NEW BUSINESS COMING - Ground was officially broken Wednesday morning on the west end of Park West Shopping Center for a new Pizza Hut. Joining Mayor Wayne House with a foot on the shovel at the right are Randy Rogers, area general manager, Joe Hughes, Chamber president, Louis Cyr, manager, Ben Ralston, contractor, John Rinaldo, district manager, and

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Key, realtors. The others on hand were Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce members, friends and business persons. This will be the first construction of a commercial structure in Iowa Park since C&L Service Center, some three years ago.

Wichitan jailed in local rape case

Charges were filed Friday against a 17-year-old Wichita Falls man Thursday who was accused of raping a 16-year-old Iowa Park female on Nov. 4.

Brian James Hancock, 2610 River Road, was accompanied by an attorney when he turned himself in to local and county authorities at the courthouse.

He was released that evening after posting a $5,000 bond.

The assault reportedly occurred at Gordon Lake.

Police were informed of another sexual assault Thursday afternoon, though no formal report has been filed.

The mother of another 16-year-old female telephoned police at 3:48 p.m. to inform them a male juvenile has assaulted the girl "in a house not on school property."

The parent told police she was making a report only, and did not plan to file a formal complaint, according to the police blotter entry.

Police were informed Wednesday afternoon of last week that a representative of the Child Protective Services was investigating a complaint of indecency with a child in Iowa Park.

Chief Wayne Parsons said the initial notice was oral, and a written report has since been received at the department. However, no action has been taken and the investigation continues, he said.

Two juvenile females were taken into custody at Wal-Mart Friday evening after a store employee notified police the pair was shoplifting.

They were transported to the police station and later turned over to a mother and grandmother, according to the blotter.

Barbara Jean Hales, 34, was arrested in the 1300 block of Blue Jay Sunday afternoon on a charge of public intoxication and expired license plates. She was released five hours later after signing a personal recognizance bond.

Steve Nunn, 1122 Louisa, told police Wednesday morning that someone had stolen his 1975 Chevrolet Custom pickup sometime between 11:30 p.m. Tuesday and 7:30 the next morning. The vehicle is valued at $1,600.

FIGHTING THE CALENDAR - Zack Burkett workers have been scrambling recently in an attempt to complete the widening of West Highway, a project that was begun in January, 1990. Friday is the deadline established by the State Transportation Department to lay asphalt. And if no waiver is granted, and the concrete is not applied, the contractor must wait until spring to finish the project.

Council sets priorities on '92 street projects

The city council Monday night finalized priorities on street work for next summer, and authorized advertising for bids to purchase three vehicles.

Two lists were proposed by city administrator Gary Jones, one for asphalt overlay and the other for slurry applications.

Each of the streets on the lists was numerically noted for priority.

"We intentionally listed more than we can possibly complete," Jones said, after Mayor Wayne House reminded the council that work would continue as long as funds budgeted permitted.

One dissenting vote was cast against approval of the final list. Alderman Bob Hamilton said he felt a portion of the 100 block of North Yosemite, which is not included on either list, should not only be listed but also high on priority.

His vote was overridden 4-1. The vehicles to be purchased are for the police department, public works director and water meter reader.

An ordinance to replat Lot 1A, Block 69, Original Townsite, was approved.

The tract is the northwest corner of the block where Park West Shopping Center is located, and will soon be the location of a new business, Pizza Hut.

Hamilton suggested a portion of a sentence in the ordinance, "...otherwise known as 412 West Park," be deleted. He explained that the 400 block of West Park has never been opened as a street.

"How can we have in an official city document a reference to something that does not officially exist," he asked.

The address, House explained, was designated by the Postal Service for mail delivery.

Adoption of the ordinance, however, was unanimously approved.

The council, upon recommendation of the Planning and Zoning Commission, took no action on a request to permit carports at multi-family residences.

During a discussion, it was explained that residences, such as townhouses, have a problem meeting the setback from side line requirements.

Another ordinance approved related to the annexation of a nine-acre tract of land off FM 368 South. Date and time of a second required public hearing were established in the ordinance.

Jones told the council of a study being jointly carried out by himself along with leaders from Burkburnett, Vernon and Electra to adopt an alternative method to provide workers compensation insurance.

He said the effort should provide a savings of 20 to 30 percent for the municipalities involved.

The administrator also discussed plans to clean up and beautify the median on West Park.

The mayor read a proclamation requested by the Optimist Club, declaring Nov. 10-16 as Youth Appreciation Week in the city.

Country music show Saturday

Warren Stokes' Country Review from Eureka Springs, Ark. will be presented Saturday night at the high school auditorium, sponsored by the Iowa Park Lions Club.

This will be the first time a country music show the local civic organization has presented here other than from Branson, Mo.

Tickets for the 7 p.m. show remain available at Hughes Pharmacy, Iowa Park Leader and Parkway True Value.

Probation, reprimand handed down by UIL

Athletic Director Lucky Gamble received a "wrist slap" Tuesday when he appeared before the University Interscholastic League executive committee in Austin.

Gamble admittedly allowed members of the varsity football team to view game film on a Sunday, which is a violation of UIL rules.

His penalty is to be placed on probation one year, and a public reprimand.

The case, which arose from an anonymous letter sent to the district executive committee chairman and UIL office, had been routinely referred to the state committee by the district committee.

Following the district committee's hearing on the issue, Supt. Glen Mitchell suspended Gamble one game. The suspension prohibited him from even being in the stadium when the Hawks played at Bowie.

The rules infraction occurred the Sunday following Iowa Park's game at Graham.

When it was determined two players who were injured in that game would be unable to attend the team's regular meeting the following Saturday, as well as several players scheduled to take their Scholastic Aptitude Tests necessary for college entry, and others were to attend a church-sponsored function, the head coach offered a solution of allowing them to view the film, voluntarily.

Federated study clubs hold joint meeting

Tom Burnett Memorial Library was setting Monday evening for the 29th annual combined meeting of the federated study clubs of Iowa Park.

The 23 Study Club served as hostess club with Adell Marlar, Colleen Roberts, Flossie Thompson and Wanda Singer in charge of arrangements.

The program, introduced by Jean Johnson, was planned by members of Philia Study Club, with Candis McKee, president serving as leader.

Marilyn Hale, a member of Amity Study Club, led the pledge of allegiance to the American flag, and Frances Park, president of 23 Study Club, led the group in repeating the club collect.

Annetta Reusch, a member of Amity Study Club, presented the federation meditation by using a poem of her own composition on the history and goals of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Special music, one of the highlights of the meeting, was presented by Matthew Haddock, choir leader of the Iowa Park High School.

Haddock provided his own piano accompaniment for his vocal selections, including "Almost Like Being in Love," "There But For You Go I," from Brigadoon; "On the Street Where You Live," from My Fair Lady, and "I Got Plenty O' Nothing," from Porgy and Bess.

Mrs. Singer led group singing of "America, the Beautiful."

"Keep Texas Beautiful," a video taped program was presented by Pat Norriss, mayor of Burkburnett and past president of Santa Rosa District of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

The tape showed many of the steps her city took to win the Governor's "Keep Texas Beautiful," award for 1991. Mrs. Norriss said the $40,000 Burkburnett received for winning first place award will be spent to further beautify the city.

Mrs. Norriss also showed slides of eight other cities that received prizes for their beautification projects. These were Dallas, Plano, Grand Prairie, Harlingen, Greenville, Smithville, Huntington and Zavalla.

Gladys James and Mrs. Erwin F. Soell, members of the 23 Study Club, attended a Santa Rosa District luncheon meeting Saturday in Quanah.

As an honorarium to Mrs. Norriss, the three Iowa Park federated clubs sent a check to the Burkburnett Library to purchase a book in her honor.

The refreshment table was laid with a white linen cutwork embroidered cloth and decorated in a harvest theme featuring a centerpiece of pumpkins. A medium sized pumpkin was banked with smaller ones. These were flanked by black cattails and a scarecrow dressed in holiday regalia.

Mrs. Soell reported on the meeting. She said the retiring TFWC president summarized accomplishments of the clubs during her administration. She asked each club to support the President's Special Project, which is to place a history of each library in Texas in the TFWC State Headquarters Building in Austin.

Evening Lions, Lioness' have Thanksgiving dinner

The Evening Lions Club entertained members of the Evening Lioness Club and their spouses Tuesday at a Thanksgiving dinner. The white-covered tables were appointed with baskets of fruits, flowers, foliage and vegetables which reflected the beauty, inspiration and glory of the autumnal season. Mrs. Don Jagger and Mrs. Herb Adcock were in charge of decorations.

Following the catered meal, Cornwell Evans, club president, introduced Jim Pettyjohn of Wichita Falls who presented a program on the city in its earliest days via narration and pictures. He displayed one extra large picture of the town that was taken in 1921 from top of the old opera house. He said that the town started on 7th Street and when the depot was built it moved to 8th Street. He pointed to the old buildings, many of them having been torn down, and recalled nostalgic information about the owners and businesses.

He said that the main streets were Ohio, 7th and 8th for many years and showed a picture of one taken in 1911 and said "notice there are no cars to be seen." The old section of Wichita Falls holds a special place in Pettyjohn's heart, so much so that he takes people on walking tours of it.

The evening ended with a surprise when Herb Adcock presented Olive Blalock with a plaque of appreciation. It read "Olive Blalock, current vice president of the Evening Lioness Club.

In Grateful appreciation and affection for 34 years of faithful reporting and outstanding service to the Evening Lions Club and community."

The Caffeine Question

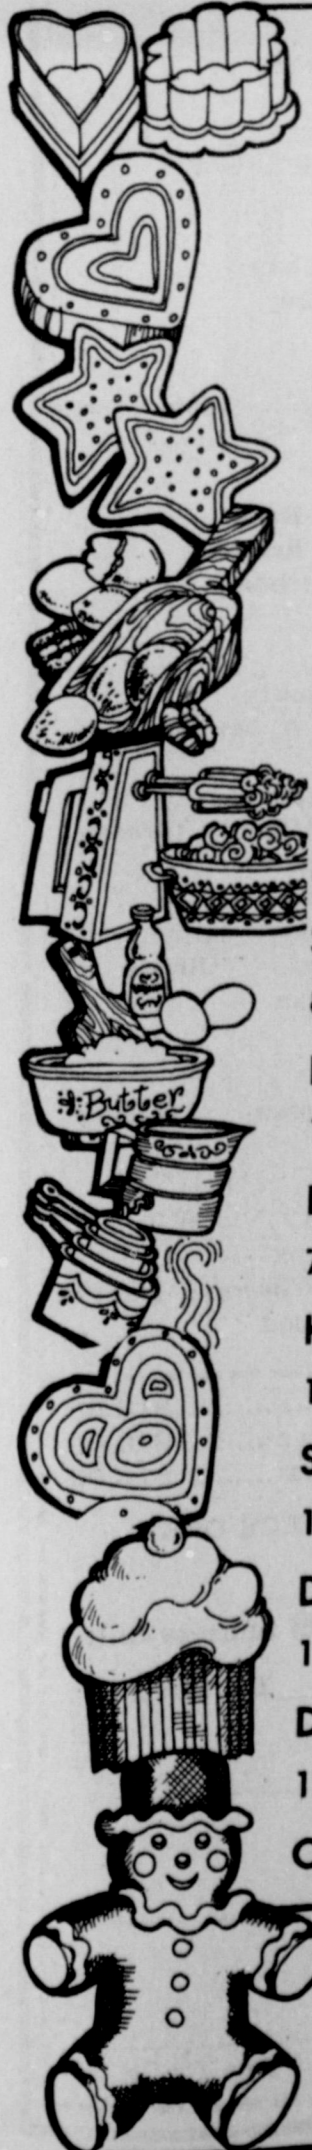

- Most Americans probably consume some caffeine every day as a natural, or added, ingredient in foods, drinks or medications.
- Caffeine is a stimulant that speeds up the heart, dilates some, and constricts other, blood vessels and increases urination.
- Caffeine is also moderately addictive. If you have a soft drink with every meal for several weeks, you will probably feel the effects of withdrawal when you stop.
- The symptoms of withdrawal are sluggishness, throbbing headache and mild depression.
- Caffeine consumed by pregnant women passes through the placenta to the unborn child. It also passes into the milk of nursing mothers.
- In recent years the Food and Drug Administration has said that earlier reports linking caffeine with birth defects are unfounded; there is no evidence that caffeine has ever caused birth defects in humans. Nevertheless, many pregnant women and nursing mothers have opted to avoid caffeine.
- Caffeine has not been shown to increase the risk of heart disease. But many doctors advise patients with irregular heartbeats or high blood pressure to be wary of using it.
- Studies have also failed to show any relationship between caffeine consumption and reproductive function, pancreatic cancer or benign breast disease.
- Caffeine affects people differently. If consumption of caffeinated foods or beverages makes you jittery, nervous or causes insomnia, cut them out of your diet. If medications have these effects on you, discuss this with your doctor or pharmacist.

For more information about caffeine— Ask your pharmacist.

As I See It. . .

By Bob Hamilton

It's a comfort to us all to know we can go to bed at night with the knowledge that our neighboring town's newspaper is diligently covering and reporting any and all wrong doings here.

By golly, we can't complain we get no coverage from that daily publication. And we can't miss that coverage, as the stories outweigh anything else that happens in Wichita Falls, the area, state, nation and world.

We get front page reporting of Iowa Park news -- even if the paper has to spend over $200 to send a reporter all the way to the state's capital for it.

And that coverage and space allotted is consistent. Man, I mean, it's right up there atop the front page, with a six-column headline and sub head.

You can't miss it. Of course, you might miss a small, two-column headlined story at the bottom of the same page that told of a drug bust in which dozens of law officers arrested 12 persons and confiscated two commercial buildings and three vacant lots -- all right there in our neighboring city.

I'm speaking of the coverage given the case of our school's athletic director, Lucky Gamble, who allowed his players to go to the fieldhouse on a Sunday to view films of the Graham football game.

Allowing them to do that is a violation of the University Interscholastic League rules -- on a Sunday, that is.

The complaint, initiated by an anonymous letter, allegedly written by a parent of a player, was taken up by the district executive committee. Out of that hearing, Supt. Glen Mitchell suspended Gamble from coaching, or even attending, the following week's game at Bowie.

That had such news value the neighboring paper displayed it atop its front page -- and then felt so strongly about it that a short story also was released over the wire services.

I've heard of readers in El Paso, and even Indiana, seeing it in their newspapers.

So, whatever happens in Iowa Park, or concerns Iowa Park people, apparently will now receive front page display in our neighboring daily newspaper.

And, I would assume, the same would be true of any other community or school in the paper's circulation area. After all, that's only right, isn't it?

About that UIL rule prohibiting any types of gatherings on a Sunday, I plan to ask UIL athletic director Bill Farney when I see him at the state track meet next May about it.

I want to know how can it apply to students whose church recognizes a day other than Sunday as its day of prayer. Or even how an atheist can legally be affected.

I'll let you know when I find out.

Trustees to meet tonight UIL

Purchasing of computers and computer furniture are one of the major topics on the school board's meeting agenda tonight.

The meeting is to begin at 7:30 in the junior high library.

Trustees will act on bids received for purchasing of classroom computers for the junior and senior high schools, as well as computer furniture for Bradford and junior high.

A portion of the meeting will be closed to the public, while trustees discuss personnel.

That will be followed, according to the agenda, by acceptance of a resignation, employing personnel, and action on naming Mary Helzlouer as Chapter Two contractor advisor.

Junior high principal Randy Lovelady is to report on the extended day program held at his campus. Authorized at the last meeting, the program is primarily for "latch key" students.

The 1990-91 school audit will be presented and reviewed.

Trustees are to act on a dyslexia plan for the district, as well as a record management program policy.

They also are to consider a request by Faith Baptist Church to use the junior high gymnasium for a tournament.

Regular monthly reports also are on the agenda, including transportation, taxes, cafeteria and enrollment.

tarily, on Sunday. None of the coaches were even in view of the athletes as they arrived, viewed and left the field house, according to the players themselves.

Gamble was accompanied on the Austin trip by Supt. Mitchell and Richard Davis, high school principal.

Probation is different from suspension, in that Gamble will be able to work as usual. Any other violation during the year, however, could possibly mandate a suspension.

Worth Quoting

Only in America could the manager of our economic well-being get a pay raise for their lack of skills in taking us trillions of dollars into debt!

Just suppose you owned part of a company or corporation called the United States of America. Just suppose the management of the company lost money year after year.

Just suppose the deficit for your company ran so deep that when you leave your children and grandchildren part of the company at your death, you will burden them for their lifetime with debt.

Just suppose the management you appointed or elected to run the company knew nothing of bottom-line management, only deficit spending, exorbitant living and inept management. Just suppose they could care less if they operated in the red.

Just suppose they were so callous regarding the bottom line they met at midnight and voted themselves a generous $23,000 raise because everyone else was doing it.

What would the owners of the company do?

Two choices: Keep them for their astute business sense or fire them for incompetence.

You make that decision at the next board meeting -- the elections for national office holders in the years to come. If you fire them, they laugh all the way back to their lobbying offices and draw handsome pensions they approved years ago.

If you keep them, they perpetuate the poorest job of managing a company for the rest of your life, your children's lives, your grandchildren's lives and on into eternity.

Do you think it's important who manages the company? You better believe it!

"Operation Thanksgiving" seeks sponsoring families

Families in the area of Sheppard AFB have an opportunity to make Thanksgiving extra special by reaching out to young men and women assigned to the base.

Base chaplains are seeking families to serve as hosts for airmen who will be unable to go home for Thanksgiving.

Dubbed "Operation Thanksgiving," the program calls for sponsors to invite a base airman into their homes to share Thanksgiving Day activities and the traditional meal.

"This program has existed for the past 14 years. Response from area military and civilian families has been most gratifying. It sure brightens the day for many of our young enlisted people," observed Chaplain Capt. Steve Siefkes, project officer.

Sponsoring families pick up their guests at 11 a.m. on Thanksgiving Day, at Building 430 (recreation center) on Sheppard.

Anyone interested is asked to call the Chaplain Division at 676-4360 or 676-2111, by noon on Tuesday, Nov. 26.

Gilmore conducts workshop for Garden Club members

Vickie Gilmore conducted a workshop on using creative twist paper to make angels for members of the Iowa Park Garden Club who met Friday morning at TU Electric's Reddy Room.

The angels will be used to decorate the Christmas tree at Tom Burnett Memorial Library. Frances George, community service chairman, announced that the club would decorate the tree at the library on Nov. 25.

Members answered roll call by naming their favorite pine tree, and Kay Cole read a poem about Thanksgiving for the inspirational thought. Louise Clapp, president, presided over the short business session.

Bonnie Illingworth, horticulture chairman, exhibited a hybrid Christmas cactus which was just starting to bud. She gave helpful tips on raising a Christmas cactus plant at home.

Carolyn McCullough and Vickie Gilmore were hostesses for the meeting. The serving table was decorated with a Thanksgiving theme, using a ceramic turkey, pumpkins and silk fall leaves.

Sixteen members attended.

LOW BACK PAIN

Low back pain is one of the most common disorders affecting American adults. It is estimated that 75 million Americans will have it each year, and that 80% of the adult population will have low back pain at some time.

Low back pain is the most common cause of disability among the 30 to 50 year age group.

Because these age groups are usually the most productive in the work force, the economic impact of low back pain is enormous.

Low back pain patients comprise the second largest diagnostic group seen by medical family practitioners, yet the common treatments recommended by these practitioners are being found to be ineffective. A prominent medical low back pain researcher has suggested that family physicians consider referring these patients for chiropractic care, as it has proven helpful for this disorder.

Low back pain generally is a mechanical disorder which needs suitable treatment. Chiropractic manipulation is just such a method. In the 1985 volume of the medical journal "Canadian Family Physician," Dr. William Kirkaldy-Willis, professor of orthopedic surgery at the University of Saskatchewan, reported on a study of chronic low back pain patients. The results of treatment with chiropractic manipulation were so favorable that Dr. Kirkaldy-Willis summarized that those medical doctors who refer their patients for this treatment will provide relief for many who would not otherwise be helped.

Indeed, growing numbers of low back pain sufferers are turning to chiropractic each year and are finding relief. Many people who were frustrated before seeking chiropractic treatment, return to an active lifestyle, not restricted by disabling pain. The latest statistics show that about one in three low back pain patients now see a chiropractor, and the percentage should be much greater. Chiropractic is both a safe and effective way to deal with low back pain, the unwanted American tradition.

Willard to perform Sunday

Kelly Willard, one of Christian music's leading recording artists, will be presented in concert at the Church of God Sunday evening. The concert will begin at 7 p.m.

Miss Willard recently completed her fifth solo album, entitled "Garden". Two of the songs on that album, "Love Will Find You," and "Hidden Valleys" are receiving extensive national air time.

Many of her recordings have become classics, including "No Condemnation", "Your Steadfast Love", and "Your Love", recorded with Lenny LeBlanc.

Recently she has become a staff writer for Ricky Skaggs, renowned Nashville country artist.

There will be no admission charge for the concert, however, an offering for the artist's ministry will be received.

Transportation will be available and a nursery will be provided. The church is located at 601 E. Cash. For additional information or transportation, call 592-5316.

Non-profit seminars offered this month

Mrs. Jimmy Banks Jr.

Kathy (Mrs. Jimmy) Banks Jr. is one of the busiest young mothers in Iowa Park. She and her husband are the parents of four children under the age of six.

Kathy said that going out for dinner alone is a luxury she and Jimmy enjoy occasionally.

Their children are Vanessa DeAnn, who is six-years-old and a first grade student at Kidwell; the three-year-old twins, Stephen Trayce and Stephanie Kaye, and Joshua Ellis, 19 months old.

Kathy said that spending time with the children, and church activities are an important part of her life.

Musically talented, Kathy has played the piano since she was nine years old. She plays special music during services at the First Assembly of God where the family are active members, and has played for weddings and funerals. She also plays the casio, an electric keyboard, during church services, and she and Jimmy often sing duets.

Kathy teaches the Missionettes class and Jimmy is a substitute teacher for the teen class at their church.

Kathy grew up at Kamay and attended Iowa Park schools through the eighth grade. After moving back to Iowa Park, she met Jimmy, a crew foreman for TU Electric, while attending services at the First Assembly of God. They were married Feb. 14, 1984.

In addition to her music, Kathy says she loves to sew and cook. One of her favorite recipes for Carrot Cake was given to her by her mother. "It is a cake she always baked at Christmas time," she said. Peanut Popcorn Balls are favorites of the children.

Carrot Cake

- 3 cups raw carrots, grated
- 4 unbeatn eggs
- 2 cups sugar
- 1 1/2 cups salad oil
- 2 tsps. soda
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 2 cups flour
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1 cup chopped pecans

In electric mixer bowl, combine carrots, eggs, sugar and oil. Beat until ingredients are smooth. Add the remaining ingredients and beat well. Pour into two oiled and floured 9-inch layer cake pans and bake at 350 degrees 40-45 minutes. When layers are cooled, put together and ice with cream cheese frosting.

Cream Cheese Frosting

- 1 - 8 oz. pkg. cream cheese
 - 1 lb. powdered sugar
- Soften cheese to room temperature. Beat until fluffy and gradually beat in powdered sugar.

Candied Sweet Potatoes

- 6 medium sweet potatoes
- 1/2 cup, plus 2 Tbsps. sugar
- 1 tsp. ground cinnamon
- 1/4 tsp. ground allspice
- 1/3 cup light corn syrup
- 2 Tbsps. orange juice
- 1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
- 2 Tbsps. flour
- 1/4 tsp. nutmeg
- 2/4 cup pineapple juice
- 1/4 cup butter
- 1/2 cup chopped pecans

Cook potatoes in boiling water until fork tender. Combine brown sugar, sugar, flour and spices in a pan. Stir in juices, syrup and butter. Cook over medium heat about 10 minutes.

Arrange half of potatoes in 9x13 pan. Pour half of the sugar mixture over potatoes and repeat layers. Sprinkle pecans over top and bake at 350 degrees 30 minutes. Serves 8-10.

Peanut-Popcorn Balls

- 1/4 cup light corn syrup
- 1/4 cup packed brown sugar
- 2 Tbsps. creamy peanut butter
- Dash salt
- 4 cups popcorn (about 1/4 cup unpopped)
- 1/2 cup salted peanuts

1. Mix brown sugar, corn syrup, peanut butter and salt in large bowl. Microwave uncovered on high 1 minute to 1 minute & 30 seconds, or until mixture begins to bubble; stir. Stir in popcorn and peanuts until well coated. Let stand 5 minutes.

2. With hands (dipped in cold water) shape mixture firmly into four 3-inch balls. Place on wax paper and let stand about 30 minutes or until completely cool. Wrap in plastic wrap.

Beans and Chili Mexican Dish

- 2 cups ranch style beans
 - 1 can chili
 - 1/2 lb. diced cheese
 - 1 cup cream or evaporated milk
 - 1/2 can Rotel tomatoes
- Bring beans and chili to a boil. Mix other ingredients into chili and beans. Serve immediately over Fritos.

Chicken & Vegetable Casserole

- 1 fryer, cut up
- 2 or 3 potatoes, thinly sliced
- 3 or 4 slices of onion
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1 1/4 tsp. salt
- 2/3 cup Bisquick mix
- 1 Tbsp. butter or margarine
- 5 or 6 carrots
- 1 1/2 tsp. paprika

Cook carrots in boiling water until almost tender. Set oven at 350 degrees. Melt butter in 13x9x2-inch pan.

Mix Bisquick, paprika, salt, pepper together in a bowl. Coat chicken in Bisquick mixture and place in pan with melted butter. Arrange sliced potatoes, carrots and onions on top. Season vegetables (if you like) and cover with foil. Bake at 350 degrees about 60 minutes or until all is tender.

Fudgesicles

- 3 Tbsps. flour
 - 1 cup sugar
 - 4 cups milk
 - 3 1/2 Tbsps. cocoa
- Stir over medium heat and boil 1 minute. Pour into 2 sets Tupperware ice cups and freeze.

Microwave Peanut Brittle

- 1 cup sugar
 - 1/2 cup light corn syrup
 - 1/8 tsp. salt
 - 1 cup raw Spanish peanuts
 - 1 tsp. margarine
 - 1 tsp. vanilla
 - 1 tsp. baking soda
- Butter and lightly salt a cookie sheet; set aside.

In a 1 1/2 quart microwave safe casserole, stir together sugar, corn syrup and salt. Cook on high 5 to 6 minutes. Stir in peanuts. Cook on high 4 to 5 minutes, stirring after 2 1/2 minutes. Add margarine and vanilla; blend well. Cook on high 2 to 5 minutes. Peanuts will be lightly browned and syrup very hot. Add baking soda and stir gently until light and foamy. Pour into prepared cookie sheet. Cool 1 hour and break into pieces. Makes one pound.

Season ends on narrow, 21-7 loss

Iowa Park's 1991 football season ended Friday night at Vernon, with a defensive battle that likely will remain the subject of coffee shop talk for months to come.

Eventhough their ranks were cut sharply by injuries, the Hawks, playing their first season under new Head Coach Lucky Gamble, lost by a narrow 21-7 margin to the Lions, defending state AAA champions.

It was the defense of Vernon that set up two of the Lions' three first-half touchdowns. And it was the Hawks' defense that scored Iowa Park's lone touchdown.

"The kids played real hard. They dominated the game the entire second half. We just made a couple of mistakes in the first half. After we got behind 14-0, we had to start throwing. They (Vernon defense) knew it and put the pressure on," Gamble said later.

Hawk fans got their first thrill when Brent Brown intercepted a Vernon pass on the Lions' second possession, giving Iowa Park possession on the Vernon 32. But three plays later, it was Vernon's time to intercept.

The Lions used only two plays, a long pass and run, to advance the ball from their own 27 to the Hawks' one. And they scored on the third play.

Just before the end of the opening quarter, Iowa Park quarterback Robert Denton was sacked and stripped of the ball at the Hawk 37. Three passes and three runs advanced the ball to the Hawks' three yard line, and they scored on the next play. But the extra point kick failed, giving the hosts a 13-0 lead with 10:28 remaining in the half.

Vernon scored its final points on the next possession, using a 24-yard pass to cap a 53-yard drive, and ran for the two-point conversion.

The Lions were allowed only three more first downs the remaining 27:43 of the game: one more before the half and one each in the third and fourth quarters.

Iowa Park scored after nailing the Lions with their backs to their own goal line midway through the final period.

With the line of scrimmage at the Lion 15, Vernon was attempting to punt. A hard rush from both ends of the line had Todd Pulley and Jason Miller converging on the ball at the same time. They blocked the punt, the ball rolled into the end zone, and Miller claimed it for Iowa Park's touchdown. Pulley kicked the extra point.

Vernon's vaunted running attack was held to only 79 yards by the Mean Green defense, so the Lions had to turn to the airways. They completed 11 of 25 attempts for 154. Thus, the Lions, who had amassed 628 yards against Bridgeport, were held to only 233 Friday night. In fact, they had a net six yards offense in the final 12-minute period.

Iowa Park's longest gain play was a trick play designed during the preceding week's practice. Early in the fourth period, Gamble hollered to Denton, who had the team up to the line of scrimmage, to come over. "I want to tell you something," he said. As Denton, walking down the line of scrimmage, neared the sideline, the ball was snapped back to Miller. Denton streaked down the sideline, caught Miller's pass, and was tackled for a 60-yard gain.

So Denton joined seven other Hawks who had pass receptions in the game. Denton joined Brown and T.J. Bean in intercepting Vernon passes.

"The kids played real hard," Gamble said. "They were very intense in practice and they tried real hard in the game."

With three starters already on the sidelines, the Hawks lost their leading receiver, Mike Brewer, on the first series of plays when he pulled a hamstring. "We just had too many players trying to go both ways," said the head Hawk.

Breckenridge's football team isn't the only athletic group from that school in state playoff competition with Denver City. The Buckaroos will play D.C. in bi-district at 8 p.m. Friday at Colorado City. But last Saturday night, the girls' volleyball teams from the same schools met at Snyder in bi-district play. Breckenridge was the Dist. 3-AAA champion in volleyball.

SS SS SS SS SS

UIL legislative council in its recent meeting voted to limit all high school tennis and invitational golf tournaments to a maximum of one school day per tournament.

TO HELP THE NEEDY - Over 300 pounds of canned and dry goods, as well as paper goods, were collected by youth of the First United Methodist Church Sunday. And in only 40 minutes. Seventeen members were divided into junior high and senior high ages, and launched a scavenger hunt. The junior high group won. Posing with their "bounty" are Jonathon Horton, Whitney Richter, Heather Rinehart and Will Richter.

Hawks tie for 2nd in final standings

Iowa Park, Breckenridge and Graham all tied for second place in the final Dist. 3-AAA standings, but the Buckaroos of Breckenridge advance into the state playoffs.

Vernon, which finished the season with a 9-1 record but undefeated in conference play, successfully defended its championship.

Breckenridge advances as the district's runner-up by virtue of a point spread, after defeating Graham Friday by a 32-14 margin.

The Bucks needed to win by at least seven points.

Meanwhile, the Hawks have hung up their uniforms, but with the memories of having defeated Breckenridge 10-6.

Their other loss, besides the 21-7 defeat Friday at Vernon, was 26-17 to Graham.

So Vernon and Breckenridge take on the Dist. 3-AAA representatives in bi-district.

Vernon plays runner-up Slaton, 28-2 winner over Cooper Friday, at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Sweetwater.

Breckenridge is to play Denver City, which earned the championship by defeating Seminole 27-21, at 8 p.m. Friday in Colorado City.

Three of the Hawks' non-conference opponents also advanced into the playoffs.

Burkburnett, 24-7 winner over the Hawks, plays Stephenville at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the University of Texas at Arlington (site of Iowa Park's first state championship victory in 1969).

Playing Saturday at Brownwood is Clyde, 20-18 winner over Iowa Park, against Marble Falls.

The other team is Childress, which beat the Hawks 28-13. The Bobcats are to meet Floydada at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Plainview.

SCHOOL SCENE

Information prepared by Iowa Park School Counselors

This is the last week of the second six weeks grading period for the 1991-92 school year. Report cards will go out next week.

Some students and parents will undoubtedly be very pleased with the grades on those report cards, while others will be disappointed and perhaps very discouraged.

The Office of Educational Research and Improvement of the U.S. Department of Education in Washington, D.C. has researched the area of student achievement in school and has determined that achievement may not be a question of I.Q. only, but of behavior and attitude. Research has shown that these qualities affect success in the classroom.

Parents can help their children be more successful students by teaching them strategies in the areas such as: paying attention; keeping interested in school work; learning and remembering, and studying.

Children can learn the knack of paying attention. Never threaten or order them to "pay attention" in school as it won't work! Some simple techniques will. They are:

USING SELF-TALK AND POSITIVE IMAGES. Children can use words or phrases to help control attention. For example, they can tell themselves to keep their eyes on the blackboard while the teacher is writing on it to explain a problem. You can help them practice positive self-talk at home in various situations: when playing a game, helping around the house, or working at a hobby.

Help them stop negative self-talk ("It's hopeless"), and to be positive about themselves, to say, "I can do it." Positive self-talk might include the slogan: "Quitters don't win and winners don't quit."

No more negative images, either: Children can and must learn to see themselves doing well in school. Tell them to picture themselves answering questions correctly in class and feeling good about knowing the answers. Spend time talking with them about their successes (as well as their difficulties).

ASKING QUESTIONS. This helps children focus their attention while studying. When reading about World War II, students might ask themselves "Which countries were our friends and allies? Which were Germany's? Which countries did Germany occupy?"

You can suggest several questions to a child, such as: "What is this paragraph about? Who did what and why? Is the main point true or false? Asking questions can grab wandering attention.

SETTING SPECIFIC STUDY GOALS. Your children can set goals that will help improve attention. Ask them to study a lesson until they can tell you the main point of the paragraph, or solve a specific math problem, or know specific names, dates, and places mentioned in the text. Discuss each goal. Remember that many small goals, one after another, are better than a single large one.

Further information about strategies for keeping interested, remembering, and studying will be addressed in future "School Scene" articles.

Special Olympic Hawks compete

Iowa Park was well represented Saturday in the Region Nine Special Olympics Bowling Tournament, held at Sheppard AFB.

The newly-organized Hawks team faced stiff competition from the Wichita Falls school district, but managed to earn a sizeable share of medals.

Members of the team include Kristin Barker, Karl Whittaker, Andrew Pena, Jay Beavers, Jay Harrington, Geoff Parker and Jamie Tucker.

The team began practicing six weeks ago, and will continue to prepare for other upcoming sporting events.

Average scores in the tournament and medals earned included:

Pena	114	gold
Whittaker	95	gold
Beavers	78	gold
Parker	83	gold
Harrington	74	silver
Tucker	64	silver
Barker	69	bronze

Basketball season opens Tuesday

The basketball season gets into full swing Tuesday, as both the Hawks and Lady Hawks play the first games on their schedules.

The Lady Hawks, defending district champions, will host Wichita Falls High, while the Hawks go to the Coyotes' home court.

Both evenings will begin at 4:30 with freshman games, and sandwiched inbetween those and the varsity games will be contests by the junior varsities.

The following Friday, Holliday's boys and girls freshman and varsity teams will play here. And on the same date, Iowa Park's junior varsities will be entered in a JV tournament at Seymour.

Tim Clark has taken over the reins of the Hawks, since long-time coach Earnie Reusch resigned that position last spring. Clark had been the JV coach.

Assisting him will be Rick Barker, who will direct the JV team, and James Skeeler will coach the freshmen.

Jimmie Cain returns as head of the Lady Hawks, with John Hoelter returning to direct the JV. C.D. Knobloch is the new freshman team coach.

Seven seniors, five juniors and one sophomore make up the Lady Hawk varsity.

The seniors are Melody Gray, Laura Davis, Lisa Wiggins, Kristi Ring, Dee Ann Warren, Marcy McCarthy and Rachael Kimbro.

Juniors include Christie Catlin, Michelle Robertson, Misty Cook, Cheri Halady and Hayli Dyer.

Jennifer Ricks is the lone sophomore.

Clark's varsity has a similar mix of grades, including eight seniors, three juniors and one sophomore.

Seniors are Corey Bridwell, Jeremy Carroll, Robert Denton, Jon Hankins, Casey Harbuck, Joel McIlroy, Todd Pulley and Greg Steger.

Mark Childs, Mark de la Rosa and Chad Thompson are the juniors, and Michael Stanford the sophomore.

Bridwell, Denton, Hankins, McIlroy, Pulley, Steger and de la Rosa are making the switch from football, which ended Friday night, to the hard court floor.

Hawks to face faculty tonight

The Hawks' varsity basketball team will scrimmage a faculty team at 7 this evening in the high school gymnasium.

Sponsored by the Athletic Booster Club, no admission will be charged, and the concession stand will be open.

A raffle for Booster Club items and prizes will be held.

Junior high in scrimmage

Both Iowa Park Junior High girls' basketball teams won their pre-season scrimmages Monday with McNeil.

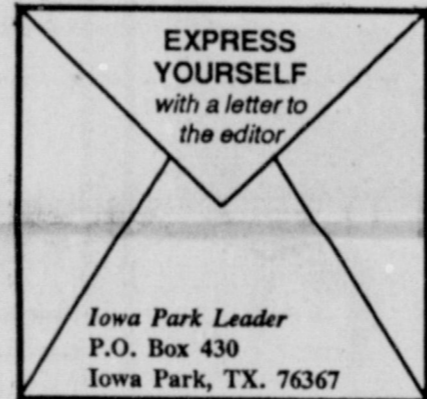

They are to scrimmage again at 4 p.m. today at McNeil, and open their season at 4:30 p.m. Monday at Henrietta.

The Seventh Grade "Green Team" beat McNeil 31-23, and the Eighth Grade "Green Team" won 38-19.

High points for Iowa Park Seventh Grade were Shannon Gafford, nine, Geri Merrick, eight, and Kim Scobee, six.

Eighth Grade scoring leaders were Julea Ricks, 11, Melissa Collins, nine, and Dusti Welch, eight.

The Seventh and Eighth Grade boys' teams are to play at 4:30 this afternoon at Notre Dame.

Great Britain study tour offered

Former Iowa Park resident and graduate of Iowa Park High School, Dr. Carol Rentschler Lowe, is one of two McLennan Community College instructors who will offer a study tour of Great Britain June 1-17, 1992. Dr. Lowe is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Rentschler of Iowa Park.

The tour is open to the public as well as to college students. Travelers may earn college credit or tour for fun. The tour will include stays in London, Bath, Stratford-upon-Avon, the Lake District, York, and Edinburgh, Scotland.

Highlights of the trip will include tours of London sites such as the Tower of London and the Crown Jewels, Westminster Abbey and St. Paul's Cathedral; lunch at Ye Olde Cheshire Cheese, frequented by Samuel Johnson and other 18th century writers;

Also, a Thames River cruise; visits to Stonehenge, Tintern Abbey, Warwick Castle, Windsor Castle, Hampton Court Palace, Canterbury Cathedral; a steamer cruise in the Lake District; visits to the homes of authors such as Keats, Samuel Johnson, Milton, Wordsworth, and the Brontës; theatre performances in London and in Stratford, and an Elizabethan banquet.

Courses offered for college credit are English 351 British Masterpieces I and English 352 British Masterpieces II. Students may enroll in one of the courses for three semester hours college credit or in both courses for six hours credit.

Both courses are approved by the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board and are fully transferable to other two-year colleges or to four-year institutions.

The study tour will provide an opportunity for international travel, encouraged by the Coordinating Board of the Texas College and University System.

Students must have taken Freshman Composition I and II, at MCC or any other college, before they are eligible for these sophomore-level courses.

Credit students will meet for four class meetings on the MCC campus before the tour begins: English 351 will meet May 19, 20, 25, 27; English 352 will meet May 19, 21, 26, 28.

Travelers who do not want college credit will participate fully in all tour activities and will have the option of attending lectures and participating in classroom activities and reading.

The instructor for British Masterpieces I will be Dr. Lissette Carpenter, Chair of the Language Arts Department at MCC. She holds a master's degree from Baylor University and a Ph.D. with a specialization in 18th century literature from Texas A&M University.

Dr. Lowe will instruct British Masterpieces II. She holds a master's degree from Hardin-Simmons University and a Ph.D. with a specialization in Victorian literature from Baylor University.

Both Dr. Lowe and Dr. Carpenter are experienced instructors and travelers. Tour arrangements have been made through a professional travel agency. Cost of the 17-day tour is $2,899.

The cost includes round trip airfare from D-FW; hotel accommodations (twin with private bath) in London, Bath, Stratford, Kendal, Edinburgh and York; continental breakfast daily in London and full English breakfast daily in all other locations.

Also includes lunch on three days, dinner on all other days; all transportation by private coach with guide; Thames River cruise and Lake District steamer cruise; theatre tickets in London and Stratford, Elizabethan banquet; admission fees; tips; portage of one suitcase per person.

A $300 deposit will be due by January 24 to reserve a place on the tour, and the final payment will be due April 22.

Tour participants must submit an MCC admissions application and pay MCC's standard tuition and fees.

For additional information contact Dr. Lowe, 817-750-3427, or Dr. Carpenter, 817-750-3536, Language Arts Department, McLennan Community College, Waco, Tx. 76708

Missourian winds up in Texas via Montana

By Myrna Smith

Born shortly after the turn of the century, George Daugherty has had a checkered lifestyle during his 90 years.

From Sumner, Missouri where he first saw daylight Aug. 5, 1901, until he finally settled down where he currently lives on Huntington Lane, he had varied experiences in career and in life.

From Missouri to ranch life in Montana in 1921, the harvest fields in North Dakota, the coal fields in Montana, and as the years passed, to the oil fields in Texas, back to Missouri, and then well into the century, back to Texas, he has had a good life and still is enjoying it.

Daugherty was the sixth in a family of nine children and he is the only one still living.

The farm land near Sumner where Daugherty was born was purchased by his grandfather in 1866 and remains in the family to this day.

Shortly after his father's death, Daugherty struck out on his own in 1921 for the northwest. He had some friends on the Knox Ranch in the legendary area of Montana.

He went to work on the ranch as a cattle driver. After he had worked a while they put him on a freight wagon hauling provisions. He went either to Forsythe or to Big Horn, which were about equal distance from the ranch.

He would spend the night in town after loading up, and one experience he remembers well.

"One morning I started back to the ranch and the temperature was 48 degrees below zero with snow on the ground. I walked most of the 38 miles to keep from freezing," Daugherty said.

For two seasons he went to North Dakota for the harvest. "I'd venture to say that close to 100 men would hook a freight train headed in the direction we wanted to go," he said.

Daugherty continued, "We didn't have to hide like the hobos did, because they knew where we were going. In the harvest I was paid 50 cents an hour which was mighty good money in those days."

One of his later jaunts he wasn't so lucky. He and a buddy went to sleep in one of the freight cars. That happened to be one that was disconnected and left on a side rail to be filled with coal.

When they awoke and realized what had happened, they saw a house with a light, so they started walking toward it. It happened to be the foreman for a coal company who was working on his books.

But, Daugherty and buddy lucked out. The foreman had run out of cigarettes and they just happened to have some to give him. There was a bunkhouse nearby and they were allowed to stay there. The foreman also put the two to work shoveling coal into the boxcars.

He recalls another time when he and three others were put off a train and they stayed at a hobo camp. A creek ran through the camp and on the other side was a potato field. The men played pitch and whoever lost had to wade the creek to dig some potatoes for their meal. Daugherty didn't have to dig potatoes.

There were seven or eight men in the camp. The next morning a man came into the camp and said he needed just one man to hire to help with his harvest. Daugherty was lucky again and was the one hired.

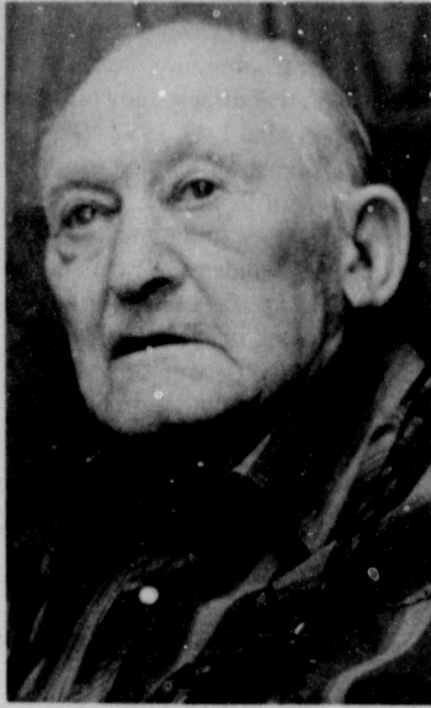

Daugherty's next job was one he really liked and one that meant a lot to his future.

He was living next to a man who asked Daugherty if he would drive him to Texas where he had two sons working in the oil fields near Burkburnett.

Daugherty grinned and said, "I was happy to accept the offer. He had a young daughter I was pretty sweet on." That daughter was destined to be Daugherty's wife of 55 years.

"We were driving an Oldsmobile Eight, but we had some trouble on the road and were 14 days getting to Texas." That was in 1924.

When they got to Burkburnett,

George Daugherty

Daugherty began working as a roughneck in the Burk oil fields. He remembers, "When you would look north of town, the oil derrick gave the illusion of a forest," he said.

"I was making the most money I'd made in my life, $5 for 12-hour shifts," he recalled.

Nov. 25, 1925 Daugherty and the "sweet young girl", Hallie Lower, were married in the Wichita County courthouse. They spent their first night in the old St. James Hotel that was located just off what was then the main street, Ohio Street.

The Daughertys returned to the Missouri farm where they remained 14 years. The house at that time was the one built by his daddy in about 1919 and where Daugherty was born. It is two story, with four bedrooms upstairs and one downstairs. It also has a basement. The house is the one where the two Daugherty children, Don, an architect, and Nadine Greist, with whom Daugherty makes his home, were born. Mrs. Daugherty died in 1980.

In 1939 the Daughertys returned to this area for a visit and decided to stay. Daugherty went to work with his brother-in-law, who had the Wichita Gas Engine Works, which some older residents may remember.

They bought 13 acres of land and built a house on the property where he still lives. His daughter remembers there was one other house south of them and that the owner raised goats.

Daugherty worked at SAFB during World War II as a disposal plant operator. After he quit there, he went into the carpenter business and built most every house on their block.

He worked for two different construction companies in Wichita Falls before his retirement in 1963.

Since his retirement he has done a little woodworking, some cabinets, and a unique shelf. When he was 89 he helped roof his daughter's house and his grandson declares he did a better job than the others.

His daughter's house is next door to his original house. In August 1982 his house burned. They salvaged a few things and stored them in his barn. A year and a day later the barn burned and that time he lost everything. He rebuilt the house and now his grandson is renovating it and moving into it.

Daugherty's family say he is a practical joker. He smiled and said, "Now, don't tell about the jokes I've pulled."

But, he went back in time and remembered one joke he pulled on a friend. He remembered with glee the time a friend borrowed his buggy for a date with his girl friend.

"I got to thinking what would I do if he took my buggy. So as they drove off I hopped on the back and went along, only they didn't know it. It was a bright moonlight night and about two miles down the road my friend turned a corner and his girl friend saw my shadow. They stopped and she was really mad. She wanted him to make me walk back, but he didn't."

It is easy to see how Daugherty, a witty, jovial character, is revered by his family.

His daughter said he is a coffee drinker. He commented, "Oh, I drink a cup now and then." She continued, any time he wakes up in the night he has to have a cup of coffee. She always makes fresh decaffeinated coffee and leaves it in a thermos for him. "He always wakes up for a cup at midnight," she said.

He walks with a cane and Nadine said one morning about four o'clock he got up and went out to get the paper.

He fell and then couldn't understand why I couldn't hear him calling me, when I was in the back bedroom sound asleep.

Daugherty's son and daughter graduated Iowa Park High School and so have his five grandchildren. He has six great-grandchildren.

Daugherty was an avid reader until his eyes got bad. He liked to read true stories about the Old West and especially liked books by Louis A'mour. He also is a "Civil War nut", and read stories about it.

He watches television a lot now and his favorite show is Jeopardy.

A little of his independence shows when he says the reason he quit coming to the Friendly Door in Iowa Park is because since he can't drive he has to depend on a chauffeur, and he doesn't like that.
