H. P. Caveness, veteran educator prominent in educational circles of the state for a number of years, has this week authorized us to place his name in our political column as a candidate for re-election to the office of county superintendent of schools, and to bespeak for him the vote and influence of the residents of Lynn county.

Mr. Caveness needs no introduction to our readers—his record as a superintendent speaks for him. Under his wise guidance the affairs of the different schools of the county have come through some strenuous times, and there have been instances when only his experience and level-headedness have kept things going.

Mr. Caveness respectfully asks your consideration and support in the Democratic primary in July.

Index Office Moved To Bank Building

Attention of our readers and others interested is called to the fact that the office of the O'Donnell Index has been moved from Palmer Implement Company to the First National Bank building, in the space occupied by the Co-op office.

This change in location was made Thursday afternoon of last week, and was caused by the need of more room both for the Index and for Mr. Palmer. The editor takes this opportunity to publicly acknowledge and express appreciation to Palmer Implement Company for the many courtesies and for the pleasant relationship and friendship enjoyed during the association of the two businesses.

Some girls will not join the club, because they think they do not have time to do the work. The many different things a girl learns to do while she is a member of the club will pay

In my first year's work I made the garments required. I made a dress, a pair of pajamas, and a slip. I was first place on my slip.

In my second years work I also did the work required; although I did not get them judged. I made a dress, pillow protectors, a comfort protector, and a dresser scarf. I make most of my clothing now.

I can also operate a pressure cook-

I find the work very interesting and intend to complete my third year work.

Light As a Feather

Light as a feather... when the first bite of cake brings forth that tribute, lives there a cake who isn't filled with pride? Is it the icing and filling ever so light? Or is it the cake itself, light as a feather? If the cake falls to the ground, it is the fault of the baker, not the fault of the ingredients. A good baking powder is essential for the success of a cake. It is also in the observation of two golden rules for its use. They are simple, yet important: they are always use amount recommended on your baking powder. This proportion has been worked out as the best for that particular baking powder. Second, measure carefully, for an excess of any type of baking powder gives undesirable results. A level teaspoon means that you must level with a knife, observing these golden rules, your hand at those cakes.

Chocolate Layer Cake
(1 egg white)
2 cups sifted cake flour
1/2 teaspoon combination baking powder
1/2 cup butter or other shortening
1 cup sifted sugar
1/2 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg white, stiffly beaten
In four one-cup measure, add baking powder, and sift together three times, shortening thoroughly, and cream gradually, daily, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add flour in small amount at a time. Beat each addition until smooth. Add egg white and beat very thoroughly. Add flour in small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Bake in two greased 8-inch layer pans in moderate oven (325° F.) 25 minutes. Spread lemon filling between layers and lemon frosting on top and sides of cake.

What's more delicious than feather-light chocolate cake? To make, following these directions.

Palermo Lemon Cake
(1 egg)
2 cups sifted cake flour
1/2 teaspoon combination baking powder
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1/2 cup butter or other shortening
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk
1 egg, unbroken
1/2 cup milk
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and sift together three times. Add lemon rind to butter and cream thoroughly. Add sugar gradually and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat very thoroughly. Add flour in small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Bake in two greased 8-inch layer pans in moderate oven (325° F.) 25 minutes. Spread lemon filling between layers and lemon frosting on top and sides of cake.

J. H. Yarborough and Dumont Lady Married

Of interest to Lynn county and this section in particular was the wedding of J. H. Yarborough and Miss Bonnie Phelps of Dumont, the ceremony being performed at Dumont on Sunday, January 14. They returned to O'Donnell Tuesday of last week, and are making their home out of town.
Mr. Yarborough has lived in Lynn county for a number of years, was, in fact, candidate for sheriff four years ago. He has scores of friends in this section, where he has farmed for some time.
The lady comes to O'Donnell as a stranger, but those who have met her are unanimous in the opinion that she is a most charming and estimable young lady, fitted in every way to make a home.
As Mr. Yarborough has for the past three years been our correspondent from the East Side community, the entire staff of the Index joins in extending sincere congratulations and best wishes, personal from each member, to Mr. and Mrs. Yarborough.

GUILTY!

Vote a Life Sentence For Rubbish and Waste

There is no greater menace to public health and safety than the rubbish pile and the old-fashioned garbage can. Year after year they take their terrific toll with fire and disease.

There is just one effective way to combat these two evils—by burning them before they have a chance to do their devilish work. A Gas Incinerator is quick-acting, odorless, inexpensive to install and operate. It's the easiest and best way to vote a "life sentence" for Rubbish and Waste.

Lamesa Man Announces Candidacy For Governor

Quillen E. Terrell, of Lamesa, is announcing for Governor of Texas subject to the democratic primaries.

Mr. Terrell is featuring in his platform his educational plank which is: "Education is recognized as a state enterprise. The costs of education for our children should therefore be borne in larger proportions by the State, and in smaller amounts by the local communities."

"The State can best furnish curriculum material for the respective schools and a minimum educational program for elementary and secondary schools should be set up, accompanied by competent and adequate supervision by State authority. Teacher certificate laws need revision and State funds should reach depositories promptly. The State Board and State Department should have adequate funds for their employed personnel for salaries, travel and especially for printing and postage, in order to perform their respective functions."

"The State Board of Education should have similar authority over Public School Lands and the permanent fund that is now exercised by the Board of Regents over University properties. These properties, belonging to the State Permanent and State Perpetual school funds, should be conserved religiously for the original purpose for which dedication was made."

"I believe in the principle of 'Equal Educational Opportunities' for all Texas children and advocate a thorough study of the public school conditions in Texas under direction of the State Board of Education with a view of ascertaining possible improvements in the present 'district' systems of organization in the per capita method of school support and of obtaining better results from the expenditure of the so-called 'rural aid' funds."

"The State has profited from its educational institutions of higher learning and these have not yet finished their tasks. The State expenditures for education should be primarily for the schools of lower classification but the colleges and universities merit financial support."

Other planks of his platform cover the following subjects:

PROHIBITION. He believes in enforcement of the Dean Law, as well as other laws, yet Democratic.

He believes the present State Constitution obsolete and believes in a new Constitution for Texas to better present needs of people.

Is for abolishment of ad valorem taxes for State support. Substitute income tax system—sound and economical system of raising State revenues.

Believes in consolidation of county and city governments over State wherever practicable, where taxpayers will have tax debt lifted from their shoulders.

He believes Sales Tax as in effect on gasoline, although expendable for worthy causes, is too high. A sales tax of 25 to 75 per cent of the value of the commodity is excessive.

He believes the utilities of this State render valuable service to its citizens, but an elective commission should regulate fair and economical rates to all users.

He believes that the State should take care of all eleemosynary institutions and the needy and distressed of Texas.

He favors building in this State a sound and stable agricultural and livestock program; and will consider present highway set up with the view of maintaining its high efficiency as well as the same policy to apply to all State departments, taking advantage of past experience in this State and all other states in carrying out an efficient program for these departments.

Mr. Terrell is widely traveled, well read, and is highly in sympathy with the future welfare of all citizens of Texas. He has been a citizen of Dawson county for 30 years.

Whooping Cough A Major Disease

Austin, Jan. 17.—Whooping cough was formerly regarded as one of the infectious diseases of minor importance. According to Dr. John W. Brown, State Health officer, this is not so. Each year many children die of this disease; in fact it causes more deaths than scarlet fever, measles and smallpox combined.

Whooping cough is a treacherous disease. It resembles the proverbial wolf in sheep's clothing. Illness begins gradually, causing parents to feel that the symptoms are those of ordinary cold, until the characteristic whoop appears. Unfortunately, the disease is most infectious during the early stages. Children in the first years of life are in the greatest danger of developing pneumonia, the most severe complication.

The chief hope in controlling epidemics of whooping cough lies in those measures which help to prevent the spread of disease. Children with the disease should remain at home and in isolation for a period of 21 days. Children with the disease should be reported to their family physician or local health officer.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Brewer are moving this week from their former home in the East Side community to the Holiday farm in the Draw community.

Auto Owners Must Pay Fee This Month

Austin, Jan. 15.—Concerned because of the slowness of automobile owners to register for 1934 licenses, L. G. Phares, chief of the state highway patrol, has issued a warning that all motorists without new licenses would be subject to penalties and arrest after February 1st.

Inquiries made to various county tax collectors has revealed that automobile registrations are "nearly 50 per cent off," said Chief Phares. It is likely that the public is under the mistaken impression that a longer period of grace for payment of the licenses is in effect, thought Phares. Last year the legislature extended the time for payment until April 1.

But this law applied only to 1933, said Phares. Registrations paid after February 1 are to be assessed a 20 per cent penalty. Moreover, drivers without new license plates after midnight of February 1 are liable to arrest.

The chief said that the slowness in license payments was strongly evident in San Antonio, Houston and Dallas.

TUBERCULOSIS KILLS 11 IN TEXAS EVERY DAY

Austin, Jan. 24.—Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, stated that slightly more than eleven persons die in Texas each day from tuberculosis. In other words over four thousand persons died of this disease last year.

In these days of economic stress, when the seeds of disease are being sown in the bodies of undernourished children, the prevention of tuberculosis is more necessary than ever. Tuberculosis formerly held first place as a cause of death; it now ranks third in Texas, while for the country as a whole it ranks seventh. Pneumonia was the only communicable disease that caused more deaths last year than did tuberculosis.

Tuberculosis has been known for centuries and constant search for a specific cure has been the goal of doctors for many years. However, no medicine, yet discovered, will cure the disease. The treatment consists of rest, proper food, fresh air, and proper medical care.

The greatest loss of life from this disease is between the ages of 20 to 40 years, and its economic cost to families and the State is enormous. Tuberculosis can be arrested if found in its early stages, therefore, the State department of Health urges that everyone not feeling up to par should go to their family physician for a complete physical examination.

In this way early beginnings of tuberculosis or other disease may be discovered in their early curable stage.

EXAMINATION FOR PRINCIPAL AGRICULTURAL EXPLORER

The United States Civil Service Commission will accept applications until February 7 for the position of Principal Agricultural Explorer to fill a vacancy in the Bureau of Plant Industry, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.
