Civil Defense Siren Gets Test Friday

Next Friday, May 20, at 1 p. m. the civil defense siren in Post will be tested, if the weather is clear. Plans call for the siren test to be repeated the following Friday, May 27. The siren, located at the courthouse, has a completely different signal than the fire alert. During severe weather, the siren is activated by the Garza County Sheriff's Department when a tornado has been sighted in the vicinity. Sheriff's deputies and volunteer weather-watchers scan the skies around Post during severe weather and notify the dispatcher when a tornado is spotted. City manager Becky King, Post civil defense coordinator, and fire chief Delbert Rudd, are researching the cost and recommendations for installing additional civil defense sirens in various locations in the city.

Lightning, thunder, hail, wind and a goodly amount of rain pelted Post and Garza County Tuesday evening, with most of the hail reported to be marble sized and smaller. Lopes Break School Record at State Track Meet

The Post Antelope 400 meter relay team broke what may be a school record in the state track meet Friday evening, although they placed seventh in the race. The relay team of Tim Tannehill, Will Kirkpatrick, Irvin Price and Milton Williams posted a 42.6 time in the contest. First place in the 3A meet went to Giddings with a 41.6 time, followed by Cuero at 41.9 with Reguio and Bellville both in at 42.1. Other times included McGregor at 42.2, Gladewater with a 42.4 and Amarillo River Road with no time.

Earlier on Friday, Tim Tannehill placed eighth in the long jump, with his best try at 21 ft., 11 1/4. His other five efforts were 21 ft., 8 1/4 in.; 20 ft., 4 in.; 21 ft., 5 in.; 21 ft., 10 in.; and 21 ft., 7 1/4 in. Refugio placed first in the long jump with a 24 ft., 1 inch leap. Gilmer and Navasota followed in second and third place. Watch Wednesday's edition of your Dispatch for action photos from the University of Texas Memorial Stadium where staff photographer Tim Burnett captured the excitement. Calling from Austin, Tim told us, "that race went so fast, it is hard to believe the speed, but it was great to see our team at the state meet."

A Little Humor Lights up Banquet

By Wes Burnett

Outstanding band and choir members were recognized at Thursday evening's combined Post High School band and choir banquet at the community center. The John Philip Sousa award went to band member Fred Mullings and Frances Cendalski was named outstanding choir student. Other band honors went to Kerry Thuett, brass; Missy Morrow, woodwinds and percussionists Kevin Beal and Raenell Rogers. Dawn Pierce was recognized as outstanding female vocalist and the outstanding male vocalist award went to Mark Stark.

"We really had a problem selecting our top vocalists awards this year," choir director Diana Ladd commented, "there are so many members who are deserving." In addition to the serious awards, band director Steve Ladd and Mrs. Ladd also presented a few "Off the Wall" awards. From the expressions of the students and their response, it appeared these awards were a drawing card for the banquet.

Cancer Crusade Includes Health Test

"Think about it! How you live may save your life! This is the theme of the 1983 educational and fund-raising Cancer Crusade which began last month," said Kim Mills, co-chairman of the Post unit of the American Cancer Society.

"The Crusade this year has very personal meaning for every citizen of Post because it confronts us with questions about our life-styles and environments and the ways in which these may relate to cancer," Mills adds.

The Cancer Crusade volunteers will be distributing a new ACS pamphlet, "Check Your Health," which has two main features. The first section is a personal self-test about certain cancer risks with safeguards provided to help reduce those risks.

The second feature is a detachable health survey to be confidentially completed and returned to the ACS.

The results of the survey (which takes about five minutes to complete) will be used by ACS volunteers to determine more effective cancer education programs in this part of the state.

"For example, if the survey results indicate that very few women in this county are practicing regular breast self-examination, then ACS volunteers will be alerted so that programs on breast self-examination can be emphasized here," Mills said.

"Today we know that more than three million Americans are alive after experiencing cancer, thanks to early diagnosis and treatment," she added.

"We want to continue advances that are slowly but surely being made and we ask that everyone give generously to help support programs of cancer research, education and services to cancer patients," Mills concluded.

Neighborhood crusade volunteers will be canvassing homes, but in case a home is missed, people may make contributions at the First National Bank, where Mills is employed.

Identifying Sodium in Foods

When you are cutting back on sodium or salt in your diet you need to learn a few important terms. On package labels, many different words mean that the product contains sodium: salt, monosodium glutamate, sodium benzoate, and di-sodium phosphate are some common sources of sodium in processing.

Many companies are starting to specify the amount of each kind of sodium on the label. If a label does not give the exact amounts, remember that ingredients are listed in order of quantity; those cutting down on sodium might avoid buying products when a sodium word is among the first three ingredients listed.

Shoppers today who want to reduce the sodium in their diet have more choice than ever before in the low sodium prepared foods available. Some large companies offer low sodium products from soup to nuts, cheese and condiments.

Some grocery stores post shelf markers telling shoppers about low sodium foods. In health food and speciality stores, shoppers can find low salt alternatives to almost any prepared food.

4-H CLOTHING PROJECT

May is the time 4-H'ers and leaders get involved with the 4-H Clothing Project. Leaders are being recruited to teach interested 4-H'ers. At the same time, 4-H'ers need to sign up for the project at local club meetings or by calling the extension office 495-2050.

The clothing project offers a variety of activities. 4-H'ers can learn the construction of a garment as well as color coordination, fashion trends, clothing and accessory selection and much more. Each leader gives her group hints she has gained during her sewing experiences.

4-H is open to all youth from 9 to 19 years of age regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin. You can join 4-H at any time by contacting the Garza County Extension Office in the courthouse.

Join today and start your 4-H activities by participating in the 4-H clothing project.

Korren Payton participated in the District 2 4-H Roundup in the horticulture preparation and use contest, winning first place.

Do You Remember When?

TSTA News
By Elaine Wright
Teachers are often criticized for the low achievement of today's students.

However, teachers must deal with more than just the three R's and basics so well known in yesterday's curriculum.

Remember When
A Trip involved travel in a car, train, or plane and Grass was a ground cover — normally green.

Pot was a vessel for cooking things in and Hooked was what Grandmother's rug might have been.

A Pad was a soft sort of cushiony thing and a Swinger was someone who swung in a swing.

Dope was a person who was not really with it, and Bread came from bakeries and not from the mint.

WEEKEND GUESTS
Visiting in the home of their daughter for Mother's Day were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Saffel of Petersburg. They are the parents of Norma Baumann.

Teachers are trying to roll-with-the-flow but there's more to education than reading-writing-and 'rithmetic we all know.

Teachers AND parents should be totally involved. We MUST be successful or no one will Evolve.

Parents and teachers have a great responsibility in helping students effectively live in this rapidly changing world.

Dear Graduate,
Congratulations on your achievement. Even if you don't continue your formal education, you will have another graduation day; for we will all graduate from the School of Life. I pray that it will also be a joyous day.

GRADUATION DAY

Hallelujah, I'm so happy
I made it, all the way!
It seemed so long, but it's here at last
My graduation day.

All the years I've been a Christian,
I've looked forward to this day.
To go to heaven and live with God.
Now, I'm on my way.

I love the Lord and He loves me,
He's helped me all these years.
Now he's holding out his hand to me.
Don't shed too many tears.

Just a little while, then you'll come too,
I know you know THE WAY.
What a great reunion we will have . . .
On YOUR graduation day.

Yours Truly,
Deloris Lindsay

Second $1 million won
Odds makers say you have twice as much chance of being hit by lightning as you do of winning $1 million. But don't tell that to Montreal bank employee Pierre Casult, who recently collected his second $1 million prize in 31 months in Loto-Quebec, in a province-operated lottery. The odds against doing this are said to be 1 in 1.07 trillion.

Stunting disease costly
Five to 10 percent of the $17 billion 1982 world sugarcane crop was lost through damage caused by ratoon stunting disease, known as RSD.

Plenty-Coups, a Native American of the Crow tribe, observed: "They spoke very loudly when they said their laws were made for everybody; but we soon learned that although they expected us to keep them, they thought nothing about breaking them themselves. They told us not to drink whisky, yet they made it themselves and traded it to us for furs and robes until both were nearly gone. Their Wise Ones said we might have their religion, but when we tried to understand it we found that there were too many kinds of religion among white men for us to understand, and that scarcely any two white men agreed which was the right one to learn. This bothered us a great deal until we saw that the white man did not take his religion any more seriously than he did his laws, and that he kept both of them behind him, like Helpers, to use when they might do him good in his dealings with strangers. These were not our ways. We kept the laws we made and lived our religion."

On September 3, 1908, the Presbyterians of Post City, Texas, eight strong, started a church in our town. One of the first things they did was contribute money for missions.

With 17 churches in our fair city, it may be just as hard today to "agree with which (faith) to learn," but we hope you will worship in one of our churches each week, and invite you to worship with us.

We try to take our religion seriously, especially the part about loving God and enjoying Him forever.

THE BEST OF JIM CORNISH THURSDAY, MAY 8, 1958

Shop where you live.

This is a very important economic fact of life Post merchants have been emphasizing the last thirteen weeks with a full page advertisement each week in The Post Dispatch.

These messages have brought home the need to stop and think where we buy and what those purchasing dollars can do or won't be able to do for our own economic well being — depending on where we spend them.

When we spend our dollars out of town very few of them find their way back to Post again. When we spend them here on Main Street they are used and reused again and again in this community. They go to help our schools, run our town and serve us in many other ways.

Shopping at home is important to Post, and everytown, economically. It is important to remember and through their series of full page advertisement — the last of which appears in this issue — Post merchants have carefully emphasized each economic point.

Your local merchants realize that there must be other considerations involved too in shopping at home. They know they must have the items in stock you want to buy. They know that they need to give good service and their merchandise be reasonably priced. They are trying their best to serve you in this way.

Besides these economic reasons, the merchants have presented in their advertising series for shopping at home, there are several other reasons too. You expect your local merchant to always be ready for your emergencies. This, he is glad to do, but you must substantiate him with your regular trade as well if you are to enable him to be ready for the emergencies. Your local merchant is always ready to service the products he sells you and stand behind them. When you don't shop at home these are two all-important factors you are not buying with your dollars.

Buying at home isn't simply a matter of friendship. Instead it is just good common sense. The Dispatch urges its readers to think carefully about "shopping at home" before they consider buying somewhere else.

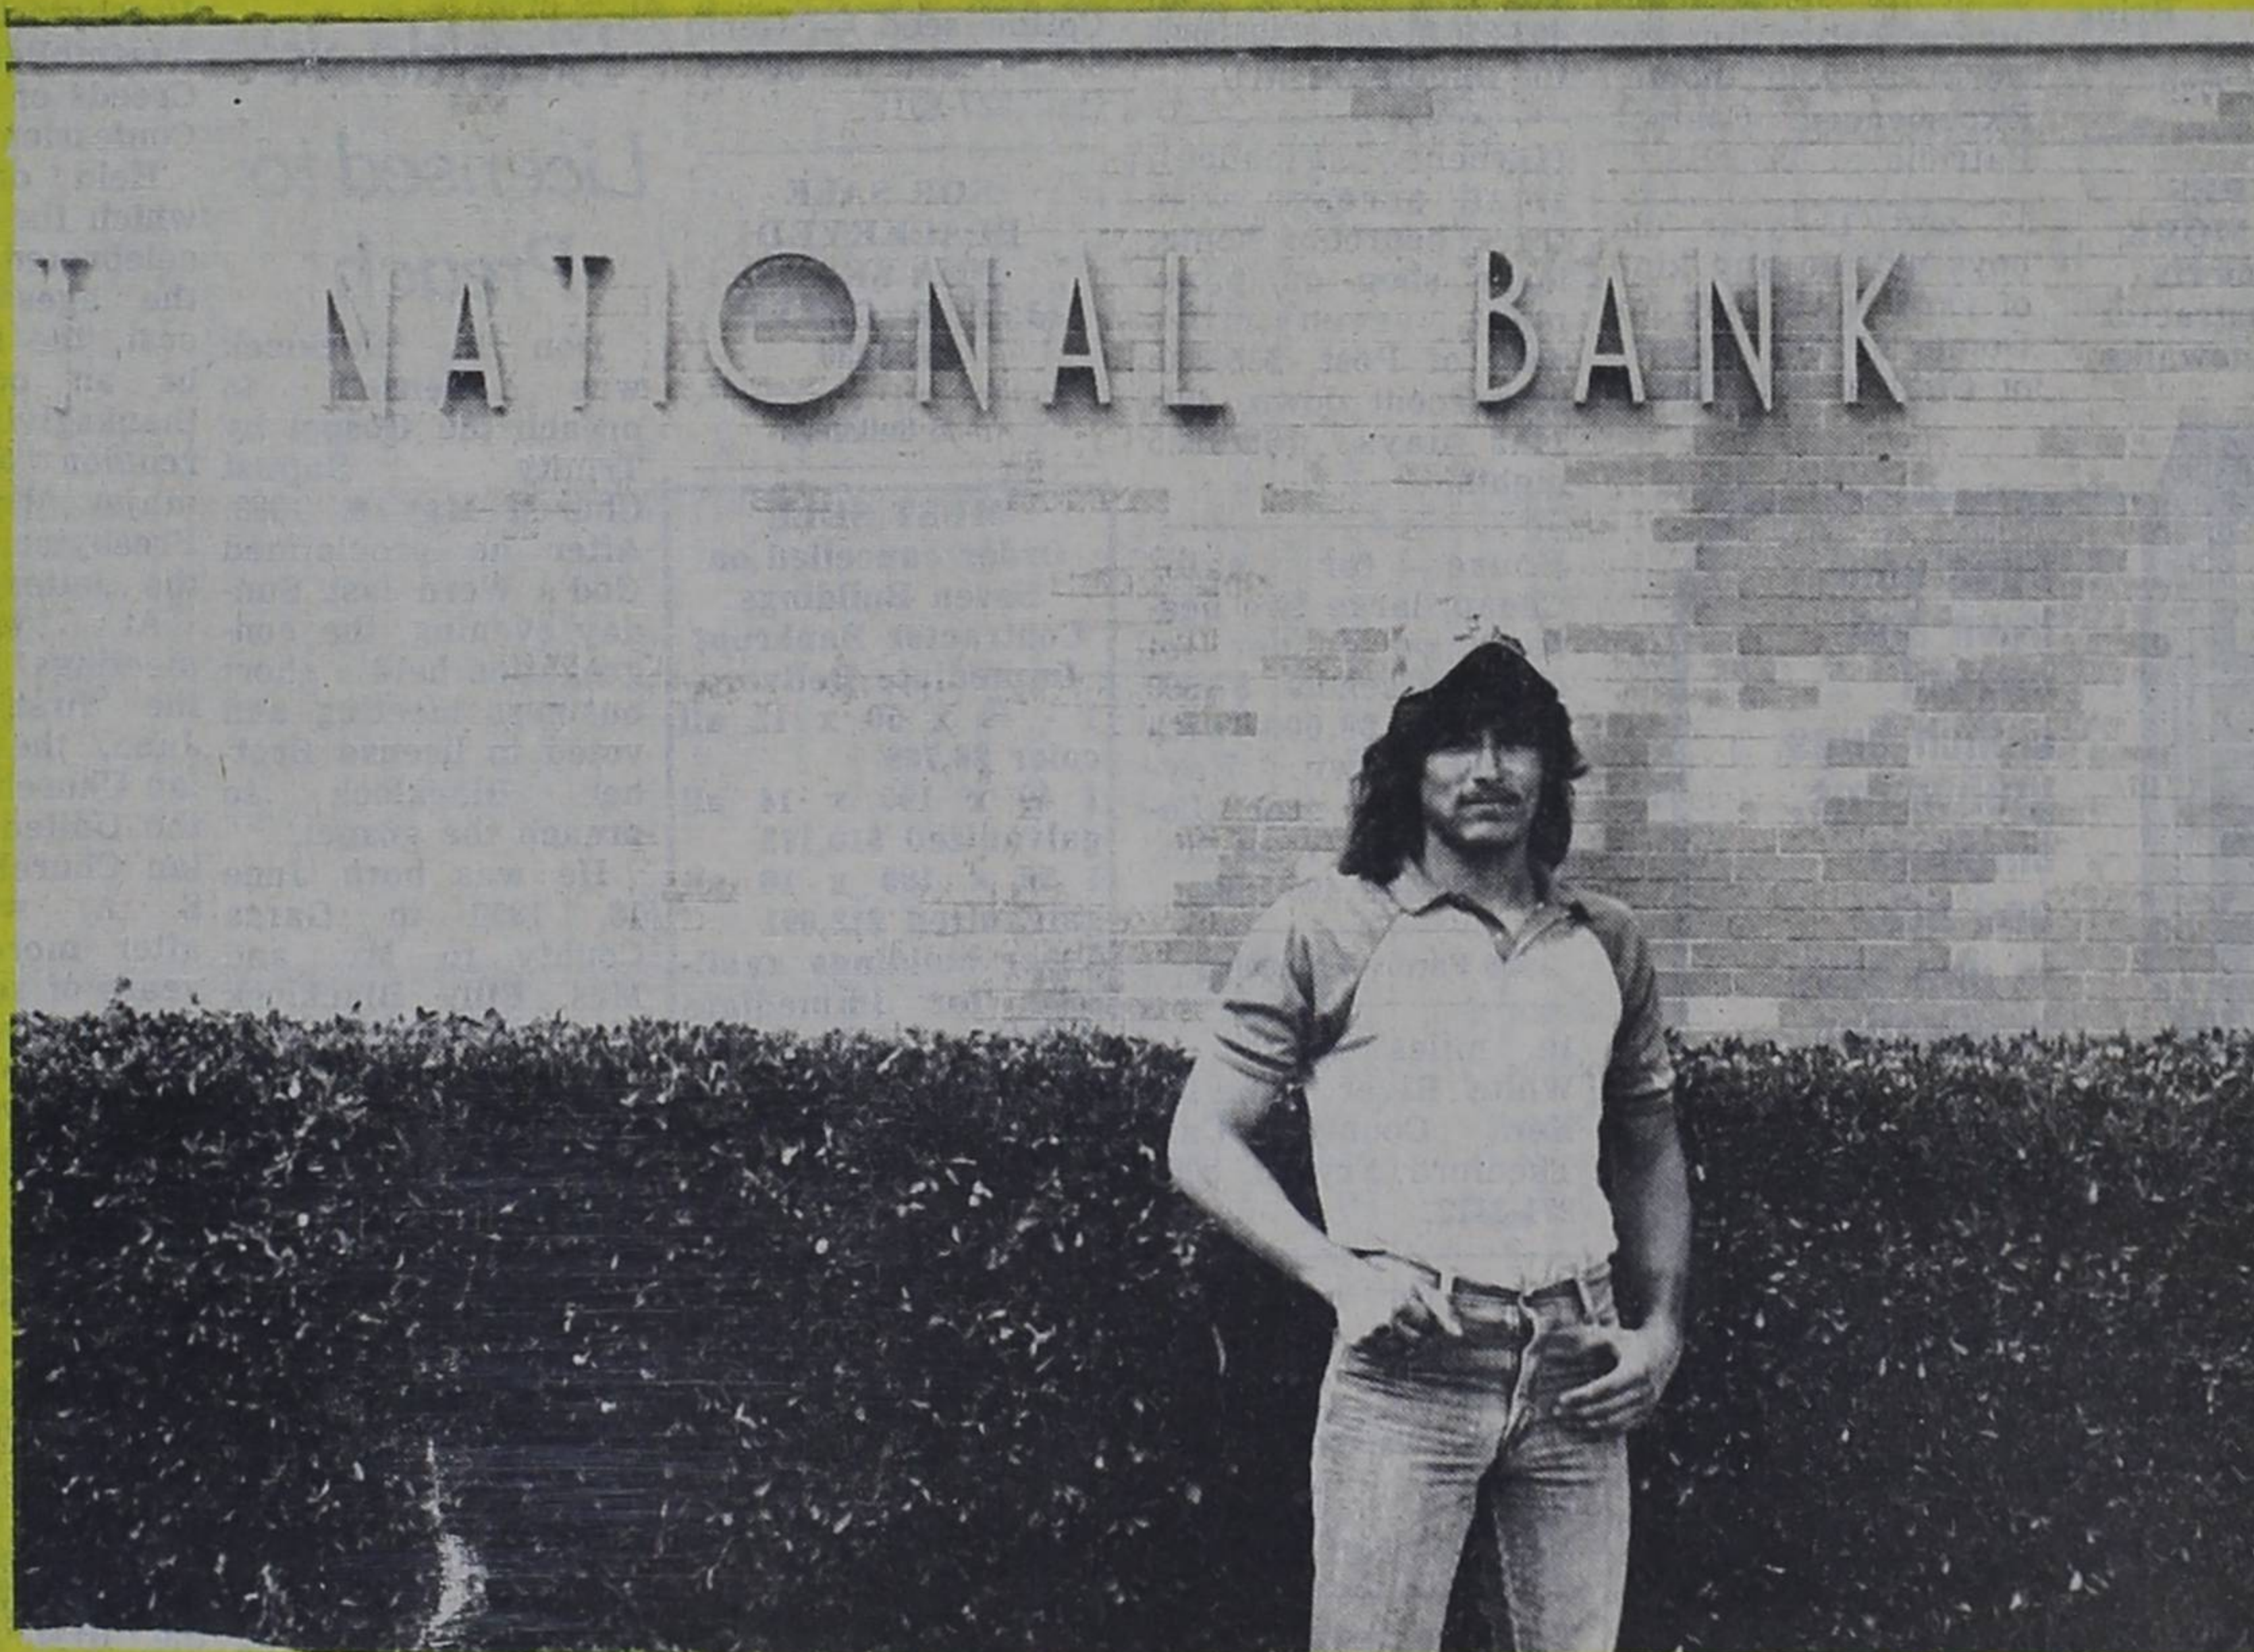

Post to grow must be economically strong. We must keep all of our purchasing strength at home if the community is to remain a healthy attractive place in which to live.

Customers and merchants should work together toward this end. It will in time return rich dividends to both in a better community in which to live.

Good Citizens such as

Raymond Raymundo

make us happy to call Post our home!

When Raymond was having his photo taken in the bank community room Tuesday evening, as he was leaving he noticed water gushing in the front of the bank . . . being the good citizen he is, Raymond notified us in person about the problem . . . and we were able to take action within a few minutes to avoid serious damage to the bank.

Thank you Raymond . . . for being a good citizen.
