INSTRUCTOR WILLIAM McDONALD AND STUDENT CLINTON JONES
... demonstrate martial art training and technique.

Confidence, discipline gained with training

by KARI COLLINS

When most people think of the martial arts, they think of those involved as having a "leave no survivors" attitude.

When Clinton Jones speaks of the martial arts, however, it is something totally different.

Jones, a 17-year-old senior at Iowa Park High School, looks at martial arts as not only a means of defending himself, but as a way of life.

Clinton became interested in martial arts at the age of 12, when he began his first lessons. He is presently taking personal instruction in Korean Tae Kwon-Do from William McDonald, a first degree black belt, who hopes to open a studio in Iowa Park.

Since he began his training, he has taken it seriously enough to put in about five miles of running each day, frequently stretches to keep him agile, and watches what he eats, including no sugar and as little red meat as possible which is no easy task in the fast food age.

Jones is now in training to prepare for tournaments. McDonald says many people have a distorted view of some forms of the martial arts. "Movies give martial arts a bad name," he said.

True, martial arts movies are usually big box office hits, but most seem to concentrate mainly on the violence.

Literally translated, Tae Kwon-

Do, a defensive form of martial arts, means "to smash with hand or foot." Japanese Karate, on the other hand, is an offensive form. Jones says that the main objective in Tae Kwon-Do is to be able to defend your body in any situation, which includes never starting a fight and trying to walk away from one whenever possible.

But when talking your way out of the fight doesn't work, Jones says that a person trained in Tae Kwon-Do should try to get away with as few blows as possible. If that doesn't work, debilitation would be next, and only as a last resort, killing the other person, but only if your life was in grave danger.

If that situation sounds threatening, it should. But that situation is rare.

A white belt in Tae Kwon-Do, Jones admits that he got into martial arts training mainly for show, but as he grew up he realized the positive effect it had on his life.

The benefits of Tae Kwon-Do, which Jones says offers the most discipline of all the forms, have been enormous for him. As well as self-defense, it builds self-confidence, concentration, coordination, agility, flexibility, and physical conditioning. It also promotes weight loss.

Clinton said it also gives him something to do with his time, gives him confidence in dealing with people and keeps him mentally and physically alert.

Another misconception of the martial arts is that a person must be muscle-bound to be good. This isn't necessarily true. Most martial arts rely on motion instead of strength in self-defense.

Tae Kwon-Do will be a demo sport in the 1988 Olympics for the first time in Seoul, South Korea.

Getting an okay from his parents to participate in Tae Kwon-Do was no problem as long as he kept up with school work, and he has. He said they also stress the discipline training along with the physical training.

In school, he is a second-year member of the A Cappella Choir and active in the drama department. After high school he plans on staying in the martial arts and opening a school of his own.

Jones said, "My main goal right now is to be able to teach (Tae Kwon-Do) and to keep active in this as long as is physically possible."

In his spare time, he enjoys running, stretching and spending time with his girlfriend and friends. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Jones.

Jones said the best advice ever given to him was from an instructor who said, "Always devote your thoughts to love and your actions to kindness."

Jones, who appears to be very happy and at peace with himself, seems to have taken heed to that advice.

Four classes to reunite this weekend

What started out as a Class of '67 reunion has turned into a "late 60's" gathering, this weekend in the Sheraton Hotel in Wichita Falls.

The '67 Class received so many requests from the Classes of '65, '66 and '68, that a joint gathering is now on the schedule.

Each class will have separate socials Friday evening, but Saturday will be joint gathering. Classmates and their families will spend the afternoon, 1-5, around the swimming pool.

The evening's events will begin with cocktails at 7 in the Sheraton Ballroom, and will be followed by a dinner at which former principal Bob Dawson will be the guest speaker.

A dance will follow.

Presidents of the four classes to reunite are: Robert Watson, '67; Robert Dawson, '66; Barry Jackson, '68; and Jerry McDonald, '65.

Chairpersons for the reunion are Linda Sawyer Drissel, '67; Judy Holmes Gilbreth, '65; Denny McCarthy, '66, and Allen Shewmake, '68.

Leader prints issue day early

The Leader is being printed a day early this week, in order to allow some members of the staff to attend the summer convention of the Texas Press Association.

While the issue carries its regular Thursday dateline, it was actually printed Tuesday night for distribution through the mails to subscribers on Wednesday.

The paper will return to its regular deadlines next week.

1.80 rainfall measured during past two weeks

Iowa Park received .45 of an inch precipitation during the past week, according to Virgil Woodfin. The observer also said he measured 1.35 the previous week.

Two arrested on warrants

As has been the case each week for several months, persons wanted on warrants from law agencies other than here were arrested by Iowa Park Police.

Robert Alfred Doyle, 54, was arrested Sunday morning at Bell and East Highway on a warrant from Santa Barbara Calif. sheriff's department.

Doyle, according to the blotter, was wanted on warrants for probation revoked and auto theft. He was turned over to a Wichita County deputy for transport to jail.

Saturday morning, police took Jimmy Ray Davis, 26, into custody in the 1000 block of N. Pacific on warrants issued by Wichita County.

The warrants were for possession of marijuana, criminal mischief and unauthorized use of motor vehicle.

He was turned over to a deputy.

Albert Rogers Carpenter, 76, was taken into custody at 9:55 p.m. Thursday in the 800 block of East Highway and charged with public intoxication. His car was also impounded. He was released after posting a bond of $112.50, according to the police blotter.

A local woman reported an incident of indecent exposure Thursday evening. The woman was walking for exercise when a man, estimated in his 50s, pulled alongside her, exposed himself, and invited her into the vehicle, according to the blotter. Police continue their investigation.

Two male juveniles were released to their parents after being taken into custody at 9:20 p.m. Saturday while driving a vehicle without a license.

City quits policy of brush hauling

The city is no longer in the business of hauling brush for residents.

Citing cost, continuous complaints, lack of cooperation and lack of manpower, the council Monday night approved a proposal to put an end to the policy.

The city's policy for a number of years has been for residents to call in a notice to city hall that brush was stacked in their alley, and city workers would, on the last Friday of each month, pick it up.

The situation has evolved to a point where the list grew longer and more brush available than a crew could pick up in one day. Consequently, a part of the list would be carried over until the following month.

This created complaints, but to handle it any other way would have meant additional overtime charges or hiring more personnel, aldermen were told.

Alderman Bud Mercer said the city would still have a problem, with the new policy, because people would continue to stack brush in the allies and put it in dumpsters.

Mike Price, director of public works, said, in response to a question of the cost of picking up brush each week, that every water bill would have to be increased 50 to 75 cents per month.

Alderman Bud Burch, who made the motion to stop picking up brush, pointed out that numerous classified advertisements each week in the Iowa Park Leader indicate there are several people wanting work who would do the hauling for people, so it could be done on a commercial basis.

The vote was unanimous. Administrator James Barrington said the city will honor the list still on hand, but after that was completed the city would no longer pick up brush to haul to the landfill.

In other business, the council appointed a new municipal judge, accepted a bid to rebuild some streets, approved an amended contract for employee insurance, okayed a proposal to seek a state grant and directed the city administrator and attorney to renegotiate the contract with owners of land on which the sanitary landfill is located.

Aldermen decided to permit the police to continue their policy of assisting citizens who had locked their keys in their cars, and took no action on a change of water contract with Sereno Lago housing area.

And the city will assist in a trial "farmers market" project in July.

The council declared the position of municipal judge "abandoned" by Wichita Falls attorney G.A. Benesh, who has held that position since 1978, and appointed another Wichita Falls attorney, Dan Tompkins, to the post.

Tompkins is a former assistant district attorney and has served as a municipal judge for Wichita Falls.

Asphalt pavement will be replaced with concrete on Victoria from East Highway to Cash, Ruby from Victoria to Texowa, and Third Street from West Highway to Magnolia.

Lowest of four bids received on the project was submitted by McGrath Bros. Concrete, $105,630, which aldermen said was extremely low. Highest bid was $169,352, and the next lowest bid was some $6,000 higher than McGrath's.

Aldermen agreed to continue insurance coverage for employees with Blue Cross, and accepted a five-percent increase in cost.

A resolution needed for submitting for a grant from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept. to build a boat ramp at Lake Iowa Park.

Price explained the grant, if approved, would pay 75 percent of the estimated cost of $13,000, with the balance funded by the city.

Future major repairs to the ramp, which would be built at the site of the present ramp, would be paid for by the state, and in return, the city agrees to pick up trash, mow and otherwise maintain the area.

Following a 42-minute executive meeting, the council approved a recommendation made by Mayor Tim Hunter that the administrator and attorney be authorized to renegotiate the contract where the landfill is located with the owner, Mrs. Myrtle Karstetter.

The contract provides that the city can develop only a five-acre tract at a time, and problems in complying with state regulations have made the contract limits unworkable.

Earlier in the meeting, aldermen were informed that the state is about to begin fining the city $900 a day until the landfill is brought into compliance with state regulations.

However, Hunter and others who met with state officials in the spring said the pressure was undue, that the city was meeting the deadlines approved in the meeting, and they did not feel the threat was just.

Admitting a new landfill pit is the new area is not within the limits of the city's contract with the land owner.

To build a pit required by the state, complete with a clay wall lining and size needed, the pit will be approximately five acres in size and cost approximately $100,000.

However, the pit will be needed even if the city decides to turn to incineration. The pit's lifespan would extend from one year to five years, if incineration is adopted.

Barrington reported on his meeting with Cryovac officials and technicians, concerning accepting waste from the plant and selling steam made from the incineration to the plant for energy.

The talk proved "very encouraging," he said.

At the request of a citizen, the council approved setting up a "farmers market" area on a one-time trial basis.

Date was not set, but it is expected to be July 11. Sites discussed were the parking lot across Wall from city hall, and the city hall park.

Native Iowa Parkan nominee for Oklahoma 'Teacher of the Year'

An Iowa Park native is competing for the title of Oklahoma Teacher of the Year.

Sheri Brooks Jeter has been named Teacher of the Year at Ft. Towson High School in Fort Towson, Okla., located in the southeastern part of the state.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Edyth Brooks and the late Lester Brooks of Iowa Park, and the wife of Jimmie Jeter.

Mrs. Jeter was graduated from Midwestern Univ. with Magna Cum Laude honors and Who's Who in Education. She earned her Master's degree from Southeastern Oklahoma State Univ. at Durant.

The first of her 20 years teaching experience was as a student teacher in the Wichita Falls system. Following that she taught art and science at Huey Elementary four years before moving to Oklahoma.

In order for a teacher to be selected teacher of the year, one must be outstanding in a variety of teaching endeavors as well as active in other areas related to the field.

She is credited with starting the Choctaw County Science Fair and is recognized for teaching environmental hazards and how they can be prevented.

Other than instructing science, she directs the gifted and talented program at both the junior and senior high schools of Fort Towson, and is available to play piano for commencement and other school programs.

Her philosophy about teaching is:

* To revive the dead art of goal setting for ideals are like stars; we never reach them but we chart our course by them.

* To know each student, where he's coming from, when he's hurting, how he learns best. We are what our past experiences make us. In the scientific learning hierarchy I must know where the student is

SHERI BROOKS JETER

* To then teach so that all students learn regardless of learning disabilities, emotional problems, I.Q., or unhappy homes.

* To provide rich learning experiences I teach via the lab method with sometimes three labs weekly. Piaget has said that a child learns only what he experiences. May I never become JUST a book teacher.

Cook of the Week

Harvest time in the garden usually means canning time in the kitchen. At least that's the case for Tracy (Mrs. Brent) Catlin, Cook of the Week.

Tracy and her husband of four years, Brent, worked together harvesting this year's crop of fresh green beans, corn, blackeyed peas and squash. "He raises them and I can them," she said.

She enjoys canning, but with their nine-month-old son, Chris, she said this year's endeavor has been quite a trick.

Tracy, a housewife, said that being a mother and the responsibility of the house is a full-time job, so finding time to cook, or can, is difficult.

Mrs. Catlin, the former Tracy Hale, is a graduate of Iowa Park High School and attended Midwestern State Univ.

Brent works for Catlin Drilling and farms wheat and cotton at their home in Valley View.

The couple are members of Christ the King Catholic Church where they are youth directors for Teens For Christ and she is a lector in the church, a Eucharistic Minister and Parish Council secretary.

In what spare time she might have, Tracy enjoys crafts and sewing.

GRANNY MOER'S DILL PICKLES

1. Soak washed cucumbers in a salt brine using 1 cup salt to 1 gallon water 4 to 6 hours.
2. Drain cucumbers.
3. Bring to a boil:
 - 1 cup Heinz white vinegar (5% acidity)
 - 1 cup water
 - 1/3 cup sugar
4. Fill jars with hot water. Soak lids in hot water.
5. Empty jars as needed, placing a head of dill in bottom of each jar.
6. Drop only 5 or 6 cucumbers in boiling vinegar solution at a time, leaving them only a few seconds. Do not boil cucumbers as they will be soft instead of crisp.
7. Pack in hot jars -- a few at a time. When jar is full add another head of dill. Fill with boiling vinegar solution and seal.

BEEF BRISKET

- 1 beef brisket
 - 3/4 cup Worcestershire sauce
 - 1/4 cup liquid smoke
- Salt and pepper brisket to taste. Cover with liquid. Marinate covered in the refrigerator 24 hours. Bake at 250 degrees (covered) 9 hours.

STRAWBERRY AND CREAM PIE

- Crust:
- 1 cup corn flake crumbs
 - 1/3 cup melted butter
 - 1/3 cup sugar
- Combine ingredients and pat into bottom of pie pan.
- Filling:
- 1 pint strawberries (or other desired fruit)

Mrs. Brent Catlin and Chris

- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 pkg. Knox gelatin
- 1 pint whipping cream
- 2 Tbs. sugar

Slice strawberries in separate bowl and add 1/2 cup sugar. Thoroughly dissolve Knox gelatin in 1/2 cup water on medium heat on the stove. Pour over strawberries and set aside. Whip cream thoroughly adding 2 Tbs. sugar in the process.

Add strawberry mixture to whipped cream and pour into corn flake crumb crust. Chill until firm.

BBQ SAUSAGE

- 2 Pkg. Polish sausage
- 1 jar Woody's Cooking Sauce
- 3 jars ketchup (use cooking sauce jar for measure)

Cut sausage into 1-inch pieces. Cover in sauce and ketchup and simmer in slow cooker 2-3 hours.

PEANUT BUTTER BALLS

- 1 stick butter (melted, 1/2 cup)
- 2 cups peanut butter
- 3 cups Rice Crispies
- 3 1/2 cups powdered sugar
- 1 1/2 tsp. vanilla
- 1-12 oz. pkg. chocolate chips
- 1/4 bar parafin wax

Mix peanut butter, powdered sugar, vanilla, and Rice Crispies in large bowl. Add butter. Form into balls. Melt chocolate chips and wax in double boiler. Keeping the chocolate hot, dip peanut butter balls in chocolate mixture. Place on wax paper and cool.

SWEET POTATO PUFFS

- 5 or 6 fresh sweet potatoes
 - 1/4 cup butter
 - 1/2 cup sugar
 - 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
 - 1 pkg. large marshmallows
 - Corn flake crumbs
 - 1 pkg. small marshmallows
- Peel and boil sweet potatoes until tender. Drain and season with butter, sugar and cinnamon, mash well. Form sweet potato mixture around individual large marshmallows. Roll balls in corn flake crumbs. Place small marshmallow on top and bake in baking dish at 350 10-15 minutes.

CARAMEL CHEWS

- 28 Kraft caramels
- 3 Tbs. margarine
- 2 Tbs. water
- 1-3 oz. can chow mein noodles

Topping:
1-6oz. pkg. semi-sweet chocolate pieces.
2 Tbs. water

Melt caramels with margarine and water in saucepan over low heat. Stir occasionally until sauce is smooth. Add noodles; toss until well coated. Drop by rounded teaspoonfuls onto greased cookie sheet. Melt chocolate pieces with water in saucepan over low heat. Top chews with melted chocolate and chill until firm.

Church workers recognized

Approximately 100 friends and church members honored Miss Grace Churchman and Miss Florence Battle following the Sunday night worship service at the Iowa Park Church of God in recognition of over 50 years of dedicated service to the church.

During the special program, Mrs. Darlene Cope, Johnnie Lee and Jerald Brown reminisced of their days growing up in the church under the guidance of the two women.

Miss Churchman, a 53-year member of the church, served as leader of the Young People's Endeavor, which held a weekly service specifically for the youth of the church, 30 years. During that time, she began to substitute as Sunday School secretary which turned into a 40-year job which she still holds. She also taught a Junior Sunday School class several years.

Miss Churchman joined the church Nov. 3, 1933, while she was a student at Valley View High School where she was graduated with valedictory honors in 1937.

Miss Battle began attending services of the church in 1936 and joined the church in 1941. She has assisted Miss Churchman in her YPE work and secretarial duties. She taught an adult Sunday School class for six years and the junior boys' class. She has served more than 20 years as church clerk and still maintains that position.

Miss Battle attended Valley View High School until 1937 when she moved to Iowa Park where she graduated from high school in 1939.

Mrs. Robert Fletcher, who helped arrange the party, paid tribute to the two women for their help with many graduation parties for seniors, and baby and bridal shower through the years.

Refreshments were served and the honorees were presented a shower of gifts in appreciation.

Nutrena Show Awards program is an ongoing program designed to reward students for jobs well done and create interest in animal feeding, stock showing and Nutrene Feeds. This program was started in 1983 with a great deal of success.

If a student wins Grand or Reserve Champion at any level, the student will receive a check and a Nutrena Show Awards jacket. This program gives each student something to strive for, other than the premium sale, and is a yearly tradition at the County Show.

Garden Club meeting ends year's activities

Twenty-one members of the Iowa Park Garden Club and three guests, Mmes. Chauncey Weiler, Gene Young and James Dyer, attended a covered dish salad luncheon at Tom Burnett Memorial Library for the organization's last meeting of the year.

The hostesses were Mmes. Dorwin Wooten, Robert Illingworth and Billy C. Gilmore.

The serving table was covered with a hand-crocheted cloth over peach satin and centered with a basket of assorted spring flowers arranged by Mrs. Gilmore. The members and guests ate at tables decorated with pink, orchid, and yellow streamers and white Shasta Daisies, and the place favors were pink satin and lace rose-scented sashets made by Mrs. David Davis.

During a short business meeting, members answered roll call with a place that they would like to visit, and Mrs. R.L. Good gave the thought for the day.

Mrs. Don Decker gave members questionnaires to fill out concerning next year's programs, workshops and field trips. Mrs. Don Owens, treasurer, reported on the National Calendar Sales for 1988, collected orders for the calendars and dues for the 1987-88 year.

Mrs. Vernon Gilbert installed officers for 1987-88 and gave each of them a pair of pastel-colored hand-made glasses to depict her duties while in office. The vice-president's pair had been glued all across the top to emphasize that she will be as busy as a bee this summer organizing and printing the yearbook.

Those installed were: Mmes. Bernice Compton, president; Don Decker, vice-president; Robert Illingworth, recording secretary; Oscar Wells, corresponding secretary; Don Owens, treasurer; Billy C. Gilmore, historian.

Mrs. Compton presented Mrs. Jimmy Gilmore, outgoing president, with a plaque of recognition.

Twirlers earn honors at state

Two area twirlers earned honors at the National Baton Twirling Association 1987 Texas State Championship Contest held in Greenville recently.

Tracie Gunter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Gunter, placed fifth in pageant modeling, second in military march, and third in both X-strut and solo. In the rating division, she placed first in X-strut and second in solo.

Denissa Weyant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Denny Weyant, received second in X-strut and third in parade majorette. In the rating division, she placed first in solo and second in X-strut.

Both twirlers are students of Judy Stallcup. Miss Gunter, 13, will be a freshman at Iowa Park High School, and was a twirler in the junior high band.

Miss Weyant is 15 years old and is a twirler with the Holliday Eagle Band.

Lioness Club holds certification dinner

The Iowa Park Evening Lioness Club, sponsored by the Evening Lions Club, held a certification dinner Friday evening at the Lions building. Lions and Lionesses from Burkburnett, Bowie, Abilene, Mineral Wells, Graham, Vernon and Wichita Falls attended the meeting.

The Evening Lioness Club had been functioning as an auxiliary a number of years. Members voted in May to become a chartered club and it now has 19 charter members.

The Lioness program began in 1975, and today there are more than 5,700 clubs in 52 countries with over 150,000 Lionesses.

C.L. Thompson, president of the Evening Lions Club, served as emcee and introduced the guests which included Jon B. Kendrick of Mineral Wells, Governor of District 2 E-1, who conducted the candlelight installation ceremony and presented the charter to Mrs. C.L. Thompson, president of the Evening Lioness Club.

Other officers installed were: Mmes. Sam Hunter, vice-president; Herbert Adcock, secretary; V.I. Woodfin, treasurer; W.E. Karstetter, Lioness tamer; Sam Hill, tail twister; D.O. James, Riley Thompson and Gerry Thurlo, directors.

Preceding the installation, Jerry Boone of Wichita Falls, zone chairman, offered the invocation and Sam Hunter, newly elected president of the Evening Lions Club, led the pledge to the flag.

The tables were decorated in purple and gold, the club's colors, and highlighted with an imposing floral arrangement on the head table. The committee on arrangements included Mmes. Dave Davis, Joe Kennedy, Adcock, Hunter, James and C.L. Thompson.

Following the meal and installation, Herbert Adcock auctioned off cakes and pies that were baked by the hotses club members.

The out-of-town visitors included Mr. and Mrs. John Kendrick of Jacksboro; Mr. and Mrs. Burl Hambrick; Mr. and Mrs. John Massey of Abilene; Larry Doerre, Burkburnett; Jerry Boone, Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, Bowie; Ophelia Swearingen, Graham; Patty Box and Sherrie Hevrin, Vernon.

Smoker's Face

A British physician, Dr. Douglas Model, has developed a screening technique that distinguishes heavy smokers from non-smokers. The technique examines the faces of patients and can spot those who have been long-time, heavy smokers. The signs showed up in about 50% of smokers studied by Dr. Mode. They include: leathery, worn or rugged skin, gauntness and prominent bone contours, deep cheek lines, many shallow lines on cheek and lower jaw and lines or wrinkles radiating at right angles from upper or lower lips or corners of the eye. Smoking not only can ruin a person's lungs, it can also damage facial cosmetics.

As I See It... By BOB HAMILTON

The "Farm Aid" concert Saturday at the Mounted Patrol Arena on FM 369 was so much a flop that it was carried by the Associated Press and made the front page of a section in Monday's Dallas Morning News.

It appears there was more publicity about the event after it was supposed to have happened than there was in advance.

Was it because the air media in Wichita Falls, more especially one of the co-sponsors, KLUR radio, was so sold on its ability to attract crowds that the print media wasn't let in on the big event?

I know we never got anything on it to publicize.

Was it because another co-sponsor was the Texas Department of Agriculture, and the public just figured it was another of Commissioner Jim Hightower's big jokes?

He is, you know.

According to the AP story, "When the four people listening to Wichita Falls' first Farm Aid concert on Saturday went to stand in the shade of the restroom, the band found itself playing to a half-acre of empty chairs."

If that was the "first annual," I can only wonder if anything besides an elementary beginner's band would accept an invitation to play for the second?

Willie Nelson has made a lot of publicity with farm aid concerts, but I have no idea how much money was raised nor how and to whom it was distributed.

But I got to wondering. When will someone put on a "bank aid" concert, to help all those owners and shareholders of the banks who have gone under and lost their shirts?

A greater percentage of banks have gone under the past couple of years than have farms, you know.

But I guess that wouldn't be too popular. Who would want to help a banker who loaned money to buy a car or pay a hospital bill or something like that.

tax deduction with those donations they made to sponsor ball teams, set up funds to help needy families, pay huge tax bills nobody else pays, give scholarships, all that sort of foolishness.

They were good for nothing but harassing folks about hot checks they wrote, repossessing a pickup the owner couldn't pay off because it cut into his beer money, things like that. They are all hard-nosed, no-care tightwads and should lose everything they own when the government closes them down.

There's a lot to be said about helping our fellow man, and the farm aid concerts, I'm sure, have helped a lot of people who were in need.

But I heard a comment from a businessman back when these types of concerts were getting a lot of publicity up in Chicago and that part of the country.

He said he could imagine what a salary worker thought, being asked to chip in and help a farmer bail himself out of debt, knowing that if and when the farm economy recovered and the farmer held onto his land, that farmer would be worth more in real and personal property than the worker would ever earn.

The Wichita Falls Board of Commerce and Industry, which like our Chamber of Commerce, made a big deal about that city being one of the nation's "Best Kept Secrets."

Add the farm aid concert to the list.

Finnell predicts intensive session

State Rep. Charles Finnell predicted an intense legislative session as he and other members of the state legislature assembled this week in Austin to shape a state budget for the next two years.

"It will be necessary to streamline state spending as much as possible because of the decline in state revenues but funding levels for public education, state hospital, congregate meals for elderly and other programs vital to North Texas must not be reduced," Finnell said.

Finnell, along with other committee chairmen, were to meet with House Speaker Gib Lewis Monday for a working lunch before the House convened that afternoon.

"The consensus of House leaders attending the meeting was that we could work together to get a fair and reasonable budget in order before the end of the 30-day session. The question, of course, is whether the executive and legislative branches can reconcile their differences," said Finnell, who again was present during the regular session for the debate and vote on each bill and resolution considered by the House.

Rev. Larry Davis, pastor of the United Methodist Church in Holliday, was to give the invocation for the opening day of the second called session of the 70th Texas Legislature.

Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Bohannon observed their 60th wedding anniversary last Thursday.

Bohannon said they "didn't do anything special, just sat around the house and stayed cool under the air conditioner."

Worth Quoting

Mike Royko, Chicago Tribune columnist, conducted an interesting experiment a while back. After a baseball executive was fired for stating in public that blacks were not really qualified to become managers or executives, Royko had his female assistant do some telephone calling.

She called the offices of the National Basketball Association and asked why it is that 70 percent of the players in the NBA are black and

She never received a clear cut answer, but did get a lot of hemming and hawing as various NBA people avoided direct answers because they were dealing with a racial question and that is dangerous.

Royko wanted to know if there were more blacks in basketball because of inherent physical differences, because inner city blacks spend more time on playground basketball, because blacks work at becoming proficient basketball players, or if there were some other reason.

The only answer his assistant received from NBA owners was that they were interested only in putting the best players on the floor regardless of color.

This is as it should be, of

But in a day of affirmative action, you have to wonder what the answer would be if 70 percent of NBA players were white.

Obituaries

Mary Louise Denny

Services for Mary Louise Denny, 77, were held Monday at the First United Methodist Church with Rev. John Mollett, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Highland Cemetery under direction of Tanner-Aulds Funeral Home.

She was born March 1, 1910, near Iowa Park and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James N. George, Wichita County pioneers. She was graduated from Iowa Park High School and attended Texas Women's College at Fort Worth.

She and Elgin W. Denny were married July 27, 1930, in Iowa Park. She was a member of the First United Methodist Church.

She is survived by her husband; a daughter, Elga Ann Denny of Iowa Park; a brother, Taylor George of Iowa Park; and a sister, Mrs. Cleo Hines of Trinity.

Loys D. Barbour

Services for Loys D. Barbour, 77, were held Saturday at the Tenth and Broad Church of Christ in Wichita Falls with Larry Smith officiating. Burial was in the Highland Cemetery under direction of Hampton-Vaughan Funeral Home.

He was born March 3, 1910, in Iowa Park and was graduated from high school here. He was a member of the Tenth and Broad Church of Christ where he had served as a deacon more than 30 years.

A Wichita County farmer more than 50 years, Barbour was honored in 1979 by the Texas Farm Bureau for "Outstanding and Meritorious Service in Agriculture." He was recognized for more than 40 years of contributions to the farm organization including service on its board from 1939 to 1959.

He was chairman of the Rural Roads Committee that worked to get the farm-to-market road program through the state legislature. Barbour was also chairman of the Farm Bureau's Research and Education Committee that worked closely with Texas A&M Univ. He was a representative for the state organization between 1947-57.

He retired from the Farm Bureau in 1959 after serving as state director 18 years. He was past president of Wichita County Farm Bureau. In 1978, Barbour was asked by former Gov. Dolph Briscoe to organize Wichita County as part of the "Governor's Committee to Make Texas No. 1 in Agriculture," a statewide drive to promote agriculture.

He was one of 37 Texans selected by the governor in 1973 to rewrite the state constitution. He was the only North Texas resident to serve on the Texas Constitutional Revision Commission, whose members were chosen from a field of 835 nominees. He served three years as agricultural chairman of the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce. He was a member of Texas A&M Univ. Advisory Committee in 1959, and was a member of the Wichita Falls Farm and Ranch Club and Wichita Falls Board of Commerce and Industry.

Survivors include his wife, Martha; a son, James L. of Iowa Park; three grandchildren; and a great-grandchild.

Ervin Clyde Smith

Services for Ervin Clyde Smith, 61, were held Thursday at Tanner-Aulds Funeral Home with Rev. Roy Stewart officiating. Burial was in the Holiday Cemetery.

He was born Nov. 10, 1925. He was an oil field worker, a World War II veteran of the Army having served in Europe. He lived in Iowa Park 45 years before moving to Holliday two years ago. He was a member of the Assembly of God Church.

Survivors include his wife, Muriene; three daughters, Helen Admire and Joann Lewis, both of Kamay, and Patricia Burkett of Fort Worth; a brother, Curtis Smith of Gainesville; and five grandchildren.

FFA NEWS

Eight members of the Iowa Park FFA Chapter were to attend an area leadership training school the first part of this week at the Bobby Holder Camp on Lake Possum Kingdom.

Slated to attend were George Howell, area vice president; LaDonna Chandler, Wichita District secretary, and local officers, Lorre Moser, Susan Howell, Gregg Young, Steve Starr, Deanna Hill and Eric Godwin.

The school, which was to be held Monday through Wednesday, is conducted by state and area officers, to increase leadership skills of chapter officers and plan for the July 14-17 state FFA convention in Fort Worth.

Meux appointed lecturer at TCU

John W. Meux, member of Texas Christian University's computer science department since 1985, has been named a lecturer in that department for 1987-88.

Announcement of the appointment was made by Dr. William H. Koehler, vice chancellor for academic affairs.

Formerly a project coordinator for Hyper Graphics Corporation, Meux holds a bachelor's degree from Midwestern State Univ., and the M.S. degree from North Texas State Univ. He has been an assistant professor in TCU's AddRan College of Arts and Sciences since 1986.

Meux, a former resident of Iowa Park and Wichita Falls, is active in the Association of Computing Machinery, Mathematics Association of America and the American Cryptogram Association.

Jets to be flying low-level routes

The Euro-NATO Joint Jet Pilot Training program at Sheppard AFB has established nine new low-level military training routes over portions of North Texas and Southern Oklahoma.

The routes would be used by T-38 aircraft and located on five flight corridors.

Each route is approximately 227 statute miles long and 22.7 statute miles wide. Normal flight activity would consist of five sorties per corridor per day, 52 weeks per year.

When flying the route, T-38 aircraft would normally be operating at 450 miles per hour and at a minimum altitude of 500 feet above ground level.

The low-level training program will improve the quality of program graduates and accelerate their integration into the NATO tactical fighter force.

The program is established to enhance interoperability of forces, standardize tactics, techniques and to provide economical, large-scale training for participating countries.

A's Senior champs; All-Stars named

The Senior League champions have been crowned, and now it's the playoffs for the league's All Stars.

Despite losing 12-5 to the Twins in their final game, the A's are the champions, edging out the Twins for the title.

The A's, with a 12-2 record, edged the Twins, a team they had defeated more often in league play than lost.

But the Twins won their final game of the season, defeating the Red Sox 15-12, to narrow the difference in the final standings, to finish with a 12-3 record.

The Angels wound up 3-10 and the Red Sox 1-13.

Members of the championship A's are John Collingsworth, Jason Cordrey, Jason Hamilton, Charles Houston, Brandon Lane, K.C. McCarter, J'Bill Merrick, Jimmy Nicholson, Ken Schlaud, Chad Reis, Dan-ny Tatom and Jason Welch.

Coaches are Jim Bob Merrick, Wayne Hodges and Ray Sefcik, and Steve Smith is the manager.

ALL-STARS NAMED

Five members of the All-Stars, named Friday, are members of the A's. They include Houston, McCarter, Nicholson, Schlaud and Tatom.

Six Twins players made the team: Brett Bradford, Chuck Brown, Chad Bullock, Marc Cruz, Jimmy Duggins and Vance Edwards.

Travis Chetwood and Kelly McClure of the Angels and Bruce Palmer of the Red Sox round out the squad.

Alternates include Lane of the A's, Chad Witherspoon of the Twins and Patrick Birk of the Angels.

Smith will be the manager and Hodges and Sefcik the coaches.

The team will begin practice Monday, in preparation for the tournament which starts July 13. Because Iowa Park drew a first-round bye, the locals will not see action until the 14th, however, according to Smith.

Those workouts will be twice daily, including Saturdays, until the tournament.

This year's All-Star team features both maturity and experience.

Five, Nicholson, Schlaud, Cruz, Duggins and McClure were on last year's All-Stars, and Brown and Chitwood were alternates.

Besides two 14-year-olds, Houston and Edwards, all are 15 years of age.

And it was the older players who were on the 13-year-old team two years ago that advanced to the metroplex tournament, Smith recalled. Eight of the All-Stars are on the Hawk varsity baseball team. Nicholson and Duggins were starters this year. The others are Schlaud, Tatom, Bradford, Brown, Cruz and McClure.

Bowerman beats Coyote best in three matches

Jenny Bowerman came back after losing the first set to Kristy Benson to win the Girls 16 Singles of the Vernon Regional Junior College open tournament last weekend.

She beat the Wichita Falls player 4-6, 7-5, 6-1.

But it wasn't her first win over Benson. The two faced each other in the semifinals of the Women's Open Singles, and again the Iowa Park ace won, 6-2, 4-6, 6-2.

The same two, on Sunday, met a third time, to determine the Women's Open title. Again she defeated the Wichita Falls High regional qualifier, 3-6, 7-6, 6-4.

Bowerman teamed with Vernon's Stacy Soto in the Women's Open Doubles, but lost to Stacy and Kristy Benson, 6-2, 6-7, 6-1.

In Boy's 14 Singles, Patrick Birk of Iowa Park defeated John Bishop of Burkburnett for the championship of Boy's 16 Singles.

Jeff Bartow of Iowa Park lost to Jeff Case of Vernon, 6-1, 2-6, 6-3.
