HIGHLIGHTS FROM THE PAST TO THE PRESENT

Highlights from the Past to the Present takes a trip up the ladder of time a few years as it draws the Gross Family into the spotlight. This week we visit a family who moved to Gruver to establish a business when the town was only a year old. This business was a Drug Store which still remains in the Gross Family.

Mr. Oscar Gross was born in Lebo, Kansas about ninety miles west of Kansas City. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gross. Oscar was the first baby boy born in Lebo Kansas.

Mr. Joseph Gross had a Drug Store in Lebo at the time of Oscar's birth. The family later moved to Waverly Kansas where they were also interested in a Drug Store. Here Oscar attended school. In 1901 the family made another big move to Frederick Oklahoma. They made this move by covered wagon and upon arrival they took up the farming business. It was not long after their move to Oklahoma that Mr. Joseph Gross passed away. There were two boys and two girls in the family and after the death of their father the family moved back to Kansas.

Oscar rented land in Kansas and farmed there for one year. He then took up the trade of barbering in a town near Lebo. He barbered several places in Kansas and later moved to Liberal Kansas where he also barbered. Oscar also staked a claim on a homestead near Liberal, living there only the required length of time. His home was in Liberal where his work was.

Laura Robinson was born in Lebo Kansas also. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Robinson. Laura has three brothers. Attending school at Lebo, she graduated in 1905. After her schooling she clerked in Lebo for ten years. Oscar had a barber shop next door to the store where Laura worked, and this is how the couple met. They were married in 1915 in her home.

After marriage Mr. Gross brought his bride to Liberal where he had been living. He continued barbering for several years and then went into the Ford business.

Five children were born to the couple while they lived in Liberal, they are Don, Margaret, Keith, Josephine and Gordon. Don and Margaret attended school in Liberal for several years.

Mr. Gross came to Gruver before the family to make preparations to open a drug store in the new town of Gruver. He rented the building from Mr. Shapley where the Gruver Drug presently is located. He opened the Drug Store on the first Saturday of June of 1930. Mr. Gross sold his Ford Business in Liberal and on August 1 of 1930 the family moved to their new home of Gruver. Gordon was only a baby at the time of their move and Don was a teenager. The family moved their belongings by truck and the family came in a Model A car. Their first home was in the south part of town on Dillow Row; they later moved into the Cooper home and finally into their present home where they have lived for twenty years.

The town of Gruver had started only one year before they came and the population of the town had boomed to three hundred and fifty during that one year. They recall no telephones and no pavement but there was electricity. Mr. Gross recalls the city well which he hauled from far the store when he first came. The well was located near the depot.

There were three grocery stores in the town at the time. Fletchers had a grocery located next door to the Gross Drug store, and Mickey Westerfield also had a grocery down the street, and the Follis general store. The bank was also in town along with a hardware; there was also a Ford, Chevrolet and John Deere Agency in Gruver. The Gruver Roller Bearing was one of the big operations in town and it employed near twenty-five people. The family recalls the train was already running through Gruver when they came. There were several other establishments, so Gruver had several businesses when it began.

The High School Building was the only school but school did not begin in it until the fall when the Gross's moved to Gruver. Before this school was built, they recall school being held in five little school houses scattered throughout the town, which had been moved to Gruver from outlying districts. The new school building also served as the Community Church. There were Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist, Full Gospel and Christian denominations represented in the Community Church. The denominations took turns furnishing the preacher for the Sunday.

All five of the Gross children graduated from the Gruver High School.

Outstanding and well remembered were the Dust storms of the 30's which would blacken the areas though, it were night. The Gross family recalls a Sunday afternoon about 4:00 p.m. when the lights were on but from their store window they could not see the cars at the curb in front of their store. The dust storm came rolling in from the north on a pretty Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Gross recalls that ahead of the black wall were thousands of birds fighting their way ahead of the storm. Many people became frightened and gathered in the Gross Drug Store as a place of shelter.

Don recalls the first movie camera he had for it was the first many people of Gruver had seen. He had taken pictures and had planned to show them one evening in the store, by the time to show the pictures the store was packed with people to view the show.

On Saturday the people would gather at the drug store fountain where they would enjoy visiting for there was very little entertainment besides this to do. Mr. and Mrs. Gross recall having the drug store open as late as one and two o'clock on Saturday night.

Recalling incidents of the early days, Mr. Gross remembers having the opportunity to secure the second contract for an oil well to be drilled on the Hitch land near Liberal Kansas.

Mr. Gross's past time was fishing and he recalls coming to Hansford County before moving to fish and coon hunt. He recalls one time when he in a party of five came to the Dave Jones Ranch to hunt coons. They were accompanied by two expensive coon dogs. Though they hunted till three in the morning they were unable to find a coon.

Mr. and Mrs. Gross retired from the Drug Store in 1946. A few years later Mr. Gross took up the Insurance Business of which he is still a part.

Mr. and Mrs. Gross are both proud of the fact that their children are all close to them. Don married Cleo Leverton, and they make their home in Gruver, where, Don now has the Gruver Drug. Margaret married Harold Ormon and they make their home in Borger where Harold is with a Builders Supply Co. Keith married Mary Hurter of Farnsworth and they make their home in Gruver where Keith has the G & G Grocery Store. Josephine married Gene Fletcher and they make their home in the country north of Gruver where Gene is interested in farming. Gordon married Sissy Hughes and they also live in Gruver where they own Nancy's Restaurant.

The Town of Gruver is proud to have the Gross family as its citizens for they have been striving industrious people who faced the hardships of life and have come through to be an outstanding prominent Gruver Family.

Randy Lowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Lowe, celebrated his seventh birthday July 2nd with a party at the Gruver Swimming Pool. Attending the party were Jimmy Taylor, Ken and Kelly Perryman, Steven Westerfield, Brent Womble Buddy Lowe, brother of the honoree and the honoree

IN THE GRUVE

We were wondering last week whether or not farmers around here want a new wheat program. Someone sent us a story out of Salina, Kansas and it looks like the farmers up there are also undecided on what would be best.

Here is the story that was carried over the UPI wires.

The leaders of Kansas' four major farm organizations came away from high-leveled talks early this week deadlocked over whether there should be new wheat legislation.

In a peaceful four-hour meeting, the Kansas Farm Bureau, Farmers Union, Kansas Grange and Wheat-Growers Association did agree that:

--Legislation to keep the secretary of agriculture from dumping government wheat on the market should be passed.

--The soil conservation reserve contracts, soon to expire on 10-million acres of land, be renewed at the landowner's option.

--The price of government grain sold on the open-market, now 105 percent of the support plus carrying charges, should be raised at least 115 per cent.

--Agriculture could do without more land in production.

However with the discussion of methods of farm land retirement and new wheat legislation for 1964, the policies of the separate farm groups intervened and the leaders backed away from forming a common opinion.

Farm Bureau President Walter Pierce asked if they thought agreement could be reached on supporting any major new wheat legislation.

Anson Homing, president of the Wheat Growers Association, said his correspondence indicated farmers did not want a new program in 1964.

"In fact they were dubious that I attend this Meeting," Homing said.

Martin J. Byrne, president of the Farmers Union, said the policy of his organization was full parity of income for farmers.

"I do not intend to get in the position of compromising our goal for full parity," Byrne said.

Grange master James Ingwerson, said only one of the many farmers he had talked to wanted a new wheat program for 1964.

"Most of those who voted 'no' in the referendum say they want to try it like it is," Inkerson said. He urged that they meet again in spring after they had reviewed their policies.

On land retirement programs, Byrne said Farmers Union policies opposed any extension of land retirement. The Farm Bureau has supported a program that would allow retirement of entire farms.

Elsewhere on page one of the paper is a statement from the City Commissioners concerning the fly and insect problem. The commission is asking everyone to clean up around alleys and trash cans and spray for flies.

We think this will help the problem a lot, but there are some other places outside the city that also must be controlled before the problem eases. We hope everyone in and out of the city limits will work together to help cut down on the insects here.

The statement from the city pointed out that many people don't want the town sprayed because they are allergic to spray or because they don't want it on their gardens and lawns.

This leaves it up to the people to work together in an effort to rid the community of the pests.

The remark, "Too much of a good thing", is often said and its meaning is becoming clearer every day.

Two very important issues now making national news started off as good things and are rapidly approaching and dangerous stage. We're referring to demands by labor and negroes.

We certainly agree that labor has a right to organize and seek fair wages and conditions. We also agree that the negro should be given his constitutional rights.

There was a time when both labor and negroes had few rights but the picture has changed drastically recently and the situation is getting far out of hand.

Labor, for sometime now, has in many areas been asking for pay of employees who aren't needed and don't work and now the negro leaders are asking special privileges for their race simply because they are not white.

Between the two groups they can exert a lot of pressure and this country doesn't need any more pressure groups.

Visiting in the Oscar Schneider home are Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Melzer from Austin.

WEATHER

The weather has continued hot but the rains of last Friday, left amounts ranging up to two inches.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bigelou of Austin visited over the weekend in the Clifford Stedje home.

Supper guests in the Clifford Stedje home were Mr. and Mrs. James Stedje and Marilyn.

Citizens of Gruver

The city commission of Gruver has made a spot check of the alleys of the city to try to determine if spraying for flies and all other insects would be necessary. We found the situation worse in some spots than in others. We suggest that all residents keep their alleys clean, keep their trash in trash barrels burned, and either spray their trash barrels, or put our fly bait. We believe the situation would not be too bad then.

Several people have expressed the opinion that the city would have to be sprayed every week or ten days to keep the situation completely under control.

Since some people are allergic to various sprays and others wish to keep sprays from their gardens, lawns, etc., we trust that the citizens of Gruver will try the above suggestions.

The Eastern Star held their regular meeting July 8th. The members discussed selling the "Birthday Calendar" for a project. The project was approved by the chapter.

You may want to pick one of these kite up and carry it with you so when you find a case of screw worms you can collect a sample.

FARMERS USE MORE CREDIT

The use of credit by farmers and ranchers will probably continue to increase for several years, says John McHamey, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

His prediction is based on trends toward continuous consolidation and enlargement of farms, further increases in capital investments, and higher prices for farm real estate and many items of production. He points out that farm mortgages recorded during 1962 amounted to $3.5 billion, or 16 percent more than the preceding year. Also the number of farm mortgages recorded was two percent higher and loans averaged 13 percent larger than in 1961.

New technology and the price-cost squeeze are major factors which have increased the need for more credit, says McHamey. Funds are generally wanted for more land, livestock, or equipment; shifts from crop to livestock production; increased use of fertilizer and for control of insects and weeds; and for the modernization of facilities for efficient agricultural production.

Another reason for increased borrowing may be the reduced farm income and depleted financial reserve caused by inefficient farm operation, says McHamey.

For the next few years the rice-cost squeeze, the trend toward larger farms and the need for greater investment per farm will probably continue to create heavy demands for credit, predicts the economist. In addition, more and more small operators will seek off farm employment to supplement their farm incomes.

However, one bright spot for borrowers is that land values have increased along with the farm debt, resulting in increased aggregate equities for farm operators. The value of farm real estate, which accounts for about two-thirds of farmer's and rancher's total assets, was at a record level in mid-1962 and is expected to continue its climb through 1963 says McHamey.

THE WAY I SEE IT Robert Cordes, pastor Oslo Lutheran Church

NOT LOST TO GOD

The little plane flew on and on. Around, for miles and miles, was a huge ocean of fog. The pilot, Mr. Williams, was afraid, but he didn't tell his wife and two little children.

He watched the dials and knew what direction he was going but didn't know what was below—it could be trees, lakes, buildings. In a little while there would no more gasoline. He called again on his radio.

Then he heard a voice. "This is the radar control at Johnsville. Come in."

Down on the ground the men watching the radar screen saw a white dot. The dot was the Williams plane! They told Mr. Williams what to do, when to turn. "Turn just a bit to the left. That's it—keep coming. Now down." A row of lights appeared like magic. The plane bounced lightly on the ground and rolled to a stop. They were safe.

Did you ever feel as though you were lost in a fog? Maybe you were lonely, and you felt as though you were forgotten by everyone. Maybe you felt hopeless or all mixed up and didn't know what to think or do. Many times children as well as older people feel this way.

At times like this it is good to remember that God sees us better than on a radar screen. He knows how we feel and is ready to guide and help us. That's why the Bible tells us: "Cast all your cares (worries and fears) on Him, for He cares for you." (1 Peter 5:7)

As Mr. Williams trusted the men with their radar, we can trust God to see us through, and much more, when we are lost. You see, for Jesus' sake He loves and cares about us. He only asks that we cast our cares upon Him—that we acknowledge Him as the Master of our life.

Many go through life filled with worries because they don't take them to the Lord. Worry is a sin. So cast your complete life upon the Lord and notice the peace that comes to your troubled mind.

Whom Shall We Go

by Alfred White

"And Jesus came and said to them, 'All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you; and lo, I am with you always, to the close of the age.'" (Matt. 28:18-20) R.S.V.

The Great commission given to the apostles is world-wide and exclusive. They were to disciple all nations, immersing those things necessary to remain in the good graces of God. The word "disciple" as a noun means a learner. The word "disciple" as used in the great commission of the Lord is a verb in the transitive sense and used in the active voice. This describes those who are pupils of a teacher—actively moving by that teacher's instructions. It is impossible to make a Christian without teaching. To immerse one incapable of the reason for his immersion, or incapable of understanding why he is being immersed is presumptuous.

Jesus declared, "No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day. It is written in the prophets, and they shall be all taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me." (Jno. 6:44-45) No man can be "drawn to the Father" but by teaching. Only the man who has "heard and hath learned" can come. The prophets of old are used by the Lord to prove this contention Paul adds to this by saying "How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? And how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? And how shall they hear without a preacher?" (Rom. 10:14)

To try to teach someone who cannot be taught and immerse someone who has not the mentality to know the reason for their immersion is pure tripe. In every case of conversion from dead works to serving the true and living God, repentance promoted by godly sorrow moved the disciples toward salvation. To teach people that they should repent before having faith, or repent without having done anything to repent of is appalling. Repentance is motivated by a stricken heart of remorse that fully understand the shame of personal sin. One who has been taught the gospel has the facilities to believe in the Christ. Without faith it is impossible to please God and faith comes by hearing God's word. See Rom 10:17—Such an example of this discipline is recorded in the second chapter of Acts of Apostles. Peter had convicted his "disciples" that they had crucified the Son of God. They in deep humiliation declared "Men and brethren, what must we do?" To this inquiry, their

Aromatic Red Cedar Mothproof Closets

One of the most effective and economical ways to protect all clothing is to install aromatic red cedar linings in closets. This easy-to-handle material, available in pre-packaged bundles at local lumber dealers, can be installed right over closet walls. It also can be nailed over open framing in a new closet.

The natural fragrance of this distinctive southern wood, so pleasing to humans — is "death" to moths. It paralyzes them at an early stage.

Other qualities make cedar closets desirable as a home feature include attractiveness and easy upkeep. The beautiful rose and white coloring of the cedar grain presents a handsome appearance.

The wood requires very little care. No initial or periodic finishing of red cedar closet lining is required. The only upkeep recommended is an occasional dusting.

Aromatic red cedar closet lining is tongue-and-grooved at sides and ends so that pieces fit snugly. This not only facilitates application, but also makes for solid, unbroken surfaces.

teacher declared "Repent and be baptized, everyone of you in the name of Jesus Christ, for the remission of sins and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit," (Acts 2:37-38) Separation from God spiritually comes from personal enmity with God, not by Adam's transgression. Paul states, "And you, that were sometime alienated and enemies in your mind by wicked works yet now hath he reconciled." (Col. 1:21) Again, "And you hath he quickened who were dead in trespasses and sins: wherein in time past ye walked according to the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience." (Eph. 2:2-2)

Alienation is by "wicked works", by "trespasses and sins" in which every sinner "walks". No, the Bible does not contradict itself. "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved, he that believeth not shall be damned." (Mark 16:16)

Cedar closet lining can be applied to plastered or finished wallboard. Apply the lining, which comes in 3/8" thick strips, horizontally on the walls. Begin at the bottom and work up.

Place the first piece with the groove edge on the floor and the tongue side against the adjacent wall in the corner. The tongue edges of this piece will fit into the groove end of the second piece. When you are finished with the first row, proceed on up the wall.

Only one nail at each stud is needed to secure cedar closet lining. The first row, however, should have nails near the top and bottom of each piece. Usually studs are located at the corner of an existing closet. To verify this, measure off 16 inches and drive in a nail to see if there is solid backing.

To realize the maximum moth-protection benefits from a closet lined with aromatic red cedar, follow these general rules:

- Keep the closet as air-tight as possible. Close the door securely after storing or removing articles.

NEW, FRAGRANT CLOSETS FROM OLD! This aromatic red cedar closet lining can be installed right over old walls and doors. This handsome lining helps protect valuable clothing from moth damage and keeps them fresh and gently-fragrant.

- Wipe the cedar occasionally with a dry cloth to remove dust and dirt.
- Sand the wood lightly every year or so to reopen any closed wood pores and renew the strength of the cedar fragrance.
- Air dry or dry clean all articles before storing them.

An entire closet can be lined over a weekend for approximately $50. In addition to providing valuable moth-free storage space, a cedar-lined closet will increase the value of the house in today's competitive market.

Use Aluminum for Home Remodeling

Homes remodeled with aluminum are easier to live in, easier to rent and sell, easier to insure and mortgage.

They cost less to heat and cool. And, perhaps the biggest plus of all, they're safer. For aluminum is non-sparking and, of course, fireproof.

In houses going up today, dozens of aluminum products are used.

Siding, roofing and reflective insulation, duct-work, doors, windows and customized built-ins... these products need little painting and practically — no maintenance.

Corvair 700 Club Coupe

The hardest part about parking a Corvair is finding a nickel

That may be a slight overstatement, but such jauntiness comes easily when you're a Corvair owner.

And you can usually back it up—as easily as you can back up a Corvair. You'll find yourself doing that occasionally, if only to adjust the brakes—they're self-adjusting. That's all there is to it, and that's a good example of how delightfully easy Corvair is to own, drive and maintain.

But since we began by talking about driving, let's stick with that awhile. A large factor in the fun of driving a Corvair is the location of its engine in the rear. Why the rear? It gives Corvair extra traction on any road surface. It provides a nearly flat floor for more useable interior space. Best of all, it produces steering so light, so responsive, you wonder why no other American-made car thought of it.

Corvair's engine is also air cooled, we might add, which means there's no anti-freeze or water for you to add. Ever.

All that pleasure from something so practical almost makes you think Corvair is unique among American cars. Which isn't surprising, because it is!
