Dates for the 1950 Texas 4 H Club Round Up and the annual Extension Conference have been set for the week of June 12 thru 16th. Farm income and expense records are a mighty important part of farm business operations and a close study of these records may reveal leaks in the farmers profit barrel.

Silage or "canned pastures" ranks next to improved pastures as the best source of low cost feed nutrients.

To improve the dental health of the children of this country, each community, thru coordinated group activity, should assume its responsibility in putting an adequate dental health program into operation to meet adequately the needs of our children.

WARNS OF CAR BOOTLEGGERS

Citizens were warned this week by John Ellis of here not to become victims by purchasing new cars from others than factory authorized new car dealers.

Allegedly new cars are being offered for sale now in many places by unauthorized dealers but those who buy from these sources learn to their sorrow that they have sacrificed not only the manufacturers' warranties but all the maintenance service and protection to which a new car buyer is entitled.

The established, traditional distribution of new cars thru the years has been made by local authorized dealers franchised by the manufacturer. When cars or trucks are not purchased thru these legitimate channels, buyers may well be getting a pig in a pike.

Even though a car may appear new, unless it carries with it a manufacturer's warranty and has been given the recommended pre delivery service, the purchaser may find he has made a sad and costly mistake when he goes back to the seller of the car for service. Authorized dealers give this service to their customers as a part of their fundamental philosophy that the sale of a car is merely the beginning of their efforts to provide service and satisfaction to all with whom they deal.

A big risk taken by purchasers of new cars thru other than factory authorized dealers is the possibility of improper or incomplete make ready service before delivery. Authorized dealers can be depended upon to give all their new cars a double check before delivery to insure that they are safe for operation, that brakes, lights, and all other safety devices built into today's fine cars are perfect and in good working order. It is a serious risk to buy a new car without this assurance of proper service and inspection at the retail level.

Spectator cheering at football games is an 80-year-old American practice. On November 13, 1889, when Rutgers and Princeton universities met for the second intercollegiate grid contest in U. S. history, Princeton supporters invoked lungpower, shouting an old Confederate battle cry to urge their team on to victory. P. S. Princeton won, 8-0.

Sometimes a dull finish is desired on varnished surfaces. This may be obtained by rubbing the glossy coating with fine sandpaper, pumice or steel wool. To avoid the labor of rubbing, manufacturers make varnishes which dry with a reduced gloss by adding such materials as wax, metallic soap and finely divided silica.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Simple Fireside Party Eases Budgets
(See Recipes Below)

Entertain Simply

IF YOU'VE DECIDED to watch the budget but keep your friends, what could be nicer than a fireside chat party on a long winter evening?

Entertainment props need be something strictly simple such as a popcorn roaster and a marshmallow waffle iron. Serve a big pot of coffee and pass a plate of doughnuts, and along with your spirit of friendliness and casual conversation, you have the makings of a successful evening, easy on the food budget.

The hostess who truly wants to enjoy her guests will always plan something simple to prepare, particularly foods which need little last minute attention. Have all dishes and silverware set on a cabinet top, ready to whisk into the living room when refreshments are called in order.

Entertaining is simplified, too, if you have such things as doughnuts, cakes, or cookies made well in advance of the party. This leaves you free for those last minute furniture arrangements and phone calls that always take more time than you've allowed for them. Guests will enjoy nibbling on popcorn as well as toasting marshmallows during the evening.

HERE'S A RECIPE for delicious, home-made doughnuts which can be stored in a stone crock until serving time to keep them moist:

- Doughnuts
(Makes 2 dozen)
- 3½ cups sifted flour
 - 4 teaspoons double acting baking powder
 - 1½ teaspoons salt
 - 1 teaspoon nutmeg
 - 2 tablespoons shortening
 - ¾ cup sugar
 - 4 egg yolks, well beaten
 - ¼ teaspoon vanilla
 - ¼ teaspoon lemon extract
 - 1 cup milk

Sift flour once, measure and add baking powder, salt and nutmeg; sift together three times. Cream shortening, add sugar and cream until light and fluffy. Add egg yolks and flavorings and beat well. Add milk and mix thoroughly. Add sifted dry ingredients, beating until smooth. Chill dough for easier handling. Roll dough ¾-inch thick on floured board. Cut with 3-inch floured doughnut cutter. Fry in hot fat (375°) until brown, turning when tops of doughnuts become rounded. Drain on absorbent paper.

IF YOU'D RATHER serve cookies with coffee as the refreshment, your guests, whether young or old, will enjoy these cookies. One pointer to observe in this recipe is to have the shortening at room temperature before mixing:

- Chocolate Swirl Cookies
(Makes 3½ dozen)
- 6-ounce package chocolate chips
 - 1 cup sifted flour

LYNN SAYS:
These Kitchen Cleaning Tips Will Aid You

Refrigerators should be defrosted weekly even when weather is cool so they do not collect too much ice around the unit. A thick coating of ice around the freezing unit means that the refrigerator must run longer to maintain its cold.

Enameled finishes on ranges should not be washed or wiped or cleaned while the stove is hot as the finish may craze. Let the range cool first.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

- Breaded Pork Steaks
- Parsleyed Carrots
- Baked Potatoes
- Apple-Cabbage Salad
- Hot Rolls
- Butter
- Beverage
- *Toffee Chiffon Pie
- *Recipe Given

- ½ teaspoon soda
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup shortening (at room temperature)
- ½ cup brown sugar
- ¼ cup granulated sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 tablespoons milk
- 2 cups rolled oats (quick or old-fashioned), uncooked

Place chocolate chips in top of double boiler. Place over hot, not boiling, water until melted. Sift together flour, soda and salt into bowl. Add shortening, sugars, egg, vanilla and milk. Beat until smooth, about two minutes. Fold in rolled oats. Add melted chocolate chips, mixing only enough to give marbled effect. Drop from a teaspoon onto greased baking sheet. Bake in a moderate (350°) oven for 12 to 15 minutes.

PIES ARE ANOTHER favorite for an evening snack, along with a beverage. Here are two types which may be prepared ahead of time:

- *Toffee Chiffon Pie
(Makes 1 9-inch pie)
- 1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
 - ¼ cup cold water
 - 2 cups hot milk
 - ½ cup sugar
 - ½ teaspoon salt
 - 2 eggs, separated
 - ½ teaspoon vanilla
 - ¼ cup crushed pecan toffee
 - 1 baked pastry shell
 - Pecan toffee shavings

Soften gelatin in water five minutes. Combine milk, salt and 4 tablespoons of the sugar, stir until dissolved. Add to slightly beaten egg yolks. Cook over boiling water until thickened, stirring constantly. Add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Cool. Add vanilla and toffee when custard begins to thicken. Beat egg whites until stiff, add remaining sugar and fold into custard mixture. Pour into pastry shell and chill until firm. Sprinkle with toffee shavings.

- Cottage Cheese Apple Pie
(Makes 1 deep 9-inch pie)
- ½ recipe plain pastry
 - 1½ cups thinly sliced apples
 - 2 eggs
 - ½ cup cottage cheese
 - ¼ cup sugar
 - ½ cup cream
 - ½ teaspoon salt
 - 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
 - ½ teaspoon cinnamon
 - ¼ teaspoon nutmeg

Line pie pan with pastry and cover with apples. Beat eggs slightly, add cottage cheese, ½ cup sugar, cream, salt and lemon rind. Mix remaining sugar and cinnamon and nutmeg and sprinkle over apples, then cover with cottage cheese mixture. Bake in a hot (425°) oven for 10 minutes, reduce temperature to moderate (350°) and bake 30 minutes longer.

Broiler pans should be scoured after each use so the grease particles do not harden on them.

To make broiler pans easy to clean, line them with aluminum tin foil underneath the broiling rack. This prevents grease and food particles from caking onto the pan. Simply fold the foil with its drippings and toss away and the pan is easy to clean.

If broiler pans are removed while the oven is on, when they themselves are not in use, the pans will last longer.

Without Painful Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filter flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

"LIVE WIRES" by VERNON COOK

You can't match the "get up and go" of its economical cyclonic-fuel-intake engine... the finger operation of its hydraulic Power-Trol... the comfort and easy steering of its exclusive Roll-Over-Matic "Knee-Action" Front Wheels... the ease of putting on and taking off its Quick-Tatch Cultivator. Any way you look at it, the John Deere is a standout in modern design. What's more, it's a proved performer. Exclusive two-cylinder design is unequalled in simplicity and strength of parts — provides greater dependability, longer life, and rock-bottom economy on fuel and maintenance over the years. No wonder owners everywhere are convinced—"you can't beat a John Deere" Get the complete facts from us soon.

OYSTERS FINE AS A FOOD

Some people think oysters are good only during the months which have R in their spelling. But oysters are not safe any month, with or without the R, if the seafood has not been cultivated, shucked, packed and shipped under sanitary conditions.

The State Department of Health says oysters have much to commend them as a source of food. They have protein of good quality, iron, and copper (important as a protection against anemia) iodine, which is essential to proper working of the thyroid gland, and a fair amount of vitamins. But the Department warns against un-certified oysters.

According to Dr. Cox, each oyster grower in Texas is given a certificate of approval for the oyster beds he uses, provided health department officials find the beds are free from pollution and the shucking houses are clean and well kept. Otherwise, no certificate is issued.

The Federal government cooperates with the State by keeping a list of certified shippers in Texas. If a shipper isn't certified by the State Health Department, his oysters can't be shipped in interstate commerce. And since Texas has some fine oyster beds, the interstate ruling is an incentive for oyster shippers to adhere to sanitary practices.

Otherwise they miss the out of state market. That is the situation on oyster sanitation from a man who knows. So don't look at the calendar when you order oysters. Ask the seller if his product is certified by

AGING VARIES WITH INDIVIDUALS

We do not all grow, develop, mature, nor do our organs degenerate at the same rate, says Dr. Cox of the State Health Department.

Today a man of 60 may be as young, vigorous and vital as the average man of 40. On the other hand, he may look and act like a man of 80, old, weak and miserable. A man of 60 may have a 40 year old heart, 50 year old kidneys and an 80 year old liver.

The physical changes which come with age alone are not entirely decline, either. Speed of reaction does diminish, but endurance increases in certain capacities. As speed declines, skill is increased with practice and as strength declines, judgment increases. Automobile driving ability, for example, improves from 24 to 43 in the average individual and to 65 in superior individuals of the 20's.

Normal human beings can grow mentally at any age. The worst of all old age diseases is neglect. Many factors that help make a healthy, happy old age are: eating right, regular physical examinations and keeping physically and mentally active without overtaking ourselves. There is a rapidly growing branch of medicine known as geriatrics that specializes in diseases and conditions of the aging. Don't wait until you deteriorate; if in doubt, consult your doctor now.

Care and management of your pecan trees is not complete without insect control. Even with the right variety growing in good soil, a pecan crop or the tree itself can be lost from attacks of uncontrolled insects.

Uncle Sam Says

Planted wisely, the money you have this year of 1950 can be the seed that grows into dreams come true, a harvest of farm or ranch expansion, education for the children or that long vacation trip you've wanted. Invest every possible penny in U. S. Savings Bonds, then every $3 you plant today will yield $4 in 1960. Bonds are just as important a part of a well-managed farm as is land, livestock or machinery. With U. S. Savings Bonds, your financial reserves are in the safest possible form and readily available. Your bank offers a simple Bond-A-Month Plan for your convenience.

Put your portable sewing machine on rubber or a typewriter pad to protect the table top finish, reduce vibration and to keep the machine from slipping. Paper towels can be used for skimming small amounts of fat off the top of soup.

Cultivator Needed In Control of Weeds

Chemical sprays are not yet ready to replace the cultivator in controlling weeds, according to Dr. J. C. Willard, agronomist in the college of agriculture at Ohio University.

"No chemicals so far available for use in crops will kill all weeds," Dr. Willard said. "If we use chemicals without cultivation to remove the weeds left after spraying, it will be only a short time before we have fields which are as weedy as before, but the weeds will be different and of kinds harder to kill."

Introduction of new chemicals every year makes spraying more of a specialist's job, he pointed out, cautioning farmers to beware of the fly-by-night operator.

Sleeping Sickness Menace To Livestock Is Recounted

Each summer and fall livestock owners are warned of the toll which may be taken of animals by sleeping sickness. Losses from this disease showed a startling increase in 1947 and 1948, and figures for the past year are expected to show but little decline when finally compiled.

The virus of the disease may have "wintered over" with more virulence and in more places.

If farm profits are to be maintained during the years immediately ahead better and more efficient management practices must be made a part of each farm or ranch operator's plans.

Handsome Is, Handsome Does: Case of Mind Over Mattress

By BILLY ROSE

At a spaghetti salon, I got talking with a reformed bootlegger who is currently the Mister Big of a big whiskey company. "What do you hear from the mob?" I asked. "Anything that would fill up three sheets of copy paper?"

The former Man of Excitement thought a minute. "There's one story I don't remember seeing in print," he said. "It's about an old man named Ronowitz who ran a candy store on the East Side around the time Dutch Schultz was buying his first delivery trucks..."

One night as the storekeeper was about to lock up, a hoodlum stepped into the shop and pressed a gun against the old man's middle. "Hide me somewhere," he said.

The old man knew better than to argue with a revolver. "Who's chasing you?" he asked, as he opened the trap door which led to the cellar.

"Some fellas from Jersey." When they got to the basement, Ronowitz pointed to a couple of old mattresses near the coal bin. "Lay down," he said, "and I'll make a sandwich."

A minute later the storekeeper had rolled man and mattresses into a bundle and tied it up with a piece of old clothesline.

AS HE STARTED back up to the store, a couple of men, guns in hand, came down the stairs. "Whatcha doin' in the cellar?" asked one. "Bankin' the furnace," said the old man.

The gents from Jersey poked around in the trash barrels, examined the coal bin and then came to the rolled-up mattresses.

"I'll throw a bullet into them for luck," said one of them. "You been seein' too many movies," said the other. "Let's try the roof."

The mobsters went upstairs and Ronowitz heard the door bang. He sneaked into the library. It was inkly dark. I hastily dialed you, then went groping for the rifle Rowland keeps behind the safe. It was right then something hit me on the head.

"Humm," Felix stood in the center of the floor and looked around the room. The dial telephone was on the desk, with the receiver dangling on its cord.

"Chris, mind callin' Elvira an' tellin' her I'll be home shortly an' to keep my supper hot? I left it in a hurry. Meantime I'll take a look around here."

Chris shot a quick, sharp look at the officer, but Felix had already begun to browse around. So the caretaker crossed to the desk, picked up the receiver and began to dial. He had whirled out two numbers, when suddenly the lights went out.

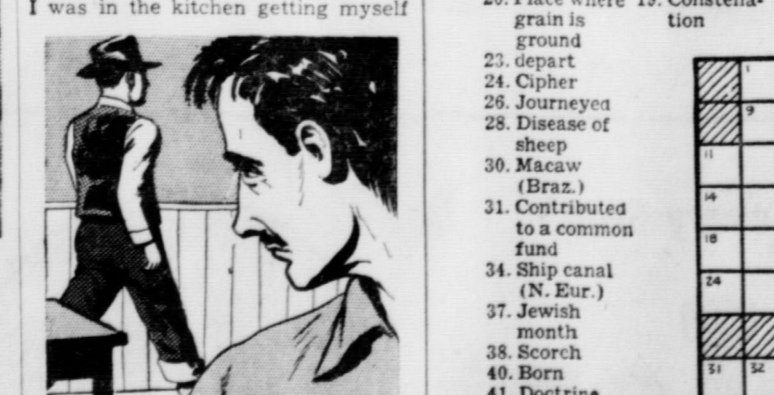

"Hey!" Chris yelled, startled. "Keep right on dialing, Chris," Felix said from the doorway. "Fuse musta blown. I can't dial in the dark." "Don't be dumb. I can't dial in the dark," Felix insisted.

"Get away with anything?" Felix asked. "Don't know yet. I was looking when you drove up. Come on in and we'll see."

The caretaker went directly to the safe behind the fireplace. "Hell!" he ejaculated. "Well, I can kiss this job goodbye. Rowland will never keep me on when he finds out those bonds are gone."

"Bonds?" "He was up here over the weekend. He had a lot of negotiable bonds and left them in the safe. Figured this would be the last place anyone would look. Well, he figured wrong."

"Did you get a look at the thief?" "Not much of one. It was dark. I was in the kitchen getting myself some supper, when I heard a noise in front. I switched on the light and listened. It sounded like someone was trying to pick the front door lock. Thinking of the bonds, banked the fire, and waited in his store until he saw the men climb into a car and drive off. Then he went back down and untied the mattresses.

"You done fine, Pop," said the fugitive, taking a wad of bills out of his pocket. "Tell me when to stop countin'."

"Such money I don't take," said the old man.

DEATH

by GRACE NOLL CROWELL
O FOLD my hands a little while in sleep
A brief night through, and wait with quiet breath

The coming of the morning, and to keep Quite calm and still, is that what we call death? Is it a thing to fear, O Lord of life, O Lord of death, O Lord of the unknown: To heed no more the clamor and the strife, To rest a bit, uncomraded, alone, Save with Thee, Lord, who hast the power to keep Thine own?

And with Thee, Lord, why should I fear to wait A little while until my eyes shall see, Or whether I shall wake me soon or late, So long as Thy cupped hand is holding me? Grant, Father, when the night comes, I shall rise With willing feet, and fold my work away; Then, lying down to sleep, close fearless eyes, Regretful not of further work or play, But in the sleep Thou givest Thy beloved Await the day.

black car drove up and Ronowitz was pushed into the back seat. The car headed north and kept going until it parked near a wooden bridge somewhere in Westchester.

The driver took some chains from the luggage compartment, put a heavy peice of scrap iron on the old man's middle, and then lashed his legs to his chest so the metal was wedged in between.

"Throw him over when I count three," said the hoodlum. "One—man open a window when she was supposed to do it. But the thousands of requests to see the show in the studio prove that people are eager to see "Molly", "Jake", "Rosalia" and "Sammy" in person and don't give a hoot who opens windows.

THE PRESENCE of studio audiences at the CBS Saturday night broadcasts of "The Goldbergs", for the first time in 20 years, rather startles author-star Gertrude Berg.

They have become so real during all these years that nothing can possibly destroy the illusion.

Pretty little Vanessa Brown, who was so thrilled over getting the role of the Irish maid in "The Heiress", has been signed for a top role in "Three Husbands", for United Artists. Also signed for a leading role is Emlyn Williams, well known playwright, stage and screen star. "Three Husbands" is by Vera Caspary, credited with "A Letter to Three Wives".

Pierre, a 5-year-old chimpanzee, will make his motion picture debut in Hall Wallis' "My Friend Irma Goes West", now shooting at Paramount. A native of the Jungle Village, he will play most of his scenes opposite Jerry Lewis.

Cornel Wilde and Maureen O'Hara rehearsed eight hours on two consecutive days for their fencing sequence in the opening scenes of RKO's "Sons of the Musketeers". Their rehearsals involved a fight routine to be shot in one take, requiring three and one-half minutes to film. Wilde is a skilled fencer; Maureen had had intensive coaching for weeks.

The announcement of Bob Hawks' engagement came as a surprise to a lot of people. He will marry Mary Rechner, executive assistant to Dore Schary, head man at M-G-M, as soon as a replacement for her can be found.

"The Tattooed Stranger" RKO's mystery drama, follows the trend of using New York for backgrounds, which was so successful with "The Window". Script calls for scenes everywhere, from the Bowery to the Bellevue morgue.

The Fiction MEAT LOAF

Corner By Richard H. Wilkinson

"Are you crazy? I can't see a thing."

"Good!" said Felix. He snapped on the lights. In his hand he held the old time long barreled six-shooter that had served him during his many years as law officer. "All right Chris, nemmine dialing any more."

"Say, what is this?" The caretaker replaced the receiver on its hook slowly.

"We'll talk about it later, Chris, an' look around for the bonds. In the meantime, you come with me. You can spend the night in the lock-up an', by jinks, without no supper too. That's what you git for makin' me let mine go cold."

Chris blinked. "What the devil are you talking about?" "Come, come, Chris. Play actin' ain't gonna do you any good. I got a hunch it was you stole them bonds, and busted the lock on the front door, too. At any rate, you didn't hastily dial my number in the dark, like you said. You just settled your own hash by proving it can't be done. An' speakin' of hash, come along."

"Try it," Felix insisted.

fact that the social security advanced from 1 per cent to and half per cent each from employer and employee, effect Jan. 1, 1950, has caused some employers to inquire if the law has been changed to tax more than the first $3,000 in wages paid to an employee in a year, according to John G. Utton, manager of the Lubbock office of the Social Security Administration. The law that only the first $3,000 in wages paid by an employer to each employee is still in effect and only an Act of Congress will

Hutton pointed out that all inquiries regarding social security tax matters should be referred to the Collector of Internal Revenue, and that all questions about old age and survivors insurance benefits should be directed to the social security office located at 1311 Texas Ave., Lubbock.

Superphosphate Will Help Add to Manure Properties

Adding superphosphate to manure not only increases its plant food balance, but helps it hold valuable nitrogen that otherwise might be lost, according to Prof. C. J. Chapman, University of Wisconsin agronomist. He says it should be added before the manure is spread on the field. The superphosphate can be put in the spreader at the rate of 20 to 25 pounds per load.

Cotton farmers can cut production costs by planting delinted and treated seeds.

Check Cows' Feet

Although one would hardly gather the impression from the Holstein cow (above), cows are like people in more ways than one—one sure one being that when their feet hurt, their production lags. Farmers can help prevent loss of production from this source by periodic attention to the feet of their cattle to check for foot infection or other ills.

New Dairy Element Seen As Aid in More Output

The animal protein factor—miraculous dairy element which speeds up the growth of farm animals and poultry at less cost to the farmer—is now in tonnage production and should be readily available to consumers within a short time.

Officials of the chemical company producing the element which is accomplished by bacterial fermentation, promise feed efficiency that will represent a significant new advance in animal nutrition.

The fermentation APF, as the feed component is known, has a Vitamin B12 content approximately 40 times that of good fish meal, the outstanding natural source of APF which has been widely used heretofore in feed mixtures. This vitamin compound is one of the most effective known for supplementing chicken and hog feeds.

The 1949 Texas cotton crop was the largest ever produced in the state: 5,900,000 bales. The per acre yield was the best since 1894: 264 pounds per acre.

British Laborites Face Major Test; Lewis, Miners Clash With Old Foe; U.S. to Continue Egg-Price Support

BRITAIN:

Warning Sounded

The pledge of Anthony Eden, British deputy Conservative leader, who, with Winston Churchill and other party big-wigs in today's election, is hoping to overthrow the Labor party, that the Conservatives will work with all nations for peace, might have meant more than it indicated.

EDEN, being the astute world diplomat that he is, must know that there are elements in many places, particularly the United States, who feel that there must be no further support of power for the Labor party in England.

With the Laborites' position often regarded as the fostering of socialism, the more conservative people everywhere fear it. It has been an amazing thing to most students of world history how the British, traditionally jealous of their liberties, ever permitted the imposition of this kind of government upon them. A reduction of the answer to fundamentals might explain that it came about only through the economic distress of the once proud and mighty empire.

IT IS APPARENTLY assured that whatever the outcome, the Labor party faces its severest test in today's election.

Eden warned, in the first broadcast of a Conservative speech in the just-ended campaign, that the "United Nations is at its lowest ebb, the democracies are forced to pay dearly for armaments, and the nightmare of communism stalks through Asia." He made a telling point in recalling that the Labor party in 1945 declared that if it were returned to power, it could get along with the Russians because of its Socialist ideology—and how the world situation had gone from bad to worse since then.

OPPOSITION SPEAKER Laborite Fuel Minister Hugh Gaitskill, had told an audience at Leeds that the cost of socialism was high in Britain, and would remain high, but declared the cost worthwhile because under the Labor government acute poverty has really been abolished.

That was a debatable point about which the argument continued while Britain voted.

EGG PRICES:

No Humpty Dumpty

The American egg situation had no chance to rival the nursery Humpty Dumpty story, inasmuch as federal price supports were fixed so that no such fall as occurred to the nursery-rhyme egg could happen to this modern counterpart.

THE GOVERNMENT, which already owns some 100 million dollars worth of eggs intended to keep on buying them through March of this year. The idea was to support the price at an average of 25 cents a dozen on the farm.

The government's policy was quaintly stated by one federal official who summed it up with: "The hens are laying their fool heads off."

The farm price of 25 cents a dozen was about 75 per cent of parity, a level calculated to be equally fair to producers and consumers. Producers of dried eggs, the statement said, would continue to get about 95 cents a pound.

Most of the eggs the government buys are dried. In the past two years it has accumulated about 73 million pounds of these eggs, most at a price of $1.26 a pound. Some are stored in a cool cave near Atkinson, Kansas. The rest are in warehouses in other sections of the country.

THE QUESTION of what to do with them has become the major problem. The law permits the department of agriculture to give them away if they are kept out of commercial, competitive channels. This restricts them to welfare purposes and similar uses.

TAXATION:

Get 'Em All

The treasury of the United States wants to put the tax bite on a lot of organizations which are not now paying any income tax on the operation of unrelated businesses.

The treasury made a request to congress that this be done, asserting that some labor unions, business leagues, social clubs and charitable and educational organizations were getting away with non-payment of tax that the treasury insists should be paid.

Vance N. Kirby, the treasury's tax-legislative counsel, made it clear, however, that the administration tax program did not contemplate such tax treatment of religious bodies, except as they might be affected in the operation of educational institutions.

He also emphasized that the tax recommendation was concerned only with "business income which is not incident or related to the exempt purpose."

Attack of Amnesia Transforms Milquetoast Into Roost Ruler

By BILLY ROSE

The other day I picked up the telephone to call Eleanor, and it was almost half a minute before I could remember my number at home. At the time, this memory lapse didn't seem worth brooding about, but last night I happened to meet up with a well-known psychiatrist at the Stork Club, and over a jigger of ginger-beer I told him what had happened.

"It was probably a mild attack of amnesia," he said. "As a rule, the victims are folks who, consciously or unconsciously, want to escape from their routine chores, and every now and then their minds blank out as a protest against doing the same old things the same old way."

"What kind of pills should I take?"

"Fun pills," said the mind-medico. "Buy yourself a sailboat, take up skeet-shooting, or get a set of water colors and learn how to paint."

"And supposing I don't?"

"Chances are nothing will happen except that you'll forget a few more phone numbers. On the other hand, there's always the possibility that the spells may get longer and more frequent. That's what happened not long ago to a good friend of yours."

JERRY—and I'm sure you know the Jerry I mean—used to be one of Broadway's leading juveniles and stay-up-lates. Five years ago, as you know, he put away his hair-oil and got a job producing radio shows. And not long after, he married the daughter of a network executive, bought a home in Scarsdale and decided to settle down.

"Well, as often happens when a girl has too much downy, his wife did most of the settling for him. She made him exchange his friends for hers, his law for hers and his life for hers. And within a year, the man who used to be a gay old dog became all dog—Westchester version of Caspar Milquetoast.

"After two years of being yammered at by his missus, Jerry came in to see me one day and said that he was having trouble with his memory—that it was backing out on him now and then. I asked him some questions about his home life, and when he told me what it was like I advised him to stand up to his wife, and if necessary, slap her down occasionally. He told me, quite seriously, she wouldn't stand for such a thing.

"One morning several months later, he came to my office, and told me quite a tale. It seems that on his way home the night before he had had an attack of amnesia, and when he came to 15 hours later he was in a New York hotel room, with no idea of what had happened in between.

"I phoned his wife, and from her story, managed to put the pieces together. Jerry's memory had snapped as he got to the door of his house in Scarsdale—perhaps in protest against the stuffy people his wife had invited to dinner and all he knew was that he was standing on a strange stoop.

"AFRAID TO RING the bell, he sneaked into the back yard, found

Thundering Again

Like a stuck Victrola record or an old movie constantly re-showing, John L. Lewis, mine union czar, was in the news again, this time with another coal strike on the boards. Lewis gestures as he appears before the conference table during contract renewal talks which broke down.

PIT MEN:

An Old Foe

An old and hated enemy was again at grips with John L. Lewis and his United Mine workers. After a delay which brought him sharp criticism, President Harry Truman had turned to the device he declares he hates in order to bring order out of the coal strike chaos.

THERE WERE MANY who had begun to wonder if Mr. Truman—known for the stubbornness he employs when balked—ever would resort to the T-H law to resolve the mine deadlock. Now that he has, it would cause much delight in the ranks of the political opposition.

The T-H law, however regarded, has been used several times in national emergencies with an effect that gives it a real cause for fear, whether anyone likes it or not.

The miners, however, showed defiance. They still chanted the old traditional refrain: "No contract—no work." And it looked like a contract agreement was far off as the President named a three-member board of inquiry who would attempt to restore peace in the troubled situation.

TO THE BOARD, President Truman named David L. Cole, Patterson, N. J., attorney who headed a similar board in 1948 that settled a bitter contract row between Lewis and the operators; John Dunlop, Harvard university business school, and a veteran in labor management relations; and W. Willard Wirtz, Northwestern university law professor and former chairman of the wage stabilization board.

Theirs would be the difficult job, because John L. Lewis was a difficult man to deal with. He might be even more difficult since his three-day work week had reduced the nation's coal stockpile to a two-week supply at the time of the strike.

RED H-BOMB:

Terrific Echo

There was a sudden and dramatic interruption in all the talk about the hydrogen—or H-bomb. Just as everyone was pondering the fate of a world on which the monstrous weapon might be loosed, along came a report that the Russians already had it.

The reporter was an Englishman, a Mr. de Courcy, who claimed that he had secret sources inside the iron curtain which told him whatever was going on.

THE CLAIM was a bit rugged for the average American to accept, inasmuch as there was still no actual proof the Reds ever had the atomic bomb. Still, it was a nice, frightening topic of talk, and discussion was rather widespread.

Naturally, the first impulse was a great rushing to revamp all Atlantic defense plans and, perhaps more naturally, to talk of greater U. S. outlay of arms for herself and the pact nations.

Amid all the excitement ran an unrecurrent of spy thrills and national menace with the disclosure that a German physicist, who had worked with the British in developing the A-bomb, had given secret information concerning that weapon to the Russians.

Good Omen?

As jitters mounted over reported leaks and treasonable acts concerning the secrets of the hydrogen bomb, apprehensive officials and citizens were further disturbed by reports that a former clerk in the French consulate at Stettin, Poland, had confessed he had led an espionage network that obtained information on British military movements. He was identified as Andre Simon Robineau.

To One In Sorrow

LET me come in where you are weeping, friend, And let me take your hand.

I, who have known a sorrow such as yours, Can understand.

Let me come in—I would be very still Beside you in your grief;

I would not bid you cease your weeping, friend, Tears bring relief.

Let me come in—I would only breathe a prayer, And hold your hand,

For I have known a sorrow such as yours, And understand.

GRACE NOLL CROWELL

an open window, hoisted himself through, then recognizing nothing, stopped to puzzle out the situation. Who was he? What sort of man would climb through the window of a strange house? Only a burglar, of course. Ergo, he must be a burglar. And so he tiptoed upstairs, entered his wife's bedroom and began stuffing her jewelry into his pockets.

"At this point, his missus walked in, told him to stop playing cops and robbers, and began badgering him at the top of her over-sized lungs. But Jerry, the burglar, instead of melting into the carpet, belted her one right in the teeth.

"That's all there was to it. Somehow, he got back to New York, checked in at a hotel, and when he woke up his amnesia was gone."

"Did you tell his wife that her husband wasn't himself when he clipped her on the chin?" I asked. The psychiatrist smiled. "Of course not, and what's more, I advised my patient to keep mum. Jerry went home to a big reconciliation scene—the old 'worm-turns' story—and ever since, the more spine he has shown the more supine his wife has become.

"I went out to his house for a poker session recently, and the only time she came in the room was when she brought in the drinks. To date, there have been no recurrences of amnesia, and it's my belief that if Jerry doesn't take any more nonsense from his wife, there won't be."

"Are you suggesting I go home and bang a shiner on Eleanor's eye?" I asked.

"In your case," said the psychiatrist, "I doubt if it's necessary. However, if you have any more trouble remembering telephone numbers, I'd suggest you invest a few dollars in a water-color set."

STAGE SCREEN RADIO BY INEZ GERHARD

THE SUCCESS of "Halls of Ivy", (NBC Friday evenings) proves that radio sponsors who for years have been heckling Ronald Colman and his wife to do a radio program were right. For 10 years, during which he had made but one firm a year, Mr. Colman had held off, and Benita backed him up.

RONALD COLMAN

Then Jack Benny talked them into doing a guest spot on his program, and other such appearances followed. Finally along came Don Quinn, who years ago had brought Fibber McGee and Molly to the air. He had written the perfect show for the Colmans—for Colman as a college professor, Benita as an ex-actress, his wife, Result, "The Halls of Ivy" a hit from the start.

Corner

JUD'S ONLY going to be here a couple of weeks," Connie said. "And after all, he's my brother Tom's guest and it's up to me to help entertain him. You understand, don't you, Marc?"

"Sure," said Marc, not looking at her. "Sure, I understand. You go ahead and be nice to him, Connie. I understand all right."

Which was true, bitterly true. Marc had begun to understand two days after Jud

Morrison had landed at the Norberts' for a fortnight's visit. Jud was big and handsome and had a way with him. In college he had been quite a rage. Tom Norbert, his roommate, had raved about him before he arrived, but even Connie hadn't expected such a splendid specimen of manhood as Jud proved to be.

A roadster stopped before the house and Jud came bounding up the walk. "Hi, Connie," he grinned. "All set for our round of golf?" Then he saw Marc standing on the porch beside Connie. "Hello there, Marc. How about joining us?"

Marc smiled and shook his head. "Thanks," he said. "I've got a tennis date. See you two tonight."

If, he reflected, he could only get Jud out of his element perhaps the college hero wouldn't show up so well.

Several nights later at the country club dance Marc got Connie alone and suggested a fishing trip for the next day. "We can take Jud along," he explained. "It'll be something new in his experience and probably he'll get a bang out of it."

Connie, who liked fishing herself, thought it was a grand idea. And so the three of them drove up to Beaver Lake the next day.

"And, besides, I'm satisfied with the man I have—a man who's big enough to be kind to a man like Jud Morrison."

In the afternoon they put on their waders and fished.

Connie elected to show Jud how to rig his line and cast, and watch them Marc knew a feeling of frustration. He had planned to somehow get Jud to follow him into the rapids where the going was treacherous and where only one experienced in such things could navigate without losing his foothold. He had a vague idea of rescuing Jud from the swirling torrents, thereby establishing Jud's weakness in Connie's mind and his own prowess.

SUDDENLY HE KNEW that he was helpless. There was nothing he could do about the thing that was happening between Jud and Connie. The feeling that he had toward Jud was not one of condemnation, but envy. If Jud were trying to steal Connie away, he was doing so unwittingly. Any one but a fool could tell he wasn't aware of any understanding existing between the girl and Marc.

And so Marc abandoned his scheme for revenge.

They returned home the next day, and the day after that Marc made a business trip to Belknap. When he got back, Judson Morrison was gone. Marc didn't call Connie. Tomorrow or the day after he was leaving on a month's journey upstate. He didn't want to see Connie before he left. It would hurt too much.

But he did see her. Connie came over that night and found him sitting alone on the porch.

"Hello," she said, "where in the world have you been?"

"Away on business. Unexpected."

"Well, I should think so." She came close to him and sat down. "Jud left this morning. He asked me to say goodbye to you."

"Jud's a good egg," Marc said. "Too good," said Connie. "Goodness, I'd hate to be married to a man like that."

"You would?" said Marc, astonished. "Why?"

"Why?" Why, because—I would be his too self-sufficient." She laughed. "And besides, I'm satisfied with the man I have—a man who's big enough to be kind to a man like Jud Morrison."

Abruptly he laughed, and when, puzzled, she asked him what was funny, he shook his head. "There's nothing really funny," he said. "I was just thinking about a close call I once had—how near I came to making a fool of myself—and what a relief it is to know I escaped."

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Einstein Calls Arms Race Suicide; Truman Asks GI School Abuse End; Bigger Cities Launch War on Crime

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

TRUMAN BUYS FIRST POPPY . . . Mrs. Marie L. Sheehey, Rockville, Ill., national president of the American Legion Auxiliary, pins the first 1950 poppy on President Truman's lapel at a White House ceremony. The Legion poppy sale, proceeds of which go to disabled veterans, begins May 27.

ARMS RACE: Suicide Road

A solemn warning that an arms race between the United States and Russia beckons annihilation was issued by Dr. Albert Einstein. Appearing on a television show, Einstein, hailed as the world's greatest mathematician and one of the great physicists of the world, declared the arms contest now underway is assuming "hysterical" proportions on both sides. ONE of the chief contributors to the final development of the atomic bomb, Einstein declared that "the means to mass destruction are perfected with feverish haste behind the respective walls of secrecy. The H-bomb appears on the public horizon as a probably attainable goal and its accelerated development has been solemnly proclaimed by the President."

Then he uttered the punch line: "Armed security is an illusion if successful, radioactive poisoning of the atmosphere and hence annihilation of any life on earth has been brought within the range of technical possibilities."

To implement that conclusion, he said: "The ghostlike character of this development lies in its apparently compulsory trend. Every step appears as the unavoidable consequence of the preceding one. In the end, there beckons more and more and more general annihilation."

FEW MEN could speak with more compelling authority on that subject than the white-haired, brilliant-eyed, venerable scientist who has contributed so much to the sum of man's knowledge.

But each time civilization has been wont to attempt annihilation through war, there has been little disposition to listen to those voices who would cry out a warning.

GI SCHOOLS: Abuse End Asked

The fantastic, preposterous elements in the GI school program had just about run their course. Ballroom dancing, bartending, even a lot of individual flight training by ex-GIs who would never own an airplane or have occasion to need one, were on the way out, apparently, as part of the accepted GI school training program.

NO LESS A FIGURE than President Truman himself handed congress a catalog of abuses under the year's 2.75-billion-dollar GI education program and urged the legislators to clamp down.

Mr. Truman asked specifically for legislation to prevent "inferior" training of that type which is likely to do the veteran little appreciable good.

His report showed that 761 million dollars already has been added to the estimated cost of the GI schooling program for the current fiscal year ending June 30, and attributed this to increased enrollment for trade, vocational and other schools below college level.

THE PRESIDENT declined to say just how much might be saved by a careful scrutiny of the program, but hinted at a billion dollars.

Among others, the report made these points:

1. Enough poor-quality training is in evidence "to warrant serious concern."
 2. The states—which under the law have the say-so about approving schools and courses—lack uniform standards.
 3. Some states approve schools of a type which would not be approved in other states.
- As an example, it is said that some states qualify barbers in 11 weeks, others require two years.

BUILDERS' DREAM

Mud Can Be Made Stronger Than Concrete

Certain chemicals plus a sloppy mud patch which, in 24 hours, produces a firm soil pack that may be a road stronger than concrete should prove to be a contractor's dream.

The new technique was reported by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. It was reported the process is especially needed to "give a tough surface for landing

Crime A CHECK-UP

With 14 metropolitan newspapers taking a careful scrutiny of its operations, and the federal government opening a conference on what to do about it, U.S. crime appeared to have fallen on evil days. Not for decades had the boys who deal in shady enterprises had so much publicity focused upon them. Names were being called, police officials were getting the lifted-eyebrow treatment, wire services were ripping telephones out of bookie joints and, all in all, it appeared to be a real blow into which the craft of crime was wallowing.

THE PRESS would be the real instrument of exposure, granted that officialdom in cities included really wanted to clean up the undesirable conditions. For example, New York city's fabulous Frank Costello, often called the king of the rackets, was the first target of the newspaper series. Costello was referred to as a "fellow so unbelievable he might have been dreamed up by a Hollywood script writer." The story attempted to link him with top-flight gambling activities over most of the U.S.

One significant line in the first of the newspapers' series was this: "Gambling can't operate for any period unless the police let it operate. Nor can the other rackets."

THAT was so obviously axiomatic that there could be no argument with it, and honest cops over the nation had to take the rap with the hand-held-out boys when blame was being shuffled around for lax law enforcement.

The slot machine—termed variously the "one-armed bandit" and other unprintable names—was the target for a special government inquiry. It was indicated that their menace is so fully realized that the federal government may step in to help the state control them.

There is an ironical contradiction here, however, because the federal government licenses slot machines and accepts revenue from that source. If the federal government should outlaw them, it would go a long way toward insuring efficient state control.

INDONESIA:

Uncle Comes Through

The United States, continuing its efforts to stop communism by strengthening local nationalist regimes over the globe, approved a loan of 100 million dollars to the new republic of Indonesia.

THE MONEY, according to reports, was to be used by Indonesia to finance purchase in this country of industrial material and equipment for reconstruction of the Indonesian economy.

It was reported that funds from the import-export bank, which made the loan, might be flowing to Indonesia in a matter of weeks for purchase of railroad cars, trucks and similar equipment, but that a longer time would be required for such items as heavy machinery.

THE INDONESIANS, numbering 75 million people, are faced with a major task of restoring production to an economy not yet recovered from the effects of wartime Japanese occupation.

The funds from the United States would go principally to repair of war-damaged port, railway, highway and processing facilities and replacement of damaged transportation facilities.

The loan was the largest since the import-export bank agreed to lend Israel 100 million dollars several months ago.

operations, newly built airfields and roads for military purposes." The technique was called an "entirely new approach."

The process, it was said, can be used on soils containing up to 30 per cent water by weight, or enough water to turn clay as soft as bread dough. Five hours after treatment, the soil is elastic and has vast tensile strengths.

Base of Operations

Lesson for March 5, 1950

THERE IS NO RULE in the Bible forbidding Christians to have common sense. You are not supposed to lay aside your mind when you become a Christian.

This has had many illustrations: let us take Ephesus for one. Put yourself, in imagination, back to the first Christian century. Ask yourself: Where can we start a church where it will do the most good? Where can we put a church that will spread out, one that is sure to have daughter-churches? Where can we reach people of influence? Where can we locate a church where it is certain to be heard of?

As your eye ranged over a map of the Empire, you would have lighted on Ephesus as the very place. It was a true capital, not a merely political one.

Strategy IT was a master-stroke, selecting Ephesus as a base of operations. It made possible the rapid spread of the Christian faith into the province of Asia. The decision to plant a church there had been matched by other strategic decisions in Christian history since then. One of these was founding the church in Rome. That was an even greater city and capital than Ephesus, and it has lasted much longer.

If the Christian church had been content to be provincial, all right for the smaller towns but afraid to tackle the big ones, if the early church had feared to seat itself in Rome, the whole history of Europe would have been different.

When the Roman Empire crumbled, as in time it did, the church rose on its ruins and took its place as the great civilization of Europe, the strong force that kept a continent from decay for nearly a thousand years.

Our Ancestors FROM THE DAYS of the early Roman church there comes a well-known story which may be true. In the slave market at Rome the Pope saw some handsome small boys, whiter than the average Roman, for sale. Who are you? he asked. "Angli," they said—Angles, from far-off marshes along the North Sea. No, smiled the Pope, you are too good looking for that; "Non Angli sed Angeli," not Angles but Angels.

Anyway, the church did send some missionaries to far-away Anglia and elsewhere in Northern Europe. It turned out to be another strategic base of operations. Eventually France and Germany and England and the other countries in that part of the world were converted to Christianity. The time came when those very nations took the lead in moving into the rest of the world, into the western hemisphere, "down under" to Australia, even into Africa. Where they went, they carried their religion with them.

Suppose the church had not thought our ancestors worth converting? Suppose all the colonizing movements of the 16th and following centuries had been waves of sheer pagans?

It is not mere racial pride to say that the sending of missionaries to those savage peoples of northern Europe was one of the most strategic moves ever made by the Christian church.

And Today? THE CHURCH has not always been smart. Sometimes we have missed the boat. There have been strategic centers we might have occupied—and did not.

There was a time, for instance, when Russia, that mighty nation, was open to Christian teaching. Many who knew that country were saying about 1918 that it was possible to capture that land for Christ. But the Christian church was little interested . . . and now whatever Christianity is there has to stay underground.

Farther east, our own General MacArthur has been calling for missionaries to Japan, thousands of them. Japan is wide open to Gospel today as never before. But where are the missionaries? Going over in dribbles.

Whenever Christianity has been a strategic point and taken it, future generations have been blessed; whenever we miss our chance, future generations will wonder how we could have been so blind.

Nation Will Produce More 'Green Pastures'

Grass, Farm Mechanization More Vital in Later Years
Prospects are evident that America's farmlands will grow greener in the second half of the 20th century.

Outstanding in farming's past 50 years and bound to play vital parts in the years to come are the new importance of grass and the mechanization of the farm.

According to experts on the subject, grass is soon to rank as a prime contributor to the health and wealth of the United States. Farmers who will turn to the use of grass as a real crop in itself, will find that it prevents erosion, builds up the soil, improves the land for crops that are to follow and provides greater profit through more economical feed.

Scenes like this will be more common throughout rural America as farmers turn to grass as a real crop. Here a field forage harvester, one of the newer developments in mechanized farming, chops and blows grass into a truck keeping pace with the tractor.

Because they can now grow more grass with less work, farmers are planting more and more acres in green pastures. They are using more grass as rotation and cover crops and tests have proved to them that grass in rotation with corn and cotton vastly increases yields.

The making of hay and grass silage is the basis of grassland farming. This is a true product of the 20th century. Experiments started about 25 years ago are just now getting widespread acceptance as farmers find that grass silage is second only to grazing in a good livestock program.
