FLEETS ASSEMBLE ALL THE NEWS

French Admiral Expected to Reach Port T. day.

THE POWERS REPRESENTED

Italian, Greek, Russian and British War Vessels Will Probably Gather in Eastern Mediter- ranean.

Paris, Nov. 3.—This morning M. Delcasse, minister of foreign affairs, telegraphed to M. Mast, counselor of the French embassy in Constantinople, directing him—so the correspondent of the Associated Press is authoritatively informed—to present today to Trevis Pasha, Ottoman minister of foreign affairs, a note asking how the Turkish government proposes to pay the Lo-rando claim and demanding the execution of the sultan's trade dealing with that matter. The note will also require satisfaction regarding the rights of France capitulations and treaties and which in some cases have not been respected and in others have been encroached upon by Turkey.

This declaration of what has been done bears out the statement cabled yesterday to the Associated Press about the intentions of the French government.

Admiral Caillaud is expected to reach his destination tomorrow. The foreign office has received no news from him since his division left the other division of the Mediterranean squadron en route for Turkish waters four days ago.

It is pointed out that the absence of news is not surprising, as the instructions to Admiral Caillaud were to steer due south and to avoid passing in sight of Bonifacio, Corsica, or traversing the straits of Messina, in order to prevent his movements being signaled. The vessels of the squadron carried only a normal supply of coal, but this would be much more than enough to steam 1,500 miles, the estimated distance they must cover before reaching their destination. It is expected that Admiral Caillaud will be joined en route by the torpedo cruiser Condor, which is stationed in Cretan waters, and may be met by the torpedo dispatch boat Yantour, which is stationed at Constantinople. It is also probable that the armored cruiser Admiral Charner, which arrived at Port Said October 31 from the far east, is being held there in order to join Admiral Caillaud if needed. It is further said that three other warships are held in readiness at Toulon to reinforce him should their presence be necessary.

Dispatches from Rome assert that the second division of the Italian Mediterranean squadron, which was announced yesterday left for Turkish waters with the supposed object of counterbalancing the French naval demonstration, will join the first division, which has been cruising in the eastern Mediterranean for some time. It appears also that the Greek warships Psara, Hydra, Spetsar and Eurotas are now at Smyrna, where is also the Russian Mediterranean squadron. It is believed that the British squadron which is under the command of the Prince of Battenberg and which is now at Piræus, Greece, will be ordered to proceed to Beyrout, Syria.

According to dispatches from Toulon all the officers and men of the garrison now on leave of absence, have been ordered to join their respective commands immediately.

Three transports are preparing to receive troops.

The cruisers Du Chayle and Cassard are ready to sail at a moment's notice and the battleships Bouvet and Jaureguiberry will be ready Tuesday.

The work of repairing the docks was continued throughout yesterday.

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 3.—Two machinists working in the Southern shops here, Walter Binder and William Seaver, were shot while in their houses last night by a party of men. McCraney asserts that he did the shooting in self-defense.

The strike has long since ended here, but it is said there is still feeling against the men who took the place of the strikers.

YUKON NAVIGATION PRACTICALLY ENDED

Port Townsend, Wash., Nov. 3.—The steamer, Dirigo, arriving from Skagway this evening, brought 100 passengers and 70 tons of canned salmon. Advice brought by the Dirigo are to the effect that navigation is practically at an end on the Yukon. On October 27, cake ice was running out at Pelly river into the Yukon and slush ice was running at Dawson and the river was daily expected to close. Great preparations are being made at Dawson and during the winter there will be strong competition for over-ice travel. An opposition stage line will be put on. A large number of men are working on roads and trails and when the right freezes everything will be in readiness for stages.

Hale escaped and is being hotly pursued.

THE ISSUES OF THE COUNTY CAMPAIGN

Citizens often complain, and justly, too, that the best men in the community can seldom be induced to run for public office.

They give that as the chief reason for incompetency and corruption in the public service, and their logic upon that point is unassailable.

But what would disinterested observers and would-be citizens of El Paso county think of this community if it should defeat a ticket composed entirely of some of the very best men in the community?

What effect do you imagine such a result would have upon the thousands of people who have their eyes upon this county as the ideal spot in Colorado to locate their homes?

What effect do you think it would have upon future efforts to induce first-class business men to run for office?

The only reason political rings ever exist is because 'TOOLS AND NOT MEN ARE ELECTED TO OFFICE.

The surest way to establish and perpetuate ring rule and bossism is to discourage men of character and standing from seeking public office.

Even the opponents of the Republican ticket concede that it is composed of the best candidates ever presented by any party for the suffrages of the people of this county.

That being true and this being normally a Republican county, do you wish to rebuke the efforts of the Republican convention to reach a higher plane for political action and do you wish to commend "gang methods" and "boss-ridden candidates" as your ideals of party action for the future?

It is the duty of every good citizen to vote against unworthy candidates and against gang methods and disreputable party leadership whatever the party and whoever the candidates.

Under our system of government the most dangerous and destructive influence is the corrupt and disreputable political boss who cracks his whip of arbitrary command over the heads of pusillanimous office holders. This county has had its era of that kind of rule and other counties in the state are afflicted with such a scourge in both of the leading political parties.

When a convention shows the independence exhibited by the late Republican county convention and names a ticket which throughout is composed of men of the highest integrity and of proven ability and devotedness to the public welfare then no Republican, who has at heart either the future good of the party or of the people, should hesitate one moment to set his seal of approval upon such commendable conduct on the part of Republican delegates.

In fact all good citizens should vote approval of such methods without regard to their political beliefs, on national matters.

The integrity of the office holder depends largely upon the influences and methods by which he obtains office. In the absence of a primary election law it is all the more necessary to have party conventions and nominating caucuses above reproach and when the dominant party voluntarily sets the example of purity in nominating conventions and adopts the sole test of fitness and integrity in selecting its candidates it is certainly entitled to the indorsement of all good citizens at the polls.

You will concede that the Gazette has not been sparing in its criticism of Republican city officials who have either neglected their duties or been guilty of betraying the interests of the people.

While this paper is Republican upon national issues, it will not at any time support or sustain corrupt or incompetent public officials, and it will never cease to condemn all gang methods to control the Republican party and it will always denounce the self-constituted bosses of all political parties.

Because of its policy upon these important matters it feels that the cause of good government would receive a very serious set-back if decent and clean party methods fail of indorsement by the voters and if any one of the splendid Republican candidates who unselfishly allowed their names to go before the people should be defeated.

The best service you can render to the cause of good government is to vote the Republican ticket without a scratch.

Republican voters should save their independent political energies for a time when it will count for good and not for harm to vote against a portion of the Republican ticket.

You will undoubtedly have plenty of opportunities in the future to condemn unworthy candidates and to rebuke corrupt and gang party methods.

At this election cast your ballot so as to commend the high standard set by the party for its government.

THRILLING EXPERIENCE IN RUNAWAY BALLOON

San Francisco, Nov. 3.—The nine occupants of the car of the balloon which escaped from this city yesterday afternoon returned today. The balloon was landed near Pescadero, 50 miles from this city, and but a short distance from the ocean. The balloon was in the air nearly two hours and at one time was out at sea but was blown back over the land.

Those who made the involuntary trip were: Ed P. Dudley, the aeronaut; A. L. Dodge, Ed. Foster, Jr., Walter Leon, C. P. Vildeco, J. F. Leonard, M. L. Howarth, John A. M. Swift, Mrs. J. P. Gamsaul.

When the balloon broke its bond it sailed away in a southerly direction. South of Redwood City it struck another air current which took it toward the ocean over the summit of the Coast range. Nineteen miles from La-Honda and about six miles from Pescadero lies Beatty Thompson's place. Thompson was up and out when the balloon came along by Wurr's mill, and the grappling hook slipped through the trees and raked along brushy patches of ground. By this time much of the gas had been let out of the balloon and the power was weak. The rope was held, snapped and caused the captive to become a runaway, was sweeping along the ground and when it came within Thompson's reach he grasped and bore down with all his weight. This stopped the flight. Soon the balloon was brought to the ground, and eight overjoyed passengers and the aeronaut alighted and took supper with Thompson.

A. L. Dodge, one of the passengers, describing the trip said that the balloon first started toward Oakland and after circling about for a time drifted southward and became stationary for a short period. Then, in response to a breeze from the southward, it sailed over the San Mateo hills and stood far out over the ocean. The hearts of all the occupants of the wicker car were filled with fear as the prospect of being dumped into the ocean stared them in the face. Twice, according to Dodge's story, the balloon dipped close to the surface of the water, but rose again, each time to a considerable altitude. Finally a breeze from the west carried the balloon and carried it back over the land, and after dragging the cage through the tops of a grove of trees, landed on a side hill six miles from Pescadero.

"It was a terrible experience," said Dodge, "and I would not undergo the same adventure again for any consideration. Everybody was more or less shaky, while the towed passenger and two or three men were so sick that they sat in the bottom of the basket throughout the trip. We were all pretty glad when we finally landed without sustaining any injuries except from fright."

IMPROVEMENTS IN MAIL SERVICE RECOMMENDED

Washington, Nov. 3.—The annual report of Second Assistant Postmaster General Shallenberger, made public today, urges direct fast mail service between the Pacific coast and the orient, the re-establishment of pneumatic tube service generally, and the closer separation of city mail by postal clerks on railway trains rather than by clerks of the mailing division after its arrival in the general postoffice. Under the last named proposition the entire force engaged in distributing the mail ready for the carriers would be under one management, and congestion in a postoffice could be overcome by the temporary detail of railway mail clerks on duty. The city distribution in postal cars has been assumed entirely by the railway mail service, supplanting the former practice of having clerks from the city postoffice go out some distance on the road to meet incoming trains. Constant demands are now being made for still closer separation by having the railway mail clerk or superintending in charge take the outgoing mail from the public and see that it is expeditiously dispatched, and also deliver the incoming mail properly made up for the carriers.

Mr. Shallenberger suggests for the present a test of the practical operation of this proposition at postoffices whose gross receipts are a half million dollars or more a year.

The postoffice department has no contract for direct mail service between the Pacific coast and the Philippines, mails being carried by government transports or by steamers to Hong-kong and thence by steamers of other countries to Manila.

"It now seems probable," says the report, "that if this government should withdraw its transports, as may be done at any time, with the understanding that its passenger and fast freight traffic together with the increasing volume of its mails, might go to the steamship company that would submit the most satisfactory proposal for quick and regular service, a favorable contract could be secured. The mail service and commercial interests would

THE UNITED IRISH LEAGUE

LEAGUE'S POLICY OUTLINED

Plan Is to Make English Government of Ireland Difficult in Every Way and Finally Impossible.

By Associated Press.
New York, Nov. 3.—Irish Americans to the number of three or four thousand from this city and vicinity gathered tonight at a reception given at Carnegie hall in honor of John E. Redmond, M. P., leader of the Irish Nationalist party in the British parliament.

The reception was given under the auspices of the Anglo-Irish League Societies in New York, the Irish Nationalist club and the New York Irish league. The boxes of the upper and lower tiers were occupied by delegates from the various Irish societies in this city.

Mr. Redmond was accompanied by Patrick McHugh and Thomas O'Donnell, his fellow delegates from the National league.

William McAdoo, former assistant secretary of the navy, was chairman of the evening and introduced Mr. Redmond, who said in part:

"When I last spoke here, Ireland was torn by dissensions. She was divided, distracted and weak. The great leader who had banded the Irish race together all over the world and had brought the cause of Ireland to the very threshold of victory, had disappeared, the great movement which his genius created had been wrecked, the hopes of the Irish race had been dashed to the ground and the enemies of Ireland were exultant and triumphant. Tonight, thank God, the situation is changed. It is true, unfortunately, that the grave cannot give up its dead; it is true that there is no great political genius today presiding over the councils of the Irish nation; but the Irish people themselves have come together again.

"My object in coming here is, in the first place, to proclaim the unity of the Irish people at home; secondly, to explain the policy which these people at home have unanimously adopted, and finally, to say to the Irish race in America that if they approve of that policy they ought to support it, but that whether they support it or not—whether the Irish people at home are left in this crisis of their country's history to carry on this struggle against England without the aid of their brethren throughout the world, or not, we at home are disciplined enough and strong enough and earnest enough to carry on this movement ourselves and at any cost we shall do so."

Mr. Redmond said that the policy of the United Irish league movement was to advance the national cause of Irishmen by making the government of Ireland by England in every department, both in parliament and out of parliament, difficult and dangerous, and finally impossible. He said it was proposed to accomplish this by means of the United Irish league organization, the lineal successor of the Land league.

Mr. McHugh and Mr. O'Donnell followed Mr. Redmond in speaking and resolutions were adopted indorsing the policy of the league and pledging the support of the meeting in its policy.

ACT AGAINST TREASON AND SEDITION IN PHILIPPINES

Manila, Nov. 3.—There was a public discussion before the Philippine commission today of the bill of the act against treason and sedition in the Philippines. Mr. Wright explained the object of the bill, saying that the Spanish code was unsatisfactory.

"There are a number of people living in the province of Iloilo (Luzon) and who, so long as there is no punishment for treason, will take advantage of the fact to clog the wheels of the insular government. It must not be overlooked that turbulent spirits exist in the pacified provinces. The masses of the people are liable to be influenced by scheming demagogues. It would be inexcusable weakness on the part of the commission to allow the people to be aroused to deeds of violence which are now actually drifting to the pursuits of peace.

"The recent renewed attempts at insurrection in the island of Samar and the province of Iloilo (Luzon) and at a few other points, due to noisy Filipino agitators, have caused a feeling of unrest in the minds of both Filipinos and Americans and the act of the commission to make it impossible for very negotiations these agitators claim they so much desire.

"No more excuse exists for secret political organizations. Their intent must be evil. No matter what may have been the opinions of the Filipinos regarding the sovereignty of the American government, the fact remains that the Americans are here, and moreover, here they intend to stay."

"No more excuse exists for secret political organizations. Their intent must be evil. No matter what may have been the opinions of the Filipinos regarding the sovereignty of the American government, the fact remains that the Americans are here, and moreover, here they intend to stay."

The discussion will be continued tomorrow.

A DRAMATIC SCENE IN A CATHOLIC CATHEDRAL

Chicago, Nov. 3.—There was an intensely dramatic scene in Holy Name cathedral today, when, in the presence of fully 1,000 parishioners, Jeremiah J. Crowley, the ex-communicated Roman Catholic priest, was publicly humiliated by order of the authorities of the church.

Father Crowley had entered the cathedral unobserved, passing up the center aisle, and had taken a seat almost under the pulpit. Solemn high mass was being celebrated at the time. When the presence of Father Crowley became known Rev. Francis J. Barry, chancellor of the arch diocese of Chicago, was hurriedly sent for. Upon entering the cathedral he went straight to the seat where the ex-communicated clergyman was kneeling and ordered him to leave the church. Father Crowley refused to go, saying:

"Put me out if you dare."

The strain was intense and one woman in the congregation fainted. There was no resort to force, however. Chancellor Barry appeared in the pulpit and said:

"Owing to the presence in this sacred edifice of an ex-communicated priest, the solemn high mass has been suspended. We will proceed with a low mass."

No sermon was delivered, however, and the mass was at an end before the congregation was calm again. The parishioners lingered about the cathedral and watched the deposed priest as he hurried away. None spoke to him.

MEETING WILL DISCUSS COMMERCIAL RECIPROACITY

New York, Nov. 3.—Members of the New York board of trade and transportation have issued a call for a special meeting to consider "commercial reciprocity." The call is addressed to members of the board who are engaged in manufacturing and is signed by William Carver, president; W. D. Farris; National Lead company, R. P. Rowe; manager; Charles A. Schieren of Charles A. Schieren & Co., and Frank S. Gardner, secretary of the board. The call reads:

"In view of the active discussion of the expediency and practicability of the broader application of the principle of commercial reciprocity as a means of expanding foreign markets for American products, without sacrificing the interests of any of our industries, the undersigned, with the approval of the executive committee of the board, invite and request all members of the board of trade and those who are engaged in manufacturing to designate a principal or executive officer in such firm or corporation to meet in the board rooms on Thursday, November 7, at 2:30 p. m., for a liberal comparison of views on the subject to formulate some expression of the sentiment of the meeting and if deemed desirable to select and recommend to the board 10 delegates to the national reciprocity convention which will be in Washington on November 19.

"The undersigned are aware that differing views on the value of commercial reciprocity are held among manufacturers and have not ourselves expressed opinions.

"The meeting, therefore, is called absolutely without prejudice or bias, and those attending will shape conclusions."

MINISTER WU HAS NOT HEARD OF HIS RECALL

Washington, Nov. 3.—Mr. Wu, the Chinese minister, returned to the city tonight from his trip to Ann Arbor, Mich., where he went to deliver an address to the students. Replying to questions on the subject, Mr. Wu said he had not received notice of his recall to China, a step which a Peking dispatch yesterday said had been determined upon, nor had he received any intimation that he would be asked to return.

As he has heretofore expressed himself, the minister would not be surprised in the least if this action were contemplated by his government as he has now served on the mission here for more than a year longer than the customary time allowed by the foreign office at any one place, viz., three years. He is simply holding over now, and his recall and the appointment of a successor would be simply in line with established practice.

Mr. Wu's tenure has been very satisfactory to the administration and it is understood that it was through representation of the officials here conveyed to the Chinese government that it was continued. When asked whether he would return to China if he were recalled, Mr. Wu replied: feelingly:

"Why shouldn't I? All my interests are there."

NEWS NOTES FROM PUEBLO

Co-operative Laundry Given a Good Start--Funeral of Frank J. Capitan.

Pueblo Bureau Colorado Springs Gazette. Pueblo, Nov. 3.—After today's session of Central Trades and Labor assemblies, it begins to look as though the co-operative laundry recently established by the striking workers, would be a go, and prove a formidable rival to the other laundries in the city. This afternoon the labor assemblies instructed the grievance committee of that body to go ahead in the matter of establishing the laundry, have it incorporated, and take other legal steps necessary. The committee was assured of the moral and financial support of the assemblies. The Typographical union and Musicians union which met today endorsed the strike of the laundry workers and pledged their support in making the co-operative laundry a success.

Fred Orman, game commissioner of the state, and son of Governor James B. Orman, tonight had his horse and buggy stolen from his home on South Union avenue. He tied the horse at the stable after returning from a drive at about 6:30 o'clock and at 7 o'clock the horse had disappeared. The matter has been reported to the police and so far the only clue secured is that two men were seen in a rig answering the description of Mr. Orman's, driving toward Vineland, shortly after 7 o'clock. All that was mortal of Frank J. Capitan of Rocky Ford, was laid to rest at Riverside cemetery this afternoon, attended by a large body of relatives, deceased having been a member of that order. In the city of Louisville the Democratic and Republican executive committees have worked hard for the stump tickets, as the majority, now held by a Democrat, is at stake. Tonight each side claims the election by from 5,000 to 7,500 majority.

NEBRASKA REGISTRATION.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 3.—Yesterday's storm played havoc with the registration in this city, which shows a falling off of over 2,000 compared with a year ago and is less by 1,000 than two years ago. This is not encouraging to the Republicans, but as the same apathy is shown in the country they assert they see no cause for alarm. The only rally of importance tomorrow will be at South Omaha, where W. J. Bryan will make a number of speeches at night.

NAVAL STATION IN THE PHILIPPINES

Washington, Nov. 3.—The majority report of the naval board headed by Rear Admiral Taylor, which has prepared plans for the proposed new naval station at Olongapo, P. I., shows that the station will cost this government $12,353,500, exclusive of the defensive works, signal stations, hospitals and encampment grounds.

DETAILS OF THE BOER ATTACK ON BENSON

Pretoria, Nov. 3.—Further details have been received regarding the attack by the Boers under Commandant Louis Botha last night on Colonel Benson's column near Frankenplaagte, Eastern Transvaal. It appears that General Botha, who had been joined by another large command aggregating 1,000 men, attacked Colonel Benson's rearguard October 30 on the march and captured two guns, but was unable to keep them.

TARIFF WAR BETWEEN AUSTRIA AND GERMANY

Washington, Nov. 3.—Deputy Consul General Hanauer, at Frankfurt, has sent to the state department an extract from the official organ of the Hungarian ministry, which he thinks confirms the view that a tariff war between Austria-Hungary and Germany is certain to defray the proposed new German tariff. It is stated that if Germany adheres to the tariff she will raise the whole world in opposition to her.

LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE.

London, Nov. 3.—Conditions on the stock exchange last week may fairly be described as moribund. Money was the dominant factor. The long predicted rise in the Bank of England rate came just when market had ceased to expect it, but it had little effect in the sluggish

SEVERE BLOW TO EUROPEAN SUGAR

Washington, Nov. 3.—The obvious and sustained friendliness of the United States government to Cuba, the pending increase in sugar production in Puerto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippines, added to the steady and rapid development of the beet sugar industry throughout a large area of the United States, all point to an inevitable and definite decline in European sugar exports to our country.

Peking, Nov. 3.—The condition of Li Hung Chang, who has been seriously ill, shows no improvement. His friends are quite ready as ulceration of the stomach and the hemorrhage has been severe. As a rule he is an intractable patient, but having been told that his life depended upon his adhering to a liquid diet he is complying with the medical orders.

EXCLUDED FROM THE SECOND CLASS MAIL

Washington, Nov. 3.—Another list of publications excluded from second class mail privileges under the recent amendments to the postal regulations governing this subject has been promulgated by the post office department. It comprises 82 publications, the majority of them "serial" or "library" issues of well-known publishing houses.

TEACHERS WILL HAVE COMMISSARY PRIVILEGES

Washington, Nov. 3.—The civil service commission has received word that under an act passed by the Philippine commission, an employee of the postal department stationed outside the city of Manila will receive commissary privileges. Commissary supplies will be sold them at the rate of 20 per cent. of the actual price for the transportation and necessary expenses. The headquarters and disbursing stores will be located at Manila. About 6,000 employes are benefited. This action follows the general complaint of school teachers sent to the Philippines that government assurances as to furnishing supplies were not executed.

SEVERE SENTENCE FOR A NAVAL BLATHERSKITE

Washington, Nov. 3.—"To be confined one year in such a place as the secretary of the navy may direct; to do extra police duty during that time; to lose all pay except $3 a month for prison maintenance; and the further sum of $50 to be paid him at the expiration of this confinement and to be dishonorably discharged from the service of the United States." It is the sentence imposed by the court-martial upon John W. Stoll, a third-class electrician of the receiving ship Columbia, lying at the New York navy yard, for foul abuse of the late President McKinley's body.

PLAGUE SITUATION AT LIVERPOOL NOT SERIOUS

Liverpool, Nov. 3.—No further cases of the bubonic plague in Liverpool were officially reported today. Mr. Boyle, United States consul here, assures intending passengers for the United States that they will be quarantined on reaching American ports.

PLAGUE SITUATION AT LIVERPOOL NOT SERIOUS

Speaking last evening at a local hospital banquet, Mr. Boyle said: "Realizing my responsibility for such a declaration, I assure that the city of Liverpool does more business with the United States than the rest of the world combined. I can say that I am a bit nervous over this outbreak of plague in Liverpool. If I thought the situation serious enough to require the quarantine of vessels from Liverpool at United States ports, I would recommend it, but thus far I have not seen any such necessity."

THE CHRIST OF THE NEW CENTURY

A Prophecy. By Lillian Hartman Johnson. While in the east, literary critics of high standing advised Mrs. Johnson to turn her literary energies entirely to poetry. The following poem, written by request, for the title page of a book by an English author, is one of the productions which received warmest praise from those in authority who passed upon her work.

LIUENANT PUNISHED FOR LOSING HIS TEMPER

Washington, Nov. 3.—Lieut. William C. Harlee, U. S. M. C., on a wharf in Manila recently directed a Filipino boy to take up and carry his gripcase. The boy could not speak English, so he did not understand the order and moved off. The lieutenant thought this insolent and proceeded to threaten the boy with his walking stick. The boy, however, went to the court-martial proceedings which reached Washington. The lieutenant was found guilty of conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman. He was suspended from duty for three months, with loss of half pay, amounting to $300, and he is to be publicly reprimanded. Admiral Remy was not satisfied with the sentence which he declared to be entirely too lenient. In his indorsement he regrets that the accused could so far forget one of the first requisites of an officer as to lose his self-control on a slight provocation from an ignorant person.

Dr. Wilcox on the Uses of Adversity

When thou passest through the waters I shall be with thee, and through the rivers they shall not overflow thee; when thou walkest through the fire thou shalt not be burned; neither shall the flame kindle upon thee.—Isaiah 43:2

These words are both historic and prophetic. They narrate what had actually taken place in the history of the children of Israel and promise a like watch, care and deliverance to God's people to the end of time. It is easy to believe in divine providence when the sky is blue and the earth flooded with sunshine. It is not so easy when the clouds menace and the storm sweeps in destructive fury over us. It is easy to believe that God is good and His heart full of tender solicitude for us when the bank account is good and the family circle unbroken and friends meet us at the door with smiling faces and kindly greetings. It is not so easy when misfortune leaves you penniless and the destroyer and flood lays waste and death invades the circle of home and lays its chill hand on the idol of family affection. But the text assures that God is present in the storm as in the sunshine, in the trial and the home of sorrows, as well as where affluence spreads her gilded wings and the joys of home are unbroken. And this is the faith which the soul of man craves. A religion that furnishes comfort and cheer in prosperity is better than no religion. Faith in God when the sky is blue is better than no faith. But such is the constitution of man and the vicissitudes and evils to which he is exposed that he feels the need of a religion, a faith that will sustain him in the day of adversity. We are not particular about the texture of our garments in July, but when December comes we demand thick shoes and warm clothing to cable with us on the deck of a vessel is not a bad thing in fair weather; it may be a convenient thing when the great ship is resting in the harbor, but out on the deep when the sun and stars are hidden and the vessel is driving toward the rocks it is salvation. A house on the sand is as good in fair weather as though it were on the rock, and a cable as good as a cable when there is no storm in the sky. But there come times in sea voyages when the mighty cable is made to sing like a harp chord. So there come times in human experience when the cable of faith is tried to its utmost. In such times a fair weather religion and a blue sky faith are inadequate.

This world of ours is not a paradise where spires breeze laze the air and you may sit in shady bowers by purling streams and listen to perennial music and find the earth bringing forth spontaneously whatever is necessary for human need. No; this world is a workshop, over the doors of which are written in large characters, "In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread all the days of thy life." It is a school house where taxing problems are given us to solve. Amid these he bravely stands for all that is noble and true. These are to be his ministers in building strong Christian character. An acorn is not an oak when

Right Rev. W. A. Leonard, D. D., bishop of the Ohio diocese, officiated at holy communion at St. Stephen's church at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. The church was thronged. Bishop Leonard also preached the morning sermon.

The two bishops are spending a few days in this city on their way home from the Episcopal Triennial, which was held recently at San Francisco.

THE WEEK IN THE LODGES.

A. O. F.

Back in the semi-traditional history of Merrie England Robin Hood was a prominent character. He roved with his freebooters over the north of England and south of Scotland and while he took from the rich and powerful, he gave much to the poor and unfortunate. In time he made an agreement with most of the wealthy land holders by which they obtained protection from all other marauders by paying a tribute to him. His methods became noted in time as the pattern of local government and his system of giving to the lovers and friends became the basis of a great society. While no written records were kept of the meetings of his clan or followers, many friendly societies were organized for the purpose of mutual aid among the remnants of his tribesmen who in after years became more stationary and founded permanent societies. They in time became recognized by the English crown as legitimate bodies and as the firm supporters of law and order.

The descendants of Robin Hood's outlaws in the most conservative, orderly and widespread society in the world is one of the wonders of the evolution growing out of the necessities of the past generations.

In these societies with the humblest laborers, meet presidents and kings. From the method and system of the clan of Robin Hood has grown a practical benevolence and order that the most powerful potentates are happy to honor and respect.

The oldest printed charter of the Ancient Order of Foresters date back to 1745. Since then it has spread over the whole civilized world carrying the English language and its system of charity and friendship. It has courts in every part in the world and numbers over a million of members.

In Colorado it is represented in nearly every town, having nine courts in Denver, one in the county seat of Grand, and 10 in the A. O. F. was founded in 1884 and bids fair to become one of our leading organizations, it having received applications at every meeting and on the next night 50 candidates will be initiated by Court Colorado into this old ancient order. A drill team and uniform rank will shortly be adopted and the uniform being the same all over the Pacific jurisdiction whenever we have a parade of fraternal societies, Denver and Pueblo may be expected to join us and it will become one of the proudest of the city. A drum corps of 25 pieces belongs to the state uniform rank.

Another court of this order will be initiated in this evening. For this night with a very large clerical list: W. E. Freeman, D. H. C. R.

AMUSMENTS

EUGENIE BLAIR AT THE OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT

Miss Blair, supported by the largest and strongest company she has ever had, will present "Peg Woffington" at the opera house last night. For this production the management has spared neither pains nor expense. The scenery, every piece of which is new, was designed and executed by Rehn and a special car is required for its transportation. The costumes may fitly be described as gorgeous, and are the work of Van Home and Dazian. While even the shoes, with their high and pointed buckles, were contracted for by Azimmo. With the newest and latest accessories and accoutrements, the production is made complete by the supervision of an augmented stage management.

Those who are familiar with Charles Reade's classic novel can well imagine the agreeable sensation which characterizes the portrayal of the characters of Peg, Mr. Vane, James Triplet, Mabel Vane and all the other attractive personages depicted in the story, while to all it gives an insight into the actual condition of the stage and drama in the days when Colley Cibber, the poet-laureate, was one of the chief playwrights and gave it such "fine" versions of Shakespeare.

As presented by Miss Blair, the play deals, as a matter of course, with the story of Ernest Vane's love for the beautiful and sensible Peg Woffington, but it includes all of the incidents connected with Peg's discovery of the family of the starving Triplet, the peculiarly charming manner in which she believes their wants and the ludicrously funny incident of the portrait that so disconcerts the critics of the unfortunate artist, Triplet. While the book is followed in its every detail, the dramatist gives us a Peg Woffington with vastly more heart and feeling than Charles Reade assigned to this character, as the great novelist remained true to his art in wishing to portray his heroine as she was in life.

STUART ROBSON IN "THE HENRIETTA"

The scale of prices for the engagement of Stuart Robson in his elaborate revival of "The Henrietta" at the Opera house on next Saturday evening has now been definitely settled and the seat sale begins tomorrow morning. The scale will not be raised above that usually in vogue for first class attractions, so the public will have ample opportunity to view what is promised to be the most magnificent revival of any play of today. That there is no characterization more popular than Mr. Robson's "Bertie, the Lamb," seems evident from the great desire that has everywhere been manifested to see Mr. Robson in "The Henrietta" this season. In many places seats were auctioned off at a premium in advance, reminding one of the days when Booth and Barrett starred joyfully. From the advance interest already manifested by the attraction, it would seem that a large line of ticket-purchasers will be in evidence at the opening of the sale here. Mr. Robson, knowing the great popularity of "The Henrietta," has made a production of the play this season which is by far the most important that has ever been given to it. As regards scenic effects, costuming and notable names in the company, theater-goers are assured of the most important presentation ever seen in this city.

MRS. LOUISE JEWELL MANNING

Those who do not hear Mrs. Louise Jewell Manning at the college auditor tonight will miss a rare treat. The opportunity is to be furnished the people of Colorado Springs of listening to one of the most notable dramatics of modern times, nobly interpreted by a masterly reciter, for Mrs. Manning is not a reader; she recites the whole drama without the aid of the text. The Denver News, in its report of her Denver recital, gave her the remarkable praise that she had her audience the compliment of perfect lines—there not being an imperfect line in the whole of her renderings of the same drama that is to be given here.

Mrs. Manning opened the lecture course at Greeley last Friday evening and the Greeley Tribune gives this highly complimentary notice of her work:

"Mrs. Louise Jewell Manning, who opened the Greeley lecture course at the opera house last Friday evening, gave a fine interpretation of Ibsen's grand Norwegian drama, 'Brand.' The stern, intensely conscientious character of Brand himself who in his relation to the exacting God of his ideal, held ever before himself the iron motto of 'All or nothing,' was strongly depicted by the speaker, as was also that of the gentle, suffering wife, Agnes, who bending her life and breaking her heart to that stern motto, gave up the last precious little memento of her dead child. Many a mother in the audience felt the tear of sympathy start as she passed with Mrs. Manning over the thorny way trodden by the poor Norwegian mother."

Students of the High school and all public school teachers, as well as the college people, have been granted a rate of 50 cents, including reserved seat.

DEATH OF F. H. MORLEY.

IT IS THE sad duty of the Gazette this morning to announce the death of another well-known business man of Colorado Springs. It is just a week ago that we announced the death of Mr. Lawton. Now it is Frederick H. Morley, of the well-known firm of Shields, Morley & Co. Mr. Morley's death was quite as unexpected as was that of Mr. Lawton.

Mr. Morley was a son of a wealthy citizen of Cleveland, Ohio, and was for some years a prominent business man of that place. About a dozen years ago his health failed and he came to Colorado Springs. The climate benefited him immediately and he soon engaged in business. With E. F. Welles and others he organized a large carriage repository, but in a short time withdrew from that and with John G. Shields, W. H. Sanford and others purchased the wholesale grocery business of the late Henry C. Lowe.

Mr. Morley was an energetic business man, respected by all who knew him. He was genial and companionable and had a very large circle of friends. He and his wife have been leaders in the best social life of the city, using the word best in its broadest sense—cultivated, genial and kindly.

In the stirring decade since Cripple Creek became an active interest in the affairs of the city, Mr. Morley has had a conspicuous part. As a director of the First National bank, as a member of the board of directors of the mining exchange, and as an officer in various mining companies, Mr. Morley has had much to do with the upbuilding of the city. His memory will always be treasured by all who knew him, and the sympathy of the community goes out to the wife and son who are left to mourn him.

DR. SLOCUM'S VACATION.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT that after 13 years of continuous and arduous labor as president of Colorado college Dr. Slocum is to be given a year's leave of absence has brought anew to the minds of many the remarkable growth of the institution under his leadership. The student body of less than 25 has grown to more than five hundred. The one building has become 11, with still another, the largest and finest of all, in process of erection. The value of the college property has increased from less than $100,000 to about $1,000,000. The four or five of the faculty have become 36. The meager intellectual opportunities have been enlarged until now they compare favorably with those offered in much better endowed institutions.

No one who knows the life of the college at all intimately will for a moment doubt that in all this wonderful development Dr. Slocum has been the dominant, the predominant influence. It has been brought about by the wisdom of his administrative judgment and the inspiration of his leadership in every department. The financial success of his administration has been remarked far and wide, but it should never be forgotten that men of wealth have given to the college so generously because they have come to believe in it so thoroughly, to understand its ambitions, its possibilities and its attainments. The money has come to the institution because of its intellectual and moral standards, and because of the way in which these standards have been worked out in the actual life of the college. These standards have been the president's, and he it is also who has been the impelling force which has realized them.

We do not wish in any way to minimize the work of those whom Dr. Slocum has gathered about him, but we are sure they would unite with us in saying that it is Dr. Slocum that Colorado Springs and Colorado owe Colorado college as it now is—to Dr. Slocum as an able financier but even more as a wise and inspiring leader and teacher. We rejoice that he is to have the opportunity to take his well-earned rest, and when his leave of absence is over we shall welcome him back with great heartiness to his work in the institution of which we are so proud, of the future of which even the most optimistic of us will hardly dare to predict.

A fellow named Galileo some years ago declared that the "world do move." He had a great deal of trouble over it. This year the papal authorities have announced that the ban is removed from his pernicious works, and any good Catholic can read them now—but no one will want to. Indeed the "world do move."

The Evening Wisconsin says the boy who takes a neighbor's gate and hangs it on his roof has a very crude idea of humor and is no competitor of Mark Twain. We fear the editor has been a victim and has forgotten the frog that Mark filled with snot.

THE SENATE BI-PARTISAN.

FOR THE first time in many years the United States senate will become bi-partisan when the present congress expires. Senator Jones of Nevada is the last to break away from the new party allegiance formed after the break in St. Louis in 1896, that is, if we consider Mr. Teller firmly established as a Democrat. Mr. Jones has announced his allegiance to the Republican faith.

Of the factions in the senate some have found the way smoothed for them into the ranks of Democracy, some have disappeared from politics altogether, while others like Jones have realized that the silver cause is dead and on the questions of territorial expansion find themselves in line again with the party to which they originally belonged.

The St. Louis secession and the Democratic split at Chicago established two more novel partisan divisions, the bolting western Republicans classifying themselves as Silverites and the supporters of Palmer and Buckner choosing the designation of Sound Money Democrats. Of this last faction there is now no survivor. Of the Populist division all have disappeared but three, though two of these—Harris, of Kansas, and Turner, of Washington—might be classified as Democrats rather than Populists.

Seven senators co-operated with Mr. Jones five years ago to form the Silverite group—his colleague from Nevada, William M. Stewart; Teller, of Colorado; Dubois, of Idaho; Cannon, of Utah; Mantle, of Montana; Mitchell, of Oregon, and Pettigrew, of South Dakota. Messrs. Mantle, Cannon and Pettigrew are no longer in the senate. The first named has returned to Republicanism, and was a Republican caucus candidate for senator last winter before the Montana legislature. Mr. Pettigrew was a defeated Democratic and Fusion candidate before the South Dakota legislature. Mr. Dubois, defeated as a Silverite four years ago, has been again elected from Idaho as a Democrat. Mr. Mitchell, also defeated as a Silverite, has been again elected from Oregon as a Republican. Mr. Stewart, elected as a Silverite, announced his re-conversion to Republicanism about a year ago, and Mr. Teller, elected as a Silverite, is preparing, it is understood, to make his next canvass before the Colorado legislature as a straightout Democrat.

With Mr. Jones adding his vote to the Republican column and Mr. Teller his to the Democratic, the senate again becomes bi-partisan, containing no member who cannot be fairly characterized either as a Republican or as a Democrat.

SUCCESSFUL IN SPITE OF LOSS.

THE BUFFALO exposition is apparently a financial failure in that the exposition company owes about five million dollars. The people who took the stock will not get a return and will have to consider their investment as so much subscription. President Milburn does not consider the exposition a failure, and he is right. Millions of dollars were expended in the city by people who would never otherwise have visited the place, and the city has taken rank in the estimation of the people of the world that it could not have purchased in the expenditure of five millions of dollars in any other way. Mr. Milburn recently said:

There are many benefits which do not appear on the surface, and for many years Buffalo will be reaping the rich harvest to come. It has put Buffalo on the map of great cities and the city has gained an advertising that could not be bought for a hundred millions. Millions of people have been brought here and have left millions of dollars. The money is here and the Buffalo people have the profits. The pro rata expenditure for each visitor is estimated as considerably above that of the visitors to the world's fair, and it is not unwise to say that $50,000,000 have been brought to Buffalo and spent here. The people of Buffalo by having this great educator among them, and the outsiders with them have been benefited to an extent which many millions spent in education could not achieve.

ACTION BETTER THAN INACTION.

THE Philadelphia Press very wisely says that a course of inaction will be politically more perilous in reciprocity legislation than will action. That is, it urges that the party in power can better afford to make a few enemies in various parts of the country by cutting off their tariff protection on special products than it can afford to permit the enemy securing an issue by doing nothing.

Congress at the coming session will find itself in a situation not unlike that of 20 years ago. There was a wide demand for a lower tariff and President Arthur recommended that the friends rather than the enemies of protection should tinker with the tariff. A commission was appointed and on its report a bill was formed that remained in effect seven years, but in the meantime a Democratic president was elected. The Democrats fought two campaigns under Cleveland on a tariff issue.

We have a surplus of over fifty millions this year. Mr. McKinley said that he was in favor of using any such surplus in negotiating reciprocity treaties. The Kassar treaties will probably fail of acceptance, but the party managers should busy themselves with arranging those that will be acceptable.

READY TO ACT ON THE CANAL BILL.

THE CHICAGO Inter Ocean believes that congress should dispose of the Nicaraguan canal question right away. It sees danger from the opposition lobby in trifling with the Panama canal matter. The battle for the upper route has been fought and won. The new treaties with England are ready for adoption, and the bills have been discussed and amended.

The old Panama project has been brought up again and the stock of the company is about to be offered to us. If we should be able to surmount all difficulties and construct a Panama canal some European country might then secure the Nicaraguan route and build a canal between us. This would place us strategically and commercially at the mercy of that other government.

It is argued for the Panama scheme that it can be built cheaper than the other, that the route is some hours shorter for vessels in crossing through the canal. On the other hand there is about an equal loss of time in reaching Panama, so that last argument fails.

The Walker commission will present a report favoring the Nicaraguan route, including such information that there will be little further reason for delay. The people of the country evidently want the canal built and transcontinental railroads will have to submit to it.

When asked if he would be a candidate for re-election, Senator Jones of Nevada said: "Nothing will give me greater pleasure than to see some strong man come out as a candidate." It is dollars to doughnuts that the senator can name a suitable candidate, who fills all of the requirements.

HIGH SCHOOL

PLAYS GOLDEN HIGH SCHOOL HERE TOMORROW.

A Good Game Is Expected and a Big Crowd Is Assured—Golden Has a Husky Team.

C. S. H. S. versus G. H. S. This is the game scheduled for this city tomorrow afternoon. It will be witnessed by a big crowd. Colorado Springs has not had many games this season and there are only one or two scheduled for the remaining few weeks and this is one of the best football cities in the state. It is safe, then, to predict a big attendance at tomorrow's game between Colorado Springs and the Golden High school.

It will be a good game, although it may be predicted that the local High school will win. Golden has never had a High school team before, but this year she has a good one. On Saturday the Golden team will play the Boulder Preps down to two touchdowns and the first half ended in an even break with no score. The Boulder Preps are conceded to be the strongest member of the interscholastic league in the northern part of the state and Colorado Springs High school is supposed to be the only school that has a team in the same class with the Preps.

FROM THE ...SIDE LINES

This is the day before the big football battle which is scheduled to occur at Boulder tomorrow afternoon. Next to the election, the most popular subject of conversation in Colorado Springs is the Boulder-College football game and the interest in it is great. A big crowd of Colorado Springs people will go up on the special excursion to be run by the college students. The special train will leave over the Colorado & Southern at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning and will return at 10 o'clock tomorrow night. A fare of $3 for the round trip has been secured.

The matter of officials for the big game has not yet been decided and indications are that it will not be until just before the game. Captain Jonson of the Colorado team said to the Gazette, sporting man yesterday: "Boulder submitted a list of D. A. C. men as officials. We took them as being the best men in the lot, but Boulder would not accept any of those we submitted, so we withdrew our acceptance of Stearns. Boulder now suggests as being the best men in the lot, but Boulder would not accept any of those we submitted, so we withdrew our acceptance of Stearns. Boulder now suggests as being the best men in the lot, but Boulder would not accept any of those we submitted, so we withdrew our acceptance of Stearns."

The protest matter is in statu quo. Colorado college has five days after receiving official notice of the protest in which to file affidavits with the secretary of the state association. The official notice of the protest was received on Saturday and the four men protested will send affidavits to Secretary Daniels today. The four men will play in tomorrow's game.

The Denver papers pick Boulder to win the game. One of them stated yesterday that Boulder is the lighter team and probably will win. Captain Jonson smiled yesterday when shown that prediction. The college team is not making any boasts of what it is going to do. Jonson says that when Boulder gets through with the game she will know that she has been up against a team.

The strength of the college team in this game will lie in its kicking department. There are several good kickers on the team and by any kick Packard is knocked out, the team will still be strong in its strongest department. Jonson will probably not be able to do any kicking, but Packard will be a dangerous man anywhere inside the 65-yard line.

The line is in very fair condition again. Kitley at center, Brown and Balle at guards, Nead and Roberts at tackles—this will probably be the first line-up. Jonson is slated for one end, with Reed, Williams, Buffington, Bates and possibly Nead for the other. Buffington will make a good man for any line position and there are one or two other men who will make very satisfactory substitutes for line positions should they be needed. Packard at quarter, Lennox and Robinson at halves and Fuller at fullback will probably be the backfield. This is a strong combination. Lennox and Robinson are good ground-gainers and Fuller hits the line hard. The college team is not as strong as its friends would like to see it, but it is in much better condition than was thought a few days ago would be the case.

Boulder has a good team. Her backs are said to be the best in the state. Coach Ewing saw them in the D. W. C. game and he has very great respect for Boulder's line in fact for the whole team. The ceremony will be performed at the bride's home on Massachusetts avenue, Washington, D. C. Five hundred invitations have been issued. Cardinal Gibbons will officiate.

Miss Edythe Patten, the bride to be, has long been a favorite in White house and diplomatic circles, where she is known as "one of the pretty Patten girls." Her marriage with the general, who is her senior by quite a few years, is a genuine love match.

On account of the high rank of Major General Corbin there will be a big assemblage of high officers in the army and navy and also the diplomatic corps.

USELESSNESS OF FIGHTING NATURE WITH EXPLOSIVES

By Associated Press.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Prof. Willis L. Moore, acting secretary of agriculture, has issued a statement concerning the matter of the attempted prevention of hail storms by the use of explosives from specially designed cannon. Brief reference is made to the renewed interest in the subject lately manifested in France and Italy, and to the apparatus now in use in conducting the experiments. The professor then says in part:

"There is a marked difference of opinion as to the effectiveness of cannon firing with the manufacturers and many grape growers on one side and the scientists of America and Europe on the other. The former maintain that hail storms can be prevented in the manner described, while the latter claim that the force exerted by the explosives is infinitesimal as compared to the forces of nature that are exerted in hail formation, and that experiments conducted by the adherents of the cannoning process themselves have not produced convincing results. The number of thunder storms from which hail is precipitated, is but a small per cent. of the actual number of thunder storms. In most localities of the United States a whole season sometimes passes without a fall of hail while in seasons of abnormal thunder storm frequency the number of hail storms is small. While in the grape growing regions of France and Italy there may be greater hail storm frequency, it is still true that the number of hail storms is few as compared to the number of thunder storms without hail. The experimenters score a success whenever they shoot at a thunder storm that does not produce hail, although the chances are greatly in favor of there being no hail in the cloud. Again they excuse the occurrences of hail in spite of a bombardment by saying that the cannon was not large enough or the powder charge was insufficient, and declare that the hail storm was far less severe than it would have been otherwise. How is one to prove or disprove such statements?"

"Scientists both in America and in Europe declare that hail storms cannot be prevented by the use of cannon and explosives of even greater power than has been used or it is possible for men to use and they base their belief upon such knowledge of the forces of nature as science has revealed. Several thousand shooting stations have been established in Italy and France during the past two years, but reports received from them give no definite data in support of the success of the experiments, although there is no doubt that the cannoning is believed to be effectual by the farmers who do the work. Waves of irrational enthusiasm sometimes creep over a community, that we have here to do with a popular delusion and that efforts should be made to prevent its spread in this country. The great processes going on in the atmosphere are conducted on too large a scale for any man or any nation to attempt to control them. The energy exerted by nature in the production of a hail storm, a tornado or a rain storm probably exceeds the combined energy of all the steam engines and explosives in the world. It is useless for man to attempt to combat nature on this scale."

A Bouquet for the Freight Train. A certain farmer in Kansas, not a thousand miles from here, sat down with his family to breakfast. They sat in chairs made in Indiana, the table was made in a wagon made in Ohio, while his son went out with a $40 gun made in Pennsylvania and an imported $10 dog to kill five-cent birds for dinner. His daughter went riding on a $75 bicycle made in Massachusetts. His wife swept the floor with a broom from Cincinnati, took up the dust in a pan made in Vermont with a brush made in Rhode Island. The farmer bought a plow made in Illinois, a cultivator made in Michigan and a reaper made in Chicago. What wonderful means of transport have we, and what make all this possible.—(The Madison (Kan.) Madsonian).

Over the Falls and Alive. All foolhardy performances of the Gramhams, the Campbells, the Nissens, or other adventurers of whatever name who have braved death in the waters of the Niagara river for the cheap reward of transient reputation, are dwarfed to the veriest insignificance by the tremendous feat accomplished by a woman, Mrs. Anna Edson Taylor is, so far as known, the only human being who ever passed over the thunderous cataract itself, down into the forever mist-veiled abyss, and emerged therefrom alive. Ensnared in a strongly constructed barrel, by deliberate plan she shot the great Horseshoe Falls. Men stationed below quickly secured the barrel after it reappeared. When it was opened, Mrs. Taylor was found to be alive and she spoke. Cut and bruised somewhat and suffering from the terrible shock, all her injuries were so slight that the recovery was pronounced a matter of only a day or two. With considerable reason the throng who witnessed the apparently suicidal attempt regarded her survival as little short of miraculous. This Mrs. Taylor is now unique in that she has done what no other person ever did. For a time, no doubt, she will command much profitable attention. What she did, however, in no way deserves commendation, and it is not to the credit of the government on either side of the river that no effort was made to prevent her from starting on a voyage with eternity as the seemingly certain destination. It was in no sense a womanly undertaking, or a sure indication of bravery, which she actually reached the heart of a man through the art of cookery. The young man may be willing to acknowledge that he admires this accomplishment in a woman, but he is not "falling in love" with cooks at the present time. But we are moving along. When Froeda and Hilda have driven a few more miles to drink and wrecked a few more households the young man is looking for a wife may be constrained to inquire into the culinary possibilities of matrimony. He may ask his sweetheart, "Can you cook?" and she answers say, "There may be a coldness come into his heart that forbids all possible alliance for life."

In New York the other day a young man and a beautiful maiden appeared before a magistrate to be joined in holy wedlock. When questioned by the magistrate as to the sincerity of his desires, the young man said:

"It was a case of love ad der first dinner. I go my her house und board mit her fadder. She coog der dinner und id was such a lovely cooging dot I fell in love right away abretty."

The matrimonial millennium, of course, is still afar off in the hazy future, but here is a man who fell in love with his sweetheart because of her "lovely cooging." She probably never heard of Wagner's "Gottterdamung," and wouldn't know a Browning sonnet from a haycock. Neither did she swish the atmosphere with a brasse on the verdant lea and wear a red coat. She just bumped right up against the young man's cardiac region with her "lovely cooging."

"Perhaps if the example of the New York fassle became suddenly contagious the crop of spinsters who look under the bed every night "for a man" would grow beautifully less.—(Record-Herald).

ON THE ROAD

All the time, eating irregularly, sleeping irregularly, exposed to every disease latent in bad cooking or poor food; that's a summary of the traveling man's life. The result is "stomach trouble"; that general term which covers various forms and stages of disease of the organs of digestion and nutrition. The traveling man can't avoid the troubles which spring from his business obligations. But he can avoid "stomach trouble." If Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is used when the early symptoms of derangement of the stomach manifest themselves, the cure will be quick and radical. But even if the disease has become chronic the "Discovery" will cure ninety-eight times out of every hundred if tried fairly and faithfully.

Mr. Ned Nelson, the celebrated Irish comedian and mimic, of 577 Royden St., Camden, N. J., writes: "We fulfilled an engagement of twelve weeks and the constant traveling gave me a bad touch of that dreaded disease called dyspepsia. I had tried everything possible to cure it till last week, while staying at B. F. Kent's grand theater, Philadelphia, in the Nelson troupe, a professional friend of mine advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I tried it, and, thank God, with good results."

Free! Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, 700 illustrations is sent free on receipt of stamps, to cover expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the same book cloth-bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

DARING ESCAPE FROM YUMA JAIL

By Associated Press. Yuma, A. T., Nov. 3.—At noon today Thomas Hart, under arrest for murder, and a Mexican named Leibas, in jail for robbery, overpowered the guard of the jail as the door was opened to pass in their dinner. Locking the guard in the cell and taking two rifles and a revolver from the sheriff's office, the two men made their escape into the railroad yards, where a switch engine was on the turn-table. Leibas formerly worked on the railroad and was able to manage an engine. After compelling the engineer and fireman to get off he took charge of the engine and got aboard. The engine was run out 12 miles from town and abandoned. Another engine with a car containing some quickly followed in pursuit of the escaped prisoners.

The last report is that the men were encountered near Fortuna, a small mining camp, and a desperate battle ensued, resulting in the killing of Hart and capture of Leibas.

its Influence Has Been Felt by So Many Colorado Springs Readers.

The soothing influence of relief. After suffering from itching piles, From eczema or any itchininess of the skin.

Makes one feel grateful to the remedy. Doan's Ointment has soothed hundreds.

Here's what one Colorado Springs citizen says:

Mr. E. H. Downer of 519 South Cascade avenue says: "Itching hemorrhoids annoyed me for 20 years and for at least 10 years were chronic. I was never free from misery and do what I liked I was unable to obtain relief. Now, when Doan's Kidney Pills procured at Jones & Wellington's drug store, 109 N. Tejon street, so greatly benefited an old and stubborn case of hemorrhoids like mine, I conscientiously believe that in the easier stages the treatment will prove invincible. I never received as much benefit from any remedy I ever used."

RAMSAY C. BOGY'S MARKET LETTER

Denver, Colo., Nov. 2, 1901. Dear Sir—As you market showed a disposition to react at the close of last week and we remarked that this was probably due to profit taking, predicting renewed improvement.

It will be remembered that several companies sold all or part of their claims to the Dr.-J. P. company for a stock consideration.

Another reason for expecting continued improvement in the market is the energetic policy of the Colorado Springs office in promoting its interests.

I look for a better market and think it now offers a number of opportunities for profit.

In New York

Buying goods for X'mas trade. But I'm keeping in touch with the people of the Springs and getting such goods as will appeal to their tastes—these goods are the best that can be obtained anywhere.

If anyone wishes to match any article they find difficult to obtain in the west, I will be glad to act as their agent and obtain it for them.
