Class of '33 Reunion

The Post High School Class of 1933 will hold its first class reunion in 50 years on Saturday, May 28 at the Post Community Center.

Former classmates, spouses and special guests will be expected.

Those who wish to visit are invited to do so from 2 p. m. until 5 p. m.

Class members who plan to be here are Mary Frances Robinson Peddy, Kent Presson, Juaniece Cartwright Hayes, Darrell Jones, Mary Annice White, Surman Clark, Irene Hawthorne Day, Velma Curb Wilson, Lodesca Harper Cobb, Sybil Marable Cockrum, Odee Roberts Kemp, Lucille Sims Richardson, Olan Stanley, Arnold Pickett, Agnes Pickett Muller, C. W. Harper, Evelyn Pettigrew Rhea, Mattie Myrl Ferguson Shropshire and Bunk Floyd.

This will be the first time some have seen each other since graduation day.

Tatum Awarded

Ted Tatum of 915 West 13th Street received his twenty-five year service award from the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation in Lubbock Friday, May 13 at 10 a. m. in the District Office.

Tatum is employed as a Manager Auditor II of the Lubbock District Office. He was employed in the Post Construction Residency before that office was closed last year.

He is one of 45 employees to be presented service awards by Ben Alley, District Engineer of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. The years of service for these employees total 680.

He and his wife, Barbara, have two sons: Mike, who is married and works for Highland Pump in Post, and Tim, who lives at home and works for M & M in Post.

Art Competition

Congressman Charles Stenholm announced plans earlier in the year for an art competition for high school students, grades 9 through 12, in the 17th Congressional District. The winning entry will be displayed later this year in a national exhibition in the corridor leading to the United States Capitol.

According to Congressman Stenholm, the art competition is part of An Artistic Discovery, a nationwide activity initiated by members of the United States House of Representatives to recognize the creative talents of young people.

"I believe that no group of Americans is more creative, expressive and curious about our society than our young people," said Congressman Stenholm. "This competition enables us to encourage and recognize their rich and diverse artistic talents at a time when local arts budgets are being curtailed."

The contest, to be conducted at no expense to the Federal Government, is open to any high school student in the 17th district.

The regional show was held in Post at the bank community room Wednesday, May 11 and was one of eight shows to be held over the district prior to the District Show held in Abilene May 14.

Judging the contest was local artists, Marie Neff and Glenda Morrow.

Students who participated in the local contest included Maria Maldonado, Jamey Isaacs and Ricky Saldivar.

Dale King, from Congressman Stenholm's office was on hand to present certificates to the winners.

Candace McConnell, Post school teacher, was in charge of the local contest.

Sales Tax Rebate Down, Drilling Activity Blamed

By Wes Burnett

Trying to analyze the drop in the city sales and use tax allocations is sort of like pinning down a piece of mercury . . . it just scoots away and breaks up into little blobs.

This week we received the latest report from the Texas Comptroller of Public Accounts and discovered a $10,000 decrease in the net payment to Post for the period ending May 6, compared to the same period last year.

Our first reaction was to hide this little bit of bad news . . . there's already enough pessimism around here as it is.

But then we decided to do a little investigating to find out what could cause such a big drop in such a short time.

The first thing we found out is that no government agency maintains a file of sales reports by particular categories.

All sales in Garza County which require the payment of a sales tax are supposed to be in the report, from which comptroller Bob Bullock issues on the one percent payment to each city.

Post received a check for $18,598.23, but the same period last year got $28,019.94 . . . and even more distressing at first glance is that for the first four months of this year Garza County sales tax is down $20,000.

During the same time last year the city had collected $86,798.54 and this year has gotten $66,424.35 for a 23.47 percent decrease.

Just exactly where are these losses coming from?

Good question . . . if there's anyone who knows the answer we'd like to hear from you . . .

A call to Bullock's office in Austin got us a polite but generally uninformative answer.

"Energy related areas across the state are reporting decreases," a comptroller official told us.

"But we can't say with any certainty that this is the case in Garza County," he continued.

"Do you have a breakdown as to what kinds of business sales tax reports are submitted and how much?" we asked.

"No, we only keep the totals of sales taxes reported by all businesses in your county," came the reply.

What was it that happened in March 1982 that created a tax rebate of $28,019.94 . . . and what didn't happen in March of this year to account for a drop of $10,000?

Remember, $10,000 in tax rebate translates to $1 million in total taxable sales.

In other words, during the month of March 1983 Garza County suffered a total loss of $942,171 in taxable sales.

One of two things has happened . . . Bullock's office has made a mistake in calculations or reporting or Garza County took a nose dive in locally purchased taxable items.

One thing that may have contributed to the decrease is the virtual halt in new drilling for oil.

Drilling, even in a proven oil field, creates demands for high cost supplies . . . and in April-May of 1982 drilling activity began to come to a screeching halt.

No drilling, no sales of drilling pipe, pump jacks and a myriad of other related equipment and supplies.

With the stabilization of world oil prices, drilling activity appears to be on the return . . . and the hope for Garza County and other energy related areas, is that slowly but surely, petroleum exploration and drilling will see a resurgence.

If there's any good news in this report from the comptroller, it has to be that the low point of the year has been seen and from now on city sales tax rebates will be on the increase.

Cancer Crusade Health Questions

"Asking yourself questions about your health and lifestyle, and giving answers or seeking them out, may help save your life," said Kim Mills, chairman of the Post unit of the American Cancer Society as she announced the educational and fund-raising Cancer Crusade which continues this month.

"A person's risk of developing cancer increases with age. It depends on lifestyle and one's personal and family medical history," Mills said. "During the Cancer Crusade our local Crusaders will be distributing a new pamphlet, 'Check Your Health,' that describes several important aspects of cancer risks or warnings," she said.

The simple red, white and blue pamphlet has questions to be answered "Yes" or "No"

Sweepstakes to PMS Band

The Post Middle School band brought home Sweepstakes honors following the contest held in Floydada Saturday.

This is the second year in a row for the band to receive Sweepstakes and only lacked five points in this year's contest being an Outstanding Band. Plainview received the award for the outstanding band.

The sixth grade band also participating in the contest won second place.

Solo and ensemble winners in the Junior High band include:

Debbie Ethridge, clarinet solo II; Debbie Brown, clarinet solo, I; Randy Lewis and Mike Wells, drum duet, I; Angela Melton, trumpet solo, I; Nancy Wilson, cornet solo, I; Cathy Boles, tenor sax solo, I; Tammy

Sixth grade band members received several Division I ratings at the contest last week.

Post Middle School band members display their Sweepstakes Trophy.

LOCAL ARTISTS - These three high school students were entered in the art contest sponsored by the 17th congressional district and Congressman Charles Stenholm. The contest was held Wednesday at the bank

by both men and women.

For example, it asks "Do you smoke cigarettes?" "Have any of your close relatives had colon or rectum cancer?" "Do you have vaginal bleeding between menstrual periods?"

"Was your first child born after you were 30 years old?"

It also includes a section that explains the significance of the answers.

About smoking it says, "Your risk of developing lung cancer and other cancers, heart disease and emphysema increases, depending on how many cigarettes you smoke per day. If you do smoke and stop smoking now, your risk factors will decrease. Safeguard: Don't smoke."

We want to put a pamphlet in every home in Post. If we do a really good job, there's a potential for saving lives right here at home."

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor

It has come to the attention of Post High School, that we have a very special community.

Anyone can claim a winner, that we know, but it takes a town like Post to comfort our various teams when we lose.

I wish there was some other way to pay the oversized debt we owe to you, but for right now this is the only way I know how.

The Drama Club and UIL Team would like to extend our thanks to Mr. Stephen Traw, pastor of the First Christian Church and its members, for making our banquet a success.

We would also like to thank our room mothers who add that something special that only mothers can supply. I know with the great citizens we have, next year we can continue our quest for excellence.

Sincerely Yours
Charles Johnson
President
Post High
Drama Club

Dear Editor

We have a very fine school system in Post due primarily to an excellent administration and teaching staff. As with most things, however, it can stand areas of improvement.

One area is the need for an industrial arts class. Many people can remember the quality wood-working projects made by Post High School students twenty years ago. In the past we have been told no qualified instructors were available. This is not the case anymore and we can and should afford to meet this need.

Also I would like to see a study on the feasibility of an auto mechanics class.

Another need is for an assistant band director. The achievements of this years band are fantastic, but Mr. Ladd can spread his time only so far. With sixty and more in each of five band classes (the average class size in high school is 15) the need for two directors is critical!

A third need is for a foreign language teacher in high school. It is a crime against our college bound students to not offer such a class. Many, if not most, colleges require this for entrance.

An extensive study by the superintendent shows that most of these needs can be met with little budget increase due to under utilized teaching resources in the high school and the possibility of sharing teachers between high school and middle school. We can afford these changes and we owe it to our children to implement them immediately.

Ronald Thuett

Lending to developing countries is high

Lending to the developing countries accounts for only 5 percent of the total lending of all banks in the industrial countries, but it accounts for about twice as much of major banks' lending.

Since "money-center" banks typically lend 25 to 30 times the value of their equity, loans outstanding to developing countries are equivalent to almost three times the total equity of these banks.

Devotional Articles

Wesley W. Burnett, publisher of The Post Dispatch is the author of seven meditations in the July-August issue of "These Days", a devotional guide used by six denominations.

The series, entitled, "The News and the Good News", was published for use by the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, the Presbyterian Church in the United States, the United Presbyterian Church, the Presbyterian Church in Canada, the United Church of Canada and the United Church of Christ.

Sample titles of the meditations include: "Bulletins are Good News", and "God's Love-Grace-Forgiveness-Trust-Blessings-Are Good News."

Sanderson Entertains

Patsy Sanderson entertained the Needlecraft Club in her beautiful ranch home, Friday, May 6 at 3 p. m. Roll call was answered with the reading and exchanging of favorite summer salad recipes.

For the program, Katharine Cathcart read a philosophical reading on quilting, Kathy Owens demonstrated the making of yarn roses on a loom made from a plastic lid; Katherine Johnson showed her quilt-patch skirt and told how to make it; and Mrs. Sanderson gave an excellent demonstration on quilting and showed a number of beautiful articles she had made and quilted.

A progress report was made concerning the Seventieth Anniversary celebration. There will be displays of needlework and crafts done by members and former members.

Ladies of the community who are interested in seeing this type of handiwork are invited. The Seventieth Anniversary reception will be Saturday, May 21 from 2 to 4 p. m. in the Fellowship Hall of First United Methodist Church.

The hostess served delicious refreshments to guests: Mary Tillman, Jewel Taylor, Martha McClendon and Kathy Owens and to members: Eula Evans, Selma Kennedy, Lucy Callis, Helen Richards, Katherine Johnson, Alma Hutto, Esther Crider, Katherine Rankin, Mary Henson and Katharine Cathcart.

Middle School Students Study Outdoors

Seventy-five seventh grade students at Post Middle School had their classes at Justiceburg on the South Fork of the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos River, Wednesday, May 11.

Students were well prepared for their Outdoor Education Day. They continued their skills with a compass plus the knowledge and experience gained the year before. The wind flower identification was reviewed on Monday in Science class with Mrs. Zoe Kirkpatrick presenting her slides. The Buddy Burners used in outdoor cooking were made by the students several days before.

The orienting course, planned by teachers, Mrs. Lu Allen and Mrs. Dedra Adams, was physically demanding and challenging. Students successfully completing the course received a folding drinking cup.

Teachers Tammy Maxfield and Fred Postell showed the students Wagon Train Canyon and presented the history behind it.

Mrs. Zoe Kirkpatrick assisted by teachers, Mrs. Wanda Stegemoeller and Mrs. Willa Didway found and identified over 30 different wildflowers.

The outdoor cooking teachers, Mrs. Lynn Borah and Mrs. Kathie Rankin assisted the students in cooking pineapple upside down cakes on their Buddy Burners.

Other parents assisting were Dewayne Binford, Mrs. Sherry Owen, Mrs. Jo Ann Williams, Mrs. Judy Bush, Mrs. Shirley Hardin, Mrs. Sue Foster, Mrs. Amy

Medina, Mrs. Karen Butler, Mrs. Wally Tate, Mrs. Linda Puckett and Mrs. Cathy Bullard.

The students expressed their thanks to the Boren family for letting them use their land for their outdoor education class.

22,500 elk killed
The 1982 elk hunt in Norway resulted in a record kill of 22,500 animals, 1,500 more than in 1981.

Bobbie Edler, Nursing Home Administrator of United Convalescent Nursing Home, recently at-

Mrs. Edler attends several educational seminars each year to expand her knowledge in the health care field and maintain eligibility to renew her nursing home administrator license in Texas.

Twin Cedar News

by Tina Rodriguez
To start our news, well lets say its been one busy week this past week. Everyone just seemed to have had a great time. The day we flew our kite the wind caught it and it got hung in the antenna. Then on game day everyone played the game they enjoy the most. On fancy tea we had some finger sandwiches and lime sherbet with 7up. The day of our picnic everyone ate until they were full. We had everyone outdoors and we all had lunch together. Then to finish our week, we had hat day everyone just had a great time showing off their hats, then to finish the day the Activity Director and a Nurse's aide made home made ice cream. We would like to thank Mrs. Emma Griffen for the chicken dumpling and the pineapple cake that she made for us to have for supper Friday. We also would like to thank the manager of Piggly Wiggly Mr. Cat Perez for bringing all the ladies of our home some orchid corsages. They are all so proud of their flower. We thank the Trinity Baptist Church for their church service. All the ladies gathered together Sunday morning to listen to the service on t.v. We thank everyone who has spent some time with us during our activities and after. Our visitors this week have been: Barbara Davis and Keneten Lee Gormore, Jatue and Elaine Johnson all of Lubbock. Bill Bartlett, Jet Puckett, Mary Goodwin, Nick Flores, Shirley Foster, Jewell Greenfield, Thelma Thomas, Billie Idell, Doris Jones, Ruby Carpenter, Mack and Lola Ledbetter and Faye Maddex. ## United Conv. News

By Nell Mathews
We sure had a busy week during our Week of Texas Nursing Homes. Tuesday night we had Gospel Singing with Cleo Sappington, Inez Grantham, Marion Mathews, Nell Mathews, and Juanel-la Hays on the piano. Thanks to all of you. Wednesday night, we had music and singing from Junior High and High School choir students and band. Thank you to Mr. and Mrs. Ladd for bringing them. We sure enjoyed it very much. Hope you can come back soon. We know that school is out soon but next school term we are going to invite you all back again. Thursday was our sale for the Leukemia Society. We made $61.00 at our sale. Thanks to Bobbie Edler, Jo Ella Sparlin, Susan Potts, Mrs. Raymond Rolan, Cleo Sappington,

The Post Dispatch May 18, 1983 Page 5
Doris Jackson for the things that they gave to the sale. Friday we had music from Lowe White and sure enjoyed his singing the old songs that we had not heard since we were a child. We have a new resident, Mrs. Ethle Redman. Welcome to our home. We also lost two of our residents. Mrs. Pearl Taylor who had been with us a long time and some of us had known a long time and loved her dearly. Bill Short who had been with us a few months and we learned to love him very much. Opal Rudd has graduated from Dietician School. Congratulations.

Foreign investments dip
The number of foreign manufacturing investments in the United States fell to 271 in 1982, down from 348 in 1981 and 388 in 1980. The 1979 figure was 434, the highest level for the 11-year period for which data are available.

1 in 5 on pensions
At the start of 1983, 831,500 of Norway's 4.1 million inhabitants — about 20 percent — were living on social security benefits, the highest figure in the history of that welfare state.

Wylie Displays Art

Paul Wylie grew up on a ranch where he learned the skills and life of the cowboy. He worked in this setting as a cowboy for 35 years.

After working on the ranch all day, Paul would draw in the evening, with the strictest accuracy, what he had seen and experienced during the day. His work was carefully evaluated by his father, Jake, who had experienced all aspects of cowboy life. This was the beginning of Paul's interest in art which eventually earned him the 1979 Texas Cowboy Artist of the Year Award. This award was given him because of his authentic portrayal of the American West.

Today, a decade after he left the ranching life, Paul is hard put to keep up with the demand for his pencil, oil and bronze portrayals of the West that art judges deem "as real as horse sweat and leather." He is as popular with art collectors as he is with judges. His tales of real life out on the range keep fans hanging on his every work, which keeps his circle of collector friends growing and steadfast.

Even though the Old West had vanished before Paul was a part of the ranching scene, he spent a great deal of time listening to those who could still remember the wide open range. The oldtimers would tell of the time before fences tamed the western grasslands. Paul wanted to preserve this western heritage for those who would not have the pleasure of experiencing it. In order to pass on the heritage of the West, he began pencil sketches which preserved the flavor of the range.

Eventually, Paul received formal training in night art classes at South Plains College in Levelland, Texas.

Painting was just beginning to settle into an everyday accomplishment when an artist friend tossed him a chunk of molding wax and told him to see what he could do with it. Paul soon made bronze his most effective medium.

To keep his memory fresh, Paul occasionally helps his ranching friends with their ranch work, always alert to pick up on the tales of the cowboy experience.

Paul is represented by International Galleries, Inc., his art can be viewed at their offices which are located at 350 Pyramid Plaza Building, 3223 South Loop 289, Lubbock, Texas.

Luann Kennedy Signs Letter

Luann Kennedy, a 6-0 transfer post from Western Texas College, has become the fourth women's basketball player to sign a letter of intent to attend Sam Houston State University according to SHSU head women's coach Kim Basinger.

Kennedy, who was an all-district performer at Post High School, helped lead Western Texas to a 27-7 record and JC conference championship in 1982-83.

"We are very pleased to have signed someone who can play inside," Basinger said. "She is an outstanding rebounder and also an excellent student."

Kennedy hit 46 percent of her shots from the field and 75 percent from the free throw line last season for WTC and she also has a 3.5 grade point average and will major in physical education at Sam Houston.

She was also a regional champion and qualifier in the State High Jump while participating in track and field at Post.
