Methodist Revival Starts March 25; Music Is Invited

Service of the Methodist revival campaign will be held Wednesday, March 25, and the will continue through Easter according to an announcement by the pastor, the Rev. H. Hollowell.

Services will be held twice daily, 11 a. m. and 8:15 p. m. with the exception of Saturdays, it was also announced.

Mr. Hollowell will be in charge of the preaching, and music in the revival will be handled by the choir.

Messages that will be adapted to present world conditions strictly as the Bible will be delivered by the Rev. Hollowell, who, for the last several years, has been identified with revival and ministering in West Texas.

Public is invited to attend. As part in these religious services, none will be turned away, and officers believe, without aid and comfort from the world to be given daily.

Completed Bowling Will Be Held Tonight

Completed through circumstances, the set-up between the White-Corner keglers will be re-arranged at Hoffman's lanes. Players on these two teams are expected to be present when play starts.

Edwards to Return to Hospital Sunday

Edwards, popular manager of the Smith Lumber Company, who was taken to a Lubbock hospital several days ago suffering from an attack of pneumonia, is reported to be improving and will probably be returned to his home Sunday.

To Conduct Revival

HOWARD H. HOLLOWELL, Pastor First Methodist Church (Story in the next column)

To Elect Mayor, Two Aldermen

A mayor and two aldermen will be chosen by voters in the city election here Tuesday, April 7, according to T. J. Yandell, city secretary.

The names of Stansell L. Jones, mayor by appointment, R. O. Stark and Cliff Lambert, aldermen, automatically go on the ticket, while all others must be filed ten days prior to election day.

O'Donnell's trustee election will be held on Saturday, April 4, with two trustees, Shock Blocker and E. R. Tune, up for re-election. Any opposition names must also be filed ten days prior to the election.

IN AUSTIN
Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Street and grandson, Johnnie Boy Billingsley, left Thursday for Austin. Their daughter, Mrs. Johnnie Billingsley, Mr. Billingsley and infant son preceded them two weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Edwards were in Lubbock Wednesday.

Electric Company Employee Killed

Ervin T. Bailey, 48, of Lamesa, was electrocuted about 5:35 o'clock Saturday afternoon when a high wind blew a 2,300-volt electric line across the back of his neck a few minutes after he had completed an installation.

Bailey, who had been an employee of the Texas Electric Service Co., since 1924, had been working on the high voltage line which serves the Price hospital in Lamesa. Witnesses said he had completed his work and was climbing down from a pole when a gust of wind blew the line across the back of his neck.

He was severely burned and died instantly.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon, March 16. Burial was made in the Lamesa cemetery.

Mr. Bailey was a member of the Methodist Church, and also held memberships in the American Legion and Masonic Lodge.

Survivors are his wife, his mother, Mrs. E. J. Bailey, three daughters, Joe Ervin, 18, Glenna Faye, 16, and Anna Marie, 14.—(From The Dawson County Courier.)

Cox Withdraws From Commissioner's Race in Precinct 3

Due to presence of circumstances now prevailing, Wallace Cox, who recently announced for commissioner, precinct 3, has authorized the Press to announce his withdrawal from that race.

Mr. Cox is now engaged in important work, which plays a part in national defense, and he believes it for the best interest of all that he continue doing the work.

Mr. Cox appreciates the aid promised him in his contemplated race, and carefully considered his withdrawal after having received so much encouragement.

Mrs. C. J. Beach was in Lamesa Thursday.

Cemetery Assn. To Purchase Ground

A proposal, which called for the purchase of a plot of ground west of the present cemetery grounds, was adopted by members of the Cemetery Association Monday night in a special called meeting.

Five acres of ground is involved in the transaction, and funds for the purchase will be secured through public subscription, according to Miss Claire Ruth Nichols.

J. W. Gates was chosen to serve as chairman of the drive to purchase the ground which is needed.

Sugar Rationing To Start Soon

W. O. Thomas, chairman of the rationing board for Lynn County, says that the board has received no green light signal from Washington yet authorizing the board to go ahead with the sugar rationing program but that orders are expected soon.

In the meantime, he desires that the people be informed somewhat respecting the program.

When rationing day comes, the father or mother or other head of a family will be required to register at the school house in his town or community for the entire family, giving the number of members of the family, and as we understand it, the name of each.

The registrant must make affidavit as to the amount of sugar which the family has on hand at that time. If the amount is more than two pounds per family, the excess must be turned in. Each family thereafter will be allowed to purchase not exceeding two pounds for each member of the family per week.

Teachers' Meeting Is Held In Tahoka

TAHOKA, March 19 (Special) — The Lynn County Teachers' Association met Thursday evening, March 12, in the Tahoka School Gymnasium. The Vocational Teachers of the county acted as cooks and about one hundred teachers and their wives and husbands enjoyed fresh fish, oysters, potato salad, coffee, pie, ice cream, and all the "trimmings."

Several numbers from the different schools over the county were: Mrs. Burke of O'Donnell, accompanied her pupil, N. T. Singleton, who sang "White Cliffs of Dover" and "Dear Mom."

Mrs. Eip, from Wilson, accompanied her young son for two vocal numbers.

A girls' trio, Dorothy Lee Carmack, Joan Edwards, and Pat Hill, accompanied by Mr. John Hamblen, Lavoye Richardson, Tommy Fender and Kenneth Ross, all of Tahoka, sang several popular songs.

The program was concluded by a "Quiz" between the men and women, consisting of questions concerning history and geography at the present time. The scores showed a "draw."

In the business meeting following, old business was attended to and three delegates were elected to represent Lynn County in a meeting of the District Teachers' Association which will be held in Lubbock on March 20 and 21. S. F. Johnson, Superintendent of O'Donnell schools; Mrs. Lenore M. Tunnell, County Superintendent; and S. G. Anthony, Superintendent of Wilson schools, were elected as delegates with Leo Jackson, A. L. Pace and W. T. Hanes, all of Tahoka, as alternates.

The meeting adjourned, each planning to see the others in Lubbock next Friday and Saturday.

FISHERMEN RETURN
Phil Davis, Ed Allen, Clyde Fairly and W. L. Gardenhire have returned from a week's fishing trip to Comstock, near the Rio Grande. Their hauls netted 125 lbs. of fish, so they claim.

HOMER CLEO (IKE) MCKEE

Whose death occurred while fighting under McArthur in the Philippines on January 24. This was a snapshot picture which was enlarged for publication. On the back "Ike" had written about his carelessness in letting his shirt sleeves be wrinkled in the picture, and that he would send a better one later.

Complete Set-up Of Soil Board

Members of the Board of Supervisors for the newly created Lynn County Soil Conservation District met in their first session Thursday, March 12, in the County Agricultural building.

The membership on the board is composed of the following Lynn County farmers: J. H. Sander, Wilson; R. M. Stewart, Edith; R. L. Littlepage, Midway; P. E. Askew, Wells; L. R. McCormick, New Home.

Howard H. Goss, field representative of the Texas State Soil Conservation Board at Temple, met with the group to qualify the Board of Supervisors and to set the machinery in action for the development of a program and plan of work for the district.

In the meeting Thursday, R. L. Littlepage was elected chairman of the board; R. M. Stewart, vice-chairman; and L. R. McCormick, secretary. Others in attendance were: Don Turner, County Agent; Fred McGinty, Production Credit Association; B. J. Emanuel, member of the Lynn County Land Use Planning Committee; and J. Walter Grist, Wilson Vocational Agriculture teacher.

The next meeting of the board will be held on April 8.

Citizens Warned To Watch For Forced Landings

LUBBOCK, March 18 — With the Lubbock Army Flying School here now training its first aviation cadet class, South Plains citizens may at any time find themselves called upon to take an active and important part in the nation's campaign to "Keep 'Em Flying."

Co-operation between civilians and Army personnel in case of airplane accidents or forced landings in this area has been asked by officials at the twin-engine flying school, who have issued an Army Air Forces Headquarters bulletin outlining the procedure for such co-operation.

Any military aircraft forced down, it is requested, should be strictly guarded against molestation by unauthorized persons after crewmen have been rescued, since it may be carrying live bombs or ammunition.

Anyone witnessing an aircraft accident, according to the bulletin, should report it immediately to his local police officials, who will relay the information to the nearest Air Corps station and will provide proper protection for the scene of the accident until Army personnel arrive.

"Law enforcement officials," it continues, "can best co-operate with military authorities by assisting injured crew members, obtaining names and addresses of witnesses and making certain that no one moves any part of the plane or its equipment after crew members are rescued."

Mrs. Ed Goddard is recuperating from a serious attack of the flu. Give a book for a soldier.

Funeral Held For J. N. Line

Funeral services for J. N. Line 63, prominent business man of O'Donnell for many years, were held from the First Methodist church Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Burial was made in the city cemetery.

Death occurred in a Lubbock hospital Tuesday morning at 1:15 o'clock from chronic myelogenous leukemia, a blood condition, so doctors said.

Officiating was the Rev. Howard H. Hollowell pastor, assisted by former pastors the Rev. J. H. Crawford Semple, and Rev. O. M. Addison Lubbock.

Survivors include his widow; sons Harold and Gwynn of Los Angeles; Robert of Camp Roberts, California; Roy of Sheppard Field, Wichita Falls; Wilbur of the Lubbock army flying field, Martin of Brownfield and Harvey of O'Donnell; one daughter, Aileen of O'Donnell; and a sister, Mrs. Emma Lee of Spanish Fort.

Mr. Line came to O'Donnell 25 years ago, and through the years was engaged successfully in the hotel business, farming and grocery business. About four years ago he retired to operate a service station.

Born in Tennessee, Mr. Line came west when 17 years of age, living in Montague County and in after years, moving to New Mexico.

A staunch church attendant, Mr. Line early in life professed his faith, and was never hesitant in doing his duty as he saw it. Courteous and friendly, he made friends easily and held them through the years. From the humblest Mexican to those possessing wealth, Mr. Line showed his courtesy and his interest in his fellow man.

Dorothy Smith junior in high school who has been seriously ill, was reported as improving.

Miss Jennie Reid of Dallas visited Mrs. J. Mack Noble Wednesday.

Jap Invasion Bases in New Guinea Strengthen Drive Against Australia; Promised Dominion Status for India Fails to Result in Expected Harmony

EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Reports from Australia emphasize the importance of Allied attacks on the Japanese invasion bases of Salamaua and Lae in northeast New Guinea. From Salamaua to Thursday Island, off the northern tip of Australia, the distance is 400 miles. From Port Moresby, the nearest major harbor to the mainland, to Cape York, on the northern Australian tip, the distance is little more than 390 miles.

AUSSIES: On the Spot

Hardly had the battle of Java reached the mopping up stages than the battle for the approaches of Australia had started with rumblings from within the continent that the Aussies were far from pleased with the amount of preparedness they had.

The signal for the beginning of the "curtain-raiser" for the attempted invasion of Australia had closely followed the shut-down of communications with Java, and came at the same time news was received that some 3,000 Australian troops, badly needed at home, were still fighting a hopeless fight on the island of Java.

The spearhead of the projected invasion was apparently to be based on the island of New Guinea, just to the north of the continent and immediately threatening it as the shortest airline flight from the East Indies.

The Japs had landed large forces at Salamaua, Lae and at Finschaven, and had been busily engaged in consolidating these positions as bases of supplies.

This was enough to set at rest any doubts Australians might have had that India and not they were going to be next on the Jap time table. Not only that, but the Japanese, with brutal frankness, had broadcast that Australia was going to suffer the same fate as had the Dutch East Indies.

How much American aid and reinforcement already was in Australia was dubious, and a closely guarded military secret. If we were weak, the military leaders naturally didn't want the Japs to know how weak, and if we were strong enough to defeat them, when and if they should land, these same leaders didn't want to warn them off.

The only stories concerning the amount of aid had come from McDaniel, who had written that the town of Perth was so full of American troops that it looked like an American city, and from British Correspondent Harr, whose dispatch had caused an immediate tempest which hadn't gone anywhere at all.

Harr it was who, apparently writing from the midst of an American convoy bound to Australia had said that the "sea was covered with ships" and that "hundreds of America's best fighting pilots" were aboard.

America also was sending men "from the plains states" he added, but gave no hint of their status.

It was from Australian leaders themselves that the hint came that the continent was ill-prepared. One said:

"It is the plan of the Japanese to attack us before we can get prepared, and before we can receive reinforcements."

Secrecy had muddled the picture for Americans, but certain it was that in going after Australia the Japs were really biting off a chunk which would take a bit of chewing, for they'd find no fifth-column there waiting to be taken over.

MISCELLANY:

Washington: Donald Nelson said he was frankly delighted with the way some factories were changing over to war work, citing in particular a linoleum plant now making guns.

Albuquerque, N. M.: A call went out for 200 women to tend a victory garden. They will accept one male volunteer. He must do the plowing and planting.

INDIA: Britain's Problem

Churchill had informed Commons, which had been demanding some forthright action on the problem of Hindustan, that nothing could be done now, but repeating his promise of dominion status for India "after the war."

So far this problem was the most trying one facing the British. In Burma they had found what they were up against, with the Burmese revolutionaries joining the Japs, and many of the others turning frankly against all white men.

The British defenders of Burma, cut off by these tactics, had been forced to retreat more and more, and finally, in a daring maneuver, had struck northward, and had smashed their way close to their Chinese allies.

What Britain feared more than anything was a frank and open uprising of all of India's 350,000,000 people, and to this the best Churchill could do had been to re-offer what had been offered back in August, 1940, and which, apparently, had accomplished nothing.

But this time he went a little further. He told the Indians that the government had adopted a definite plan as to how the dominion status would be carried out, and that he was sending his own right-hand man, Sir Stafford Cripps personally to India to explain it all to them.

India's religious and caste problems were, admittedly, severe, and whether Cripps could dig his hand into India and come out with Britain's little white rabbit remained to be seen.

He was a miracle man in Russia, and a miracle man before Commons. Could he perform a third in this war? Britain hoped so.

TAXES: Millions Pay

Millions of Americans, many of them making their first trip to Uncle Sam's tax windows, had made their income tax returns for 1942, but only a percentage of them were able to pay the full amount.

At the same time they were aware that 1943 taxes would be much higher, and there were thousands who had a different picture of their family budgets after making their returns than they did before.

In the meantime, in Washington, though some government authorities were against the sales tax as putting the burden on the weak, began serious consideration of some form of sales tax as being probably less painful and more sure of large returns than increased income levies.

The house ways and means committee had taken the bit between its teeth in demanding that treasury officials furnish them with data on the probable yield of some form of sales tax.

Secretary Morgenthau had taken the position that a sales tax would be not only inequitable, putting the heaviest burden on the poor, but that it would be inflationary.

The great question in Washington among certain congressmen was "who is now poor?" pointing out that the income tax was already taking all that most people felt they could pay, and the sales tax would, though increasing the cost of living, "come easier."

Strong support had come for these congressmen from William J. Schiefelin Jr., head of the New York State Chamber of Commerce, who suggested a graduated retail sales tax to raise about $4,000,000,000 and only a billion more to be brought with increased income taxes.

As Java—Land of Bridges—Prepared for Japs

In the United States an ordinary railroad line would count its bridges and trestles by the scores or by the hundreds. In Java they are numbered in the thousands. Bridges are seen everywhere spanning rivers and ravines. And so, before Java fell to the invading Japs, the Netherlands East Indies mountain army became experts in demolition. At left they are seen as they mined a bridge. Right: A small pontoon bridge for infantry crossing is shown as it was destroyed by a well-placed shell.

Reds' Manager Does a Bit of Explaining

Even baseball comes in for a streamlining these modern days. Here Manager Bill McKechnie of the Cincinnati Reds (left) explains the operation of a new automatic pitching machine to pitcher Paul Derringer. The device is in use at the Reds training camp at Tampa, saving much wear and tear on valuable pitching arms.

Reunion After Escape From Hong Kong

China's most famous family were reunited in Chungking following Madame Sun Yat-Sen's dramatic escape by air from Hong Kong to the wartime capital. Things Few New Yorkers Know About New York:

There is $4,000,000 in gold at the bottom of the East river. The treasure was aboard a British ship that sank there in 1870. Many attempts have been made to recover the money, but they all failed. . . . The Bronx has its own flag. . . . Every body knows that the Statue of Liberty carries a torch in her right hand. Know what she holds in her left? It's a book representing Law, which has on it in block letters the date July 4, 1776, signifying liberty based on law. . . . Next time you pass Grant's tomb and you want to show your friend how much you know about New York, raise his eyebrow by pointing out that the general's body is encased in three coffins.

New York has 36 buildings that are 36 stories high or higher. There are only 20 such buildings in the rest of the country. (Yes, the Big Town has the big buildings, the big heads—and the rest of the country has most of the big hearts.)

The first New York census showed that it had 1,000 people and 20 houses. . . . In the early 17th century, South, Water and Front streets were covered with water, and Broad street was an inlet used as a canal. . . . City Hall park is now a gathering place for mendicants and pretze salesmen, but it's rich in history. It was in that park the Declaration of Independence was first read to the American army. . . . In the early days of New York, the political big shots used to tax the Indians for "protection." (So you think racketeering is something new, eh?) . . . The Staten Island ferry opened its run in 1713. (And through all those years it has been woe-underfull.) . . . During the Revolutionary war the first attack on a battleship by a submarine occurred in New York harbor. . . . They used to hold steamship races on the Hudson, by cracky! . . . New York city owns and operates a fleet of ferryboats. . . . No wonder Mayor LaGuardia is pugnacious. He has even had a punching bag installed at City Hall. . . . Incidentally, Fiorello has a tiger skin and head in his home, as a mark of his victory over ye olde Tammany tiger.

—Buy Defense Bonds— A prof at McGill university has discovered some vitamin pills that are death on hangovers. The pills aren't ready for the market yet. . . . One of the middleweight fighters is in the battle. Got leave, came home to see the wife and kids and refused to go back. . . . One of the lovelier Irish femme movie stars of only a few seasons ago is broke in town. . . . That Morgan fellow on the air is a refreshing relief from most comics. Frinstance "The Japs may be clever in imitating the production of all nations, but I'd like to see 'em come out with an almond-shaped monocle!"

Radio Row is giggling over a recent broadcast from a West Coast hoosegow. One of the inmates warbled: "We Did It Before And We Can Do It Again!" . . . Life and Time are rumored due for a shake-up among the staffs. . . . Clare Boothe's trip to India is to interview Nehru. She read three biogs on him before departing. . . . Howard Hughes, the fier, may become chief of the Air Training Cadets of America, which is being privately financed by Gov't okay. . . . Anne Shirley — the actress-divorcee—and Roger Pryor (being melted from Ann Sothern) are salving each other's wounds.

Typewriter Ribbons: Christopher Morley: There are some literary critics who remind me of a gong at a grade crossing clanging loudly and vainly as the train roars by. . . . H. W. Beecher: Tears are often the telescope through which men see far into heaven. . . . Henny Youngman: I just taught my wife how to drive a car. Next week I'm teaching her how to aim it! . . . Lester Rice: The crowd as one person patted him on the back with their lungs. . . . James Cannon: He's one of the old songs of New York. . . . Vina Delmar: She was exquisite. She had the face of the month. . . . Faith Baldwin: She had that special bloom which only women in love are permitted; happiness was luminous in her eyes, arrogant in her walk, and shaped like a kiss upon her mouth. . . . Charles Barnet: One of those sappy dames who parted her hair in the middle. . . . T. Dorsey: If we don't get some harmony soon we'll all swing! . . . General MacArthur: Only those are fit to live who are not afraid to die.

—Buy Defense Bonds— Man About New York: A new system of protection against saboteurs is being installed in many defense plants by Stromberg-Carlson engineers. Aptly enough, tests have shown the system is sensitive enough to detect rats scampering across the floor. . . . Broadway amateur sleuths are claiming the blonde who bit Dorothy Thompson's finger (in that Heil Hitler incident) is (1) "The Duchess," as she is known around the racetracks; (2) A St. Moritz tenant; (3) A one-time gal pal of Millionaire Stillman.

Americans Slow War Trigger

PHEN, March 15 (Special)—It comes to fighting, Americans "hard to start, but, as our must be taught, infinitely to stop." Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson told a Defense Guard meeting in Mc-

"I am endangered by a cruel and my foe," he said, "we should think that our ancestors rose spontaneously, bravely, to these of their homes. Actually, every eye of the Mexican in- the people of Texas had no extension of their danger."

quoted the letter which Col. B. Travis wrote to Governor two weeks before Santa Anna at the Rio Grande: "I fear it is to waste arguments upon the people). The thunder of my cannon — the cries of famished children and the of burning dwellings only will them."

those days, he added, "there men who scuttled and sabotag- petty bickering and cowardly ness. Unfortunately, in high and low places, we have the red today."

the very fact that we were mapping at the Alamo and Harbor has in it an essen- of Democracy, a cruel which will always place a people in an initial disadvan- them fighting the forces of dic- . The paradox is this: The things in life worth fighting for are the hardest things to begin fighting for."

The early Texans, Thompson added, "were too busy making homes, preparing a land in which opportunity might flourish, a land in which their children and their children's children—you and I, if you please—might live fuller lives. It is not strange that more than words was needed to turn them to the difficult and grim business of giving their lives to protect their way of life."

Similarly, "We Americans did not want this war; we did not prepare for war because we were busily living better. Now is no time to decide the rightness or wrongness of our attitude. Now is the time to face conditions as they actually exist. We permitted the tentacles of a ruthless foe to close perilously tight around our way of life. Now is time to crush those tentacles forever."

"Or will to fight," Thompson said, "is symbolized by the Marines at Wake Island who, when asked what they needed, replied, 'Send us more Japs.' Our will to fight is symbolized by General MacArthur and his gallant little army."

"But these things must be multiplied into efforts thousands, millions of times more powerful. Again we must pay the price for living too well and preparing too little. We are going to have other Pearl Harbors, but like Valley Forge and the Alamo, they must make us grit our teeth, hold on like MacArthur, and drive toward other Yorktowns and San Jacintos. We are hard to start, but, as our enemies must be taught, infinitely harder to stop."

How this oil that defies "curdling" far out-mileaged five other great quality brands...beat their average more than twice over, in Certified Desert Test

URNS thickening up milk don't half give you a picture of the blobs of muck that can foul your oil—and your engine. For mush and "stickum" from oil that fails under present-day strain can't improve lubrication, nor add to safe mileage per quart. But now that you must change oil for Spring—really a law in every Car Instruction Book—you can easily switch to Conoco Nth motor oil. And in patented Conoco Nth oil you get Thialbene inhibitor... man-made... the modern synthetic invented to restrain stickiness—sluggishness—"simmering down thick."

That's how to foil a lot of wear, and not have your engine soon over-eating oil. Talk about a strict economy diet! ...Down in Death Valley's record high heat, battling five other big-name oils—impartially—this same Conoco Nth oil was still up above half when all others tested had burned up their engines and their full 5-quart fills! That's a certified sample. It makes you realize why you can change to Conoco Nth and keep away from adding quart after quart. Get rid of hazardous Winter oil now, at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Get economy to the Nth degree. Continental Oil Company

Conoco Nth gets every chance to stay smoothly fluid; full of life. And still another great Conoco synthetic—same as ever—makes Conoco Nth give you an OIL-PLATED engine, with lubricant "plated" you'd say—or seemingly "magnetized"—direct to inner engine parts. Then OIL-PLATING isn't all draining down fast during parking—or even overnight. Instead, OIL-PLATING can stay up high, to help out your engine at every start, before any oil-pump raises up its full stream.

SHE LOVED A SPY by SYLVIA TAYLOR

THE STORY SO FAR: Joan Leland, secretary, falls in love with her handsome night club employer, Karl Miller. Her sister, Sybil, does not trust Karl but Joan defends him blindly. Paul Sherman, his manager, offers Joan friendship and warns her against Karl, but refuses to give reason. Delivering a mysterious message for Karl late at night, Joan secretly notices Paul trailing her. Karl shoots his partner, Eric Strom, and asks Joan to pick up the gun. He then reminds her of her fingerprints on the gun and threatens to charge her with murder unless she does as he wants. Paul Sherman, to her surprise, agrees with him. Karl admits he is not a U. S. citizen and has a wife in Germany. Later Paul confides in Joan that he is Paul O'Malley, of the FBI and part of the force trying to trap the higher-ups of the spy ring. Joan finds a terrified note from Sybil and she and Paul suspect that Karl is holding her as hostage for Joan's good behavior. Joan agrees to carry on her work, but to secretly help Paul and the FBI. The police call at the office next day with Sybil's clothes and a suicide note, found near a bridge. Joan wants to accuse Karl then but Paul prevents her.

She was comforted by his sympathetic shoulder. She needed someone to talk to so much, now that Sybil was gone.

Now continue with the story. CHAPTER XI "Yes!" Joan cried with determination. "And I'll be all right from now on." She lifted her chin bravely.

"That's swell," Paul said with admiration as they entered the apartment. "You've got more nerve than any girl I ever saw."

"Paul, why didn't the men at police headquarters know who you were?" He laughed. "My dear girl, the reason they sent me out here was that I am not known by the local police. We have to work in absolute secrecy."

"Where is your real home?" Joan asked curiously. "Brooklyn," Paul laughed. "I was born and raised there. Technically I work in Washington but I'm usually off on an assignment."

"Right! And someone else who will bear watching is this Mrs. Murdock who supposedly owns the beauty shop where Sybil worked."

"I don't think so," he said, going to the door. A middle-aged woman, well-dressed, rather heavy-set, with dyed black hair and expressionless black eyes, stood waiting.

"May I see Miss Leland?" she inquired. "I am Mrs. Murdock." Joan rose quickly from her place by the fire. Mrs. Murdock! Sybil's employer!

"Discharged?" Joan repeated in astonishment. "But Sybil didn't tell me anything about it." The older woman looked uncomfortable. "Her work was not entirely satisfactory. I was sorry but I had to let her go."

"Sybil was one of the best beauty operators in this city," Joan flared. "Sybil," Mrs. Murdock went on, "was very upset. She told me she needed the money desperately."

"That isn't true!" Joan snapped. Mrs. Murdock shrugged. "That is what she told me. When I told her that I was letting her go she became hysterical and threatened to do away with herself. I told this to the police when they called on me an hour ago."

"I know." His understanding broke down her last defense. She hid her face against his shoulder and wept. "But I'll never get over it. Never."

"I'd like to break his rotten neck," Paul said but Joan did not hear him. She was comforted by his sympathetic shoulder. She needed someone to talk to so much, now that Sybil was gone.

December days dragged to a close. Christmas passed. Paul spent the day with Joan, taking her to dinner at a quiet restaurant. They spoke little. Paul attempted to cheer her but his efforts produced little effect.

"Karl said we wouldn't be needed at the Club New Year's Eve. Would you like to go out?" Joan glanced about the brilliantly decorated restaurant, the shining Christmas tree and light bedecked wreaths in the windows. "It doesn't seem fair for us to celebrate while we don't know what's happened to Sybil."

"I don't think Sybil would want you to worry. Let's try it anyway. Shall we, Joan?" "We'll try . . ." she promised. New Year's Eve arrived, clear and cold. Joan wore a green satin dress to match her eyes.

"I've been watching Mrs. Murdock's beauty shop," he reported, "and I'm convinced there's something funny about it. Once I thought I saw Karl with her."

"How can you get proof?" "You are going to have your hair fixed there next week," Paul informed her. "Look the place over and if you see anything suspicious, tell me. You might even try to see Mrs. Murdock in her private office. If there's anything going on, you may find evidence there. Try to be pleasant with her. You probably put her on her guard the last time you saw her."

"Not one, except maybe never to fall in love again." "So long as you don't give up your friends." She smiled at him. "You're the best friend I have, Paul. In fact, you are the only one I have right now."

"Happy New Year!" Paul cried. "The same to you, Paul." "It's good-bye to the past," Joan thought. "Good-bye to Karl and all the things that such a little while ago were important. . . ."

"Of course! But I'll go home in a taxi," Joan said practically. "They might leave any minute."

But when Monday came and Paul Sherman did not call for her she was alarmed, when, instead, Karl himself drove her to the club. But she dared not inquire about Paul. Karl did not offer any explanation. He seemed in good spirits.

"By the way," Karl told her, "I am hiring a new singer for the band. Draw up a contract. She will be in later."

Even then Joan was not prepared for the sight of the same slim, lovely girl who had been Karl's dancing companion. She came in the door a little shyly, but Joan recognized the happy look in her eyes. Joan had once looked that way. Her heart went out to this girl. She couldn't be a day over seventeen.

"Won't you sit down," Joan asked pleasantly. "Mr. Miller will be back in a few minutes." The girl sat down primly and looked around with admiration. She was dressed in a brown suit and sports hat. Her brown hair hung softly to her shoulders. Her brown eyes were wide and childlike.

"Mr. Miller tells me that you are going to sing here." "Yes. My name is Pat Hines." Joan fancied that she hesitated as she spoke her name. "Do you live here?" she asked.

Pat dropped her eyes. "I came from Los Angeles," she explained briefly, adding with enthusiasm. "I'm so grateful to Mr. Miller. He's been wonderful to me. I don't know how I would ever have gotten a job. It was really just luck. You see I noticed his advertisement in the paper for a singer. And I applied and Mr. Miller said I was just what he was looking for."

Joan's green eyes narrowed. So Karl was playing his little game again! "How old are you?" Joan asked. "Nineteen."

Joan sighed, sure that she was younger. If only there were something she could do or say to warn this girl. But what? She dared not risk Karl's disapproval now. Too much was at stake. Paul and Sybil! She could not take the chance. She turned back to her typing while Pat sat waiting with an enraptured expression.

Those few minutes did more to cure Joan of her former infatuation for Karl than anything else. Seeing Pat, as she herself had been—seeing Karl playing the same game again—gave her a clearer picture of the situation. Karl came in almost immediately smiling as he saw Pat waiting for him. "The orchestra leader tells me your audition was very satisfactory," he said, taking her hand.

Pat left the office with Karl, clinging to his arm, radiant-eyed. "And to think," Joan said savagely to herself, "that I looked like that once!"

A Birthday Cake With Candles—Goody! (See Recipes Below)

Happy Returns

Birthdays the children have are the ones which they usually cherish most even though they may have bigger cakes and more candles in later years. So with this in mind, I'm including a few suggestions.

Cake 'n' ice cream are tops, and a bit of candy to sweeten the tooth dictate the party. The cake can be simple, decorated with a ten-cent pastry tube. If you don't want to take the time to spell out the letters, you can buy these for a nominal sum, and have a professional looking cake right out of your own kitchen.

Have the children send out their own invitations, even make them up if they like—this will be grand fun for them. Twirling crepe paper for decorations and getting the chairs in place will please them no end, for these, though small, will give them a wonderful sense of "doing something."

For the cake I've chosen an inexpensive but fascinatingly red Devil's Food Cake.

- 1 1/2 cups sugar, 1/2 cup shortening, 1 egg, beaten, 4 tablespoons cocoa, 1 teaspoon red food coloring, 2 tablespoons strong, hot coffee, 2 cups sifted cake flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 cup buttermilk, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Cream shortening and sugar until light. Blend in egg which has been beaten until foamy. Mix cocoa, coloring and hot coffee into a smooth paste, stir into mixture. Sift flour, measure, then sift again with soda and salt. Add to mixture alternately with buttermilk, folding and beating after each addition. Add vanilla. Turn into two greased, waxed paper lined tins and bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for 25 to 30 minutes. Ice with the following:

- 2 1/2 cups sifted powdered sugar, 1/2 cup sweetened, condensed milk, 2 1/2 teaspoons vanilla, Dash of salt.

Stir powdered sugar gradually into the sweetened, condensed milk. Add vanilla and salt. Beat until smooth and creamy. Spread on cold cakes. A clown's face to glamorize the cake, as shown in the picture, can be made with melted chocolate using a water-color paint brush.

Candy, not too rich, but honeyed and fruity, spell glamour for the children's party. Try substituting fruit and honey in candy to make it nutritious, but still good!

- Fruit Candy: 1/4 cup dried prunes, 1/4 cup dried apricots, 1/4 cup dried figs, 1/2 cup dates, 1/4 cup raisins, 1/2 cup honey.

Let dried prunes and apricots stand in boiling water 5 minutes. Run all fruit through a food chopper, fine knife. Add honey. Butter hands and shape candy into balls. Roll in chopped nuts, coconut or coat with confectioners' chocolate.

Honeyed Orange Peel. Remove peel in quarters from 6 oranges. Cover with water and boil

- This Week's Menu: Tomato Juice, Perch Fillets with Lemon Slice, Cabbage Creole, Julienne Green Beans, Frozen Fruit Salad, Nut Bread, Butter, Apricot Upside Down Cake, Coffee, Tea, Milk, Recipe Given.

Lynn Says:

A birthday party's a real party with birthday games to play. Let the children play their favorite ones, and if they run out of ideas, try some of these:

Take the words, Greeting and Birthday, and give each of the guests paper and pencil. Ask players to fill in as many words as possible between each of the two letters. First words begin with B and end with G. Second words begin with R and end with I. Third words begin with R and end with E, and so forth. Allow 10 to 15 minutes for the game, and give prizes to those with longest lists.

Have children sit in a circle to play this game called Birthday Gifts. First player starts with letter A, and makes a sentence giving the name of the place he is going and the gift he is bringing. For example, he might say, "I am going to Appleton to get him an Anchovy, or to Bermuda to get him a Bon Bon," and so forth down the alphabet. No words should be repeated.

Guests can also make a scrapbook together, cutting out magazines and papers to make an autobiography for the guest of honor. Include place of birth, pictures of mother and dad, school, vacation trips, etc.

1/2 hour. Drain. Cover again with water. Boil 1/2 hour longer or until tender. Drain. Cut peel in strips with scissors. Cover with honey (2 to 3 cups). Simmer gently until peel is clear, about 45 minutes. Spread on waxed paper to dry for several days. Roll in granulated sugar if desired.

Dress up the party with these gay, good-to-eat pop corn balls. The children will enjoy making them, too:

- Pop Corn Balls (Makes 24 balls): 3 cups sugar, 1 cup corn syrup, 1 cup water, 5 quarts pop corn, 1 1/2 tablespoons butter.

Cook sugar, syrup, and water until the syrup reaches 242 degrees, or makes a soft ball when tried in cold water. Add butter and stir through the syrup. Pour cooked syrup over salted pop corn which has been placed in a buttered bowl and mix well. Shape balls with hands, using only enough pressure to make them stick together.

The fresh tempting and distinctive flavor of perch makes this a nice fish for dinner. Plus that, it fries in no time at all and spares you of any disagreeable odors in the making:

- Perch Fillets: Dip fish fillets in slightly beaten egg, then into bread crumbs to which have been added salt and pepper. Fry in shallow hot fat until just a golden brown, and serve immediately. The whole process takes less than 15 minutes.

As new, fresh and lovely as spring itself is this cabbage dish done to a turn with its food affinities, onions and tomatoes. Be clever with cabbage this way and your table will be gay and bright in glorious red and green, and your family surely will be pleased:

- Cabbage Creole (Serves 6): 3 pounds shredded cabbage, 3 teaspoons salt, 1 cup thinly sliced onions, 1/2 minced green pepper, 2 cups canned tomatoes, 3 tablespoons salad oil, 2 bay leaves, 1 teaspoon sugar, Dash of cloves.

Cook cabbage in a small amount of boiling, salted water about 7 minutes. Drain well. While cabbage is cooking, saute onions in hot fat until light brown, then add tomatoes, pepper, bay leaf, sugar and cloves. Simmer 18 minutes. Remove bay leaves, toss sauce over cabbage.

JESUS THE MESSIAH FORETELLS HIS DEATH

LESSON TEXT—Mark 8:27-37. GOLDEN TEXT—For whosoever will save his life shall lose it; but whosoever shall lose his life for my sake and the gospel's, the same shall save it.—Mark 8:35.

Jesus came into the world as the Redeemer of men—and that means He came to die. The prophets who wrote centuries before His coming presented Him as both the suffering and the reigning Messiah. However, to the minds of the Jewish people only the idea of His glory and kingship was acceptable, not of His suffering and death.

Apparently His own disciples had this same impression and it therefore became necessary for Jesus as He came to the last months of His earthly ministry to speak plainly to them about these matters.

I. Recognition of Christ by Faith (vv. 27-30).

As a foundation for right thinking on any spiritual question there must be recognition of Christ's deity. He drew forth such a confession from the disciples by asking who men said that He was. Notice that while there was difference of opinion, all had a high opinion of Him, calling Him John the Baptist, Elijah, or one of the prophets. They knew that a great man was in their midst, and had to admit it, even though they hated and opposed Him. But it is not enough to accept Christ as a great man, as a teacher, a prophet, or an example. Nor is it enough to tell what others think of Him. The question quickly becomes: "Whom say ye that I am?" Have you answered that question? What will you do with Jesus Christ?

Peter responded with a straightforward, heaven-born confession of Christ as the Son of the living God (cf. Matt. 16:16-18) upon which Christ established His church.

II. Rejection and Crucifixion Prophesied (vv. 31, 32).

The foundation of faith in Him having been laid, Christ plainly laid before the disciples the fact of His coming rejection and death. Notice the word "must" in verse 31. "There was an imperative necessity for these things. But why must He die? This question is fully answered elsewhere in the Bible (John 3:14; Heb. 9:22; Isa. 53:4-6; II Cor. 5:21; Gal. 3:13; I Pet. 2:24). There could have been no salvation for any sinner if He had not died (Gal. 3:10, 13; II Cor. 5:21; Rom. 3:20-26)" (John W. Bradbury).

Note also that He "must rise again" (v. 31). He died for our sins, but "was raised again for our justification" (Rom. 4:25).

III. Rebuke of Unbelief (vv. 32, 33).

Peter, quick to accept Jesus as the Son of God, permitted Satan to blind his mind to the necessity of the cross, and thus became a stumbling block of unbelief, calling forth a severe rebuke from Jesus.

It is a striking and humbling thought that the very one who a moment before spoke such acceptable words of recognition of Christ's deity could by unbelief so quickly become the tool of Satan. "My soul, be on thy guard" lest such temptation overtake thee!

May we also learn from this incident that we do well to weigh the words of even good men lest in a moment of weakness or unbelief they say that which may lead us astray. God's Word alone is sure!

IV. Requirements of Discipleship (vv. 34-37).

Following the Christ of Calvary calls for a willingness to say "no" to self (literally, to deny any connection with self-life) and to follow through with Him on the path of shame and crucifixion. No self-will and no compromise are permissible to Christ's disciples.

Foolishly to attempt to hold one's life for self is to lose it. That painful loss has left brokenhearted, wrecked lives all along the path of man's history. But why should any one do it? Equally foolish is the one who supposes that this world has anything to satisfy the human soul. Assuming the possibility of the impossible—that is, attaining the whole world as one's own possession—to do so at the cost of one's soul would be an indescribably poor bargain.

What then shall we say of those who barter their eternal souls for a mess of pottage, a moment of sensual satisfaction, or for a few paltry dollars? "What shall a man give in exchange for his soul?" It is the unanswerable question.

Right Endures

When Christ preached the Sermon on the Mount he was mocked and later crucified; but the inspired truths that he uttered continue to live through the ages, defying crucifixion. We may doubt the divinity of the Christ, for the proof lies in the hereafter; but only by multiplying ourselves can we doubt the wisdom of the moral precepts he uttered.

PATTERNS SEWING CIRCLE

FEW costumes are more successful for larger women than the dress and matching jacket. In today's pattern we have designed a version of this popular outfit so simply that you can make it at home without any difficulty.

The dress has a soft, low neckline which can be made extra flattering with the addition of a narrow lace ruffle. The shapely jacket ties in front with soft, adjustable bow.

Pattern No. 8111 is designed for sizes 36 to 52. Size 38 takes 8 yards 35-inch material. 1 1/4 yards ruffling for neckline.

Flattering Frock.

LITTLE chubbies, little "slim-jims" look well in this simple frock which may be adjusted to each figure by the side sashes which tie in back. The bodice, softly gathered has an engaging "sweetheart" neckline, the skirt is full and flaring. If you prefer you may finish this dress with a simple round white collar as shown in the small sketch. Excellent for
