McLane's Treaty with Mexico

By the last steamer this port, we received intelligence of the important treaty which McLane has succeeded in negotiating with this government. Mr. McLane is very close mouthed upon subject; I have, notwithstanding, been able to get from various sources, some of the principle points of the treaty. The United States are to pay 4 million dollars. For this sum, Mexico agrees to allow the U. S. to transit on various routes, Tehuantepec, Rio Grande to El Paso, and Guaymas to Arizona, and Guaymas to Arizona, and the former alone. Mr. Webster authorized our representative to offer 15 millions. The deal soon is brought to an end. It reaches, from its inexhaustible riches, will rise like a phoenix upon its ashes and the return to a high state of prosperity. Nothing is wanting but that the hand of revolution be stayed for a few years; the enterprising American business men who, during that period, have established themselves here, will control everything thereafter.

ALL AT SEA AGAIN

Washington, Jan. 10, 1960
The result of the balloting on Monday has greatly disappointed all parties in Congress, and they are all at sea again as to any prospect of an organization. Any prognostications as to the final result are considered futile.

New Orleans Crescent

The New Orleans Crescent has come to the conclusion that England is now more ambitious to extend her commerce and prefers that the U. S. should take possession of Mexico. For the statesmen of that country know that the commerce of Mexico would become of immense value if that country were under the control of our government. If the U. S. does not inter-

Former Post man executive VP of Brownfield bank

L. J. Richardson Jr., formerly of Post, has been elected executive vice president of the First National Bank, Brownfield.

Richardson succeeds John J. Kendrick, who was elected as the bank's new president. Richardson, 38, has been associated with the Brownfield bank since 1953, going there from Post. He is the son of Lacy Richardson.

He began his banking career here when he was 19, following his graduation from Post High School. He went to Brownfield as cashier of the bank there, and in April, 1954, was elected vice president and cashier.

Richardson, his wife, Nora, and their two children live at 1014 East Oak in Brownfield. Mrs. Richardson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Blacklock.

ere speedily in Mexican affairs, either France or England must. England has her hands otherwise full. With France it may be different. Napoleon has the means to accomplish it, but England would a thousand times rather we would get her than France. We think a few years more will thrust Mexico into our embraces, whether we desire it or not. Destiny wills that we shall assume the responsibility and our own reluctance cannot defeat the decree of fate.

AMERICAN MEDITATION (cq) IN CHINA

By overland mail to England comes the report that the Chinese government had resolved to apply to the American government for his meditation (cq) in the settlement of the difficulty now existing between that government and France and Great Britain. It is otherwise positively stated that the application has readily been made through our Minister in China.

$41,180 suit is filed in mishap

Two Southland residents, Karen Pennell Callaway and husband, Kenneth M. Callaway, have filed a damage suit seeking judgment of $41,180.35 in 99th District Court in Lubbock.

The suit was brought against Joe Martin, Slaton, and the City of Slaton. The suit alleges Mrs. Callaway suffered disabling injuries Jan. 24, 1959, when an automobile in which she was a passenger was in collision with one driven by Martin.

The plaintiffs claim Martin was an employee of the City of Slaton at the time of the accident and that the car he was driving belonged to the city.

FORD'S ECONOMY TWINS

RUN ON PEANUTS, TOO!

How'd you like your savings? New size or big economy size? We Ford Dealers can save you plenty on both sizes with our 1960 Economy Twins.

Want more size savings? The Falcon's first saving is its low price, up to $124 less than other 6-passenger compact cars.* but that's not all. You get up to 30 miles per gallon on regular gas. Save up to 15% on insurance, save on tires, parts—everything.

Yes, all this—in a car that carries six big people and all their luggage.

For savings in the big economy size try our FAIRLANE 500. It's far more Ford, costs up to $142 less than last year.*

At no extra cost, you get many luxury-car features like rear seat arm rests, five sun visors, extra ash tray, and color-keyed steering wheel. There's real built-for-people comfort inside. Up to four inches more shoulder room. There's plenty more leg room, hat room, too... for all six passengers.

Right now, we Ford Dealers are holding visiting hours for our Economy Twins.

Come in and see how much you can save. Big size or new size, value-test our Economy Twins soon.

*Based on a comparison of manufacturers' suggested retail delivered price.

"I'm Thirsty"

Such a familiar cry to any parent, and who could resist such an appeal. Many times the cry of "I'm thirsty" is a genuine one, but there are times when it is a scheme to linger a little longer, the result of a strong desire to remain awake and play with the dolls and toys that loving parents have provided.

While meeting the physical, play, and comfort needs, don't forget the need for "Living Waters." Take the family to church, where all may hear of, and be drawn closer to our loving Father.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Associate Justice of Texas Supreme Court will seek re-election

AUSTIN — Associate Justice Joe Greenhill of Texas Supreme Court has announced for re-election to the court, on which he has served since 1947.

He said he will make his official filing with the Democratic State Executive Committee during the week, for a place on the May 7 primary ballot.

Judge Greenhill, 45, a Navy veteran of World War II, was appointed an associate justice of Supreme Court to succeed the late Judge Few Brewster. In 1958, he received nomination in the first primary and was elected for the remaining two-year portion of the term. He is now seeking a full six-year term.

High winds cause Grassland damage

The high winds which whistled in a new weather front Wednesday night of last week did some damage in the Grassland community.

A porch was torn off a house owned by C. E. Short. The house was empty at the time but was being readied for occupancy this week.

Several other structures in the area were reported to have suffered wind damage as well.

LEADS DIMES DRIVE

Sen. Ralph Yarborough of Texas leads off the 1960 New March of Dimes with his contribution to Pat Lombardo, six-year-old polio victim, in Washington, D. C. New March of Dimes funds are being used to combat three cripplers: birth defects, arthritis and polio.

I Give You Texas . . .

By BOYCE HOUSE

Knoxville is of course the location of the University of Tennessee and it has many beautiful homes, with spacious grounds and stately trees. This testimony is placed in the record lest last week's description of the picturesquely down-at-the-heels public market might give a disproportionate idea of Knoxville to the reader. After all, I might have occasion to re-visit the city.

Knoxville is also the home of the 12-cent hamburger. Furthermore, it is made entirely of beef — something that can not be said, truthfully, of all the hamburgers served in Texas, the home of the steer, where the meat is often mixed with stale bread crumbs, soy beans, cotton seed hulls and similar ingredients. But I digress.

In a Knoxville hamburger emporium, the cashier-waitress-chef has time to keep up a running-fire of comment. The "regulars" she greets with, "Good morning, cousin" and knows what each one wants without being told. A customer who said he wanted a glass of orange juice was asked, "Do you want the big or large?" When another customer exclaimed, "You women!" she replied, "Yes — but you like us, don't you?"

From the highway as one leaves Knoxville westward bound, almost everywhere one looks would be a picture for an artist: country estates with grounds, acres in extent, of well-mowed grass; then, for contrast, a tract covered with a tangle of native growth; a small house with a large tree forming a complete background; a mansion with Shetlands in a pasture, edged by a brook which is arched by trees; a hillside of stubble with six white turkeys in a group; a ridge, tree-lined, with a little notch in which a wisp of vapor rests, like a fluff of cotton stuffed into place; a view of a valley half veiled in mist for it is a dark day and we are—like the armies at Lookout Mountain—above the clouds. Even old sheds and barns and neglected cabins have pictorial qualities.

If an artist painted these scenes faithfully, critics would say he had exaggerated and overcolored.

Post soldier in training tests

DARMSTADT, Germany — Army Specialist Four Archie L. Redman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude A. Redman, Route 3, Post, Tex., recently participated with the 8th Infantry Division's 28th Artillery in Army training tests in Germany.

The tests were designed to determine the unit's efficiency under realistic combat conditions.

Assigned to the artillery's Battery D in Darmstadt, Specialist Redman entered the Army in May 1957 and arrived overseas in March 1958.

The 20-year-old soldier attended Post High School.

Stillborn infant is buried here

Graveside rites were held at 10 a. m. Friday at Terrace Cemetery for the stillborn infant of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wilkinson of Post.

The Rev. J. R. Brincefield, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, officiated at the rites.

Burial was under direction of Mason Funeral Home.

Chevy's new torsion springs and Sturdi-Bilt design are changing everybody's ideas about how much work a truck can do. Last year's schedules are out—Chevrolet trucks ride faster over the rough runs to get in more trips a day! Big repair bills are no longer a problem—Chevrolet trucks soak up punishment that means downtime to other makes! And trade-in time's put off for extra thousands of miles—'60 Chevrolet trucks stay new like never before!

New Dollar-Saving Prices

Step-Vans, 4-Wheel Drives, many light-duty models with automatic transmissions—all are lower priced. Prices have also been reduced on all optional V8's.

New Torsion-Spring Suspension

Eliminates I-beam shimmy and wheel fight! With torsion springs up front there's a brand-new, smoother, easier handling feel behind the wheel. New rear suspensions include wide-based coil springs in most light-duty models; tougher variable-rate leaf springs in medium- and heavy-duty models.

Electronically Balanced Wheels

Front wheels and tires are balanced at the factory. Helps make that new ride revolutionary!

New Cabs—Wider, Safer, More Comfortable

Many models are a whole 7 inches lower (without sacrificing road clearance), so it's easier to hop in and out of cabs. Still there's more space inside: more room for hats and hips, more foot room with suspended pedals. Cabs are safer, too; new build makes them 67% more rigid.

Plus Improvements All Through the Line

A new steering linkage system that cuts vibration, means better control. There's new V8 efficiency. Sixes long famous for saving. New key-turn starting. Higher, wider visibility. Talk to your Chevrolet dealer about the world's most advanced trucks.

Planning ahead calls for farm record use

COLLEGE PLANNING—While the college student is planning ahead for his future, the farmer should be planning ahead for his future. The use of farm records is one of the best ways to plan for the future.

When good farm records are maintained they may reduce the chance of loss in the business. Some of the records which are most important are: 1. Farm management records. 2. Financial records. 3. Production records. 4. Labor records. 5. Inventory records. 6. Insurance records. 7. Tax records. 8. Legal records. 9. Family records. 10. Personal records.

A little fatherly advice from your Uncle Sam

Where you go in the world depends largely on how early you want to get there.

And there's never been an opportunity for you to go there as there is today.

But remember: opportunity is a patient. I'm not to be missed for it.

You've often heard people say, "I only had the money to buy a few bonds. They're not worth anything." They're not worth anything.

You be ready with ready cash. Have money every year. There are lots of good places to buy but none better than U.S. Savings Bonds. They're safe, easy to buy at any bank. Buy through Payroll Savings and automatic.

Bonds are a better buy than stocks. Every Bond bought after June 1, 1959, pays 3% interest at maturity. So start buying Bonds—and keep it up.

Senior play cast chosen Monday

With announcement of the players who will take the various parts, construction of the setting begun, and rehearsals starting soon, the production of "Night of January 16th," scheduled for Feb. 19-20 by the senior class, is now well under way, according to Jimmy Pollard, class sponsor, who is directing the play.

Strictly speaking, this is a play without a heroine, but Pat Wheatley has been chosen for the leading feminine part, that of Karen Andre, defendant in the murder trial. Nor has it a hero, the principal male role being that of the prosecuting attorney, which will be taken by Bob Cato.

Other members of the cast are as follows:

Prison Matron, Lois Hodges; Bailiff, Horace Smith; Judge Heath, Allen Johnson; District Attorney's Secretary, Linda Wilks;

Defense Attorney Stevens, Don Richardson; His Secretary, Edna Blodgett; Clerk of the Court, Kenney Poole; Dr. Kirkland, Curtis Steel; Mrs. John Hutchins; Glenda Whittenberg; Homer Van Fleet; Glendon Washburn;

Elmer Sweeney, Curtis Didway; Nancy Lee Faulkner, Leta Stone; Magda Svenson, Sandra Martin; John Graham Whitfield, Derwood Mayberry; Jane Chandler, Peggy Butler; Sigurd Jungquist, Larry Weich; Larry Regan, Scottie Joe Pierce; Roberta Van Rensselaer, Sharon Jobe; Stenographer, Rhea Peel; Policemen, Dan Rankin and Jim Redding.

Twelve important members of the cast remain to be chosen, but they, fortunately, need no rehearsal, and will not be selected until the night of the performance. They are the jury, who will listen to the evidence and render the verdict.

Ag teacher attends meeting in Big Spring

D. H. Koeninger, Post High School vocational agriculture teacher, was in Big Spring over the weekend to attend an area meeting of vocational ag teachers. "This was one of the most outstanding in-service training meetings I have ever attended," Koeninger said.

The conference opened Friday night in the cafeteria at Howard County Junior College with an address by the Big Spring superintendent of schools, who discussed the qualities of teachers he would like to hire.

Saturday morning, Senator Metcalf spoke to the group on their role in the education of this generation in vocational agriculture.

Other speakers and their topics included: Dr. Gerald Thomas, "Education for Modern Agriculture"; E. V. Walton, Texas A&M College; "The Vocational Agriculture Curriculum"; Floyd Parsons, Big Spring principal; "Working Relationships Between Ag Teachers and the Administration"; Sam Thomas, Amarillo, "Electric Awards," and Dick Weckly, Texas Education Agency, "Trends in Vocational Agriculture."

Also at the meeting, four men were presented with the Honorary State Farmer degree by the area officers.

Members of the local chapter have been selling fire extinguishers as a part of farm safety. We wish to express appreciation to all who bought one of the extinguishers and hope that they are never necessary, but that they will do their job if required.

We are now looking forward to the spring livestock shows and judging contests. Judging contests to be entered by the chapter will include livestock judging, dairy cattle judging, dairy products, crops, poultry, cotton, land and possibly meats, wool, and grass.

10 rules about good conduct

1. Don't borrow your neighbor's pencil. (Take it).
2. Never whisper in a class. (Shouting annoys the teacher more).
3. Do not copy or help others to do so. (Just let your friends borrow it).
4. Don't hold hands in the hall. (Kissing draws more attention).
5. Never throw erasers. (Books are handier).
6. Don't run in the hall. (Sliding is more fun).
7. Never throw spit-balls at the teacher. (Save them for the principal).
8. Don't make love in the classroom. (Wait until assembly—more people will be there).
9. Don't speak too loud when asked to recite. (The kids around you would like to sleep).
10. Don't talk back.

New jackets fashion note

The newest fashion note this week around PHS is the new football jackets.

The jackets are black with leather sleeves; the letter is old gold and black trimmed in white; the collar, cuffs and waist bands are rib-knit.

They're real pretty, boys.

Sandra Stewart looked real cute at the game Friday night. She wore a white puff-sleeve blouse and checked skirt, bobby sox and loafers.

Beth Kemp wore a lovely orchid turtleneck-sweater outfit last week. It looks fabulous, Beth!

Kathryn Collier looked lush in a mint green matching sweater and skirt set Saturday night.

Denice Eubanks had on a lovely pink sweater and pink and white checked wool skirt the other day.

Junior Foster looked real nice Sunday in a baby-blue bulky knit sweater and black slacks.

Glendon Washburn wore a red bulky knit Friday and looked like a dream.

Bob Cato takes the spotlight this week with a crazy western jacket of turquoise tow sack (?). Really, it is kinda cute, Bob, if you like that sort of thing.

Rhea Peel looked as dashing as ever in her levis and sloppy shirt. Real original, Rhea!

Anne Morris looked real neat in a matching turtleneck and shirt set. The pants were plaid with the shirt matching one of the colors.

Marianne Jones looked cute in a solid red sheath dress this week. It was very noticeable!

Pork and oranges plentiful foods

COLLEGE STATION — Abundant supplies of pork, oranges and orange products are in prospect for February.

These are the featured items on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's list of plentiful foods this month, according to the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, College Station.

Also plentiful in February will be broiler-fryers, lamb, lard, eggs and peanuts and peanut products.

Other fruits and vegetables on the list are cabbage, carrots, sweetpotatoes, onions, grapefruit, cranberry products and raisins.

Have You Heard??

Report cards came out Wednesday. Seems everyone is grounded now. Wonder why?

Guess what? It snowed Saturday.

There's a scrimmage this week after school between Coach Murray's fifth period gym girls and some of the senior girls.

We were sorry to hear about the death of Melanie Thompson's grandfather and Jane Maxey's grandfather. Melanie left last Thursday for his home in Florida. Jane and her family spent Sunday in Roaring Springs.

Senior play tryouts were Monday night. The cast chosen will be printed next week.

Couples seen around are: Glenda Whittenburg and Virgil Middleton, Ruthell Martin and Pat Adamek, Beth Kemp and Curtis Didway, Leta Stone and John T. Brown, Bonnie Duncan and Bob Trammell, Frankie Howell and Rusty Millican, Sandra Kennedy and Mickey Priddy.

Basketball suits elite players

By Robert L. Moreau

We were so elated to receive our new basketball suits (boys and girls) that we 'plumb forgot' to tell you about them. The suits are wine with a white trim. They are really a beautiful sight to see. Be sure to come out to our next game and see us in action in our new attire. We're deeply grateful to Mr. Smith and the school board for our uniforms.

Patsy and Danny junior favorites

By Travis Guy

Patsy Thompson and Danny Jones have been elected as class favorites by members of the junior class.

The favorites were elected at a meeting held Jan. 12.

Girls besides Patsy who were nominated for the honor were Pat Bounds and Margie Casteel.

Boys nominated besides Danny were Wayne Hair, Kenneth Williams and Charles Gordon.

Charles and Danny tied for class favorite, with the tie vote being broken by Jimmy Minor, class president.

Judy Clary and Dean Johnston were chosen sophomore class favorites at a class meeting held last week.

Judy and Dean were chosen from among seven boys and five girls nominated for the honor.

Under Senior Class auspices

Zogi Revue to appear in Post on March 12

Bob Cato, president of the senior class, announces that his organization was successful in securing the Zogi Revue for a personal appearance in the grade school auditorium here on March 12.

The Zogi Revue features "Stars of Today" and Prince Zogi in person. Zogi has been a favorite of the stage for a quarter of a century and has completed successful engagements in the heart of the entertainment world on both coasts.

The show promises to be full of humor, fantasy, music, illusions and exotic excursions into the world of make believe.

C. A. Frank, business manager for the Zogi Revue completed arrangements for the appearance today. He reports that the Revue is playing to packed houses this year after several seasons in set locations. This is the first time, since 1955, the show has been available for one night stands.

Bob says, "We are most anxious to be able to bring a Revue this size to Post. And we are confident that we have selected one of the best."

Freshmen select class favorites
By Sammie K. Catley

The freshman class held its election last Friday to elect class favorites.

Our favorites are Ann Patton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Pennington of 109 South S. and Larry Guy, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Guy of 505 West Street.

Congratulations, Ann and Larry!

and office business at high mark in '59

As a "land office business" reported that $421,477,000 has been deposited in the public school fund as of Jan. 1, and the University of Texas domain described the 1959 record as the most successful in history despite generalizing conditions in the industry. "You can say that the balance accrued from bonuses and royalties increased by $183,002 from surface easements, relinquishment fees and other revenues, Allcorn said.

The Veterans' Land Program received $9,521,169 in principal payments, interest and other rentals, Allcorn said.

"Especially noteworthy," added Commissioner Allcorn, "was that 384 veterans paid off their notes on 41,679 acres during 1959. The principal payments totaled $2,352,767 and made possible that many more veterans."

The General Land Office, Allcorn said, also deposits monthly to the Game and Fish Fund, The Available Deaf and Dumb Institute Fund, Texas Youth Council Fund, Highway Department Fund, Available Orphans Home Fund, Texas A&M Mineral Fund, Armory Board Fund, Parks Board Fund, Prison Board Fund and Hospital and Special Schools Fund.

'LBJ' clubs are urging payment 1960 poll taxes

All Lyndon B. Johnson for President Clubs in Texas are being asked to encourage the payment of poll taxes in their localities to assure Texas of having its biggest voting strength in history this presidential election year.

Executive Director Larry Blackmon said Monday, letters making the request have been mailed to all clubs.

"There will probably never be a year any more important to Texas politically than 1960," Blackmon said. "It is the duty of every citizen to make sure that he has a vote at the polls and a voice in his party's conventions. Without a poll tax receipt he has neither, no matter how vital the issues."

Blackmon said that Johnson for President Clubs are being encouraged to set up or help man poll tax booths, to form telephone reminder committees, to offer transportation to citizens desiring to go pay their poll taxes, and to offer whatever other assistance that might be possible and helpful.

"For the primaries, for the conventions, and for this year's most important general election, we hope that every citizen of Texas of voting age will be equipped with a poll tax receipt or exemption certificate. There can be no greater attestation to a keen Texas interest and concern in the affairs of our government," Blackmon said.

235,000 books circulated

Bookmobile operation is entering third year

AUSTIN — State Librarian Witt B. Harwell reported today that approximately 235,000 books have been circulated in 29 rural counties of Texas during the first two years of bookmobile operation under the Library Services Act.

Demonstrations of mobile library service are scheduled to be extended to 14 more counties in 1960 including Bandera, Gillespie, Kendall and Kerr in central Texas; Hardin, Jasper, Polk and Tyler in east Texas; and Upton, Ward and Winkler in west Texas.

The purpose of the Library Services Act, passed by Congress in June 1956, is to promote better library service in rural areas of 10,000 or less population which have inadequate or no library service.

The Texas Plan drawn up by Harwell was one of the first state plans to be submitted to the U. S. Office of Education and was accepted in January, 1957. Many features of the Texas plan have been widely copied by other states and have formed the basis for a number of other state plans.

"The most popular feature of our program is the multi-county bookmobile demonstrations," Harwell said. "Under this plan the state library furnishes to groups of counties for a period of one year, a bookmobile, bookmobile librarian, a driver-assistant and a collection of some 6,500 books."

"The book stock can be augmented by the Inter-Library Loan system which makes the loan facilities of the State Library, the University of Texas Library and the A&M College Library available to bookmobile patrons."

"There is no charge to the counties involved for this service. It is hoped however, that arrangements can be made after the demonstrations end to continue some form of library service with local financing."

Another State Library project

under the Library Services Act is the first regional library system to be organized in Texas — The Coastal Bend Regional Library Demonstration composed of Jim Wells, Kleberg, Live Oak and Nueces Counties. Now in its second year of operation, the regional demonstration features cooperation among the seven libraries in the four counties in making all materials in the system available to readers. A library card will be honored in any participating library. One librarian in the system said, "This cooperative library service has shown reciprocal benefits which I believe have advanced library service in our area by at least 10 years."

"One woman in West Texas regularly drives 90 miles to the nearest bookmobile stop and in South Texas two brothers walk five miles to check out books from the 'library on wheels,'" Harwell said. "One teacher in a south Texas community gave the bookmobile credit for raising the vocabulary level of her Spanish-speaking students, and another said some of her slowest readers had picked up remarkably after using the bookmobile collection regularly.

"Upon the completion of the State Library and Archives Building, scheduled for November, 1960, the State library will be in even a better position to facilitate the development of library service in Texas and to continue the program to make Texans aware of the vital role the public library can play in their communities," Harwell declared.

Dr. Josiah Bartlett, a physician, was first governor of the state of New Hampshire, taking office in 1792.

Funeral rites conducted Sunday for mother of Graham community woman

By MRS. DILLARD THOMPSON
Our sympathy is extended this week to Mrs. Quannah Maxey and other family members of her father, J. D. Green of Roaring Springs, who passed away early Saturday morning in the Spur Hospital.

Among those attending funeral services Sunday at Roaring Springs for J. D. Green were Kathy Stone, Gary Howell, Lewis Mason, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cowdry.

Capt. Jack Hoover of Vacoville, Calif., and Travis Air Force Base, arrived by plane in Lubbock Tuesday and drove down to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Hoover.

MR. AND MRS. Franklin Maxey of Big Spring were weekend guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Maxey, Saturday, Kay and Don.

Jess Probst was dismissed Saturday from Lubbock Methodist Hospital where he had been a medical patient since Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Densley Cowdry and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Davis visited in Brownfield a short while Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Davis and children and attended the singing at the Crescent Hill Church of Christ.

Rev. and Mrs. Elbert Nelson and sons and Mrs. Maude Thomas were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray McClellan.

MRS. TRAVIS Gilmore and two daughters of Post spent Thursday night with Mrs. Jim Norman and children while Norman was on a fishing trip.

Visiting Friday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Mason were his niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Nelson of Smyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Mason and G. T. were guests last Tuesday night of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Graham of Lipan.

Mr. and Mrs. Elvius Davis and family visited in Plainview this weekend with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hill and Alan.

Linda Gist was an overnight guest Friday of Annette McBride.

Welding course plans continue
Farmers interested in attending a welding school to be conducted at the high school during the week of Jan. 23-30 are asked to contact D. H. Koeninger, vocational agriculture teacher, at their earliest convenience.

There will be a $3 charge for the course, with any money left over to be refunded at the end of the course.

The instructor will be a salesman from the Forney Arc Welding Co. of Lubbock.

"If you are interested, let us know at once so that final arrangements can be made," Koeninger said.

An American firm has leased a half million acres of British Guiana forests, in the Mazaruni area, where wood pulp, chemical and hydroelectric plants will be built, Georgetown learns.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" B. C. WILSON HARDER

Being from Massachusetts, Sen. Saltonstall took more than ordinary interest during a hearing by a special subcommittee of the Senate Small Business Committee on the way chains are dominating the shopping centers, when the subject of shoes was introduced into the testimony.

The shoe business, and especially the men's shoe business, is getting into a chaotic state, and there is even a grave question whether or not the public is being hoodwinked.

Testimony at hearing stated in past ten years some 500 independent shoe manufacturers have gone out of business.

Three big operators, International, General, and Brown, now have a big share of the business, gained largely through buying out well known brands of shoes, and by opening their own retail outlets in competition with the independent merchant.

But where the public is perhaps being misled is the fact many of the best known names in quality, handmade shoes have become the property of the big mass production outfits.

Now there has long been a considerable segment of the male population believing the best shoe investment is a medium or high priced shoe from the standpoint of long wear, shape holding qualities, and comfort and foot health.

In today's market, this means shoes priced around the $23 per pair mark, and this price level is expected to represent the best investment for the consumer.

leathers, formed by a great deal of handwork into fine shoes. Yet, many of the names that stood for the highest quality in men's shoes are now owned by one of the big combines, and while priced the same do not have the quality that made them famous.

Thus, there gets to be a substantial question involved herein of the public interest, and how it should be protected.

Due to work of Federal Trade Commission, Better Business Bureau, others many steps have been away from the old principle of "caveat emptor" or let the buyer beware.

Thus, it would seem quite reasonable that whenever one of the old famous brand names of shoes now owned by a big mass production corporation and subjected to mass production methods is offered for sale, it should be definitely made plain, by signs, by brand marks, other means that the brand is a part of a big shoe corporation.

Obviously, some protection is needed here for the consumer, for there is no way for the buyer to tell how the shoe was made, as the making of bona fide quality shoes involves many skilled processes that only become apparent as the shoe is worn.

Fortunately, there are still independent firms making fine handcrafted shoes.

Obviously, a mass production operation putting out a famous old name brand is almost like a wolf parading in sheep's clothing. Thus, it seems logical there should be some public protection, as besides appearance, shoes represent the only item of wearing apparel that can and does have a great effect on health.

Conservation speed-up is purpose of current Great Plains program

By BILLY J. HINTON
Conservationist, Post Work Unit Duck Creek SCD

The Great Plains Conservation Program was established by Congress to speed up the conservation of soil and water in the Great Plains area of the United States.

In order to obtain this "speed-up," the program provides from 50 per cent to 80 per cent Federal cost share for the establishment of sound, planned conservation on the land. There is no limit in the amount of Federal cost share per farm per year except: (1) $2,500 limit on irrigation practices, and (2) $2,000 per farm on a 10-year contract.

The program on any farm or ranch will extend from three to 10 years, depending upon the landowner's choice. The program may be started at any time.

Texas cotton producers cut costs in 1959 with machines, chemicals

COLLEGE STATION — Texas cotton producers saved an estimated $55.5 million by harvesting about half of their 1959 crop with machines. Another $13.9 million was saved by using machines and chemicals for controlling grasses and weeds in their fields, reports Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton specialist.

While these savings were being made, they also posted the State's second highest yield of lint per acre, 337 pounds. The 7-Step Cotton Program, initiated 14 years ago by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, has been a major factor in the progress made by the growers of the State's most important crop, believes Elliott.

The program brought together on the county and state basis committees representing every segment of the cotton industry and all have worked for its improvement. Since 1946, the average lint yield per harvested acre has increased from 134 pounds to the 1959 yield of 337 pounds.

Last year county agents in 205 counties assisted producers with various phases of the 7-Step Program. Emphasis was placed on the use of cotton burs for soil improvement and to reduce gin fires. Burs were spread on 8,323 farms in 138 counties. A few years ago most of the burs were burned as waste, Elliott noted.

There was a marked increase in the use of defoliant and desiccant and machine harvesting in 1959 over 1958. Harvest aid chemicals were used on 58,236 farms in 167 counties as compared to 37,885 farms in 162 counties in 1958.

In posting the $69 million plus savings in labor, producers used 29,236 stripper harvesters and 3,290 spindle pickers in 143 and 100 counties, respectively. The weed and grass control savings were made through the use of 43,378 rotary hoe equipped tractors in 166 counties, the use of spot oiling of Johnsongrass with water carried chemicals on 50,532 acres in 125 counties. Lateral oiling with post emergence chemicals for weed control was used in 56 counties.

Full credit, says the specialist, goes to the county 7-Step Committees and the county agents of Texas for the achievements made under the program. Their contributions, concludes Elliott, to this cooperative effort have materially strengthened the economy of Texas.

21 ACP practices listed for 1960

Twenty-one practices have been approved for cost-share assistance under the 1960 Agricultural Conservation Program for Garza County, according to Mrs. Emmarhe I. Harrel, office manager for the county ASC.

The approved practices are as follows: Initial establishment of a permanent vegetative cover for soil protection.

Establishment of additional acreage of vegetative cover in crop rotation.

Deferred grazing on rangeland. Aerial control of mesquite on rangeland.

Control of mesquite on rangeland by rootplowing or tree-doing. Chiseling or pitting non-crop grazing land.

Constructing dams, pits, or ponds for livestock water.

Constructing permanent fences to protect vegetative cover.

Constructing terraces to control water and check erosion. Constructing diversion terraces to intercept runoff and divert excess water.

Constructing erosion control dams (earthen or net wire.) Reorganizing irrigation systems. Leveling land for more efficient use of irrigation water.

Constructing spreader terraces to divert and spread water to prevent erosion. Establishing winter legumes for protection from erosion.

Establishing summer legumes for protection from erosion. Stubble mulching to improve soil permeability and to protect from erosion.

Deep plowing sandy cropland to protect soil from blowing. Listing or chiseling cropland for wind erosion control.

Control of bindweed in the control of erosion. Application of cotton burs to cropland for wind erosion control.

About your health

A recent minor outbreak of trichinosis southwest of Austin points out the need for increased attention to this disease among pork loving Texans.

Several persons experienced symptoms of trichinosis, including fever, swelling of the eyes, muscle pains and tenderness, and eosinophilia (the presence of certain cells in the blood.)

Specialists from the Laboratory Section of the Texas State Department of Health were called upon for assistance.

After careful questioning to determine whether the victims had eaten pork, plus intensive laboratory analysis of specimens, trichinosis was identified as the cause.

Trichinosis is difficult to diagnose since it resembles other physical disorders such as typhoid fever, meningitis, influenza, and heart trouble.

Studies indicate that many people are infested with trichinae (the tiny worms that cause the disease), but never know it. Laboratory tests of blood specimens taken during illness or convalescence may confirm clinical diagnosis.

The principal way that the disease is transmitted to man is by eating insufficiently cooked meat, mainly pork.

Hogs ordinarily get the parasites from eating raw garbage containing trichinae-infested pork scraps or occasionally by eating rats.

All garbage fed to hogs should be thoroughly cooked and intensive rate radication programs carried in hog production areas. However, complete control among hogs seems difficult to maintain.

The only sure way to prevent the occurrence of the disease in humans is to carefully cook all pork products—this includes hams, sausages, and bacon which are not pre-cooked.

A safe rule-of-thumb for preparing pork is to cook it until you cannot see any pink meat. Cook all pork and pork products thoroughly, until the meat is white clear through.

Although not often fatal, trichinosis can seriously debilitate a mature adult and ruin the general health of children or infants.

Bible Thoughts "SALVATION" By Ronnie Parker

Salvation from sin is the message of the Bible. Man cannot obtain salvation when he meets the terms God has provided. Three conceptions are necessary to enjoy salvation.

Take soil tests now for higher profits in 1960

COLLEGE STATION — Higher farm income in 1960 can result from soil tests made this fall or winter. Properly taken soil samples, says Extension Soil Chemist W. F. Bennett, can provide information about the plant food nutrients needed for high-income, low-cost yields in 1960.

Too, soils are usually in good condition for sampling at this time of the year. By getting soil test results early, Bennett says the winter months can be used for planning next year's fertilizer and cropping programs. The advanced planning, he adds, can mean the difference between a successful fertilizer program or none at all.

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Stanford

AUSTIN — Nothing that has come out of state government in recent months has caused as big a ruckus as the merit plan auto insurance rates.

It is possible to take either side of the question and start a lively argument on almost any street corner.

Critics have mounted a two-pronged attack: (1) to get the Board of Insurance, which authored the plan, to change it and (2) to get the courts to declare it unconstitutional.

Board hearing to review the plan was called at the request of Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo, one of the most vocal objectors to the plan. Just before the hearing, a group of attorneys from the Harris County chapter of the Texas Association of Plaintiff's Attorneys filed suit in an Austin district court seeking a permanent injunction against use of the plan.

Chairman Penn J. Jackson declared the Board would listen to all protests with an open mind. Most insurance rates, he said, are subject to frequent changes. However, Jackson emphasized that the Board is directed by law to consider safety incentives and driving records, past and prospective, in its rate making.

UNDER THE MERIT plan, drivers with no accidents or moving traffic convictions on their records for the past three years would get lower rates. Compensating for this would be a sliding scale of higher rates to be paid by others according to the number and seriousness of the marks against them.

Loudest gripes are about the retroactive feature of the plan and the fact that any moving traffic violation, no matter how minor, counts against the motorist.

Because it does go back three years in effect, the plan is being labeled an "ex post facto law" (law against something that happened in the past) which is unconstitutional.

Some motorists complain that in the past they have paid fines on tickets when they were not actually at fault—just to avoid the trouble of going to court.

Sen. Hazlewood derided the idea of putting all violators in the same class—"those that go 23 miles an hour in a 20-mile zone and those that go 100 miles an hour." He charged, too, that much ticket giving is merely a money-raising proposition. Residents of cities where traffic is strictly policed and all accidents and violations faithfully reported to the Department of Public Safety will get it in the neck, said the senator. Small towns are generally less diligent in policing or reporting violators to DPS.

Hazlewood said he was and still is in favor of a "realistic" merit rating plan.

Defenders of the present plan say that if law enforcement is at fault, this, not the insurance plan, should be worked on.

With all the fussing and fuming, say proponents, it must be admitted that motorists are now giving more thought to careful driving than ever before. A traffic ticket costing $60 is a sobering thought.

TEACHER SESSION URGED — Texas teachers still hope to get a salary raise in a special session of the Legislature this year.

Leaders of public school teachers' organizations say they believe Gov. Price Daniel will call a session after Feb. 1.

Teachers want to see the matter come up at a special session rather than at the next regular session in 1961. In a regular session, they would face again the same obstacles they faced in 1959, the necessity of taking care of regular money needs probably including a deficit, before any new appropriations will be considered.

FACULTY RAISES PROPOSED — Commission on Higher Education recommends the Legislature raise salaries for state college professors by 12 per cent for 1962 and 18 per cent for 1963.

Commission said Texas colleges need to pay this much more to be able to keep up with other colleges in competing for the available supply of teachers.

During its last session the Legislature cut the Commission's requested college budget by 7 per cent.

Commission has agreed to hear the University of Houston's request for inclusion in the state college system at its April meeting.

BANKING AUTHORITY SPELL-ED OUT — Savings and loan associations may not open branches without approval of the State Banking Commission.

State Supreme Court issued this opinion in an 8-to-1 decision on a case in which a Houston savings and loan association had challenged the commission's right to pass on a proposed branch. Savings and loan associations, like banks, are chartered by the Banking Commission.

Court said this regulation was necessary to prevent "excessively zealous competition through control of building and loan associations in an area."

Dissenting judge said there is nothing in the law to give the commission this power.

RESERVOIR PLANS ASSAILED — City of Fort Worth has joined the San Jacinto River Authority in protesting plans to build a Trinity River dam near Houston.

An engineer representing Fort Worth told the State Water Board he felt Fort Worth's future water rights would be impaired if Houston and the Trinity River Authority build a reservoir near Livingston and take out 1,200,000 gallons a day, as requested. To protect needs of Upper Trinity Basin users, it was suggested the Livingston project be cut in half.

A spokesman for the San Jacinto River Authority said he felt the Trinity should not be developed for

Eating quality of beef not related to growth habits

COLLEGE STATION — Birth weight, weaning weight, rate of gain and other beef production characters were not closely related to the animal's carcass quality in tests conducted by the USDA on 210 steers at the Range Livestock Experiment Station, Miles City, Mont., according to Roy Snyder, extension meats specialist.

Performance tests, as now used, appeared to give only a slight indication of tenderness or percentage of lean meat in the beef carcasses. The tests indicated that improvements in carcass quality, therefore, will possibly have to be based on direct selection for desired carcass characters by progeny testing of sires, and internal meat-area measurements through use of ultrasonic or other devices.

Neither slaughter or carcass grade was closely related to tenderness in the steers. Both grades were associated more with a steer's width across the back and amount of fat in its body than with the animal's body length or amount of lean meat.

At the end of the feeding period, birth weight, weaning weight, average daily gain and final weight were all inter-related. However, this inter-relationship was so slight that neither birth nor weaning weights could be used to predict later performance and was of little or no value in estimating a steer's grade at slaughter. Slaughter grades, under conditions of the tests, were correlated with feed lot gains and final weight.

There was a tendency for birth weight to be associated to a slight degree with amount of lean, bone and tendon in the slaughtered steers, noted the specialist. He added that slaughter grade did not serve as a good estimate of the animal's dressing yield.

The white oak is Connecticut's state tree.

Houston use because it is polluted with Dallas and Fort Worth sewage.

SHORT SNORTS — Sen. Culp Krueger of El Campo has been named chairman of the Radiation Study Committee created by the Legislature to consider state regulations and safety measures for the peacetime use of atomic energy. Public school administrators meeting in Austin discussed the prospect of requiring 20 credits for high school graduation rather than the present 16. Some superintendents reported their schools are already requiring more than 16, not including the "easier" subjects such as music, health, physical education.

Gov. Price Daniel has appointed Jack Woodward of Dallas to the Commission of Higher Education for a term ending in March, 1965. Other executive appointments: V. P. Ringler of Houston and William J. Elliott of El Paso to the Texas Real Estate Commission and Dr. Louis T. Bogy of San Antonio and Dr. A. V. Johnson of Midland to the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners.

State Hospital Board has voted to sell 306 acres from the Kerrville State Hospital grounds and 80 to 90 acres from the San Antonio State Hospital. Preliminary plans were approved for buildings and improvements at the Denton State School, Austin State Hospital, Rusk State Hospital, Mexia State School and Wichita Falls State Hospital.

4-H STEER PROGRAM
Garza County 4-H Club members participating in the beef calf program finished the 1959 club year with a gross sale of $7,114. The 1960 program has started with the purchase of new calves and exhibiting finished steers in the spring livestock shows.

Four steers will be exhibited in the Amarillo Stock Show Jan. 23-28. These are Angus steers owned by Jerry Thuett, Ronald Thuett and Don Richardson and a Hereford steer owned by Joe Basinger.

New calves placed on feed by club members to be exhibited at the State Fair of Texas are as follows:

Hereford
J. W. Basinger, purchased from Ray Hodges; Joe Basinger, purchased from Ray Hodges; Lewis Herron, purchased from Richard Kimbrough; Sammy Sims, purchased from Star Ranch; Theresa Sims, purchased from Dave Sims; Jackie Abshire, purchased from Tom Sims; Kelly Jo Myers, purchased from Star Ranch.

Q. — I served in Korea and am just getting around to using my GI school privilege. I start school at the spring semester. Will I get a GI allowance check soon after I start school?

A. — You must expect to wait about two months after school starts before you receive your first check. VA is not allowed to pay you until after you have completed your first month of school, and it may take up to a month after that before your check arrives. Have enough money with you to tide you over the first two months.
