Four Teams Are Drawn For Little League Baseball Play

Last night's meeting of Little League Baseball officials was to complete organization of the league and set-up teams to participate in round-robin play, which is expected to get underway the first week in June and continue through the school vacation months. Sixty boys, to comprise four teams of 15 players each, were to be drawn from the more than 100 who have been attending daily practice sessions during the past week. The players were to be selected by managers of the four clubs by the point purchase method. Each manager was given 36,000 points to purchase his players through a purchasing agent and was to complete his roster last night. Boys who failed to make the major clubs were to be placed on teams to comprise a farm league and will participate in scheduled play.

Under the plan of play each team will participate in 18 league games during the season. The four major teams are the Dodgers, sponsored by the First National Bank with Punk Peel as manager; Red Sox, sponsored by Brown Bros., et al., with Walter B. Holland as manager; Yankees, sponsored by Postex Cotton Mills, Inc., with J. P. Parnell, manager; and Tigers, sponsored by the Jaycees, Rotary and Lions clubs, with Carl Rains, manager. Each sponsor put up $300 to uniform and equip their team. Uniforms for sixty boys have been ordered and are expected to arrive before league play gets underway. The Dodgers will wear grey uniforms with royal blue trim; Red Sox boys will sport grey uniforms with red trim; Yankees, grey with Navy blue trim and the

Post Boy Hurt In Oil Rig Accident

John Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Schmidt, narrowly escaped death Saturday morning in an oil field accident near Elkhart, Kan. John was injured when the hook on the end of a derrick cat-line caught under his neck as a drum was being pulled up. John had leaned over as the drum came up, and the hook caught in his neck, penetrating his jaw and breaking the jawbone. Only the presence of mind of the driller, who shut off the motor when he saw what was happening, is believed to have saved John from death. He was taken to an Elkhart hospital. His father and brother, Bob Schmidt of Grand Prairie, left for Elkhart immediately after receiving word of the accident Saturday. John is a 1953 graduate of Post High School and attended Texas A&M College for two years. He has been working in the oil fields for the last several months, but plans to re-enter college in the fall.

Thursday to Thursday

By CHARLES DIDWAY

WE'RE STILL OF the opinion that the successful candidate will be the one who includes "precipitation" in his platform. Boy, it's needed!

WE HEARD A preacher remark that one of the reasons the Ten Commandments are short and to the point, is that they did not come out of a committee.

ONE BUNCH OF fellows who have our sympathy are the freight haulers who have such a hard time getting merchants to open back doors so they can deliver freight shipments.

WE'VE OBSERVED that the freight haulers in Post are an even-tempered bunch of fellows, and we've never seen one "blow his stack" over having to bang and wait and wait and bang trying to get someone to open a back door.

BUT IT ISN'T the same everywhere. We once worked on a newspaper killed on by one freight hauler who accused us of being as deaf as posts and threatened to dump the freight outside unless we started showing more speed in unfastening the back door.

THE HECK OF it was, he was big enough to do it and get away with it, too. In fact, he was so big he rarely got an answer when he used to bellow, "What do you guys think you've got in here that anybody would want to carry out the back door?"

IT WON'T BE many days now until the 15th annual Post Stampede Rodeo will be under way and the town will be swarming with cowboys and rodeo fans. In fact, the rodeo will be well under way before another of these columns break into print.

EACH YEAR THEY say the upcoming rodeo will be the best ever, and it usually works out that way. There's always a big demand for it, and its absence would leave a big gap in town affairs.

THOSE WHO TALK fast and too much often run out of facts.

AN OKLAHOMA schoolboy wrote the following essay on geese: "Geese is a low heavy-set bird which is mostly dark meat and feathers. He has a little balloon in his stomach to keep him from sinking. Some geese when they grow big has curls on their tails and is called ganders. Ganders don't have to sit and hatch but just eat and loaf and go swimming. If I was a goose I would rather be a gander."

WE GOT HOME in time Saturday afternoon to watch the last four innings of the game in which Carl Erskine of the Brooklyn Dodgers pitched a no-hitter against the New York Giants.

IN SEVERAL YEARS of following baseball, it was the first no-hit game we'd ever seen, set in on or listened to. It all may sound unimportant to those readers who are not baseball fans, but it won't to those who are.

WHILE ON THE subject of baseball, we learned from last week's Sporting News that Norman Cash is back at Waterloo in the Three-I

Roger W. Babson Writes This Week:

Next Depression, With Its unemployment, May Come From Worry, Fear, Exhaustion

BABSON PARK, Mass.—Continually I am being asked: "What could cause the next Business Depression?" It could be overbuilding, too much installment buying, stock market speculation, or the unreasonable demands of union labor; but I forecast the next depression, with its unemployment, may come from worry, fear, and exhaustion.

Real Causes Of Unemployment

Already worry is causing executives to have heart attacks, causing wageworkers to demand pension security, causing housewives to get divorces, and causing almost everyone to seek more entertainment in order to forget their troubles. If too many people get scared and stop buying, this will surely bring on bad business and unemployment.

Most of us hesitate to discuss our personal religion for fear of being called "hypocrites." But at the risk of being so-called myself, I will this week make a confession:—My education as a statistician taught me to seek the truth. Hence, when I became a Church Member, I naturally sought to learn what Jesus taught. Among other things, I found that He taught us not to worry. One of His most emphatic teachings was to avoid "being anxious about tomorrow." I, therefore, have never allowed myself to worry.

What The Birds Teach Us

When Jesus held up the birds as an example for us to follow (Matthew, 6th Chapter, Verses 26 to 28), He realized that the birds are obliged to hunt their own food. God does not throw food to their nests for them, God even compels the birds to build their own nests. Unlike most young people today, the birds build their "houses" and pay for them before "getting married" and raising little birds! Jesus never told us not to THINK about tomorrow, or not to prepare for tomorrow. Read His parable of the Ten Virgins in the 13th Chapter of Matthew, Verses 1 to 13. It was WORRY which Jesus condemned.

Therefore, I have constantly fought worry and conquered it when it faced me: First, when I had an attack of tuberculosis and was "given up for dead"; then, during the Great Depression when my many clients got scared and left me; and always when some personal misad-

THE PEDDLING ORDINANCE

If properly enforced, the peddling ordinance recently passed by the City Council can turn out to be one of the most beneficial measures ever enacted by the city governing body. But, passing a peddling ordinance and enforcing one are two different things.

It's extremely doubtful that a city the size of Post could come up with a more controversial measure than a peddling ordinance if enough people wanted to make it so. The ordinance passed here is well-worded and lucid enough, but that doesn't keep it from containing the usual number of loopholes.

The city fathers are sincere in hoping to be able to stop promiscuous vending and peddling by fly-by-nighters through the provisions of this ordinance. And the public joins in the same hope. The town is annually drained of several thousand dollars by glib salesmen who are here today and gone tomorrow, often leaving behind them a service or product not worth one-tenth of its cost.

The big question is, just where do the provisions governing vendors and peddlers stop? Do they also provide for purchases of vending or peddling licenses by bona fide out-of-town firms which come in here regularly to compete with Post merchants and other businessmen? The ordinance won't be worth the paper it is written on if it is made to apply only to a few lone individuals who couldn't fight back even if they were justified in doing so. The only way the ordinance will be worth anything is to stop some of the "big boys" whose vending and peddling in Post really hurts.

And, another thing: the City isn't going to be able to enforce the ordinance unless the public helps. If we patronize the out-of-town salesmen without first finding out whether or not they have purchased a license and otherwise conformed to the provisions of the measure, then we are defeating the purpose of the ordinance even before it gets a good foot-hold.

—O—

We are tremendously benefitted by every new labor saving device. By this means, we are able to multiply our individual human energy to the point where one man, plus tools, can produce things that many men require.—Pampa, Tex., Daily News.

League, where he played last summer after signing with the Chicago White Sox.

THE WHITE SOX sent Norman to Colorado Springs of the Western League from their spring training camp in Florida, but later transferred his option to Waterloo. He's still on the Chicago roster.

IN A GAME against Terre Haute on April 26, the former Post High School athlete drove in four runs in the first three innings with a homer and a double.

SINCE WE'VE turned the bottom half of this corner into a sports column, we may as well continue with a reminder that Little League action will get under way June 1. The four teams of 8 to 12-year-old boys will be the Yankees, Dodgers, Red Sox and Tigers.

DOWN TO HERE, this column was written too early Saturday morning to get anything in about Texas Tech's Southwest Conference bid, but we just had to save this little hole to announce that they made it—as if you hadn't already heard.

Getting Out On The Limb

SOME MAY wonder why the circus keeps coming back year after year. After all, the acts and the animals and the clowns and all the rest of it are pretty much the same.

One reason is that a great new audience comes into being in this country each year. Last year, for instance, 4,000,000 babies were born—and none had seen an elephant.

In other words, the circus comes back because the American scene is forever changing.

There's a lesson in that for merchants and all other business people. They must keep on selling their wares and attractions to their new customers as well as their old.

And they must help sell, too, the philosophy and ideals, based on freedom, that have made this country what it is. For the new faces need to learn about them—and all the rest of us need to be reminded constantly.

THE WOMEN, GOD BLESS 'EM: A successful man is one who can earn more money than his wife can spend. A successful woman is one who marries such a man.

ELMORE R. TORN, the black-eyed pea man from Taylor, Tex., has served fair warning he is taking on a new hobby—trying to get the penny postcard back.

This is the man who persuaded Yankee to take to the Southern tradition of eating black-eyed peas on New Year's Day to insure a year's good luck. Maybe you—and Uncle Sam—had better listen to him.

It wouldn't be like the old postcard. Its use would be restricted to handwritten messages, of the kind that usually begin: "Dear Aunt Martha: I arrived on time and Mom says to please send the gloves I left."

No washing machine plugs, in fact no machine-printed advertising message of any kind. No forwarding. No "directory service"; the Post Office wouldn't look up

Aunt Martha's address and get your card to her if you left the address off the card.

"I would call it a 'correspondence card,' not a postal card," says Torn. "The plain people are entitled to an inexpensive way of dropping a line to some member of their family."

Torn thinks the penny postal was abandoned principally because it was abused by merchandising houses which used it in mass-mail advertising.

Torn, a respected agricultural economist, says it's not a spur-of-the-moment idea.

"Two or three years ago I wrote a letter to Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield," he said. "But, I didn't mail it. I stuck it in my roll top desk here in Taylor. I wasn't sure I wanted to take on something else."

"But as you get older—I'm 49—you sort of take stock of things you've wanted to do. The other day I got that letter out, read it over, put a date on it, and mailed it."

The letter tells Summerfield: "We all know the importance of the old 1-cent postal card to millions, who dropped a written line or two to friends and relatives concerning their health and happiness. It has been sorely missed."

Torn suggested a "distinctive color" for the post card, "such as a light, pale green." He suggested it wouldn't get directory service.

Torn asked Summerfield's serious consideration of the suggestion and signed off with this fair warning:

"I am today and forthwith taking on as a hobby and project the restoration of the penny postal."

Torn is president of the National Black-Eyed Pea Assn., and in recent months has enrolled members from almost every state, even though each applicant must pledge himself to extol black-eyed peas as a subject for frequent conversation.

'Extra' Tells About Tech's Admission Into Southwest Loop

Less than 15 minutes after Texas Tech was voted into the Southwest Conference Saturday morning, an "extra" edition of the college newspaper, the "Toreador," had "covered" the campus.

The four-page edition bore the banner headline, "Finally! Tech Makes SWC," over a story written by Floyd Wood, Toreador sports editor.

Ross "Bud" Short of Post, who is business manager of the Toreador, brought a copy of the extra edition by The Post Dispatch office Saturday afternoon. Like all other Tech students, he was jubilant over the college's admission into the Southwest Conference.

Bud, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Short, will be editor of the Toreador next year. This summer, he will serve a newspaper internship on the Wichita Falls Record News.

Farmers Urged To Watch For Hoppers

COLLEGE STATION (Spl.) — Farmers should be alert to the possibility of severe grasshopper infestations this spring and summer and be ready if necessary, to take the proper control measures in time to stop heavy crop damage, says Freeman M. Fuller Jr., extension entomologist, Texas A&M College.

USDA reports indicate that farmers will need to be on the lookout for hoppers in Panhandle and southward along the caprock and from the Red River into deep central Texas.

Applications of insecticides should begin as soon as possible after hatching, and if the insects are numerous, several applications may be necessary. In applying insecticides, farmers should look for hatching grounds on roadsides, field margins, ditch banks and unused land bordering croplands. Treatment of these areas will prevent hoppers from moving into the fields where such operations as plowing and disking may already have cut down the numbers of hatchable eggs.

In the use of any insecticide the instructions of the manufacturer should be carefully followed to avoid harmful residues on crops. County agents are a good source of information about specific measures to be used in any particular region or situation.

A number of insecticides now available are effective in grasshopper control. Aldrin, dieldrin, heptachlor, and toxaphene are among those listed.

of course, it's Electric!

Flameless, fumeless, matchless — for safety, electric water heating has no equal. Whether you're planning a vacation — or an evening out — you can plan to be free of worry while you're away when your water heater is electric.

There's no equal to the modern electric water heater's speed, either. You can stay in hot water all day — even if you wash a load of clothes every hour. Want worry-free water heating that's fast, too? Then you want electric water heating.

INSTALL YOUR ELECTRIC WATER HEATER ANYWHERE

The electric water heater — table-top or round — fits where you want it because it needs no flues, no vents, no special "out-of-the-way" position. Just set it and forget it.

National School Program Expands

Both the School Lunch and School Milk Programs have continued to expand during the current school year. The number of children eating complete lunches under the National School Lunch Program is up 10 per cent over last year, and the number of schools approved for the Special School Milk Program is up 48 per cent.

Texas now has 2,061 schools approved for the program. The National School Lunch Program provides children with well-balanced lunches furnishing one-third of their daily nutritional requirements. There were 9,400,000 children eating lunches with milk under this program the first of the year. This is a gain of 10 per cent over the 8,500,000 children during the same time last year. This year, however, this feature has been consolidated under the revised Special School Milk Program.

The Special School Milk program, now in its second year of operation, is designed to increase the consumption of milk by all school children, both in schools having feeding facilities and in other schools where space limitations or other factors prevent the establishment of food preparation and service facilities.

The United States Department of Agriculture estimates that 16 million school children are drinking milk under the program, and consuming milk at a rate of 17.8 million half pints a day.

TEXAS OIL PIONEERS

Allen W. Hamill Helped Open New And Dramatic Era In Oil History

(Editor's Note: The following sketch, one of a series, was compiled from records of "Oral History of Texas Oil Pioneers," University of Texas.)

By WILLIAMS A. OWENS

The greatest honor of Texas oil fields—drilling the Lucas Gusher—belongs to Allen W. Hamill, who at the age of 24 helped open a new and dramatic era in oil history.

He had started work in the oil fields as a tool dresser for his brother Jim at Corsicana in 1897. He was then a gangling youth with no experience but with a willingness to work and learn. By 1900, when the Hamill Brothers were given a contract to drill a 1,200-foot test well at Spindletop, he had worked up to driller and partnership in the company.

Jim sent Al to Beaumont to make preparations for the crew. It was a discouraging experience. Several tests had been made, all of them failures. Near his location Al could see an old pipe sticking out of the ground, another man's dream rusted to nothingness. But his word had been given; the well had to be drilled. He sent for his brother Curt and Peck Byrd.

No well was ever started under more unfavorable circumstances. There being no derrick builders in Beaumont, Al, Curt, and Peck laid timbers out on the prairie for a pattern and cut them to fit, like a woman cutting out an apron. They had to fire the boiler with pine slabs hauled from a lumber mill in Beaumont.

Signs for oil were good, Captain Lucas was enthusiastic. Their contract at two dollars a foot was fair enough; Guffey and Galey would furnish pipe; they would furnish derrick, equipment, and fuel.

They landed in Beaumont in early October. They spudded in Oct. 27, and immediately hit trouble.

At 600 feet they had a gas blow-out that did some damage to the rotary. To prevent a repeat, they decided to keep the pumps going at all times. That meant 18-hour towers for all hands.

Sure they had gas and oil, but with the well plugged with 300 feet of sand, they closed down for the Christmas holidays.

Jan. 1, 1901—first day of a new century—they were back drilling. At about a thousand feet they hit something like a crevice. Their old worn bits turned and turned but would not cut through.

They got a new bit from Corsicana and on the morning of Jan. 10 started lowering it in the hole. At about 700 feet down, without warning, mud began boiling up through the rotary. It boiled a few minutes and then quieted down, leaving them six inches of mud to clear off the derrick floor.

Suddenly a chunk of mud came through the six-inch hole with the roar of a cannon. Then black oil, rocks, shale blew higher and higher until there was a spout 30 feet above the derrick, for Beaumont and the world to see.

The well gushed 10 days while they tried to figure a way to control it. Then, with a contraction of iron and timbers, Al and his crew braved the rain of oil and capped the gusher.

Steady Progress Is Reported By PCG

Steady progress is reported by the officials of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., organized in January to represent the interests of West Texas cotton producers. Many Garza County farmers are members of the organization.

"We are now searching for the right person to serve as a full-time executive officer for the organization," said W. O. Fortenberry, PCG president. "This he explained, "will supervise action on the plans and programs made by the Plains Cotton Growers through their board of directors."

"Very satisfactory progress has been made in our drive to collect funds to protect our local cotton industry," Fortenberry continued. "But additional dues-paying members are necessary for the success of this association."

Texas Citrus Area Given Clean Bill Of Health Following Intense Survey

By JOHN C. WHITE
Commissioner of Agriculture

After an intense survey of Rio Grande Valley and Winter Garden area citrus, Texas has been given a clean bill of health from the dread burrowing nematode, microscopic parasite which gradually destroys its victim.

The burrowing nematode is now clearly associated with "spreading decline," a gradual but fatal illness which has plagued the Florida citrus industry for 25 years.

Severe damage caused by the 1951 Valley freeze is still apparent throughout most of the citrus area, and would mask spreading decline symptoms, as they are known in Florida. Thus, as a practical matter, Texas and U. S. Departments of Agriculture plant experts conducted a spot survey all over the Texas citrus belt, with particular attention to stock originally imported from Florida. In final laboratory analyses, results were negative.

Sampling procedures were the same as those developed in Florida surveys. Samples were collected from near the drip line of the tree at a depth as far as roots would normally be found. Roots from one tree or one location constituted a sample.

Texas citrus is generally grown in a heavy-type soil in which roots do not penetrate to near the depth common to most Florida fruit. Consequently, samples were collected from an average depth of two feet or less by use of a special-built mechanical auger.

No means of combatting the burrowing nematode is known other than complete destruction of infested plants. It is discernible only under careful examination under laboratory conditions and could become widespread before any decline is noted, particularly if plants are suffering from any other natural setback.

Similar tests will be conducted in other citrus growing states to determine if infestation has spread either from Florida or other possible sources. The burrowing nematode is believed present in Fiji, Jamaica, the Hawaiian Islands, Philippine Islands, Formosa, Southern India, Dutch East Indies, Java, Brazil, Puerto Rico and Central America.

I LEARN FROM WATCHING MAMA

The school of experience has a wide reputation, and many are those who are proud to be its alumni.

But there is another school, an elementary school. And though it's less heralded, it turns out eager scholars year after year.

It hasn't really any name, and certainly no ivy-covered halls. Classes are held in the students' own homes. And the tuition is a wealth of love contributed by pupil and teacher alike.

But this is the best preparatory school in the world. For whatever it teaches has a place in the life of its graduates forever.

And the most encouraging sign on the spiritual horizons of America is the greater emphasis now being placed on the Bible, prayer, and religious education in the school of "watching mama!"

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For the sake of his community and nation. (2) For the sake of his children's sake. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Pioneer Roundup Set For Saturday At Plainview

PLAINVIEW (Special) — Saturday is Pioneer Roundup day in Plainview. It will be the 28th consecutive celebration honoring the old-timers.

"This Is Your Life" will be the theme of the night's program when a pioneer, whose identity will be kept secret until the last minute, will be honored.

The programs will follow the pattern of the past with the reception, parade, chuck wagon supper, program and square dance coming in that order.

The Plainview Business & Professional Women's Club, sponsor of the Roundup, is expecting between 1,200 and 1,500 at the program and dance in the City Auditorium.

The reception to start at 10 a. m. is arranged to give old-timers the opportunity to chat and "shoot the breeze" at leisure. It is a part of the celebration that brings former neighbors and friends of half a century together again after years of separation.

The parade is scheduled at 2:30 p. m. It will get under way at the north end of Broadway and travel from there along down town streets.

There will be appropriate music and square dancing as soon as the program is out of the way. The swing your partner part of the program will last until midnight.

POSTEX MILLS

EXHIBIT'S BEEN AROUND—The miniature cotton mill that is being displayed in Dunlap's window this week, in observance of National Cotton Week, has really "been around" according to Vachel Anderson, longtime employee of Postex Mills, Inc. He said that the late Herbert Jones had the exhibit made in the early 20's and that it has been shown all over Texas, in Oklahoma, Louisiana and Arkansas.

The cloth situation looks better for our sewing room now than it has in a long time. We believe that we will have a sufficient quantity of cloth to sew on a full week basis all the time now. They are coming along pretty good on the new weaving building and when the new additions start up on a production basis, we will definitely have plenty of cloth, and some of us may even start yelling that we are working too many hours.

The managers of the four Little League teams will choose their respective teams on Wednesday of this week. The managers were chosen by each of the four sponsors as follows: First National Bank, W. B. Holland, Brown Brothers, Punk Peel, Postex Mills, J. P. Farnell, and the Civics Club (composed of the Rotary, Lions, and Jaycees) have selected Mr. Rains, and Mr. Lusby. The managers will be the only ones allowed at the meeting Wednesday night at 8:00 o'clock to select the teams.

We are very happy to have Nora Kiker, Mattie Haygood and La Dean Finchum back in our Postex sewing room. All three of the above people have previously worked in the sewing room.

Taylor Hurls Wood Bees To 7-5 Win Over Snyder Crew

Alton Taylor won his first game of the season at Snyder Sunday afternoon by hurling the Post Wood Bees to a 7-5 victory over a Snyder team.

Taylor was generous with his hits, giving up nine, but kept them well spaced to keep the Snyder crew trailing through the sixth inning. He got into serious trouble in the fourth when he had runners on both first and second base with only one out. He was moved to second base and replaced at the mound by R. A. Thompson who went two frames before Taylor came back to pitch the remainder of the game. Thompson pulled out of the hole by striking out the first man he faced and the next batter grounded to Billy Guinn Jones at short stop who threw him out at first.

When Taylor came back to the mound he faced the same situation he left in the fourth, with two on and one down, but succeeded in retiring the round without a run being scored.

Pritchard went the full nine at the mound for the Snyder crew and gave up 13 hits to the hard hitting Post team.

The locals scored two runs in the first inning, two in the third, one in the seventh and two in the ninth. Snyder scored a single run in the third and fourth and three more scored the plate in the seventh to even the play up to that time.

Buddy Hays and Taylor shared hitting honors by getting three each on five trips to the plate.

"Pilot" Study Being Made By School Students To Reduce Home Accidents

AUSTIN, May 17—A unique study in home accident prevention got underway in Round Rock this month, under sponsorship of the Texas State Department of Health.

Every home in the Williamson County community 20 miles north of Austin is being visited by a junior class student from the local high school. Students are filling out questionnaires from information provided by householders on accidents occurring in the homes during the preceding week.

Then, approximately eight months from the time the first questionnaire is completed, students will again visit each household with an identical questionnaire.

In the interim between questionnaires, an intensive educational program on home accidents via radio, television, newspapers, and group meetings will be conducted by the Round Rock Safety Council, the intention being to see how much home accidents can be reduced in eight months.

The campaign, the first ever conducted in Texas, is being sponsored by the State Department of Health as a "pilot" study. If successful in reducing home accidents, similar studies will be started in other communities.

Tentative programs have already been formulated in San Marcos and in Guadalupe County.

In announcing the Round Rock program, State Health Commissioner Henry A. Holle pointed out that home accidents annually kill more Americans than were killed during the entire three years of the Korean War.

Each one of the 463 homes comprising the Round Rock community will be provided with a "hazard sheet" and a check list describing potentially dangerous conditions in homes. Each home owner is requested to be on the lookout for similar conditions in his home. If hazards are found, he is asked to make corrections and to describe the corrections on the "hazard sheets," which will be tabulated and evaluated by a volunteer citizens' committee legally chartered as the Round Rock Safety Council.

Fred Coffey of the Round Rock Chamber of Commerce is chairman of the Council. Other members and the organizations they represent are:

Mrs. Marie Sowell and Mrs. Clarence Quick, American Legion Auxiliary; Cody Adolphson, Travis Mercer and Charles Brothman, fire department; E. A. Cottrell and W. N. Todd, Kiwanis Club; Mrs. Claude Berkman, Mrs. Oscar Bengston, and Mrs. W. A. Walsh, Palm Valley Lutheran Church; Charles Sarter and O. M. Crain, Baptist Church; Mrs. James Pennington and Mrs. John Bradley, Methodist Church.

E. C. Nelson, a State Department of Health sanitarian, is acting as technical advisor to the Council.

Draft Boards To Hold Open House

AUSTIN, Tex., May 16—Local draft boards in Texas will hold open house to the public Friday, May 18th, as a part of the observance of Armed Forces Day throughout the state and nation.

The President of the United States has designated Saturday, May 19th as Armed Forces Day, to call the public's attention to our defensive "power for peace."

Draft boards are not open on Saturday, so they will hold open house on Friday as a part of the observance, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said.

The boards will welcome the public from 9 a. m. to 12 noon on May 18th to learn something about how a Selective Service local draft board is operated.

"We will welcome men and women, boys and girls at the local boards," Colonel Schwartz said, "to tell them about the democratic processes of the law and administration, the different classifications, Selective Service procedures, and the purpose behind Selective Service."

Our modern life is busy and complex, he continued, and many people do not understand our operation. We will be glad to inform the interested public how our state is ready to provide men for any or all of the uniformed services when needed. Our trained clerks will be happy to have a visit from any Texan who cares enough to come."

Two boards will not be open on May 18th, at Pleasanton and Alpine. Visitors to those boards will be welcomed on the 17th.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Lott Sunday were their son, Jack of Texas Tech, and a school friend, Mrs. Lott's mother, Mrs. A. R. Tizard is visiting here for several weeks.

Tahoka Golfers Are Playing New Course

TAHOKA — Golfers teed-off for the first time on the nine-hole grass greens course of the new T-Bar Country Club here Sunday.

Seven holes are now playable, and grass on the fairways is now doing well since recent showers.

J. W. Edwards, New Home well drilling contractor, last weekend drilled the club a new irrigation well, which tested out a three-inch well. The club now has five little wells, and this last one should provide plenty of water now to keep the course in good shape, officials report. The drilling job was donated to the club.

They spent the night there at the Bugs Bunny Motel. When the Postites arrived in Denver, they were met by a band which entertained them with Texas songs.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Doc Nurses a Daydream

It's a treat when I get together with Doc Sherman. The Clarion keeps me much too busy—and Doc, well I think he puts in sixteen hours a day at the hospital.

But Tuesday—a beautiful day—he and I slipped away for a ride around Turtle Lake. Doc's driving a 1956 humdinger—it's like riding on a cloud.

Anyway, at one point Doc slowed almost to a halt. "Used to fish there as a boy, Joe," he said. "Used to sit and imagine myself up on the highway driving a high-powered car. Nowadays, I just sit here and wish I were down there again."

From where I sit, few of us are ever content with the way things are at any given moment. It's human nature. On the other hand, I've been rooting for years that someday everybody will show enough good American tolerance to respect his neighbor's right to enjoy a friendly glass of beer. When that day comes I assure you that I'll never want to change back.

COLLEGE ADVISORY BOARD

Lubbock Christian College Will Begin Classes In The Fall Of '57

The announcement was made Monday evening at the Lubbock Bible Forum that the new junior college to be established by members of the Churches of Christ would be located in Lubbock. The announcement was made by M. Norvel Young, minister of the Broadway Church of Christ, at the conclusion of the Monday evening session of the Lubbock Bible Forum in the new city Auditorium. He read this statement from the board of trustees of the Lubbock Christian College:

"After careful consideration of the locations available and considering the advantages of being in a city of the size and character of Lubbock the board has decided to establish the new junior college in this city. The board deeply appreciates the hearty cooperation which the chamber of commerce has pledged and the many other promises of support from the citizens of Lubbock. We are grateful for the fine spirit of cooperation evidenced by the administration and faculty of Texas Tech, and one reason we have chosen Lubbock is because of the advantages of having a university near this new school. We want to express our sincere appreciation also to the other towns which offered to give locations and backing for this college. We believe that Lubbock is in the center of a wonderful area and that the college will serve well the other communities which expressed an interest in having it located in their midst."

The statement from the board also included this information concerning the character of the school to be established: "This college will be a standard two-year college offering liberal arts training with additional courses in Bible and religious education to every student. It is our purpose to so conduct the academic training in the college that it will be fully accredited from the beginning. There is a tidal wave of college students coming on. We are informed that there will be forty per cent more students in American colleges by 1966. We believe that there is a definite place for the junior college to help take care of the tremendous number of freshmen and sophomores which are crowding the campuses of our four year schools. This junior college will complement the work being done by such four year colleges as Abilene Christian College and Texas Tech. It will be a private college operating under an independent board of trustees similar to the operation of Abilene Christian College. It will stress solid academic training plus daily Bible classes and chapel, and the emphasis will be upon spiritual development as well as intellectual social and physical training. The school will be open to students of all faiths without discrimination, and the Bible instruction will be undenominational in nature. The school will begin class-work in the Fall of 1957."

Following this statement from the Board Dr. Young introduced Paul Sherrod, Chairman of the board, who announced the selection of the president of the Lubbock Christian College. He informed the three thousand persons assembled that Dr. F. W. Mattox, dean of students and assistant to the president of Harding College, Searcy, Arkansas, had been chosen as the first president of the school and had accepted the appointment. Mr. Sherrod stated that the board had been looking for a president for some months and that President Mattox was their first choice among a number of possible selections. "President Mattox is an outstanding educator," Mr. Sherrod said. "He is extremely well qualified for the task of beginning this school since he has had valuable experience in his present position since 1942. Dr. Mattox is a native of Texas, the grandson of the widely-known pioneer Texas preacher, F. L. Young of Dallas. He was born in Grand Falls, Tex. in 1909 and was reared in Oklahoma City. He is married and has two children, one the wife of a minister in Oklahoma City, the other a medical student at the University of Arkansas. The new president is due to move to Lubbock around July 1, 1956.

The board of trustees has appointed an advisory board to assist in major decisions of the college. The members of this board are outstanding citizens from West Texas and Eastern New Mexico. They met with the board of the new college last week and helped to make the decisions concerning location and the choice of a president. Other members of the board of trustees and of the advisory board will be selected later. The present members of the board are: Paul Sherrod, Chairman, Dr. J. B. McCorkle, J. C. Rigney, Dr. Bill Rogers, Don Baldrige, O. T. Shipp, Jr. The present members of the advisory board are: Billie Sol Estes, Pecos; Lee Downey, Carlsbad, N. Mex.; J. 1. Establish And Administer A Juvenile Policy Of Fairness & Firmness.

A juvenile policy that will reward the large majority of our youth who are good wholesome citizens and discourage and punish the small minority who seem determined to destroy our institutions.

I believe the primary responsibility for the public behavior of children rests with the parents; I further believe that it is the duty of peace officers to inform parents at any time a child is found involved in any act that is contrary to the child's moral, physical, and mental well-being.

If elected sheriff of Garza County, it will be my policy to see that all first offender children are delivered to their parents and the parent given the opportunity to correct the matter.

Then if the parent does not act, it is to the best interest of the child and the community for the Sheriff's Office to bring the problem to the attention of the local juvenile court.

Cotton Crop May Be Smallest Since 1881

A release by the Agricultural Department Monday predicted this year's domestic cotton harvest "may be the smallest in 75 years." Worldwide production is expected to reach 39,300,000 bales, the department said, slightly above the 1954-55 record of 39,100,000 bales. In 1955, the report said, the U. S. cotton crop was 14,700,000 bales. For 1956 acreage will be restricted to 17,400,000 acres, or 700,000

Weekend guests in the Eulas Brown home were Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Parchman and girls of Odesa. Mr. and Mrs. Don Butler spent the weekend in Graham. Mrs. Butler also visited her mother in Dallas. acres below the 1955 total for all types. "With normal underplanting and 'bandoning,' the report said, 'the acreage harvested in 1956 may be the smallest in 75 years.' Over the past five years U. S. acreage has been steadily reduced from 26,900,000 acres to the 17,400,000 total.

WEST TEXAS Editorial Comment . . .

That's Different
Some men who will drink anything that is put in front of them are very particular about the kind of oil that goes in their car. — "Post Script" in Eldorado Success.

Wind Takes Credit
Considering the velocity of West Texas wind it is not surprising that slacks and Levis have attained rapid popularity with a rating slightly less than formal. The garments make it possible for the wearer to be relieved of a former suspense which was a constant burden to secrecy. — "Trail Dust" in Matador Tribune.

What's The Use?
Estimates are that if the recommendations of the second Hoover Commission—completed almost a year ago—are adopted, the cost of government would be cut $5,500,000,000 a year. But even if this should come to pass, we think it highly unlikely that the saving will be passed on to taxpayers. With that much saved in cost of administration, the government can then establish a new bureau or two which will eventually absorb even more—or perhaps build some nice dams in the Swiss Alps or some other likely place. It is rather painful to admit, but since there seems to be a very slim chance of government ever returning to the principles of economy, perhaps it's better to let the money keep going down the same old ratholes in the hope that it will exhaust our patience before it exhausts our resources. — "Main Street" in The Lorenzo Tribune.

Not New To Him!
To most adults, television is still considered as something new, any many persons find the contraction so compelling that they just can't seem to take their eyes off of it, no matter how lousy the programs or commercials get. But a 7-year-old boy, in an outburst against the confinement necessitated by his parents' constant watching of the new-fangled home movie box, exclaimed: "Television, smellevision! Why don't they come up with something new? I've been watching television all my life." — "Kermit Hermit" in The Winkler County News.

The Gypsy In Him
In a little mining town out West, there was an old man who had lived in the same white frame house for 40 years. One day he surprised all his neighbors by moving into the house next door. Reporters were sent to see why he had moved. When they asked him, he replied, "I guess it's just the gypsy in me." — Monahan News.

All Mixed Up
A Hamiltonite whose name had better not be given here was heard to remark last week that the biggest trouble with drouths is that they always come during such dry weather. Then Monday, when all of Hamilton County was being soaked by drenching downpours, he was heard to mutter, "That's what I mean; when you need a drouth you never have one." — "Twilight Zone" in The Hamilton Herald-News.

No Answer Suggested
We have suspected for some time that the world population was increasing rapidly, basing our opinion mainly on the first grade enrollment in Crosbyton schools each year. But we had no idea just how serious the situation was until we received a card from a William R. Sullivan of Los Angeles. Says Mr. Sullivan: "A deduction: Unless something is done soon to stop the Chinese birth rate, in a few years we are going to be engaged in a war trying to stop them from over-running all of Europe." There's the problem, but no answer is suggested. We don't have one, either! — "Trends" in The Crosbyton Review.

Fair And Square
We like the recent headline in the New Orleans Times-Picayune:

Positives Attend Bible Forum In Lubbock This Week

Approximately 25 members of the Post Church of Christ attended the Lubbock Bible Forum Monday, at which time Dr. M. Norvel Young, minister of the Broadway Church of Christ, announced that Lubbock will soon be the home of a new two-year junior college, to be established by the Churches of Christ.

About 3,000 attended the meeting in the city auditorium. Several members of the local church plan to attend the forum each night this week.

The new school, to be called Lubbock Christian College, will begin classwork in the fall of 1957. Dr. F. W. Mattox, dean of students and assistant to the president at Hardin College in Searcy, Ark., has been named president of Lubbock Christian College. He was trained in college administration at George Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn., where he obtained his doctor of philosophy degree in 1947.

Batsell Barrett Baxter, outstanding speaker and Bible professor of Nashville, Tenn., is guest speaker for the Bible Forum. Sessions are held at 7:30 p. m. daily and will continue through Sunday.

Experts in their fields will talk on the major problems facing the cotton producer, from planting through marketing, said Jackson. Registration will continue through Thursday at the Caprock and Lubbock Hotels, and rooms may be reserved also at other hotels and motels. Reservations may be made by writing direct to W. J. McLain was appointed to his position by President Eisenhower on Jan. 27, 1956, after having achieved many years of experience in agricultural administration. A native of Iowa where he operated a livestock farm, McLain came to the USDA in August, 1953, as director of the Grain Division, CSS, and prior to that, was chairman of the Iowa State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee (then PMA). Before that he was chairman of his County ASC Committee for 10 years. He also served as a member of the 14-man National Agricultural Advisory Committee which was appointed by President Eisenhower to advise with the Secretary of Agriculture on agricultural policy and operational matters.

"FORE!" and $4000 DAMAGES

If you hit a member of your foursome instead of driving through to the green, it doesn't matter whether you yelled "Fore!" or not. If you've sued, the judge may yell "$4,000!"—and it will be one expensive golf game!

But why run that risk when for only $10 a year you can buy a $10,000 Comprehensive Personal Liability policy which covers you and your whole family against damage suits arising out of home ownership or rental, personal activities, sports activities or the carelessness of your children.

Let us tell you about the biggest $10 worth of protection in the world!

Mr. Truck Buyer! Why turn your back on the facts?

Your best buy is DODGE...and we can prove it!

Buying a new truck is pretty serious business—not exactly a dime-store affair. So why risk not getting the best buy?

Doesn't it make sense to take a few minutes and check to see for yourself just how much more Dodge actually gives you per dollar?

You'll find Dodge leads other makes in the really important ways. For example, when you buy a Dodge, you get:

1. Maximum hauling power. Dodge sets the pace for the entire industry in many models!
2. Top payload capacities—up to 22% more!

3. Lowest operating costs. Exclusive V-8 Power-Dome combustion milks extra miles from every gallon, practically eliminates power-robbing carbon.

4. Sharpest turning—makes parking easier, cuts time loss in maneuvering through traffic.

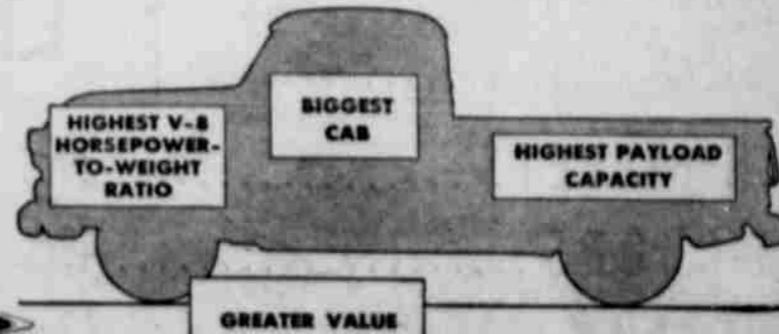

5. Biggest cab—for real comfort on even the longest hauls.

6. Low cost—lower than any other make for many models.

Do right by yourself—take a few minutes to look into DODGE before you buy your new truck. After all, why pay more and get less?
