

Brazos River Authority Will Help On White River Project

The White River Municipal Authority committee, which has been promised the assistance of the Brazos River Authority in its plans for a surface water project in southeastern Crosby County, will hold its regular monthly meeting Saturday afternoon at Crosbyton.

Reports on core drilling tests at the proposed dam site near Kalgary are expected to be heard at Saturday's meeting, according to Tom Bouchier of Post, committee chairman. The core drilling tests have been under way for the last two weeks and unofficial reports are that they are favorable.

Directors of the Brazos River Authority promised their assistance on the project Monday after having heard a delegation headed by Dr. M. H. Brannan of Spur, a former director of the BRA. Others in the delegation to Fort Worth, where the BRA directors were in session, were Bouchier and R. H. Tate of Post, Perry Bell of Crosbyton, also a member of the White River committee, and Bill Smith, newly-elected mayor of Ralls.

H. S. Hilburn of Plainview, BRA board president, named Graham Stewart of Graham chairman of a committee to work with the White River group.

Representatives of the City of Ralls will announce at Saturday's meeting whether or not their city will accept an invitation to enter the proposed water district, now made up of Post, Spur and Crosbyton. Civic leaders and city officials of Ralls have been considering entering the authority after hearing the project explained by a group from Crosbyton.

The Ralls group was told that cost to enter the authority at this time would be $1.11 per active water meter in the city. The money being raised at this time is being used to pay for the core drilling tests and exploration of the site.

Other recent developments in connection with the proposed project have included appointment of two new committeemen from Spur. They are Dr. Brannan and George Gabriel, who were named to replace Robert Lewis and L. D. Ratliff after the latter two resigned.

According to Spur sources, Ratliff said that he strongly favors the project and hopes the three cities will follow it through, but that for personal reasons he found it best to resign from the committee. Lewis had previously resigned because he said he believed the project to be financially unsound for Spur.

Besides Bouchier, Post members of the nine-man committee are Dr. A. C. Surman and R. J. Jennings. The Crosbyton members are Dr. Dale Rhoades, Perry Bell and Robert Work.

COUNTY CHAIRMAN MAKES ANNOUNCEMENTS

Demo Convention Dates Being Set

The Garza County Democratic convention is to be held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday, May 8, in the district courtroom, it was announced this week by T. R. Greenfield, county Democratic chairman.

At the same time, Greenfield announced dates for precinct conventions, filing deadline, deadline for payment of ballot fee, and for a meeting of precinct chairmen.

The precinct conventions are to be held May 5 between the hours of 10 a. m. and 8 p. m.

In announcing the filing and ballot payment deadlines, the county chairman said: "I wish to call to the attention of those running for office in Garza County that they are supposed to make application to me to have their name placed on the ballot. May 7 is the last day for filing and May 19 is the last day for payment of your ballot fee."

Greenfield has called the meeting of precinct chairmen for 2 p. m. May 21 in his office at the Greenfield Hardware Store. Purpose of this meeting, he said, will be to make arrangements for holding the primary election and for holding the precinct conventions.

Precinct chairmen requested to be present at the May 21 meeting are: Homer McCrary, Sam Ellis, Julius Fumagalli, Mrs. Pearl Nance, L. H. Peel, J. W. McMahon, Clark Barton, Mrs. Lucile McBride, Floyd Hodges and Mrs. Florene King.

Garza Designated For Drouth Feed

Garza County is one of 15 additional Texas counties recently designated as drouth disaster areas by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. At the same time, the USDA announced that it has extended its emergency feed program in 106 counties which had previously been designated as drouth disaster areas.

Emmarhe I. Hartel, office manager of the Garza County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, announced Monday that the county committee had received a memorandum stating that Garza County is now included in the drouth emergency area.

Mrs. Hartel said that owners may file applications at the ASC office for a 30-day supply of emergency feed for their foundation herds of cattle. Only owners of the cattle may sign applications for emergency feed, and the deadline date for filing the applications is April 27, 1956.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Swift Today

Funeral services for Mrs. Maude Swift, former longtime Post resident, were to be conducted at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Rix Funeral Home chapel in Lubbock. She died Tuesday morning in a Big Spring hospital. Survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Mary Snow Hard of Maryland and Mrs. Pete Pennell of the Barmen Springs Community.

Garza County Sheriff Nabs Suspect In Bank Burglary

Torrel E. Dyer, 38-year-old Lubbock man charged with burglary following an attempt to steal a safe from the Wingate Security Bank, was captured singlehandedly by Sheriff Carl Rains about 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon just north of Southland.

The Garza County sheriff said Dyer was unarmed and offered no resistance when he overtook his car.

The sheriff said he was at Southland when he heard on his car radio the Highway Patrol office at Lubbock communicating with Texas Rangers. The sheriff said he heard a description of the man being sought and of the automobile in which he was traveling and that a few minutes later he spotted him driving northward

'STYLE SHOW' TO BE AN ADDED ATTRACTION

Girl Scout Troop 5 Pet Show To Be Sunday Afternoon

You never heard of a style show for pets? Well, you can see one Sunday afternoon by attending the all-Scout Pet Show to be held by Girl Scout Troop 5 at the Little House.

The event is scheduled to get under way at 2:30 o'clock, with the best-dressed pet contest—an added attraction—to follow judging of the show entries.

All Girl Scouts and Brownies are invited to enter as many pets as they wish, by paying an entry fee of 25 cents for each pet. The rules are simple, consisting mainly of the requirement that all pets be on leashes or caged. Each owner will walk or carry her pet around the circle for exhibition and judging.

Judging will be in five divisions—cat, dog, bird, horse, and odd or unusual.

Other features of the show will include an exhibition of out-of-town dogs, with this department to be in charge of H. J. Dietrich, who also had a part in last year's event.

Girl Scout leaders said there is also a possibility that a penny-collecting monkey will be brought here for the show, and that the pennies it collects will be turned over to the Post Volunteer Fire Department's reinsurance fund.

Another added attraction will be a Girl Scout arts and crafts show, with each troop displaying its handiwork. First, second and third place prizes will be awarded the winning troops. Ribbons will be awarded in each division of the pet show. Girl Scout leaders said the pet show and arts and crafts shows are being held in connection with the Scouts' merit badge work.

Ann Porterfield Is Queen Candidate

Three Post High School seniors, Misses Ann Porterfield, Carolyn Hudman and Freda Kennedy, vied for the title of Post Lions Club Queen Tuesday evening, with Miss Porterfield being declared the winner following tabulation of votes cast by the members.

Miss Porterfield, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Porterfield, will be the club's candidate in the Queen Contest at the annual District 27-1 convention in Amarillo May 18-19.

Miss Hudman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hudman, was chosen as alternate candidate. Miss Kennedy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Kennedy.

The candidates were introduced to the club by R. K. Groen, superintendent of the Post Schools, who with Mrs. Carole Demson, club sweetheart, formed the queen candidate committee.

Following the meeting, the club's board of directors met briefly to discuss the proposed county fair buildings at the City Park, and other county fair matters.

Paving Program Is Planned By City

Petitions are being circulated this week by the City of Post to determine if property owners on unpaved streets are interested in engaging in a cooperative paving program.

City Supt. R. H. Tate said Wednesday that a few blocks already had been signed up and that the city hopes to have as many as 10 signed up for a paving program this summer.

In addition to the petitions being carried around to property owners, others are available at the City Hall, Tate said.

The proposed improvements would be standard paving and gutters, with the city using its equipment to do the dirt work and the property owners paying for the paving.

The approximate cost to the property owner can be determined after it is learned how many blocks are to be paved, the city superintendent said.

The city's work, Tate said, would also include "something extra" in the way of beautification between the curbing and property lines.

"Ten new blocks of paving this summer would just be a start," Tate said, "and we could continue the program each summer on the same basis, providing enough property owners sign up."

Death Claims Aged Resident Here Monday

Funeral services for Mrs. Tessie Williams, who at 87 was one of Post's oldest residents, were conducted at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in Hudman Funeral Home chapel.

Mrs. Williams, who lived alone on South Avenue F, died at 12:30 p. m. Monday in Garza Memorial Hospital, where she had been a patient for two days. She had become seriously ill the previous Monday and was taken to the hospital Saturday by Mrs. L. E. Webb, who had been helping look after her.

Mrs. Williams, a resident of Post for the last 15 years, had been in failing health for the past few months, but up until the time she became seriously ill made almost daily trips up town.

Several months ago, relatives in Oklahoma, who had not seen Mrs. Williams for a number of years, located her here and she returned home with them for several weeks' visit, returning to Post about six months ago.

The Rev. Roy Shahan, First Baptist Church pastor, officiated at the funeral services. Special music included "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," "In the Sweet Bye and Bye," and "Lily of the Valley." Pallbearers were Lowell Short, J. C. Kendall, Carl Rains, Garland Davies, George Barker and Hansford Hudman. Burial was held in Terrace Cemetery.

Mrs. Williams is survived by one sister, Mrs. T. C. Hunter of Lawton, Okla.; one son, Ben McWilliams of Sanger, Calif., and four daughters, Mrs. Ara Walker of Medford, Ore., Mrs. Eva Gibson of Hayward, Calif., Mrs. See RITES HELD, Page 8

A bid of $55,107 by Lee Moor, El Paso, was accepted by the State Highway Department Tuesday for the grading, structures and paving from Verbena south to U. S. Highway 380 for 4.5 miles on Farm Road 2008 in Garza County.

Cheerleader Tryouts To Be Held Thursday

Tryouts for next year's cheerleaders at Post High School will be held Thursday, April 26, according to Miss Jane Stephenson, pep club sponsor.

Sweater awards were presented this year's cheerleaders by Coach Vernon Ray in a recent assembly program. They went to head cheerleader Bette Sue Norman and Frances Craig, Charlene Baker, Barbara Shyles and Loveta Perrin Josey.

Gang Fight Results In Fines And Costs For 10 Participants

A brief gang fight early Saturday morning in the 100 block of East Main Street resulted in fines and costs for nine youths and one older man. Two juveniles who also admitted taking part in the fight were turned over to County Judge Pat N. Walker.

Seven of the 12 said by officers to have been engaged in the fight were white and five were Latin-American. One white youth and one Latin-American were treated for minor injuries at Garza Memorial Hospital.

Sheriff Carl Rains said he was informed that the fight started shortly after the group had left a midnight preview at the Tower Theater. He said an unidentified white man broke up the fight.

Fined on in justice of peace court for fighting, the nine younger boys were assessed fines and costs amounting to $24.35 each. A 35-year-old Latin-American man was fined double that amount, the sheriff said.

Although only 12 admitted being mixed up in the fight, approximately 30 were questioned, Rains said.

MEET THE TEACHERS

Each Day Of Teaching Brings New Situations

Miss El Wanda Davies, who hasn't quite completed two years of classroom teaching, says it didn't take her long to learn that each teaching day is filled with new experiences.

"It's surprising," she said, "the variety of situations a classroom teacher is called upon to cope with between the time she checks in on a school day morning and checks out in the afternoon."

"But I thoroughly enjoy teaching. It provides one of the most golden opportunities to accomplish something for the good of the community and its children."

Miss Davies said she had planned to see TEACHER, Page 8 ambitions when she returned to her home town to teach at the beginning of the 1955-56 school year.

"Even though the fifth grade pupils I'm teaching this year hadn't even started to school when I left to go to college, I felt as if I knew each of them personally when I returned here to teach," she said.

She describes her fifth grade class of 10 to 12-year-old youngsters as "real eager and enthusiastic."

Thursday to Thursday

By CHARLES DIDWAY

SINCE WE'RE SO badly in need of it in this section of the country, as well as most everywhere else, it appears to us that the presidential candidate who puts precipitation into his platform first stands a good chance of being elected. Right now, precipitation—or the lack of it—is a dang sight more important than integration, interposition or automation.

CHANGING TIMES, the Kiplinger Magazine, says that when a man forgets himself, he usually does something that everyone else remembers.

A GOOD PLACE to go Sunday afternoon would be the Girl Scouts' second annual Pet Show at their Little House. We remember last year's event as an interesting one, and Girl Scout leaders say that this year's show promises to attract an even larger and wider variety of pets, ranging from horned frogs to pedigree dogs.

ONCE AGAIN, the baseball season is upon us. The major league teams have started their regular schedules against their traditional opponents, and the American people will flood into the ball parks.

SOME WILL GO to see World Series pennant winners and contenders, the names of whose stars are household words the nation around. Others will follow the fortunes of outfits in obscure little leagues, made up of one-time big-leaguers now in the sunset of their playing days and of young fellows full of dreams of glory. But, whatever the case, it will be baseball—the Great American Game.

THE MAGAZINE SECTION of one of Sunday's newspapers carried an article on a giant electronic brain—a $250,000 wizard called Datatron—picking the pennant winners in both big leagues. It came up with Brooklyn in the National and Detroit in the American. Not only that, but it also forecast how each of the other 14 teams would finish and how many games each would win and lose over the 154-game season.

BROOKLYN WAS an expected selection for the National League, but when Detroit was posted on top of the American League, it was thought Datatron might have slipped its trolley. The New York Yankees, picked by most sports writers and commentators to repeat as the American League champs, are rated no better than third by the Electronic Brain.

WE'RE STRINGING along with the machine, even after reading a statement by the Yankees' Yogi Berra that the only way Detroit could win the pennant would be to have the Electronic Brain pitching for it.

IN TOKYO, A city bureau will help you find someone to marry. Over here, we feel that such things are better left to private enterprise.

THERE HAVE BEEN a few others, but Reese Carter of the Post News Stand was the first to "call our hand" on what we wrote in last week's column about the hit tune, "Poor People of Paris," not having any words to go with the melody. Reese says he heard Gisele McKenzie sing it in English and then in French on a recent "Hit Parade" program.

WE'RE SORRY WE didn't hear it, but it answers our son's question as to whether the

Roger W. Babson Writes This Week:

Few People Appreciate Value Of Books And Privilege Of Being Able To Read

BABSON PARK, Mass.—Very few people appreciate the great value of books and our God-given privilege of being able to read. The most valuable asset of your community is its Public Library,—not its Swimming Pool, Ball Park, or Golf Course.

Value Of Books

One of the first things in which I invested my savings was in books. I personally now have in my two homes a total of about 10,000 volumes. About 700 of these are reference books, including several different sets of Encyclopedias. As Thomas Dreier, Board Chairman of the St. Petersburg, Fla., Public Library so well says, "Public Libraries can feed one's brains as Supermarkets feed the stomach; actually, they should be advertised just as food stores are advertised." This is a good thought.

You often think you would like to listen to some famous man, yet you can go to your Public Library and bring home without cost all the important things which that man has ever said or thought. It is almost as if your local banker said to you—"Come and get without interest all the money you will use properly. All I ask is that you return this money to the bank in a reasonable time." Yet a better offer is being made to you by your local librarian.

Reading Becoming A Lost Art

Notwithstanding the tremendous help your Public Library can be to you people, consider seriously these five facts:

1. Five out of every ten people in your city read no book the past month.
2. Nine out of ten depend primarily upon newspapers, magazines, radio, and TV.
3. Only 25% read books regularly—and these are your most successful people.
4. 30% have never used your Public Library.
5. 10% of your people probably cannot read intelligently.

Every week I meet many successful people,—manufacturers, merchants, machinists, builders, teachers, doctors, and preachers. My

FOR SAFETY'S SAKE . . .

Just the other day we were talking to a man who said he had lived in Post long enough to remember when it was an all-day job to drive the 40 miles to Lubbock and back over the then-existing roads. One doesn't have to qualify as an "old-timer" to remember those conditions, but those who have lived here since the late 1920s have been able to make the trip in considerably less time.

Even conservative drivers are able to negotiate the 40-mile trip nowadays in less than an hour, and the four-lane widening of U. S. Highway 84 from Post to the top of the caprock, which is under way now, will cut even more time from the trip.

Completion of the road widening project will make it possible to wheel the distance from here to Southland in only a little more time than it has been taking to get to the top of the caprock.

But, since the highway is being widened for the sake of safety, it is hoped that drivers do not take undue advantage of the improved conditions and, by excessive speed, make the highway even more dangerous than it is now. With all the traffic on one two-lane section traveling in one direction, and that on the other two-lane section traveling in another direction, it is going to be a temptation to many drivers to "open 'er up."

The nation's worst automobile accident toll in history was recorded in 1955, with excessive speed the most dangerous driving mistake. It accounted for 12,700 traffic deaths and chalked up 702,560 injuries.

Let's have our super highways . . . they'll improve driving conditions, but for safety's sake let's not take advantage of them and turn these million-dollar projects into strips of death and carnage. If we do, we'll have been better off with the old-time roads on which it took an entire day to make an 80-mile round trip.

Some folks are considerate enough to come and ask for the privileges of fishing or swimming on private property; more go in without permission. It is always a mystery why people who would not think of entering a house in town without knocking and being admitted, will enter private property to fish or swim. And, perhaps, walk or drive over growing crops to do so. There is no doubt that those who ask and get permission enjoy their recreation more than those who trespass.—Emporia, Kan., Gazette.

We believe in price supports because it is the only system yet devised which gives agriculture something at least akin to an even break, but we do not like the way the system has been administered and abused.—Bedford, Va., Bulletin.

song refers to the poor people of Paris, France, or the poor people of Paris, Texas. Since Gisele sang the lyrics in French, the song writer is almost certain to have been thinking of Paris, France. We should have known that none of those Tin Pan Alley tunesmiths figure there are any poor people in Texas.

FRIDAY WILL BE a big day for pupils and teachers of Garza County's rural schools Graham, Close City and Justiceburg. It's the day for the annual Rural Schools Play Day, to be held this year at Justiceburg. To make for more competition in the various events, the Clairmont grade school in Kent County will send a group of contestants.

WE HOPE THEY have a pretty day for the event, but if anything does happen to spoil it, let's hope it's a good rain and not a dust storm.

Getting Out On The Limb

By EDDIE the editor

THE WOMEN, God Love 'Em: I hear that high heels were invented by the girl that was kissed good-night on the forehead.

Oh that more people were like mosquitoes who don't begin to bore you until they are silent.

I OFTEN WONDER if out-of-staters ever wonder if they're missing the route to an easier living, maybe even a quick fortune, in Texas. They hear tales of oil wells in every back yard, Cadillac in every garage and more realistic stories of fortunes made in Texas oil, Texas cattle, Texas real estate. According to the editors of "Changing Times," Kiplinger Magazine, Texas is growing bigger and richer and it does provide opportunities.

But is Texas just for Texans, or does the newcomer get a break? Is Texas for you, ask the editors of these out-of-staters. Unlike other warm states such as Florida, Texas' growth has not come from outside the state. Despite its boom and publicity it has always been at least three-quarters full of Texans and has stayed that way, the magazine reports.

Its increase in population between 1950 and 1955 ranked it fifth in growth in the U. S. for that period. With a population of 8,563,000 there is still lots of room. Texas has space for 5 million more people before its density equals that of the country as a whole.

The climate ranges from semi-tropical along the Lower Rio Grande Valley, to more temperate zones in the North. Among its fastest growing cities are Corpus Christi, Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, Lubbock, Amarillo, Odessa and El Paso.

Texas has been growing industrially by leaps and bounds. It still is an industrial giant as far as the number of workers is concerned, partly because its huge oil refineries and chemical plants require relatively few people to turn out tremendous quantities of processed materials.

Today only about 510,000 persons are employed in manufacturing plants and earn roughly 14 per cent of the state's personal income, but Texas has the asset of a good number of jobs in construction and in service industries.

There is no general shortage of workers, but many industries new to Texas are not finding enough workers trained in specialized jobs. There are scarcities of engineers of almost any description, auditors, accountants, job analysts, dietitians, commercial artists, stenographers and secretaries with special qualifications and business machine operators, according to employment agencies.

There are openings in almost all the skilled trades, particularly those required by the aircraft industry. The state is crying for good mechanics, and the need for medical personnel is acute, especially in Houston.

Even though the state is supposed to be full of millionaires, it is hard to prove that Texans are richer than other people. Because Texas is still strong in agriculture, the per capita income, $1,574, is $200 below the national average. It is rising, though, at a rate faster than that of the U. S. as a whole.

Wages in industry are constantly increasing, the editors say. The highest paid production workers in manufacturing plants are making $100 a week. Workers in oil fields make $98 a week. Dallas has the highest craft wage scale in the South—$3.45 to $3.50 an hour for bricklayers and plasterers, $2.75 for carpenters, $3 for electricians and plumbers, $2.63 for painters and $1.45 for building laborers.

Professional men earned a total that was seventh from the top in the country. One survey found that the average Texas doctor nets $14,147 a year.

The cost of living is no lower in Texas than anywhere else, but there is no state income tax or general sales tax. Homes, which are plentiful, are mostly one-storied and conventional. Heating is cheap, but cooling units are almost essential.

Public schools have a pretty good reputation. Some are badly overcrowded, but the average schoolroom has 26.2 pupils. There are 33 public junior colleges and 18 senior institutions.

The magazine article concludes by warning out-of-staters: If you should decide to move among Texans, be prepared to change. They are practically sure to make a Texan out of you.

At a recent convention a sign had been erected near the speaker's platform for the benefit of press photographers. It read: "Do not photograph the speakers while they are addressing the audience. Shoot them as they approach the platform."

Birth Attracts Attention

A birth in Seagraves Saturday night about midnight has been attracting more attention than a set of human quadruplets. A mare named "Glamor," owned by L.M. Last year Mrs. Winnice P. Clement, registrar at Minden, La., followed the law of the state of Louisiana in allowing all apparently literate applicants, white and colored, to vote.

She was roundly and severely criticized, so this year she decided on an even more strict interpretation of the law by making applicants for voting take a literacy test.

Of the 24 white applicants who presented themselves at her office for the test, 24 flunked it!

But she's still in trouble. State Senator Willie Rainach declared that since the legislative intent of the law was to exclude Negro voters, the law can legally apply only to Negro applicants.

God bless America!—"It Sez Here" in The Rails Banner.

There's Still Time

For those who are interested, there is quite some weeks left for political aspirants to get their hats in the ring. The new election law puts the final date for filing for a place on the primary ballot as May 7, the first Monday in May. The date formerly was the third Monday in June. The new arrangement gives the county chairman and committeemen a little more time to get their work done. The old law kept the county chairman in a lather trying to meet the deadlines. —"Views and Comments" in The Floyd County Herald.

Wouldn't Startle Us

We noted a newspaper article just recently stating that in Germany a professor is starting research; no common run-of-the-mill research, mind you, this is real deep study. The good professor is setting out to find out "how a honey bee knows where it is going." Such a study probably wouldn't startle the average American... it just sounds like another bureau has been created by politicians in an election year.—"Pecos Omnibus" in The Pecos Enterprise.

Tumbleweed Tale

One of Conrad Williams' tumbling tumbleweeds arrived in Muleshoe Monday at 2 p. m. It covered the distance of 35 miles in about three hours, fighting a headwind part of the way. It didn't have Conrad's name on it, but it looked like one of his. And while we were fighting the dust out of our place and elsewhere and had our back turned, old Clay Beavers picked it up, him and two other fellows, and lugged it into The Journal's spick and span office. I took it to the middle of the street and bade it goodbye; last time I saw it, it was making about 30 mph along about Evans Bros. oil outfit, headed east by northeast.—"Scoop Says" in The Muleshoe Journal.

So, What's The Use?

Pete Pituitary says he's convinced you can't please all the people any of the time, nor any of the people all the time.—"Nearly News" in The Lamb County Leader.

Still Worrying To Do

Now that Maggie Truman has trapped her man, maybe people can get back to worrying about some of the lesser problems such as income taxes, atomic bombs and the high cost of living.—"Twilight Zone" in The Hamilton Herald-News.

Camps Reinstated For Cubs And Dads

The South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America, has reinstated the annual Cub-Dad Camps at Camp Post, starting this summer.

The Cub-Dad Camps will be held on a Pack basis, with each pack reserving a date and all from that Pack coming in at one time.

Dates for the five camps are: May 26-27, June 2-3, June 9-10, June 16-17 and June 23-24.

Each camp will start with the evening meal on Saturday and end following lunch on Sunday.

The program for each camp will include campfire, songs, stunts, hiking, swimming, and shooting. The camp chaplain will conduct services in camp at 8:30 a. m. each Sunday.

Not more than 250 Cubs and dads can be accommodated at any one encampment, the Council officials said.

Area Optometrists Form Organization

The group elected Dr. Jack Nesbitt of Snyder as its first president.

Other officers named include: Dr. Jack Lewis of Sweetwater, vice president; Dr. John Blum of Snyder, secretary-treasurer and Dr. Marvin L. Majors of Colorado City, director of public relations.

LOTS OF CALLS ON THIS ONE—First to identify this Mystery Farm as that of Boy Hart, south of Post, was Mrs. Ed Dye, who will receive a six-months subscription to The Post Dispatch. A number of other readers called in to correctly identify the farm, but Mrs. Dye was first. Another Mystery Farm appears on page 2 of this issue. If you can identify it, call in your guess or come by The Dispatch office at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Pumped 140 barrels of oil per day plus 34 per cent water; gravity, 38; gas-oil ratio, nil; fractured with 5,500 gallons.

Ford goes First!

In Performance

At NASCAR's Speed and Safety Event at Daytona, Ford won the Manufacturer's Trophy for best all-around performance. Ford's 225-h.p. Thunderbird Special V-8, in one day, smashed 30 world speed records at Kingman, Arizona. No wonder Ford is the world's largest-selling eight.

In Safety

When the editors of "Motor Trend" unanimously voted Ford's safety program "the top car advance" of 1956, they had in mind Ford's Lifeguard Design... a whole family of safety features, including a deep-center steering wheel and double-grip door latches, to help protect you in case of accident.

In Economy

In this year's Mobilgas Economy Run, a Ford Customline V-8 with Fordomatic won over all cars in its class. The sturdier, heavier Ford carried more weight with greater gasoline economy per pound than any competitive car... "sixes" as well as "eights"! Ford proved itself a regular gas miser.

The way a Ford performs, the way it saves, the way it protects you, go hand-in-hand with the way it looks and lasts. Ford's look was inspired by America's most exciting car, the Thunderbird. Its rugged K-bar frame and carefully-built body give it the endurance and reliability traditional with Ford. These are the facts behind Ford's reputation as the car that's worth more when you buy it... worth more when you sell it, too! Come in and let us show you!

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

They Travel "In Class"

Our high school correspondent says that Economics and Geography students are going in for "grass roots" studying.

They're going to charter buses and take off on Operation See-For-Yourself—have a ten-day look at some of the things they've been studying about.

As I remember, it was hard to keep your mind on schoolbooks at this time of year. Today's kids can give in to that old urge to bust out of the classroom—with a clear conscience. Wish they'd take me along.

From where I sit, it doesn't hurt us adults, either, to get out and see how the rest of the country lives. We find the "typical American" doing everything from herding cattle to flying planes... with everything from steak to chowder for his favorite dish... everything from beer to butter-milk for his favorite beverage. And the more we study our differences the more we learn how alike everyone is underneath.

“ LIKE FATHER - LIKE SON ”

Something's in the making here. Maybe it's a garden. Maybe it's nothing more than a ditch. But what really counts is that father and son are working together happily.

Sonny may be more hindrance than help just now. But, says Dad patiently, "How ever will the boy learn if he doesn't do?"

When you watch, with ebbing patience your child's fumbling efforts to imitate yours, do you ever think about your heavenly Father's patience with you when you are in the wrong?

He's right there, working alongside you too, wanting to show you how to carry on, and staying close by in case you get into trouble.

If you keep in touch with Him through prayer and regular church attendance, you will learn from Him how to live, just as your child learns from you through talking and being with you.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The principal talk at the meeting was by O. R. Cockrell, director of the State Health Department's laboratory at Midland, who discussed bacteriological analysis. The program, which was in charge of R. C. Hester of Big Spring, also included a film on pump installations.

Brownfield was chosen as the site of the May meeting, which is to be held on the 15th.

The officials asked that the one-cent gasoline tax increase cover right-of-way purchases, county road building and retirement of bonds.

Assistant Attorney General J. C. Davis Jr. told the convention the adoption of a proposed county funds amendment would save money for the counties and put them on a better business basis.

He predicted voters would adopt the amendment this year.

The association urged legislators to remove the ad valorem tax on vehicles and substitute a county license not to exceed $3 per vehicle. This money would also be used for right-of-way purchase.

Pecos County Judge Paul Counts of Fort Stockton was elected president. Lamb County Judge Robert Kirk of Littlefield was named vice president.

Bottomhole flowing pressure ranged from 80 to 120 pounds, with a shutin reading of 110 pounds. Drilling was being continued below 8,820 feet in lime and chert.

Previously, a drillstem test opposite the Strawn from 8,360-84 feet uncovered 190 feet of oil and gas-cut mud and 1,290 feet of salt water. No other tests have been run.

Revision Pink Bollworm Regulations To Save Million In Ginning Costs

By JOHN C. WHITE
Commissioner Of Agriculture

Texas cotton farmers can look forward to a million-dollar saving in ginning costs this year.

The Texas Department of Agriculture has revised pink bollworm regulations to eliminate sterilization of cotton seed during ginning operations. The new provision applies to seed moving to areas within the state.

Until now, some 928 gins in Texas have been required to treat seed with high temperatures. The heat killed any larvae inside the seed without damaging its growing qualities.

The added cost of this service was passed to the farmers by the gins at approximately $1 per bale. Gins where this measure was in effect normally process about a million bales or more a year.

The new regulations eliminating this treatment resulted from findings of a three-year research project by Texas and United States Departments of Agriculture pest control men.

Modern methods of some 35 gins were studied during this period. Goal of the survey was to determine whether normal ginning operations killed enough larvae in the seed without the added burden of sterilization.

Studies of cotton processed in the gins showed the lowest rate of kill to be 89.5 per cent. The highest was 100 per cent.

These figures indicated that the kill ratio of pink bollworm larvae was effective enough to reduce the threat of destruction in cotton fields. As added proof, all but five gins killed 97 per cent or more of the insects and 18, or half the gins, registered complete kills.

Gin operators will find the new regulations to their advantage also. Sterilization involved costly equipment and was time-consuming.

U. S. Department of Agriculture officials are in complete agreement with the regulations change in Texas. A revision of federal regulations will follow later in the season.

SCS, Contractors Keep Busy On Area Farm, Ranch Ponds

The need for effective utilization of grazing areas and the scarcity of stock water have boomed activity in the development of water supplies during the last few years as a part of conservation practices in range and pasture areas, says Guy W. Nutt, work unit conservationist for the Post Work Unit of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District.

"In Garza County and western Kent County, which comprise the Post Work Unit, many farm and ranch ponds have been constructed in the last few years with the assistance of SCS technicians, and a number are being built or enlarged at this time," Nutt said.

Much of the excavation work on the ponds in this area is being done by Texas Dirt Contractors, which operates out of Post, but has its headquarters in Big Spring. Nathan Little of Post is local representative for the firm.

One of the ranch pond jobs now under way by the contractors is on the Tom Sims ranch, 13 miles north of Post. The new tank will be a comparatively small one, but will supplement other ponds on the heavily-stocked ranch.

The contractors have also kept busy during the last six or eight months repairing damage to ponds and dams caused by last year's heavy rains.

"We've repaired 30 or 40 tanks, but still haven't caught up with our work," Little said.

Along with tank excavation work, the contractors also build diversion terraces. They recently completed a large tank and one-half mile of terraces on the farm of Johnny Ray, a few miles north of Post on the Rails Highway.

The SCS technicians stake out the pond sites and check them out to completion, Nutt said, always with the view in mind of trying to select the size pond that will fit the pasture site.

Pond construction is an Agricultural Conservation Program practice, with the government paying 11 cents a yard of the cost.

Two tanks have just been completed on the Spring Creek Ranch, east of Post, in Kent County, and other new ones have been built or enlarged for George Beggs, John Boren, Walter Boren, Jim Barron, O. G. Hamilton and G. I. Sims.

The impounding-type reservoir, which is the type constructed in this area, is usually formed by means of an earth fill across a narrow draw or valley, Nutt explained.

"The impounding reservoir," he said, "is particularly adapted to rolling terrain with well defined drainage channels and to areas where considerable storage capacity is desired. Ordinarily, it is more expensive to construct an impounding reservoir than an excavated reservoir, and more care and skill are required in selecting suitable sites.

"Once the depth of a proposed impounding reservoir has been established, the size or capacity of the reservoir is largely determined by the natural topography at the site selected.

"Selection is an important part of our preliminary planning work," the SCS technician continued. "To secure economical construction and satisfactory performance we must select a site that includes a number of favorable features. As with other types of stock-water developments, the grazing and watering requirements of the surrounding area or other supplemental uses will dictate the general location of the reservoir. The reservoir cannot be regarded as a success if either inadequate drainage area or depth produces a dry pond when water is needed.

"The spillway is of prime importance and where a natural one cannot be provided to bypass runoff from the contributing drainage area, spillways with mechanical protection are usually necessary.

"Economical construction, planned distribution, and adequacy of stock-watering centers are essential to profitable grazing enterprises. Inadequate coordination of stock-water development with necessary conservation practices and the improper location or construction of these facilities have made many water supplies unsatisfactory," concluded the SCS technician.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Collier, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Collier and Lucille Collier attended funeral services in Tahoka Wednesday afternoon for Mrs. R. H. Collier's brother, William Otho Thomas, who died Tuesday morning in Tahoka Hospital following several months' illness.

Mr. Thomas, who was 75, moved to Tahoka in 1914 from El Paso. He was a retired druggist. Besides the sister of Post, he is survived by his wife; two brothers, A. I. Thomas of Tahoka and Dr. A. L. Thomas of Ennis, and another sister, Mrs. A. A. Walker of Panhandle.

Group Discussion Of Civic Problems Is Being Streamlined

LUBBOCK (Sp.) — Group discussion of civic problems, an ancient and often informal pastime, is being streamlined to fit modern needs, Jack Delaney, Texas Tech order librarian, reports in the current issue of Texas Outlook, Texas State Teachers Assn. magazine.

The American Library Assn. is sponsoring an American Heritage Discussion Project to stimulate and provide background for more responsible civic thought, he writes.

The Project is succeeding because it is locally organized and controlled, although national in scope, Delaney declares. Chicago headquarters trains only local discussion leaders and pays operating expenses from the Fund for Adult Education.

R. C. Janeway, Tech head librarian, began the project's West Texas branch, with headquarters in Tech's library, in 1952. The movement spread, and Texas now has eleven groups with two hundred members.

The weekly public library meetings center on patriotic documents which every member has read. Participants discuss and clarify the document's basic ideas, thereby learning to judge civic problems from well understood historical principles, Delaney says.

Group leaders make no statements and have no philosophy to sell, he continues. They simply ask questions to quicken thought about democratic government.

The American Heritage project is a small city movement. Only 19 per cent of its groups are in cities with population 100,000 or more.

11 DIAGNOSTIC, TREATMENT CENTERS REPORT

Texas Cancer Clinics Diagnosed Total Of 1,526 Cases In 1956

AUSTIN (Spl.) — Texas cancer clinics diagnosed 1,526 cases of cancer in varying stages of development during 1955, the State Department of Health has reported.

The report was contained in a summary of activities of 11 cancer diagnostic and treatment centers operating in Texas which get financial support from the State Health Department.

Of the total number of cases diagnosed, 1,047 were localized tumors, 342 showed evidence of "regional metastases" (spread to adjoining body areas from the original site), and 139 showed remote metastases.

The report said 1,312 cases of the total number diagnosed were placed under medical care.

Statistics from tumor clinics which do not receive financial aid from the State Department of Health were not included in the summary. Eleven of the 25 diagnostic centers operating in Texas receive such aid.

The clinics, staffed by county medical societies, operate in connection with existing hospitals as special diagnostic centers where indigent patients can get the best in modern cancer detection techniques, and where private physicians can send patients for special attention from cancer experts.

Professional education for physicians, bringing them up to date on the latest developments in the field of cancer diagnoses and treatment, is also conducted at the clinics. State Health Commissioner Henry A. Holle called the clinics "one of our greatest weapons against the rising incidence of cancer."

Modern, proved treatment methods, including x-ray, radium, and surgery, are available in all clinics. Dr. Holle said the moving force behind establishment of clinics is that the earlier tumor growths are diagnosed and brought under proper treatment, the better are the patients' chances for survival.

Clinics supported by the Department are the Taylor-Jones County Medical Society Clinic in Abilene, the Travis County Medical Society Tumor Clinic in Austin, the Cameron-Willacy County Medical Society Clinic in Brownsville, the John Sealy Hospital Tumor Clinic in Galveston, the Jefferson Davis Hospital Tumor Clinic in Houston, the Midland Diagnostic Cancer Clinic, the McLennan County Medical Society Tumor Clinic in Waco, the Wichita County Medical Society Tumor Clinic in Wichita Falls, and clinics in San Antonio's Baptist Memorial Hospital, Santa Rosa Hospital, and Robert B. Green Memorial Hospital.

Weekend visitors in the Arnold Parrish home were Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Moses of Sudan and Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Moses of Littlefield.

VA Questions And Answers

Q. What is the deadline for getting the special Korean GI insurance available to veterans with service-connected disabilities?

A. Korean veterans must apply and pay their first premium within one year from the date that VA determines their disabilities are service-connected.

Q. I was disabled while serving in the WAC during World War II, and as a result I am drawing disability compensation payments. My husband recently died of a service-connected ailment. Would I be entitled to death compensation benefits in addition to my own disability payments?

A. Yes. The fact that you are receiving disability compensation would not bar you from receiving death compensation benefits as well.

Q. The house I want to buy with a GI loan does not come under FHA credit controls, because FHA completed all its paperwork before the controls went in effect on July 30, 1955. Will it be subject to VA's credit restrictions?

A. The house will be exempt from VA credit restrictions only if VA receives a request for an appraisal on or before Sept. 30, 1955.

Q. I understand that a private profit school has to be in operation for two years before it can accept veterans under the Korean GI Bill. The school I am interested in attending operates nine months a year and is closed for the summer months. In its case, what would VA consider as two years?

A. In the case of this school, two nine-month school years, covering a period of 24 calendar months, will satisfy the two-year requirement of the law.

The U. S. Department of Health Education and Welfare reports that there were 2,600,000 more U. S. school pupils in the fall of 1954 than the rated capacity of the public school buildings available.

TEXAS OIL PIONEERS

They Laughed At Pattilo Higgins, But Not After Spindletop Came In

(Editor's Note: The following sketch, first of a series, is compiled from records of "Oral History of Texas Oil Pioneers," University of Texas. Persons who can contribute additional information, documents or photographs of early oil fields should write to the Archives Collection, Box 7767, University Station, Austin, Tex.)

By WILLIAM A. OWENS

The Lucas Gusher, which came in at Spindletop, Jan. 10, 1901, is the biggest event in Texas oil history. Pattilo ("Bud") Higgins, whose name will be forever identified with the discovery of Spindletop, was one of the most colorful of Texas oil pioneers.

Born at Beaumont in 1863 and brought up at Beaumont and Sabine Pass, Higgins was acquainted from boyhood with the sour wells on the Big Hill south of Beaumont. He had seen gas bubbles rise to the surface of the wells; he had heard men talk of prospecting there for oil and gas.

After trying his hand at railroading and lumbering, Higgins began burning bricks. With the promise of capital, he went to Dayton, Ohio, to study methods of making bricks. In the plants he visited he saw that kilns were fired with oil and gas. Immediately he saw the advantage of this fuel at Beaumont, where coal was very expensive. He came home with the idea of developing oil and gas at Spindletop.

His scheme sounded too fantastic to men in Beaumont with money to invest. To prove his point, he put a board top over one of the shallow wells, inserted a pipe, and piped a kerosene can full of natural gas. He took the can to Beaumont and demonstrated how the gas would burn with a hot blue flame. At least some men were convinced. With George Carroll and Captain O'Brien he founded the Gladys City Oil, Gas, and Manufacturing Company, chartered in 1892, and named for Gladys Bingham, a little girl in Higgins' Sunday School class.

Then began a series of unsuccessful test wells that drained the resources of the company and dimmed the faith of Beaumont people in Pattilo Higgins. He argued oil so insistently that people began to laugh at him.

Then, when Higgins had been forced to sell his stock in the company, he persuaded Anthony F. Lucas, a mining engineer who had been prospecting for sulphur in Louisiana, to have a look at Spindletop.

Convinced of the prospects for oil, in spite of several adverse reports from geologists, Lucas decided to drill. His first well, unsuccessful, left him broke. He then turned for help to capitalists in the North and East.

The story of how the Lucas Gusher was drilled belongs with the stories of such pioneers as Al and Curt Hamill, stories to appear later.

When the well blew in, Pattilo

IT'S CHILD PEDESTRIAN SAFETY MONTH

Sheriff Warns Children To Stay Off The Streets When They Play

"It's one strike and you're out when you play ball in the street!" In those words Sheriff Carl Rains today warned children to stay off the streets when they play.

The sheriff urged the youngsters to do their part in the Child Pedestrian Safety Program which the Texas Safety Association, the Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council are sponsoring in Texas this month.

"Your folks aren't trying to be spoil-sports when they tell you not to play in the street," he said. "They know that playing in the roadway is a pretty good way to get hurt, and it's not very smart to pay for an afternoon's fun with weeks or months in bed."

The sheriff pointed out that teachers, police and drivers are all cooperating in this program to help keep children safe in traffic, but there's not much that they can do without the help of the boys and girls themselves.

"Your safety is your own responsibility," Sheriff Rains reminded the children. "When you're out with the other boys and girls, you're on your own. No grown-ups can help you then, so it's up to you to follow safety rules."

He listed the following rules for children to observe in traffic:

1. Obey all traffic officers, school patrols, traffic signs, signals and pavement markings.
  2. Use roller skates, tricycles, wagons and scooters on the sidewalk only.
  3. Practice the rules learned in school about crossing streets and playing in unsafe places.
  4. Always take the safest route between school and home.
  5. Walk on the left side of the road, facing traffic, if there are no sidewalks.
- He gave these additional rules for bicycle riders:
1. Obey all traffic signs, signals and laws.
  2. Ride on the far right of the street—with traffic.
  3. Don't weave or stunt, and never hitch on to a passing vehicle.
  4. If you must ride at night, have a good light and rear reflector.
  5. Keep your bicycle in good condition.

IN ARMED FORCES RESERVE PROGRAM

All Qualified Young Men Can Now Come To Aid Of Country

AUSTIN (Sp.)—"Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country." These familiar words are particularly applicable to the young Texans of today, says Major General Lewis S. Griffing, Chief of the Texas Military District.

"The Armed Forces Reserve has a program whereby all qualified young men can come to the aid of their country," General Griffing explained, "and with the least interruption to their civilian careers."

General Griffing, speaking in connection with Military Reserve Week (April 22-28), pointed out that the U. S. Army is implementing a program designed especially for the youths of America. This program permits a young man to fulfill his military obligation while completing his education or working at his civilian job.

Here's the way it works—he joins a Ready Reserve unit or a National Guard unit. He can finish high school (if he doesn't reach the age of 20 first), then go on six months active duty for training. He is then prepared for his Ready Reserve service.

Normally he will have 7½ years left. During this 7½ years if he trains satisfactorily, he will not have to worry about a draft call. In most instances he can train with a unit right in his own home town. The only time he is called away from home is for two weeks each summer to attend training camp. All of this is designed to interrupt, to the very smallest degree, his higher educational pursuits or his civilian occupation.

"Every young Texan should think very seriously about his future military obligation," General Griffing pointed out. "If he doesn't, Uncle Sam is likely to point a finger at him sooner or later. He should consider this program from a standpoint of how it benefits him as an individual. But most important of all he should consider it from a patriotic point of view."

The Army will pay him for his military participation and at the same time prepare him to defend his country in the event of an emergency.

Military Reserve Week, April 22-28, has been designed especially to present the provisions of this program to young men and their parents. This special drive has been endorsed by the president and is supported by many active civic and veterans organizations in Texas. They understand and see the immediate need for a strong and ready reserve.

"Now is indeed the time for every young Texan to come to the aid of his State and his country," General Griffing concluded.

1955 On Record As Worst Auto Accident In Nation's History

HARTFORD, Conn. (Sp.)—The nation's worst automobile accident toll in history was recorded in 1955, it has been announced by The Travelers Insurance Companies.

Traffic deaths totaled 37,800 last year compared with 35,500 in 1954. The injury count reached 2,158,000 compared with 1,960,000 in the previous year.

These figures are taken from "Fatal Fatalities," the twenty-second in an annual series of traffic accident data booklets published by The Travelers. Accident facts from every state in the nation are collected and analyzed for the booklet by Travelers statisticians.

Excessive speed was the most dangerous driving mistake again in 1955, killing 12,700. The 1954 total was 12,380 persons. The injury total resulting from excessive speed was 762,560, compared with 639,900 in 1954.

The pedestrian record was the bright spot in the 1955 accident picture. It reflected improvement for the fifth consecutive year. Pedestrian casualties were reduced to 236,400, compared with 235,960 in 1954.

Drivers under 25 years of age were involved in more than 27% of 1955's fatal accidents, although they comprise only about 14% of the total of all the nation's drivers.

Weekend crashes accounted for 15,730 killed and 766,090 injured. The 1954 weekend record was 13,980 killed and 673,000 injured.

Crossing between parked cars are the chief causes of pedestrian deaths and injuries.

The 22-page booklet features cartoons by Ted Key, creator of the popular "Saturday Evening Post" feature, "Harold."

The booklet also reveals that one out of every 75 persons in the United States became a traffic casualty in 1955.

Two Post Rotarians Attend Convention Held In Levelland

Carl Cederholm and Harold Voss represented the Post Rotary Club Tuesday at the 183rd District of Rotary International in Levelland.

Tuesday was the final day of the three-day convention, with the highlight being an address by O. D. A. (Ollie) Oberg of Sydney, Australia, vice-president of Rotary International.

Oberg talked at the noon luncheon at the San Andres Hotel on "Rotary Around the World." He cited examples of opportunities facing Australian and American youth, and said that Rotary was doing much to help them take advantage of those opportunities.

Rotary, he said, is a strong force for freedom throughout the world; the organization has a world membership of about 420,000 persons in 72 countries.

District Governor Rigdon Edwards and Mrs. Edwards were presented a silver coffee service by delegates attending the convention.

Attendance Tuesday reached a total of 502 men and women—332 Rotarians and 170 Rotary Anns.

The pedestrian record reflected the 5th consecutive year of improvement for motor vehicle accidents in 1955.

IS HELPING REBUILD COMMUNITY SPIRIT

Rural Church Is Making Strong Comeback In Many Texas Areas

The rural church is making a strong comeback in many Texas areas, says Reagan Brown, rural sociologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Brown spends a great deal of time working with the leaders in the organized communities of the state and reports that a contributing factor to the comeback of the rural church is the part it is playing in rebuilding community spirit and fellowship. A motivating force behind this change has been the rural pastor, says Brown. They are working with local county extension agents in expanding the community improvement programs which include the spiritual as well as the economic and social aspects of rural living.

Brown points out that the pastor is no stranger in this type of work for agriculture is often referred to in the Bible and Christ in his teachings used many parables taken from his observations of the shepherd and the farmer.

Because of a demand for training in basic agriculture from young men going into missionary and church work in rural areas a pre-seminary course in this field is being offered through the Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology of Texas A&M College.

An empty four-room house, a barracks building and three unoccupied laborer shacks on the Leroy Davis farm in the Grassland community were destroyed by fire Saturday night. The flames, apparently started by shorted electrical wiring, were fanned by high winds.

Judgment, Disorder Cause Farm And Home Accidents

ranks second only to judgment as the cause of a recent study of household accident cases disclosed one out of every five there by disorder, says Martin, administrative assistant of the Texas Agricultural Service and chairman of the Texas Farm and Ranch Committee.

and city dwellers alike to the pleasure of living by giving their farmsteads and homes a thorough spring cleaning. Martin suggests the elimination of all fire hazards as a logical starting point. Trash, such as papers, old rags and rubbish, are fire feeders and make flames more difficult to control. Volatile fuels, paints, cleaners and insecticides should not be stored in the home. Check electrical wiring. Also all circuits for overloading and frayed or damaged insulation.

Falls cause many fatal farm accidents. Cluttered stairways, unsafe ladders, lack of handrails in both the house and barn, loose wires and poor housekeeping about the farm can all cause crippling falls. The solution to the problem is simple, says Martin, eliminate the hazards and then practice good housekeeping.

Check the medicine cabinet for old and unlabeled bottles and get them out of the way. Insecticides and other chemicals are safest when kept under lock and key. Foot injuries to humans and livestock can be kept at a minimum by getting broken glass, junk, loose wire and tin cans in the disposal pit. Nails should be removed from all boards whether loose or stacked.

Children are often injured, says Martin, when playing by improperly stored knives and sharp edged equipment and tools. Don't leave pitchforks, spades, hoes or rakes where they can cause an injury.

A clean farmstead means fewer rodents. Dangers of disease and losses from damaged buildings to say nothing of the elimination of a needless feed bill are rewards for keeping a clean and orderly farmstead. Appearance, says Martin, goes with performance. Clean up for efficiency and safety.

Association Formed To Stimulate Interest In The Game of '42'

Garza County enthusiasts of the game of "42" may be interested to learn that an organization known as the "Texas 42 Association" has been formed for stimulating interest in the game.

C. F. Weekley, Dallas advertising man, has been named president of the association, and other officers are Norman H. Brock of San Antonio, vice president, and R. P. Wall of Dallas, secretary.

The game of "42" is widely played in the Southwest, with the number of players estimated at several hundred thousand. It is one of the few really native American games, played with dominoes, but with rules more closely akin to those of auction pitch. The history of the game of "42", as played in Texas, dates back to the 1850's.

One of the first projects planned by the association, according to Weekley, is an invitational state tournament. Member of "42" clubs throughout the state will be invited to participate.

Approximately 75 persons attended the program, sponsored by the foreign language inter-club council of Tech. Glenn E. Garrett, head of the Texas Good Neighbor Commission, Austin, discussed Pan American Day and the Organization of American States, an international agency for creating good will among Latin American and North American countries.

Quail Fate Hinges On 1956 Weather

AUSTIN (Spl.) — Human-guided factors in the new Texas bobwhite quail restoration program are proceeding according to schedule but spring weather thus far has been a deterring factor, according to the assistant executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

He said the general habitat program, whereby field men for the Commission have been serving as counsellors, has created hundreds of new projects throughout the state.

Also, the new state quail farm at Tyler, which was authorized as an experiment to supplement natural sources for seed stock, now is in operation with most of the 800 pair of bobwhites laying eggs. Distribution of young birds is foreseen for early summer.

But the dusty, dry weather, said the assistant executive secretary, has retarded natural growth in many parts of the state. As a result, he added, habitat expansion in many areas, where native stock is considered adequate or where pen raised stock will be experimentally released, has suffered.

"It is going to take some good rains before long to get food and cover started for the 1956 bobwhite crop," said the executive secretary. "It would be nothing short of tragic, now that we have interested so many landowners in providing habitat for quail, to have the elements turn negative."

More than 41% of the deaths and more than 35% of the injuries due to motor vehicle accidents last year occurred on Saturdays and Sundays.

"Who Knows What We'll Find!"

Dear Friends

As a part of their work in Humble's Refining Research Laboratory, Humble scientists bombard petroleum hydrocarbons with electrons in a 2-million volt Van de Graaff Accelerator.

But if you ask one of these scientists what he expects to find, he'll answer, who knows!

For this is fundamental research. Results may be quick or they may be a long time developing. Who knows?

... Perhaps the scientists will find a way to increase the yield of useful products from a barrel of crude oil.

... Perhaps they'll be able to make improvements in the fine products already supplied you.

... Perhaps they'll develop an entirely new group of petroleum products.

Who knows!

This much, however, is certain: Humble research scientists at Baytown use every device of physics, chemistry, mathematics and mechanics to provide you with more and better petroleum products.

Two quick examples: The specifications for Esso Extra gasoline, the formula for Humble Uniflo motor oil. These, without question, are the finest products you can use in your car.

Sincerely

HUMBLE OIL & REFINING CO.
