter, a small senior, and Ricky Sanchez alternating at quarterback.

When not the pilot, Sanchez starts at wingback. He is also a defensive starter in the secondary.

The Wolves are fairly big with four 200-pounders in the starting lineup.

Coach Brown reported the Antelope Stadium turf in good shape despite the 5 1/2 inches of rain through Tuesday. He said there was a little water standing on the field Tuesday, but a couple of days of sunshine would put it in top shape for the kickoff.

The field is in the best shape it's been in for many seasons.

POST - FLOYDADA GAME ACTION

Coach Jackie Brownd's grid troops are working hard to get their offensive shifted into gear after two shutouts in their first two starts. Some patience by fans is in order. The Wolves of Colorado City have lost to Slaton and defeated Class AAA Sweetwater, both by close scores. They were open last week. Since the Lopes have been having their way in this series in recent years, look for the Wolves to come in howling for a victory.
