ADA will soon have its impact in Garza Co.

by Guadalupe Sianez
(Editor's note: Sianez is an intern working with the Post Dispatch through Texas Tech University.)

The American Disabilities Act soon will impose its regulations on Post and Garza County.

The act, passed by Congress in 1990 requires that all public and government services and locations be accessible to the disabled.

A report published September 24 by Oller Engineering and Adling Associates Architects designated four government buildings in Post which will have to be remodeled to meet legal requirements. The Garza County Courthouse and Law Complex, the Garza County Museum, the Garza County Appraisal District and the public library were listed. Private businesses which serve as public accommodations and that have a direct result on commerce are also affected.

Private businesses in Garza County were not included in the ADA accessibility survey, only the four buildings owned and operated by the county were surveyed.

The survey examined structural barriers, including door openings and restrooms. Also examined were non-structural barriers such as furniture arrangements and office space.

The survey of the county courthouse and law complex cited structural and non-structural barriers in eleven services and programs from driver's licensing to the County Attorney.

The courthouse building was also given four recommendations on how to improve accessibility for the disabled.

The report listed advantages of building a new courthouse and the disadvantages of the expense to Garza County taxpayers.

The County Appraisal District was reported in the survey as having four barriers, two of which were non-structural. The Garza County Museum was found to have very few barriers, but the museum is on the list of National Register of Historic Places. Any changes in the museum would have to first be approved by the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation.

The library was found to be free of barriers although the employee restroom was not accessible.

Ten Garza Co. youths receive 4-H ribbons at food show

Ten Garza County 4-H members received ribbon awards for the entries they exhibited in the South Plains District 2 4-H Food Show Saturday, November 22 at Levelland High School.

Receiving blue ribbons were Labeth Jones, Kelli Collier, Amy Line, April Line, Kelci Hart, Kayla Huff and Josh Fumagalli. Receiving red ribbons were Lorrye Ledbetter, Callie Johnston, and Auburn Hammond.

Competition for the 4-H Food Show incorporates nutrition knowledge and food safety and preparation in an interview before a panel of judges. Each 4-H'er is personally interviewed by judges who evaluate the knowledge the youth has gained through participation in the food and nutrition project. Ribbons are awarded to each participant. Senior 4-H'ers may advance to state competition which is held at 4-H Round-up in College Station in June.

Lorrye Ledbetter and Labeth Jones honored as 4-H Gold Star winners during Lubbock banquet

Lorrye Ledbetter and Labeth Jones, Garza County 4-H Gold Star winners were honored at the 35th annual South Plains District 2 Gold Star Banquet November 23, at Koko Palace in Lubbock. Recognized for their outstanding 4-H achievement, the two Garza County 4-H'ers were among 35 County Gold Star winners who were honored at the district event.

In addition to receiving the Gold Star Award, highest honor presented at the county level by the youth organization, the youth heard Dr. Lynn Thibodeaux, assistant director for 4-H and youth with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, tract past successes and future challenges of the program.

Joining the youths at the event were Commissioner and Mrs. Herbert Wall, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Jones, Janell Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Ledbetter, Matthew and LaRinda, County Agents John Senter and Ann Nobles.

The event is sponsored each year by 11 area electric cooperatives: Bailey County, Caprock, Deaf Smith, Dickens, Lamb County, Lea County, Lighthouse, Lyntegar, Midwest, South Plains and Swisher.

Dr. Thibodeaux told the group, "We live in an interdependent world. Young people learn from their opportunities to interact with adults, and adults learn from their interaction with youths. Today, the average father in the home interacts about seven minutes a day with his children. In carrying out a 4-H

The entire family will enjoy the Garza Theatre's "Life and Adventures of Santa Claus," which opens Thursday and continues for three weekends through December 20.

The L. Frank Baum play is adapted by Sylvia Ashby and directed by Garza Theatre managing director Jane Prince-Jones.

Reservations may be obtained by calling 459-4005 Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

projects, a youth interacts with a parent an average of 57 minutes a day."

She pointed out that it took parents and adult volunteers to enable the Gold Star winners to reach the honor they were receiving at the banquet. She further stated that a state wide panel of 4-H'ers, leaders, supporters, 4-H faculty and others recently had studied the history and pondered the future of 4-H. She said the group had developed a mission statement, a list of values and a goal for 4-H of the future.

She said that the mission statement identified 4-H as an organization which develops youth and adults, utilizing research-based information in creative, diverse educational programs. Tops on the list of values, she said, is that "people are the most important product of 4-H." Among other key values identified by the panel are that 4-H provides a nurturing, positive environment in which people can learn how to fail as well as succeed, and that programs are designed to meet local needs.

The goal of 4-H, the panel decided, is empowering individuals, families and communities to release their potential.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages, regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin.

Mrs. Wayne Morris Gainer, Morris married

Kristi Monette Gainer and Charles Wayne Morris Jr. exchanged wedding vows November 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the First Christian Church. John Herington, minister of the Cactus Drive Church of Christ, performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Barbara Gainer and the late Weldon R. Gainer. The groom is the son of Charles and Sharon Morris of Post.

The bride, given in marriage by her mother, wore an elegant formal gown of blush bridal satin by the designer Mrs. Sarah Hollis. The sequined and pearl embellished bodice featured a high collar and large puffed sleeves adorned with pearls and iridescent sequins. A princess waistline allowed the ball gown skirt, trimmed in scalloped lace with iridescent sequins and pearls, to float gracefully to the floor and sweep into a cathedral length train. The back of the waistline was accented with a large candy box bow. Scalloped lace adorned the hemline of both the gown and train. Bead work of pearls and iridescent sequins enhanced the lace.

She wore a pearl headband attached to a finger tip veil of tulle illusion scattered with pearls and sequins. The veil was also made by Sarah Hollis.

She carried a silk arrangement, created by the groom's mother, of white silk roses accented with tulle, bridal lace and pearl streamers with purple and teal love knots.

Following tradition, for something old, she carried her maternal great-grandmother's gold wedding band tied in her bouquet; something new as her dress and veil and her wedding band which was made from her late father's band; something borrowed was pearl studs from her aunt, Ann Winegar; and something blue was her blue topaz ring given to her by the groom. She wore pennies minted in the years of the bride and groom's birth in her mink lizard boots. The coins were placed in her boots by her uncle, Mike Gainer of Keller. The couple's rings were created by her uncle, Travis Winegar of Lubbock.

The maid of honor was LeAnn Potter. The bridesmaids were Kimberly DeArmond, sister of the bride, and Stephanie Gainer, cousin of the bride from Keller. They wore tea length purple suits with matching accessories. They carried a single white lily with purple and teal streamers with love knots made by Sandra Gainer.

The flower girl was Kayla Morris of Post, niece of the groom. The ring bearer was Dane DeArmond, nephew of the bride.

The best man was Charles Morris, father of the groom. Groomsmen were Barry Morris of Post, brother of the groom, and Tim Morris of Lubbock, brother of the groom.

The ushers were Drew DeArmond, nephew of the bride, and Casey Zachary of Post.

The groom wore a black pin striped tuxedo with black accessories. He wore a white rose boutonniere.

The church was decorated with a 15-branch center candelabra and two 7-branch candelabra decorated with stephanotis and teal bows overlaid with purple floral ribbon.

On each side of the candelabra was a basket of dried purple and teal flowers, made by the bride's grandmother, Margaret Cooksey. The unity candle was decorated with ivy and teal and purple bows. Teal and purple bows marked the pews.

The wedding music was recorded by Richard and Kenneth Winegar, uncles of the bride. The music included "Wind Beneath My Wings", "Mama He's Crazy", "Everything I Do, I Do For You", and "I Cross My Heart". Jan Bartlett of Post played the traditional "Wedding March."

The mother of the bride wore a two piece tea length teal suit. It featured a scalloped neckline and hem on the jacket. The mother of the groom wore a teal suit with a peplum waistline and pearl accents on the collar. They wore white rose corsages with teal and purple accents made by the groom's mother.

Registering guests was Robbie Lewis.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the Fellowship Hall of the Church.

The bride's table was covered with a white lace tablecloth made by Sandra Gainer of Keller. It featured a three tiered white cake with purple silk flowers. Wedding punch, mints and nuts were served from crystal appointments. Kande Gainer, cousin of the bride, and Robbie Lewis served.

The groom's table, covered with purple and teal cloths, featured a chocolate and coconut cake made by Jimella Simpson of Post. A silver coffee service and brass centerpiece complimented the table. The servers were the groom's sister-in-laws, Amy Morris of Post and Kathrine Ewalt of Lubbock.

Following a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M., the couple will make their home in Post.

The bride attended Levelland High School and was employed at Eddie's Cowboy Store.

The groom attended Post High School and is employed at George R. Brown Partnership in Post.

'Lopes tumbled by Mustangs in hoop action

Coach Mitch Rasberry compared the Post Bold Gold's 83-24 loss to Shallowater to watching a row of dominos fall, once the first one goes, the rest follow.

The 'Lopes got off to a good start in their November 24 game in Shallowater with Cody Bain connecting on a three point shot for a quick 3-0 lead.

After the Mustangs took a 4-3 lead, Josh Bush put Post up for the last time at 6-4 with another 3 three pointer.

Post's demise wasn't quick. With the same hustle that almost carried them to victory over Lubbock Cooper in their season opener, the Antelopes kept the Mustangs close for the first six minutes of the opening quarter and trailed only 10-6 with two minutes left in the period.

Shallowater built a 21-10 lead at the buzzer.

As the second quarter unfolded, the 'Lopes fortunes began to change. Shallowater quickly built a 27-10 lead before Bush hit another three point shot.

Like rolling the dice trying for a winning combination, Rasberry used several different combinations to try and spark the 'Lopes.

Post was able to stem the flow somewhat and considering their shooting woes went into the locker room at the half down 37-15.

"Even at halftime I thought we were still in it," said Rasberry on the 'Lopes chances of coming back. What chance that did exist evaporated in the third as Shallowater outscored Post 29-3 for a 68-20 lead heading into the final frame.

Shooting woes that plagued Post in the first three quarters continued as the 'Lopes scored only 4 in the final period.

Rasberry did not fault is team's effort on the floor, saying the players pushed it all game, they just never could get in sync.

"Our effort was good, but when you don't score, you're not going to win," said Rasberry.

Turnovers costly in Lady 'Lopes loss

Two critical turnovers changed the complexion of the Post Lady 'Lopes 54-40 loss to the Shallowater Fillies November 24 in Shallowater.

Down 32-26 mid-way through the third period, the Lady 'Lopes had the ball and a chance to cut the lead down to four only to turn the ball over on an errant pass at mid-court. Shallowater took the gift and scored to take the lead to 8.

On Post's next possession, the Lady 'Lopes turned the ball over again on a similar play and the Fillies pushed the lead back to 10 at 36-26.

This eight point swing all but ended the Lady 'Lopes chances of a win.

"We got up on them," said Lady 'Lopes coach Chili Black referring to the point swing. "But they put on a run and we never could catch them."

"We had two bad passes against their half court press," continued Black. "That's something that comes from not having experience."

Shallowater's shooters had a hot hand in the game, connecting on key three point shots throughout the contest.

The Lady 'Lopes defensive hustle kept them close the entire contest. Post rallied from a 28-15 deficit just before the half to bring the Lady 'Lopes back to a 30-19 margin at intermission.

Krishna Bush connected from downtown with a three, cutting the lead to 32-24.

Jaimie Hawkins put Post in position to take over the game at 32-26 with a put back of a LouAnn Ammons miss.

After the crucial series of turnovers that followed, Ammons tossed in a Bush miss bringing the score to 34-26.

As the third quarter wound down, Shallowater extended its defense, putting pressure on the Lady 'Lopes as they brought the ball up court.

The lead stayed around the 14 point mark in the final period.

Cooper leading junior Lady 'Lopes in scoring

Amber Cooper is the leading scorer for the Lady 'Lopes junior varsity through the team's first three games.

The junior Lady 'Lopes have shown improved play in the three games even in posting a 0-3 record.

The junior varsity started off with a 30-21 loss to the visiting Floydada Lady Winds in Post. Cooper led Post with 7 points.

Other scorers for Post included Christie Oden, 2; Katina Davis, 3; Amber Hammond, 1; Melissa Williams, 2; Chelisa Williams, 2; Holly Hardin, 4.

Cooper was also the leading scorer against Lubbock Cooper with 9 in a 27-17 loss on the Lady 'Lopes home floor.

Other scorers included: Hammond, 2; Melissa Williams, 2 and Amy Wallace 4.

The junior Lady 'Lopes had their best chance for victory number one against Shallowater, blowing a big lead enroute to a 38-36 loss.

Cooper led the Lady 'Lopes with 12. Other scorers were: Oden, 4; Jill Seltzer, 4; Hammond, 6; Hardin, 2; Amy Wallace, 6 and Andrea Wallace, 2.

Middle School cons. champs

The Post Middle School Lady 'Lopes eighth grade team parlayed a hustling effort into a consolation championship at the All Saints basketball tournament in Lubbock.

The girls won two of three games in the November 19-21 tournament.

They started off with a loss, 28-21 Thursday against Levelland. Scoring in the game were Jody Hawkins, 4; Angela Jefferson, 4; Falisha Jefferson, 5; Talina Bird, 4; Nikki Pollard, 2 and Nichole Cruse, 2.

The 'Lady Lopes rebounded Friday with a 28-22 win over Crosbyton.

Angela Jefferson led Post with 10 points. She was followed by Hawkins, 4; Falisha Jefferson, 3; Bird, 2 and Pollard, 9.

They wrapped up the consolation title Saturday with a convincing 32-

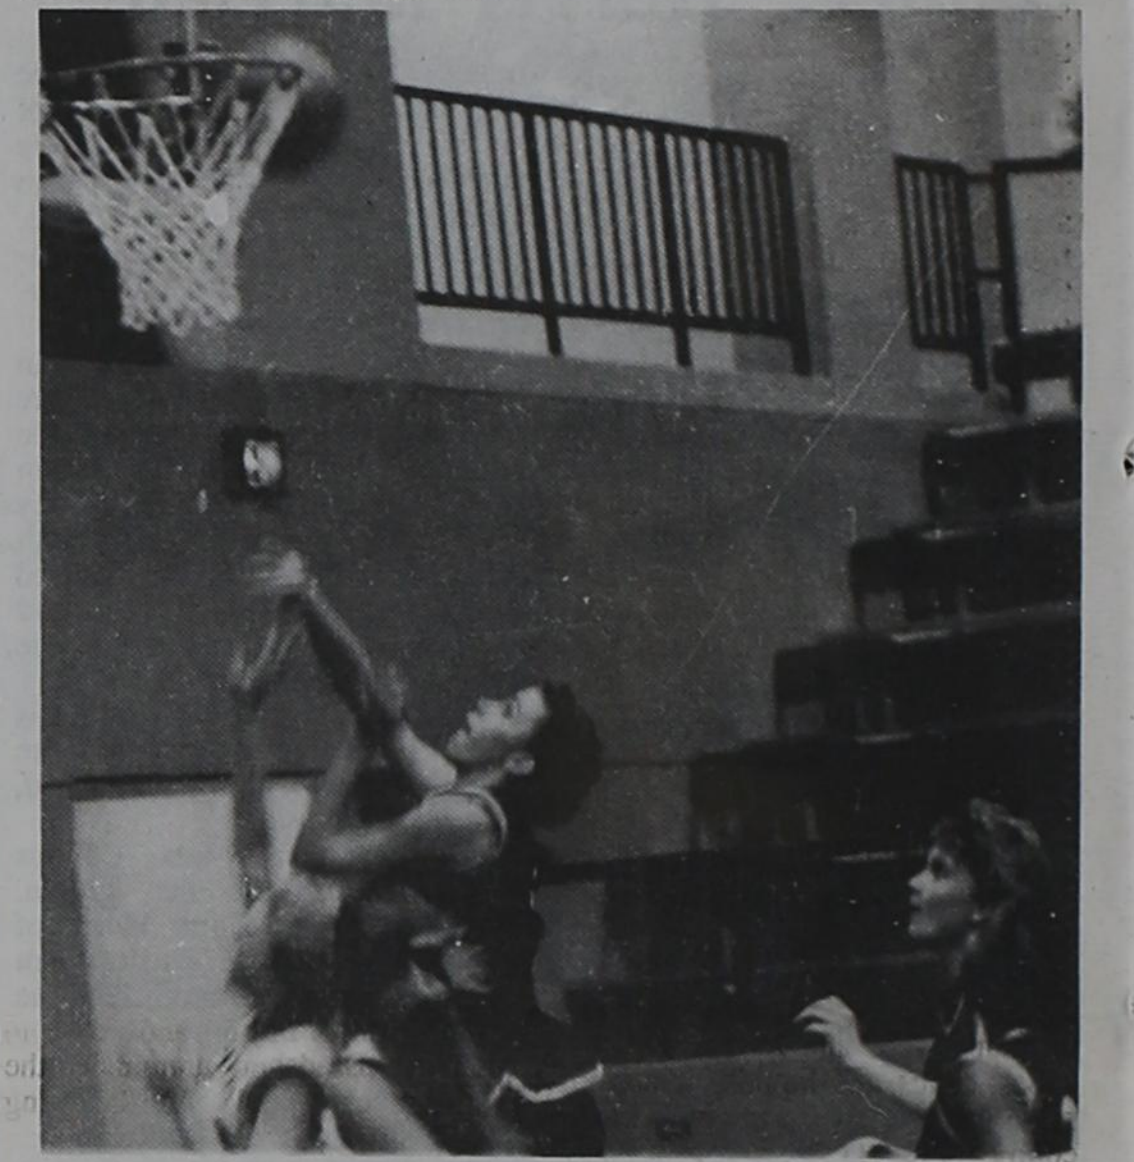

21 win over All Saints.

Hawkins led Post with 12 points. She was followed by Angela Jefferson with 9; Falisha Jefferson, 6; Pollard, 4 and Bird, 1.

Other team members are: Erika Heaton, Angie Quinonez, Alisha Nelson, Carrie Bonner, Monica Scholer, Carly Rudd and Tammy Matthies.

The Post Middle School 'Lady Lopes' rally fell just short as they lost a close, 25-23 decision to visiting Idalou November 23 in Post.

Falisha Jefferson led the 'Lady Lopes with 11 points. Angela Jefferson with 4 and Nikki Pollard with 8 were the only other Post players to score in the two point loss.

COLD SEASON CATTLE BOOSTING

Note: this is the first in a two part series.

We all have different thoughts that the cold weather brings on. If you recall, the first cold snap, in younger days might have been a good snowman-making snowfall. Later in life, maybe thoughts of closed schools were more common. Then, for many folks, the next phase of thinking might be busting out the camouflage coveralls, deer rifles and outdoor gear.

However, there is one specie of beast that has the same thought process just about every year, when cold weather hits - that is the beef cow.

Cattle require increased management in the cold season of the year. They don't have the ability to cozy up to a fire with a good ballgame and a turkey leg. Therefore, planning and some simple understanding of their needs can help you get your cattle through the winter and maintain productivity at the same time.

It is no secret that cattle graze pasture all year, but the nutrient composition changes with the season, fall and winter diets are generally lower in protein, minerals and vitamins and thus usually inadequate for grazing cattle.

Once grass has stopped growing and loses its green, lush appearance, it becomes coarse and fibrous and less attractive to cattle. Crude protein of grass falls and the forage becomes harder for cattle to digest.

Animals consuming diets low in protein lose their appetite, develop a rough appearance, become weak and poses lowered resistance to diseases, and overall growth rate, reproduction and calf weights can suffer greatly.

Some schools of thought say cattle can simply consume more to make up the needed nutrients. But, since grass is slowly digested, consumption is lowered and the animal receives even less needed nutrients.

If protein is added to this type of diet, digestion will increase and eventually, the cow will eat more.

Protein supplements are available in many types and forms, such as cubes, cakes and liquids. Keep in mind that each will vary in nutrient composition and concentration, and producers will be well advised to make note of the protein amount of the type of supplemental feed being considered.

Since protein is required for growth and milk production, protein requirements for developing heifers and lactating cows are higher than for dry, pregnant cows. For example, a mature, dry 1000 pound cow needs approximately 19# of quality dry matter per day and should also have 1-1.5 pounds of protein per day. On the other hand, a mature 1000 pound cow, nursing a 3 to 4 month old calf must have 21 pounds of quality dry matter and 2-2.5 pounds of protein of protein per day.

It is not secret that bringing cows through a winter in good body condition can pay big dividends the following spring in terms of reproduction efficiency, increased stamina, bigger calving weights and even dollars returned to your pocket. Keep your cattle in mind early this winter and you'll pay yourself back, for expenses next spring.

Next weeks column will deal with a cow's performance as related to nutritional status. For now, get cozy, find your favorite game on the tube, have another bite of turkey leg and most of all have a very Happy Thanksgiving!

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin.

Since then, the judgement of those first audiences has been resoundingly vindicated, not only in this country, but in nearly every other country in this civilized world, where Our Town has received hundreds of individual productions. An today, the play has won its firm place as one of the great American plays of this and all times...an authentic American classic.

National Home Care Week began Monday

Recent advances in technology have made it possible for families with an ill child, an infirm grandparent or a disabled parent to be together at home.

Through home health care, parents can take a premature newborn out of the neonatal nursery and into the home with safety and confidence. It can help someone recovering from an operation or acute illness make a smoother transition from hospital to home. Home health care makes it possible for people with chronic illnesses or disabilities to live independent lives at home. And, it can make life easier for elderly people who are basically healthy but need help with the tasks of daily living.

Two new agencies at Methodist Hospital - Methodist Home Health and Methodist Home Care - will celebrate National Home Care Week, November 30-December 5. Methodist Hospital formed the two new home health agencies last June to serve patients in need of in-home nursing care, equipment and other medical services.

Methodist Home Health, located on West 7 of the hospital, provides nursing care, home health aides and other services, such as physical and speech therapy. Methodist Home Care, located at 3210 34th Street, provides similar services as well as medical equipment and nutritional products.

For more information on the advantages of home care, call 793-9067.

Girl Scouts collecting for food drive

Post Girl Scouts among others will be helping next week to collect food for the U-CAN-SHARE food drive. All troops will be bringing cans of food to be donated to Post Cares.

Also, the Junior and Cadette Girl Scouts are planning an evening "Caroling for Food". Saturday evening, December 12, these girls will be available to sing Christmas Carols at your home for a donation of canned food for U-CAN-SHARE.

If you would like to have the girls come caroling for you, please call 495-2517 and give us your address. Help us make U-CAN-SHARE as success.

PUBLIC NOTICE

GTE Southwest Incorporated (GTSW) and Contel of Texas Inc. (Contel) have filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas to seek approval to provide two new private line services and to change rates for existing services. GTE's intraexchange DS1 Service will be offered pursuant to the rates proposed with this filing and will no longer be available through concurrence with GTE's interLATA access tariff rates which are lower. Contel's intraexchange DS1/DDS Service will be offered pursuant to the rates proposed with this filing and will no longer be available through Contel's current private line tariff rates. Existing customers with DS1/DDS Services will not be affected by these rate changes. DS1 1.544 Megabits per second (Mbps) Service and Digital Data Service (DDS) will normally be used for the transmission of data communications or large volumes of voice communications between two locations. These services are optional and will not affect the existing rates of customers who do not order these services. The estimated annual effect on GTE-SW's revenues in the first year is $1,080,567. The estimated annual effect on Contel's revenues in the first year are $42,383.

DS1 Service

DS1 Service is an intraLATA Private Line Service which provides a dedicated, high capacity channel which may be used for simultaneous two-way transmission of voice data or other digitally encoded customer information signals. DS1 Service provides a transmission speed of 1.544 Mbps and is designed to provide an average performance of at least 95 percent error-free seconds of transmission over a continuous 24-hour period.

DS1 Service is available in and between all exchanges of GTE-SW and Contel where digital facilities exist. DS1 Service is available on a point-to-point intraLATA basis between two Customer Designated Locations (CDL) between a Serving Wire Center (SWC) and a CDL, between a CDL and a point of connection with another service provider or between two SWCs.

IntraLATA DS1 Private Line Service is comprised of three rate elements: DS1 Local Loop, DS1 Transport and DS1 Transport Termination. Each element is described below.

DS1 Local Loop

This rate element is for the cable facilities from the CDL to the SWC. The customer has two payment options for the purchase of DS1 Local Loops. There is a month-to-month plan or term contract Optional Payment Plan (OPP).

The month-to-month payment basis allows the customer to establish and disconnect DS1 Services, without penalty, other than to meet the minimum service interval of one month's service, as needed. Under the month-to-month service, the additional DS1 Local Loop rate applies only when the additional DS1 Local Loop (s) is (are) ordered at the same time and between the same two CDLs as the first DS1 Local Loop.

The OPP plan allows the customer to select a term of service (1 YR, 3 YR and 5 YR) with lower monthly rates associated with longer term contracts. If the customer selects an OPP, additional DS1 Local Loops may be ordered and installed at the Additional DS1 Local Loop rate between any SWC and CDL covered by the OPP, at any time during the term of that OPP.

DS1 Transport

This rate element is for the mileage sensitive charges for transporting a DS1 signal between Serving Wire Centers. Transport occurs only when the two CDLs being connected are served by two different SWCs.

DS1 Transport Termination

This rate element is for the equipment to terminate DS1 Transport at the SWCs. This charge applies only when DS1 Transport is required for the service configuration of the customer. One transport termination charge applies at each end of the DS1 Transport.

Proposed Rates and Charges for DS1 Service are as follows:

	Nonrecurring Charge	Monthly Rates
DS1 Local Loop
Month-to-Month
First System	$ 1,000.00	$ 298.00
12-month term
First System	-0-	$ 283.00

DS1 Transport
Per airline mile	-0-	$ 16.00

Digital Data Service

Digital Data Service (DDS) is an intraLATA Private Line service which supports synchronous, full-duplex transmission between the CDL and the SWC or the point of connection with another telephone company at transmission speeds of 2.4, 4.8, 9.6, 19.2 and 56 kilobits per second (Kbps). DDS provides a transmission path for digital data signals within the same LATA.

DDS Service is available in and between all exchanges of GTE-SW and Contel where digital facilities exist. DDS Service is available on a point-to-point intraLATA basis between two CDLs or between a CDL and a point of connection with another service provider.

IntraLATA DDS Private Line Service is comprised of three rate elements: DDS Local Loop, DDS Transport and DDS Transport Termination. Each element is described below.

DDS Local Loop

This rate element is for the cable facilities from the CDL to the SWC. The customer may establish and disconnect DDS Local Loops without penalty other than the minimum service interval of one month's service, as his/her needs demand.

DDS Transport

This rate element is for the mileage sensitive charges for transporting a DDS signal between SWCs. Transport occurs only when the two CDLs being connected are served by two different SWCs.

DDS Transport Termination

This rate element is for the equipment to terminate DDS Transport at the SWCs. This charge applies only when DDS Transport is required for the service configuration of the customer. One transport termination charge applies at each end of the service.
