Council to name new police chief

The Iowa Park city council is expected to appoint a new police chief, during Monday night's regular meeting.

The meeting is to begin at 7:30 p.m. in council chambers.

According to the meeting's agenda, the council is to confirm the appointment of a new police chief, as well as setting his annual salary.

Aldermen held a called meeting last Monday to "select from applicants for police chief to be interviewed."

Because no interviews were to be held between then and Monday, it is apparent aldermen decided on one from among the 17 applications, but took no

At their last regular meeting, Sept. 14, aldermen heard a request from Paul Arrington, who wishes to lease land at the northeast corner of Lake Gordon, where he wants to build a restaurant.

No action was taken on the request, The council will also be asked to but could be at this meeting.

Also on the agenda, the council could "consider a waiver to Sec. 14-12 (ordinance) concerning city residency requirements," and authorizing the city secretary to move money from one area in the budget to another, should the city's bid for a piece of used equipment Lafayette, which was recently offered be approved by the highway department.

Iowa Park and Memphis will meet on the gridiron Friday night, for the first time since 1969.

The game will be played at Memphis, with a kickoff time of 8 p.m.

That last meeting was a laugher. The Hawks, en route to the Class AA state championship, defeated their district opponent 80-8, and used 13 different backs to advance the ball 548 yards.

But that was in 1969.

The Cyclones will enter the game with an unblemished 3-0 record, having outscored their opponents 96-31, and one of those wins was the season opener against Childress (28-9).

Iowa Park is just the opposite, having lost all three games thus far, being outscored 65-42, and having lost 26-14 to Childress.

Since that last meeting, enrollments opposite. Memphis dropped all the way down to Class A, where the Cyclones earned the state championship last season. They've been reclassified this year to AA.

JIMMY ALSUP SURVEYS DAMAGE CAUSED BY SUNDAY AFTERNOON STORM ... front porch was thrown onto and over house.

Storm does damage north of town

A storm that blew around Iowa Park late Sunday afternoon did little in the city but deposit a trace of moisture. But residents to the north of the city reported damage from strong wind. The entire porch on the Jimmy

Alsup home, on Harmony Road, was ripped away, with parts damaging the roof.

The debris was dumped beside his swimming pool, on the south side of the house, and far back in the back yard.

The all-wooden porch, which faced the west, was 64 feet in length and eight feet deep, with 4x6-inch beams and posts. It was installed five years ago.

Alsup said the first he knew of the damage, which occurred about 6 p.m., was hearing a loud wind noise, his wife screaming from the front bedroom, and his television set going blank.

The flying porch also knocked out his television antenna.

Strangely, however, neither home on either side of the Alsup's was damaged. Their son, Randy, lives to the south in a mobile home, and it had no

On the north, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Davis live. Mrs. Davis said only some outdoor furniture on the front porch was dislodged.

Alsup's rain gauge held only .15 of an inch the following morning.

Farther to the east, H.M. Nipper told of his fishing boat, which was on a trailer, having been turned upside down and scooted a short distance.

That, and several twisted and broken tree limbs, was the only damage the wind created, he said. Mrs. Nipper said there was heavy rain and small hail.

The storm system apparently continued eastward, causing considerable damage to structures at Sheppard AFB, and then farther into northern Clay

Class of 1942 is reunited

(Information for the following story was provided the Leader by Oscar Lochridge of Fort Worth and Raydean Brown Mattis of Iowa Park)

The 1942 Senior Class of W.F. George High School in Iowa Park held a reunion Homecoming weekend Sept. 17-20. The reunion culminated Saturday evening at the annual Alumni Banquet at the high school cafeteria

Special recognition was given the 29 members of the 58-member class who gathered for this event. Of the 58, 12 are now deceased, and addresses of four could not be found

This class of 58 was the largest graduating class ever, at the time of their commencement. Several members began more than three years ago trying to cortact the other class members.

The group headquartered at the Ramada Inn in Wichita Falls. Thursday evening an informal open house was held in the suite of Oscar and Evalyn Lochridge. Reminiscing with pictures, scrap books and guessing "who was who" offered entertainment for the evening.

This was the first meeting for many of the group in 50 years.

Friday evening the ballroom of Tom Burnett Memorial Library was setting for a buffet supper.

Decorations and food were prepared by Evalyn Lochridge. Those assisting her with the decorations were Wandean Parks, Lois Van Horn Leslie, and Raydean Brown Mattis.

Recorded music of the '40s brought back many memories for the group and provided emertainment. A special treat was afforded those attending viben classmate, Connie Cure Levell sang songs from the 1940s. She has retired from singing professionally.

A 50th Anniversary Memorial and Elzie Parks was presented to each class member and copies will be presented to families of deceased members.

The Memorial Booklet was dedicated to the memory of Superintendent W.R. Bradford; teacher sponsors, Mrs. Gladys Crume McAdams, Miss Nancy Overton, and James Thompson; mother sponsors Mrs. W.F. George, Mrs. Jim Cowden and Mrs. Lottie Lochridge, all deceased; and to deceased class members, Billy Ray Banks, Robert Beaver, James Bradley, Dick Bradley, C.B. Dillard, Ralph Gilstrap, Geraldine Hamilton, Cleeland Minniear, Bruce Peterson, Tom Rogers, Bob Joe Tedford and Gordon Lewis Furner.

Class members also attended the Whoop-T-Do Saturday.

Spouses, friends and other members of the families attended activities with class members.

Lochridge says class members are planning another reunion in two years. He recalled that when they were seniors was when Pearl Harbor was attacked and many of the young men went into the service almost immediately after graduation.

He said it had been the tradition of the school for seniors to go each year in late April or early May to El Paso, Juarez and Carlsbad Caverns. The '42 class could not go because of the war.

Lochridge remembered they took a short trip to Turner Falls, Okla. The trips were normally financed by their hamburger stand sales at the Wichita County Free Fair in September. He said their class made more money in September 1941, than any class in the history of the school.

Since the class did not get to make the big trip they bought blackout curtains for the auditorium, flag stands for the auditorium, trophy cases for the school entryway, paid off a debt on a flag pole that the Class of 1941 left, and each senior received about $7.50. The going wage at that time was about $4 a day, he said.

Class members present from out of state were Preston Cowart, Portland, Or.; Gordon Palm, Lakeland, Fla.; Weldon Phillips, Healdton, Okla.; Jimmy Portis, Phoenix, Ariz.; Roma Benton Chandier, Ventura, Calif.;

Also, Margaret Cowden Harpin, Overland Park, Ks.; Genevieve Ellis Rotthof, Cheektowaga, N.Y.; Margie McDonald Williams, Redlands, Calif., J. R. Bell, St. Elmo, Iil.

Texas residents present for the reunion included Lochridge, and Elzie Parks of Fort Worth; Raydean Brown Mattis, Mary Lee Bryant McClure, Maxine Phillips McDonald and Lois Van Horn I eslie, all of Iowa Park;

Joe Harris, Loys Brown Little, Billie Cunningham Burge, Connie Cure Levell, Jan Gauntt, Dona Lee Shook Wyatt, and Rita Juan Watts Passariello, all of Wichita Falls;

Norman Beaver, Irving; Billy Brown, Austin; Wayne Gay, Corsicana; Billy Jeaks, Arlington; Wiley McDaniel, Denison; Mildred Brubaker Roach, Tyler, and Elloys Evans Purvis, Weatherford.

Mrs. Mattis said the dream for the reunical belonged to Lochridge. I hrough his dedication and perserverence, he made plans, wrote letters, made phone calls and visits, came to Iowa Park, compiled the memory book and had it printed during the past three years.

"He made the dream become reality for himself and the members of the class," she said. He was assisted in many of the endeavors by Parks.

Joyce Hallum

Joyce Hallum, this week's featured cook, is a collector of recipes. She said that she has filled a large scrapbook with pictures and recipes from the Cook of the Week column.

Joyce moved to Valley Farms in 1938, and attended W.F. George High School. Donald Hallum, who she married Oct. 5, 1940, passed away on Aug. 10, 1984.

In addition to collecting recipes, Joyce enjoys growing flowers, and collecting writing pens from all over the United States. Her late husband started the collection when he worked for a construction company, and had accumulated several hundred pens. She said that she has just continued collecting them.

Joyce is a member of Pleasant Valley Baptist Church, and has taught the Adult Ladies Sunday School Class off and on since 1983. The ladies of the church have compiled a cookbook that they are selling to raise funds for the youth group.

Joyce is proud of her family which includes a daughter, Joy Lyons of Iowa Park, and a son, Donald (Poncho) Hallum Jr. of Burleson. She has four granddaughters, Donna Amburn, Charlotte Cook and Diana Lyons, all of Iowa Park, and Melissa Craycraft of Lake Jackson, and one grandson, Grady Hallum of Burleson. She also has a great-granddaughter, Arielle Briana Cook of Iowa Park.

Five generations of her family were recently recognized at the Manuel family reunion.

While discussing the recipes she brought in, Joyce said that the Spanish Rice is very good. And, there's Lever any left over when she takes the Sweet Potato Casserole to church dinners.

Spanish Rice

Into large skillet, put 1/4 cup oleo. Then add 1 cup rice, 1/4 cup chopped onion, 1/4 cup diced green pepter, salt, pepper and 1 teaspoon curry powder.

Saute over medium heat until rice is golden brown. Reduce heat to very low and stir in 1 can tomatoes. Melt 1 chicken bouillon cube in 1 cup very hot water and add to mixture.

Cover skillet and let simmer for approximately 35 minutes.

To make this dish taste better, you can add cubed, boiled chicken after it is done.

Can substitute tomato sauce for tomatoes.

Sweet Potato Casserole

4 medium size sweet potatoes
Peel and slice into 1/2 to 3/4 inch slices. Cover with water and boil 15 minutes. Drain, but save back 3/4 cup juice.

Mi

3/4 cup packed brown sugar 3/4 cup chopped pecans 2 or 3 Tbsps. oleo

Combine with the 3/4 cup reserved juice and boil until it becomes syrupy.

Into large casserole bowl, put a layer of sweet potatoes; a layer of small marshmallows; layer remaining sweet potatoes, then pour syrup mixture over the top.

Bake at 350 degrees until tender and a golden brown. Take from oven and put a layer of small marshmallows on top. Return to oven until marshmallows melt and brown.

Louisiana Okra & Tomatoes

Fry 1/2 pound bacon. Drain, but leave small amount of oil in pan.

Saute small, chopped onion and add:

1 garlic button, chopped

2 cups sliced tender okra 1 can Rotel tomatoes

1 can tomatoes

Cook all of these ingredients until okra is tender. Add bacon and 4 tablespoons soy sauce Taste to see if salt is needed. Simmer all together 10 to 15 minutes.

Can add crab meat, shrimp or smoked sausage.

Corn Meal Pie

2 eggs

2 Tbsps. corn meal 1 cup sugar

4 Tbsps. melted butter or oleo

1 tsp. vanilla (or 1 tsp. lemon extract)

Duffy, Swan marital vows exchanged Sept. 12 in Denton

The Little Chapel in the Woods in Denton was setting for the recent marriage of Miss Stacy Teresa Swan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Swan of Iowa Park, and Frank Dillistin Duffy, Jr., son of Frank Duffy, Sr., and Kathleen Duffy, both of Denton.

Judge Lee Gabriel, Denton County District Court judge and a friend of the groom's family, directed the ceremony. The couple pledged marriage vows at 6 o'clock Sept. 12.

Following the wedding reception the couple left for a honeymoon trip to West Palm Beach, Fla. They are making their home in Denton.

Two candlestands of white votive candles decorated with white ribbon, greenery, white and deep pink gladioli, interspersed with pink garden larkspur and pink carnations were placed on either side of the altar. The unity candle, covered with white bows and greenery, centered the nup-

Prelude music by the pipe organist, included "Canon in D" played during the lighting of the candles by the bride's sister, Tama Swan. "Where'er You Walk," was played during the seating of the mothers, and Cherry Duke, soloist, sang "How Do I Love

"Trumpet Voluntary" was played as the processional for the entrance of the groom and his attendants.

Prior to the entrance of the bride, her brother-in-law, Wayne Smith who served as usher, rolled out a white lace designed aisle runner. The organist played "Bridal Chorus" -- Wagner, for the bride's entrance.

Before the recitation of wedding vows, Marc Thames sang, "All My Life". During the lighting of the unity candle "Wedding Prayer" was played and "Wedding March" was played as the recessional.

Presented for marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of white satin and tulle. It was fashioned with an off-the-shoulder-neckline and long sleeves. The bodice was enhanced with pearls and sequins.

The layered tulle skirt was sprinkled with pearl and sequin appliques and flowed into a cathedral length

She wore a crown headpiece designed with strands of iridescent pearls mixed with sprays of sequined flowers that held her finger-tip veil of bridal illusion.

The bride carried a nosegay of whisper pink imported bridal roses surrounded by white satin ribbon and nestled in tulle tipped satin with white satin streamers.

To carry out the bridal traditions, the bride carried a handkerchief that belonged to her grandmother for "something old and borrowed", her wedding gown served as "something new" and she completed the tradition

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Kami Wynn of Iowa Park. Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Lana Smith of Carrollton, and Patty Duffy of Denton served as brides-

Their identical corsages were of bridal white tea roses with white satin ribbon. The groom's grandmothers wore corsages of gardenias.

The reception was held in the Crystal Ballroom in Denton.

Guests were registered in the bride's book that had white lace embossed edges. The registry table was covered in whisper pink satin and white lace. The bride's tossing bouquet and her antique gold framed portrait decorated the table.

The bride's table was covered with white Chantilly lace and a skirt of white with ruffled edge.

A three-tiered cake featured fresh whisper pink roses accented with white tulle and satin bows cascading down the side. The cake was elevated on a pink basket encircled with greenery. The top tier was separated with crystal columns. The bride and groom cut the cake with the same knife used by her parents and sister at their weddings.

White chiffon and Chantilly lace overlay covered the groom's table.

His cake was a two tiered heart shaped cake with milk chocolate icing and topped with a cascade of chocolate dipped strawberries.

Appointments included a silver coffee service, icy fruit punch, and the holder for the bridesmaids bouquets.

The groom's father hosted the rehearsal dinner at Homestead Restaurant in Denton.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Bill Skinner and Mrs. Mary Catherine Kinney, all of Port Jervis, N.Y., Mr. and Mrs. Jim Duffy of Tafton, Pa., Mrs. Ann Gore of Milford, Pa., and Mrs. Margaret Trolio of Ballston Lake,

The bride is attending the University of North Texas persuing a degree in Radio, Televison and Film.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of North Texas with a Bachelor of Business Administration.

Missions program topic of Baptist Women meeting

Mrs. Riley Thompson directed the current missions program for the Thelma Smith Baptist Women of First Baptist Church in a meeting held Monday evening at the church. Mrs. O.S. McLemore served as hostess and ten members were in attendance.

The program topic was "Through the Window of My Home," where looking revealed the work of Susan and Bob Brindle while they ministered 25 years in Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine. They moved in March 1992 to Northborough, Mass., where he is serving as the missions director of the Baptist Convention of New England.

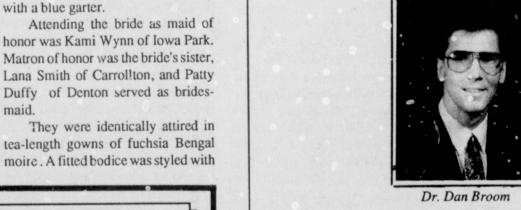

Mrs. Eleanor Bell described what people saw standing on the outside and looking through the window of the couple's living room. They first saw a scene identical to thousands of homes across the country in regard to furniture, decor, etc. However, the most important thing they saw was a nurturing Christian family where missions activities of all sorts formed the basis. She said that such training laid a foundation for their two daughters, now grown, to become actively involved in missions.

Mrs. Bell told how many people who had achieved something special or deserved recognition had had the privilege of eating from the special "red plate" in the Brindle home.

Mrs. Carl McKinnon discussed "A Look from the inside Out" which revealed some of the sights Mrs. Brindle saw from her kitchen window. The sight that touched her most were the homes where families do not have a personal relationship with Jesus Christ. The Brindles have been concerned that so few of the New Englanders are hearing evangelical gospel messages preached and this has inspired them to travel distances throughout Maine and New Hamp shire encouraging pastors and Sunday School workers.

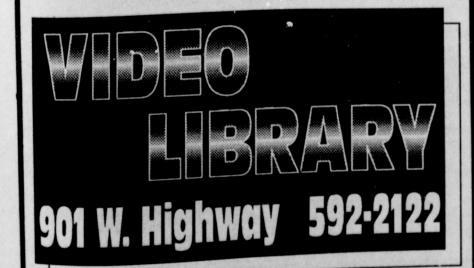

Mrs. V.I. Woodfin directed the business and Mrs. Homer Blalock conducted the missionary birthday calendar of prayer. Mrs. Larry Crumbliss was welcomed as a new

Kamay youth recovering from serious head injury

An Iowa Park Junior High School student underwent surgery this week to physician, and was told to watch him, remove a blood clot, which resulted from a fail, that had for med on his brain.

The student is Clint Myers, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Myers of Following removal of the clot, the youth is reportedly responding well and recovering at Cook's Fort Worth Children's Hospital.

Young Myers was helping his uncle hook up a tractor at the family farm Saturday evening.

During the process, he slipped and struck his head on the plow, but appeared to be uninjured and had no knot to form.

When he later returned home, he told his mother of the fall. Even later, he reportedly broke out in a cold sweat and complained of a headache.

His mother telephoned the family's and after a while said he should be allowed to lay down.

After lying down for a short time, his mother went to check on him, but young Myers could not be awakened.

He was taken to Wichita General Hospital where a CAT scan was taken, and it was then that doctors determined a blood clot was forming.

The youth was stabilized and taken by Care Flight to the Fort Worth hospital, where he was still in a semi-coma-

He is expected to remain there a few more days to recuperate, family members said Wednesday.

A fund to defer medical expenses for the family has been established at State National Bank. Contributions can be made to the "First Baptist Church,

Stepfather gets 30 years in prison

An Iowa Park man was found guilty of sexual assault on his 12-year-old step daughter last week in 78th District Court, and sentenced to 30 years in prison.

do that, and commissioners have decided that the money would be better used to construct a new building, but at another location.

As far as I can find out, total cost of the new structure is projected to be $200,000. But part of that would be offset by the sale of the present location.

Several sites are reportedly being considered, but I've learned that the northwest corner of Bank and Wall is heading the list.

Oh, and speaking of commissioners court, I may have found one reason that group has been overspending its budgets the past couple of years.

From some information I received this week, it appears the court has expended a little over $178,000 the past three years from general fund contingencies, for costs related in a suit against the county.

You may recall a suit having been filed against the county in 1989, by two fo.mer sheriff's deputies who allege that Sheriff Tom Callahan fired them.

The former deputies filed the suit claiming violation of the Texas Whistleblower's Aci.

Allen Hart and Ernie Williams say Callahan fired them after they reported what they perceived to be improprieties in the department. Of almost $5 million they seek, the two are asking that each be awarded $750,000 for "emotional distress and mental anguish in the past and future." I can't comment on the merits of the suit, but that sounds like a lotta distress Anyway, the legal related fees paid by the county on the case, which is yet to be heard in court, is $178,165. The case is to be heard, some day, in 201st Judicial Court in Travis County.

Worth Quoting

Having watched both the Democratic and Republican national conventions, I have come to one conclusion. Somebody is manipulating the truth. The national broadcast media have more than a passing interest in electing Bill Clinton President of the United States.

My suspicions began at the Democratic convention. Speaker after speaker extolled the right of unlimited abortions, even to moments before a child's birth. Other speakers cnampioned gay rights and the right of same sex couples to be married and form families. Other speakers directed their energies to outlining huge public spending programs and other ways to enlarge the size of the federal govern-

At the end of this litany of liberal causes, the national broadcast commentators repeatedly said what a moderate party the Democrats have become. Sorry, the willingness to increase the size of government by spending working individuals' hard earned money is classic liberalism.

Next, at the Republican convention, the broadcast media struck again. As the speakers defined Clinton's record. the commentators called that description "mean spirited" and "dirty campaigning." Mentions of the Arkansas governor's womanizing, draft dodging, use of illegal drugs and other character faults, were characterized as the lowest form of political sleaze.

Probably the most blatant show of bias came the last night of the Republican convention. CNN was showing the introduction of President Bush by Kansas Senator Bob Dole. Toward the end of his glowing presentation of the President's record, the picture shrunk and a news bulletin was plastered across the bottom of the screen -- "165,000 member National Police Officers Association endorses Gov. Clinton."

The inconsequential piece of news could have waited until the end of the convention coverage, but someone in the CNN control booth decided that it should air. That is media bias.

Columnist Brent Bozell has done a study of the background of various media executives and it paints a picture of the true ideological slant of the media elite. The CBS news political editor is Dotty Lynch. She is the former pollster for George McGovern, Walter Mondale and Gary Hart.

The president of CNN is Tom Johnson. He was formerly the deputy press secretary to Lyndon Johnson.

At ABC, the political coverage is run by Jeff Grainick. He was McGovern's press secretary. The NBC vice president that is in charge of their Washington bureau is Tom Russert. He was formerly the chief of staff for Sen. Moynihan and counselor to New York Gov. Mario Cuomo.

The list goes on and on. Most of the national broadcast political reporters, editors, producers and executives got their start working for liberal politicians. Campaign finance records also show that media executives are major contributors to Clinton's and other liberal campaign.

As this political season draws to a close, remember that the national broadcast media has an interest in the race for President. What you see and hear in the national news broadcasts is just an extension of that media bias. JIM HUDSON

Perryton Herald

Maybe it's just me, but elementary teachers seem a lot younger these days than they were in the '50s.

Most of my elementary teachers were old battleaxes hardened by years in the field. Were they alive today, they would chew up and spit out the sweet young things who inhabit elementary classrooms.

Black had been around my hometown of Mesquite for so long that the school was named for her. Whenever she walked through the outdoor commons area, the scene was like Moses parting the Red Sea. We would all stand back,

In those days, teachers' first job was to strike the fear of God in their students. My first-grade teacher, Miss Cotton, put it in meright away. I wouldn't have been surprised to learn she taught George Washington. By the end of the year, I was sure I would never survive

As it turned out, my second-grade teacher was a young sweetheart. I must have had a crush on Mrs. Smith, because I was devastated when she left in the middle of the year to have a baby. I was so miserable the rest of the term that I don't remember the name of her re-

I spent the rest of my elementary career with veterans. I remember them all: Mrs. Fite, Mrs. Covington, Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Watson.

None of them were afraid of anything. I clearly remember the day Mrs. Fite came in the room after recess and demanded to know which of us thirdgrade boys had ridden a sapling to the ground. When none of us 'fessed up, she lined us against the wall and gave every one of 'us a couple of licks. I don't remember if she ever caught the culprit, but she made a believer out of me.

The ACLU also wouldn't have gotten very far at Florence Black Elementary. My fifth-grade teacher, Mrs. Watson, read a chapter from the Bible to us every morning. A little gray-haired thing, she would sit on a stool at the front of the room and enunciate every word clearly, poking her finger in the air to illustrate the important points. She would end the lesson with a prayer, which came in handy before tests.

By the time I moved across the way to Agnew Junior High, I knew the Three R's and quite a bit about the Bible.

What I didn't know was that, al-Our principal set the tone. Florence most 40 years later, I would appreciate what those old hands had done for me. DAVID LEWIS Pilot Point Post-Signal

Local man has faced grim reaper

By MYRNA SMITH

Twice he has cheated the Grim Reaper. Once in Vietnam, and again about eight years ago in Michigan.

"The Lord pulled me through a very serious injury in Vietnam and a bout with Spinal Meningitis, now He has a new castastrophe facing Him," said Derwood M. Cranfill, Ph.D.

And, Dr. Cranfill is facing a devastating and progressive illness--Myasthenia Gravis--that has the prognosis of death. At this time there is no cure.

Dr. Cranfill, a licensed Christian Counselor and Temperament Therapist, is currently director of the Christian Life Style Center at Baylor Street Medical Clinic in Wichita Falls.

He is a certified licensed Pastoral Counselor, associated with the National Christian Counselors Association. He holds both a Doctorate of Ministry in Christian Counseling and a Ph.D in Counseling Psychology.

Before he was felled at Easter by this latest disease, Dr. Cranfill had been a pastor, evangelist, counselor

For three years, the 51-year-old Cranfill had been senior pastor for the North Texas Area of the Seventh Day Adventist Church, preaching at Southwest Adventist and First Seventh Day Adventist in Wichita Falls and and the church in Vernon.

Myasthenia Gravis is an insidious disease. Though Dr. Cranfill realized something was wrong in 1991, the disease was not diagnosed at that time. He could tell by his voice, but at first he thought he had a cold. Then, he was so easily fatigued. After seeing several doctors and seeking second and third opinions, the disease was diagnosed in February of this year.

As he was preaching the Saturday before Easter Sunday, he realized something was really wrong. He kept getting weaker and about 15 minutes into his sermon he collapsed. That became his final sermon.

Myasthonia Gravis is a muscular disability. A faulty nerve conduction produces a syndrome of quick fatigue and exhaustion of the muscular system. It is marked by progressive paralysis of the muscles without sensory disturbance or atrophy.

It may affect any muscle, especially those of the lips, tongue, throat, neck and face. When the person is fatigued it frequently causes drooping of the eyelids. Dr. Cranfill says he is completely exhausted most of the time by six o'clock and goes to bed at that time.

When he was an evangelist, he and his wife started many churches in several northern states. He had a "booming" voice and had preached to thousands without using a microphone.

Now because of the muscles in his throat and neck, he speaks with a low voice and by evening it gets weaker. And by the time he walks a block, he becomes fatigued. Eventually the weakness will affect his lungs and he will not be able to breathe.

Cause of the disease is unknown at this time.

He is taking medication and the phyicians hope they have the disease in remission for now.

"I never thought I would be unable to preach," he said. He admits that preaching was his forte.

Realist that he is, Dr. Cranfill says, "I know I won't be able to preach any more, but the Lord led me into Christian Counseling and I can still teach through the written word. I will use writing and my voice as a ministry as long as I can."

He has published a book of 88 pages titled, Child of the King, a treatise on Living the Christian Lifestyle.

The counselor's psychology training spills over into the reasons for publishing a book of few pages, out filled with meaningful words.

He says, "Watch most people in a book store. They will look at the thick books, but usually pick up one that is not so lengthy. Most people read books as they do a newspaper. They scan all of it, but are very selective in what they actually read".

His book has short chapters. "If the reader has to lay the book down to do something else, it is easy to pick up where they left off. Also I like to write in language everyone can understand and not inject a lot of jargon or doctorese terminology.'

Dr. Cranfill continued, "I do not adhere to a secular format. What I say and do is completely biblical."

He has a second book almost ready for the publisher that is geared to young people from junior high age to age 20. It will be titled Doing Right, and is designed to help young people keep from getting into bad habits.

Dr. Cranfill says he is a native Texan, even though he was born in Arizona. "But that was quite by accident," he explains, "my parents lived in Tyler, but my mother had relatives in Arizona and went out for a visit. I arrived several weeks early and was born in Glendale, Ariz.

The Cranfills were among the very early families to come to Texas. The town of Cranfill Gap, near Waco, was named for a great-great ances-

Of French and English descent, Dr. Cranfill had five uncles who came from France to New Orleans before the Louisiana Purchase. Two brothers came on to Texas and one of those was his ancestor.

He was the last of the family to be named Derward, which means "keeper of the door" in French. His middle name, Murel, means "blackbird".

Dr. Cranfill sprang from Southem Baptist roots. He had four uncles who were Baptist preachers and he was raised in the Baptist church.

When he was about seven years old, Dr. Cranfill's father moved his family from Tyler to Lexington, Nebr., where he graduated high school. After graduation he decided to get his military service behind him.

He enlisted in the Marine Corps and was with the first group of Marines to land in Vietnam.

Dr. Cranfill attained the rank of Lieutenant and was called an advisorteacher, teaching the South Vietnamese how to fight.

"I was the one to jump up and say 'charge", Dr. Cranfill said. One time when he did that he was hit by mortar rounds. He grinned and continued, "I don't think they ever hit anything but me. I guess I was too dumb to duck and too slow to move."

As a result, his body is badly scarred, he has two pins in his left knee and walks with a limp, but he feels very fortunate to be alive.

He received the Purple Heart and Good Conduct medals. Cranfill did not want to have a medical discharge, and since his four years in service were so near up when he was injured they waited nine months to discharge

"I fought that war over many years after I was discharged," Cranfill commented. "For a long time, I would wake in the night from nightmares."

Dr. Cranfill has a somewnat checkered background.

He first entered the University of Nebraska to receive a degree in speech. "I was 33 years old when I felt I was called into the ministry. I had felt the same urge when I was younger, but I dismissed it. "This time the Lord got hold of me and didn't turn me loose," Dr. Cranfill said.

After his decision to go into the ministry, he transferred to Union College in Lincoln, where he gradu-

He then received his Master of Theology and a Masters in Christian Counseling from Andrews University in Michigan, a Doctorate of Ministry in Christian Counseling from International Seminary in Florida and a Ph.D in Counseling Psychology from Evangelical Seminary and University in Stanton, Mo.

After Cranfill returned from service he had married Beverly Sigman in Grand Island, Nebr. He said, "My wife was always such a help to me when I was a preacher and evange-

The two of them set up tents and started many churches in a number of places in the northren states. He used as his theme, "Jesus Is Coming Again". "I had certain gestures that let my wife know just what I wanted, but the audience would think it was just preaching gestures."

He says his wife has a beautiful voice and she would lead the singing and dc solo work.

His answer to the crestion, "Are you musically adept"? was a humorous incident that told the story.

Dr. Cranfill said when he and his wife sat together and were singing, she finally asked him not to sing because he got her off key. He said, "Okay, I'll just hum then". He tried that a time or two, and she, as kindly as she could, told him she knew the Bible said to make a joyful noise unto the Lord, but his noise was not even joyful, it was just a noise. That is when he decided just to say the words of the song to

The Cranfills have also owned several businesses, including a travel agency. Dr. Cranfill did some training at the Shawnee Mission Medical Center, a well known cancer clinic at Shawnee Mission, Kans.

While he was an evangelist and preacher working in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, about eight years ago, Dr. Cranfill contracted Spinal Meningitis. He had to spend three months in bed.

Seventh Day Adventist Church officials told Cranfill they would move him any where he wanted to go. He chose to come back to Tyler, because East Texas always seemed like home to him.

Three years ago the Cranfills moved to this area. They especially like to live in Iowa Park and are now in the process of purchasing a home

Dr. Cranfill never turns a patient away. He charges on a sliding scale, because he knows many people who need the help of a counselor cannot afford to pay the regular fee.

He says he can change any habit a person has in 21 days. The counselor maintains that God has given each person the power and strengths to decide which direction their lives will

"People must realize that the direction their life takes need not be dependent upon what others say or do, but upon what they say and do with what God has given them to work with," Dr. Cranfill said. He hesitated, then commented, "Of course having this God given power is one thing, putting it to use in our daily lives is another."

In one of the short chapters in his book, Child of the King, is the way he believes, and in part is the point he uses in counseling others.

"Every thought and belief you have ever had is stored away in your subconscious mind and never forgotten. If you were nervous in a certain situation, you will tend to be nervous if the same situation arises again.

"If you wish to change this or any other unwanted circumstance in your life, you would have to start by changing your beliefs about them. We establish certain 'premises' as guides to live by and then allow them to govern our activities for the rest of our lives.'

His book is in the Christian Book Stores. Dr. Cranfill has written other books, including a text book concerning the integration of psychology and

He began several years ago collecting fossils and he and his wife have collected them in Utah, Montana, Colorado and Texas.

He has a display case in his office with fossil specimens. "A lot of times when a patient finds it difficult to talk, the fossils become the pivot that guides doctor and patient to a common ground," Dr. Cranfill said.

Mrs. Cranfill is a secretary and does insurance work for Dr. Braun-Green, a Wichita Fails dentist.

They have two daughters, Melissa, who recently earned her Bachelers Degree from Midwestern State University and is certified to teach Elementary Education, however she has opted to work toward earning the Masters Degree.

Another daughter, Crystal, is a junior in Iowa Park High School. They also have a son, Todd, who is an architect in Tyler.

In addition to writing books and counseling, Dr. Crantill gives lectures on "Creation" to church groups and organizations that request it. Among other lectures he gives are on "Stress Management", and "How to Live the Christian Lifestyle."

He recently went to Austin to give a long weekend series of lectures. He uses a classroom setting. He has a tall stool he sits on in front of the room to lecture or teach.

He says he wants to do all he can while he can because he knows the time will come when he will not be able to continue the lectures.

But one thing is for sure, however long Dr. Cranfill lives and is able to write or talk, he will continue to be a "man with a mission."

Frederick drops 18-9 bomb on Hawks

Everything was right about Friday night except one -- the final score.

The weather was cool and comfortable, the home crowd almost filled the north side of Hawk Stadium, coronation of homecoming queen was dignified well received, and none of the players were injured.

But the Hawks were defeated in their first-ever meeting with the Frederick Bombers of Oklahoma, 18-9.

It was Iowa Park's third loss in as many games this season, and the fifth consecutive homecoming disappointment. The Hawks haven't been on the winning end of a homecoming game since edging Decatur 24-21 in 1987.

The Hawks owned the first quarter of the contest, which ended 6-0 to the delight of the homecoming fans. They were so dominating, they had gained 117 yards (96 rushing and 21 passing), to Frederick's 44.

Senior fullback Chris Williams had a lot to do with those statistics and score. He set the TD play up with a 78-yard run, and climaxed it on the following play with a four-yard blast.

The second quarter was another story, however. Frederick scored on the first play after ends of the field were switched, a bomber broke two tackles at the 21 yard line and scored from 25 yards out. Then, on their next possession, the Bombers drove 86 yards on 12 plays to score again. And the half ended with the visitors ahead 12-6.

Frederick faked a punt after stalling on the first possession of the second half, and failed to pick up a first down. That gave the Hawks possession on the Bombers' 40.

Iowa Park drove to the Frederick four yard line, but then, on a third down play, Jason Miller was tackled back on the eight yard line.

Don Ellis was called upon to attempt a 26-yard field goal, which split the uprights and narrowed the scoring margin to 12-9.

JOSH JOHNSON AND TONY LOZIPONE ABOUT TO MAKE A BOMBER DIVE

Early in the fourth quarter, Iowa Park set the Bombers back deep into their territory, when Tony Lozipone got off a 54vard punt that died on Frederick's 15 yard

The Mean Green defense heid Frederick to no gain on the first play. But on the next, Bomber scatback Antywan Smith broke through the middle of the line and outraced the secondary to the end zone. Iowa Park's only chance for a victory, with 8:20 remaining in the game, was to cross the end zone twice.

Though the fans didn't feel much of the strong northerly breeze, the wind had an effect on the kicking game. Three extra point attempts, one by Iowa Park and two by Frederick, were pushed to the south of the east goal post by the wind. Only Ellis' field goal attempt split the uprights Friday night.

After Frederick's second touchdown, the Bombers elected to run for the two-point conversion, and succeeded. However, a major penalty nullified that play, and the Hawk defense scuttled the second attempt.

Thanks primarily to that long firstquarter run, Williams emerged Iowa Park's leading ground gainer for the evening, with 98 yards on nine carries. Ellis added 62 yards on his 13 attempts.

Middle linebacker T.J. Bean had a big night for Iowa Park on defense. He was credited with 19 unassisted tackles, two assists, and two tackles for losses.

Where Jesus is Lord

FAITH, HOPE, LOVE

"Now abides faith, hope, love, these three; but the greatest of these is love." (1 Cor. 13:3).

People love to be self-sufficient and openly declare "I'm a self-made man. I do not have a need for anything." Faith, hope, and love are three basic necessities of life. If one throws these three things away, one must replace them with an imitation of the real thing.

It is not possible to go on happily in life without reliance upon God. Reliance is an integral part of faith. The apostle Paul wrote, "the life which I now live in the flesh, I live by faith in the Son of God who loved me and gave Himself for me." (Gal. 2:20). Paul's faith did not prevent sorrow, pain, and conflict, but it did prevent murmuring, complaining, resentment, and revenge. His faith sustained him in the midst of great crises.

If hope is gone in a person, too often one is ready for suicide. Christ offers a living hope. With hope the Christian an anchor that is sure and steadfast. (Hebrews 6:19) Christ offers hope for the future in eternity with Him. Life without hope is not really a full life at all.

Love is as necessary to human existence as breathing. Babies will die if they do not have love in their lives. True love is the greatest thing in the world! Jesus taught the two greatest things in life were a love for God and man. (Matthew 22:37-39) For man's life to be fully complete, one must give and receive love.

This Talent Search for mathematically and verbally advanced students identifies highly able seventh graders from a 16-state region in the south, southwest, and midwest.

TIP, established in 1980, has provided thousands of students with information about their abilities and educational options.

Purposes of the program are to help academically bright students develop their special abilities, to assist schools in working with these students, and to undestand the nature of exceptional mathematical and verbal ability.

The primary goals of TIP are the identification and development of this group of extremely able youths. Eligible students may take the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or the ACT Assessment (ACT) later this year.

These tests are normally administered only to high school juniors and seniors. If the students score high on these tests, they will receive special recognition in ceremonies in Austin. A Grand Recognition Ceremony will be held in May at Duke University for those with exceptional scores.

PEE WEES 36, SEYMOUR 22

Iowa Park opened the season Sept. 12 with a high-scoring victory over Seymour, 36-22.

Chris Simmons scored one touchdown and earned six more points on three two-point conversions, to lead the offensive unit. Good blocking by linemen was credited to Heath Hodges, Russell Duggins and Pete Ermis.

The defensive standouts included Brian Swenson, Bradley Duggins, Brad Reymonds, Jerry Kirkhart, Chris Simmons and Justin Martin.

PEE WEES 32, BURKBURNETT 16

The team extended its record to 2-0 with a 32-16 win over Burkburnett last Saturday.

Prian Swenson carried only twice from scrimmage, but gained 72 yards and scored two touchdowns. He also ran for a two-point conversion, and caught a pass from Chase Wright for Wright gained 120 yards on 12 carries, scored a pair of touchdowns, and ran four conversions for another eight points.

Bradley Duggins, Heath Hodges and Josh Treadway were recognized for outstanding offensive blocking.

Defensive standouts included Chris Simmons, Derrick Carlton, Jimmy Miller, Russell Duggins, Brad Reynolds, Kyle Young and Michael Yoder.

MIDGETS 36, SEYMOUR 0

"The entire team was outstanding in their win over Seymour on Sept. 12th," said the coaching staff, and shut out Seymour 36-0.

MIDGETS 12, BURKBURNETT 8 Iowa Park won its second game last

Saturday with a 12-8 win over arch rival Burkburnett. Outstanding offensively were Toby

Williams, quarterback who completed four of six pass attempts, including one for a touchdown to Scotty Mitchell. Linemen Ross Dillard, Troy Tatum, Wade Miser and Bosley were recog-Defensively, Toby Williams and Scotty Mitchell each intercepted passes, Ryan Huff covered two fumbles, and Ross Dillard had a quarterback sack and covered a fumble.

Cheerleaders' Point of View

The Hawks are traveling to Memphis this Friday. We would like to encourage as many Hawk fans as possible to take this trip to Memphis and cheer the Hawks on to their first victory.

The students are asked to dress hippie style for Friday. There will be an award for the best dressed hippie.

Rev. Small assumes pastorate at Iowa Park Church of God

Rev. F. M. Small recently assumed duties as pastor of the Iowa Park Church of God. He preached his first sermon for the local church Aug. 9.

Rev. Small and his wife, Burma, came to Iowa Park from Big Spring where he had served almost four years as pastor of the College Park Church of God.

He is a native of the state of Iowa, from which the earliest settlers of Iowa Park came and gave the town its name. Small was born and reared in Akron, Iowa with 14 siblings, and graduated Akron High School.

He immediately enlisted in the U.S. Air Force following graduation. All four years in service were spent in Texas with the exception of two months when he was sent to Illinois.

Small took his six-month basic training at Sheppard Air Force Base and was stationed at Perrin Air Force between Sherman and Dennison. That was where he met his future wife, Burma. They were married a year before he got his discharge.

After he was discharged they moved to the Dallas-Fort Worth area. "It was 20 years after I got out of service before I yielded to the ministry," Small said.

By Lyndell Williams TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN - Railroad Commissioner Lena Guerrero - only weeks ago a shining star at the Democratic Convention - now finds herself at the crossroads of her political career. Guerrero, accused of lying repeatedly about being a university honors graduate, endured an embarrassing and relentless public exposure of her college career last week. After a series of press confrontations, she put her college transcript on the table and her political life on Apologizing for errors, she said she never lied; her GOP opponent, Barry Williamson, called her a "fraud", and others demanded her resignation.

The case against her was a 12year paper trail of her political biographies and resumes in which she claimed to be a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of the University of Texas. According to her transcript, she lacked far too many hours to graduate and had a C average with four failures.

Media Feeding Frenzy

The week began with a media challenge of Guerrero's resume claims; her responses were quickly shown as flimsy, and only served to start a feeding frenzy that by mid-week left her credibility in a shambles.

By the end of the week, news stories were quoting tapes of her commencement speeches, including one when she told Southwest Texas State University students she remembered her own college not high school - graduation ceremonies.

Her credibility lay in shambles, and her slim lead in the polls was considered in jeopardy, if not washed out.

Other Highlights · Texas was in the middle of

He had been raised in the Baptist church, but he and his family had been attending the Church of God about seven years in the Dallas area.

The pastor plays the piano, mostly for his own pleasure he says, and sings, one of their daughters is a pianist and their son plays the bass guitar. They had provided special music for the church where they attended and for others in the area.

The Olney church was without a pastor and the Small family was asked to come there for a Sunday service. The members there wanted them to come full time.

Rev. Small said he had been seriously studying, and finally yielded to the feeling he had for a long time that he should go into the ministry full time and he believed the door was opened for him with this opportunity.

He received his license to preach from the General Headquarters of the Church of God in Cleveland, Tenn., in

Since then he has been in Graham, Fort Worth, Borger and was at the Maurine Street Church of God in Wichita Falls five years before going to Big Spring. Rev. Small did special services for the nursing home in Big Spring. He has already become involved with the Friendly Door Senior Citizens Center here. He will be singing and playing for the Friendly Door each second Friday of the month. Mrs. Small is a licensed vocational nurse and worked for a clinic in Big Spring. She is interested in working in this area.

Card of Thanks

The family of Frank Guyette wishes to convey our heartfelt thanks to all our friends who completely overwhelmed us with their gifts of love, prayers, food, cards and flowers at the passing of our loved one.

I have always been amazed at the way Frank and I were accepted in this wonderful community when we arrived in 1968, Frank was totally committed to Iowa Park and its people and he dearly loved his customers and work. Your return of his devotion was never more evident than now at his passing. Thank you all so much. We will never forget your thoughtfulness and compassion.

Our special thanks go to Deacon Pat Burke for his very strong support, the members of our church for their prayers and help and the minister and members of First Baptist Church who always remembered us in their prayers.

New RAC director is guest speaker

Jo Lynn Cockrum, new director at the RAC, spoke to the Evening Lions Tuesday. She was introduced by Harvey Troutman, program chairman.

Mrs. Cockrum confessed that as a new director, she still has much to learn, but she was very enthusiastic about describing the functions and services that the center has to offer. She said that the RAC is largely funded by the United Way. It has a 15member board of directors and a membership of 200. She discussed the rental fees by the hour, day and weekends and said that the center was becoming very popular for family reunions.

Mrs. Cockrum was especially enthusiastic about the children's programs offered at the center and said that 15 youth groups were holding their meetings there.

Among the classes now being offered are: arts and crafts, dance, gymnastics, clogging, and plans are being made for calligraphy classes in the near future. In the area of sports, she said that special interest was put upon volleyball. A bridge club and the Rotary Club hold weekly meetings at the center, and Mrs. Cockrum said with the kitchen and other facilities it was an ideal place for a variety of

Kid Stuff

We are offering many classes for children of all ages at the RAC this fall. Some require registration and fees, some do not. At this time, classes are held for gymnastics, tap, jazz, ballet, clogging, and mousercize.

Bingo is offered for pre-schoolers and school age children free of charge. Plans are underway to begin an after school activity hour on a weekly basis, if enough interest is shown.

Also, seasonal craft projects will be offered for children to make as gifts or just for the fun of it. For further information on any of the above, please call the RAC, 592-4471.

Calligraphy Classes

Instructional classes in the art of calligraphy will begin Thursday, Oct.

1. Ms. Jane Fischer, an experienced calligraphist, will instruct the classes weekly from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. Interested persons should call the RAC to register and obtain a supply list.

Weight Watchers

Community Weight Watchers meetings will begin this evening at the RAC with weigh-in at 6 p.m. Program cost will be $90 for a 10-week session
