Eastern America Sizzles in Unprecedented Temperatures.

RELIEF FROM THE MOUNTAINS.

Colorado Weather Bound Eastward on an Errand of Mercy—Twelfth Day of Insuperable Heat in St. Louis Adds Seven Names to the Death List—Not a Second's Relief.

Washington, July 9.—The weather bureau tonight issued the following hot weather bulletin:

The heat wave continues over the central portion of the country as far east as the Appalachian mountains.

Along the Atlantic coast from Eastport to Key West, except at Boston, the maximum continues below 80.

Since July 1, the maximum temperatures have ranged from 89 to over 100, and the lower Missouri and lower Mississippi valleys, and as far east as Alabama and Tennessee, with extreme temperatures from 100 to 102 in Kansas.

A Break Expected.

The temperature has fallen rapidly over Colorado, eastern Nebraska and will probably break the extreme heat over Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky and Ohio Saturday. The changes in temperature will be accompanied by thunder storms.

Maximum Temperatures.

Following are the maximum temperatures reported tonight:

Concordia, Kan., 102; Omaha, 97; Denver, 85; Kansas City, 98; St. Louis, 97; Nashville, 98; Indianapolis, 92; Philadelphia, 93; Boston, 94; New York, 87; Philadelphia, 90; Atlantic City, 82; Eastport, 76; St. Paul, 80; Washington, 81; Detroit, 82; Savannah, 80; New Orleans, 81; Key West, 84; Nantucket, 74.

WORST OF ALL.

Climax of the Heat Spell Reached in Chicago—People Dead and Many Prostrated.

Chicago, July 9.—Of all the hot days that have made life a burden since the hot weather of 1893 began, this was the worst. There were more deaths of human beings and of animals and the number of prostrations was greater than upon any other day of the long hot spell that has hung over Chicago. Sixteen people are dead from the heat; two are insane; and out of a large number of prostrations, 10 are critical.

The Dead.

CHARLES BENSON, committed suicide while insane, caused by the extreme heat.

JOHN EATON, shot himself while suffering from heat.

REV. FATHER OTTO GROENBAUM, priest of St. Nicholas church, in Evanston, died of heart disease, aggravated by the heat.

HENRY HAZMAN, found dead hanging near Pine Ridge, driven to the death by the heat.

HELEN HALLORAN, died by heat.

DORA JOHNSON, FRIDERICK KAISER, THOMAS LYNCH, ANNE O'DONNELL, committed suicide by taking carbolic acid; driven to the act by the heat.

RACHEL TRIBSTON, FRED SCHLITZMAN, died in the county hospital from heat prostration; struck down last Saturday.

JACOB STAUB, W.M. SCHENBERGER, REV. FATHER AUGUST TOLSTON, priest in charge of St. Monica's colored Roman Catholic church, UNIDENTIFIED MAN, found in Washington park.

AUGUST VANDERSLUE, hanged himself while insane from the heat.

Driven to Insanity.

Two men were driven insane by the heat. One was a man who prostrated who are in a very critical condition, and 12 others who will recover.

Out in the fields, where seven prisoners were insane yesterday, three others suffered the same fate today.

A Sizzling Horror.

The night was a sizzling horror. There was comfort to be found nowhere—it was the hottest night ever known in the city. The mercury was 87 last midnight, and although near the lake it sank to 82 at 6 a. m., the decrease in temperature was more than that of the increased humidity, which through the night and day made the discomfort far greater than is implied by the record of the thermometer.

By 7 a. m. the mercury in the weather office had climbed to 84 and there was a steady overpowering bill movement until 8 p. m., when 90 was reached. This was up in the Auditorium tower, where the wind had a chance at the thermometer.

On the streets, where the heat radiated from baking pavements and sun-soaked brick walls, it was five to eight degrees higher than in the tower and no breeze to be had.

The heat was especially severe on horses over 100 dying in the streets.

Pullman Works Closed.

Sixteen hundred men and boys were temporarily thrown out of employment in Pullman today. Owing to the intense heat the managers found it necessary to close the works at noon and send the workmen home. The shops will remain closed tomorrow if the hot weather continues and until the temperature decreases a little.

Deaths at Bloomington.

At Bloomington, Ill. the mercury reached 105. Two deaths and a number of prostrations occurred.

The dead:
DR. MANNING, Chicago.
MRS. JOHN F. TROTTER, Bloomington.

A Welcome Relief.

The temperature took a quick drop in Illinois and Iowa this evening. At Decatur, Ill., the mercury, which had reached 100 during the day, fell 18 degrees in two hours. One death and a dozen prostrations occurred.

A thunder storm this evening caused a drop of 20 degrees. Rain fell over the entire country in torrents.

In Iowa a downpour of rain cooled things considerably. One person was killed by lightning.

At Burlington the mercury reached 102. One death and a dozen prostrations occurred.

At Keokuk, one death and several prostrations.

Toledo, O., reports one death and a dozen prostrations. The thermometer registered 95.

At midnight the number of prostrations by heat had reached 68. Of this number 28 cases are said to be serious and 22 of them are almost certain to die.

A Farmer Sunstruck.

Atchison, Kas., July 9.—Henry Leub, a farmer, died from sunstroke today while riding with the star route mail carrier on

THE TWELFTH DAY.

Seven Names Added to the Death List in St. Louis.

St. Louis, July 9.—Seven people died from the heat in St. Louis on this, the 12th day of the insuperable heat. There have been numerous prostrations in St. Louis. A. Smith, in Brooklyn's catcher, and Grady, first baseman of the St. Louis team, were prostrated during the baseball game this afternoon. Smith is unconscious and his condition appears to be serious.

Two deaths and several prostrations occurred in East St. Louis.

Death List.

The list of the dead follows:
MICHAEL EDL, ROBERT WRIGHT, THEODORE SCHOTE, JOSEPH OBEY, HENRY MUNSTER, HENRY BILDMANN, JULIA FRIEDMAN, JACOB GRIMMONT, CHARLES DIEDER, The two latter died in East St. Louis. Eleven other prostrations fell in the streets and were taken to the hospitals.

Not a Second's Remission.

In the last 24 hours there has not been a second's remission from the heat. Last night was terrible. Street thermometers registered 90 degrees throughout the city. Sleep was impossible. Most of the local weather bureau predicted thunder storms and a decided drop in temperature for this afternoon, but not a cloud appeared tonight. It is only one degree hotter than last night.

Sleeping on the Relief.

At midnight there was no relief from the heat here. Cool rains and wind storms are reported from points in Illinois, but they lodge St. Louis. There is not a breath of wind, and the sky is cloudless. Hundreds of people are sleeping out on the East side tonight. It is only 88 degrees there. That is the coolest spot in St. Louis.

INTENSE HEAT.

Prevailed Throughout Kansas and Missouri.

Kansas City, July 9.—The heat in Kansas City and vicinity was even more oppressive today than yesterday. At 8 o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 89; at 11 o'clock 90, and at 1 p. m., 97, the hottest of the year. The humidity was unusually heavy, adding greatly to the prostrating effect of the intense heat. Up to 8 o'clock tonight 12 prostrations and two deaths had been reported.

M. Dougherty, a soda water manufacturer, was stricken on the street and died this morning, after a long struggle, and a second was removed to his home.

Patrick White, an aged blacksmith, died this morning in the rear of the shop where he had been being driven by the heat and over-indulgence in drink.

Many horses fell on the streets. Throughout Kansas and northwestern Missouri the same intense heat prevailed.

Additional Deaths.

At midnight three additional deaths had been reported as due to the heat.

Mrs. Sophia Hammersberg was overcome this afternoon and died tonight. Her husband, Amos Dahl, labored for hours on the street in Kansas City, Kas., and died in the hospital.

More Deaths at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, July 9.—The number of deaths from heat today was seven. The names of the victims are: JACOB STENGEL, FENCE, JACOB STENGEL, FENCE, ALEXANDER KENNTHAUS, H. KUSKA, MICHAEL M'PHUGH, MICHAEL M'PHUGH. Thirty prostrations were reported. The maximum heat by trustworthy street thermometers today was 96 at 3 p. m. It was 77 this morning, and it is 86 at 11 o'clock.

The number of deaths in the last seven days is 63.

Heat at Wisconsin.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 9.—The heat, aided by the high humidity, caused many deaths in Wisconsin today. In this city, nine prostrations and one death, Hugo Knel, of Berlin, Ont., at Appleton, the thermometer marked 100 degrees and three deaths and several prostrations resulted. At Racine one death and one prostration; at Oshkosh one death and three prostrations; at Madison one death and two prostrations.

Three at Lafayette.

Lafayette, Ind., July 9.—Three deaths occurred here today from the effects of the heat and another victim is dying. William Vollmer, prostrated last Saturday, died at the hospital today. William Riley, a member of the State Soldiers' home, died by the roadside near the home at 3 p. m. Thomas Heaton, a baker, died at 2 p. m. He was 19 years old and his home was in St. Joseph, Mo.

Eleven Prostrations at New York.

New York, July 9.—The temperature at New York today was down to 74 degrees. The police report 11 prostrations, and in one of the cases, a laborer, who was crazed by the rays of the sun, leaped into the Hudson river. The heat was especially severe on horses over 100 dying in the streets.

Hottest Ever Known.

Muncie, Ind., July 9.—This has been the hottest day ever known here. E. D. Dubois, who recently came here from Chicago as superintendent of the street railway, was seriously prostrated. Also Cyrus Richardson, Jacob Meisler, Timothy Horvick, John Rich and many others not seriously.

The glass works are compelled to close on account of the heat.

Suffering in Kentucky.

Paducah, Ky., July 9.—The heat wave is causing suffering all over western Kentucky. Many prostrations are reported. Two hundred employes on the Illinois Central below Key struck declaring that they could not work. Threshing crews are abandoning their machines.

Hottest for Sixty Years.

Kokomo, Ind., July 9.—This was the hottest day here for 60 years, the thermometer registered 105. The workmen on the Greenleaf plant quit work on account of many of their force being prostrated.

SMELTER RESUMES.

Bimetalle at Leadville Starts After Six Months Idleness.

Leadville, Colo., July 9.—The Bimetalle smelter, owned by D. H. Moffat, Eben Smith and Franklin Ballou, new in today after a period of idleness lasting nine months. This smelter employs about 150 men and treats sulphide ores exclusively. Since its discovery in 1878, some 200,000 tons of ore have been treated in the down town district, is another important event, and means that by October 600 more miners will find employment here.

Silver Exports.

New York, July 9.—The steamship Etruria will take out tomorrow $2,000,000 of silver.

CONVENTION

First Annual Session Closed Yesterday Afternoon.

BUSINESS MEN IN CONTROL.

A Free Coinage of Silver Resolution Voted Down as Out of Place—Name Changed to International Mining Congress—Salt Lake Selected for the Next Meeting.

Denver, July 9.—The International Gold Mining convention closed its first annual session this afternoon. Salt Lake City was chosen as the next place of meeting. An interesting feature of the day's proceedings was an attempt to pass a free coinage resolution. The report was then amended to make the name "The International Bimetalle Convention." "The international resolution introduced at morning session was adopted, except the one relating to experimental assay stations, which was rejected.

Change of Name.

The proposition to change the name of the organization from the International Bimetalle convention and bimetalism entered into it, in spite of the effort of the chairman to keep it out.

The committee on resolutions reported adversely upon the resolution to change the name to "The International Bimetalle Convention." The report was then amended to make the name "The International Bimetalle Convention." "The international resolution introduced at morning session was adopted, except the one relating to experimental assay stations, which was rejected.

Free Mining Law Amendments.

The chairman appointed C. J. Moore, of Colorado; F. A. Reynolds, of New Mexico; R. F. Penrose, of Arizona; E. J. Todd, of South Dakota, and F. M. Lyman, of Utah, California, Arizona, New Mexico and Colorado was adopted, but a similar one regarding the granite lands of Utah was rejected. The committee on memorializing the national mining laws, as well as the chairman of the committee appointed to memorialize the federal government for mines and mining, asked to be continued, with permission to sit during the recess and make their reports at a next session. The request was granted.

An Infelicitous Attempt.

An infelicitous attempt was made by J. Cook, Jr., of Colorado, to secure a resolution to put the chairman of the convention, disposed of during the morning session.

After adopting several resolutions of that kind, the convention adjourned until the next convention in 1898.

Mr. A. C. Buechler, of Wisconsin, withdrew Milwaukee from the contest. After the call of the seats had been finished and before the vote was announced, Mr. Montgomery, of Nebraska, withdrew Omaha, and moved that Salt Lake City be declared the unanimous choice of the convention. The motion was carried.

Bids for State Bonds.

Denver, July 9.—State Treasurer Keppler has received bids for the purchase of $200,000 of what are known as surrender bonds, authorized by the late legislature to be issued by the state to purchase the bonds of the state during the present strike. The bids are to be of $100 each, and to draw not exceeding four per cent interest. The state may take them in 15 years, or as disposed, and must pay them in 25 years.

Resolutions Introduced.

The following resolutions were introduced and referred:

By Mr. Crawford: That for the purpose of stimulating the mining industry, congress be memorialized to establish in each United States land district in the mineral producing states, a government experimental and testing station on plans similar to government agricultural stations where ores may be tested free of expense to the applicant.

By Judge Brown, of West Virginia: To change the name of the convention from the International Bimetalle Convention to International Mining Congress.

For a Cabinet Department.

The chairman appointed the following committee to take the necessary steps to securing that the mining laws be consolidated and established a cabinet department to be known as the department of mines and mining:

Lawrence Penrose, of Arizona; M. D. Herring, Texas; J. R. Hedges, Pennsylvania; Wm. F. Beach, Nebraska; E. V. Smalley, Minnesota.

Codification of Mining Laws.

Two resolutions providing for the appointment of a committee to take such steps as may be necessary to secure a codification of the mining laws were adopted and referred to the committee already appointed for this purpose.

The resolution relating to the proposed new department of mines and mining was adopted and referred to the special committee already appointed.

For Free Coinage of Silver.

N. E. Guyot, member of the resolution committee from New Mexico, offered a minority report declaring for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the rate of 16 to 1. The adoption of the report was seconded by another New Mexico delegate. He urged the district "the greatest good to the greatest number" and said it had an area of 56 square miles, only 10 of which is open to mining. Within this territory there are 250 well defined veins, as compared with 10 veins in the Randburg, South Africa, district. On these veins there are 240 shipping mines, now producing $1,200,000 per month in gold. The output of the district has increased from $20,000 in 1851 to $1,200,000 in 1896. The production for the year 1896, which will be increased to $1,400,000 by the first of 1898. The total production since its discovery is $7,800,000. Some of the ore has a value of $100,000 in gold to the ton, but the average value of the entire district is $60 to the ton. In these mines, 4,000 men are regularly employed.

Cripple Creek Formation.

Charles J. Moore, of Cripple Creek, read a paper on the Cripple Creek Formation. He termed the district "the greatest good to the greatest number" and said it had an area of 56 square miles, only 10 of which is open to mining. Within this territory there are 250 well defined veins, as compared with 10 veins in the Randburg, South Africa, district. On these veins there are 240 shipping mines, now producing $1,200,000 per month in gold. The output of the district has increased from $20,000 in 1851 to $1,200,000 in 1896. Some of the ore has a value of $100,000 in gold to the ton, but the average value of the entire district is $60 to the ton. In these mines, 4,000 men are regularly employed.

Appeal Not Allowed.

San Francisco, July 9.—In the United States circuit court at San Francisco, De Haven rendered his first decision, upholding the ruling of Commissioner Heacock to the effect that there was no appeal from the order of the mine commissioners on a new leaf. When a member of a Christian Endeavor society arrives at the years of discretion—say about 20—(but the nature of the problem forbids exact days and dates), and then it is advisable to turn over a new leaf and take up work in the senior department.

Railroad to Deep Creek.

Salt Lake, July 9.—It now seems certain that a railroad will be built to the Deep Creek country west of this city. President George Q. Cannon leaves tomorrow morning to confer with President Carr of the Oregon Short Line regarding details in the matter. The line will probably start from a point near Tule, on the Oregon Short Line, and run 120 miles west, opening up a rich mining section in Utah and Nevada.

A Remarkable Discovery.

St. Louis, July 9.—A dispatch from Hermosillo, Mex., says the commission of geologists have returned from a mission to investigate the ancient Chinese characters, recently discovered on a monument in that city. The government announced that there can be no question of their genuineness, and that they must have been made many centuries.

Embezzlement, Then Suicide.

Hyde Park, July 9.—Edmund Davis, a well-known San Francisco lawyer, committed suicide today after an illness of several months. He had been arrested for embezzlement.

A Successful Meeting.

Today's proceedings and the incidents of the great convention have fully demonstrated the fact that never before in the history of this organization of phenomenal growth has any of its annual gatherings been crowned with so much success. It has confirmed the efforts of a big squad of police to keep the people away from the monster halls in which the meetings are being held. For more than an hour before the time set for the opening of the services this evening, the streets near Woodward's and Mechanics' pavilions were literally packed with people, and the police were ordered for admission and almost before sunset the buildings were crowded with an audience of 20,000, were so crowded that they could not be accommodated in the buildings, and many of the people were left to seek refuge in the streets.

The Morning Prayer.

Glorious weather prevails again today, and early in the morning the Christian Endeavorers crowded the various churches, where prayer meetings were to be held. The topic of all these was "The Christian Endeavor Pledge," and the speakers were Rev. C. H. Phillips, Jamestown, N. Y.; Rev. C. W. Finch, Coolesburg, Quebec; Rev. H. Barton, Caldwell, Idaho; Miss Tyler Wilkinson, Tompkinsville, Ky.; John G. Gager, Russellville, Ark.; Judge W. S. Dewey, Cairo, Ill.; Rev. D. W. Fahs, Independence, Wis.; and Rev. O. C. Sargent, of Claremont, N. H.

Eulogy and Regret.

Druggists on Trial.

Denver, July 9.—Four of the 11 druggists who were on trial for selling liquor without license were tried today and judgment deferred until Thursday next. The other cases were continued until next week.

Not for Hawaii.

Washington, July 9.—The battleship Oregon has sailed from Seattle for Port Arthur, but it is doubtful if she will be sent to Hawaii. It is stated that the intention of sending the ship there is by no means certain.

Appeal Not Allowed.

San Francisco, July 9.—In the United States circuit court at San Francisco, De Haven rendered his first decision, upholding the ruling of Commissioner Heacock to the effect that there was no appeal from the order of the mine commissioners on a new leaf. The Senior Society.

"The fountain source of all Christian Endeavor work is the local society of the church. To increase the volume of this perennial fountain is the object of the senior society. Each new year we close up the history of the past and turn over a new leaf. When a member of a Christian Endeavor society arrives at the years of discretion—say about 20—(but the nature of the problem forbids exact days and dates), and then it is advisable to turn over a new leaf and take up work in the senior department.

Mothers Meeting.

A very interesting meeting of Christian Endeavor mothers was held during the morning at the United Presbyterian church, presided over by Mrs. Frances E. Clark of Boston.

Junior Society Report.

At the meeting of mothers, the report of the Junior Society of Christian Endeavor was read by Miss Myrtle Simpson of San Francisco. It shows that the first Junior society was organized May 23, 1884, at Tabor, Iowa, by Rev. J. W. Cowan. At the Minneapolis convention in 1891, only 855 societies were represented, but in New York, in 1892, over 200 were represented. At Montreal only one year later, the number was almost doubled, 436 being represented. The Juniors are doing much good work in the way of carrying flowers to the sick and hospitals, and in many other methods of philanthropy adapted to their capacity. But the most telling effect of the organization is the fact that the society has had the evening meetings of the church. This was followed by an open parliament under the charge of Rev. A. E. Phillips, of Philadelphia.

Mothers Society Report.

The report of the Mothers' Society of Christian Endeavor was read by Mrs. Jas. L. Hill of Salem, Mass. There are now 306 of the societies of middle-aged women, California leading all the states with 51 societies. The first of these organizations was formed by Rev. A. B. Conrad of Worcester, Mass.

Mothers Society Report.

The report of the Mothers' Society of Christian Endeavor was read by Mrs. Frances LeBaron of Chicago, showed it to be in a most flourishing condition. It seeks to control and guide the younger members of the family so that they may in time be fitted for membership in the various branches of the church, and the most ambitious

New York, July 9.—A dispatch to the Herald from Havana says: The threatened invasion of Matanzas province by the insurgents has been begun. Several large columns have crossed the line from Santa Clara, and the strength of the force engaged in the westward movement is estimated at from 4000 to 6000.

Whether the movement was ordered to embarrass General Weyler, who is now recently been rushing all available troops to the front, or to distract attention from General Gomez, who is supposed to be in the rear, is not clear. It may be both.

General Weyler will hardly continue to press operations in Cuba, and the insurgents concentrate in numbers in Matanzas, and he may cease his long-continued pursuit of the head of the rebel forces in the eastern part of the province.

After receiving this expedition the program map of the General Gomez was to advance across the Matanzas province, a junction with the forces in Havana province, and, if all goes well, a demonstration near the city of Havana itself.

Spanish Movements. General Weyler is expected in Matanzas daily. His departure from Santiago was sudden. The general is reported to take part in the attempt to corner Gomez, or to strengthen his forces before the rebel bodies and the capital is not known.

A Significant Coincidence. About the time Weyler was making his warlike speech at Santiago, Cuba, a circular was issued from the headquarters of the revolutionary army calling upon every patriotic citizen of the country or in the towns to come out and take up arms.

Weakened by Sickness. The Spanish army has never been so weakened by sickness before. An official estimate of the number of Spanish soldiers in hospitals throughout the island numbers at 25,000.

Coal from West Virginia. Wheeling, W. Va., July 9.—The first West Virginia coal to the lakes got through the mining district in Eastern Ohio on the Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling railroad tonight. Six cars of Fairmont coal arrived at Belleisle early in the evening. The train was made up speedily and got through the mine country without being held up.

The United States, he says, will not permit the shores of Fernandez. Betancourt Released. A dispatch to the Journal and Advertiser from Havana says: Dr. Augustino Betancourt, an American citizen, who had been imprisoned as a military prisoner in Pinar del Rio and in Cabañas castle as a political suspect, has been liberated and allowed to leave the island to go to Cuba.

An interesting feature of the meeting was then introduced by the presentation of the audience of six little Chinese children from the Occidental home in Chinatown. They were decked in all the habiliments of their native costume.

Following Mrs. Patterson's address the most important portion of the meeting was read. The subject was "Why Mothers Should Have a Deep Interest in the Band of Mercy Work."

The audience at the Mechanics' pavilion tonight was the largest ever assembled there. The major portion of the evening was devoted to reading and singing.

BOYS' PARTY SUIT. A Russian Suit in White Duck Is Very Pretty for a Six-Year-Old.

Although the fashion is for dressing a boy in long trousers, there is so much to be said in favor of the short knee breeches that you find people clinging to them in place of the more easily soiled trousers. This is especially the case in summer suits, which must be laundered so often.

A BOY IN PARTY DRESS

A suit of white duck, with a Russian blouse that reaches nearly to the knees, is very picturesque for a little boy of six years. It gives him height and shape and a sort of nameless style.

He was worth a good deal in money, but not in happiness. "If I am sorry to have to leave you so much," he said, as he put on his overcoat and started for the club.

Overcoat for Sweater. A girl's sweater is never a dressy article, and for that reason there comes a little overcoat to wear when cycling through the city or paying a call on the neighbors, which is made of serge, all durable garments are, and can stand rain, sleet, dust and wrinkles.

ence is tremendous. Low railway rates, special arrangements, and the magnetism of companionship, stimulate travel and give a knowledge of one's own country, perhaps of others, that otherwise might not be obtained. The student of the man of affairs is brought into contact with the leaders of his profession or business and the contact is helpful and broadening. New methods, new discoveries, new devices are more quickly made known, and knowledge dispersed to the ends of the earth.

Finally, such conventions have a most important and valuable office in promoting union in the nation, in abolishing sectionalism and intolerance. For these two are the fruit of ignorance. Mutual acquaintance is the surest bar to distrust and antipathy. We are one race, and one people from Maine to Oregon, from Minnesota to Louisiana, and it is only as we forget that we talk of sectional hate or dream of sectional division. We cannot help feeling kindly towards the man who belongs to our society or to our church, or to our party or to our business, whatever he comes from, and as we meet him face to face and hear him discuss the problems of our every-day experience in words which are familiar to us, we realize that we are one people with like aims and like troubles, like hopes and like hindrances, all through this broad land.

And that is a good thing for us to know.

A Lynch Law Nullified.

Mail and Express.

The commendable purpose of the statute commonly known as the Ohio Lynch law is nullified by the judicial decision in the common pleas court at Cleveland yesterday that it is unconstitutional. The statute, enacted in 1896, provides that any person taken from the custody of an officer by a mob and receiving injury shall receive $1,000 from the county in which the violence occurred. The case in Cleveland was a suit against the county by two men for injuries received during a strike. The ruling that the statute is unconstitutional is based upon its fixing an exact sum for damages, thus depriving a jury of its constitutional power to assess damages proportionate to the extent of the injury. This decision will apply to the suit brought for damages by the heirs of the colored man recently lynched at Urbana.

It is just that the taxpayers of a county whose officers fail to protect a citizen from mob violence should be compelled to pay the cost of his recovery in costs dollars, it will be discouraged. But this decision illustrates again the amazing carelessness of legislatures, even in the most intelligent states, in framing laws. It is so surprising that so palpable a contravention of the guaranteed power of a jury should have escaped the attention of the body charged with the committee that must previously have examined it and of the governor who signed it.

MR. WOLCOTT'S SUCCESS.

Another message has come across the ocean telling of the success of Senator Wolcott and his fellow commissioners. This latest dispatch contains nothing more than has already been told, and it is important chiefly as its more definite details confirm the generalities of earlier news.

The United States and France will make a formal request of England, and England will agree to very important concessions in favor of silver, said the earlier dispatch.

The French embassy in London has been instructed to give an active support to the American commissioners, says the later one.

So far so good; except to the man who does not want the country saved unless it can be saved in his own particular way, and to whom the first intimation of Wolcott's success will be the signal for an attempt at befitting the task which he once declared to be grandly impossible.

Comments and Clippings.

Leoncavallo, who has but recently brought out his "La Bohème" at Venice and elsewhere, has now undertaken to write a new opera to a book which it is surprising has not as yet been used in an opera house. It is Maurice Strakosky's now famous novel, "Tribby," which, so to speak, fairly cries out for a composer. The recent visit of Paul M. Potter in Europe has been connected in connection with his disposing of certain rights in the drama, and it is now stated that this version of "Tribby" will be used by Leoncavallo in his new opera. The arrangements between the dramatist and composer have been perfected. (Philadelphia Record.)

"What becomes of the colored graduates?" is being asked anew by southern editors and others. This is the graduation season, and it is estimated that the colleges and academies for southern colored youth graduate more than a thousand students a year, but southerners seem unable to find many of them. Probably most of them have disappeared from their old homes and are not teaching colored schools elsewhere in the south could be found in the north by any one interested in the subject. "Big o' a feather flock together," and the more intelligent colored folk are very like white people in moving to where they are needed in finding congenial society. There are "sets" of educated colored people in all the northern cities and large towns, whereas in many places in the south a colored graduate would need to be possessed of the missionary spirit to remain content among his own people. The missionary spirit, like other noble qualities, is rare in any race—more the pity for the southern blacks.—(John Habberton, in Collier's.)

Alaskan squaws are not sensitive on the subject of their age; on the contrary, they take some trouble to make it known to the world. They wear a piece of wood or bone in the lower lip, the size of the ornament indicating the age of the owner. When a girl marries her lower lip is pierced, and a bone inserted. As she grows older this lip is increased in size until it is almost as wide as her chin, and one-fourth of an inch high. The result is naturally most unsightly. There is an interesting family at Fort Wrange which illustrates perfectly this peculiar custom. It includes four generations. A young girl may be seen sitting on one side of the one-roomed square frame house, while her mother, grandmother and great grandmother are seated on the earthen floor, near the door, offering mats and baskets to the ship's passengers who come on shore. There is no disparaging object on the girl's chin, but there is a big one on the lip of the great-grandmother.

too decided a purpose to judge American questions from an English standpoint. More charity toward Americans in discussing political issues would doubtless have given him more general credence and a wider influence. Tolerance is as potent an element in debate as argument. But while Mr. Godkin's mistakes in this way have been evident, no one can deny him real ability and force, and the degree he has received from Oxford is well deserved if not admitted even by the most uncompromising opponent.

It would be well if the colleges and universities of this country were as discriminating in awarding degrees as the English university is. Here the degree is given to the ignorant, the mediocre, the ignorant and the indolgent, and it has become as meaningless as the shower of August meteors. The older universities are, it is true, becoming more careful in this respect, but the younger and precocious sort scatter honors as freely as ever. In time, it is to be hoped that American universities will show the same discernment in granting degrees as English universities and then an honor from any one of them will mean something.

only 22 miles of track were laid in the United States in the first half of 1897—the smallest mileage for the corresponding period of any year with the exception of 1894. The amount of construction now in progress denotes that the total net trackage for the year will reach 2,000 miles.

Secretary Wilson is now reaping the harvest from his efforts to secure a foreign market for American dairy products. A London firm's order for the entire output of the butter of the Iowa Agricultural college is the direct result of Mr. Wilson's hard work.

Harvard believes in rewarding even effort. Mr. Lehmann, the British rowing coach, received last week a degree of master of arts.

The pumps are now being placed in Leadville and the work of redemption will commence.

Oxford Degrees.

Oxford University, England, has recently made it a practice to grant a honorary degree to some well-known American. Last year it chose Mr. Bayard, then ambassador of the United States to the Court of St. James. A few years ago it gave a degree to Professor Goodwin of Harvard University. In the distribution of honorary degrees the university has been criticised for its tardiness in recognizing the contributions of men and women who have done much for their country. It has been claimed that it is not always in full accord with the spirit of its adopted country and that he has shown

THE CONVENTION SEASON.

Conventions are growing to be more and more a summer habit of the Americans. No other nation has so many of such large ones, though few nations, if any, are entirely exempt from them. We have recently had in Washington on a limited scale, a Pan-American congress which is continuing its session in a tour around the United States. The universal postal congress, which completed its labors at Washington not long ago, was on a still more general scale, and indeed comprised representatives from every civilized nation and from many half-barbarous ones.

It is interesting to note the variety of subjects to which these conventions devote themselves. Some, like the two already mentioned, are calculated especially to promote the business interests of those concerned. Not greatly different are those in which the members of the same profession come together for discussion or consultation, as the teachers of the United States and Canada are now doing at Toronto. Some, like the gold mining convention at Denver, are both business and recreational in their nature. In others, such as the meeting of the Elks at Milwaukee, it is the social and fraternal feature which is most prominent. In a distinctive class are the religious conventions, the councils, conferences and assemblies, among which the great Christian Endeavor gathering at San Francisco is most prominent. The convention has its place and its influence in the business, professional, social and religious parts of our lives, but that is not all. It has gained a place in our political system so important and so powerful that it is hardly too much to say that we are governed by conventions. Not only are our candidates for public office selected in this way, but our congress, legislatures and city councils are in a sense conventions in which the people meet by representative delegates to make laws and direct public policy.

Much may be said in favor of these conventions; very little against them. The American people are perhaps too much inclined to make a serious matter of their pleasures. The tired teacher for instance arrives at the close of the year's work in a state of real exhaustion. No one but those who have taught knows what is the nervous strain, the expenditure of vital force entailed by daily intimacy with half a hundred vigorous, developing and often erratic minds. It may well be questioned whether it is not a misuse of precious time to listen to profound discussions of psychology or pedagogy.

But the conventions do an immense amount of good. Their educative influ-

FIRST STEAM PLANT

Ever Erected for Mining Purposes on Pike's Peak.

AIR DRILLS WILL BE USED.

Messrs. Rose and Neal who are Operating Up Near Mountain View on the Cog Road Think They have a Bonanza—A New Tunnel will be Started as Soon as the Plant of Machinery is Installed.

Ross and Neal, who have been prospecting considerably upon Pike's Peak, are satisfied that they have a mine in their property up at Sutherland, near Mountain View, on the Cog road. These gentlemen are so confident that they have an embryonic bonanza that they are preparing to immediately develop the property.

Yesterday Mr. Everett Brown, representing the Hendrie & Bolthoff Manufacturing company of Denver, closed a contract with Messrs. Ross and Neal for a new compressor steam plant complete, and immediately upon its installation on the property away up on the side of the Peak, the air drills will begin work on a new tunnel which is to be started into the side of the mountain. This will be open and a regular mine, and will be the first steam plant ever erected on Pike's Peak, and the results of the mining operations of Messrs. Ross and Neal will be closely watched as their efforts may practically demonstrate the feasibility of mining successfully on Pike's Peak.

Messrs. Ross and Neal have recently secured some very high assays from their ground on Pike's Peak and rich float can be picked up at nearly any place which frequently shows free gold. They think that by prosecuting a systematic line of development work that they will soon enter pay ore, as all indications point to the fact that very rich rock exists in the vein. If the latter can only be found in place, the gentlemen are positive that drifting will open up a rich mine. Work will be pushed as rapidly as possible on the new tunnel, when the machinery arrives.

VISIT OF INSPECTION.

The Past Grand Chief of the Rathbone Sisters Quite Pleased with the Local Lodges.

Past Grand Chief, Mrs. Ida Crosby, of the Rathbone Sisters has been in the city for the past few days making an official visit of inspection of the local lodges of this city and Cripple Creek, Wednesday the grand chief went to Manitou and Colorado City and held an inspection. It was very satisfactory in both places. At Cripple Creek the local lodge made of the affair. It was quite an occasion. After the inspection had been held in the hall the big doors were thrown open and a reception was given by the lodge and all had an exceedingly pleasant time. Thursday was spent in Colorado Springs by the grand chief in inspecting the lodge at this place. She was more than satisfied with the work of the order and her words were those of praise for everything that had come under her inspection. At Manitou, Colo., the local lodge gave the distinguished visitor a cordial reception and a small collation was served in the ladies' room.

WOODMEN CIRCLE SOCIAL.

The Second Anniversary of a Popular Order Celebrated Last Night in a Pleasant Manner.

The social given last night by El Paso Grove, Woodmen Circle, was a very pleasant affair. Quite a large number were present and the programme was excellent. Mrs. Margaret Blood, presided with grace and dignity. The exercises opened by the singing of "Under the Banner of Woodcraft," followed by a piano solo by Miss McQuigg. Mrs. Aldrich recited "A Family Quarrel." A very delightful number was Master Sidney Rice's performance on the mandolin, accompanied on the piano by Miss Rice. This was followed by a comic piece, "Fudge Hangs a Picture," well rendered by Miss Ona Bish.

WILL NOT HANG.

John Cox, the Murderer, will Spend the Rest of His Existence in the State Prison.

It will be life imprisonment for John Cox, who has served one term in the state penitentiary for murder and who killed a man named Daly at Altman last April. Last week he was sentenced to be hanged by Judge Lunt. The crime was committed before the law abolishing capital punishment took effect, hence this sentence on the verdict of murder in the first degree was imperative. Judge Lunt, however, in a letter to the governor, deprecating the omission of an emergency clause in the new law, and recommended that the sentence be commuted to imprisonment for life. Governor Adams adopted the suggestion and yesterday formally commuted the sentence of Cox.

TWO BURGLARIES.

Evidently a Gang of Sneak Thieves at Work on the Houses of the Town.

Mr. H. A. Wagner's house at 323 North Nevada avenue was broken into Thursday night by a couple of burglars. No loss was reported to the police. The intruders were frightened away before they got in their deadly work.

The same evening a well-known fashionable rooming house on the east side of Cascade avenue was entered by a hold robber. In some way he made enough noise to awaken one of the ladies. In true feminine style she screamed at the top of her lungs. The villain was nonplused and lost no time

In escaping. He dashed madly for the front door, through which he originally gained an entrance, and out on the street. It was not done too quickly as one of the young men of the house was aroused and armed with a Smith & Wesson game chase, but in vain. The man of no principle had disappeared.

HOP ON THE ANTLERS.

The First One of the Season Took Place Last Evening—A Charming Social Event.

The first regular hop of the season occurred last evening at the Antlers hotel. Casar's orchestra furnished the music and the guests of the hotel, with a number of invited residents of the city, spent the evening in dancing. These delightful social occasions will be given every Friday evening during the season.

FROM ROCKY FORD.

A Season of Prosperity in the Fruit Region of the Arkansas Valley.

Special Correspondence.
Rocky Ford is enjoying a season of prosperity seldom reached by points less favorably situated. Depending largely upon the agricultural and horticultural surrounding the taking great interest in fostering both these branches of industry, which contribute largely to her prosperity. As early as May 23, farmers began shipping early garden peas to the various towns and cities north and west. Green beans were being shipped June 15th, asparagus and rhubarb much earlier.

It is a well known fact that all kinds of farming depend upon irrigation in this valley. Rocky Ford is famed with the greatest number of ditches carrying the greatest amount of water for irrigating purposes, of any other point between Canon City and the Kansas line.

The Rocky Ford, the Catlin, the Otero and the High line all have large ditches on the south side of the river, the waters from which are used to cover a large area of land in and around Rocky Ford. The High line all have large ditches on the north side of the river in the Holbrook ditch, an immense canal covering a large body of land and also supplying several large reservoirs.

The staple crop in this part of the valley is alfalfa, next to this is the melon crop, of which there were shipped 252 carloads, besides there was at least 50 carloads of grapes by express in broken lots last year. Who has not heard of "Watermelon Day" at Rocky Ford? The acreage planted to melons is much larger this year, and the crop is expected to far exceed that of last year. Horticulture is comparatively in its infancy here, but there are a number of orchards beginning to bear. Apples, peaches, prunes, plums, cherries and all kinds of small fruits do well here, and in a few more years will prove a great source of income to Rocky Ford.

The town of Rocky Ford is situated in the midst of the most beautiful valleys in the west; the streets are level and of good width, and on either side grows the rich and fertile soil of the Arkansas valley. The town for its age is very well built up. One nice block was completed last month and another is now building which when complete will compare favorably with the best business blocks of other and much larger cities. Business of all kinds is well represented here, besides the well known flouring mill, canning factory, and a splendid creamery, capable of producing 500 pounds of cream per day.

Three good brick church buildings, owned by the Baptists, Methodists and Presbyterians, a good high school building, with large and beautiful grounds; several smaller school buildings, with more in prospect. Society in Rocky Ford is as good, if not better than that of cities of much more pretensions. One characteristic of the people of this city is industry. The street loafer is almost an unknown thing here. The absence of the street corner statesman is a relief indeed. Most every business and professional man owns and cultivates (or has cultivated), a field of melons, tomatoes, corn, beans, sweet potatoes or alfalfa.

The members of the Cinciderella company are holding frequent rehearsals for the performance which is to be given at Wheeler hall July 24. Prof. Emil Riffero is directing the preparations for the entertainment, which will be a great deal better in many ways than that of a few weeks ago. The opera will probably be given in Colorado Springs soon after the performance in Manitou.

The Barker house gave another of their enjoyable weekly hops last night. The evening was delightfully cool and pleasant by means of dancing and the occasional use of unrestricted mirth and pleasure. The Barker now has a very large "house party," and they are a remarkably jolly lot of people. The other leading hotels of Manitou were also well represented in the gay throng as well as a number of invited people from Colorado Springs and Manitou. Prof. Des Possee's orchestra rendered a splendid programme of dance music, and the hop was a complete success in every particular.

The Mansions is entertaining a couple of distinguished guests, in the persons of Baron Von Grismont of Bavaria, one of the Hohenzollern princes, and Count Henriette De Martie, one of the Orleans princesses from France. They are accompanied by their valets and an immense amount of baggage. Their meals are served to them in the rooms by their own private waiters, and "reporters are positively excluded" from their distinguished presence. They are making a tour of the United States and will spend a few days in Manitou.

One of the principal delights of a summer visit to Manitou is a plunge in the big pool at the bath house of the Mineral Water company. It is refreshing and invigorating, and the toboggan slide gives an endless amount of fun for the bathers. The hot soda baths should not be overlooked by invalids and others, for the benefit to be derived from their medicinal properties is recognized by all physicians. The bath house is enjoying a splendid patronage this summer and there are many plunge parties every week.

He is making a tour of the United States with a view of gaining pointers for use in improving a railroad project about to be started over the mountains near Vermont. After making a visit to Salt Lake and San Francisco, Mr. von Werthelm will go via steamer to Key West and thence by rail to New York before returning to his native country.

There is no place in this country where an afternoon or evening can be spent more pleasantly and enjoyably than at the Hawatha family concert gardens. They must be enlarged carefully by drawing on brown paper. The hat to be worn with this is a Panama straw, with brown velvet ribbon. There is a mass of foliage and trailing arbutus in the back. MINES, STOCKS AND INVESTMENTS.

Colorado Springs Mining Stock Association.

Colorado Springs, July 9.—There was very much of a silver market at the Mining Stock Association today as the best part of the business was in Mollie Gibson and Argentum-Junata. In the trading in these stocks, the scenes of a few days past were enacted. In the gold stocks there were several small traders and one or two which made a very fair showing as far as quantity was concerned. As with a whole price were stronger than upon the previous day although the condition of affairs was nothing to brag about.

The sales in Mollie Gibson was long continued as so many dealers who came were consumed during the call. Only a couple of blocks of 1,000 shares changed hands, but towards the close there was a liberal scattering of 500-share blocks among the others. The buying and selling orders appeared to be of a more determined character, while there was undoubtedly a good deal of short selling and buying appeared to be the more genuine of the two. The sales opened with a 200-block at 49 1/2, and immediately advanced to 55. This figure was maintained for quite a time and then gradually advanced to 56 and as high as 56 1/2. Then the price began to drop and generally fell again until the close of the call, the last trade being made at 54. The sales in Argentum-Junata amounted to over 6,000 shares and from 37 at the opening the price advanced to 38 at the close. The single block of 1,000 shares which changed hands brought 38 1/2 shortly after the opening, but the price dropped back to 37, only to close as above stated. Reports from the property are of a very encouraging nature and in this respect its strength appeared to be fully maintained. Cripple Creek Consolidated and Isabella were both among the buyers. The first named had a total of 11,000 shares, all of which brought 8 1/2 and 9 1/2, while the Isabella sales amounted to 3,300 shares, all of which went at 2 1/2 for cash and on five days' time.

The light trading in Phacelard showed the price to be weak, 3,000 shares going at 8 1/2. Union held about the same at 13 1/2, and Panny Rawlings was prominent with 3,500 sales at 1 1/2.

Among the unlisted stocks Kimberly was a very active trader, with 63,000 shares to its credit, at from 3 1/2 to 3 3/4. The closing sales were made at 3 1/2, at which time the stock appeared to be in very fair demand. Columbine-Victor was credited with 4,000 sales at 2 1/2 and 2 3/4.

CHESAPEAKE M. AND M. CO.

A Number of New Claims Have Been Purchased and Good Work Now Being Done.

The Chesapeake company, operating on Chesapeake mountain about eight miles from Central City, and on the Continental divide, has recently purchased a number of claims, and is now operating on a more extensive scale. The principal owners in the property are Philadelphians and well-known Colorado Springs parties, prominent among them Mr. J. B. Williams, who has been manager of Holbrook and Perkins, and Mr. Harvey, the foreman of the Evening Telegraph.

It seems that just as the management thought it had reached the profitable producing stage that a big flow of water was encountered which effectively drowned out the workers. The wealthy eastern stockholders were then called upon the scene. There were only three things to do—abandon the properties, erect a big pumping plant, or purchase more ground and run a tunnel. The matter was given due consideration, and in the end the stockholders found themselves so well pleased with the showing that the purchase of more ground and further development work was decided upon. With this end in view existing bonds on the claims were taken up and these, together with other properties, to the number of eleven in all, passed into the ownership of the company.

The Chesapeake company now practically owns the whole side of the mountain. It is a steep one, and on the lowest claim a tunnel has been started. This is being driven towards the vein where the miners were drowned out and which it is thought will be cut within 300 feet. The tunnel will be continued for a distance of 600 feet in which distance other veins will be cut, and which have been disclosed on the surface. The company has options on two or three other good claims which will probably be taken up within the next week or so.

Within a short time from now it is proposed to re-open the company under the title of the Chesapeake Consolidated company. A good deal of work is now being done and it is proposed to continue the same. Three shafts are now working on the tunnel, two men are working on the surface and two others are doing general prospecting.

DIVIDED NO. 2. Colorado Springs Mining Exchange Building Association on Deed—Exchange One. At a called meeting of the board of directors of the Colorado Springs Mining Exchange Building association this afternoon, dividend No. 2 was declared. This makes the second semi-annual dividend of six per cent. on the capital stock of the association issued. The amount to be disbursed will be in the neighborhood of $2,500. Treasurer D. V. Donaldson's report, which covers the association's financial condition for the past six months, was submitted and proved entirely satisfactory.

Colorado Springs Board of Trade and Mining Exchange.

Colorado Springs, July 9.—Business at the Board of Trade and Mining Exchange this morning showed considerable improvement over that of the previous day. It is true that the total sales were not so very much higher than those of Thursday, but a better class of stocks were traded in and there was a greater variety of them. Prices held about the same as they have the past few days, although there appeared to be a slight inclination towards strength underlying the surface.

Kimberly was again the heavy trader of the call and was credited with over 40,000 sales; from 3 at the opening the price ranged to 3 1/2 and closed at 3 1/2. The price obtained for the last 17,000 shares that changed hands. As far as can be learned no ore has yet been encountered in the property so it would seem that the trading in the stock at the present is entirely speculative in nature and buyers are anticipating the discovery of a vein.

Flower of the West came to the front with 16,000 sales at 1 and 1 1/2, while Theresa, which as yet has not been seen among the sales columns, very frequently of late was traded in to the extent of 4,000 shares at 4 1/2. The trading in Mollie Gibson at 56 and 57 indicated strength in that stock. There were several active traders among the unlisted stocks, prominent among which were C. K. and N. Golden, Treasure, Red Bird, Old Arcadia and Goldstone.

A MEATY DIVIDEND.

Gold and Globe Stockholders Receive Moon-Anchor Stock and Cash.

Another dividend. The Gold and Globe Hill Mining company this afternoon declared a dividend of Moon-Anchor stock and cash. The dividend represents about 18 cents per share in cash and will be payable on July 17. The transfer books will close on the 12th inst. Each 1,000 shares of Gold and Globe stock will receive 300 shares of the capital stock of the Moon-Anchor company, and $2 in cash. The total amount of Moon-Anchor stock to be distributed is 225,000 shares, and the cash $1,500.

The Gold and Globe, after the dividend has been paid, will still have over $1,000 cash on hand. The company owns several very valuable properties at camp, all of which are either under lease, or bonded. The Gold King claim, which was recently the scene of a big strike, is bonded for $50,000, with the prospects extremely favorable for the bond being taken up at its expiration. Two hundred feet of the north end of the Iron King, located on Ironland hill, is also bonded for $50,000.

Heavy Hoisting Work.

In connection with heavy hoisting work, it may be of interest to give a few figures from the De Beers shafting works in South Africa as probably establishing a record in the way of capacity for a single shaft. The hoist was designed by Mr. L. E. Seymour, who is engineer to the company, and consists of a pair of vertical tandem compound condensing engines operating at 100 to 120 pounds steam pressure, and a small steam engine operating at 300 pounds. The engines run two rods for flat wire rope of 3 1/2 inches by 12-16 inches, and are nine feet diameter at start. There is one throttle valve for the two high-pressure cylinders and one for the two low-pressure cylinders, both worked by a hand lever, which also works the cut-off mechanism. A small steam engine operates the reversing gear. Brakes are operated by a foot lever. There is a large steam receiver between the high and low-pressure cylinders to equalize the steam pressure, which is at about 23 pounds in ft. The hoisting is from the 1200-foot level, and the total lift about 1250 feet. The hoisting is done by means of a rope, each weighing 400 pounds and holding 9000 pounds of work. The skip is loaded at the bottom by rippers working from the chute at 11 hours 43 minutes, the weight of ore hoisted to surface was 3665 tons of 2240 pounds, or at the rate of 7460 tons per 24 hours. These engines have been in use now over three years and consume only two and a quarter pounds of coal per horse power per hour.

LITTLE OR NOTHING

Is the Apparent Value of the Caledonia Dump.

ADVERTISED AT OVER $700,000.

Englishmen are coming to have a look at it—Possibly All They Will See of the $700,000—President Now Says the Ore Cannot be Treated—Mining Investor Told Them that Long Ago—Lucky Gus Should Act as a Warning.

The sum of $700,000 may be considered as a pretty good pile. When the value is represented in ore, the pile, judged by the standard of measurement, may be considered a still bigger pile, and when that ore is low grade, as in this case, it is not to them as being worth about $900,000. As stated above, it is a pretty good lot of money, but the opinion is held that about the nearest these Englishmen will ever come to seeing the cash is to gaze at the pile of ore and they are strongly advised to take one good look at it.

This pile of ore to which reference is made is that which rests so proudly on the Caledonia claim, and which has been widely advertised throughout the neighborhood of $900,000, but which strangely enough was allowed to remain idle while those holding a bond on the property for $50,000 were hustling to meet the payment.

What Was Claimed.

Not very many weeks ago this Caledonia (Cripple Creek) Gold Mine, Limited, was widely advertised throughout London and shares were offered for sale, and such statements as the following were allowed to enter into the prospectus: "Mr. W. F. Bennet, at 47, in his report, 31 December, 1896, values the ore in reserve between the two shafts at lowest level at 72,000 tons, and had valued the ore on the dump copies, according to his samples, to about 32,400 tons. He states: 'I consider the Caledonia gold mine the best mine on this great field, and if properly managed, will in a short time rival its rich neighbors, the Independence, Cortland and others.' " "Professor J. D. Caldon, in his report, 23 January, 1897, estimates the ore in sight—in the incline shaft and various stops and drifts, as 40,000 tons, valued at $200,000. On the dump fifty 1600 tons of ore, averaging 200 lbs.—32,000 tons (48,000). Low grade ore on refuse pile, estimated to contain 75,000 tons of average 80 lbs., and which Professor Caldon states would be considered good grade in the ore." "The estimated value of the ore is $2,100,000.

It was at once pointed out by the Mining Investor that such estimates as these were inclined to be very misleading as it would seem that the 75,000 tons of ore (according to the Caledon estimate), was worth only 50 cents per ton net, or $37,500 instead of $2,100,000. This statement was absolutely correct and was shown by the company's own president about a month after the criticism appeared, as at the first statutory meeting Mr. Seion Carr, the president, had to go up and tell the stockholders that the ore could not be treated, and acknowledging in those words that the ore was worth practically nothing.

Better Watch Carefully.

While this part of Englishmen is on the ground it had better look into these matters carefully. It is promised that a mill will be erected on the ground by the Caledonia company to treat the ore at about $2 per ton and this is another matter to which their careful attention is respectfully invited. It would seem that no such plants have been installed because such a one does not exist excepting in the minds of the visionary. In this connection it would be well to remind the Britishers of the terrible failure of another English company's attempt to treat its low grade ore. The Lucky Guss is referred to, which has been attached by the very machine company which supplied the mill, to which it is alleged, would treat the low grade ore from the mine.

It is possible that the Caledonia is some sort of a mine but that it is not nearly so good as it is cracked up to be in the prospectus and the advertisements seems pretty well assured. This opportunity is taken to advise the travelers to examine closely and to find out just what kind of a thing they have put their foot into.

The Mining for Precious Metals in Utah the Last to Be Explored.

The great mineral resources of Utah were among the last of her native treasures to be explored, that is so far as the precious metals are concerned, says the Salt Lake Tribune. Mines of coal and iron were opened and worked within a few years after the pioneers settled in the valley. Such enterprises as tended to promote industrial development were encouraged by the church authorities, but the gold fever was frowned down. For many years Brigham Young discouraged the search for gold and silver, historians of his faith contending that the needs of the community be first provided for by the development of agricultural and manufacturing before time was spent in exploring the treasures of the hills. Famines were not unknown in the early days, and it is said the pioneer leader feared that the crops would be neglected if once the infection of prospecting for gold should spread among the people.

At all events, the opening of Utah's precious metal mines did not occur until the fall of 1863, 15 years after the pioneer settlements had been founded, and then the first move was made by the non-Mormons. Whitney's history says: "The credit of taking the first step in this direction is accorded by common consent to Gen. P. E. Connor, the commander at Camp Douglas, who, during the first year of his sojourn in the territory, began to evolve a plan of campaign for the opening and development of Utah mines." According to Mr. Stonhouse the movement began with the discovery of quartz in Bingham canon. A party of soldiers from Camp Douglas were guarding some of the garrison's horses, grazing in the canon, when they were one day by Gen. Connor and a picnic party of officers and their wives from the camp. One of the ladies, while climbing a steep slope for the purpose of collecting a specimen of quartz, discovered it and started for the vein, discovered it and started for the first location in Bingham canon.

The historian Tuttle gives another account of the incident. He says that the man named Ogilvie, while logging in the canon, found a piece of ore, which he sent to General Connor, who had it assayed. It was then, according to Tuttle, that Whitney's plan was adopted. His picnic party, proceeded to the canon and located the mine, which was named the Jordan. Soon afterward Gen. Connor, by authority of the military, held a miners' meeting at Gardner's mill on the Jordan river, where the laws were adopted and Bishop Gardner was elected recorder of the West mountain mining district.

Gen. Connor's next step was to publish the discovery to the world. For this purpose, Whitney's history, he and his associates established a paper called the Union Vidette, which appeared first in November, 1863. It was ably edited by Capt. Charles H. Hempstead, one of Gen. Connor's subordinates, and afterward a prominent lawyer of Salt Lake. The first number contained a letter signed by Gen. Connor, announcing the existence of gold, silver, copper and other minerals in Utah, and offering the protection of the military to all prospectors who might wish to search the hills for their treasures.

From this small beginning the march of Utah's great mining industry began. Prospecting increased, and with the first 1860 the first railroad, the Union Pacific, by the railroad mining for gold and silver soon became one of the leading vocations of the people.

ORPHAN BELL SOLD

Calumet-Hecla Interests Get Into Cripple Creek.

FOR A HALF MILLION DOLLARS.

Four Important Claims Included in the Transaction-Meyer's Lease on the Monte Christo Sold to the Dream Company-Strike on the St. Thomas-Another Big Sale-Smith Moffatt Syndicate Gets the Validator.

Special to the Gazette:

Cripple Creek, July 9.-Indications now are that the differences between the lessee, T. J. Maloney and the Orphan Bell company, will be smoothed over, and that tomorrow morning the sale of four valuable claims belonging to the company will be completed. Negotiations to this end have been going on for some time, and the sale would have been made a week ago, but that Mr. Maloney asked a higher price for his lease than had at first been agreed on. Instead of $50,000, he asked $75,000. This has been amicably arranged, and Mr. Maloney will receive $35,000 cash, $25,000 in 30 days, and a like amount in nine months. The exact figures paid for the property are not given out but the price is understood to be near half a million dollars. The Calumet-Hecla company, operating in the copper districts of Michigan, is understood to be the purchaser. John D. Rockefeller, the Standard Oil magnate, is one of the largest stockholders. By this deal the Calumet-Hecla will acquire four claims of the Bull hill group belonging to the Orphan Bell company-the Orphan No. 1, Orphan No. 2, Ida Bell No. 1 and Ida Bell No. 2. Thousands of dollars of development work have been done on these claims, and 21 leases are now in operation. The chief of these is the Maloney lease, which will be given up to the new owners. From the Maloney lease alone, $2,000 of ore has been shipped since the first of July, and a number of other leases are shipping ore. The prospective purchasers sent an expert to examine the property, and found the ore in sight to be far in excess of the conservative estimate placed on it by the management.

A Lease Transferred. A deal was consummated today by which an important lease on Beacon hill changed hands. The Meyer lease on the Monte Christo on the northwest slope of Beacon hill, and adjoining the Australia lode, was sold to the Dream Gold Mining company, for a consideration of $1,000. Mr. Meyer opened a three-quarters interest in the lease, all of which he has disposed of. The fourth is held by local parties. The lease runs until the end of 1898. The shaft is down on the same vein as the Hickman shaft on the Australia, just over the side line, and has shipped ore.

A meeting of the directors of the Cripple Creek and Gold Hill company will be held in Colorado Springs Monday. After this meeting, at which some minor details will be arranged, work will be resumed on the tunnel which has now penetrated Bull hill beyond the Moon-Anchor workings, or about 2,000 feet. A contract was made last week to go to push the tunnel to the 3,000 foot point, but active work is being delayed until the directors have held their meeting.

Strike on the St. Thomas. Each day helps to make history in a mining camp. In Cripple Creek scarcely a day goes by without some phenomenal strike being made, and at least one new shipper being added to the list of producing mines. This time it is the St. Thomas on Beacon hill. Just six days ago W. Green, on his sublease broke into a 14-foot vein only 20 feet surface. Pure silver, three feet of the vein is high class sylvanite ore, carrying values varying from four to 32 ounces gold per ton. In sinking during the past few days, the leasers struck 33 tons of screenings and high grade ore, which was shipped today, three car loads in all, to the Pueblo smelter. From this time forth they expect to hoist at least one carload a day, until they can equip the workings with a steam hoist, when the output will be largely increased. Purchased to the north of the St. Thomas, Crozier and Ingles, who are subsaving on block 5, came into pay ore at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The vein is 12 feet between walls, and the average of seven assays shows values of $133.20 per ton. Their main shaft is now down 32 feet. The King & Co. sublease, where the first big strike was made on that claim, are pushing the work in vigorous fashion. This evening they had attained a depth of 75 feet, and will soon cross into the vein, and commence stoping and shipping. In addition to the successful work on the St. Thomas, the Little Puck company is having good success on the Clinton No. 2. On the southwest corner of Squaw mountain, Royal and Walter, lessees on Climax No. 1, made a shipment last Tuesday to the Taylor & Gration samples while Thompson and Morgan, on Climax No. 2, have just shipped 14 tons to the Cripple Creek smelter. Both of the Climaxes, as well as the Ocean lode, are being actively developed, and promise to become prominent shippers in the near future.

Another Big Sale. Another big sale, involving a quarter of a million of dollars, is reported to have been consummated, whereby the Validator property on Bull Hill passes into the hands of the Smith-Moffatt syndicate. The price paid is placed at $250,000. Most of the stock was owned by the Zangs, in Denver, previous to this sale. The Validator is one of the best known and most productive mines on the slope of Bull hill, and is equipped with one of the most complete plants in the Cripple Creek district.

Weekly Crop Bulletin. Denver, Colo., July 8.-The mean temperature for the week ended July 5 was about normal over the Arkansas valley, and somewhat higher than usual along the eastern border of the state, while over the Divide and the north-central and south-central sections the temperature averaged from five to three degrees a day cooler than the normal.

Heavy rains visited Yuma and Kit Carson counties at the beginning of the week, and light showers have occurred along the Divide. Showery weather characterized the week in the San Luis valley and over portions of the south-central section. For the half of the week was rainless on the western slope. Owing to the absence of reports from the west at this writing, it is impossible to definitely state the area visited by rain at the time of the general snow storm in the more elevated sections.

Notwithstanding the low humidity and the windy weather, wheat, barley, and oats in irrigated districts have continued most promising. The same is true of the Divide and portions of the western border counties, where the rainfall has been heavy.

In Yuma and the eastern part of Arapahoe county wheat is ripening and will soon be ready to cut, while over portions of Logan county, where the rainfall for the past few weeks has been confined to light showers, wheat is drying rapidly, and late oats, though not yet affected seriously, will soon get potatoes continue promising.

THE BABY'S BATH TUB

It is a Convenient Little Tub of Rubber for Taking Away in the Summer.

There is a new bathtub, which will amuse the baby immensely in its workings. It is made of rubber, and, to give it shape, you blow it up with a bicycle pump through a tiny valve. It stands on the floor and holds water equal to the strongest wooden tub.

THE BABY'S RUBBER TUB.

They say that every tub must stand upon its own bottom. This tub can stand upon its side, or be folded up. Its great advantage is that, after baby has had his bath, the water can be emptied out, the valve unscrewed, and the air released from the pneumatic interior. The tub can then be rolled or folded up and put upon the shelf until the next bathing time.

The rubber tub is considerably lighter than a wooden one, and can be taken away for the summer, when baby goes to the country. If, in fact, it can be used for a family foot tub in summer districts where personal comforts are scarce.

A mother who is watchful of baby's comfort makes the little one's bed at night in its soft depths when visiting in regions where baby's bed cannot be carried.

THEATERS HIS SPECIALTY. Mr. Phipps Built No Less Than Seventy English Playhouses.

C. J. Phipps, who died recently in London from heart disease, will be remembered for the theaters he built. They number no less than seventy, and it was while working upon the last of these, the Tivoli theater, in Dover, that he contracted his disease.

The late Wales, the Princess. C. J. Phipps, the Strand, the Savoy and the Lyric, the Carlton hotel, an important building which is now being built in the Haymarket, was also designed by Mr. Phipps. He was extremely popular and much esteemed in his own profession and in theatrical circles, and was a well-known figure at first nights, which he seldom missed.

New York Stock Market. New York, July 9.-The result of the day's trading is a small average net gain in the price of stocks. But the larger part of the sales during the day was made at prices considerably below yesterday's close and it was only in the final hour that a covering movement stiffened prices to a level above last night's close and a point over above the low level of today in many shares.

A brief inquiry prevailed for the middle grade bonds and some substantial improvements were recorded. The general market also advanced slightly, while a more cheerful sentiment prevailed throughout the dealings. The aggregate sales were $1,450,000.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, July 9.-Notwithstanding lower quotations for futures of wheat from Liverpool and Paris, the market here started firm. September, which closed yesterday at 64 1/2%, opened at from those figures to one-sixteenth higher. Its tendency to rise was soon overcome, however, and about an hour from the opening it got down to 66. The sweltering heat of the trading day was such that the brokers kept away from it when they were not compelled by receipt of an order to brave the personal discomfort of its execution.

Sales of spring wheat for shipment to country millers amounted to 710,000 bushels. The price of September slowly declined to 68% and closed at that figure.

Corn was active for a while in the morning, but the heat finally drove traders away. Crop reports as a rule were as usual and the disposition at first was to sell, but the demand was so good at the concessions that an advance soon ensued.

Chicago Cattle Market.

Chicago, July 9.-There was about the average Friday supply of cattle and offerings were free selling on predictions of a strong hog market, but the packers took advantage of it to dispose of all the market good hold.

Cash and One Price. 19 South Tejon Street. THE CORIOLANUS DEAL. Mr. R. S. Grant Tells the Straight of it—The Transfer was Made Yesterday Morning.

Mr. R. S. Grant, a prominent mining man of Cripple Creek, was in the city yesterday and during the day he completed the deal for the Coriolanus. The deeds were made out and recorded while the cash, which amounted to nearly $75,000, was paid over to Jenkins, Jackson, Johnson, et al., the owners of the claim, and the title to the property now rests solely in the name of R. S. Grant.

In a conversation at the Antlers hotel last evening, Mr. Grant, who is stopping over here a day or two, previous to his departure for Chicago, said: "The Coriolanus has been sold, the cash paid over, and the deeds recorded. The newspapers have been making misstatements in regard to the deal, however. The representatives of the different papers in Cripple Creek have been a little too zealous in their efforts to inform the public of the sale and have overated the amount paid. The deal was not consummated and money paid until today, and the price paid was less than $75,000. Other gentlemen are interested in the purchase, and we propose to push work to the utmost on the claim."
