Draw Child Injured By Falling Glass

The three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Dabney of the Drew community received a painful injury late Monday afternoon when she ran into a low set window as she was playing at the home of her parents.

The force of the blow broke the window pane, and the falling glass struck the top of the head, inflicting a gash several inches in length.

The baby was rushed to the office of a local physician for treatment. As she was thoroughly frightened and in view of the fact that the wound will be covered by the growth of her hair, the physician did not subject her to the added pain of stitches, drawing the edges of the wound together with tape and otherwise administering laster first aid mesous.

As no further reports came in Tuesday, it is thought that the little girl is recovering from the injury and fright without any complications.

Mrs. Raymond Ballew And Son Operated

Examinations here revealed that she was the victim of badly infected tonsils, which had so weakened her physically that she could not rally from the operation as quickly as is the normal state.

Hester To Ship Show Stock Saturday

E. W. Hester, prominent Jersey breeder, known over the entire South Plains, plans to ship his car of Dairy Show stock to Plainview Saturday in order that they may be fully prepared for the opening of the Plainview Dairy Show Tuesday of next week. The show will continue through April 14th.

Mr. Hester said Monday that he had hopes to have several other breeders go from the section, but for various reasons they had been forced to cancel their plans. He will ship ten head from his own herd, the famous bull, Buttercup, heading the list. Another animal in the party who has also won honors at the Plainview show is a White Heart, who showed $6m how a real calf should look and but few fingered animals in the section. Another animal in the party who has also won honors at the Plainview show is a White Heart, who showed $6m how a real calf should look and but few fingered animals in the section.

Mr. Hester's entries will be the only ones, so far as we have heard, to be shown from the South Plains, or from this section of the South Plains. Most of the breeders are coming from the north this year. Mr. Hester has Monday, work of showing the entries has been under way for the past several days at the Hester farm. The owner saying with a grin that they had done about everything but use fingernail polish and repair worn down machines on Buttercup and his team mates.

Mr. Hester was one of the founders of the show, and has been a director since its opening several years ago.

The editor had promised an inspection tour of the herd this week, but was unable to make it before publication date. However, every one in this part of the country knows that the Hester herd is one of the best in the country, and that dairy stock fanciers bid eagerly for calves. It will be remembered that Chocolate and his shipped to a point at Ft. Hester's herd is one of the best in the country, and that dairy stock fanciers bid eagerly for calves.

Results of the Plainview show will be watched with much interest, and the confident expectation that Mr. Hester's entries will bring home their share of the honors.

Nazarene Meeting Continues This Week

With scores of persons unable to find seats in the church auditorium at evening services, the revival meeting now in progress at the Church of the Nazarenes is meeting with wonderful success.

Rev. A. L. Dennis of Lamesa is in charge of the preaching services, and has brought splendid messages each day. In order that more may take advantage of the opportunity, services are being held each morning during this week.

The meeting will continue through most of this week, Rev. Dennis stating Monday, if not all the week. The local pastor, Mrs. Pearl Keeton, and members of the church are cooperating in every way, as well as other churches of the town. Both the pastor and the evangelist ask that the index extend an expression of their appreciation of this interest, and to again extend a cordial invitation to everyone to come and take part.

Thornhill Variety Changes Location This Week

Bo's Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thornhill have been down from Tahoka this week superintending the moving of the stock of their store from its former location in the Sanderson building to that formerly occupied by Popular Store. Need for more floor space was the reason for the move, Mrs. Thornhill explained.

The new building has been thoroughly renovated and redecorated, and is already beginning to present a fine appearance.

Observing the change in location and also the opening of the Easter season, Mrs. Thornhill is this week announcing a variety of Easter specialties from her department of the store. See the ad on another page of the Index.

Early Morning Blaze Destroys Small House

The small frame farm house on Gy McGill's farm was totally destroyed last about five o'clock Wednesday morning by fire of undetermined origin.

When the blaze was noticed and its source determined, it was useless to call out the fire department, so that no alarm was turned in. Mrs. L. E. Robinson called the operator, who in turn asked night watchman Bill Brown to drive out and see what was burning. When Brown reached the scene, the house was already gone.

Members of the local Epworth League met in a busy day indeed last Sunday, attending Fidelis Union meeting and rendering special program.

In the afternoon sixteen of the young people went to the Union meeting at New Lynn, and report a splendid program and business session. O'Donnell won the loving cup for having the best record book.

In the evening a special program was rendered at Midway, in which twenty four took part. Under the leadership of Miss Louie Edwards as president and Mrs. Coary Shook as sponsor, the League is doing a wonderful work.

Fishing Party Returns From Old Mexico

D. J. Boleh, L. E. Robinson, and Messrs. Allen and Gentry of Lubbock returned from their fishing week from Old Mexico, where they had spent several days during the busy bass from their hiding places, and Naymon and Glenn Everett, Irving Wright, Robert Coary and Buddy McKiever returned Monday evening from the same location, each party reporting wonderful luck and a marvelous trip.

The fishing and camping site is located on Lake Don Martin, on the Sabinas river, approximately 130 miles in the interior, and is an ideal fishing spot. It will be remembered that a party went there last year, and those who enjoyed it last week declare that they caught even more fish than on the previous record-breaking expedition.

E. S. and the party back another proof of their skill with the rod and reel, as well as proof that the Mexican sun is heating down these days. We have seen the best of the wonderful times they had—we will just refer you to some of them.

Red Cross Receives Added Supplies

Mayor W. S. Cothey, chairman of the O'Donnell branch of the Lynn County Red Cross chapter, went to Tahoka Monday morning and procured more clothing supplies to be distributed through the local office.

Among these supplies were such items as boys' overalls and play suits as well as underwear, prints for ladies dresses, ladies hose, several yards of outing and several blankets. There is still a quantity of flour on hand, Mr. Cothey stated Monday afternoon, as well as other supplies.

This chapter of the Red Cross, under the direction of Judge B. P. Maddox has received the highest of commendations from the St. Louis office and from Congressman Marvin Jones for the wise and systematic way it has been conducted. Every request for aid has been thoroughly investigated before supplies were issued so that the real needy families have received the greatest benefit.

Mr. Cothey reported that contributions of dried beans and peas at the Tahoka office have been so liberal that Judge Maddox has requested that no more be brought in.

Fruit Crop Cut Short By February Freeze

Old timers say you will be lucky to get as many as two or three good fruit crops from a peach tree in Lynn county.

And judging from the experiences of the fruit growers during our sojourn in this part of the country, these old timers know whereof they speak. Even in this good year of 1933 when folks thought they were escaping the disastrous freezes of past years, Old Man Frost nipped the buds of practically all would-be peach, and the crop will apparently be conspicuous for its absence.

The hard freeze which came early in February is apparently to blame. Though many of our choicest orchards were hopeful that the buds were still too green to be injured later investigation revealed that very few blooms would ever mature. It will be remembered that it was a March freeze last year and the year before. Late plums and cherries give promise of fruit, if nothing else happens, but apples and peaches of Lynn county's fruit crop will be very little indeed.

However, we can still enjoy the beauty of the trees without suffering as great a loss as those sections that depend largely on their fruit crops. We have heard no reports from the Clyde section and other parts of the country where fruit is a source of income, but it is feared that the same frost brought a considerable loss to residents of that part of the country.

New Correspondent Added To Staff This Week

We are glad to introduce Miss Josie Riggs to Index readers this week as correspondent from the OK community. Miss Josie will probably not be able to get her first news letter to us in time for publication this week, and will greet the Index family in the next issue.

We are really almost vain about our splendid staff of correspondents. It is our private and personal opinion that we have the best group anywhere and our readers haven't failed to notice and comment on the really newsy letters they send.

Bickley Funeral Services Are Held At Merkel

The Rev. J. O. Haynes, and the Rev. O. N. Carter, Methodist ministers of Lubbock assisted the Rev. E. L. Yates, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church at Merkel in conducting the rites. Arrangements were made by Bynum-Stahler funeral home of Lubbock.

A widower of Lubbock, three sons the Rev. Mr. Bickley, J. C. Bickley, of Stanton, and J. M. Bickley of Chaffee, and a daughter, Miss Annie Bickley of Merkel survive Mrs. Bickley.

Miss Winnie Vaughn Undergoes Operation

Miss Winnie Vaughn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Vaughn and a popular student of the local high school, was taken to a Lubbock hospital Monday evening for examination.

Reports coming back to members of the family here were that it would be necessary to operate and drain an infected gland. As we go to press we have learned nothing further, but it is sincerely hoped that the operation was entirely successful and that the young lady will soon be her normal cheerful self.

Miss Winnie has suffered for several months from a series of unusually malignant boils and rashes, and it is believed that this infection has come to lead in the particular gland in question. The constant drain on her nervous energy and physical endurance had rendered it impossible for her to continue her school work until the end of the term as had been hoped.

The Index joins with other friends in extending wishes for a speedy and complete convalescence.

Mrs. Cathey Taken To Hospital Tuesday

Mrs. W. S. Cathey, who has been seriously ill for almost two months, was taken to a Lubbock sanitarium last Tuesday for observation and treatment, and will probably be there for several days longer.

Physicians and attendants at the sanitarium report that she is doing as well as could be expected, and has shown quite a bit of improvement since her entrance at the hospital.

The many friends of the Cathey family extend hearty wishes for a complete recovery, wishes in which the Index joins most sincerely.

Methodist Revival Opens Here Sunday

Plans for the annual spring revival of the local Methodist church that will open Sunday morning at eleven o'clock, are well under way. The church here and those at Tahoka and Draw will cooperate in the meeting with pastors exchanging pulpits from time to time.

Of special interest is the special service scheduled for the Friday before Easter, from twelve o'clock until completed observing the time spent by the Savior on the cross.

The pastor, Rev. W. R. Burnett, asks us to state that everyone is urged and expected to assist in this revival.

Jack Walker Receives Injury At Play

Master Jack Walker, a student in the Second Grade, received a painful injury at school on Friday when he fell during play time at school and knocked his right thumb out of place.

His teacher, Miss Christine Millwee and Mrs. M. E. Overton, head of the Home Economics department, brought the young man to the office of a local physician. It was necessary to administer an anesthetic before the thumb could be put back in place. Reports that he is as well as usual, even though he had gotten yelped yet, even though he didn't get 'green round the gills'.

Jack Cathey Suffers Broken Arm Saturday

Jack, five-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cathey, suffered a broken right arm Saturday when he fell as he was playing, his whole weight falling on that arm. The bone was broken and the other bent and twisted in the forearm, so that the young man suffered intensely. He was brought to the office of a local physician for treatment, and at last reports was recovering nicely.

A BOY'S ESSAY ON COLUMBUS

Columbus was a man who could make a negr stand on end with out crushing it. One day the king of Spain sent for him and asked: "Can you discover America?"

"Yes," Columbus answered. "If you will give me a boat."

He got the boat and sailed in the direction where he knew America was. The sailors mutinied and swore there was no such place as America, but finally the pilot came to Columbus and said: "Captain land is in sight."

When the boat neared the shore, Columbus saw a group of natives. "Is this America?" he asked them.

"Yes," replied the chief, "and you are Christopher Columbus, I take it."

"I suppose you are Indians?" Columbus went on. "Yes," replied the chief, "and you are Christopher Columbus, I take it."

The Indian chief then turned to his fellow savages and said: "The ship up. We are discovered at last."

A beautiful girl was being tried a certain Nebraska town for killing her husband. The jurors had reached their verdict and the defendant was going to face their wives if they did. Finally one of them happened to say: "You discovered America?"

"Yes," Columbus answered. "If you will give me a boat."

"Twenty dollars fine for shooting an Elk out of season."

A sprightly young man walked to a corner for a street car, merrily puffing a cigar. An aged man was also waiting for the car. Accosting the young man, he said: "If you will smoke those things you could get that big brick building across by the time you are as old as I am."

"You don't happen to own it, do you?" inquired the youngster. "I do not," replied the old man. "I do, said the other, "those are my initials on the building."

NO ONE WANTS THE "HAT PASSED" FOR HIM EITHER BY HIS FRIENDS OR BY HIS WIDOW

Thoughtful men recognize that the Funeral expense is a debt that falls due when they die; that it must be paid, and that it might be a sufficiently large amount to cause great distress to a grief-stricken widow and orphaned children just at a time when they should be comforted, not burdened. Men buy Life Insurance because it is the easiest and most economical way to pay their funeral expense.
