The Post Dispatch

Thirty-Second Year

Post, Garza County, Texas, Thursday, April 9, 1959

Number 45

First since November

A spring squall line included Garza County in its move across West Texas late Tuesday, bringing the best rains in more than five months to the Post vicinity and other areas of Garza County. The rainfall in Post measured 1.33 inches at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning, County Agent Lewis C. Herron reported.

After intermittent showers and sprinkles throughout most of the day Tuesday, rain began falling hard at about 8 p. m., with downtown gutters running full.

Except for a few traces, it was the first rain since last November. Previously this year, Post had received 21 of an inch of moisture from snowfall. Tuesday's rains bring the 1959 total to a still-too-meager 1.54 inches.

The rains broke one of the longest bone-dry periods here in recent years. Despite the fact that the ground was extremely dry, the rains will prove very beneficial in preparation of cropland for the cotton planting season in May.

"What we got Tuesday and some more like it before planting time will pull us through," the county agent said.

The rainfall was general throughout the county. It was reported to have measured 1.40 inches in the Graham community.

A rash of tornado sightings and tumbling temperatures accompanied the rainfall. There have been no reports of hail anywhere in Garza County.

Garza County was included in a severe weather alert which was in effect from 1 p. m. until about midnight Tuesday.

The rains will help rangelands, where grass already was beginning to green up a little. It is doubtful, however, that it had enough runoff to prove of much benefit to depleted farm and ranch ponds.

The rainfall stopped pre-planting irrigation for farmers on top of the Caneyco, but irrigation will be resumed right away unless more rain falls.

Maxey, Birdwell re-elected here

Quannah Maxey and J. E. Birdwell were re-elected without opposition Saturday to new three-year terms as Post Independent School district trustees and as an organizational meeting of the "new board" Monday night E. R. (Buster) Moreland was re-elected president of the trustees.

Also re-elected as officers of the school board were Russell Wilks Jr., as vice president, and Bobby Pierce as secretary.

Maxey received 186 votes and J. E. Birdwell 182 out of the 268 cast. Neither incumbent had opposition.

Some 22 others received write-in votes at the Saturday election for school trustees.

These included Two-Gun Huffman 1, Donald Windham 3, Bryan J. Williams 1, Paul Jones 2, Lorenzo Alexander 2, James Minor 2, John Hopkins 2, Harold Voss 1, Dan Coekrum 5, Earl Rogers 1, David Newby 2, Mack Ledbetter 1, Nolan Miller 3, Victor Hudman 1, C. D. Lee 5, John Shedd 1, Pat Walker 2, V. L. Peel 1, Jess Michael 1, Bill Edwards 1, A. C. Cash 1, and Keith Kemp 2.

'STRAW VOTE FEELERS' ARE GIVEN 'GO' SIGNALS

Police issue carries; Shytles new mayor

By the margin of a single ballot, Post voters went on record Tuesday as favoring establishment of a uniformed city police department and for levying the necessary taxes to pay for it.

The final tally was 142 favoring the police force and 141 opposed. It was the only "live issue" of the municipal election which saw Powell Shytles elected as Post's new mayor without formal opposition. Aldermen Roy Baker and John N. Hopkins were reelected to two-year terms, and a zoning ordinance given a thumping vote of approval, 229 to 41, in a second "popularity poll".

THE MAJORITY vote favoring establishment of a police department here to improve local law enforcement climaxed a campaign of over a year which saw two citizen committees favoring such a proposal.

Whether the police department vote actually will bring such a law arm into being, however, remains to be seen. The proposition was a "straw vote" only to give the city council the public's thinking on the subject.

Mayor-elect Shytles, who will take the oath of office and begin his new duties at a special meeting tonight, told The Dispatch he had no comment at this time on the police department straw vote.

A TOTAL OF 295 went to the polls at City Hall Tuesday in a strong turnout for an uncontested election highlighted only by the police "straw vote".

Shytles received 240 votes for mayor, Alderman Roy Baker 271 and Alderman Hopkins 264.

There were 11 write-ins for mayor with Pat N. Walker receiving 28, James Minor, retiring mayor, 5, Jess Rogers 1, Johnny Hopkins 1, Mrs. Ryla Lott 2, Jimmy Redman 2, John Lott 7, T. L. Jones 1, Rube Jennings 1, Giles McCrary 1, and Harold Lucas 1. Twelve other write-ins were recorded in the aldermen's races.

THEY INCLUDED Walter Duckworth 1, Giles McCrary 2, Irby Metcalf Jr. 1, David Newby 7, Shelley Camp 1, J. B. Potts 1, Jess Rogers 1, Bill Edwards 1, Victor Hudman 2, Marvin Hudman 1, Ronnie Sturdivan 1, and Mrs. Ryla Lott 1. Mayor-elect Shytles told The Dispatch yesterday that a special meeting of the city council probably will be called for Monday night to take action on the appointment of an alderman to fill the position which Shytles will leave vacant when he becomes mayor.

The appointment will be made by the council. As to his program for the city, Mayor-elect Shytles commented he intends to take care of a lot of "unfinished business" including such problems as water and utility extensions.

Close City elects 3 new trustees

Three new members were elected to the Close City school board in Saturday's trustee election.

Taking their place as new members of the seven-member board are Howard Teaff, Robert Baker and C. L. Morris.

With a total of 72 votes cast in an election to choose three trustees, Teaff and Baker each received 41 votes and Morris 38.

Arvil Smith, a candidate for re-election, received 34 votes. Two other candidates whose terms had expired, Ted Shults and A. A. Ribnic, did not file for re-election. Shults received one write-in vote.

John E. Nelson and Frank Bostick each received 30 votes and there was one write-in vote for L. H. Peel.

WEEK'S SPURT TOTALS NEARLY $80,000

Building permits take spurt

Local construction took its biggest spurt of what shapes up as a record building year for Post this week with 15 permits issued for $79,425 worth of building.

Included were five new homes and a major business expansion. Biggest permit was issued to Ted Parks of Snyder for construction of a $30,000 brick home in Bryan J. Williams' new Sunset Addition on the northwest edge of the city. The home will include 2,000 square feet with a shingle roof.

The business building permit calls for a $7,500 addition to Continental Emco Co.'s office and supply warehouse. The addition by Forrest Lumber will be 30 by 36 feet of structural steel, corrugated iron, sheetrock walls, acoustic tile ceiling, and ceiling heaters.

Other new homes include a $15,500 residence for Ben Isaacs at 802 West Fifth being constructed by Forrest Lumber Co. The new residence will contain 1,410 square feet and will be of frame construction with asbestos siding, brick front, and central heating.

Permits also have been issued for moving in of three ready-built houses.

These include: A 26 by 32 foot residence for Miss Sue Stephens to 707 West 13th Street, $3,000, with asbestos siding, composition roof and floor furnace.

New $11,500 residence for C. A. Young at 901 West Fifth Street. This is a 30 by 50 foot home with carpet to be added.

New $4,660 residence for Edder Little at 506 West Sixth. This house includes 1,088 square feet with composition siding and composition roof.

Other permits include one new double garage, one new carport, four for fences, and four for repairs or additions to residences. Jake Heiskill, adding half bath to home, 111 North Avenue O, $250.

Ray N. Smith, $200 repair of rent house at 508 North Avenue N.

Mrs. J. R. Durrett, new 20 by 30 foot double garage with storage room, including concrete floor, asbestos siding, composition roof, and driveways, at 102 West 11th, $5,500.

Carl Adams, wood fence and carport at residence, 811 West Fifth, $1,065.

Miss Jessie Pearson, 712 West Fifth, redwood fence, $500.

Jim Cornish, 714 West Fifth, redwood fence, $230.

George M. Willson, cyclone fence at new home, 810 West 12th Street, $300.

W. F. Furr, brick siding to home at 701 West 13th, $630.

Mrs. J. R. Durrett, remodeling of rent house on 14th Street, $600.

Watching the rain wash in under the front door of The Dispatch office Tuesday night certainly was a pleasure. And wading out to the car to go home a few minutes later was just as enjoyable.

Making that evening doubly good was the election news from down the block that the police department "straw vote" had carried by a majority of one vote. The "campaign of futility", as we call it, had been won—not by much, but won. It showed everyone that local folks are really wanting more law enforcement when they voted yes—even by a bare majority—in the face of a threat to boost city tax levies 33 per cent to pay the cost of the "law arm." Public sentiment for law enforcement is growing here—and that is good.

This is really Promotion Week here in Post—and especially in this issue of The Dispatch.

Claud Collier, the lively Caprock Chevrolet dealer, over on page 11 comes out with his biggest promotion yet to highlight Chevrolet's April Sales Spectacular. It's a baby portrait contest—and all the portraits will be made in "living color", that new color process which has the photographic industry all a-buzz. Claud is offering a $100 savings bond for the baby portrait winner with $25 savings bonds to winners of each of the other three age divisions of the contest. Turn to page 11 and you'll get all the details of the big contest for youngsters through six years of age. Contest pictures will be taken from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. at Caprock Chevrolet beginning tomorrow and lasting through Saturday, April 18. With $200 in prizes, Claud's contest really ought to attract the youngsters—and their parents. There is no entry fee—no obligation—

Two trustees elected in Southland voting

Richard Lewis was re-elected to the Southland school board and Robert Mook was elected as a new member in Saturday's trustee balloting.

Other candidates were Herschel Heavers, who was a candidate for re-election, and Wendell Saunders.

Haldover members of the board are R. L. Haliburton, Virgil Smith, Clarence Basinger, Herman Kiesel and Edmund Wilke.

Trustees moving on school plans

No time was being lost this week pushing the Post Independent School District's $710,000 expansion program following the 250 to 159 vote of approval given the school bonds in Saturday's election.

District trustees canvassed the vote Monday night at a special meeting, went to Lubbock Tuesday afternoon to tour Lubbock's new schools to learn how construction costs were held down, and then called a special meeting for Friday night with architects and financial adviser for the bonds, Irby G. Metcalf Jr.

Just how fast action may come to build a new high school and remodel the present high school building for a junior high should be at least partially determined tomorrow night.

TRUSTEES WERE hopeful that construction could be launched as soon as school is out for the summer to convert the present high school auditorium into additional classrooms to avoid more temporary classroom construction for next year.

Lubbock schools have been built at a cost of between $8 and $9 per square foot and school district trustees here are determined to get all the economy in construction they can in the expansion ahead.

The $710,000 in bonds call for $150,000 for a new high school, $128,000 for remodeling the present high school into a junior high school, $35,000 for a football field-house and new football bleachers, $29,000 for architects' fees, $40,000 for equipment, and $18,000 for a building site.

Troubles galore delay Dispatch

When it rains, it pours—even in West Texas!

As if a typesetting breakdown wasn't enough to make your Dispatch several hours late, the press had to go and break down just as a "heat-down" Dispatch force thought it had the problem licked.

After the Intertype broke down about 5 o'clock Thursday morning, arrangements were made to have the type set by the Levelland Daily Sun-News. Then, after the last page was made up and put on the press about 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, the press suffered a major crack-up.

A quick call to Slaton was all that was necessary to arrange for use of The Slatonite's press and folder to finish printing the paper.

BOOKMOBILE TO RETURN SATURDAY

Texas State Library bookmobile will pay its second "checkout" visit to Post Saturday. The library on wheels will be parked just west of Tom Power Ford Company. Shown checking out books on the unit's first visit to Post is Mrs. Almon Martin, a teacher in the Post Elementary School. On the bookmobile's first visit, there were 226 books checked out and some 150 visitors. The bookmobile will be open from 9 until 11:30 a. m. and from 12:30 until 3 p. m. —(Staff Photo)

Shults received one write-in vote. John E. Nelson and Frank Bostick each received 30 votes and there was one write-in vote for L. H. Peel.

James L. Minor told the engineers are here to the areas recently annexed to the city and that about 150 new street lights will be installed in the new areas.

Minor also decided to have a meeting with Ted R. Ward, SWS manager, to discuss the feasibility of replacing the 15,000-lumen street lights with the same number of 25,000-lumen lights.

Minor also told the council that he had requested the department to change the figures on highway street lights to an estimate of 1,200, an estimate which would increase the number of utility COUNCIL page 8

SPORTS ATHLETES HEAR ADDRESS BY TEXAS TECH COACH

Sports are challenge,' says speaker

As you accept the challenge of sports and give your best effort, you are giving from it," Coach Polk Robison of Texas Tech said at the annual sports athletes banquet Monday night.

Robison, who addressed approximately 100 athletes at the banquet, the annual caucery, instructors of the boys' football and track squads and basketball squad, and said the challenge of sports is an important one in a student's life. "More and more, sports are becoming a challenge," he said.

Robison said that the challenge presented by sports is a challenge of health, unselfishness and the best of these is the challenge of sports.

Robison said that sports is a challenge of life as much as it is a challenge of sports. "Sports is a challenge of life as much as it is a challenge of sports," he said.

Negro shells out on liquor charge

Tommy Lee Dickson, Ralls Negro, paid a fine and costs totaling $126.45 in county court Monday after pleading guilty to a charge of possession of beer and wine for the purpose of sale.

Dickson was arrested about 11 a. m. Monday by Deputy Sheriff Red Floyd and City Marshal Junior Shepherd after stopping his automobile at a stop sign at the intersection of East Main and the mill road.

The charges against Dickson were filed after the officers found eight cases of beer and eight lugs of wine in his car.

Voting of school bonds big step

Approval of the $710,000 bond issue for school plant expansion Saturday by a vote of 250 to 139 takes its place as one of the biggest steps ever made in the history of the Post Public Schools. And, like other steps in previous years, it was made to take care of the school's increasing enrollment and stepped-up academic program.

The expansion program to be made possible by voting of the bond issue is not everything the students need nor the patrons want, but it is a big step in the right direction. The expansion has been in the planning stage for more than three years and the program the present board of trustees came up with covers most of the immediate needs. Other needs can, and no doubt will, be taken care of later.

It is going to take time, of course, to complete even the first phases of the expansion program. It will be a race against time to have the new high school building ready for occupancy by the opening of the 1961-62 school year. All this has been taken into consideration by the board, however, and temporary measures will be taken to accommodate the ever-increasing number of students, the additional teachers and the need for more classroom space.

Members of the school board have spent many long hours on working out the expansion program, but, in a manner of speaking, their work has just begun. Yet to come are such things as sale of the bonds, purchase of site, letting of contracts, and meeting head-on the problems mentioned in the above paragraph—increasing enrollment, more teachers and the need of additional classroom space. On top of all this, the trustees still are faced with the job of otherwise conducting in an efficient manner the operation of one of the biggest businesses in the county and easily one of the most important.—CD

Bookmobile deserves more interest

The bookmobile comes to Post for its second "check-out" visit Saturday, and we can hope that it attracts considerable more interest than it did during its initial visit three weeks ago.

A total of 226 books were checked out during the first visit to Post with some 100 persons paying the bookmobile a visit, registering, and checking out books.

It was no surprise that the youngsters showed more interest than the adults in the bookmobile.

Of the 226 books checked out during the first visit 124 were by boys and girls and 102 by adults. Eighty-three youngsters registered as compared with only 17 adults.

During the bookmobile's initial visits to other Garza County towns, the results were also light. Some 31 books were checked out at Pleasant Valley with 17 registering; 14 at Close City with 3 registering; 12 at Justiceburg with 5 registering; and 41 at Southland with 20 registering, 16 of them boys and girls.

The bookmobile's purpose in its periodic visits to Garza County is to get the various communities acquainted with library service. The bookmobile will be visiting each Garza community regularly for the next year.

You'll be surprised if you visit the bookmobile at what a fine book selection you can find—and on almost any subject. There's already a waiting list on some of the current "best sellers."

The librarians give you courteous service and are willing to get what books you want if they do not have them in the bookmobile at the moment. The trim library truck carries some 2,000 volumes, but the bookmobile setup for the several-county area now being served provides some 6,000 volumes.

Make a date Saturday with the bookmobile. You'll be letting yourself in for some mighty enjoyable reading. Tell your youngsters about the bookmobile and encourage them to visit it on the Tom Power used car lot in the 200 block on West Main.—JC

Water conservation a good practice

Tying in of city water lines to wells on the S. C. Storie, Sr. section of land last week will ease the water shortage problem, but, considering the possibility of an unusually dry year, conservation measures still are needed, according to city officials.

By conservation measures, in this instance, is meant precaution against the waste of water, which isn't a wise practice even when the supply is plentiful. Residents can hardly be blamed for watering their lawns, even this early, considering the dryness of the season. But they are asked not to waste water by going off and leaving faucets turned on and water running off the lawns and down the curbs.

Other measures against water waste could include repair of leaky faucets, plumbing, etc. And, it won't be long until air-conditioning systems are whirring in practically every home in the city, and here, too, the householder can guard against a waste of water by making sure that there is not an excessive leakage from the cooling unit.

Conservation of water adds up to good sense any time of the year and under any condition. Water is one of man's most prized possessions and, as such, should not be wasted.—CD

We're in the NEWSpaper business

Since The Dispatch's news staff has to spread itself mighty thin to try to cover everything that is happening, it mildly rangles us for some well-meaning individual to demand an explanation of why we didn't have something in the paper when that very individual was the one who should have let us know about it in the first place—but didn't.

The above, perhaps, is an extreme case, and we'll admit we don't get many such queries. But when, through no fault of our own except that we couldn't be at a half-dozen places at one time in the course of a single day, something does not appear in the paper, then our first reaction when someone "calls us up about it" is to be a little irked, although the irksomeness probably comes more from our learning that something wasn't in the paper which should have been.

There are very few clubs or other organizations which do not have at least one person delegated to see that news of the group's activities are reported. There shouldn't be any group without such a person, unless, of course, it is an organization which has no wish to have its activities appear in print—and, thank goodness, there are only a few of these!

Since we are publishing a NEWSpaper and constantly striving to keep it up there as one of the best weekly newspapers in the state, we want all the news that is worth printing. If you have something to report, you'll always find at least one of us here at The Dispatch office with enough time to take your news. And, if you know of something that should be in the paper, then don't take chances on us getting it from someone else. Being human, we're always much happier to get telephone calls loaded with news than to get those which want to know why this or that didn't appear in the paper.—CD

Trading stamps date way back

Many Post women who are grandmothers remember trading stamps. They first appeared way back in 1892, and never entirely left the American scene. Yet to most of the Post families who are presently saving them, these gummed tokens presented by merchants are regarded as something comparatively new and wonderful.

To use their word for it, members of the Trading Stamp Institute of America say their product "exploded" into new popularity in recent years and cite some statistics that are impressive even in these days of boxcar figures. In 1951, the nation's storekeepers spent $38 million on this most effective sales tool; while in 1957, they invested $600 million on trading stamps.

Obviously a tremendous force in today's economy and in modern retail promotion, trading stamps seem to be here to stay.

The average stamp saver in Post fills 12 to 20 books a year, selects two to 12 premiums to be found in the redemption centers operated by the trading stamp people, or in their catalogs. Last year, nationwide, this amounted to more than half a billion dollars worth of merchandise!

Of course, Grandma remembers trading stamps—but she'd be amazed at what they do nowadays!—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

Who is provincial? Is it we outlanders or is it Ingrid Bergman, who recently said, "Over half the people I work with in Europe are communists and we think nothing about it. In the U. S. it is consid red a crime." Communism sings a siren song, all right. It promises everything to everybody, actually gives rags and patches on your britches. Ingrid wouldn't understand this. She wouldn't understand communism isn't all right. Doubtless the California husband, whose home and name she scorned, is wryly pleased, indeed, that she uses another name to mouth so brazenly about values, ascribing provincialism to people who detest communism.—The Floyd County Hesperian.

We found out by reading an article in a newspaper the other night why it is that top 40 tunes sound the way they do. It seems that the top 40 are chosen on the basis of record sales and some experts figured out that teen-agers, while making up only 14 per cent of the population, buy 78 per cent of the records. This is why so many braying asses sell a million records—they appeal to this 14 per cent. We hear a lot about the top 40 tunes, but this department can't identify five of them.—Ochiltree County Herald.

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

IF YOU'RE reading this, the chances are that you didn't turn over here before reading the front page, but in case you did, there is a lot of election news in this issue.

We're always glad to get "letters to the editor," providing they're signed by the sender, and we're especially glad to get one such as Mrs. Lorrye Lou McAlister wrote last week in which she praised one of our young paper salesmen for "going beyond the call of duty" in returning to The Dispatch office and getting her a paper after he'd already sold out.

WE THINK WE have a fine bunch of paper boys—as dependable and accommodating a group as we've helped handle in our six years here at The Dispatch office. In case you don't know their names, they are: Jimmy Johnston, Jimmy Johnson (these two confuse us sometimes because of the similarity in their names), Ronnie Edwards, Donnie Peoples, Jesse Morales, Charles Brannon, Charles Landtroop and Alvin Harper.

The youngsters try to cover the town in selling their weekly supply of papers, but it has proved an almost insurmountable job to set up systematic routes for each of them—but we're working on it. In the meantime, we hope that every Dispatch reader who depends upon one of the paper salesmen for their copy is able to buy one each week. Those who aren't asked to call and tell us where they live. Such information will help us in establishing permanent routes for each of the boys.

THESE YOUNG salesmen are gaining much more from their weekly enterprise than what they earn on the sale of their papers. While they spend no more than an hour or two at the job each Thursday, they are gaining much that will benefit them as they grow older and take their places as adults in the community. If they learned no more than how to be courteous—as Jimmy Johnston was when he returned to the office to get a paper for Mrs. McAlister—then they've gained a lot. But they're also learning the value of diligence, dependability and—above all—the satisfaction that comes from a job well done.

Our friend up the street says when you begin to notice what a good time the young folks are having, then you are getting old.

A COURTEOUS service station operator is always a good service station operator and on the basis of something that occurred a few days ago, we nominate Vernon Lobban of Lobban's Gulf Service Station as one of the best. Here's what happened:

A couple from British Columbia, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Semler, stopped in at Lobban's station and got to talking with him and Mrs. Lobban about the country they were from, and learning from the local couple all about Texas. The two couples became so interested in each other's descriptions that the Semlers spent the night with the Lobbans, and there the talk continued.

In this space age, when no one has much time for anybody except himself, it was a reversal to the old-time hospitality for the Lobbans to invite the Canadian couple into their home for the night. We need more of it. The Semlers, incidentally, were en route to Florida, where they'll be luckier than most visitors there if they find a display of hospitality to match the one they found in Post.

The fact that it was a beautiful day more than likely accounts for the fact that there were more people outdoors with cameras on Easter Sunday than in a long time. We saw one family group taking snapshots on the courthouse lawn with the C. W. Post statue as a background. We hadn't thought of it before, but the statue does make a good background for snapshots to send friends and relatives as souvenirs of Post. There were also a large number of people at the City-County Park on Easter Sunday, and many of them had cameras.

Early American missionaries forced the Hawaiians to give up the hula because they thought it was immoral, but the dance originally was a religious ritual. According to The World Book Encyclopedia, the hula was part of the ceremonial rites for the ancient goddess of the woods, Laka.

Some 500 South African actors are forming an Actors' Equity, to set payment for rehearsals and limit the number of amateurs employed at low fees.

More taxes on natural gas would be an added burden

Proposals before the legislature to put more taxes on natural gas will become an added burden to practically all Texas oil and gas producers who are already taxpayers. David Newby, local oil industry chairman, said today.

"Many people who are aware of the heavy taxes paid by the state's petroleum industry don't realize that gas producers and oil producers in most instances are the same taxpayers. Most gas is found in the search for oil and even 30 per cent of all Texas gas comes out of the same wells as oil," Newby said.

He pointed out that oil and gas producers' taxes in the last fiscal year totaled $198 million for the state government. "Of this amount the producers paid $42 million on natural gas production under the present tax of 7 per cent of the gross value. No other business in Texas pays such a high per cent of its gross income as does the producer when he sells his gas," he said.

"It would be unfair to increase it to 10 per cent as some are advocating today," the OIC leader said. "Producers are already paying 30 per cent of every state tax dollar collected and they account for two-thirds of all state tax money collected from business and property owners."

He said Texas producers are paying two-thirds of the state costs for various state welfare programs, including old age assistance.

Scholarship contest open in journalism

Deadline for entries in the West Texas Press Association's $400 Journalism Scholarship Contest was announced as May 1 today by W. H. Graham Jr. of Friona, contest committee chairman. Winner will receive $100 per year for each of his or her four years at any of 10 cooperating West Texas colleges and universities. Two previous winners are now studying college journalism on WTPA scholarships. Rules for the journalism scholarship award have been forwarded to high school principals and newspaper editors and publishers throughout West Texas. Applicants must be in the top 25 per cent of their 1959 high school graduating class, demonstrate ability in the field of journalism and be interested in journalism as a career.

About Your HEALTH

A weekly advice service features from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. WOLFE, D. O., Consultant of Health.

You're 16, and just when you wanted to look your best you break out with a new crop of pimples. Discouraging? Yes, but not a permanent tragedy.

In nine of ten cases acne will disappear without treatment by your mid-20's. But why wait, when you can do something about it now?

The most important thing is to wash your face with soap and warm water at least three times daily. Why? Because at your age oil glands are often over active and tend to clog pores. Results: Pimples and blackheads.

So it's just common sense to wash often to rid your skin of excess oil and dirt and to help remove the plugs. Cosmetic cleansing creams, incidentally, are not nearly as effective as soap and water. In fact, some of them make acne worse by plugging up already clogged pores.

Your trouble might be particular items of food. So unless you are sure they do not cause flare ups, your physician will probably suggest that you watch out for:

Chocolate in any form such as candy, cookies, cake, ice cream sodas, sauces, cola drinks. Instead, stick to vanilla or fruit flavored sodas and soft drinks, white cakes and cookies.

Nuts, especially peanuts and peanut butter, are capable of causing skin eruptions. Sharp cheeses won't help your acne either, but cream or cottage cheese are usually okay.

Shellfish or salt water fish, and melons can be aggravating to acne.

Woolen clothing next to bare skin might cause your neck or back to break out. If so, the solution is simple—don't wear wool except as an outer garment.

The bromides in cold pills, nerve medicines and sedatives cause skin difficulties for some people. So can iodine in cough syrups and table salt.

Following the rules of good health getting plenty of exercise and sleep, eating nutritious meals, and drinking plenty of water—will help you get rid of unsightly acne.

Don't expect the blemishes to disappear overnight. If you follow these suggestions for three or four months and your acne hasn't improved, your family physician, or a specialist he will recommend, will probably prescribe internal and external medicines for your particular case.

So between you and your doctor, you have a much better than even chance of having a clean, clear complexion in time for the first big dance of the new school year next fall. It's well worth working for. (A weekly feature of the Health Education Division, Texas State Department of Health.)

Bones dug up at Carrickfergus, Northern Ireland, are thought to be those of persons executed in a nearby prison a century ago.

Belfast has been over-evangelized and the people have become Gospel shock-proof, Canon Bryan Green said at a meeting in Ulster.

Venezuela now permits surtax reduction on profits that are re-invested in business.

Vet's Forum

Q. I am a service-disabled veteran drawing extra compensation because I have a 17-year-old son. He has just enlisted in the Marines. Will the extra payments continue, since he has not yet reached age 18?

A. The extra payments may not be continued after he joins the Marines. Once your son is in service, he can no longer be considered a legal member of your household for purposes of the extra compensation payments.

Q. I have arranged to leave my GI life insurance dividends on credit with the VA. Will I continue to get premium-due notice?

A. Yes, Dividend credits are used only to prevent lapses of a policy. Premium notices are not suspended where there are dividend credits.

Q. Recently I changed the list of beneficiaries of my GI insurance policy. Must I inform the former beneficiaries of my action?

A. No. You have the right to change beneficiaries at any time, without their consent or knowledge.

Q. I am going to school quarter-time under the Korean GI Bill. At what rate am I using up my GI training settlement?

A. VA considers that you are using your training entitlement at quarter-time rate. For example, if your course lasts for a year, you will have used up one-quarter of a year's entitlement, or three months.

Sp. 4 Lloyd D. New completes education at Fort Riley, Kan.

FORT RILEY, Kan. — Army Specialist Four Lloyd D. New, 22, whose wife, Mary, lives on Star Route, Post, Tex., recently received a high school equivalency certificate at Fort Riley, where he is a member of the 1st Infantry Division.

Specialist New completed his secondary education through the U. S. Armed Forces Institute which offers servicemen an extensive variety of courses at high school and college levels.

The son of Mrs. Luciele Hayes, Broken Bow, Okla., he is assigned to Company A in the division's 9th Transportation Battalion. New entered the Army in January, 1955.

He is the son of Rad L. New of Galveston, Tex., and attended Stephen F. Austin High School, Galveston.

These are MY eyes . . .

Don't let this tragedy strike in your family. Protect yourself and your children against accidental blindness. Since more accident-blindness occurs in or near the home, move all acids and sharp-pointed objects out of the reach of youngsters. Be sure to shield your own eyesight while hammering nails, using a saw, or doing other work that may endanger your precious eyes. Regular yearly vision examinations may also prevent blindness in you and your children.

Keeping up with your C. of C.

Our membership drive is still going on and we are proud to include the following new members of the Chamber of Commerce for 1959: Doggs and Magee Well Service, Hill & Hill Oil Service, Jeff Graham Trucking Contractor, Jim's Gulf Service, Leonie Oil Co., Post Laundromat, Shell Oil Co., and Wilson Supply Co.

ational Cotton Week is to be observed May 18-23 this year. Plans are being made now to celebrate this week in Post, so we will have more on this in the near future. Supplies have been ordered for advertising this important week. When they arrive, they will be brought to the merchants as part of a plan to encourage people to use more cotton, as the finest and most practical clothing made is from cotton. To us, here in Garza County, cotton is a most important part of our economy.

The Lubbock Avalanche Journal's Home Show to be held in the Coliseum April 26-May 2 will have a 40-piece all cotton wardrobe of the latest 1959 women's styles on display.

The Big Spring Annual World Championship Rodeo is going to sponsor a queen contest this year. The main requirement for contestants is that she be able to ride in the opening parade and in each of the three grand entries. There will be entertainment for all the girls and their escorts. So, any girl interested please contact the Chamber office.

McCullough, Febrey wedding is read at Andrews AFB, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. McCullough announce the recent marriage of their son, A. C. Larry McCullough, to Miss James Febrey of Washington, D. C., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Febrey Jr.

The couple were married March 21 at the Main Chapel of Andrews Air Force Base, Md. The new bride performed the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of Chantilly lace, designed by a fitted bodice, bateau neckline, three-quarter length sleeves and a waistline ending in a point. The full, waltz-length skirt was accented with full ruffles down the back.

She wore a halo veil of silk illusion and carried a bouquet of white roses and snapdragons.

Miss Bonnie McKinney attended as maid of honor and Miss Ellen Febrey, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid.

John P. Moore was best man and David Febrey, brother of the bride, was groomsmen.

Traditional organ selections were presented throughout the ceremony.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's grandfather, Henry W. Febrey Sr. in Washington, D. C., following the ceremony.

The couple will be at home at 2117 Naylor Road SE, Apt. B8-20, Washington, where she is employed.

and he is stationed at Andrews AFB.

McCullough attended Post school before entering the Air Force.

Attending the wedding from Post were Mrs. L. C. McCullough, Mike, Judy, Kathy and Mary Ellen. While there they were guests of her sister, Mrs. Virginia Brasfield at Arlington, Va.

MRS. WILLIAM SAMSON DRUM

Double ring ceremony unites Juanita Mooney, William Drum

The Rev. John A. Martin performed the double ring ceremony Friday that united Miss Juanita Jerrine Mooney and William Samson Drum in marriage. Vows were repeated at 8 p. m. at the Monterey Baptist Church in Lubbock.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Mooney of Lubbock, and formerly of Post, and Mrs. Myrtle Drum of Lubbock. The bride is the niece of Eulus Brown of Post and the granddaughter of Mrs. A. R. Brown of Lubbock.

Escorted in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a waltz-length gown of Chantilly lace over tulle, and taffeta, fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and long petal-point sleeves. A crown of sequins and pearls held her fingertip veil of silk illusion and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis centered with an orchid.

Miss Joni Lou Mooney, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Jo Ann Rivere and Mrs. Vivion Winn, were her other attendants. Their dresses were fashioned alike from white organdy with yellow embroidered borders over white cotton sateen. They carried cascades of yellow iris.

Duane Drum of Ralls served his brother as best man and Arlyn Cox of New Deal and Dale Mooney, brother of the bride, were ushers.

Candlelighters were Misses Gloria Nelson and Sharon Mooney, sister of the bride.

A reception followed in the home of the bride's parents, 4620 36th Street. Members of the house party were Mrs. Eulus Brown of Post, Mrs. John Lee Smith, Mrs.

Bob Spence, Mrs. Norma Spence, Mrs. Earl Evans of Morton, and Mrs. Bill Nunnally of Bledsoe.

Mrs. Drum, graduate of Monterey High School, is cashier at Waigreen Drug Store. Her husband attended Morton High School and is employed at Bill Patrick's Garage in New Deal. They will make their home at 1210-B 9th Street, Lubbock, following a trip to points of interest in New Mexico.

Antelope Alley is scene for double birthday party

Mrs. Harley Wallace and Mrs. Elton Lee entertained with a double birthday party Saturday honoring Charles Wallace and Belinda Lee on the occasion of their 10th birthdays.

Antelope Alley formed the setting for the evening of fun.

Cold drinks, cookies, ice cream, bubble gum, and favors of hats and horns were distributed among the guests.

Enjoying the party were: Barbara Ann Bingham, Jaynie Josey, Jerry Sullivan, Bobby and Marilyn Meeks of Slaton, Larry Johnson, Ernie Ryder, Donnie Windham, Anita and Diana Pruitt, Billy Jack Hodges;

Also, Ronnie Pierce, Richard Scott, Deanna Adams, Davis Heaton, John Smith, Jackie Wilson, Jo Beth Dillard, Judy Lewis, J. O. Smith, Pat Martin, Donny Cornell, Bill, Shirley and Lee Doggett, Marilyn Jones, and Kim Hester. Other guests included Mrs. Robert Meeks of Slaton, Miss Shirley Wallace and Mrs. George Hester.

Former Postite is wed in Fort Worth

Of interest to people in the Garza County area is the March 28 wedding of Ross Morrow and Miss Rowena Wham of Fort Worth.

Morrow is a former resident of Post and is the son of Mrs. Nadine Morrow of Austin. His brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morrow, live in Post.

The couple were married in a double ring ceremony at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. S. A. Morrow in Fort Worth. Dr. Jones of the Presbyterian Church read the rite before a fireplace decorated in flowers and flanked with palms.

Attendants of the couple were Bill Aldridge and Mrs. Glenda Aldridge.

They are at home in California where he is employed by Hughes Aircraft Company.

Mrs. Melvin Williams hostess for shower

Mrs. Rose Dunn and Mrs. Vee Oden were co-honorees for a pink and blue shower last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Melvin Williams.

Guests were invited to call at 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. W. D. Williams assisted the hostess in serving refreshments, which carried out the pink and blue color scheme in decorations.

Approximately 20 guests called.

Good Neighbors Club roll call is answered with 'Famous Sayings'

Roll call was answered with "famous sayings" when members of the Good Neighbors Club met last Thursday at Antelope Alley.

Following the luncheon, a brief business meeting was held before the club adjourned to meet today.

Eighteen members and four guests, Mrs. Leona Lamb, Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, Mrs. Marjorie Caffey and Mrs. Wynona Isaacs, were present.

Mystic Sewing Club has regular meeting

Attending last Friday's meeting of the Mystic Sewing Club were: Mrs. Estell Moreland, Jimmie Hudman, Mary Eckols, Lillie D. Short, Ruby Shedd, Ella West, Eva Bailey, Alyene Runkles, Wynona Isaacs, Winnie Henderson, Thelma Kuykendall, Juanita Parrish, and the hostess, Mrs. Nell Windham.

Mrs. Eva Bailey will be hostess for the April 17 meeting of the club.

CHURCH CONVENTION

Rev. Almon Martin, First Christian Church, today announced the district church convention will be held in the First Christian Church in Lubbock April 19. Donald West, who is in foreign mission work, will speak.

Post club represented at Borger TFWC convention

Four members of the Woman's Culture Club attended the 7th District Texas Federation of Women's Clubs convention in Borger last Thursday, where their club won two seconds and a third in the Texas Heritage Department. One of the Post members attending the convention, Mrs. R. T. Smith, placed third with her two-piece suit in a contest sponsored by Vogue Patterns. The Post club's yearbook won a sixth place.

Postscripts

The Little Theatre group of the First Methodist Church is hard at work on a hilarious play written by William Roos, entitled "January Thaw." This play was produced by the Golden Theatre in New York and promises to be a lot of fun for local audiences. Dates are to be announced soon and tickets will go on sale.

A newcomer to Post is Mrs. D. A. Sutter and children who are staying in Post while her husband is in Belize, British Honduras, where he is employed as drilling foreman for the Kerr McGee Oil Industries. The Sutter family is from Thermopolis, Wyo., and plan to join their husband and father in July and will go into the Argentinias.

A pink color scheme was carried out in decorations for a bridal shower honoring Miss Carolyn Long Friday evening in the home of Mrs. W. C. Kiker. Mrs. Ardell Williams and Mrs. J. B. Baldrice served refreshments from a table laid in white lace over pink and featuring a centerpiece of pink roses. Co-hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Dan Mitchell, Mrs. Woodrow Furr, Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Kiker. Miss Long and James Talley Williams were married Sunday afternoon.

County Attorney Carleton P. Webb was in Austin Monday and Tuesday where he attended the Attorney General's conference.

Andy Schmidt, sophomore at Southern Methodist University in Dallas, was home over the weekend visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Schmidt. While here he also visited with his sister, Mrs. Bill Jackson of Lubbock, and Ronnie Dunn in Southland. He returned to Dallas via the new jet service and reported he barely had time to eat before the jet touched down in Dallas. Also aboard the flight were Giles McCrary and his daughter, Mary Louise, who was returning to Hookaday School.

The Post schools band will present a concert at the Parent-Teacher Assn., meeting tonight at the grade school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock. All officers and committee chairmen are asked to attend an executive meeting to be held prior to the regular meeting at 7 o'clock. Mrs. Bob Collins, chairman, will be in charge of the program. "Our Leisure Time—Constructive or Destructive." All parents and teachers are invited.

At Thursday night's President's Banquet, the clubwomen heard Dr. Fred C. Schwarz declare, "We will have a Communist world in 15 years, unless we do something about it now!"

Dr. Schwarz, who is an Australian physician, surgeon, psychiatrist and lay minister, is executive director of the Christian Anti-Communism Crusade.

In his talk, Dr. Schwarz advanced seven points and went on to give substantiating proof for each thesis advanced.

The seven points were: (1) The Communists propose to conquer the world; (2) They are doing it; (3) They are conquering the world by program and timetable; (4) Communist conquest means slavery and death; (5) Many of us are unconsciously helping the Communist cause and in the process are destroying our children; (6) This imposes a responsibility on us to do something about what's taking place; and (7) There is a tremendous amount we can do.

After discussing each of the seven points, Dr. Schwarz concluded by pointing out that our children are "diseased, social animals" to the Communists and if they conquer the world, these children must be destroyed. He said it is every American's duty to fight this destruction in every way possible.

'Classification' program at B&PW

Mrs. Helen Livingston presented a program on "Classification," discussing her position as secretary to Post High School Principal Glenn Whittenberg at last Thursday's meeting of the Post Business and Professional Women's Club.

Following her talk, Mrs. Ruth Young, president, presided for a business session during which plans were discussed for the Public Affairs Banquet to be held Thursday, April 30. Dr. Willa Vaughn Tinsley, Dean of Home Economics at Texas Tech, will be speaker for the affair.

Women of the Church of God of Prophecy served a buffet dinner to the following members: Mrs. Young, Mrs. Katharine Chammell, Mrs. Winnie Tuffing, Mrs. Nora Stevens, Mrs. Eleanor Webb, Miss Jessie Pearce, Mrs. Livingston, and guests, Mrs. Herman Rappolt and Mrs. Will Searns.

Revival meeting nearing close

Sunday will mark the end of the revival at the Calvary Baptist Church. Rev. Glenn Rosenfeldt, of the First Baptist Church of Roswell, is conducting the meetings and Wesley Scott of the Pleasant Valley Baptist Church leads the singing services.

Rev. Graydon Howell invites everyone to attend the services, Sunday, following the services, a basket lunch will be held at the church at 12 noon. Everyone is invited.

Several attend meet of Golden Age Club

Several members of the Golden Age Club were present for their regular Thursday meeting last week at the annex of the First Christian Church.

Following a plate luncheon, the afternoon was spent singing and tables of "42".

It is known as the Land of the White Elephant.

Corner on Cotton

BY BOB COLLINS

Needed right now is a commission to study ways of reducing immediately the cost of growing cotton... lots of talk and action down where it can compete with synthetics and foreign growth... this must be done, of course... but just as important is reducing farmers' growing costs... research is underway, of course, and someday the boll weevil cost will be whipped... someday the weed control problem will be eliminated... but something needs to be done now!!... what??... we don't know, but there should be a commission set up with all segments of the cotton industry represented... its only aim should be to study ways of reducing as quickly as possible the farmer's cost of growing cotton... who knows what could come out of this??... perhaps certain research projects need to be assigned different priorities... maybe new ways of handling cotton are needed... maybe nothing can be done, but it should be tried.

No Crew Cut
Boll weevils like cotton with crew cuts... at least the weevils don't like cotton with long hairs on the stems and leaf stalks because the hairs interfere with the pest's movements... so a new strain of hairy cotton has been developed with 10 to 30 per cent less damage from weevils, early tests show... wonder if this long hair cotton creates more problems for the ginner??

How Much?
On the question of cotton production costs... do you know how much it really costs you to grow a pound of cotton??... we'll bet you don't... it's one of the big problems in research right now, finding out how much money a farmer spends on only cotton... for instance, when you take your truck on a fishing trip do you charge the gas used to fishing or let it run in with production expenses??... University of Missouri now has a project underway to get detailed cost information.

"FA" Cotton
Every hear of "FA" (fully acetylated) cotton??... it's something fairly new... a cotton fiber with improved heat and rot resistance and still retaining cotton's natural resistance to wear... big use forecast for conveyor belts and similar industrial items.

Tagged
About a year from now tags must show the contents of textiles so you'll know the amount of cotton in a garment you buy... a recent sales experiment was conducted with identical cotton blue jeans... one pair of jeans had a tag, the other didn't... the jeans with the tag saying 100 per cent cotton outsold the untagged 13 times to one.

The End of a Long Day

Here is a young fellow just about ready for bed and a much deserved rest. Although he is still too young to do much more than sit in his chair, he is busy from early morning until night finding out about this new world in which he is a very important member.

He must rely upon his parents for food, warmth and protection and from those parents he also experiences the wonderful sharing of family love. As we owe this child love and devotion, so do we owe him the right to grow up in a home where God is an important part of family life. Do not deny your children the benefits of God's love which He gives you through the church. Become an active part of your church. Enjoy the peace of mind that regular church attendance can bring to you and to your family.

© 1959, Coleman Adv. Serv., P. O. Box 4887, Dallas, Texas

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

JUNIOR RODEO GROUP EXPRESSES THANKS

Dear Editor: The Post Junior Rodeo Association wishes to use your "Letter to the Editor" column for an open letter to our community. First, we wish to express our sincere appreciation to all who voiced their faith and confidence in our Junior Rodeo and the expression of enjoyment our annual event gives. This makes us know the majority of our people are very interested in what we, as juniors, are doing and are behind us 100 per cent.

As everyone knows, the Junior Rodeo is a non-profit organization and every penny we raise above actual cost of putting on our show goes for a very worthy cause, which is the building fund for our Garza County 4-H Club. This club

HOW BOUT THAT By RALPH TEE

Oil show exhibit space sold out

TULSA, OKLA. — A complete sellout of exhibit space for the May 14-23 International Petroleum Exposition at Tulsa was announced here today by Wm. B. Way, general manager.

Way said that a total of 1,000 building booths and some 26 acres of outside exhibit space had been taken for this "largest industrial show in the world", started in 1923.

"A total of 1,497 exhibitors will display a half billion dollars worth of the type of equipment it takes to find, drill for, produce, transport and refine oil", he said.

"Approximately 30,000 oil men who buy and specify equipment and services, and some 6,000 exhibitor personnel, are expected to attend from every oil producing state in the United States and nearly 50 foreign countries. A half million of the general public is also expected to attend."

is a wonderful project available to all juniors — any person under 19 years of age. The juniors, aided by senior directors, promote our show and in return benefit from its proceeds through our Garza County 4-H Club. We are very proud to have been able to contribute our bit to our community by presenting the 4-H Club a check for $5,000, which was profits from the work of all juniors and their senior directors. This wasn't nearly as much as we would like to have presented, but it was our "all" — given in good faith and with God's help and your continued faith in your juniors there will be more, who knows—perhaps someday the dream of your juniors for their Junior Stock show will become a reality.

We didn't, by any means, accomplish this through our work alone. It was through the support of all of your own community, and we want to thank you from the very bottom of our hearts.

Perhaps in the years to come we will see our Junior Stock show a big annual event, having exhibits of all 4-H and FFA work shown—stock exhibits, girls' sewing and baking, junior tractor driving contest—all exhibits showing what our juniors have accomplished through the preceding year and their plans for the future, all combined at one time with our Junior Rodeo as the highlight of the event.

This, we think, will create more interest and draw people from far and near. It will give our juniors a chance to display what they have accomplished and create more enthusiasm. It will be compact and one big event, taking the place of several events scattered throughout the year. Anyway, we can dream.

Next, we want to sincerely thank the directors of the Post Stampedes for making it possible for us to have our show in their arena each year for the nominal fee of $300, which we were able to meet, and

HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT SAYS Storage space is something that no home seems to have enough of

By JESSIE PEARCE

Storage space is something that no home seems to have enough of. We plan for as much as possible, thinking it will be adequate, just to find we need more. In many of the remodeled homes, the problem of storage space is very hard to solve. Rooms are not large enough to have closets built in them. Even in this case, the problem can be eliminated with furniture that provides storage space. Book shelves are the simplest type of storage furniture. They are available in many sizes, and can be decorative as well as useful. They provide storage for books, magazines, records, children's toys, and hobby and recreational material. They can be hung over other furniture, or can be free standing, or placed against a wall.

Chests of drawers are also good storage pieces. If they are simple in design, they can be integrated into almost any furnishing scheme. In buying chests of drawers, be sure the drawers slide easily. Shallow drawers with dividers are especially useful.

Cabinets are the other main type of storage furniture. They are made with doors and adjustable dividers. Doors on cabinets present the same problems as doors between rooms. Swinging doors work easily and allow for storage racks on the inside of the door. However, they get in the way when open. Sliding doors have drawbacks, too. They open only part of the cabinet at a time and make it impossible to use the inside of the door for storage racks or hooks. Doors that roll may stick.

Storage walls or room dividers are now taking their places in the furnishing picture. Radios, phonographs and television cabinets are made a part of these units, rather than being separate pieces that require a space to themselves. End tables that have storage compartments are often seen. These may be small chests of drawers that serve as tables. Low storage units on rollers to push under a bed are good for helping solve storage problems.

For helping solve shortage of storage space in kitchens, half shelves between the larger ones are helpful, as are spice racks, sliding shelves, and step shelves. For additional help on kitchen storage, ask for the leaflet, "Kitchen Storage Devices" that offers many helpful suggestions, many of them things that you can do with little or no extra cost.

for their understanding and kind consideration in letting us have the arena again this year at the same fee instead of $1,000, which was first considered.

We understand their need for more money for repair work and we wish to apologize if it has seemed we have not carried our part of the load for maintenance on the stands, as we were very sincere in thinking that what we paid out for repairs at the close of our show each year, plus the $300 rental fee, was our part of the load.

Again, we express our gratitude for the senior directors' reconsideration, as we couldn't have possibly met that obligation without defeating our purpose.

The faith and confidence shown by everyone has truly given our moral a big boost and we will strive to maintain this by putting forth every effort and presenting to you one of our finest shows yet.

Please come to our meetings, which are open to everyone interested, every first and third Monday in each month. Your support and ideas will be deeply appreciated.

Hamilton's Question Bird

What is better than a few pounds of good solid health?

Answer: A few pounds of good solid health.

It is very much better that you should be worth your weight in health than gold. A little forethought and care—the experience of your physician—the skill of your druggist—can help you protect health.

require a space to themselves. End tables that have storage compartments are often seen. These may be small chests of drawers that serve as tables. Low storage units on rollers to push under a bed are good for helping solve storage problems.

For helping solve shortage of storage space in kitchens, half shelves between the larger ones are helpful, as are spice racks, sliding shelves, and step shelves. For additional help on kitchen storage, ask for the leaflet, "Kitchen Storage Devices" that offers many helpful suggestions, many of them things that you can do with little or no extra cost.

650 mail delivery blanks filled out

Approximately 650 questionnaires on city mail delivery have been filled in at the post office here, Postmaster Harold Voss said today.

The purpose of the questionnaires is to determine if there is enough interest here for city delivery of mail, and later of parcel post, for the service to be instituted.

The postmaster said questionnaires will be available at the post office through Friday for patrons who have not filled out one.

A postal inspector picked up 500 of the filled-out questionnaires last week and about 150 more have been filled out since then, Voss said.

Two years ago, when a similar survey was conducted, only about 275 questionnaires were filled out. The mail delivery project was dropped at that time, because this number of questionnaires was not considered to show enough interest on the part of patrons.

FHA chapter here observing week

The annual tractor driving contest for Future Farmers of America members will be held Saturday, April 18, at the Earl Rogers place in the west part of town.

The contest is sponsored statewide by the Stewart Company, manufacturers of the Ford tractor, and locally by Garza Farm Store, local Ford tractor dealership.

Fencing materials are purchased by county

Garza County has purchased $4,219.18 worth of fencing material from Greenfield Hardware for use on FM Road 969.

Four hundred rolls of 12-gauge barbed wire were purchased for $3,578; seven coils of 14-gauge smooth wire for $88.20, and 8,800 fence staves for $553.63.

The commissioners' court voted at a special meeting to issue a warrant for payment of the materials.

VFW needs new list on hospital aid users

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Post has misplaced its list of people to whom the post's hospital beds, wheelchairs and crutches have been loaned.

Anyone now in possession of any of these articles is asked to telephone 521 in Post, so a new list can be compiled.

Ready for another promotion. Then turn to page 13 and read all about Westinghouse Opportunity Days which are back again at the San Antonio TV-Appliance Center. Not only have those "you can be sure" people slashed the prices on all their new appliances and TVs, but they're giving away lots of valuable bonuses too—such as picnic tables, power edge trimmers, chain saws, electric skillets, 12-piece linen sets, princess chairs, desks, etc. Don't miss Ed's full-page announcement of Westinghouse Opportunity Days over on page 13. And as Ed says, you'll have to compare to really believe the values Westinghouse is offering in this one.

Here's a different promotion—but one with real interest too. The two Marshall's at Marshall Brown are sponsoring a Gay Gibson Thunderbird Contest here. You'll find the details explained on page 3. Entries must select from the five Gay Gibson dress styles shown in the ad the one they like best and tell why on a contest blank in 10 words or less. The winner of the local contest wins a Gay Gibson dress and the entry is sent to for the national judging where the prize will be one of those sleek Ford Thunderbirds.

A new service now being offered around Post is home delivery of Oak Farms Dairy Products on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays via a mechanically refrigerated truck. He told us the other day he will have an announcement in the near future on the opening of an office here so that subscribers may telephone in to have the service started.

Saturday's school bond election found some 61 per cent of those voting favoring the bonds — just about the percentage that close observers had predicted.

Post retained its record of never having defeated a bond issue, but this one was closer than backers of the school expansion program had wanted. It was also the biggest school bond issue ever placed before the voters.

Wildcat indicates San Andres strike

San Andres production has been indicated one and one-half miles northwest of the Rocker A multiple pay pool in Garza County at Sunland Oil Corporation, et al., of Fort Worth, No. 1 A. B. Connell, a wildcat located in section 8, block 5, GH&H survey.

The prospect, three-quarters of a mile northwest of a depleted San Andres producer and separated from the Rocker A area by several failures, yielded 70 barrels of oil on a 10-hour swabbing test through perforations at 2,775 to 2,777 feet after being acidized with 1,500 gallons.

Tanks and pumping unit are being installed for completion in a few days.

New Truck Is Target For Beer Bottles

Beer bottle busting on Main Street is nothing new to Post on Saturday nights—it's just a question of what the bottles hit. The target last Saturday night was the windshield of a new Ford pickup truck on the Tom Power used car lot.

Auto inspection deadline nears

Garza County residents were reminded this week that next Wednesday is the deadline for 1959 motor vehicle safety inspections.

Motorists have been urged not to wait for the deadline to get their cars inspected. Garages can now make inspections with little or no waiting by customers but as the deadline draws nearer motorists will run an increasing risk of having to spend time in long waiting lines.

Passenger car brakes, lights, reflectors, horns and windshield wipers must pass the inspection. The same items, plus others required by law, must be inspected on commercial vehicles.

Officials said the inspections are lagging behind and urged all motorists to have their automobiles inspected immediately.

Soybean planting in '59 expected to double 1958's

Inquires received at the High Plains Station at Halfway indicate that soybean planting in 1959 will probably more than double the 55,000 acres planted in 1958. This increase will probably follow the trend noticed during the past two years, according to Dr. Johnny H. Davis, associate head of the High Plains Station.

The Lee variety is apparently preferred due to the yield and characteristics. Fifty varieties and strains of soybeans were tested in the 1958 season in the hopes of finding an even better variety suited to the area. Thirty-three of these varieties were experimental.

The soybeans were planted June 14 and harvested Nov. 7. The seeding rates studied were 40, 50, 60 and 70 pounds to the acre. In 1958 the best seeding rates were 60 to 70 pounds per acre, compared to 50 to 60 pounds in 1957. In 1959 the seed showed 80 per cent germination which amounted to 56 pounds of pure live seed at the 70 pound planting rate.

The soybeans were irrigated just prior to bloom, at full bloom and again in mid-September. Fertilizer tests showed 2.6 bushels increase over the non-fertilized plots when 40 pounds of nitrogen and 80 pounds of phosphorus were applied. The increases in yield were not enough to pay for the fertilizer.

The soybean plant fixes nitrogen in the soil and improves the character of the soil. Thorough inoculation of the seed with bacteria before planting is important. Experiments have shown that failure to inoculate will cut the yield 50 per cent. Soybeans are combine harvested as soon as dry, usually after the first frost.

For exceeding membership goal

Legion post here to receive honor

The American Legion post here, along with 11 others, will be honored at the annual spring convention of the 19th District of the American Legion for having exceeded its 1959 membership quota.

The spring convention is to be held Saturday and Sunday at the Settles Hotel and American Legion Home in Big Spring.

The local Legion post, whose commander is Nick Vukad, will be presented a citation for its work in exceeding its membership quota by the time of the spring convention.

Other posts to be honored are those at Andrews, Anton, Big Spring, Brownfield, Denver City, Hale Center, Lamesa, Olton, Rails, Slaton and Tahoka.

Registration will open at the Settles Hotel at 1:30 p. m. Saturday. The Legion Home will open at 2 p. m. and an open quorum will begin at 4 p. m., followed by a rehabilitation meeting at 5 p. m.

A social hour will be held in the Legion Home at 6 p. m., followed by the annual convention dance beginning at 9 p. m.

On Sunday registration will open at the Settles Hotel at 8:30 a. m. Commanders and adjutants breakfast will take place in the Settles Coffee Shop and will be held at 9:30 a. m. A joint session of the Legion and Auxiliary will be held in the Ball Room with District Commander Raymond Andrews calling the meeting to order. The 19th District Color Guard from Seminole will advance colors, followed by the invocation by 19th District Chaplain Wilfred Stoerner. Department Commander J. After the convention adjourns, there will be a social hour at the Legion Home for Legionnaires and wives.

Will reappoint notary publics

Secretary of State Zollie Steakley has announced that he will reappoint persons now holding notary public commissions but that such persons must re-qualify by the filing of a new oath and bond with the county clerk of his residence between June 1, 1959 and June 10, 1959.

Steakley emphasized that notary publics should not send requests for reappointment or for commissions directly to the Secretary of State. The law specifically requires the county clerks to prove notary bonds.

Any person not now a notary public who desires appointment should apply to his county clerk between April 1, 1959 and May 1, 1959. Application during this period will assure prompt attention before the rush procedure of appointing present notaries.

Secretary of State Steakley further pointed out that each person applying for a commission as a notary public must be at least 21 years of age and a resident of the county for which he is appointed. The exact name and permanent address of the applicant must be furnished the county clerk.

The story of

WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE and The Church Bell

"I don't need to advertise," an established merchant in Kansas once told William Allen White, renowned publisher of The Emporia Gazette. "Everybody knows me and knows what I sell."

"In that event," replied the thoughtful publisher, "we can dispense with the oldest advertising medium for the oldest institution in the world. See that church down the street," continued Mr. White, pointing to one of Emporia's oldest and most beautiful structures, "That church has been established here for many years. Everyone knows what it is and what it does. In the tower of the church is a bell and every Sunday it rings out to remind folks to come to church."

"Shoppers go where they are invited and stay where they are well treated," concluded the publisher.

"Regardless of how well established a firm may be, newspaper advertising is a repeated invitation and a reminder to come and do business with that store."

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — With just about a month left between now and May 12, automatic adjournment date, it's "now or never" time in the Texas Legislature.

Bill sponsors are challenging other members to "pass it or kill it." No more playing the waiting game. Less juggling of the parliamentary ball.

House speaker Waggoner Carr gave this "get with it" mood a strong shove by taking a firm stand on tax goals. "There is no Santa Claus," Carr told House members. Texas must raise $300,000,000 in new money to meet its obligations, he said. On "how to do it," the speaker made these suggestions and observations:

1. A bill is needed "which will include a broad array of selective taxes — including, but not confined to — selective sales taxes."

2. A general sales tax is "out." Lawmakers will — and should — keep their promises not to pass one.

3. "Broad" taxation would include using levies in areas suggested by the governor — natural gas, liquor, cigarettes, corporations — but at a lower rate than suggested by the governor. In addition, many new items would be added, in keeping with the "spread thin, hurt little" principle.

4. "Piecemeal taxation" is unfair, inadequate to the present challenge. State government should not "reward political favorites." New taxes should be "spread across as much of the Texas economy as possible."

5. Likewise on appropriations. If college professors and state employees get a raise, public school teachers should, too.

Carr's speech was regarded as public announcement that he is taking the reins of leadership to get a tax program passed.

Gov. Price Daniel's comment on Carr's statement was in the vein of "why didn't you say so before?" Daniel said, "I am in agreement with much of it and only wish it had been made 30 days earlier."

House Taxation Committee Chairman V. L. Ramsey of Beckville named a five-man committee to write a tax bill and have it ready early next week.

Given the task are Reps. Wesley Roberts of Lamesa, H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock, Joe Burkett of Kerrville, Ben Atwell of Dallas and Warren C. Cowen of Fort Worth.

GOVERNOR'S abandoned property bill has been reported favorably by the House Tax Committee, but sponsors claim it has been "gutted" by committee action.

As originally proposed, the bill would have allowed the state to take over bank accounts and money and property held by banks, insurance companies, oil and gas companies, etc., if unclaimed for seven years.

As amended, the measure cut out all holdings except bank accounts and upped the waiting period to 20 years.

Rep. Marshall O. Bell of San Antonio, sponsor, said this would take away 60 per cent of the revenue raising possibilities.

CREATION of a vast "government center" that would cover most of an area seven blocks long and four blocks wide is the aim of the Capitol Hill Master Plan.

Legislators, whose assent will be needed to make the dream a reality, got a preview of the 20-year plan from architects and Building Commission members.

Governor Daniel said the $37,

000,000 project could be financed with no new taxes. Income, he said, would come from the Confederate pension fund, funds of state agencies now paying rent for privately owned buildings and funds now available to the Building Commission.

Recommended steps for 1960-61 are buying up several more blocks of land and remodeling the Capitol to provide offices for House members.

A WATERED-DOWN party registration bill is in line for House consideration after approval of the Elections Committee.

Original proposal by Rep. Jamie Clements of Crockett would have required that a voter state his party preference and have it stamped on his poll tax at time of purchase. Thereafter, the carrier of a "Republican receipt" could not vote in a Democratic primary and vice versa.

Attorney General Will Wilson ruled this unconstitutional. He said it set up requirements for voting not authorized in the constitution.

As amended, the measure provides that a voter would have his receipt stamped when he voted in a primary or participated in party conventions. This would prevent his participating in the convention of a different party until he bought a new poll tax.

Liberal Democrats, particularly DOT spokesmen, were very dissatisfied, even called the attorney general's opinion "dead wrong."

In this two-car-in-every-garage, public transportation companies say they've fallen into hard times, and need tax relief.

A bill to lower the license fees on motor buses to a rate equal to trucks of the same weight has Senate Transportation Committee approval. It is sponsored by Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas.

City transit companies are asking to be relieved of motor fuel taxes. Rep. Warren C. Cowen of Fort Worth is sponsoring a measure to do this.

Transit companies are caught in a cost squeeze, say supporters, that makes it hard to continue serving working people at reasonable rates. San Antonio transit lines had to give up, were taken over by city government.

SENATE HAS given final approval to a measure that would prohibit selling, buying or trading motor vehicles on Sunday.

Exempted would be persons who observe some day other than Sunday as the Sabbath, such as Seventh Day Adventists.

Bill had lively opposition from several senators whose argument was that it would "restrict competition in the name of Christianity."

By VERN SANFORD

You'll find white bass fishing at its finest just below Marble Falls Dam. It's at the head of Lake Travis on the Colorado River in Central Texas.

Several conditions combine to make Marble Falls the white bass capital for a large part of the angling population of Texas.

First, the fish are there in profusion numbers.

Second, Marble Falls is in weekend distance of most Texans, as the spot is not far from the geographical center of the state.

THIRD, GOOD fishing water is of easy access. This, thanks to the ingenuity and energy of an Austin dentist, fisherman, and entrepreneur, Dr. C. H. Roper. He built a contraption called "The Ramp" — where you can ride a cable car up and down the steep cliff.

We'll describe The Ramp in a minute. But first, a word about why the sandies are here in such profusion.

There are many places on the Highland Lakes where you can catch strings of big white bass. But nowhere else will you find so many, in such great numbers, in so small a space, so much of the time.

IT JUST HAPPENS that whites find the water below Marble Falls Dam exactly to their liking. When power is being generated, they crowd into the tail race to enjoy the gushing water. When the generators are not in operation they retire to the deeps or chase shad that school on the surface.

Come spawning season, the white bass head upstream, looking for shallow water and a rocky, sandy bottom for the best egg-laying conditions. Well, sir, Marble Falls is as far upstream as the fish can get in Lake Travis, a 65 mile long body of water. And here, below the dam, conditions for white bass spawning are ideal. Then too, the shad school here. And if you say "shad" to a white bass, it's like saying "steaks on" to hungry newspapermen. They come a'running!

SO, HOW DO we get to this fabulous place? Until recent months, fishermen either climbed down a dangerous cliff to get there or they pulled their boats through rocky shallows below the dam. Either way they risked their necks. So, Dr. Roper figured a way to ease the path, make the fishermen happy, and pick up a little loose change for himself.

Owning land below the dam, atop the cliff, Dr. Roper also wanted to get down there and fish without climbing over all those rocks. So, he dynamited a path along the cliffside. That made walking up and down easier. People heard about his "ramp" and came flocking to use it. He charged them 50 cents apiece. That paid for the dynamite.

BUT STILL IT was a steep, hard climb. Roper thought about a "ramp jeep" but changed his plans when he heard about a resort operator who was employing some sort of cable car to reach down to the water from his high place above. That seemed like a solution.

So, Roper improvised an installation to fit his situation.

He located some abandoned railroad track, salvaged rail and ties. A railroad construction crew, temporarily laid off, put the track down. A second-hand elevator furnished the mechanism to raise and lower the "hand car." The car itself was constructed so that its front wheels were higher than the back ones. This in order to keep the floor level despite the incline.

TODAY EVERYTHING is automatic. Just push the button and you're on your way. The car glides slowly downward, along the 140 foot cliff at a 35 degree incline over a course of 300 feet. Now one can eliminate the danger in clambering down the rocks, or trying to navigate the Boulder-studded channel from downstream in a boat. However, those routes still are pursued by a few of the daring ones.

But let's take a trip to this place and see what's there.

First, we park our car at the top of the bluff, putting the front wheels securely against a log, so placed to prevent the machine from going over the cliff. Nearby are cabins for those who can't get enough of the white bass fishing in one day. There's a little store and tackle shop at the "take off" spot, attended by Bill Cerley. From Bill we get out tickets ($1) to ride the cable car. Tickets are good for 24 hours.

From Bill we also get minnows and whatever artificial lures we need to entice the fish.

FOUR AT A time can ride the cable car, which is a busy little apparatus, carrying fishermen up and down all day long when the weather is decent.

When we reach the bottom, there's a choice to be made. Either we follow the bank to the dam, or we fish near a string of boulders jutting out into the current.

There are fishermen all along the bank and out on the boulders. There are people out in the water, some wearing waders and some setting wet. There are a few boats, clustered just beyond the swift water of the tail race. Whether or not power is being generated will determine where we go.

SOME ANGLERS prefer working in the tail race when the water is rushing through. Others like it better downstream in the quiet water. You can take your choice, for there are white bass here all the time and they can be caught, regardless of the generators.

As we take up our stations we notice what the others are doing. Most of them are using minnows than any other bait. But there are many artificials in view. Most popular of these are jigs with buck-tails, spinners, and popping jigs.

You can see every imaginable kind of gear, from fly rod to surf-casting rig. But the spinning outfit by far outnumbers all others, as it should. It's exactly right for this kind of fishing.

A LIMIT CATCH (25) is no novelty at this white bass haven. Untold thousands of them have been taken from these water. But the supply never seems to diminish as white bass spawn like crazy.

There are other fish here too. An occasional black bass or catfish is snared, and now and then a carp or buffalo will swallow a minnow or get foul-hooked by a lure. Most of the fishermen, however, are after white bass as the whites are present in such vast numbers.

Here's one spot that is so popular on warm holidays and pleasant weekends that it is not uncommon to find fishermen from many parts of the United States, almost elbow to elbow along the bank. So, our parting advice is — if you plan to fish The Ramp, and we hope you do, make it on a week-day if at all possible. But, if you like company, come anytime.

Post girls win District 3-AA volleyball championship

Beat Spur in finals

The Post High School girls' volleyball team won the District 3-AA championship by defeating Spur in two out of three games at Floydada Saturday afternoon in the district tournament.

By winning the district title, Coach Jiggs King's team has qualified for the regional tournament to be held April 16, 17 and 18 in Lubbock. The winner and runner-up in the regional meet qualify for the state tournament.

The Post girls defeated Spur, 15-13, 13-15, and 15-6, after easily disposing of Slaton in their first match, 15-7 and 15-0.

The Spur girls edged past Floydada in their first match, then defeated Tahoka, which had drawn a first round bye.

Starters for Post were: Glenda Whittenberg, Pat Whentley, Daniela Bateman, Kay Martin, Sandra Veach and Janet Stephens, with Peggy Ramsey also seeing action. Other squad members are Linda Wilks, Anna Morris, Ruthell Martin and Judy Clary.

Crippled Lopes barely score in Crosbyton meet

The Post Antelope track team, not at full strength because of injuries and illness, managed to score only one and two-ninths points Saturday in the annual Crosbyton Relays.

Derwood Mayberry won fourth place in the high hurdles and Scotty Pierce and Don Rankin tied with seven others in the high jump.

Curtis Didway, who had been counted on for points in the sprints and the broad jump, was held out of the events by Coach Frank Krhut because of a "charley horse." Didway threw the discus 115 feet 9 inches—his best throw of the season—but failed to place.

Quarter miler Craig "Crickie" Graham was not at full strength for his event and the relays because of having been ill the first of the week.

Tulia won the meet with 34 1/2 points, followed by Denver City, Olton, Abernathy, Floydada and Tahoka.

Points picked up by District 3-AA athletes were as follows:

120-yard high hurdles—Bill Patterson, Floydada, first.

100-yard dash—Bill Berry, Slaton, fourth.

440-yard dash—Stice, Tahoka, fourth.

180-yard low hurdles—Patterson, Floydada, first.

880-yard run—Jerry Adams, Tahoka, first.

220-yard dash—Patterson, Floydada, fourth.

Mile run—Kent Morgan, Spur, second.

Mile relay—Tahoka, third.

Bloomington track team outscores Post in meet conducted by mail

Bloomington High School's track and field team defeated the Post Antelopes, 89 to 50, in a dual meet conducted by mail, Coach Frank Krhut announced today.

Leroy Fenstermaker, formerly head football coach here, is coach at Bloomington, which is near Victoria on the lower Coastal Plain of Texas.

Krhut said he was pleased with the showing his team made against the well-balanced Bloomington squad. Post ran its track events on the Snyder track and the field events here.

Times and distances posted by members of the two teams were exchanged by Krhut and Fenstermaker to determine the winners in each event.

The Antelopes scored first place in the low hurdles, broad jump, mile run, discus throw and pole vault.

The complete results were as follows:

100-yard dash—1. Seydler, Bloomington, 2. Didway, Post, 3. Carter, Bloomington, 4. Wynn, Bloomington, Time: 19.4.

220-yard dash — 1. Seydler, Bloomington, 2. Didway, Post, 3. Carter, Bloomington, 4. Gagnes, Bloomington, Time: 22.9.

440-yard dash—1. Gagnes, Bloomington, 2. Graham, Post, 3. Wall, Bloomington, 4. Shafer, Bloomington, Time: 55.5.

880-yard run—1. Wall, Bloomington, 2. Olson, Bloomington, 3. Rojas, Bloomington, 4. Bouchier, Post, Time: 2:13.

Mile run—1. Hair, Post, 2. Whitefield, Bloomington, 3. Hilscher, Bloomington, 4. Tie between Carter and McDonald, Bloomington, Time: 5:14.

8th graders third in track meet at Idalou

Post's 8th grade track team scored 15 1/2 points to take third place last week in the Idalou Invitational Junior High Meet.

The Post 7th graders scored only four points, but finished fourth in a field of 12 teams. Twelve teams were also entered in the 8th grade division.

Post's freshmen picked up two and one-half points in their division.

For Coach Cook's 8th graders, Andrew Askins won first place in the shot put with a heave of 38 feet, and Raymond Gonzales was first in the broad jump with a leap of 16 feet 10 inches. John Valdez jumped 16 feet 4 inches for third place.

Gonzales was also fourth in the 100-yard dash, and Valdez tied for third place in the high jump. The 440-yard relay team of Gonzales, Valdez, Larry Guy and Filiberto Colazo finished fourth with a time of 52.5 seconds.

Floydada scored 22 points to win the 8th grade division, with Idalou's 19 1/2 points taking second in team scoring. Lockney, with 6 points, was a distance fourth behind.

Broad jump—Patterson, Floydada, fourth.

High jump—Patterson and Ginn, Floydada, tied with seven others for fourth.

hind Post. Slaton scored 5 points; Ralls, 3, and Tahoka, 2. Five other teams failed to scratch.

In the 7th grade division, John Bland placed third in the 75-yard dash and fourth in the 100. The 440-yard relay team of Pat Cornell, Dicky Price, Jackie Fluit and Bland came in fourth.

Crosbyton scored 28 points to win the 7th grade division. Ralls was second with 18 and Lockney third with 9. Finishing behind Post were Floydada and Petersburg, two points each; Tahoka, 1 1/2 points, and a number of teams that failed to score.

Post's points in the freshman division were picked up by Tommy Bouchier's third place in the 100-yard dash, and Jackie Hill's tie for fourth in the broad jump.

Post golfers third

The Post High School golf team, composed of three freshman and one sophomore, won third place Saturday in the District 3-AA golf meet at Floydada.

Floydada was first with 494 points, Tahoka second with 435, Post third with 439 and Spur fourth with 477. Slaton did not turn in a score.

Members of the Post team were Lee Williams, Roger Camp, Leslie Acker and Jimmy Minor. All except Minor are freshman students.

PS in... SPORTS

By CHARLES DIDWAY

A couple of years ago when Abernathy was in the same district as Post, we remember a basketball game in which Abernathy beat Post on a last-second desperation shot by guard Gerald Watson. What made it a bitter pill to swallow was the fact that Watson was at one time enrolled in the Post schools.

Such incidents happen quite often in interscholastic sports. Junior High Coach Lawrence Cook ran into it at the Idalou track meet last week. The two youngsters who helped Crosbyton win the 7th grade division of the meet were brothers John and Joseph Valdez, who until about midway of the basketball season were enrolled here and helping Coach Cook's cage team make a good showing.

"If I'd still had those two boys on my team, I could have won the Idalou meet," Coach Cook said between them, they captured first places in the 75 and 100-yard dashes and high jump and scored points in other events.

While Norm Cash hasn't been setting the world on fire in spring exhibition games, it appears that the former Post Antelope player will stick with the Chicago White Sox for a while, at least. In the current issue of The Sporting News, he is still on the Sox roster, where he is listed as an outfielder and assigned the uniform number 38.

Norm had a real good season in winter baseball with a Venezuelan team, but hasn't hit his stride in spring training. He slammed out his team's only homer, however, in a weekend exhibition game, and may be finding the range again.

The Post Antelopes' chances for a good showing in the District 3-AA track and field meet at Lubbock Friday aren't as near as good as they appeared to be a couple of weeks ago. However, if alling members of the squad can get back into shape, Coach Frank Krhut's team should do better than last year in the district get-together.

Coach Cook expects to make a good showing with his grade school team in the district meet, and the freshman thinclads are expected to come through with more points than they've been scoring in some of the invitational meets.

Well, here's hoping!

Woodpecker taps spring calls on trees and posts

AUSTIN — This is the time of year for the woodpecker with all its sound effects to appear, according to "Flamboyant Forester," an article in the March issue of "Texas Game and Fish" magazine. There is a beautiful color cover of a pileated woodpecker on the magazine, done by Anne Marie Pulich of Arlington.

The lead story was written by Edgar Kincaid, Austin ornithologist, and illustrated with a picture by Allan D. Cruikshank of the National Audubon Society.

"In the spring woodpeckers frequently do a lot of rapid pecking that produces a maximum sound and a minimum of chips," Mr. Kincaid writes. "This is called drumming. Their sounding boards are hollow trees, metal roofs and other 'loud' surfaces."

He says the male woodpecker's drumming serves the same purpose as a turkey gobble or a songbird's song; it warns other males of his species to stay away and welcomes a female to come and share his territory.

Among other interesting features of the March issue are a picture story on "Painters for Quail"; an article about Texas roadside parks; an unusually interesting piece about freshwater eels; an educational feature for school children; a hiking story and maps showing the location of fishing markers along the Gulf Coast.

Opening of baseball season brings piles of statistics

Any baseball fan can tell you the number of home runs Mickey Mantle belted last year or the salary of Ted Williams. But can he tell you who wore the first baseball glove? Or what player was the first to catch a ball dropped from the Washington Monument?

Statistics will be flying thick and fast now that the baseball season is here. But for those who really want to impress their wives or girl friends, here are some baseball firsts, compiled by the research department of The World Book Encyclopedia.

The first clash between a player and his archenemy — the umpire — occurred June 19, 1846, when the Knickerbocker Club of New York played the New York Baseball Club at Elysian Fields in Hoboken, N. J. A player named Davis was fined six cents for cursing. The umpire was Alexander Cartwright, a leading player for the Knicks, who had chosen to umpire instead.

That game was also the first instance of team baseball as we know it. The New York club won 23 to 1 after four innings.

The Knickerbocker Club, founded in 1845, was the first regular baseball organization. And in 1846, the members of the club became the first team outfitted.

A breach of baseball etiquette made Al Reach the first paid player. In 1861, it was considered unethical for a player to "jump" from one team to another. Reach, however, deserted Brooklyn Atlantics when he offered money by the Philadelphia Athletics.

Five years later, the Cincinnati Red Stockings turned professional and became the first salaried team.

In those days, baseball was from the gentlemanly game. Knickerbockers had played, a player might leave the field before or unconscious after stopping a fast ball, but he refused to help himself by wearing protective equipment.

In 1875, however, Charles W. Spalding, first baseman for Boston, wore a glove—flesh-colored, so he wouldn't notice it. A. G. Spalding finally wore a dark brown adding stuffing to it a little time.

The first catcher's mask developed in 1878 for a player who preferred being hit a sissy to have his fine nose more profile smashed.

Still wondering about the Y. M. C. A. Monument? Well, Bill "Pep" Schriver of a Chicago club caught a ball dropped the 500-foot level of the monument in 1892.

Just a grandstander, but—baseball.

REASON THEY'RE HARD TO 'PLANT'

Wild turkey is a sensitive bird when it comes to picking roost

AUSTIN — There are many reasons why the wild turkey is a very hard customer to plant, according to the director of Wildlife Restoration, Game and Fish Commission. One, and probably the most important, reason is their sensitive attitudes toward roosts.

Usually, the turkey picks special trees for roosting. He, along with his band, will roost in these same trees each night. This is particularly true in all regions of the State except East Texas, where attempts are being made to plant the eastern turkey. They'll wander several miles each day, circling about in search of food, usually returning to the roost by nightfall. If while they are gone the roosting trees have been disturbed, the flock will abandon the roost, sometimes permanently.

Several examples were mentioned at the wildlife symposium held recently in Huntsville. As an example, a farmer didn't touch the trees in which the turkeys were roosting but cleared some of the cover brush around them. The birds refused to roost in the trees again. Some of the authorities at the symposium believed there is a key tree around which most of the turkey activity is centered, and this tree should never be disturbed.

It is this bird, which is so proudly displayed each Thanksgiving Day, likes acorns, about the most important food in the turkey range. Other wild foods include many insects, weed seeds, grass seeds, and native fruits and berries. Cultivated crops such as oats, chufas, maize, and corn are frequently taken when they are available. But, the loss of one good acorn crop can cause the birds to move on.
