School bonds approved by 556-377 margin

Voters of the Iowa Park school district approved a $2.75-million bond election by a 556-377 margin Tuesday.

The bonds are to be used to construct additional classrooms on all four campuses of the district, two buildings at the vocational agriculture laboratory area, a gymnasium that will also serve as a storm shelter at Kidwell Elementary, an addition to the high school field house, and a new bus maintenance and storage facility, as well as major repairs at the high school.

The proposal carried at two of the three polls, as well as absentee.

At the Kidwell Elementary box, the issue carried by a 64-percent margin, 404-226. The Bradford Elementary box was by a slighter margin, 55-percent, 123-101. And 10 of the 16 ballots cast by absentee were for the issue.

Only at the box in Valley View did the issue not receive approval, failing 44-19.

Observers expressed surprise at the large number of voters turning out to cast their ballots, 933, after only 511 votes were cast in the same three boxes a week earlier to decide the 21 proposed changes in the state constitution.

"I want to thank all of you for all your hard work," Supt. Glen Mitchell told the board members after the votes were tallied Tuesday evening in the administration building.

During the wait for all three boxes to be turned in, tension was obvious among trustees and administrators, because the Kidwell box was late arriving.

After the Kidwell and Valley View boxes had been delivered, their count indicated the issue was failing by a three-vote margin.

Relief was apparent on their faces after Riley Thompson, the election judge at Kidwell, turned in his tally sheet, indicating the victory.

Besides the large number of votes cast at that poll, 630, Thompson explained the final tally was one vote from balancing. That forced a recounting, which was the reason he did not turn in the ballot cans and tabulations until 8:50 p.m., almost two hours after the poll closed.

About the large turnout, Thompson said, "I saw people down there I've never seen, and I've been holding elections down there five years."

According to a prepared schedule, the district's financial and statistical data will be submitted to Southwest Securities by Dec. 1, the same date Southwest will begin preparation of preliminary official statement and financing and sale documents.

An application requesting a Permanent School Fund guarantee of the bonds will be submitted Dec. 22 as well as an application to Moody's Investors Service for a bond rating of the district.

The bond rating is important because it has a direct effect on the interest charge when the bonds are sold.

The trustees are expected to meet Jan. 23 to consider awarding of bids for the sale of the bonds, and the proceeds from the sale should be deposited in the bank by Feb. 27, according to the schedule.

No date has yet been set for the school to begin advertising for construction bids, however. But it is anticipated construction will be underway in the spring on most of the projects.

Board to name architect

School trustees, after canvassing the results of Tuesday's bond election, will go through the formality of naming an architect to draw plans for additions on all four campuses of the district, when they meet at 7:30 this evening in the school library.

It is expected Don Daugherty, who drew the preliminary plans that were used during the promotion of the bond election, will be named as the architect.

The board normally holds its monthly meeting on the second Tuesday of the month. However, because the election was held Tuesday, the date was moved to tonight.

Trustees will be asked to approve a proposal that the school purchase a computer for both elementary schools.

Also on the agenda are:

- * act on a resolution in support of "Mandate Watch;"
- * act on policy changes for grades kindergarten through first;
- * act on student transfer requests;
- * discuss "freeport goods" exemption, as it relates to taxes;
- * consider a school bus route change;
- * hear reports on enrollment, energy management and set a date for the December board meeting;
- * and make a presentation for the "Friend of the School Award."

Council okays water sale outside of city

City aldermen Monday night approved a request for water service outside the city limits, accepted bids to purchase four vehicles, and held a discussion on building a replacement for the Recreational Activities Center building.

The council delayed action on a proposal by Larry Dutton, local mortician, to assume designation as the city's deputy registrar for deaths and births in Iowa Park.

After hearing a request from Ray Hamilton for water service to his site on the southwest corner of Texowa and Diamond, which is outside the city limits, council members approved the request, but on a split vote.

Hamilton explained he operates a vehicle paint and body shop at the location and his primary reason for seeking water was fire protection, in case of a grassfire.

Responding to a question posed by Mayor Tim Hunter, if he would be interested in his land annexing in to the city, he said he did not feel the cost of water would be as much as city taxes, and declined.

Three aldermen voted approval of the request, and Bud Mercer abstained. Aldermen Bud Burch was absent.

George Davis Chevrolet of Wichita Falls submitted the low bid, while meeting bid specifications, on two police cars. The price was $29,182.40.

Park Ford was the only bidder on a full-sized pickup, to be used by the water department, and the firm's bid of $11,314.85 was approved.

The other pickup, a compact model with extended cab, was bid at $10,429.66, submitted by Bob Ritchie Chevrolet. It will be used by the animal control officer.

The extended cab was requested in order for the animal control officer to carry various equipment, such as guns, other than in the truck's bed, it was explained.

WORKER INJURED - Freddie Simmons, 55, was seriously burned in an accident Monday while working on a truck at the county's precinct barn on East Jefferson. Gasoline was belched from a truck engine, ignited, and burned some 60 percent of his body. He was flown that evening to Brooks Army Hospital Burn Center in San Antonio. Commissioner Gordon Griffith described Simmons as being stabilized, and in good humor.

The ongoing subject of replacing the RAC building was again discussed by the council.

Aware that the apparent majority of citizens are not ready to build a full community center, as evidenced by a "straw vote" last year, aldermen feel a new RAC building, built on the city's full block of clear land between Third and Fourth Streets, would satisfy an immediate need, and serve as a basic structure which later could be added on for development of a community center.

The council earlier had a study made of needed improvements on the old RAC building, which was two barracks moved from Sheppard AFB almost 30 years ago and put together by the now defunct Jaycees.

The study indicated costs would be almost $30,000, which, aldermen felt, would be better spent on a new structure.

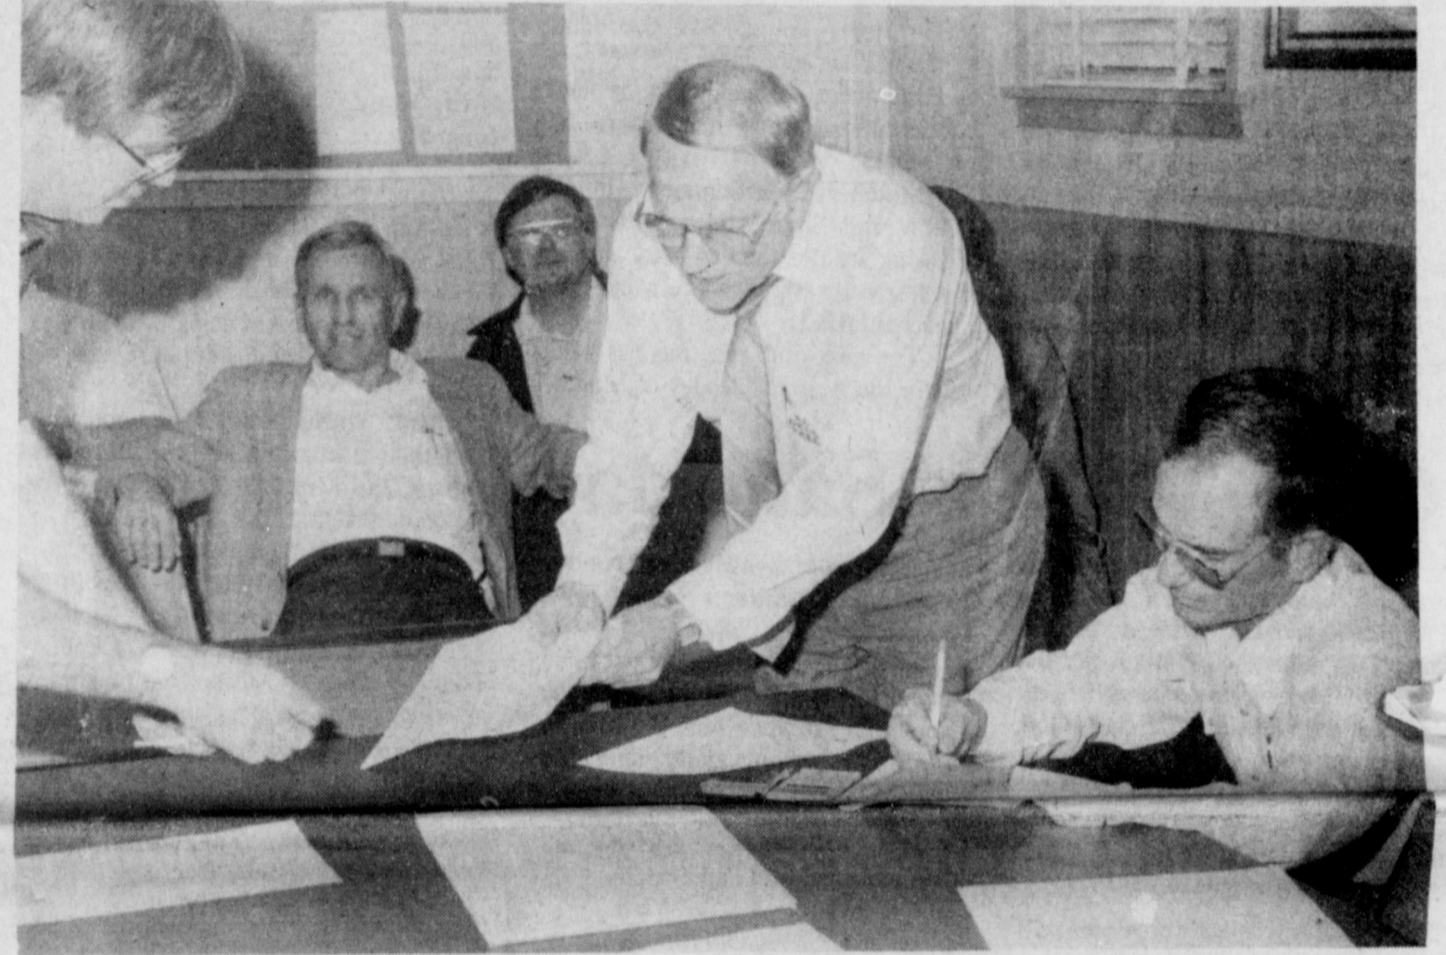

"We've all agreed that if the RAC building belonged to anyone else, we would have condemned it," an alderman said, referring to the fact that the structure does not meet the city building code.

The council decided to ask architect Don Daugherty to draft a set of plans for a metal structure of the same approximate size as the present structure, with a design which could easily be added onto later.

Architectural plans are necessary in order for proper bidding by prospective contractors, which would enable the council to ascertain costs of construction.

Legislation approved in Austin in 1983 was the basis for Dutton's proposal to be designated as the city's deputy registrar for recording all deaths and births in the city.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS COUNT THE GOOD NEWS AFTER POLLS CLOSED ... Supt. Glen Mitchell and trustees tabulate winning margin for bond issue.

Student's car taken by couple to Iowa

Nathan Perry was going to put his jacket in his car Tuesday afternoon of last week, before changing into his football uniform for another practice session.

But the junior linebacker for the Iowa Park Hawks had no place to put it. His car, a 1979 Chevrolet Camero, wasn't anywhere to be seen.

The theft was reported to Iowa Park police, who immediately listed the missing vehicle on the police computer network.

It was found the following afternoon. In Griswold, Iowa.

Two other students at the school had decided to leave town, and found Perry's car with the keys in the ignition.

The two, a 16-year-old male and a 15-year-old female, were returned to Iowa Park. They were taken before Justice of the Peace Bill Robinson Monday, where they gave statements.

Both were released to the custody of their parents, and their cases turned over to the county juvenile probation department.

Perry, however, had to retrieve his own vehicle. He and his grandfather, Roy, left immediately Friday night after the football game at Vernon, and returned home Sunday.

The only other important case listed on the police blotter for the week was the arrest shortly after midnight Tuesday night of James Earl Hand, 22.

Hand reportedly was observed by a local officer of erratic driving, and attempted to stop him. He continued, however, until reaching his home at 306 E. Emerald.

The suspect reportedly jumped out of his car after parking it, and ran to his home, but could not gain entry because the door was locked.

Besides being charged with public intoxication, Hand also was charged with evading arrest and possession of a weapon, a long, wooden club with a nail in it that was found in his vehicle.

He was taken to county jail at 1:51 a.m., according to the blotter.

Community Thanksgiving service slated

The Thanksgiving Community Worship Service will be held at 6 p.m. Sunday at First United Methodist Church, with Rev. Betty Stribling, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, conducting the service. The Iowa Park High School A Cappella Choir will provide music for the service.

Offerings will be used by the Ministerial Alliance to pay utility bills for the needy in Iowa Park.

Following the service, everyone is invited to the Fellowship Hall for refreshments. In the hall, booths, displays and pamphlets will be set up with information concerning drug and alcohol abuse.

The Ministerial Alliance, City Council, Iowa Park schools and the Iowa Park Police Dept. have dedicated the 1989-90 school year to educating our community against the abuse of alcohol and drugs.

Leader to publish early

The Iowa Park Leader will observe its policy next week of publishing a day early, because of Thursday being a holiday, Thanksgiving.

All deadlines are moved up one day, in order for the paper to be mailed to subscribers and put on the news stands Wednesday.

Deadline for display advertising will be 4 p.m. Monday. Classified advertising deadline will be 12-noon Tuesday.

Deadline for news will be 10 a.m. Tuesday.

"As in the past, we appreciate everyone's cooperation in observing the early deadlines," commended Bob Hamilton, publisher. "We always want our readers to have their papers before a Thursday holiday, rather than after it."

Scouts seek food Saturday

Cub Scouts will begin knocking on doors Saturday morning, asking for canned goods to be donated to the Iowa Park Food Bank.

Plastic bags were distributed last Saturday, but the small supply was inadequate to completely canvass all homes.

Persons wishing to make donations are asked to call Mike Hicks, 592-4250, giving the name and address, and a Scout will pick it up.

For the convenience of residents, boxes and barrels also have been set up at the two supermarkets here, B&R and King's Food.

Christmas tree decorations top Garden Club agenda

Twenty-three members of the Iowa Park Garden Club met Friday morning at the TU Electric Reddy Room.

Mrs. Gladys James, president, conducted the business session, where Frances George reported that the club will decorate Christmas trees at Tom Burnett Memorial Library Nov. 27 as part of an annual project.

The library will host an open house Nov. 28.

In other business, a nominating committee of Mes. Bernice Compton, Lavena Harlin and Don Decker were selected to nominate officers for the 1990-91 club year.

Mrs. John Clapp, community service chairman, reported that the club will sow wildflower seeds around the flagpole at the cemetery this month as part of the club's community landscape wildflower project.

Mrs. Clapp also suggested that a tree be purchased and planted in January at Kidwell Elementary School as an Arbor Day project. This would replace the tree planted at the school last spring, and destroyed by high winds during the summer.

Members voted to make a monetary contribution to Texas Garden Clubs, Inc. to support the state Arbor Day project.

Mrs. Ray Copening reported that seven members attended the District Two Fall Convention held last Thursday in Saginaw. Conventioneers attended a business session held at Boswell High School, a luncheon at the Fort Worth Yacht Club located on Eagle Mountain Lake, and a tour of Donkey Alley, a local farm which raises miniature donkeys, llamas and ostriches.

Those attending include Mes. Ray Copening, Gladys James, B.J. Gilmore, Dewey Conley, Oscar Wells, Robert Illingworth and Jim Gilmore.

Mrs. Billy C. Gilmore announced that the Yard of the Month sign had been placed in the yard of Mr. Elgin Denny and his daughter, Elga Denny, who reside at 308 W. Magnolia.

After the business session, a workshop was conducted by Mrs. Billy C. Gilmore and Mrs. Dorwin Wooten, in which each member made a Christmas ornament using potpourri, ribbon, lace and miniature silk roses.

Mrs. Norma Fortner brought a Christmas cactus as the horticulture display, and Mrs. B.J. Gilmore gave the thought for the day entitled "Laughter is the Best Medicine."

Members answered roll call with a Thanksgiving tradition. Mrs. Joe Gilbert and Mrs. Gene Young were hostesses for the meeting, where refreshments were served from a table decorated in a Veteran's Day theme.

The next meeting will be a Christmas party and plant exchange held at the home of Mrs. Don Decker, vice president, Dec. 8.

Each officer was then presented with a framed picture made by Miss Reed.

Mrs. Smith submitted committee chairmen for the 1990 club year to include Dottie Jeter, program

Modern Dentistry

By Dr. Richard Carver

WHITEN YOUR TEETH

If you have been wanting to lighten the shade of your teeth, the dentist now has available an easy and economical way to do it at home.

For fastest results a custom night guard is made for the patient and the guard is worn at night with the gel. Results have been good in 2-3 weeks.

Another way is simply to mix the paste with the gel in the tray supplied with the kit and brush the teeth. Leave the paste on for several minutes before rinsing. While it is easier, it takes more time to see results.

Most patients have good results whitening mildly discolored teeth. Ordinarily the teeth will lighten about 2-3 shades.

Those patients with severe discoloration such as tetracycline stain will need to use a different method to change the shade of their teeth, such as procelain laminates.

Patients over 30 years of age ordinarily have the best results.

For more information, you may call the office at 592-5141.

Prepared in the interest of making your teeth lighter and your smile brighter.

RETIRED CITY SECRETARY SAYS-

'I haven't had time to be bored'

By MYRNA SMITH

"Bored? I haven't had time to be bored," said former city secretary Ithama Jolley, referring to questions she was asked at her retirement the first of February this year. "I have just enjoyed being free to do the things I want to do," she added.

Since 1954 Mrs. Jolley had worked on a 9 to 5 job, the last 17 years at Iowa Park City Hall. Prior to that she attended Draughon's Business College and was employed by an oil company in Wichita Falls.

"When I went to work for the city, negotiations were just being completed to buy water from Wichita Falls. Miss Dosa Smith, long-time city secretary, was still working part of the time. She took me under her wing and imparted her knowledge on all phases of the city operation--as much as I could absorb. She was a wonderful person," Mrs. Jolley recalled.

When she began working for the city in 1971, the secretary's duties included tax collecting, until 1976 when the school took over assessing and collecting taxes.

Reminiscing some of the more important changes that took place in Iowa Park during her tenure, she said in addition to the completion of the pipeline to Wichita Falls, the new sewage plant opened in about a year. Also the city hall and fire station were enlarged and remodeled and additions were annexed or developed.

She remembers that in 1971 everyone was burning garbage in a barrel in their back yards, then the city acquired landfill property south of town and garbage was put in cans, and finally in large closed containers. So many changes were made from year to year, and now there are very stringent rules and regulations on sewage water disposal and in other areas," Mrs. Jolley said.

Mayors who served during Mrs. Jolley's stint with the city were Dr. Erwin F. Soell, Dr. Gordon G. Clark, Arch Hughes, Johnny Crawford, Charlie Lee, and the current mayor, Tim Hunter.

The unusual name of Ithama has caused her to have to repeat the name and its spelling many times. "In fact," she commented, "the girls in the oil company office just started calling me Mrs. J. and the ones in the city secretary's office followed suit." So, many people know her best as Mrs. J.

Her mother named her Ithama for a girl friend. Mrs. J. says she has never known anyone else with her name, but she has been told that it was the name of a variation of the name of a Greek god. And, her last name might give you a clue to one of her personality traits.

Born on a farm near Childress, Mrs. Jolley moved to Iowa Park in 1962 with her two children and her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. J.A. Cunningham. Always fascinated by old houses, "because each one develops its own personality," Mrs. Jolley purchased the old First Methodist Church parsonage. The house was moved from its original lot to 522 North Park, where it sits almost hidden among several trees.

She has done some extensive refurbishing on the interior of the house, has remodeled the kitchen and modernized it, replaced all of the windows and this year added another bedroom.

A daughter, Karon, lives on her property on Possum Kingdom Lake and works part time at the Lake Store. Her husband was the late Dr. Ralph Rushing, a Wichita Falls orthodontist. A son, Tommy Jolley, lived in Seattle, Wa., and works in the Adjustment Claims Branch of Continental Insurance Co. Mrs. Jolley also has four grandchildren.

In addition to liking old houses, the former city secretary likes antiques, if they hold personal sentiment for her. She is especially proud of a beautiful oak secretary that belonged to her maternal great-grandfather Phoutz, who came from Germany to Alabama. His name changed to Foust when he came to the United States. He later moved from Alabama. A Baptist minister, Mrs. Jolley has a copy of his ordination papers.

She also has a gold rimmed coffee cup of his and his Masonic pin. On the secretary she has a kerosene lamp that belonged to her grandparents and above the secretary hangs a floral pastel that her mother painted when Mrs. J. was a child.

Among other interesting antique pieces handed down in her family are a glass sugar bowl, toothpick holder and plates and some china that were wedding gifts to her mother. She has a wooden butter mold and paddle and several stone crocks that belonged to her mother and grandmother, and a gold band that belonged to a great-great-grandmother. Another treasure she has is a photograph album that belonged to her great-great-grandparents.

One of the first comments this writer heard about Ithama Jolley was, "She sews like a dream." Currently she is making drapes for her daughter's house on the lake. She makes suits, pants, coats, dresses, blouses and skirts -- "or whatever." In the summer she made a T-shirt dress for her granddaughter who works in Dallas. The first day she wore it to work, the girls in her office had her call her grandmother and ask if she would make one for each of them. Mrs. Jolley firmly said, "No, I do not sew for the public and the reason I make clothes for the family is so they will be originals and you won't see one like it everywhere you go."

"I take a basic pattern and then add to it. Some of the clothes I've made for myself that I liked the best were ones I had made a mistake on and had to do completely over in my own style."

A collector of recipes, she says she does those like she does her patterns, from the basic, she adds her own touch. Seldom does she go exactly by a recipe.

Mrs. Jolley admits to being a "pack rat" and says she has such an accumulation of things it will take her 10 years just to get them sorted out and discarded, and to do the things she has waited 35 years to do.

Another of her hobbies is refinishing furniture. She has two saddle-back trunks that her grandparents brought from Alabama that she wants to redo as soon as she catches up. She recently completed refinishing a dining room suit that attests to her proficiency in that hobby.

In addition to trying to get caught up doing the things she wants to around the house, she also runs errands for neighbors if they need help.

Mrs. J. says philosophically, "Another door has been opened for me and I'm going through and enjoying every minute of it."

As I See It...

By BOB HAMILTON

Bolstered by their enthusiasm to provide the best education possible, at the lowest cost to the taxpayers, some of our school administrators made a mistake in judgement, and they are working to correct it. And when anybody tells me he was wrong and wants to do right, I'll take his word every time.

Many of you might not know about an effort of our two elementary schools to obtain computers, after their requests for the machines were cut from this year's budget. Let me tell you about it, starting from the beginning. The Skaggs Alpha Beta stores, wherever they are, have a promotion worked out to give each school that turns in $80,000 worth of its stores' sales slips an Apple computer. It's a good deal. The company sent a promotion package, apparently to each of the Regional Service Centers in Texas, and they, like Region Nine in Wichita Falls, distributed it to all the schools in their territories. Our people got the package, including a sample letter that could be copied and sent out to the parents of the students. And it was, from both Kidwell and Bradford elementaries. Our teachers were very enthusiastic about it, because they wanted those computers for their students. But the problem arose, first of all, when there is no Skaggs Alpha Beta store in the Iowa Park school district. Not one to pay its share of the taxes it takes to operate the local campuses. And the provided letter was copied, without any editing. Apparently written by the Skaggs advertising department, one line in the script stated, "All we have to do is shop at Skaggs Alpha Beta and save the cash-register tapes." Well, when those letters reached the homes, especially those of local business people, it hit the fan. The phones started ringing.

Worth Quoting

In Austin, our legislators went into a 30-day special session to try again to reform the state's current worker's compensation crisis. It's a knotty problem involving lots of blame on business, workers, lawyers, doctors, insurance companies, and health care providers. But to us, the problem is best summed up by the testimony by the president of a boat building manufacturer. Ernest J. Schmidt is president of Glastron, Inc., a Texas-based company, located in New Braunfels which manufactures recreational fiberglass power boats from 16 feet to 33 feet in length. He testified before a Senate subcommittee in April. "In 1984, we opened a second boat-manufacturing facility in Fair Bluff, North Carolina. Today, our two boat-facilities are almost a mirror image of each other," Schmidt testified. "Both plants are 200,000 square feet in size, both make the same products, both employ the same number of direct and indirect hourly employees, 132 in North Carolina and 154 in Texas, and both plants use the same equipment in their handling and manufacturing processes. "In essence, you can say that Glastron offers an ideal comparison of worker's compensation rates, expenses and reserves between the two states. Today, from a budget standpoint, over 93 percent of our total worker's comp expenditures and reserves are set aside for expenses relative to our Texas plant. "Based on an analysis of our costs between July 1, 1987 and Feb. 28, 1989, the average claim in Texas costs $5,998 and in North Carolina $536. "Glastron has had to increase its reserves by $248,900 strictly to cover estimated worker's comp expense claims at our Texas plant while at the same time, increasing our reserves by only $2,432 to cover the same number of employees at our North Carolina plant. Now listen to what the man had to say about costs: "Today, for every boat I manufacture in Texas, $196.08 of each boat's cost is directly a result of worker's comp expense. For every boat we manufacture in North Carolina, $12.86 is directly related to the same costs. "The point is, if Glastron made the decision to close our Texas plant and move all production to North Carolina, our profit would improve by over a quarter of a million dollars, automatically. "And that's the reason a crisis exists in Texas over worker's comp. JAMES ROBERTS Andrews County News plant because of its workers' comp problems. Chicago-based Rymer Foods, Inc. recently announced it will build a $40-million poultry center in Madill, Okla., that will employ 1,500 workers. Charles R. Trego, Jr., Rymer's chief financial officer, said Oklahoma was selected after a four-state search that did not include northern Texas. "We did not look to northern Texas," Trego was quoted. "What scared us was the high cost of doing business, especially workers' comp." Texas will also lose 4,000 acres of onion production this next season because of the state's workers' comp insurance and the right-to-know pesticide law. Othel Brand Sr., the mayor of McAllen and a vegetable-farming magnate in the Rio Grande Valley and West Texas, said these were just the first cuts and that more will be made. Brand said he has moved some operations to Mexico and New Mexico and is thinking about moving some business to Arizona to find a more favorable business climate. The loss of jobs in this state is not a "business" issue, but a Texas issue and one matter that must be addressed and resolved quickly. When the lawmakers begin trying to solve the problem that is killing our already sluggish economy, pay close attention to our elected representatives and how they represent us in Austin. If our representatives take the "statesman" attitude and approach the issue for the betterment of the state -- repay them with your vote next election. However, if they take the "politician" approach and do not realistically try to solve the problem and weaken under the heavy pressure of the lobbyists -- repay them with a vote for their opponent next election. It is time for the statesmen to rise to the top and the politicians to stay home. RICK CRAIG Hamlin Herald columns and actual events. At the South Jetty our policy is to publish all the letters we receive. We do not pick and choose to publish only those letters that are agreeable to our own opinions. But there are strings attached. We will not publish a letter without a signature. No signature means no responsibility, and we feel anyone with the courage of their convictions should accept the responsibility for their opinions. No exceptions. All letters must include, besides the signature, a valid mailing address and a day time telephone number where the writer can be reached. These should be put on the letter itself, not just the envelope. The telephone number is particularly important because it is often necessary to discuss libelous content with a writer. We do edit letters for libel. We are responsible for every aspect of the newspaper, from editorials to news stories, advertisements and letters. We will not knowingly publish anything containing libelous material. When a letter arrives that is libelous, we call the writer and ask that it be rephrased to eliminate the libel. The only letters we have not published are those we have found to be without valid signatures and addresses (and that has happened!), those without signatures, and those without enough information to contact the writer about libelous content. Now that we understand each other, go ahead, express yourself. MARY JUDSON Port Aransas South Jetty

Letters to the Editor

Praises Hawks

Dear Editor: I wish to express my admiration for this year's IPHS football team and its efforts on the field. These young men are truly "Number One". Their hard work, tenacity, and valor are to be esteemed. The last game is a great example of character and courage. They stayed in the game and gave their best despite being outmaneuvered and outweighed. Using the printed program as a source, Vernon fielded 18% more players with 17% weighing over 200 pounds and only 4% weighing less than 150 pounds. The HAWKS had 15% over 200 pounds and 30% under 150 pounds. Vernon was able to constantly send in fresh troops. The HAWKS consistently kept hanging in there. The season was a successful one and the Cheerleaders, Spirit Team, Mascot, and Band all contributed to the spirit. We are proud of our students and want them to know they in no way let us down. This has been a people need to keep the momentum and support the rest of the sports and activities throughout the remainder of this year. WERE PROUD OF YOU HAWKS, OUR TEAM IS NUMBER ONE!!! Mrs. DeWayne (Gay) Williams patch was the center of Dave's world. It was the knowledge gained during those years that enabled Dave and other Iowa Parkans such as Ricky Sidlauskas to work in the oil industry abroad. I've heard Ricky talk about his times overseas. Unfortunately, none of us will be privy to Dave's exploits. Dave Dyer was the kind of guy who would sacrifice everything to help a friend, and his friends would return the favor at a moment's notice. That was evidenced by Sidlauskas when he dropped everything he was doing to fly to Bangkok and assist Dave's brother, Daryl. Ricky's actions are to be highly commended. I kind of like to think the way we were raised in Iowa Park has been reflected in Ricky's actions. And it's nice to know Ricky as a friend, too. Most importantly, Dave Dyer's life and the way he lived it is what should be remembered today. For those of us honored by his friendship, it was a testimonial to all that is positive and productive in relation. I will miss him, Sincerely, Kevin Hamilton

Call it protectionism, if you wish, but any local business, regardless of what it sells, will object to any notes sent home suggesting the parents should shop at a competing store.....especially if it is in another town as close as Wichita Falls. Some feelings were smashed. The idea flies in the face of all who promote "Shop Iowa Park First." It is in direct opposition to the work of our Chamber of Commerce, which is a major supporter of our schools. When the problem was pointed out to the administrators, they reached the decision immediately that they had goofed. And they admitted it. home, via the students. Let me quote to you the one Ron Woods, Kidwell principal, has prepared: "Sometimes, in our enthusiasm to improve our schools educational potential we overlook the possible effect that our endeavor could have in the world outside our educational confines. "In plain words we 'goof' sometimes. "After reviewing the program and letter, which I endorsed, asking you to save the register receipts from Skaggs Alpha Beta to get a computer, I feel that the program is not beneficial to our business community and our 'Shop Iowa Park First' program. Therefore, I am requesting that you do in fact shop in Iowa Prk and do not save the Skaggs Alpha Beta receipts for Kidwell Elementary as we will not pursue the program. "We appreciate the good rapport we have always had with our business community and we did not intend for the program to distract from our local business pursuits. "We are looking at another plan to purchase a computer for our school," Woods said. The board of trustees will, in fact, take action on purchasing a computer for both campuses when it meets tonight. "Nuff said.

Dutton was not at the meeting, later explaining he misunderstood the date of the meeting. The council decided to discuss the issue further with Dutton before making the final decision. All such records have been kept in the county clerk's office. On another split vote, council members approved nomination of Don Kirkham of Wichita Falls as a 9-1-1 district board member. Mercer's nomination of Derrell Roddy of Electra died for lack of a second. Mercer then voted against Kirkham's nomination. Similar votes are required by the councils of all municipalities in the district. D'lane Alderman was recognized as the city's employee of the month. A proclamation declaring "Youth Awareness Week" was read by Mayor Hunter. No action was taken following an executive session, closed to the public, concerning "pending or contemplated litigation or settlement offers and purchase of real property."

Remembers Dyer Dear Editor, Thanks for getting the story out concerning Dave Dyer in last week's issue. The space you devoted to the tragic typhoon around Taiwan was as much or more than the major papers managed in a solid week. Dave was a good friend of mine, as he was to other Iowa Parkans. His sudden departure leaves all of us very much grieved. It's not every day that a person moves into a tightly-knit, prideful town as Iowa Park and wins acceptance, respect and trust as quickly as Dave did. I remember him living each day as possibly his last, making the best of every situation he encountered, making everybody laugh. It was his thirst for living that was infectious to others, and people enjoyed being around Dave almost as much as he liked being around them. Dave found work in the oil patch after high school. Like so many others in Iowa Park during the drilling boom of the late 70s, the oil

Lions drop Hawks in finale
Iowa Park winds up in tie for second place

A 12-minute period Friday night brought the 1989 football season to a screeching halt for Iowa Park, and ended an otherwise outstanding season for the Hawks with seven wins and three losses.

The Vernon Lions scored four touchdowns during the third quarter of the final regular season game, and handed the Hawks their worst defeat of the year, 48-14. Vernon's depth to keep fresh players on the field, and speed to get outside the defense was the main difference in the final 24 minutes.

The Hawks had held their own during the first half, and trailed by only seven points, 14-7, when the two teams went to the dressing room for the mid-game rest period.

The Mean Green defense had bent under the relentless charges of Vernon's speedy backs, but had forced three turnovers to hold the Lions out of the end zone three of their five possessions in the two opening periods.

Vernon, playing its reserves in the fourth quarter, managed to match Iowa Park's scoring.

The Lions needed only 39 yards to score on their first possession. Iowa Park drew a five-yard penalty when receiving the opening kickoff, setting the Hawks back on their own nine. Unable to pick up a first down, Jimmy Duggins was forced to punt from his own 16. The ball hit the leg of a Hawk covering the punt, and it bounced backward to the Iowa Park 39.

Vernon needed only three plays to score, with the capping play covering 18 yards around right end.

The Lions' successful extra point may have been an omen of what was to come. The kick was low, and was tipped by one of Iowa Park's defenders. But instead of the ball falling harmlessly to the ground, it was given enough height by the tip to narrowly clear the crossbar, and Vernon led 7-0.

Iowa Park didn't take long to answer, however. Bunkie Imboden returned the kickoff to the Hawk 24. Marc Cruz skirted left end 20 yards, and a Lion drew a 15-yard penalty on the play, setting up the next play on the Vernon 41-yard line.

Duggins' pass to Bruce Palmer was a high floater to about the 10 yard line. Two Lions were covering the speedy split end. They didn't see the ball floating down, short of its mark. But Palmer did. He leaped high to snag the ball, and the two defenders were trying to stop their momentum when the senior Hawk hit the ground and scampered untouched across the goal line.

Kelly McClure's kick tied the score, less than a minute of playing time after Vernon's initial touchdown.

A short kickoff set the Lions up on their own 38 yard line. Two plays advanced the ball to the Hawk 31. The third play covered only two yards, but it likely had a direct effect on the rest of the game for the Hawks.

MARC CRUZ PICKS UP BLOCKING FOR 13-YARD GAIN

With 6:51 remaining in the first quarter, senior middle linebacker Jimmy Nicholson limped off the field. The 200-pounder's high school football career was ended, because he was out for the rest of the game.

Vernon scored two plays later, but the extra point kick failed. That was all the scoring for the next 21 minutes of playing time, by either team.

The Hawks appeared to be well on their way to evening the score, or at least tying it, on their next possession. But the drive died on the Lion 31 when Duggins faked a fourth down punt but couldn't complete a pass to retain possession.

All three times Vernon had the ball in the second quarter, the Lions turned over the ball to the alert mean Green defense. The hosts had driven to the Hawks' 40 early in the period, but a pass was intercepted by Gary Green.

On their next drive, the Lions were on the Hawk seven yard line. They tried to pass for the score, but Palmer was waiting in the end zone, and made his ninth interception of the season.

Then, on Vernon's third possession, the Lions were on the Hawk 35 and driving, but a fumble was covered by linebacker Chuck Brown. That was his seventh opponents' fumble steal of the year.

Iowa Park scored with 1:05 remaining in the game. Vernon had driven to the Hawks' 31 yard line, but lacked two yards for a first down, turning over possession to the hungry Hawks.

On the first play, Duggins hit Cruz about 10 yards down field. The senior tailback cut to the left sidelines, and tightroped the stripe 69 yards to end his career with a touchdown. McClure's kick was true.

Vernon ran out the clock after the kickoff.

The Lion defense did the same thing it did to the running game of both Decatur and Graham. They shut the Hawks down to only 60 net yards. Matthew Blackman carried 12 times for 41 yards, and Cruz had 39 yards on nine carries.

Duggins completed 12 of 13 pass attempts for 202 yards and both touchdowns. The other pass completion was thrown by Palmer to Cruz, for 53 yards. Cruz caught three passes for the night, for 130 yards. Palmer caught six for 97, Blackman two for 11, and Imboden and Stephen Brown had one catch apiece for seven and 10 yards, respectively.

Lady Hawks open basketball season

The basketball season officially opens tonight, when the Lady Hawks take on Henrietta. That game will be preceded by freshman and junior varsity games, with the first starting at 4:30 p.m. The Hawks will open their regular junior varsity travel to Archer City. In a scrimmage Saturday afternoon, the Lady Hawks defeated Holiday 66-36 and the JV won 43-19. They won't have any time for rest after tonight's game, however, as the girls' teams will host Burk Burnett Friday night. The teams also will travel Tuesday to Archer City, according to the schedule. The Lady Hawks have 10 games before opening Dist. 5-AAA play Jan. 5 at Bowie. The Hawks have nine games and three tournaments on their schedule in advance of the Jan. 12 district opener at Graham.

Chamber election Monday

New officers of the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce will be elected during the organization's annual all-membership luncheon Monday. The meeting is to begin at 12-noon in the Lions Club Building, 102 West Cash. All members planning to attend are asked to make reservations for the meal by calling the Chamber office, 592-5441. Cost of the meal is $6.50.

Two representatives from the Burk Burnett Chamber of Commerce will be on the program, explaining how that organization succeeds in its membership drive each year, as well as holding profitable fund raisers. The two will be Marilyn Rugles and Don Freeman. Officers elected during the business session will be installed at the annual Chamber banquet in January.

JV finishes season strong

By BRUCE PALMER
Though the Hawk Junior Varsity started its season slow, they finished in style. After the first district game, the team found itself at 0-6. The Hawks then turned their season around, blowing out their next four opponents to tie for the district JV championship. The Hawks claimed their final victory Thursday, when they beat Vernon 30-15. Iowa Park used a balanced offensive attack and capitalized on four turnovers. The Hawks had 195 yards on the ground and 119 in the air. The team's first points came when Greg Steger scored from two yards out. Robert Denton passed to Jeremy Carroll for the conversion. Steger then intercepted a Lion pass to set up his second touchdown, a 16-yard pass reception. J'Bill Merrick recovered a Lion fumble on the Lions' 29. Iowa Park wasted no time, as Denton passed to Jason Young on the first play for the score. The Hawks blew the game wide open as Denton scored on an eighty-yard run, just before the halftime, making the score 30-7. Justin Goodknight and Chad Reis played good defensive games, both recovering fumbles to stop Vernon drives. Vernon scored its final eight points with only three seconds left in the game. The JV finished the season with a 4-6 record, but 4-1 in district.

Frosh beat Vernon

By BRUCE PALMER
The Hawk Freshmen won a close battle Thursday night in Hawk Stadium to close out the season. Iowa Park beat Vernon 14-7 to claim the district runners-up position. Iowa Park had just over 300 yards total offense. Mark De la Rosa put the team up by six on a 12-yard first-half run. Iowa Park took its lead to the dressing room at the half. However, the Lions jumped up early in the third quarter with a touchdown and extra point, to lead 7-6. The Hawks fought back with a 12-play, 85-yard drive capped off by a Chris Williams' 20-yard run. Then the Frosh tacked on a two-point conversion to end the scoring. Patrick Kennedy and Scott Mc-

Neely did an excellent job in holding the Lions' running game, while Jason Miller shut down the air attack and had an interception. The Freshmen finished their season 5-5 overall, and 4-1 in district.

Sports

Iowa Park will host a Class A bi-district football game next week, if the two teams contacted win their games this week. It would be between Spur and Valley View. Two other teams also are considering Hawk Stadium, Munday and Era. The games possibly would be played on Friday and Saturday nights, according to Len Williams, Iowa Park athletic director.

Funeral arrangements for Dyer are pending

Funeral arrangements are pending for Dave Dyer, the 1977 graduate of Iowa Park High School who was aboard a drilling ship that capsized Nov. 4 in the Gulf of Thailand. Dyer's body was taken Wednesday to Bangkok after being found in the ocean, the same day his father, brother and friend, Ricky Sidlauskas, arrived by airplane in that country. The 351-foot drilling ship Seacrest was capsized when struck by a typhoon. Dyer and six other Americans were part of the ship's crew of 97, according to reports.

Dist. 5-AAA champion Vernon will take on Breckenridge at 7:30 Saturday night in Wichita Falls Memorial Stadium. Decatur, which shared the runner-up slot in the district with Iowa Park but advanced because of the Eagles' win over the Hawks, will play Springtown at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Fouts Field. Gainesville and Frisco will meet Friday on Clark Field in Plano.
