OPINION TESTIMONY

In court all lawyers ask all witnesses except expert witnesses to report their observations, not opinions. It is for the judge and the jury—not the fact witnesses—to make inferences as to guilt or liability from the facts.

On the other hand, only "experts" can give the court their opinions. Aren't most people expert in some things? Most people are qualified to give opinions on such everyday things as speed, time, sound, and the like. Sometimes where impressions are hard to describe, a witness may have to talk in terms of opinions about such things as the force of a blow, distance of a sound, the amount of light, the degree of cold or heat, weight, health, temper, fear, and the like.

We can express the opinion that Jones "looks like the man" who did a crime, or that his footfalls or his voice were those of Jones. Courts will admit such testimony. So too, one can testify about his friends' sanity or handwriting and sometimes your own motives.

But most often the court must rely on certain skilled persons like physicians or engineers for "expert opinions" especially in complex or technical cases.

Problems in using experts: They may not agree. They may give opinions on the "ultimate" fact which the jury itself must decide (the extent of injuries, who is the father, what caused the explosion).

Do the experts here invade the jury's province?

As a rule, no. Before a court will let the expert testify he must show his special knowledge, say, in science, art, trade. Even so, the jury and judge decide issues of the trial, not the experts alone.

Vet's Forum

Q. What happened to the old Veterans Bureau?

A. The Veterans Bureau was established Aug. 9, 1921, and took over the functions of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance as well as those vocational training duties which had been handled by the Federal Board for Vocational Education, and those duties of the Public Health Service that had to do with physical examinations, care and treatment of veterans. Nine years later, in July, 1930, the functions of the Pension Bureau of the Interior Department and the functions of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers were added to the work of the Veterans Bureau and the entire organization was re-named the Veterans Administration.

Q. How much was paid out as a "bonus" to World War I veterans?

A. Under the Veterans Readjusted Compensation Act of 1936, the VA has paid out just over $3.8 billion.

Q. Has the so-called "Peacetime Veterans Education Act" been passed by this session of Congress?

A. No act nor law providing Federal education for "peacetime" servicemen had been passed by Congress as of Aug. 15, 1962.

LIFE'S LABORATORY

Have you ever thought of your life as a laboratory? There are no test tubes and no scientific textbooks to aid us in our study, but we've been given other aids more important still. We call them God's formulas for living.

ARE WE AFRAID? Then we may test the Christ-given formula, "Be not afraid, only believe."

ARE WE LONELY? Then we reach for the promise of the Lord, "And lo, I am with you alway . . ."

DO WE DOUBT THAT GOD CARES? Then we can analyze for ourselves the message of the Christ, "God so loved the world that He gave His Son . . ."

These are only a few of the formulas for our lives.

To test them we must first know them. The Church is ready to teach. We shall need direction also. The Church offers us the help of consecrated pastors and leaders.

Let's go to Church and learn the transforming power of God's formulas in the laboratories of our lives.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Return address
mailing process

An extremely valuable part of service to the public depends on the sender's furnishing a correct return address in every mail matter," said Postmaster Voss today.

Following rules must be followed if your return address is to be the maximum service benefit to you:

The proper location is in the left corner on envelopes, labels, tags, and wrappers. Second, third and fourth-class mail of no obvious value, the sender should place "Return requested" on the return address or it will be returned if undeliverable. The return address should be legible, including the name of the sender, the street address, box number, the city and state. In case of multiple dwellings, the apartment number should be shown. In case of hotels and office buildings, the room number should be given.

Postmaster Voss cautions mailers to place the return address in position other than the upper right corner of the mailing piece or postal employees are required to process large volumes of mail so it is quite possible for an unauthorized return address to be overlooked. Return addresses in unauthorized positions may assure prompt, accurate return of undeliverable mail and compliance with these instructions by the postmaster said.

NATURE'S WONDERS

THE MATERIAL USED IN MOST CIGARETTE FILTERS REMAINED A CHEMICAL CURIOUSITY FOR HALF A CENTURY FOLLOWING ITS DISCOVERY BY TWO GERMAN CHEMISTS IN 1845.

BASIC INGREDIENT IS CELLULOSE FOUND IN FRUIT, VEGETABLES AND ALL PLANT LIFE. A BUSHEL OF PEACHES, FOR EXAMPLE, COULD PROVIDE ENOUGH CELLULOSE FOR 3,800 CIGARETTE FILTERS.

THE PURE VEGETABLE COMPOUND WAS INTRODUCED AS A FILTER BY VICEROY CIGARETTES IN 1952. IT SINCE HAS BEEN MADE INTO 1 TRILLION $10 BILLION FILTERS.

THE PURE WHITE, SOFT FLUFFY MATERIAL, COLORLESS AND TASTELESS, NOW IS USED ON ALMOST ALL MAJOR FILTER CIGARETTE BRANDS. IT IS SO PURE IT IS USED IN FOOD PACKAGING, FOR TEA BAGS AND SIMILAR PRODUCTS.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

Difficulty in cancer control often lies with detection of the disease

Cancer is often spoken of as the "silent" disease. This is because in many cases cancer grows without giving any symptom. And pain, which is most often thought of as accompanying diseases, is not generally present until cancer is far advanced.

Most cancers can be cured when detected and treated in the early stages. The difficulty in cancer control, then, lies with the detection of the disease.

Only a physician can tell if cancer is present. Any suspicious symptoms should always be examined by the family physician. But often, by the time any symptoms of cancer show up, it is too late. Treatment of advanced cancer is difficult.

The only insurance against this silent growth is a regular, at least yearly, physical examination.

All physician's offices should be cancer detection centers, so the family doctor is most often the front line against cancer. For a physical check-up, whether cancer is suspected or not, the personal physician is the person to see.

If cancer is suspected, the family doctor may refer his patient to one or more specialists to confirm or rule out the possibility of cancer.

A top-toe physical examination will include inspection of the body surface, followed by examination of various organs such as the heart, blood vessels, lungs, mouth, nose, ears, eyes, throat, abdomen, rectum, sex organs and breasts.

The blood, urine, uterine cells, or other body fluids may also be examined or tested. X-rays of the chest and other parts of the body and a proctoscopic examination (visual inspection of the lining of the rectum and lower bowel with a lighted tube) may also be performed by the physician.

A proctoscopic examination has increased in importance because 70 per cent of cancer of the colon and rectum can be discovered in this way.

If a physician suspects cancer, a biopsy is performed and a sample of the suspected tissue sent for microscopic examination by a pathologist (a specialist in human tissue examination.) Only a biopsy can definitely establish the diagnosis of cancer.

The individual is the key to the prompt diagnosis of cancer. For only if a person presents himself to his physician can a diagnosis be made.

Simply through regular physical check-ups can the "silent" disease be heard.

Misfortunes pile on Elvus Davis family

By MRS. GLENN DAVIS

It seems some mornings it doesn't pay to get out of bed or at least it didn't pay for the Elvus Davis family Saturday. Elvus was mowing cotton on the Delmer Cowdrey farm when he drove his mowing machine across a bar of hay on his way to get a load of hay when it turned over. He was thrown or jumped several feet and came up with a badly bruised and sprained foot. He is now trying out a pair of crutches. A short time after returning from their doctor's office, their 10-year-old daughter, Patricia, was stung so close to the nest and so close to the stings so back to the machine as it wasn't damaged.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Doggett and Mr. and Mrs. Quannah Maxey visited the Ray McClellans Friday.

Mrs. Carl Fluit and Mrs. Maud Thomas visited Mrs. Theibert McBride Monday.

Sunday visitors of the Elvus Davis family were the Elmer Cowdreys, Mack Ledbetters, Carrol Davy and Levelland and the Glenn Davises.

MR. AND MRS. Buster Lusk and sons of Bay City recently visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lusk.

Henry Lynch of Lubbock spoke at services at the Church of Christ Sunday. They were guests of the Bryan Maxeys.

Three Stooges go in orbit at Tower here

The Three Stooges, that irrepressible trio of irresponsible zanies, are now showing at the Tower Theatre in the new comedy, "The Three Stooges in Orbit." They play a team of television comics who come up with a new show, or important as their roles reported in the antic goings-on, "The Three Stooges in Orbit" is principally concerned with the problem of protecting an ultra-secret military invention from Martian spies. It all adds up to what you generally expect from the Three Stooges.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayland McClellan and two children of Levelland spent weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris McClellan.

'Judgment at Nuremberg' opens at Tower Theatre Sunday for 4 days

"Judgment at Nuremberg," a two-Academy Award winner, will show at the Tower Theatre here Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday after some triumphal two-day exclusive engagements in the larger cities.

The film, which stars Spencer Tracy, Burt Lancaster, Richard Widmark, Marlene Dietrich, Judy Garland, Maximilian Schell and Montgomery Clift, has won unprecedented commendation from the world's press.

It deals basically with human responsibility, the most challenging theme of our generation.

It is an intensely emotional drama of a small town American judge called to sit in judgement upon former German judges, men with international legal reputations, who permitted justice to be distorted and perverted in Hitler's Germany.

Mr. Victor Hudman, who with his family recently went to Alaska on their vacation, showed slides of the trip at Junior High.

They left the latter part of July and were gone three and a half weeks.

They traveled 11,000 miles by car and plane to Alaska. On their way, they went to Glacier National Park in Montana. They also saw Lake St. Mary.

The Hudman family traveled through the Rocky Mountains. They also went to the World's Fair in Seattle. From there, they went to the Yukon and took slides of the Yukon River. They saw a paddle boat that was used in the Gold Rush.

From there, they went to Fairbanks, Alaska, and took an airplane to look at the Arctic Ocean by air. They saw an Eskimo village.

In Alaska, 82 days of the year the sun doesn't set.

We would like to thank Mr. Hudman for showing us the slides.

Principal, wife had wonderful summer vacation

By Deanna Adams
On their vacation trip last summer, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Whittenberg left Garza County one Tuesday morning for Gallup, N. M., where they spent one night in the Gallup Park.

The next day they traveled to Ship Rock and from there to Salt Lake City. After some sight-seeing, they went on to Beverly, Idaho, and from there into Twin Falls. They also visited north of the White Bird in Idaho, at Gaines and at the Hoover Dam, where they spent one night.

They drove into Seattle, Wash., where they spent four days sight-seeing. While there, they took a boat trip to Vancouver, British Columbia.

From Seattle, the Whittenbergs went to Portland, Ore., for a few days. They enjoyed the scenery along the Oregon coast and Mr. Whittenberg did some fishing and clam-digging.

The Whittenbergs were headed Calif., where they visited friends. From there, they went to San Francisco for three days of sight-seeing.

The Whittenbergs were headed home when they left San Francisco. They were gone four or five weeks, traveled about 8,000 miles and had a wonderful time.

Time to register now for 1963-64 National Merit Scholarship tests

All 1964 graduates of Post High School who wish to enter the 1963-64 National Merit Scholarship competition should register now at the school office, J. C. Clark, principal, announced today.

The National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test will be given in the school at 9 a. m., Tuesday, March 5, 1963.

Students who will graduate from high school in 1964 and enter college in the same calendar year are eligible for scholarship consideration in the 1963-64 Merit Program.

To receive consideration, the students must take the test when it is offered in his school. Participating students pay a $1 fee on the day of the test. Any interested student who is unable to pay the fee should consult Mr. Clark.

Awards in the Merit Program are granted on the basis of intellectual merit, but student financial needs determine the amount of individual stipends. The stipends are renewable each year without further testing.

A student's performance on the qualifying test also provides him with information that is useful in career planning or in selecting courses in high school and college, Mr. Clark stated.

After the test, each participating student receives an interpretive folder prepared by Science Research Associates, the testing agency, that reports individual test results for comparison with scores of high school students across the country.

To the Seniors

A deep river makes very little noise, but a shallow mountain stream makes a considerable bit of noise as it tumbles over rocks and stones.

It is the shallow human mind that is often noisy because it does not run—or rather, think deeply.

The deeper and more reserved mind thinks before speaking or laughing. The "little, shallow" mind blurts out without thinking.

Let us strive to develop minds which may be like the deep river that does not seek attention by a vain display of noise, but works quietly, attaining profundity and greatness that will always excel the puny outcries of little streams and their little goals.

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This introduces a weekly school page column on Southland High School events, written for The Dispatch by Miss Sue Pritchard, a Southland high student.)

By Sue Pritchard
Congratulations, Southland Seniors! The seniors have been selling annual advertisements this week, and they made over eleven hundred dollars. Thanks, they say, to the Post business men who bought ads from them.

The Eagles lost their game to the Cotton Center Elks Friday night. The team will travel to Pettit next week, where they hope to win a victory over the Pettit Eagles. Good luck, boys.

The seniors ordered their senior rings week before last. They expect them to come in the first week in November.

Southland was proud to welcome a new teacher to the staff at Southland High. Coach Bobby Dyess is the new football coach, and is also teaching history.

The junior class elected officers the first week of school. Ronald Saunders was elected president; Trent Smith, vice president, and Kelly Jo Myers, secretary. Incidentally, I hear that the Junior class play, "Nearly Sixteen", is going to be a smashing success. How about it, Juniors? Hope so.

The seniors are sponsoring a hayride Oct. 6. Admission will be $1.50 per couple, and $1 for singles. Everyone is invited to attend. See one of the seniors for your tickets.

The cheerleaders, Sharla Taylor, Beverly Stolle, and Kelly Jo Myers really did a fine job of supporting the football boys Friday night. Keep up the good work, girls.

LEARN AND SING SCHOOL SONG

High over the fields of battle Waves the Black and Gold Antelopes advancing Onward to the goal, la, la, la On with faith undaunted, Victory our hope We'll all fight together For Post Antelopes.

There is almost always some discussion of the Alma Mater at the beginning of each school year. The new students want to learn the song and sometimes they find that even the upper classmen don't know the words because it is hard to understand all of the words just by hearing it sung. Above is an official copy of the words to our Alma Mater.

Have you ever wondered about the origin of Post High's school song? The words were written by Oral Brant while she was attending Hardin-Simmons in 1930 after graduating from Post High. She is now Mrs. Jim Cloud and lives in Lubbock. The music is from the trio "Our Director," a march

Jackie Wilson gives Jr. High devotional

Sept. 17, the devotional was given by Jackie Wilson. It was taken from "Devotions for Junior Highs" and the subject was "Handicaps." First, a lesson was read followed by a reading from the Bible. She ended with a prayer.

Jackie gave it very nicely and we enjoyed it very much. Marcia Newby has the devotional next week.

Friday All Roads Lead To Abernathy

As Post Football Fans Follow The Team

Post Antelopes

VS.

Abernathy Antelopes

Friday Night—Sept. 28

At Abernathy

Kickoff Time Will Be 8 O'clock

Coach Harold Teal's hustling Post High Antelopes delighted the largest crowd of Post rooters in recent years to follow an Antelope eleven out of town at Morton last Friday night by thoroughly demolishing a good Morton eleven, 34-0.

An even bigger crowd should travel with them to Abernathy tomorrow night to see them go against another strong home club in the Abernathy Antelopes who won "going away" themselves by just as lopsided a score against Hale Center last Friday night.

Post's high school eleven showed vast improvement last week and lots of desire. They will be out to notch another victory tomorrow night. To do it, they need your support.

Call it a football reformation, or whatever you want. The Antelopes this year are an eager competitive club that figures to play every foe on its schedule a good ball game.

Games like that are worth driving to Abernathy—or Tim-buck-too to see. So be there for the 8 o'clock kickoff. You'll be glad you did.

1,000 horses are to show at State Fair

One thousand horses ranging from the most stylish show animal to the most rugged western mount are coming to the 1962 State Fair of Texas in Dallas, Oct. 5-21.

Worth more than $3 million, the entries will include saddle horses, fine harness, walking and roadster horses, cutting and quarter horses, Arabians and those tanbark favorites—Shetlands.

Show horses and Shetlands will head the bill with an evening performance on Oct. 5, before the State Fair's formal opening the next day. Competing for $14,785, the show horses and ponies will continue through Oct. 9 with evening performances each day, morning shows on Oct. 6, 8 and 9 and a matinee on Oct. 7.

The Open Cutting Horse Contest will follow, Oct. 10-11. Competing for $1,000 in premiums plus entry fees, cutting horses will hit the first go-round at 8 p. m. on Oct. 10, enter the second go-round at 1 p. m. the next day and sweep into the finals at 8 p. m. that night.

Showing for $4,000 in premiums, Quarter horse exhibitors will open on Friday, Oct. 12, and continue through the following Sunday. Halter classes are set for 8:30 a. m. on Saturday and Sunday, with the championship performance classes scheduled for 2:30 p. m. on the final Sunday. Horses will compete in roping, reining, western pleasure, barrel race and cutting.

Climaxing the shows on the State Fair's last week-end will be the Texas Fall Arabian Horse Show, Oct. 19-21. Sponsored by the Arabian Horse Club of Texas, the show will feature halter and performance classes. The closing matinee, Oct. 21, will spotlight the International Arabian Cutting Horse Association's presentation of awards for 1962 and the awarding of a trophy to the high-point Arabian of the show.

All shows will be held in the State Fair Coliseum and will be free to State Fair visitors.

Fight film is set for Tower

The film of Tuesday night's heavyweight boxing championship fight in which challenger Sonny Liston blasted the crown from the head of Floyd Patterson, will be shown Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 4-6, at the Tower Theatre here.

Since the fight lasted less than one round, the film to be shown here more than likely will be "padded" with ring-side color, resumes on the two boxers' careers, etc., said Johnny Hopkins, theatre manager.

Another sports feature at the Tower next week will be the film, "Safe at Home," starring Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris of the New York Yankees, who have just clinched the American League pennant for this season.

"Safe at Home" will show Saturday only, Hopkins said.

LAND PRICES

Land prices are being determined more and more by non-farm uses, such as recreation, rural home sites, hobby or part time farming, investment and speculation, according to John G. McHanev, extension economist, Texas A&M College. He says that the price of land can be expected to go even higher with the urban buyer competing strongly with the farmer.

COTTON ROOT ROT

Cotton root rot is one of the most common plant diseases in Texas attacking about 80 per cent of the state's wild and cultivated plants. The fungus may live on some trees and shrubs without killing them but small trees, shrubs and flowers die suddenly. The roots of the plants affected actually rot off. It is not found in the Panhandle and South Plains areas.

12,000 prison inmates eagerly await rodeo

HUNTSVILLE—The annual Texas Prison Rodeo is more than just an entertainment feature for the 12,000 inmates of the Texas Department of Corrections.

While they look forward to each Sunday in October with a great deal of anticipation, they have another good reason for boosting the world's wildest rodeo.

They know that net proceeds from ticket sales go into their own fund which makes it possible for the prison to maintain an accelerated rehabilitation program.

This includes spiritual, educational, recreational and medical services not furnished by the State. These services are designed to help inmates prepare themselves for the future—the day when they may be either paroled or discharged from prison.

This year's rodeo, the 31st annual event, will headline at five of the nation's top entertainment and sports stars.

Post, Abernathy to resume grid rivalry Friday night

Abernathy grid

arranged band of Post Antelope will make the 60-mile trip to Abernathy Friday night to try to win two in a row and a third of the season at the expense of Coach Curtis Davenport's Abernathy Antelopes.

will be the first meeting of the two Antelope teams since the season and the Post eleven went out to avenge a long string of defeats at the hands of the Abernathy gridders.

Friday night, while Post was waiting for the 60-mile trip to Abernathy, 34 to 0, Abernathy put on an offensive show in shattering Hale Center to 0.

to the Hale Center game, the Post Antelope hadn't won a game in a row and a third of the season at the expense of Coach Curtis Davenport's Abernathy Antelopes.

Both the Olton and Petersburg Antelopes trailed in the first half, but got both their offense and defense clicking in Friday night's Hale Center game.

Post '11' outclasses Morton Indians, 34-0

The 1962 edition of the Post Antelope football team uncovered the greatest offensive spurge of any Antelope team of recent years Friday night to storm past the Morton Indians, 34 to 0, on the Indian gridiron.

One of the largest crowds of Antelope boosters ever to accompany the team on an out-of-town trip saw Coach Harold Teal's hustling gridders take a commanding 15-0 lead in the first half then explode for 19 more points in a fourth quarter that was all Post's.

Fullback Delton Robinson, playing his first game in an Antelope uniform, scored two of the touchdowns, with senior halfback Ken Rankin also scoring a pair, and sophomore fullback Benny Owen dashing 36 yards for the other one.

The defeat was the first of the season for Morton, which had opened by tying Sudan, 6-6, and followed up with a 19-6 win over Friendship.

The victory left the gridders of Coaches Teal and Glenn Gregg with a 2-1 mark through their first three outings.

The Antelopes rolled up a total of 464 net yards—434 rushing and 30 passing. Defensively, they held the heavier and faster Morton backs to 31 net yards rushing and 64 passing for a 95-yard total.

While the Antelope offense is what put the 34 points on the scoreboard, the defense was responsible for the zero on Morton's side of the scoreboard. Co-captains Buddy Moreland and Jerry Bush spearheaded the Post defense, along with Billy Shumard, Freddie Simmons, Teddy Scott, David Nichols, Pat Sullivan and a host of other linemen and defensive backs. The center of the Post line proved practically impregnable to the Indian onslaught.

The nearest Morton came to scoring followed their recovery of a fumbled punt on the Post 27 in the third quarter. Three plays gained nine yards, but with fourth down and one to go, safetymen Danny Pierce, who had fumbled the punt, redeemed himself by throwing quarterback Charlie Ledbetter for a five-yard loss.

Post scored on their second series of downs following the opening kickoff. They marched 80 yards in just seven plays after taking the ball on the 20 following Ledbetter's booming punt across the goal line.

The big gainers in the drive were Simmons' 37-yard and 26-yard end runs. The clincher came on a four-yard plunge by Robinson through the right side of the Morton line. Halfback James Mitchell split the uprights from placement to give Post a 7-0 lead six minutes and seven seconds deep in the first period.

That was all the scoring in the first quarter, but the Antelopes struck again less than three minutes deep in the second following Rankin's electrifying 74-yard gallop from his 14 to the Morton 12. He was hauled down from behind by Morton end Bobby Dobson.

Simmons ate up 11 of the remaining 12 yards on an end run, and Robinson barreled over for his second touchdown. Quarterback Pat Cornell passed to Simmons for the extra points, upping the score to 15-0.

The rest of the first half was played between the 30-yard lines with neither team mounting a serious scoring threat. A pass interception by Teddy Scott on the Post 35 stymied one Morton drive.

The third quarter was a shaky one for Post. A fumbled punt gave the Indians their first scoring opportunity and after that threat was squelched at the 18, clipping penalties erased two ground-eating runs by Rankin and Robinson.

Rankin's 40-yard scamper carried from the Post 30 to the Morton 30, but the ball came back to the Morton 49 on a clipping penalty. After a fumble had lost three yards, Robinson broke through the right side of the Indian line for a 52-yard touchdown run, but the ball came back to the Morton 42 on another clipping penalty.

The Antelopes drove from there to the Morton 24, where the Indians retained possession on a fumble.

Near the end of the quarter, the Indians covered Benny Owen's fumble on their 45, but on the next play the Antelopes regained possession with Pat Sullivan pouncing on an Indian bobble on the 46.

That set up another touchdown. James Mitchell broke through for nine yards and Rankin, Simmons and Robinson went to the 16 on three plays. A 15-yard penalty for holding set the Antelopes back, but it wasn't long until they were back down to the six-yard line, with a 10-yard pass from Cornell to end Frankie Gary helping cover the ground. From the six, Rankin went to the right and cut back for the TD. Mitchell's placement kick for point failed.

The Antelopes' fourth touchdown came on a 77-yard drive after Rankin had almost let Ledbetter's punt get away from him on the 23. Helped by a 15-yard personal foul penalty against the Indians, the Antelopes rolled along to the five-yard line, with an 18-yard scamper by Robinson and a 14-yard pass from Cornell to Rankin keeping things going. From the five, Rankin carried over for the TD, and the versatile Cornell kicked the extra points.

There was only two minutes and 11 seconds left, but the Antelopes weren't through.

Billy Shumard, a terror on defense for the Antelopes, recovered a Morton fumble on the Indian 31 two plays after the kickoff. Post lost five on an offside penalty after quarterback Butch Cross had recovered his own fumble.

On the next play, Owen took a perfectly executed handoff from Cross and scooted 36 yards down the sideline to pay dirt. Mitchell tried a placement kick for the extra point, but the snapback was fumbled and Mitchell was halted in his attempt to run the ball over.

Morton had time to complete a 33-yard pass for their longest gain of the night, to the Post 34, before the game ended.

Ken didn't score because he was caught from behind, but Bill didn't say anything about scoring plays — he just said the LONGEST run from scrimmage.

Maybe the reason Bill didn't say anything about Post's 34-0 victory over Morton in Tuesday morning's round-up story was because Bill had picked Morton to beat Post 18 to 6.

Using Bill's own overworked adjective of "fine," that was fine picking.

By CHARLES DIDWAY

Once a year—like it or not—we find it necessary to devote this column to comments on something sports staffer Bill Hart has written, or failed to write, in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

In Tuesday morning's paper, Bill had something to say about every Class AA game played on the South Plains Friday night except the Post-Morton game. He had something to say about at least one player in each of those games.

As we've said before, one can hardly blame a sports writer for staying with the year-in and year-out winners, as Bill Hart does with Denver City and Floydada, but that sports writer can be blamed for not getting his facts straight, which is one of Bill's troubles, year in and year out.

In Tuesday morning's round-up of area games, Bill wrote that a 70-yard run made by Denver City's Kim Freeman against Lovington was the longest run chalked up from scrimmage. If Bill had read his own sports pages, or if, having read them had remembered what he'd read, he'd have recalled that Ken Rankin of Post made a 74-yard run from scrimmage against Morton.

Ken didn't score because he was caught from behind, but Bill didn't say anything about scoring plays — he just said the LONGEST run from scrimmage.

Stelzer's team is low-ball winner

The foursome of J. C. Stelzer, Earl Chapman, Glenn Potts, and Howard Carlyle won the 36-hole low-ball tournament held Saturday and Sunday at the Caprock Golf Course.

Chapman turned in a double eagle on the par five No. 5 hole to help bring his team in as winner with a 120-stroke total.

Tying for second with 122 strokes were teams captained by Auvy McBride and Charles Hopkins. On McBride's team were T. C. Clark, Glenn Norman and J. D. McCampbell. Comprising Hopkins' team were Arthur Floyd, Jim Handley

Former Post resident is reassigned by AF

Second Lt. Jack B. Redman of Petersburg, formerly of Post, has been reassigned to Larson Air Force Base, Wash., following his graduation from the U. S. Air Force technical training course for statistical service officers at Sheppard AFB, Tex.

Lt. Redman was trained to control and interpret data coordination of programs in a statistical services office.

The lieutenant, who holds a B. A. degree from Texas Tech, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Redman of Petersburg, former Post residents. He is married to the former Mary A. Mawson of Pettus, Tex.

Stanton, which had won a close one from Coahoma, 8-0, on Friday night, sent many of their first line reserves here for the Saturday morning game. Post, on the other hand, had played everyone they had called out in beating Morton, 34 to 0.

Coaches Charles Black and Wilbert Bigott had only about eight freshmen and three sophomores to go against the bigger and more experienced Stanton boys.

Coach Black singled out Eddie Valdez, Ricky Welch, Tommy Rinker and Jackie Beavers as turning in good games for Post, despite the one-sided score.

Tonight, the junior varsity goes to Spur for its second game.

Raiders and Longhorns to open SWC campaign

LUBBOCK — University of Texas, defending Southwest Conference co-champion, and Texas Tech open the 1962 title campaign in Jones Stadium here at 7:30 p. m. Saturday.

Another large crowd—possibly surpassing the record-smashing 41,000 who saw the West Texas State game—is expected.

Both Southwest Conference clubs had trouble in their opening games last week. Texas Tech succumbed to the sensational running of Pistol Pete Pedro in losing a 30-27 thriller to West Texas, and the Longhorns had to come from behind in the second half to down University of Oregon 25-13.

University of Texas is ahead in the series rivalry, 10-1. Texas won the game played in Austin last year, 42-14, although the Raider total represented a season-high for points yielded by the Longhorns.

This is only the third time for a Texas football team to come to the South Plains. Texas won by 12-6 in 1934 and by 28-14 in 1950.

Texas Tech's starting halfback and leading safety, Bill Worley of Midland, will miss the Texas game because of a knee injury suffered in the West Texas game.

The United Presbyterian Women will meet tonight at 7:30 in the home of Mr. R. L. Simpson. Mrs. Harry Tubbs has the program.

New 1963 Chevrolets on sale here Friday

Four distinctive lines of 1963 Chevrolet automobiles will go on sale at Collier Chevrolet-Olds Co. this Friday.

Offering 33 models in four separate categories—each aimed at a specific segment of the market—the 1963 cars represent faith in a continued strong national economy by Chevrolet, which is already on its way to setting an all-time industry sales record for 1962.

There are significant styling changes in the regular Chevrolets, a continuation of their unique automotive personalities by the Chevy II and the Corvair, and two entirely new bodies and a new chassis for the Corvette sports car. All models have significant mechanical improvements.

Taking the four members of the Chevrolet family one at a time: REGULAR CHEVROLETS—The traditional big car emphasis upon luxurious transportation is continued in the 1963 regular Chevrolets, offered in 13 models in the Impala, Bel Air and Biscayne series.

There is a sleek, longer look with all-new styling.

Smooth, straight line styling gives the side of the new Chevrolets a flowing look of motion. A horizontal line highlights the sculpture of the side, extending from the foremost point of the front fender to the extended point of the rear fender.

Lower, a slender accent rib from midway down the front fender skims the top of the rear wheel and carries through to the rear bumper.

The Impala sport sedan has a fleet, new roofline and an optional vinyl top is available for the Impala sport coupe. Fifteen solid colors and eleven two-tone combinations are available in the regular Chevrolets. Interiors of the cars are entirely new and more luxurious for 1963.

Mechanically, there are the following new features:

A new six-cylinder 140 horsepower engine, higher in horsepower and yet 23 per cent lighter than its 1962 counterpart, teams with a revised 238 cubic inch V8 and five other V8 engines ranging from 140 to 425 horsepower.

Brakes are self-adjusting, mufflers will have longer life, and the lightweight Powerglide transmission used with the 327 cubic inch engine option in 1962 is extended to all models.

Delcotron generators are standard on all models, assuring ample reserve electrical power for added accessories and longer battery life.

All radios are transistorized for 1963.

The standard equipment heater is new as are the optional all-weather and custom air-conditioners.

CHEVY II—In its second year on the market, Chevy II continues the basic styling of the previous model with new exterior and interior appointments. There are 10 models in three series.

Mechanically, the Chevy II has self-adjusting brakes and Delcotron generators. Four- and six-cylinder engines again are offered, with minor improvements. Longer-life mufflers are standard on all models. Radios are completely transistorized.

CORVAIR—Chevrolet's distinctive small car enters its fourth year on the market with an ever-growing following.

Styling changes are confined to ornamentation and molding details. There are eight models of Corvair, ranging in variety from the Monza Spyder convertible to two models of the popular Corvair Greenbrier sports wagon. Fifteen solid colors plus two-tone combinations are offered.

Mechanically, Corvair has self-adjusting brakes, more durable exhaust system and changes in front suspension and steering linkage. Engines have numerous improvements and radios are transistorized.

CORVETTE—In its tenth year on the market, America's only production sports car is redesigned and re-engineered for the first time. In addition to the convertible (with optional hardtop) model offered in the past, there is a new "fast-back" sport coupe.

For the first time, Corvette offers optional power steering, power brakes and air-conditioning for the customer who wants a sports car but also wishes to retain the driv-

Post C. of C. sponsoring labor market survey in Garza County

The Post Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a labor market survey of non-agricultural employment in Garza County during the third week of September. This survey will be conducted by the Lubbock office of the Texas Employment Commission. All employers in the county are asked to participate.

The purpose of the survey is to determine the number of business firms operating in the county, the type of business carried on, and the number of people employed by each firm.

All the facts and figures furnished by Garza County employers will be held strictly confidential and will be used by the Employment Commission only for making employment estimates by industry for the county. The results of the survey will be used by the local Chamber of Commerce as an authority on the availability of workers for new industries that may be interested in coming into Garza County.

Questionnaires were to be mailed by the Lubbock office of the Texas Employment Commission on Sept. 14. An addressed envelope which does not require postage is provided with each questionnaire for its return to the Lubbock office. All employers are urged to answer the questions and return the questionnaire as soon as possible. One-hundred per cent response means a successful survey.

The mailing list used for this survey was compiled from the latest Garza County telephone directory. Employers who are not listed in the directory will not receive a questionnaire through the mail. Such employers will be furnished questionnaires and return envelopes by the Post Chamber of Commerce.

Braceros will aid in cotton harvest

Garza County will be short 120 men pullers during the peak period of the cotton harvest, it has been determined by a County Farm Labor Committee.

This shortage will be met by the importation of Mexican National agricultural workers, it was announced. The committee's findings were released in a meeting with R. C. Members of the Garza County committee are County Judge J. E. Baker, the Rev. Raymond C. Cutler, assistant pastor of Holy Cross Catholic Church, C. B. York and Lewis W. Eubank.

The committee will function under Public Law 78, obtaining facts relevant to the supply of domestic agricultural workers existing in Garza County and the shortage of workers, if any, which must be met by importing Mexican Nationals to harvest the cotton crop.

Under Public Law 78, the TEC must supply this information to the Secretary of Labor who must limit the number of Mexican Nationals he used in this country by granting a "ceiling". The committee meets with the local office manager to assist him in estimating the number of workers who will be needed, based on current local con-

SCREWWORMS

Officials of the Screwworm Eradication Program are hopeful that a recent absence of screwworm cases reported in certain counties within the sterile fly release area reflects the effectiveness of the program.

In early July all counties within the sterile fly release area, which includes over 60 counties in southern Texas, reported some screwworm cases. Since that time, the number of counties in the release area reporting no screwworms has at the beginning of September.

Officials are hesitant to give complete credit to fly release since that period of hot weather usually results in fewer screwworm cases anyway, but they are watching the situation very closely to see if it does represent a definite trend.

The eradication program entails the production and sterilization of screwworm flies at the plant near Mission, and their release over infested areas. The sterile male flies mating with naturally occurring females results in infertile eggs.

Program officials explain that originally the plan in 1962 was to contain the screwworm fly in the southern area of Texas where it normally overwinters and, by the release of sterile flies, prevent the insect from moving north. It was also felt feasible to release sterile flies in "hot spots" or areas outside of the overwintering area where screwworm cases were reported.

However, when it became obvious that the flies could not be contained, and because of a limited number of flies available, a sterile fly release area was established. Sterile flies are being dispersed from airplanes in this area at rates of 800-1,200 flies per square mile. Officials say they are hopeful of eradicating screwworm within this area, while winter weather kills all those in the northern areas. In addition, a 100-mile-wide barrier zone will be established on the Mexico-United States border where sterile flies will be airdropped to prevent the northward migration of fertile flies into the U. S.

Workshop slated for workers in Sunday Schools

A three-meeting workshop has been scheduled for the evenings of Oct. 2, 3, and 4 for Sunday School teachers and workers, Sunday School superintendents, parents, and all interested persons of all denominations.

The sessions will be from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. with a ten-minute intermission for coffee or soft drinks. Nursery attendants will be provided for infants, and supervisors will conduct games and other activities for the older children.

Participants may select from three classes: Working with Adults—conducted by Rev. Weldon Butler; Working with Youth, Miss Barbara Summerville; and Working with Children—Mrs. Glover, Ford and Crump. All instructors are from Lubbock and are accredited in their fields.

The school is being sponsored by the Methodist Commission on Education in the hope that this will provide an opportunity for enrichment and enlightenment regarding the goals of the church's educational program for children, youth, and adults.

The program begins Tuesday, Oct. 2 with a general assembly in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church here, and a warm welcome is extended to all who are interested in this activity of the church.

Overhaul is seen in criminal court law

AUSTIN — A State Bar of Texas committee is recommending to the 1963 legislative session the first full-scale revision of criminal court procedure in Texas history.

If the Legislature proves receptive, the state's criminal law, as well as procedures, may undergo extensive legislative scrutiny as a result of scandals which have shaken the state this year.

A tour by Texas insurance officials, to study other state's automobile coverage plans, may pay off in helping Texas draw up a new plan soon, says the State Insurance Board.

Harmon-Johnson vows spoken Sunday at First Baptist Church

Mrs. Anne Harmon and Irvin Lee Johnson exchanged wedding vows Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the First Baptist Church.

Candelabras centered with white gladioli intertwined with yellow formed the setting for the double ring ceremony with the Rev. C. B. Hogue officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Harmon and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Johnson.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of nylon tulle over net and satin featuring petal point sleeves and a sabrina neckline. The neckline, sleeves and skirt had re-embroidered applique flowers. Her fingertip veil of imported French illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls and crystals. The bride carried out the tradition of something old, new, borrowed, and blue and a penny in her shoe. The bridal bouquet was of cymbidium orchids with white carnations carried atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Tommy Young of Tahoka was matron of honor, and Mrs. Rollin Spencer of Plainview was bridesmatron. They wore identical dresses of yellow silk faille. The street length dresses were fashioned with bateau necklines, puffed sleeves, and full skirts. They wore white veiled velvet hats and carried nosegays of white carnations.

Miss Susan Gary was flower girl, Paul Harmon, brother of the bride, and Daniel Johnson, brother of the groom, were candlelighters.

Lynn Ray Smith of Beaumont served as best man, and Joe Dick Rogers was groomsman. Ushers were Norman Johnson, brother of the groom, of Beaumont, and Rollin Spencer of Plainview.

The reception was held in the Community Room following the ceremony. White carnations were used in the decorations.

For travel, the bride chose a bone wool suit with a brown mink collar. She wore matching bone and brown accessories, and a corsage of orchids and carnations.

'Luau in Hawaii' theme of chapter's fall rush party

The Gamma Mu Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha entertained with a fall rush party in the home of Mrs. D. C. Williams, 115 North Avenue K, Monday night, Sept. 24, at 7:30.

'Luau in Hawaii' was the theme carried out in the entertaining and decorating.

Sorority hostesses were brightly colored mu muus, leis, and native sandals.

Hurricane lanterns lighted the entry way. Guests were greeted at the "port of entry" by Lea Mock and Sandra Feather. Multicolored leis and orchids were presented to each guest.

The "port of entry" was decorated with miniature hula skirts and flower leis. Tropical foliage native flowers, and Hawaiian music were used in the background.

Other entertaining rooms featured driftwood, tropical fruit, star fish, sand dollars and large, pink and gold sun gods. The sorority emblem and pin, made of blue and silver glitter, were displayed above the mantel. A large replica of the sorority pin featured 12 large white pearls.

The serving table was centered with a silver-colored driftwood candelabra which contained pink and red tapers. Pink tulle was entwined around the candles to which sea shells, pink styrofoam seaurchins and sand dollars were attached. Large pink and red zinnias and English ivy surrounded a milk glass punchbowl. Authentic wooden dishes from Hawaii were used for table service.

Draped above the table was an imported Hawaiian fish net from which hung glass baubles, green and red leis, star fish and sand dollars. Centered above the net was a large sun god.

Mary Raphael gave the evening's welcome on behalf of the sorority.

Highlighting the evening's entertainment was the showing of slide films of the Giles McCrary's trip to Hawaii. Mrs. D. C. Williams narrated the films.

Mrs. Laverta Lovell, sorority president, explained the year's program and by-laws to the guests.

Refreshments of banana splits and Hawaiian punch were served to guests: Bettye Scott, Nita Terry, Marion Duncan, Linda Waldrip and Billie Carlyle.

Hostesses for the occasion were: Bobbie Moore, Betty Huddleston, Mary Raphael, Lea Mock, Sandra Feather, Wanda Sundlin, Laverta Lovell, and the chapter's director, Mrs. Williams.

Showing set here for fashion creations of former resident

A former Post resident is now a specialist creator in "after five" apparel and is "on her way" in San Angelo. Maxine's will present a showing of her formal and cocktail dresses Friday, Oct. 5, at 7:30 p. m. in the Community Room.

Mrs. Gaylon Young, the former Betty Kennedy and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Kennedy, is sure to win laurels for her "Be Young" originals.

Mrs. Young's dream is to establish a shop in San Angelo as headquarters for her swirling organza and heavily sequined satin and taffeta formal. This is in the mill as she goes about directing three seamstresses and two special trimmers in finishing the designs arising from her drawing board.

"I want to create a special woolen after-five dress for the 1963 Miss Wool of America contest," said the slender brunette who tries out her own formal from midnight to breakfast. Her family thinks nothing of finding her in the kitchen in a glamorous pastel dress with spaghetti straps or a short bouffant formal.

"I'm one of those night people," says Betty. "I do all my creating at night after everyone is asleep. I like to give my formal a real test by wearing them as I work about the house, testing the fit, new techniques, the folds, the blousing, etc."

In her own words, she's a frustrated interior decorator, but her home is evidence of talent in that direction. Mrs. Young has been interested in designing since she was quite young. She majored in art at Hardin-Simmons University and studied a year and a half in costume, fabrics, and design at Texas Tech. In mid-August she took a special course in Dallas in fabric design and learned the ins and outs of high street make up necessary for her style shows at the Powers Modeling Agency in Dallas.

"I believe every woman wants to look like a woman—especially if she is going out at night," says the young originals creator. "There is no use in denying what nature gave you, and my after-five fashions try to make a woman look her feminine best."

Betty's styles accent things like the "waist-cincher", use of elastic at a waistline that may expand as required at a banquet, and extra straps to attach to strapless bras matching the material of the formal. The "Be Young" labels are unique in Betty's knowledge—in custom made after-five dresses—the new owner's monograms are included. Each label is designed and

The originals are made up in several sizes for stores, but custom design fashions have no duplication.

"I can't sew very well myself," confesses Betty. "I cut patterns after I've designed them, but I rely on good seamstresses to bring them to materialization." "We do almost anything to avoid putting in a hemline," says the designer.

"For two years, I've been trying to get my line in production," says Betty. "Now things are really beginning to sizzle."

Mrs. Young held her first fashion show in August and plans a showing in San Angelo in November.

Mrs. Young is the mother of two blondes, Debra, 9, and Karen, 6. They make their home at 2102 A and M Avenue in San Angelo where Mr. Young is suburban plant supervisor with General Telephone Co.

Plans for pledge party under way

The Mu Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday night in the Reddy Room at 7:30 with Jeneice Reno and Joan Stewart as hostesses.

Plans were made for the Pledge Party to be held Oct. 6 at the First Methodist Church.

Sally Luttrell and Elizabeth Grice gave the program on "Sneech", carrying out the program study for the year.

Cokes, coffee and cookies were served to the following members:

Football's 'new look' helps Post

The best thing that has happened to Post in a long, long time has arrived—the high school football reformation of 1962.

It was pure delight out at Morton Friday night to watch the high-spirited Antelopes, so keyed-up they had a hard time holding onto the football some of the time, demolish a highly-touted Morton Indian eleven.

Why do we call it "the reformation"? Because of the entirely different atmosphere on the football field this year.

The team is well-coached, conditioned, and ready to play. The club bloc, it tackles, it improves from night to night, and week to week.

The boys are thoroughly sold on their two young coaches—Head Coach Harold Teal and his assistant, Glynn Gregory. After the gun at Morton they hoisted the pair on their shoulders and carried them off the field. That's quite an unusual demonstration of affection for the third game of any season.

They arrived home in Post at 2 a. m. Saturday and all the way home they whooped and cheered their coaches.

Why, there were almost as many Post folks in the stands at Morton as Morton fans. And they enjoyed every minute of it.

We doubt if the Antelopes will ever play again as perfect a half as they did in the first two periods against the Indians. Although they opened the scoring floodgates in the fourth period, it was the first half in which they took charge.

Morton hasn't been as soundly trounced in years. Morton was bigger; the Indians had faster backs. But they were outthrustled from start to finish, never got started.

Coach Teal and Coach Gregory have done an excellent job. The way they have lifted the spirit of the youngsters as well as their ability to play football has been tremendous.

One game, of course, does not a 10-game season make.

The Antelopes aren't unbeatable. They undoubtedly will lose some games, maybe several.

But this year they are competitive, and will stay competitive. That is all any good fan can ask. They will play, they will work, and they will win their share.

Football is such a fine sport because of the great enthusiasm it can generate in support of such a team.

Post, which has begun to gear itself more and more over the past year to an all-out community effort, is going to be helped greatly by its 1962 high school football team.

The Antelopes before November are going to stir up a lot of pride—and that is catching. The club will serve as a rallying point for community enthusiasm at a time when the community is beginning to stir on other community fronts.

Sound cockeyed? It isn't though.—JC

Best possible homecoming date

The Post Ex-Students' Association couldn't have picked a much better date for this year's homecoming event than the one they picked—Oct. 26.

We say they couldn't have picked a much better one with one eye on the Antelope football schedule, which shows that Oct. 26 is the date on which the Slaton Tigers play here.

It always seems more like homecoming—at Slaton as well as at Post—when these traditional rivals clash on the gridiron to climax either school's annual homecoming event.

Adding spice to this year's homecoming game is the fact that Bing Bingham, who for 10 years coached the Antelopes, is the Slaton coach this year. It'll also be homecoming for Bing when he brings his Tigers here for the game, but this time Bing will be over on the east side of the field—the visitor's side.—CD

County fair being kept alive

Good news, indeed, from the Garza County Home Demonstration Council is that the county will have a fair this year, thus keeping unbroken its chain of fairs over a period of several years.

This year's fair will be only a one-day event, but that is considerably better than no fair at all, and the home demonstration women more than likely will come up with a one-day event that will eclipse many two-day or three-day fairs.

County fairs nowadays are not what they once were. Big area fairs are taking their place because it is so much easier to travel nowadays than it was back in the days when county and community fairs were about the only ones most people could exhibit in and attend.

In fact, the county and community fair seems to be gradually dying out, along with many other of our old-time institutions. The most distant of the big fairs attended annually by many Garza County folks—the State Fair of Texas in Dallas—isn't more than half a day's drive away, and others are much closer, such as the upcoming Panhandle South Plains Fair in Lubbock.

Still, it gives most of us a feeling of satisfaction to know that the county fair movement still is alive in Garza County. In appreciation, let's give our support to the home demonstration members and the fair they are staging for our benefit.—CD

Polio vaccine probe continues

Some question as to the complete safety of the Type III Sabin poliomyelitis vaccine has arisen, and that is unfortunate, since that type of the vaccine has already been administered to many millions of people. Inevitably, considerable concern has been generated, even though practically all of it may be unwarranted.

Even in places where the Type III vaccine had not yet been administered, the concern was great enough that other phases of the immunization program were adversely affected. Here in Garza County, it is estimated that several hundred people did not receive the first dose of the vaccine simply because they were concerned over what they had heard and read about the Type III vaccine.

On the basis of the known facts and experience, the odds against any person suffering any ill effects from having taken the Type III vaccine are very high. Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze says the odds are one in a million for adults and, so far as is known, non-existent for children. People take greater chances when they try to cross the streets as pedestrians in ordinary urban traffic. And in areas where the virus is particularly prevalent, the odds that one will contract the disease if he does not take the vaccine are much greater than they are if he takes it.

No question has arisen about the complete safety of the Type I and Type II vaccines. But 11 confirmed cases associated in some way with the Type III vaccine have been reported, and the advisory committee made up of highly expert virological scientists felt that, on the basis of the available evidence, they could not all be assumed to be coincidental.

Even though all the facts may not have been established with respect to the suspect cases, the Public Health Service and the surgeon general are to be commended for their action in issuing a cautionary note until all the facts have been checked out in the cases believed associated in some way with the Type III vaccine. Their objective is to protect the public, and if there is the least doubt, however slight, about the complete safety of the use of the vaccine, they were justified in acting as they did.

As matters now stand, Oct. 28 and Dec. 9 are the tentative dates for administering the next two doses of the vaccine in Garza County. Within the next few weeks—after all the facts have been cleared up and evaluated—we'll know for sure just how and when the Victory Over Polio campaign will be continued here.—CD

THURSDAY to THURSDAY

By CHARLES DIDWAY

YOU COULD hardly tell if you didn't take a good look, but much has been happening the last few days—it's that time of year again. Vacations are over and the nagging realism of working for a living is once more upon us.

Old Rover, the neighbors' cur, has come down with something the veterinarian says was caused from sitting in the grass. (In the old days, dogs didn't get anything from sitting in the grass.) Now he spends most of his time scratching, and our three cats are getting fat again since he's stopped chasing them.

LITTLE BOYS, once so full of life, have been caught, scrubbed, dressed, and sent off to school with fearful threats of what's going to happen if they don't behave.

Mamas discover it isn't as nice as they thought it'd be, having the kids all gone. Kind of lonesome.

A CHILL HAS hit the air and it strikes you—you haven't done anything about the stoves yet. You also remember that the town didn't run out of water and that you won't have to worry about that again for several months.

Summer is over, friend! Fall is here!

THE MAN UP the street says it might be just as offensive to be around a man who never changes his mind as one who never changes his clothes.

One of the friendly salesmen who call on us here at The Dispatch office was telling me about a sign he'd seen hanging in one of the places he makes on his rounds. It just happened that the salesman had copied down what was on the sign, and we re-wrote it from his copy. This is how the sign read:

NOTICE TO CALLERS
Friendly calls: 10 minutes.
Salesmen with "real deals": One-half second.

Life insurance agents: 15 seconds.

Liquor salesmen (with samples): Two hours.

Friends letting us "in on the ground floor": One second.

Friends inviting us to lunch: Two hours.

Friends wishing to talk fishing and hunting: Most all day.

Those wishing to pay bills: All day.

Customers: Eight hours.

Girl Friends: All night.

Wealthy relations in their 80's: Any time.

Relatives wanting jobs: Three seconds.

Bill and tax collectors: All day (tomorrow).

MOST OF US can cope with problems much better than we can handle the anxiety aroused in waiting for them to come to a head, as Josh Billings recalled, "When I was a boy I'd rather be licked twice than postponed once."

Come to think of it, the General Election isn't too far away (the first Tuesday in November), and I'm convinced that one thing we need is more simple definitions about government, politics, candidates, etc. between now and voting time. Our political arena has become so confused that it is practically impossible to tell a Democrat from a Republican—without a program. Old labels, sad to say, are meaningless. We need some fresh new terms to get us moving again.

Here are some definitions that are making the rounds and, if we can remember them, may get us out of the woods:

Amendment: A patch on the seat of government.

Planned Economy: An economic plan which includes everything but economy.

Foreign Affairs Expert: The man who has taken a two-week trip into a foreign country.

Democracy: A system under which a man who doesn't vote spends his time criticizing the candidates other men have elected.

Congress: The proof that women don't do all the talking.

Candidate: The man who, after passing you by for ten years, suddenly greets you by name.

Freedom: The ability to do as you please without considering anyone except the wife, boss, police, neighbors and the government.

Congressman: A representative who favors economy, but not when it's in his own district.

Politics: The most promising of all careers.

Radical: A conservative out of a job.

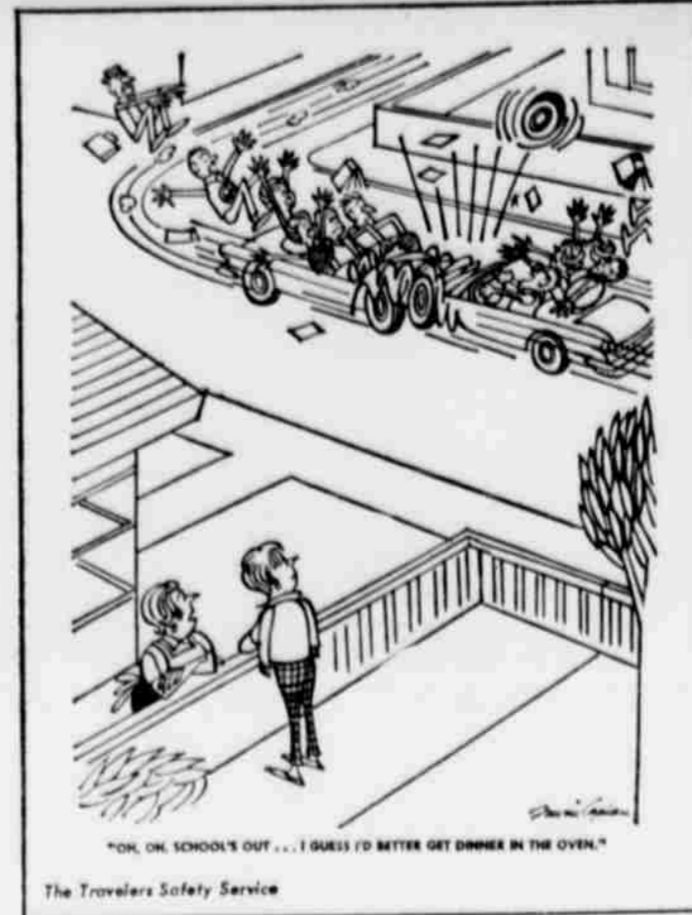

Red Tape: The bandage that keeps a government institution together.

Two Party System: Where the "ins" point with pride and the "outs" view with alarm.

Legislators: Men who have made millions of law but who haven't yet improved on the Ten Commandments.

Government: Affairs of state in which one generation pays the debt of the last generation by issuing bonds payable by the next genera-

Sales tax has first birthday

AUSTIN — Texas' new sales tax is one year old this month.

First year's income averaged some $2,870,000 a week, or a total for the first 12 months of approximately $149,000,000.

Robert S. Calvert, state comptroller, says "I think the general public has accepted it quite well."

Calvert says that even though the collections for the first year are some $10,000,000 to $12,000,000 shy of the expected $160,000,000, he was pleased with the success of the first year's program. "We ended with a cash balance of $21,851,594 in the general fund, anyway," he pointed out, "but we were back within the red within a few days."

The reason was that the very next day $4,000,000 went into the teachers' retirement fund—and the state's main bank account went into the red again. This time to the tune of $19,459,359.

63 Fords will be introduced Friday

1963 Fords, which will be introduced here Friday at Tom Power Ford, besides introducing an extensive list of new improvements and models, are termed "the most care-free cars in Ford's history." Tom Power told dispatch: "You'll find superb styling everywhere."

Many car care chores have disappeared," he explains. "No more stopping for routine oil changes every few weeks. Once in 6,000 miles does the job. No major lube jobs for 36,000 miles. Brakes are self-adjusting."

Other cars are so finely constructed," Power said, "they don't require the traditional 1,000-mile inspection."

Other 44 models in its 1963 line as many as five years Power said.

It's a brief rundown:

GALAXIE: Designed as "the service-free standard-size car ever offered," the Ford Galaxie features complete styling, a new high-voltage V8 engine, and a new soft-riding "compliance" suspension.

Interior and convenience features include an optional Thunderbird-style steering column, remote entry, vent windows, crank-operated seat cushions, three inches of foam interior door handles, a new radio is optional.

Power, three-speed manual transmission is on all models. First of its kind ever offered on US-built cars, the new transmission is synchronized in all forward gears to minimize hard shifting, shift and tooth wear.

28 cubic inch Challenger is designed to operate on fuel, offering good performance and high fuel economy.

Four-door hardtop model Galaxie "500-XL" series is the list of 14 new Galaxies for 1963.

FALCON: The Ford Falcon enters sports arena with five new styling and a host of features.

Falcons will offer 17 models in the 1963 line—more than any other line in the industry. All models, all in the sport series, include a four-door and two convertibles.

Power steering will be available for the first time as

Banks said biggest lenders to farmers and ranchers in Texas

Texas banks were serving farmers and ranchers with more credit and other financial services than any other of lenders at the beginning of this year, according to Irby G. Metcalf Jr., president of the First National Bank.

During 1961, the state's banks maintained their leadership in agricultural credit services.

Based on the 21st annual farm lending summary of the Agricultural Committee of the American Bankers Association, Metcalf reported that at the beginning of the year, Texas banks were helping farmers and ranchers with $422,000,000 in loans, 9 per cent more than a year previous.

This total included $370,000,000 in farm mortgages.

At the same time, $322,000,000 in farm loans was held by life insurance companies; $249,000,000 by the Federal Land Banks; $122,000,000 by Production Credit Associations, and $63,000,000 in non-real estate loans, plus $37,000,000 in real estate loans by the Farmers Home Administration.

About 67 per cent of the production credit extended by lending institutions to Texas farmers and ranchers came from banks.

Youth Council's work is praised

AUSTIN — Austin MacCormick of New York, the expert on penitentiaries whose recommendations led to reform of the Texas Prison System a decade ago, came to Texas to take a look at the Texas Youth Council's reorganization.

He headed for New York full of praise for improvements at Gatesville and Gainesville state schools.

MacCormick particularly praised the new Mountain View School at Gatesville, where the tougher boys are separated from the first offenders. He said it was not an "Alcatraz," but a place where the boys with more problems can be given special attention. At the same time, their influence is removed from the younger boys.

But the expert warned that Texas needs a place for boys who are dependent and neglected, but not yet delinquent, to save them from becoming delinquent.

Too many boys who belong in foster homes are being committed to schools for delinquents, giving them an undesired stigma, MacCormick said.

He particularly urged the establishment of a state home for Negro boys in this category.

Arab women are known for wearing veils in public as a sign of modesty. Among the Tuaregs of northern Africa, however, it's the men who veil their faces, says World Book Encyclopedia.

Texas residents should check financial statements of insurance companies not licensed in Texas before buying from them, warns William Harrison, Texas Insurance Commissioner.

Bible Thoughts "Space Age Antiquity"

By HERB SMITH

The home is the oldest institution on earth. With regards to age it is an antique. Age makes many things valuable such as literature, art, and automobiles. This is not always true with respect of the home according to some. The home, as God intended for it to be, is considered by many to be inadequate and out dated.

God originated the home with certain purposes for its existence. He also drew up the blue prints for the home. It is to have a certain organization, relationships, responsibilities, and rules to go by. God did not intend for men to change these plans. To think that they are inadequate for the space age is to question the intelligence of God.

The sermons on the home continue with the second subject "Altar Ego" being next Sunday. A special invitation is extended to all.

Civic clubs are force for peace, group here told

Civic clubs are a moving force for peace in today's world, Travis Shelton of Lubbock told his audience Tuesday night at a Post Lions Club appreciation dinner for business men.

Approximately 60 persons attended the dinner, which was held in Fellowship Hall at the First Methodist Church.

Shelton, who is a Lubbock attorney, said the world has grown so small today that people of all nations should try to understand each other. Civic clubs, such as the Lions and Rotarians, he said, are doing much to bring about this understanding.

Shelton, who has been a Lion for 14 years, said no business man should consider himself "too busy" to belong to and take an active part in the work being done by civic clubs.

The speaker briefly outlined the projects carried out here by the local Lions Club and commended the organization for being a 100 per cent club in supporting the Texas Lions Camp for Crippled Children at Kerrville.

The program included a film on the summer program at the crippled children's camp.

Dr. John E. Carter, Lions president, presided for a brief business session that followed the meal, and introduced the speaker. At the conclusion of the program, he called for a round of applause for the Methodist women who had prepared the dinner.

Invocation was by the Rev. Graydon Howell.

The Lions Club gave the dinner in appreciation for the support given the club by the business men on its various community projects.

To Court of Civil Appeals

WR board in appeal of injunction order

Directors of the White River Municipal Water District have appealed District Judge Victor H. Lindsey's temporary injunction order against the district in a land condemnation suit to the Court of Civil Appeals in Amarillo.

The appeal was filed Friday by the board's attorney, Lloyd Wicks of Ralls.

It is expected to come before the three-judge tribunal probably in October for hearing.

The White River Water District in its appeal contends the district court has no jurisdiction over the condemnation suit that originated in county court.

The district also contends that while it was given only fee simple title to surface rights of the dam site land in question, it actually needs to control minerals as well to prevent pollution of the lake.

A third contention is that the enjoyment of the district by Judge Lindsey from using the condemned land for recreational purposes is adequate without the addition of a reversion clause which would make the land revert to its original owners if used for recreation.

The district also appealed the judge's ruling that it must amend its original condemnation proceedings in the county court where the condemnation suit began.

Mrs. Lee Walker and other owners of the nearly 2,000 acres of land in question earlier appealed the findings of the county court's condemnation commission in the case.

This appeal probably won't be heard in county court until the appeal of the district judge's temporary injunction order is heard.

Meanwhile the work on construction of the new White River dam goes on. The district judge's order did not hold up the work.
