ON FDR AND THE NEW DEAL

The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research sends encouraging facts concerning the decline of business failures in Texas and thus adds to the very evident fact that conditions are considerably better today than they were 60 days ago and the year ago.

In May of this year there were only 15 business failures in the entire state as compared with 19 in April and 61 in May 1933. These declines represent percentages of 21 and 75, respectively.

The information was compiled by R. G. Dun and Company, which fact vouchers for its accuracy. That Texas business conditions have improved and are continuing to improve is not based upon figures juggled by professional Pollyannas, but upon actual facts and statistics.

The situation further indicates that the national administration's efforts toward recovery are being mirrored here in dollars and cents.

The Literary Digest's latest poll, that of "for" or "against" President Roosevelt and his policies, thus far shows Mr. Roosevelt and his administration still have the respect and confidence of a large majority of the people. Twenty-five states have thus far been polled and in 15 of the 25 the President is shown to be more popular today than he was when elected.

In the corn belt, where searing drought has made the populace worried and restless and where the administration is facing its most serious relief problem at present, the President's prestige has declined—which is nothing more than natural in the face of the extreme conditions. But in the East, where droughting Thomases of industry were earlier prone to doubt the Roosevelt policies he has gained mightily with the rank and file.

Twenty-three of the 25 states polled thus far by the Digest are "for" Mr. Roosevelt and his efforts by good majorities. Only Maine and Vermont, in rock-ribbed New England, disapprove of him and the administration, the former by a vote of 3,228 to 3,149 and the latter by 1,891 to 1,737. Texas, incidentally is 5,187 to 1,396 behind the New Deal and its leader.

Wages earned under the above scale are subject to a deduction of not to exceed 10 per cent until June 30, 1934, and of not to exceed 5 per cent during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1935, as a measure of economy, and also to a deduction of 3 1/2 per cent toward a retirement annuity.

Farmers Borrowing $2,100,000 In Short-Term Loans From Farm C. A.

Over 6,000 Texas farmers and stockmen had arranged to borrow $2,100,000 from their cooperatively managed production credit associations by June 1 and $1,800,000 had already been paid out to finance the production and marketing of their crops and livestock, according to figures made available here today (June 14) by the Production Credit Division of the Farm Credit Association.

As the season progresses, a larger proportion of the farmers and stockmen borrowing from the production credit associations in Texas are obtaining loans for financing their live stock operations or for general farm purposes, such as purchase of machinery and equipment, and for financing repairs and improvements.

This trend toward livestock and general purpose loans is reflected in the gradual increase in the size of loans which during the past week reached $950.

Farmers and stockmen borrowing from these newly organized, short term credit institutions, partially owned and operated by the farmer borrowers, are to greatly reduce their interest charges as loans now being made bear interest at the rate of 5 per cent a year. Thus, a farmer borrowing $1,000 for one year pays $50 interest at the end of the year, while a farmer borrowing the same amount for six months would have to pay only $25 interest when the loan matured or if the loan were for three months the interest would amount to only $12.50.

WILL EXPAND CATTLE DISEASE ERADICATION IN TWENTY-FOUR STATES

Plans for eradication of animal diseases under the Jones-Costello Bill are being put into completed form by officials of the Bureau of Animal Industry in cooperation with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and State officials. The activities will be a continuation, along intensified lines of disease eradication activities conducted in the past by the Bureau of Animal Industry and cooperating States and local veterinary officials. It is anticipated that the intensified program will be launched early in the week of June 11.

The work will be conducted principally in 24 states and the District of Columbia. It is pointed out that this work will not be delayed because of conditions in areas affected by drought. These States in which the disease eradication work will be expanded first, largely in cattle tuberculosis eradication, are: Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, District of Columbia, Georgia, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Texas, Vermont, Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming.
