

Five Districts Are To Vote On Consolidation

Election Set For June 30

A consolidation election involving five school districts has been called for Saturday, June 30, County Judge Pat N. Walker said Tuesday.

The election was called on petitions presented May 31 by the Southland, Close City, Garnolia, Graham and Grassland districts, which propose to consolidate and construct a new school building about five miles northwest of the present Close City school.

The Grassland district's petition was presented to the Lynn County judge, since the district lies entirely within that county. It was also necessary for the Garnolia district to petition the Lynn County judge, and for the Southland district to petition both the Lynn and Lubbock County judges. The Graham and Close City districts are the only ones lying entirely within Garza County.

It will be necessary for the issue to carry in all five districts before consolidation can be effected. The new district would be known as the Dean A. Robinson Consolidated Independent School District, according to the petitions presented the county judges.

Each of the petitions presented here bore more than the required 20 signatures, Judge Walker said.

If the proposal to consolidate carries, then the board of the largest school, which is Southland, automatically becomes the new district's board of trustees, Judge Walker said.

Southland is the only one of the five schools teaching through the 12th grade. The Graham and Grassland schools offer instruction through the eighth grade and Close City through the seventh grade. The Garnolia School did not operate during the 1955-56 school year.

The Grassland district paid a $125 tuition fee per pupil on transfers to the Tahoka school district during the 1955-56 term. The Post Independent School District has not been charging tuition fees for transfers, but the board recently voted to charge $92.40 for each transfer during the coming school year. Earlier, it had voted to charge a $137.44 transfer tuition fee.

The Post trustees have been informed that the Graham, Garnolia and Close City districts will send their pupils here next year under the terms of the $92.40 transfer fee. Also sending transfer pupils here under those terms will be the Justiceburg school district.

The Grassburg school, northeast of Post, which did not operate last year, has indicated through its board of trustees that it will consider consolidating with the Post district.

Firemen To Attend State Convention

Five members of the Post Volunteer Fire Department will attend the annual convention of the Texas Firemen's and Fire Marshals' Association in Edinburg on June 12, 13 and 14, Fire Chief Robert Cato has announced.

Representing the department at the convention will be Fire Marshal Ralph Cockrell, Neal Clary, Lloyd Mock, Ira Greenfield and C. R. Wilson.

IT ALL LOOKS LEGAL.—Shown examining the petition circulated here asking the State Board of Water Engineers to create a four-city White River water district are Mayor James Minor (left), Tom Boucher (center) and John N. Hopkins. Boucher is chairman of the White River Municipal Authority Committee, and Hopkins is chairman of the City Council's water committee. Two hundred signatures were on the petition, which required only 50.—(Dispatch Staff Photo.)

Herren Burial Rites Are Set For Thursday

Funeral services for Grady Welton Herren, 40, who was electrocuted Monday morning while working at a ready-mix cement plant near Sweetwater, were to be conducted at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the West Side Baptist Church at Sweetwater.

Graveside rites for the former Post resident were to be held here later in the afternoon, with the Rev. Roy Shahan, First Baptist Church pastor, officiating, and Hudman Funeral Home directing burial.

Mr. Herren was electrocuted when he came in contact with a live wire while tightening a loose screw in a piece of machinery at the plant.

He was born Aug. 22, 1915, and moved to Post with his parents in 1929. He lived here until 1943 when he moved to California, moving to Sweetwater in 1949.

He was the son of Mrs. Josie Herren of Post and the late E. C. Herren, who died two years ago.

Mr. Herren is also survived by his wife, Dorothy; three children, Grady and Marsha and Gary Herren, who are twins; three stepchildren, Joan Holly, Willa Jean and James Dow Green; two sisters, Mrs. Lois Davis of Amarillo and Mrs. Leola Cope of San Diego, Calif.; and one brother, Clifford Herren, who is stationed in France with the U. S. Army, and who arrived in time to attend the funeral.

Directors Chosen By Grassland Co-op

Two new board members were elected and one was re-elected Monday night at the annual stockholders' meeting of the Grassland Co-op.

The new directors are Gerald Norman and Anton Miller, Amos Gerner was re-elected to the board.

Irby G. Metcalf Jr., president of the First National Bank of Post, was one of the speakers, discussing the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., organization.

Others heard on the program were Otho Key of the Plains Cotton Oil Mill in Lubbock, and Dan Davis of the National Marketing Association.

L. S. Turner, co-op president, presided at the meeting, with C. M. Greer, secretary, reading the minutes of the last meeting.

Coffee, cold drinks and ice cream were served.

Jaycees To Install Officers Tonight

New officers of the Post Junior Chamber of Commerce will be installed in a meeting tonight at Judy's Cafe, with Gene Pierson, Lamesa Jaycee, making the principal address and conducting the installation ceremony.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock.

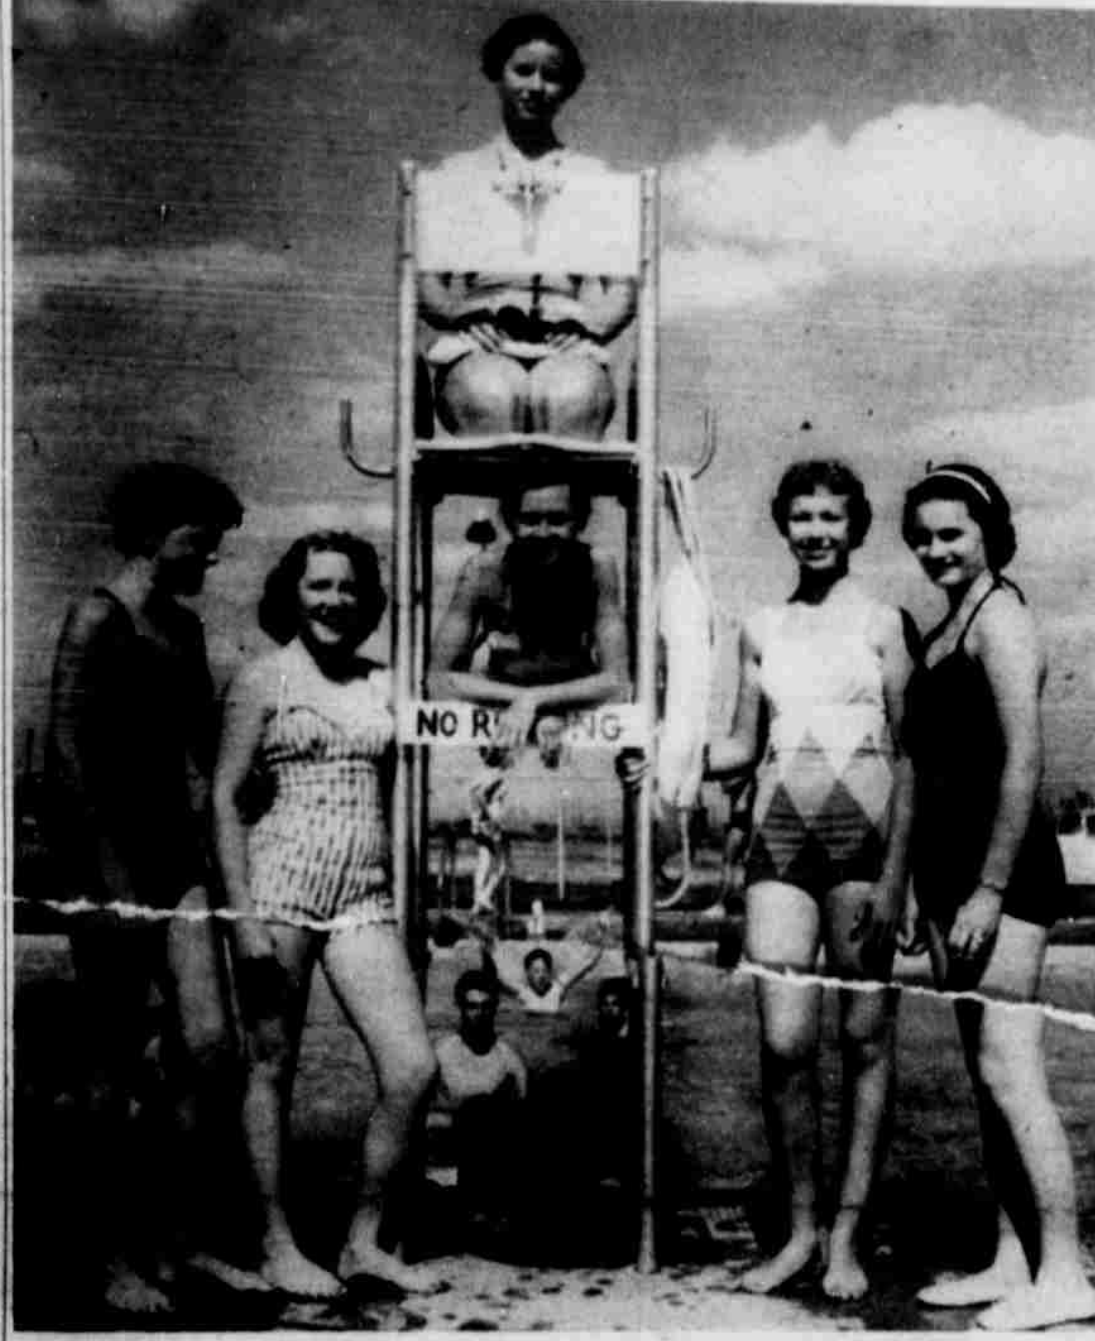

Lee Ward, supervisor at Postex Cotton Mills, Inc., is to be installed as new president, succeeding Bill G. Humphrey. Others to be installed are Jess Michael, who will succeed Bob Collier as vice president; Bill Thomas, succeeding Lester Josey as secretary-treasurer, and Bob Collier as a new director.

Rotarians Hear Talk On Halliburton Firm

W. L. Hughes, division manager for Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Co., showed a film and made a talk on the firm at Tuesday's Rotary Club luncheon.

A feature of the firm was high lights in the early life of the company's founder, and it also showed the service rendered by the company.

In his talk, Hughes said that the firm serves the oil industry in every nation of the free world, and also discussed the retirement plan for employees and how each of them share in the profits.

ORDINANCE BEING PREPARED FOR CONSIDERATION

City May Activate Corporation Court

Activation of the City's corporation court, street paving, the water situation and a number of lesser items were on the agenda at a special meeting of the City Council Monday night.

After explaining the steps necessary for activation of the corporation court, attorney Carleton P. Webb was instructed to draw up an ordinance setting it in motion.

Webb told The Post Dispatch Tuesday that by State law every incorporated town and city has a corporation court, but that the one here has not been in operation because of the fact that there are no city ordinances whose enforcement would come under such a court's jurisdiction.

The main function of the court will be to deal with traffic law violators, and the ordinance being prepared by Webb for the council's consideration will include a traffic code. The jurisdiction of a corporation court, he explained, is the same as that of a justice of peace court.

Bob Isbell, paving engineer, was authorized by the Council to complete plans on eight and one-half blocks of city street paving on which petitions have been presented. Earlier, Isbell had discussed the possible cost of this summer's paving program, but no definite figure of the cost to the property owners can be arrived at until it is known how many blocks will be included in the project.

City Supt. R. H. Tate reported on the water situation in regard to drilling another well, but no decision was made, pending further discussion with property owners.

Minute-Spaced Blasts On Siren Will Warn Of Tornado Approach

With storm scares cropping up frequently, Fire Chief Robert Cato this week reminds Post citizens what to listen for if they have their ears cocked for a tornado warning signal.

"A series of long blasts on the fire siren will give warning of any approaching tornado," he said. "These blasts will be about a minute apart, and will not rise and fall in volume as do the fire alarm signals, but will be long and steady."

The fire chief also reminds citizens that the fire alarm signals are three blasts on the siren. This same signal is heard at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evenings, at which time it calls firemen to the fire department's regular meetings.

"That's what it's for on Wednesday evenings unless there should happen to be a fire alarm turned in at the same time," Cato said. He added that to his knowledge this coincidence had never occurred here.

Irby G. Metcalf Jr., president of the First National Bank, and Mrs. Metcalf were in Amarillo Saturday, Sunday and Monday to attend a convention of the Panhandle Bankers Association.

ESTIMATES RECEIVED ON SOME OF MATERIAL COSTS

4-H Building Plans Progress

The Garza County 4-H Club building committee has received estimates of the cost on concrete blocks, structural steel and door and window frames for the $6,000 club building to be constructed in the City Park.

Estimated cost of the above materials is approximately $1,000, a member of the building committee said.

Bids have not yet been obtained for a roof to the building, it was reported.

Meanwhile, 4-H Club members are planning fund-raising projects for the near future to supplement the $4,300 now in the building fund. They washed cars here last Saturday, with all proceeds going into the building fund.

The original $3,500 in the building fund has been boosted to $4,300 by decision of the Post Lions Club to donate $800 to the project.

Labor donations promised toward completion of the building include those of George (Scotty) Samson, cement contractor, and Ralph Welch, electrician.

Members of the Post Chapter of Future Farmers of America have agreed to build the livestock stalls and tie-racks.

The 45x90-foot building is to be constructed in the northeast corner of the park adjacent to the street running east and west on the north side of the park. The building will be open to the south and a driveway will be constructed to that point. There will be double doors to the show room, which will be on the west end of the building.

Thirty feet of the structure's east end will be partitioned off, with a concrete floor, for fair exhibits and women's and club meetings. The remaining 60 feet will be used for

Little League Openers Won By Yanks, Dodgers

The Dodgers downed the Tigers, 12 to 2, and the Yankees came from behind to beat the Red Sox, 9 to 8, Tuesday afternoon in the season's openers at the new Little League baseball field.

Pre-game ceremonies included a downtown parade of uniformed Little Leaguers, headed by a city fire truck, and at the field Mayor James Minor threw out the first ball preceding the opening tilt between the Yankees and Red Sox.

This afternoon's games pitted the Dodgers against the Red Sox and the Yankees against the Tigers, with the opening contest scheduled for 5 o'clock.

Trailing the Red Sox by one run, the Yankees scored twice in the bottom half of the sixth inning to chalk up a victory in the first Little League game ever played here.

Pitcher James Smith, who reached first base on an error, and J. C. Gomez, who drew a walk, scored the tying and winning runs for the Yankees, who are sponsored by Postex Mills, Inc. With two out, they came home on a hit by catcher Charles O'Neal.

The Red Sox, sponsored by Brown Bros., got off to a fast start with six runs in the first four innings. They went scoreless in the fifth, then scored two more in the top half of the final frame. They garnered eight hits off the pitching of Smith, while the winning Yanks were able to get only five bingles off David Nichols, Red Sox hurler. Six errors helped contribute to the Red Sox's loss. The Yankees were guilty of four misuses.

Seeing action for the Red Sox were: John Sepeda, second base; Buddy Moreland, catcher; Roger Camp, first base; Jack Jones, third base; Tommie Boucher, center field; Joe Cook, left field; Ruben Vidler, shortstop; Dwain Capps, right field; and Nichols, pitcher.

The Dodgers, sponsored by the First National Bank, scored six runs in the fifth inning in their 12 to 2 victory over the Tigers, who are sponsored by the city's civic clubs.

RESTRICTIONS ARE SET ON PAYMENTS

Soil Bank Issue Uncertain

No directives on administration of the government's new $1,200,000,000 yearly soil bank program have been received at the Garza County office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, Mrs. Emmarhe I. Hartel, office manager, said Wednesday.

Mrs. Hartel was in Lubbock Monday conferring with an ASC field man in regard to the new program. Since the measure has gone back to the government's agricultural committee for broader definitions on provisions for crops already planted, and other problems, it is indefinite just when the various state and county ASC groups will get their instructions for administration of the program.

Word from the agriculture department Wednesday was that farmers will get payments under the program only for what they themselves do to reduce production of crops now in surplus.

They will get no payments on reductions caused by nature through drought, hailstorms, insects and the like.

Agriculture department officials said this will be the rule in fixing payments under the soil bank plan for 1956 crops.

The soil bank is designed to reduce production of cotton, wheat, corn, peanuts, rice and tobacco by the offer of government subsidies to farmers for planting fewer acres than are allotted them.

The farmer may plow under a poor immature crop and get a soil bank payment—but only on the amount of the estimated production thus eliminated.

These rulings greatly narrow the 1956 program from that indicated by Secretary of Agriculture Benson at a news conference May

Thursday to Thursday SOIL TILLERS FIRST . . .

By CHARLES DIDWAY

THE FOLLOWING advertisement, "WANTED—GENERAL SOAKING RAIN. PLEASE RUSH. CLIFF PERKINS," appeared in the West Branch, Iowa, Times—Herbert Hoover's birthplace—on April 26. The paper went into the mail about 8 o'clock in the morning. By supertime the rain came and brought an end to an 8-month dry spell.

IT IS ESTIMATED that the above advertisement was worth millions to the residents of Cedar County and the state of Iowa. You don't have to argue with Cliff Perkins and his friends on the power of the country press.

IN MANY PLACES that fellow "standing on the corner watching all the girls go by" would be arrested for loitering.

MOST EVERY MAN knows his own business, but it is often difficult to make his neighbors believe it.

WE'RE QUITE SURE the Post High School seniors had a wonderful time on their class trip to Colorado Springs and Denver, but what a story it would have made if they had visited Washington, D. C., and attended one of the symphonic music programs paid for by Mrs. Merriweather Post, daughter of our city's founder.

MORE THAN 60,000 youngsters from 43 states heard the concerts on their visits to the nation's capital during the last few weeks.

THEY'RE EVIDENTLY putting "teeth" into the peddling ordinance recently passed by the City Council. Constable Julius Johnson was in The Dispatch office Thursday morning hot on the trail of a colored woman suspected of soliciting funds without a license. Sure enough, the solicitor had been in our office, but had been gone about an hour when the constable came in to make an inquiry about her.

WE JUDGE OURSELVES by what we feel are our capabilities—the world judges us by what we accomplish.

FOLKS NOW ARE planning on vacations to get away from worries—which they'll come back to because of the money they've spent.

NOVIS RODGERS, ONE of our rodeo directors, is fast winning acclaim as one of the Southwest's top cutting horse contest judges. Last week, Novis was one of the judges at the cutting horse contest event in the big Midland rodeo, and a few weeks before that judged a contest at Hereford.

WRITE... OR PASTELS

NOVIS IS LARGELY responsible for getting the cutting horse contests reinstated at both the senior and junior rodeos here and serves as contest chairman in both events.

BEING A NEWSPAPERMAN, what we like best about Novis' work in connection with the contests is that he always has time to stop and give us the results from his score cards before turning them in. If you've never tried to get rodeo results in a hurry, you can't appreciate what such a courtesy means to a reporter.

LIKE OTHER NEWSPAPERS, The Post Dispatch sometimes makes mistakes, and there are a scad of ways in which these errors get through into print. Sometimes they escape the eagle eye of the proof reader, and other times something else happens. The proof reader's job is an im-

Roger W. Babson Writes This Week:

Different Types Of Advertising Provide 'Shot-In-The-Arms' To Nation's Welfare

BABSON PARK, Mass.—I am not saying that advertising is the most important factor in business. The location and attitude of every local merchant and each of his clerks are also great factors. This is due to the fact that consumer buying really determines the future of business and employment.

Our Present Prosperity
If economic history had run true to form, we would have had a business depression and unemployment after World War II. But the adventure in radio advertising saved the day. It provided the greatly needed "shot-in-the-arm" to the general welfare.

In the last part of the Truman Administration, color advertising was another "shot-in-the-arm" which was then greatly needed. Again, after Mr. Eisenhower became President, we were threatened with declining retail sales. This caused manufacturers to lay off employees. Increased unemployment follows declining sales as night follows day. This time it was television advertising which corrected the situation and kept a million readers of this column on their jobs.

What About Colored Sausages?
Unless the national advertisers have something new to offer, we are again likely to see declining sales, whoever may be elected President on November 6 of this year. Clouds are already in the sky. Every merchant should be on his toes and tend to business. Whatever ticket he votes, every manufacturer, merchant, or wageworker wants good business. Certainly, it will not come by voting any ticket antagonistic to business. The first principle of holding your job and being promoted is to stick by and uphold foundations already built.

I hope the advertising agencies can pull some new rabbit out of their hats to make good items continue considerably longer. Consumers, however, become immune to the same old advertisements presented in the same old way. If I were forced to guess as to the next incentive to business, I would pick new style or packaging.

While laying no claim to being any kind of expert on farm conditions we are inclined to feel that the best of all farm aid bills would be the one that conferred its principal benefits upon those who live on the farm and actually till the soil.

For it is the small farmer who is the real burden bearer of the agricultural world. He is the one who works the year around to save his farm, feed his family, and to help produce the food on which a nation lives. He is the one who bears the brunt of winter's lashing winds and summer's torrid heat. And he is the one who has been hurt most by year after year of crop failures in this area.

In all our farm bills of recent years the big beneficiaries of government aid are not found among the actual soil tillers. The biggest individual subsidies and the largest part of the total aid go to men in cities who own huge acreages of cultivated land. The subsidies received each year by some of these major beneficiaries are sometimes unbelievably large. Men who already are independent financially receive government checks that would make a thousand small farmers independent.

Perhaps congressmen find themselves incapable of removing inequities from the farm aid bills they approve. But if it be humanly possible the man who lives on the farm and cultivates his own acres should be made the chief beneficiary of all farm aid laws.

For a long time a lot of us thought there was some magical way by which the government could take care of everything for us. As we look at other people who have embraced this same socialistic philosophy we now know that as we lean upon the government, in like measure we lose our personal liberty.—Dresden, O., Transcript.

If you are the parent of a teen-age driver you owe it to yourself to drive out . . . and look at the highway where they scratch-off on their death-defying trips back to town . . . be sure to note the long skid marks along the highway where a "chicken" had to give in for an on-coming car. After all this, when you get back to town you'll say "my boy couldn't be doing that." Well, we just hope you keep feeling that way when the sad news comes.—Clanton, Ala., News.

A contribution to the Salvation Army is as personal as a helping hand to your neighbor.—Barre, Mass., Gazette.

portant one on any newspaper.

FOR THOSE READERS who consider it a feather in their cap to find an error in the paper we are going to let you read a basic AMERICAN principle. It is a proof reader and were called upon to read the sentence below . . . how many "F"'s could you find in it? Read it ONE time, count the "F"'s and set down the number you get.

FINISHED FUNDAMENTAL MANUFACTURING ITEMS ARE THE RESULT OF YEARS OF SCIENTIFIC STUDY COMBINED WITH THE EXPERIENCE OF YEARS.

THE MODERN YOUNG man doesn't leave footprints on the sands of time. Just tire tracks.

IF YOU FOUND seven "F"'s in the sentence appearing above, you should be able to land a good job reading proof. If you found six, you can class yourself with the intelligentia, and if you found five you are average. If you just found four, then leave off criticizing newspapers for occasional mistakes which slip through.

This is best illustrated in the supermarkets and in the "five-and-ten" variety stores now being put on a self-service basis. I forecast that the cheapest form, and one of the most effective forms, of advertising during the next few years will be the attractiveness of the package. The Massachusetts Legislature is already being asked to permit the sale of colored sausages. Here is a great opportunity for young people with both imagination and artistic sense. For a modern pulling package there must be a combination of the old trade mark, upon which millions of dollars have already been spent, and a new feature which will catch the eye.

Local Newspaper Advertising
I fear that most newspapers are not helping their local merchants in the preparation of their advertisements. While the national advertisers are employing the best psychologists and artists to provide the copy for their advertising in local newspapers, the local merchant is content to use the canned advertising sent to him, without adding a personal or local touch. This is due partly to laziness on the part of the merchant and partly to the fact that it costs the local newspaper to make a change in the advertising copy.

Yet statistics will show that the local newspapers—especially those of smaller cities—are the real determining factors as to future business. My advice to national advertisers is to spend more money. Of course, it is much less work for the national advertiser to get his income from expensive copy in a few magazines of big circulation than to bother with a lot of little daily or weekly newspapers. Let me say, however, that this is a dangerous policy for advertising agencies and also for the national advertisers whom they represent. Remember that the weekly newspaper not only is published once a week but also is being read by some one every day.

(These opinions of Roger W. Babson are published in this paper every Thursday.)

Getting Out On The Limb

By EDDIE the editor

SUDDEN THOUGHT: Lots of fellows who talk like big wheels turn out to be merely spokesmen.

A lot of people get through thinking before they think things through.

DURING THE Korean war, certain taxes were increased in order to help pay the bill. It was generally said and believed that these increases would be repealed once the emergency was over and Korean war spending could stop.

The corporate income tax and some excise taxes were among those increased because of Korea. That war ended long ago—but just the other day Congress decided to continue the increases for another year.

Which indicates that "emergencies" never end—so far as the taxpayer is concerned.

The old-timers can remember when the farmer's daughter got more attention than the farmer's vote.

THE CURRENT ISSUE of The American Legion Magazine tells the story of four old cronies who were sitting in the back room of the general store in a small Connecticut town playing poker when the sheriff crashed through the door and said, "Well, gambling again, eh? This time I'm going to take you fellows in to teach you a lesson." The first old fellow spoke up saying, "Not me, Sheriff, I just dropped in to talk." The sheriff turned to the second man, who drawled, "Wasn't playin', Sheriff, just visitin'." The sheriff looked at the third man and inquired, "What have you got to say?" The third old codger languidly replied, "Not guilty, Sheriff, I just came in to warm up at the stove." The fourth one sat quietly through the whole scene studying the cards in his hand; and the sheriff, with a smile of victory on his face, turned to the fourth man and said, "Well, you can't deny that you've been playing." The fourth old gray-hair continued to look at the cards he was holding and in a plaintive voice asked, "Now, Sheriff, who would I be playing with?"

Everything that comes to the man who waits—with the bill collector heading the procession.

THE YEAR 1957 isn't too far away for us to start making plans for the fiftieth anniversary celebration of the founding of Post, and I'm glad to learn that the Chamber of Commerce is already "talking it up."

Just as fiftieth wedding anniversaries are celebrated by married couples, and other fiftieth anniversaries by business firms, etc., every town or city should pause and take note upon reaching its fiftieth milestone.

Whatever is held in the way of a celebration, however, let's make it a good one—one to be long remembered and attractive enough that it will draw back to our midst many old-timers who have moved away at some time or another during the city's 50-year history.

The founding and subsequent history of our town makes one of the most interesting stories that can be told about any city of similar size in the nation. Not many towns our size have had their histories told in a volume as impressive as "Post City, Texas," published a few years ago.

Back East, particularly in states which comprised the 13 original colonies, many towns have had their histories published when they were 100, 200 or 300 years old. I'm of the opinion that you could count on your fingers the towns or cities in the land which have had histories published when they were less than half a century old.

Here at The Dispatch office, we've talked over a time or two plans for a special edition sometime next year. If we publish one, we'll make it as outstanding a special edition as possible, and we're of the opinion that any celebration should be the same. Let's do full justice to the checkered career and interesting history of our city.

TEXAS OIL PIONEERS

Lowering Of Beer Bucket Launched Romance Between Sam, Lillian Webb

(Editor's Note: Sketch compiled from records of "Oral History of Texas Oil Pioneers," University of Texas. Persons who can contribute additional information, documents, or photographs of early oil fields are requested to write to the Archives Collection, Box 7767, University Station, Austin, Tex.)

By WILLIAM A. OWEN

Sam and Lillian Webb celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Feb. 2 at their home in Fort Worth, with six of their 13 children present, and with hearty laughter about their oil field courtship.

In April, 1904, Lillian Prince, then 13 years old, boarded an H.E. and W.T. train (generally referred to, she recalls, as the "Hell either way you take it") at Dallas. She was bound for Beaumont to meet her uncle, who was working in the oil fields. She read "East Lynne" and wept most of the way.

Her uncle met her in Beaumont and took her by train to Saratoga and then in a hack over the corduroy road to Batson.

Batson was a strange and challenging experience for a young girl. Day and night people crowded the main street of the new boom town. At night gas flares in the field shed an eerie light over everything. The whole area was saturated with the smell of sulphur gas, called "skunk oil" gas by the roughnecks.

She soon learned that Batson had respectable people as well as raffish, and that there was plenty of entertainment for an attractive, vivacious girl. The Aliens, who had a boarding house near the Moonshine Oil Camp, built a dance platform outside. Young people put up candles on the rough board floor, spread on corn meal, and were ready to go to the music of Sam Sewell playing such favorites as "The Beaumont Rag" and "Bill Bailey."

On Labor Day, 1904, Lillian had been to the post office with Pink Hammond, one of her numerous beaux. As they came around the corner of a house, there sat what looked like a man with a bucket over his head. They stopped and waited for him to come up for air.

"Lillian, this is Sam Webb," Pink said.

"Pleased to meet you, I'm sure," Sam acknowledged the introduction. Up went the bucket for another swig of beer.

That was the only time she saw him until Dec. 26, 1905. From her friends she learned that he didn't dance, wouldn't talk very much and was afraid of girls.

New fields were opening up in Louisiana, and Lillian went to Jennings with her uncle. At Jennings she met Sam again, and he lowered the bucket long enough to tell her he had decided at their first meeting to marry her. It wasn't much of a proposal, but they were married a month later. Now when she gets angry at him she says, "I sure wish you had never lowered that bucket."

From then on until he reached retirement age she made homes for him in oil fields up and down Texas and Louisiana. At times the homes were nothing but two-room shacks with little furniture and no conveniences.

Always romantic and optimistic, as well as good-humored, Lillian adjusted herself to new oil fields, new houses, following what she calls her life's work—raising children. Each new child, each new kitchen achieved individuality through the names she gave them.

Most of her kitchens had smoky wood stoves and no sinks. She lifted herself above their dreariness and drudgery with such names as "My Blue Heaven" for one with a smoky stove, and "Sherwood Forest" for one without screens.

Her ninth child she calls her "Juneteenth Child" because she was born on June 19. As she says, "The stork brought a beautiful blue-eyed golden-haired girl. I couldn't call her Liza or Jemima or Topsy—she was more like Little Eva. I gave her a good Irish name, Maggie Dennis, because the Irish, like the Negro race, are always seeking their freedom."

Clay Oats Funeral Held In Southland

Last rites for C. S. (Clay) Oats, 69, retired farmer of the Southland community, were conducted at 2 p. m. Saturday in the First Baptist Church of Southland.

The Rev. Glynn Jackson officiated and burial was in Englewood Cemetery, Slaton. Pallbearers were L. K. Anderson, T. H. Basinger, Judge Smith, K. D. Campbell, J. H. Haire and Jene Legg. Mr. Oats was pronounced dead on arrival at Lubbock Methodist Hospital after suffering a heart attack at Hicks Rubber Warehouse in Lubbock about 10 a. m. Thursday.

Mr. Oats had lived in the Southland community since 1923, moving there from Delta County. He and his wife celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Nov. 20, 1953.

He is survived by his wife; one son, W. N. Oats of Slaton; three daughters, Mrs. C. G. Spurlock of Lubbock, Mrs. Kenneth Davier of Southland and Mrs. David Golden of Slaton; one sister, Mrs. T. J. McGuire of Lubbock; two brothers, J. P. Oats of Charleston and O. A. Oats of Lubbock, and nine grandchildren.

The Monroe Doctrine was published in 1823.

Getting Soft?

Read where a man in Arizona received a five-year suspended sentence after being found guilty of a murder charge. The old-timers can remember when a man was hanged for stealing a horse. Could it be that we're getting soft—"Just Jottin'" in Abernathy Weekly Review.

Nothing For Teen-Agers

What to do about teen-age baseball in Stamford is still the big problem of some interested men. An article in a current Sunday newspaper supplement pointed up this problem. Boys who are too old for Little League play find themselves with nothing to do. Lack of finances is hurting in Stamford. —"Sights, Sounds and Signs" in Stamford American.

Think It Over

A harried, high-strung business man, constantly worried by an overburden of work he felt responsible to do, had come to his psychiatrist for advice.

"I can't sleep at night, doctor," he complained, nervously fidgeting with his hat and the arms of his chair. "And I've been nervous and quick-tempered at the office lately. What can I do?"

"I think you'd better follow a new schedule," the psychiatrist advised. "First, plan to complete only six hours of work in an eight-hour day. And second, spend one day each week at a cemetery."

"At a cemetery?" echoed the amazed patient. "What am I supposed to do there?"

"Nothing much," the psychiatrist replied calmly. "Just look around. Get acquainted with some of the men who are in there permanently. And remember that they didn't finish their work, either. Nobody does, you know."—The Liberty Vindicator.

The Luckiest Town

Sweetwater is the luckiest town

you can imagine. First one kind and then another industry and accompanying payroll has come along through the years to keep the town growing, despite untoward agricultural conditions, which have dealt terrific blows to many towns. The latest and biggest and best news is that Sweetwater is to have the home office for Texas for the big new dial telephone service. It is said the plant will call for the expenditure of millions, and will bring many new people. Many area cities are nothing less than green-eyed and well they can be.—Views and Comment" in The Floyd County Hesperian.

Worked Like A Charm

"Jones had taken a taxi, only to discover on approaching his destination that his wallet was empty. "Stop," he shouted to the driver, and jumped out. "I just want to go in this drug store and get some matches," he explained. "I've dropped a $20 bill somewhere in the cab and can't find it in the dark." When he came out the cab had vanished into the night, as he had anticipated. —"Monahans Muser" in Monahans News.

Court Has Spoken

The U. S. Supreme Court has spoken. If you work for a railroad you will join a union within 60 days or be discharged. Thus the famous Santa Fe case which the Texas Supreme Court refused to rule on has been settled for it by the highest authority. So passes into nostalgic history the right of a man to work at a job without being compelled to pay tribute to a gang of labor gangsters. The court's ruling nullifies the Texas "right to work" law. That means Texas can no longer prevent labor unions from forcing employees into their organizations. It's that or starve. Yeah, we know. You're not excited over this. You're probably more interested in Tech's chances in the Southwest Conference and the price of cotton this fall.—"It Sez Here" in The Rails Banner.

North Dakota and South Dakota were admitted to the Union on the same date, November 2, 1889.

Lions Are To Meet At 8 Instead Of 7

Throughout the summer, the Post Lions Club will hold their regular Tuesday meetings at 8 o'clock instead of 7 o'clock. It was decided at this week's meeting. One reason for the time change is because some of the members are assisting in the Little League baseball program and are unable to make the meetings on time. Additional reports on the recent District 21-1 convention in Amarillo were heard at Tuesday night's meeting.

Delay In Second Salk Shot Does Not Lessen Value Of First, Holle Says

AUSTIN, (Sp.)—Many inquiries are received each day by the Texas State Department of Health regarding Salk polio vaccine. One injection is of some value but should be followed in four weeks with the second shot and the third seven months to a year later.

Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health, says the second shot is important and definitely increases the immunity. Even though the second cannot be given for several months, the delay does not lessen the value of the first. Maximum immunity does not develop until after the third shot.

It is advisable to immunize children who have had poliomyelitis because an attack confers immunity only against the one virus type involved and gives no protection against the other two types.

The Salk vaccine is of no value in treating the disease. It should not be used for prophylaxis in family contacts of diagnosed cases, the reason for this being that the remaining members of the family usually are infected with the virus by the time the original case develops symptoms of the disease. The vaccine should not be given to individuals during a major illness or to those with symptoms that may represent early polio, such as fever, sore throat or stomach upset.

Dr. Holle says that immunizations should be given before the peak of the season if possible but can be given throughout the summer. Second injections can be given even when the incidence is rising with very little risk. The risk, if any, is less than the risk of acquiring the disease in unvaccinated children.

The Commissioner of Health reports that only about one third of those eligible to receive the vaccine have received one or more injections. He urges all those below the age of twenty and pregnant women who have not had at least the first immunization "shot" to do so at once.

HAS 'ARSENAL' AT HOME IN CORPUS CHRISTI

Collecting Shooting Irons Is Hobby Of Former Postite Lewis Coleman

(Editor's Note: The following feature story on Lewis Coleman, former Post resident, appeared recently in a Corpus Christi newspaper. Because of Lewis' many acquaintances here and the general interest of the story itself, we are reprinting it for the benefit of our readers.)

Lewis Coleman, 52-year-old Corpus Christi railroad man, sports a shootin' iron arsenal that would be the envy of any old West Texas frontiersman.

He has dozens of rifles and pistols that are classified as relics. Among them are flintlocks, ball and cap shooters, muzzle-loaders, early cartridge models, and some of the first repeaters.

None of the firearms are museum pieces, however, as Coleman can and does use them all.

"I don't collect anything that is not in shooting condition," Coleman said. "It has to be a shooter before I can get interested in it." Coleman, who lives at 3433 Lawview, wasn't joking about the shooting angle. He has already attended two major muzzle-loading rifle contests this year and plans to take in another during the latter part of this month.

He and his wife are members of the Texas Muzzle-Loaders Rifle Association.

"My muzzle-loaders have dawg-one good accuracy at 100 yards," he stated. "If you can't hit your mark with them, you just can't shoot."

A muzzle-loader is a rifle which has powder and a ball packed into the barrel with a ramrod. It is fired when the hammer strikes a small outside cap, which in turn ignites the powder.

Coleman has three of the old muzzle-loaders. One was given to him by his grandfather while he was a boy, he paid $300 for another, and he had the third made. Two are .54 caliber and the other is .41.

"Three shots a minute with one of these rifles is just about as fast as you can go," he said. "In contests they allow you 45 minutes for five shots."

In addition to the muzzle-loading percussion rifles, Coleman has three pistols which work on the same principle. They are referred to as "cap and ball" pistols.

Two of these cap and ball models are six-shooters. Coleman explained each of the six chambers have to be primed with powder and then a ball. The cap is in back of each chamber. These are among the first six-shooters made, he said.

The third cap and ball model is a French gun which looks more like a cannon. It is a .70 caliber job, with accuracy of about 25 yards.

Two of Coleman's pistols are flintlocks which were made in Germany back in the 1700's. He has been offered $300 for the pair, which are duelling mates.

"I like to fire the flintlocks because you can see the flash and then wait for a second or two for the report," he said.

Coleman's other pistols include one German revolver made in 1882 and five Colt six-shooters which were manufactured between 1874 and 1941. He also has a number of modern models.

One of the pre-Civil War rifles he owns has an octagon shape barrel which handles a .50 caliber cartridge. It is one of the earliest cartridge models, a Sharps rifle, and was known in olden times as a buffalo gun.

"That rifle has wonderful action," Coleman pointed out. "You won't find anything like that on rifles of today."

He also has an Evans repeating rifle, one of the first manufactured. It will hold 34 rounds in the stock, and the rounds are pumped one at a time into the firing chamber. Coleman found the gun in a Corpus Christi gun shop years ago for only $40.

"I don't understand why this rifle and the Marlin rifle didn't become more popular with the frontiersmen," he said. Both have smooth action, and I've never found anything wrong with them."

He was talking about his .43-90 Marlin rifle, which is a repeater holding eight to 10 rounds.

Coleman has several of the early models of the popular Winchester too. One is a .44 caliber rim-fire rifle produced in 1866, one of Winchester's first. The other is an 1873 carbine, one of the first center-fire repeaters.

Another rifle in which Coleman expressed pride is a Stevens target model 22. It has a peep sight on the back and a "level" sight on the front. The level sight works like a carpenter's level.

Coleman and his wife have lived in Corpus Christi for the last eight years. He is a diesel machinist at Missouri Pacific Railroad, and she is a school teacher.

The two of them have traveled over most of the United States searching for the rare firearm models, and it is practically the only hobby they pursue.

They have the firearms they now own insured for more than $2,500, but they said that much more money could be obtained for them if they were sold.

Coleman uses the old muzzle-loaders to hunt, and he has killed among other things, deer and turkeys. He practices frequently with the guns on a friend's farm near George West.

He has been collecting firearms for a number of years, starting shortly after his grandfather gave him the old muzzle-loader.

Both Coleman and his wife are from Post, a West Texas city in Garza County. They were raised on adjoining farms and later married.

Mrs. Coleman has the gun fever about as bad as her husband, and she has a small muzzle-loader that she takes to contests too.

This morning at the market a reporter questioned me:

- Q. You're a home maker and mother?
 A. Yes.
- Q. Do you and your family attend Church?
 A. Every week, unless prevented by illness.
- Q. Surely you don't take the children when they're small?
 A. Oh yes. It's been proved that habits formed during the first five years establish a pattern for life.
- Q. When it's raining or snowing doesn't it often seem best to stay home?
 A. No. Bad weather doesn't usually keep us from doing other things we want to do. Besides, children go to school on rainy days so why not to Church and Bible School?
- Q. Then you feel regular worship is good for a family?
 A. Not only good but necessary. Religious training is the fourth R, and the most vital part of our learning to live.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Huge Quantities Of Trash Hauled Away And Burned During Clean-up

With trucks furnished by the City of Post, Garza County and Brown Bros. et al, oil operators, huge quantities of trash were hauled away and burned Wednesday, which was city-wide clean-up day.

Mayor James Minor said late Wednesday afternoon that it might be necessary to finish the job on Thursday morning, since an unexpectedly large number of residents cooperated by cleaning up about their premises and piling the trash on the alleys.

At noon, the City was luncheon host at the City Park to from 35 to 40 workers.

Later, Mayor Minor said, the City will blade the alleys preparatory to spraying.

Tate was also asked to check into the matter of placing new street signs in the newly developed areas.

The council was presented field notes for the 13-acre addition to Terrace Cemetery, operation and maintenance of which the City recently took over.

The .15 of an inch measurement increased Post's total for the year to 2.62 inches.

The Tigers got off to a 1-0 lead in the first inning when center fielder Lee Williams scored. The Dodgers came back with four tallies in the second inning and one each in the third and fourth before collecting their half-dozen runs in the final frame. The Tigers' only other run was scored in the third inning, also by Williams.

The Tigers managed only two hits off Dodger hurler John Valdez. Jimmy Ivey also pitched effectively for the Tigers, yielding only four base blows, one a home run by Bobby Beard. The Tigers committed five errors and the Dodgers four.

Black Hubbers Rally In 6th To Down Post, 6-3

The Lubbock Black Hubbers came from behind in the sixth inning here Sunday to defeat the Post Wood Bees, 6 to 3, in a well-played game on the Postex Mill diamond.

Going into the sixth frame, Manager Walter Jones' Post nine was leading, 3 to 2, after having plated three runs in the first inning. That was all their scoring, however, with B. Spencer, Lubbock hurler, scattering seven hits the rest of the way.

Felix Wiley, former Slaton High School athlete, pitched effectively for the Wood Bees, striking out nine Black Hubber batters. He whiffed the side in the fourth inning, although the visitors collected one of their runs in that frame.

Both Yankee Teams Exposed To Mumps

Maybe the name has something to do with it. The Yankees of the Post Little League have been exposed to the mumps, just as have the Yankees of the American League.

Earl Wilson's column in a recent issue of the Lubbock Evening Journal told of several members of the big league team being exposed to the mumps when they entertained a "Quiz Kid" who was coming down with the ailment.

The coincidence occurred when the Post Little League Yankees' exposure came about through one of the players, Butch Cross, coming down with the mumps.

In another instance, however, has the ailment spread through the two Yankee teams.

Post And Tahoka To Meet Sunday

The fast-improving Post Wood Bees are scheduled to meet a Tahoka team at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in a game on the Postex Mill diamond.

The Wood Bees, managed by Walter Jones, lost a 6-3 contest here last Sunday to the strong Lubbock Black Hubber team.

In a game at Petersburg Tuesday night, activities were halted by rain with Post coming to bat in their half of the third inning. They were trailing, 3-0, at the time.

Sunday week, the Wood Bees play the Reese Air Force Base team on the local diamond.

Wiley gave up only nine safe base blows, but three of them were bunched in the sixth inning, when the Lubbock team scored three runs to take a 5-3 lead. They added an insurance run in the top half of the ninth inning.

Shortstop Bill Jones had three singles to pace the Wood Bee batters. Third baseman Buddy Hays connected for two one-base blows, as did first baseman Cordell Custer, left fielder C. Light and center fielder Topper Bilberry accounted for the other three Post singles.

Hays, Custer and catcher Nolan Williams scored the Wood Bees' runs.

BITS-OF-NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Evans, from Lubbock, visited friends and relatives during the weekend.

South Plains Cash And Commodities Needed To Keep CROP Program Going

The last week in October is to be designated CROP Week and a "CROP Sunday" will terminate it, according to W. L. Holloman of Slaton, assistant area director of the Christian Rural Overseas Program for which the initials "CROP" stand.

Holloman said the organization desired each farmer to contribute either mlo or pulled cotton to the program. The cotton is to be ginned free. Residents in the South Plains area will be asked to contribute the price of a Sunday dinner.

A "trick or treat" program will be held at Hallowe'en, in which children will solicit contributions to the program.

The first Church World Service shipment of surplus grain sailed from Houston recently aboard the S. S. Hellenic Sky, destined for Piraeus, Greece.

The shipment consisted of 758 tons of corn, rice and wheat to be distributed among victims of last winter's cold wave and blizzards in northern Greek villages.

John Gillies, director of the Texas CROP, said that in addition to participation with World Church Services in "surplus" shipments, the Christian Rural Overseas Program must continue to export contributed commodities.

He pointed out that in the same port of Houston, arrangements were being completed for export of 100 bales of South Plains contributed cotton to be sent to Formosa and Korea.

The "Share Our Surplus" program of Church World Service, in which CROP participates, will distribute 300 million pounds of surplus foods overseas during 1956.

Mrs. Linda Rogers of Lubbock spent the weekend with her husband, Bobby, who is employed here.

COUNTY SHERIFF URGES ITS SUPPORT

Current Speed Control Program Called To Attention Of Drivers

"Drive in haste, repent at leisure!"

This new version of an old proverb was quoted today by Sheriff Carl Rains as he urged drivers to support the speed control program of the Texas Safety Association, the Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council. This program is being conducted in cooperation with the "Slow Down and Live" program of the National Conference of State Safety Coordinators.

"Anyone who is unimpressed by the 'Drive in haste, repent in leisure' warning should pay a visit to some of our area hospitals," the sheriff said. "There are many patients within their walls who are suffering the results of traffic accidents, many of which occurred months ago. A good proportion of these people would not be suffering now if they had not been in too great a hurry to get somewhere."

He cited National Safety Council figures that show that exceeding the speed limit or driving too fast for conditions is a factor in over one-third of the fatal traffic accidents reported annually. He explained that this does not necessarily mean breakneck speed, it means any speed that is unsafe.

Tax Candidate Makes Statement To Voters

Miss Jewel Parsons, who a few weeks ago announced her candidacy for the office of Garza County tax assessor and collector, this week issued the following statement to the voters: "I have lived in Garza County 36 years and have had 16 years of various types of bookkeeping, accounting and typing. Although I have never worked in the tax assessor-collector's office, I feel that I am capable of learning and handling the work satisfactorily."

"I will try to see all the voters of Garza County before the primary election, but if I fail to see everyone please keep in mind I will appreciate your consideration, and my failure to see anyone will be unavoidable."

Miss Jewel Parsons

for the condition of the road, the weather, the vehicle or the driver. "What may be a reasonable speed on a certain road on a clear dry day may be altogether too fast on the same road if the weather is rainy or foggy," the sheriff said. "And a speed that is safe when the driver is alert and physically fit may be too fast when he is fatigued or suffering from some ailment."

He gave the following six points as a guide to drivers in determining safe speeds:

1. Drive at a speed that will enable you to stop in the assured clear distance ahead.
2. Slow down before you get to curves and intersections.
3. At night, drive at the speed which will let you stop within your headlight range.
4. Drive with traffic. You are probably going too fast if you are passing many cars—too slow if many cars are passing you.
5. Where children are playing, be able to stop in a car length or less.
6. When you're tired or inattentive, stop.

IH QUALITY IS MORE THAN SKIN DEEP!

Parts may look alike on the surface, but the true story of quality goes far deeper than that. International Harvester makes sure of that quality. Regular IH parts from the assembly line are examined with this 1,000,000-volt x-ray. It looks "under the skin", checks to protect IH standards of quality. VA Questions And Answers

Q. I have been taking on-the-job training under the Korean GI Bill for one year, and my GI allowance has been reduced three times at four-month intervals. I'm planning to change to a new job training course in a different field. Will I get the full rate of GI allowance paid to beginners, or will I be paid the reduced rate that I'm getting in my present course?

A. If you change to a new program of GI on-the-job training, you will receive the full allowance paid to veterans beginning their courses. Your periodic reductions will begin four months after you start your new course.

Q. I am planning to sell the home I bought with a GI loan. Are there any disadvantages in allowing the buyer to take over my GI mortgage and continue making payments on it?

A. The disadvantage is that under present law you remain personally liable for payment of your GI loan, even though the buyer who takes over your mortgage agrees to make the payments. You will be relieved of liability if the buyer pays all cash or gets his own loan.

Q. I hold a special $10,000 Korean GI term insurance policy. May I convert this to permanent insurance? I am not disabled.

A. No. Under the law, special Korean GI term insurance for the non-disabled may not be converted to permanent forms of insurance. Service-disabled Korea veterans, however, do have the right to obtain convertible term policies. They also may take out permanent plans of insurance from the beginning if they wish.

Q. I want to appeal VA's decision regarding my application for disability compensation. Where do I send my appeal—to my Regional Office or to the VA Board of Veterans Appeals in Washington, D. C.?

A. You should submit your appeal to the VA Regional Office having your records.

PLAY KEY ROLE—Amateur radio "hams" play a key role in alerting civil defense units to natural disasters, and maintaining vital communications when telephone lines are down. This Marion, Ind., operator flashed the first word of that city's tornado to Indiana civil defense headquarters, which immediately rushed aid. Most "ham" operators are linked to civil defense through the Radio Amateur Civil Emergency Service, sponsored by the Federal Civil Defense Administration to supplement regular channels.—(FCDA Photo.)

ATOM AND OIL

Dropping atomic bombs down oil wells may be tomorrow's technique for tapping billions of barrels of petroleum that cannot be recovered by methods known today. Results of a study made for a major oil company reveal that the heat from a small nuclear explosion would free trapped oil by breaking down heavy petroleum into lighter, free-flowing fluids. Moreover, the explosive shock would crack tight oil-bearing formations, allowing additional oil to escape. A mile-deep explosion would constitute no safety hazard, since the earth is capable of absorbing the heat and blast. Such studies as this one are made every day by the progressive oil industry as it tackles the tremendous job of keeping the nation supplied with an abundance of oil.

HIGH-FLYING TAIL

A novel meteorological balloon, launched by the Air Force recently, will aid scientists in a down-to-earth study of the erratic behavior of hurricane winds. The oil-based plastic balloon, two stories tall, flies at an altitude of 30,000 feet, trailing a "tail" of meteorological instruments 50 feet from its dome. Data obtained from such instrument readings may help avert future disaster by shedding light on why winds shift unexpectedly from their usual courses. New materials and techniques from oil industry laboratories serve to open up new horizons of knowledge in almost every branch of science.

Hot Weather Threat To Egg Quality

COLLEGE STATION (Spl.) — When daytime temperatures hit 90 degrees, egg quality will hit the skids unless egg producers make some changes in management practices, says Kermit Schlamb, extension poultry marketing specialist.

From now until cool weather in the fall, refrigeration is a must if high egg quality is to be maintained. Schlamb says that 53 degrees F. is the optimum temperature for maintaining proper egg environment. Too, eggs must be gathered more often during hot weather with three times a day gathering as a minimum.

Low quality is costly to producers selling on grade. "A" quality eggs of similar size normally bring four to six cents a dozen more than "B" quality eggs. Eggs can be properly cooled for as little as 10 cents a case.

Adequate cooling, points out the specialist, is no substitute for frequent marketings. Even with good refrigeration, eggs should be delivered to the grading station either twice or three times a week.

Good cooling, says Schlamb, means getting the animal heat out of the egg in the shortest possible time and at the lowest cost. A cooling unit containing a tray for holding wire baskets with space underneath for storing eggs in cases is the most desirable cooling equipment. Added egg income from the use of such a unit will soon retire its cost.

CANNERY ROW

In the oil industry, a "barrel house" is a place where hundreds of different types of lubricating oils are blended and canned. Many of these high-quality lubricants are especially compounded to meet the customer's specifications. On an average day, the "barrel house" can turn out as many as 15,000 different containers, ranging from one-quart cans to 55-gallon drums. But there's not a single "barrel" among them. That's because the oil "barrel" is really only a unit of measure of 42 gallons. These "barrels" of oil, supplied in abundance by the progressive petroleum industry, keep the wheels of America's great industries turning.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Thane and Delores of Haskell and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Thane visited the Ray McClellans Sunday afternoon.

THEY'RE REAL BUDDIES Accompanying John Schmidt to Post for a visit over the weekend was his co-worker, Shorty Hopper. John was recently injured in an oilfield accident in Kansas. AN EIGHT POINT PROGRAM OF LAW ENFORCEMENT

Elect ODEAN CUMMINGS Sheriff

1. Establish and administer a Juvenile Policy of fairness and firmness;
2. Establish and maintain Round the Clock police protection with an officer available at a given place when it is needed;
3. Enforcement of our traffic laws, fairly and impartially, with particular emphasis on eliminating the following:
 - a. Reckless Driving
 - b. Speeding
 - c. Ignoring speed and school zones
 - d. Open mufflers
 - e. Littering our streets with refuse
4. Protection of property, both business and residential, Post and the entire county;
5. Supervision of school zones while school is in progress and particularly during play and recreation periods;
6. Cooperation with Texas Highway Patrol to the fullest degree, encourage, by the work of our local officers, their coming to our County to help with transient traffic;
7. Work toward welding the three separate law enforcement agencies in Garza County, into one well coordinated police force at the same or less cost;
8. A policy based on the principle that the Sheriff's Office is responsible for investigation, suppression and elimination of crime with an awareness that punishment for crime or the withholding of same is a function of Grand Juries, Judges, and Petit Juries.

3-b. SPEEDING:

Speeding must be eliminated from the good driver's routine if he is to be considered a really first rate driver. In last week's discussion of reckless driving, we mentioned driving manners becoming a matter of habit.

Speeding, too, can become a matter of habit, and if not checked by the law enforcement officer, can become a tragedy not only for the speeding driver, but also for some innocent driver.

If elected sheriff of Garza County, it is my intention to bring the force of that office to bear on the common practice of speeding thru our business district, even against a red light, by the heavy transport trucks moving north and south. A dangerous situation exists from the truck that has built up considerable speed coming down the caprock, and who goes thru our main intersection unchecked. An equally dangerous condition develops from the truck trying to build up extra speed to climb the caprock, that going thru the intersection faster than he knows to be safe.

This practice must be stopped, if trucks continue to use our main route thru the city, or until a new truck route is devised; otherwise, we may witness wholesale destruction from the swath cut by one speeding truck.

3-c. IGNORING SPEED AND SCHOOL ZONES:

Speed and school zones have been established for the protection of the public, and the laws governing the operation of automobiles in these zones should be rigidly enforced. I believe that during the periods when school is in session and school children are not attending class, an officer should be present at school crossings to control traffic and assist children in safely crossing the highway.

If I am elected, your sheriff, I will organize a safety patrol, using responsible students, and shall have an officer present to supervise the operation of the patrol.

Elect Odean Cummings Sheriff Of Garza County, Texas
A Man With A Positive Program for Law Enforcement.

Points 3-d and 3-e will be discussed in next week's paper.

In the "dry" Lubbock district, which takes in 24 counties, 81 cases were filed and a total of $8,279.85 collected in fines and costs. Of the 81 cases filed, there were 35 convictions and five jail terms, eight dismissals and two acquittals.

Ranking second to the Lubbock district was the Dallas district, where 75 cases were filed and $6,496.04 collected in fines and costs.

The seizure of two illicit stills were reported by the Texas Liquor Control Board inspectors in April. With the stills, which had a cubic capacity of 110 gallons, inspectors captured 200 gallons of mash and made one arrest. One gallon of moonshine liquor was destroyed. LONG STAR AGRICULTURE

Reduction Of Natural Disasters
 May Not Be Too Far In Future

By JOHN C. WHITE
 Commissioner of Agriculture

This is the season of the triple-threat to crops—hail, lightning and tornadoes—in Texas.

Can their potential dangers be minimized? A number of weather control studies are being made to find out.

All three of these natural disasters cause tremendous damage in Texas each year. Hail is a deadly destroyer of crops and can churn the year's work and income of a thousand farm families into mush in a half-hour. Lightning is particularly dangerous in starting forest fires in the wooded sections of East Texas.

Back in 1946, when cloud seeding became prominent in the news,
 a young General Electric scientist, Vincent Schaefer, became interested in the possibility of suppressing hail and lightning by this method.

Lightning and hail occur in the same general type of storm which may grow into a tornado. These storms come from the immense blue-black thunderclouds that tower far above the freezing line into the atmosphere for as much as nine miles or even more.

When water-vapor condenses into a cloud, it gives back to the atmosphere the heat-energy that turned it into vapor in the first place. Such energy is enormous.
 Even any small thunderstorm represents the energy of several atomic bombs. This energy is discharged in lightning, or in rain.

 If such a cloud "cannot rain," but builds up in bellowing anguish to great heights, it may result in destructive hail or lightning, tornadoes—or all three.

Experiments have shown that cloud seeding induces rain or snow more quickly than under natural conditions. Thus seeding may cut down cloud growth, and the menace of the bellowing clouds.

This, and other possibilities, are being studied by the U. S. Committee on Weather Control. We are still a long way from "ready-made weather," but the reduction of natural disasters may not be too far in the future.

Oil Well Completions Go Past 7,000 Mark

The Railroad Commission in Austin said Saturday oil well completions in Texas this year have sailed past the 7,000 mark.

This week, 266 new wells were reported. This brought the year's total to 7,093 compared to 6,256 a year ago.

Gas wells totaled 24 and lifted the 1956 total to 729, well above the 467 for this date last year.

Total wells plugged for the year are 4,760, about 800 more than this date in 1955.

G. K. Cash and Bob Short spent the weekend in Wichita Falls.

County Red Cross Chairman Gives Tips On Water Sports

Valuable advice to those who want to spend a safe summer swimming or boating has been given by Guy Floyd, Garza County chairman for the American Red Cross.

During each summer, hundreds of persons seek recreation at lakes and pools, and many are lacking in knowledge of water safety precautions which would insure themselves and others against injury or drowning.

"This is the time of year when accidents begin popping up," said Floyd, "and most people don't realize they haven't been around water for perhaps eight months, and they try to do the same things they were doing at the end of last summer—like swimming across a lake when they're not really ready for it."

According to the Red Cross chairman, one of the major causes of boating accidents is overloading, plus taking on passengers who are unable to swim. He said that many people forget to stay with the boat when it is capsized.

He said that most boats now manufactured will float even when overturned, and they will serve as "islands" to those stranded in water.

Someone should steady a boat when another person is getting in, and that person should step to the keel line, or center of the craft to prevent its rocking. According to Floyd, there is only one good time for passengers to change position in a boat, and that is when it's at the shore. However, if they must change seats, they should do it one at a time.

A knowledge of artificial respiration is essential to anyone who has anything to do with boats or swimming. The steps in the back pressure, arm life method are as follows:

1. Place the subject on his stomach, with head supported by hands.

2. The person administering artificial respiration should kneel at the head of the victim.

3. Place hands on the victim's back on a line between the arm pits, rock forward until shoulders are even with the hands, then release pressure. Grasp victim's arms just below the elbows and lift upward.

The process should be repeated 12 times a minute, once every five seconds.

"Tips on boating and swimming" provided by the Red Cross for swimmers and boating enthusiasts are as follows:
 Mind your manners.

Deep Tillage, Pasture Burning Seen As No Aid To Moisture Penetration

COLLEGE STATION (Spl.) — Moisture infiltration into the soil, an important factor in crop and pasture production in limited rainfall areas of the Great Plains, evidently is unaffected by deep tillage and adversely affected by burning over native grasses, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Jack Barton, extension soil and water conservation specialist, says the results of tests conducted in Kansas in 1952 disagree with a widely held theory that deep tillage with chisels and subsurface sweeps improves soil-moisture storage. Neither the amount of moisture infiltrated nor the yields of wheat produced was improved by deep tillage in these tests.

Soil types studied included a fine sandy loam with a distinct plow pan, a silty clay loam with a tight subsoil, a clay loam and a very fine sandy loam with a clay pan.

Barton says the research workers also found that when native bluestem pastures were burned over, the soil quickly lost its ability to absorb or take in large amounts of water. Under conditions of simulated rain, unburned bluestem pastures absorbed water at a steady rate for nearly 80 minutes. Water absorption by burned-over soil dropped before the end of 20 minutes.

Very dry unburned pasture sod absorbed 4.6 inches of moisture in the first 10 minutes and 4.4 inches for each succeeding 10-minute period until after the end of 70 minutes. Silliar but burned-over sod absorbed 4.7 inches of moisture in the first 10 minutes, 3.4 inches the second 10 minutes and only 3 inches in the third 10 minute period.

While pasture burning is not a common practice in most sections of Texas, Barton points out that the Kansas tests should further strengthen the case against pasture burning and the need for protecting pastures against fires of all kinds.

Two New Publications Emphasize The Importance Of Water To High Plains

COLLEGE STATION (Spl.)—Two recently released Texas Agriculture Experiment Station publications deal with research studies on subjects vital to farmers and ranchmen on the High and Rolling Plains of Texas.

Bulletin 828, titled, "Changes in Investment and Irrigation Water Costs, Texas High Plains, 1950-54," contains a wealth of information on what is happening in this great agricultural producing area. The authors, W. R. Hughes, Agri-Research Service USDA and A. C.
 Magee, Department of Agri. Economy and Sociology, Texas Agriculture Experiment Station, say expanded development and water use has caused a decline in regional water levels, caused pumps to be lowered and well performance to drop and thus overall materially increasing the investment and cost of irrigation water. Information on how these and other problems are being met are discussed.

The second publication is MP-154, "Farming and Ranching Risk as Influenced by Rainfall." The authors, R. J. Hildreth and Gerald W. Thomas are members of the staffs of the Departments of Agricultural Economics and Sociology and Range and Forestry of the Texas A & M College System.

They have made a detailed study of weather records from 31 locations scattered over the High and Rolling Plains. Some of the records go back for 89 years while others are for much shorter periods. The authors believe that farmers and ranchmen can take several steps which will aid in meeting weather risks.

By studying the occurrence and range of past weather variations, they can predict better the probability of future droughts and their severity, as well as the possibility of good years, and can adjust some farm and ranch operations to fit these constantly changing conditions, say the authors.

Both publications are available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.
