The Proposed Wheat Program

Wheat growers in the Panhandle, and all across the nation, are studying the provisions of the wheat program proposed for 1964, evaluating it so that they will be able to cast ballots in the coming wheat referendum. Agriculture Secretary Freeman is expected to set the election date soon. A May election is likely, giving farmers more time than in past years to make plans for the coming year. The decision is squarely up to the farmers.

Each wheat grower must ask himself: "What would be the consequences for the United States and for me if the wheat referendum were approved or defeated?"

A favorable vote by two-thirds or more of the growers participating in the referendum would put this program in effect for the '64 crops: A national marketing quota would be set at about 1.2 billion bushels, based on the national need for wheat. The national acreage allotment expected to be announced in several weeks will be approximately 49.5 million acres, and each wheat grower would have an allotment under the program. Producers with 15 acres or less would share in special "small farm allotment." Approximately 80 percent of normal production from allotted acres would receive farm marketing allocation — and for these allocations, whether marketed or placed under price support, growers would receive about $2 per bushel. Wheat in excess of the marketing allocation would return to farmers about $1.30 per bushel, either through the market or price support. According to the Agriculture Department, this price is close to the world price and to the feeding value of the wheat.

One phase of the proposed 1964 program is aimed at holding production to desirable levels by diverting wheat land to other uses. Diverted acreage would be in two categories: (1) mandatory diversion of about 10 percent of the 1963 allotments with payments at 30 percent of the support rate, and (2) voluntary diversion in addition up to 20 percent of the 1964 acreage allotment, with payments at 50 percent of the support rate. The diverted land could be put into conservation crops such as grass or legumes; it might be fallowed; or it could be planted to crops designated by the Secretary of Agriculture as not being in surplus supply. A land use penalty would apply, however, if diverted acres were planted to crops not permitted by law.

Obviously, the adoption of this program means a continuation of rigid government control over American wheat production. Each wheat grower must decide for himself whether or not he believes his government should exercise these proposed controls.

If more than one-third of wheat growers vote "no" in the referendum, these results may be expected: Wheat price supports would drop to 50 percent of parity, or about $1.20 per bushel for growers who plant within their acreage allotment. The national acreage allotment would not be changed. Wheat growers who planted more than their allotments would not be eligible for price support loans, but there would be no penalties. Agricultural economists from land grant colleges and universities who've studied the 1964 program say the effect of a "no" vote in the referendum would be these: Growers could be expected to plant up to 70 million acres or more of wheat compared with 49 million acres planted in 1962; harvested acreage would be about 65 million acres compared with 43 million acres in 1962; and wheat production would total about 1.5 billion bushels: about 300 million bushels more than

Turnout Very Small For SOS III

A disappointingly small group of people showed up Sunday for the Type III protective vaccines here in Quitaque.

Only 145 vaccinations were recorded here in Quitaque and probably less than 500 availed themselves of the protection in Briscoe County.

To protect a community against polio, officials say that between 85 and 90 percent of the population must have Sabin oral vaccine. This protects the vaccinated individual as well as the people with whom he comes in contact.

Next Sunday, March 31, will be Make-Up Sunday for the Type III vaccine. It is hoped that at least as many as took the vaccine last Sunday will avail themselves of the opportunity next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hadaway of Oklahoma City and Mrs. J. W. Hadaway of Wellington spent Sunday of last week with Myrtice Gillespie and Venus, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hardin of San Diego, Calif. have been here and at Silverton visiting for two weeks. Mrs. Hardin is Mrs. Odell Johnston's sister. They left for home Monday morning.

Mrs. Raymond West of Amarillo spent last week with her mother, Mrs. Mary Fain.

Eugene Corgill of Hobbs, N. M. joined his family at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Woods last Thursday. Mrs. Corgill and children returned home with Mr. Corgill Sunday afternoon after spending several days visiting here.

could be used at home or exported. Wheat prices would drop to a level based on wheat's value as livestock feed, probably about $1.10 with a feed grains program in effect and about 90 cents with no feed grains program. At these price levels, feeding of wheat to livestock might increase to about 100 million bushels a year, causing additional sorghum grain, corn, and barley to be placed under government price support. The economists estimate that at these prices and quantities, total farm income from wheat would drop from $2.3 billion in 1961-62 to about $1.6 billion. On the international market, a "no" vote might force United States prices lower than minimum prices under the international wheat agreement, probably making necessary an expanded government role in controlling wheat exports.

Government programs involving wheat have three purposes: (1) To support wheat prices and farmers' income. (2) To export more wheat (despite the fact that every bushel of wheat exported involves a subsidy or some other payment by the government). (3) To hold down wheat production (an objective only partially achieved in past years). Each wheat grower participating in the referendum should form an opinion concerning these objectives and the part the proposed 1964 program would play in meeting them. If you'll drop me a card, I'll be happy to send you a copy of a four-page Agriculture Department publication explaining the program in more detail.

TIME IS HERE TO START PLANS FOR THIS YEAR'S HOMECOMING

Homecoming year is at hand again for ex-students and residents of Quitaque.

The Executive Committee of the Quitaque Ex-Students Association met Monday night to plan for this year's Homecoming, which falls on August 24. It was voted at the last Homecoming to move the date back one week since many schools now begin the last week in August.

Cards will be mailed within two weeks to those living out of town and the community. The biggest problem that always faces the committee is that of change of addresses. Since the 1960 Homecoming, not a single change of address has been reported to the Secretary and there are sure to be some changes and any who knows of a change is urged to contact Mary Pittman, either by writing or calling her at 2251. If members of your family, or some of your friends who are former residents of Quitaque have moved since the last homecoming, please give their address to Mrs. Pittman.

It is necessary that cards be sent out as soon as possible to remind everyone that this is Homecoming year in order that folks who live far away may start making their plans now to attend.

A number of people in California as well as other states almost always attend Homecoming and they usually make the trip a part of their summer vacation.

Now is the time to start making plans. Almost everyone who lives here has family and friends whom they would like to see attend the get together and the sooner plans are initiated, the better chances are that they will be able to come.

So, don't delay! How about YOU starting to make your own plans. RIGHT NOW!

Mr. and Mrs. John Whitfield of Whiteflat were visitors at the local Church of Christ Sunday morning. They were enroute to visit at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Perry Vines and her family.

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Chadwick and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wheeler of Turkey visited Roger Arnold in the hospital at Memphis Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Titus of Plainville and Mrs. Frank Hawkins of Lockney visited Mr. Cecil Payne last Monday evening.

Revival Begins Sunday At Methodist Church

Revival services will begin at the Methodist Church Sunday evening at 7:30 P. M. These special meetings will continue through Sunday, April 7. Evening services begin at 7:30 P. M., and morning services at 7:00 A. M. Coffee and doughnuts will be served following morning services.

The preacher for the week will be the Rev. H. Phillip (Phil) Widmer, pastor of the Tuscola Methodist Church. He has just completed his seminary work at Perkins School of Theology at S.M.U., having done undergraduate work at McMurry College at Abilene. Mr. Widmer is married and has two children, one a boy, born the first week in March. He will be ordained Elder and admitted into full connection in the Northwest Texas Annual Conference of the Methodist Church in May.

Music will be provided by the adult and youth choirs under the direction of George Owens. Everyone interested in singing in the choir is invited to do so.

The prayers and presence of all are encouraged.

RESPONSE WAS GOOD IN RECENT LIBRARY BOOK AND FUND DRIVE

The Quitaque P.T.A., which sponsored the recent drive on behalf of a Community Library, got a good report from the Library Committee this week.

Approximately 500 books were collected by those making the drive, 150 of which can be used in the Elementary grades and 350 in high school. In addition to the books, the committee also collected about 400 periodicals, including National Geographic Magazine, Readers Digest and Saturday Evening Post. In addition to the books and magazines, $272.85 in cash has been turned in to the Committee to date.

Supt. Johnny Mason and Grade School Prin. Glen Sanders purchased 87 books from an Army Surplus store that will be a great help to the library.

If there are others who have books, magazines or money to give to this worthwhile project, please turn them in to Mr. Mason or Mr. Colvin at the High School.

Following is a list of those who gave books, or money, or both:

General's business office in Memphis. Quitaque telephone customer accounts are currently handled out of Ralls.

Roberts said the transfer of accounts from Ralls to Memphis will facilitate a realignment of commercial districts, thus centralizing repair and business office matters in the same district headquarters town.

Under the existing procedure, local customers wishing to report a telephone out of order dial "O" and ask for repair service, which is handled out of Memphis. For information relative to bills, moving of telephones, and other such matters, local customers now dial "O" and ask for "Ralls, Enterprise 24-12." Effective April 1, repair service calls will be handled in the same manner as in the past, that is, dial "O" and ask for "Repair Service" in Memphis. Business calls after April 1 however, will be accomplished by local customers dialing "O" and asking for "Memphis, Enterprise 372."

As of April 1, Quitaque will be considered a part of the Memphis Commercial District and all functions concerning business office, repair, and long distance calls will be handled out of Memphis.

Manager for General Telephone Memphis District is R. L. Brewer.

Producers who have an interest in a 1964 farm wheat acreage allotment will be eligible to vote in the 1964 wheat referendum this spring, Mr. John R. Fowler, County Office Manager, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service has announced.

If the allotment is less than 15 acres, however, the farm operator will be asked to decide—at least 7 days prior to the referendum—whether he wants to participate as an allotment grower in 1964. If he elects to participate, this will qualify the operator and the other wheat producers on the farm to vote in the referendum. The election will be made by signing on the back of the regular allotment notice for the farm and filing it with the ASCS County Office.

According to the County Office Manager, the general rule is that each person may cast only one ballot in the referendum, regardless of the number of wheat farms in which he is interested. Exceptions to this rule are: (1) Individual members of a partnership each have a vote, but the partnership as such has no vote; (2) A person may also vote as a representative of an organization, such as corporation (which is entitled to only one vote); and (3) a person may vote as the administrator of executor of an estate, or as a trustee or guardian, but the persons whom he represents are not eligible to vote.

Producers who have an interest in an allotment include landowners who receive all or a share of the wheat crop or proceeds thereof, and tenants or sharecroppers having an interest in the farm acreage allotment because of sharing in the wheat crop or proceeds thereof. Special provisions apply to cases of joint ownership or operation.

Wheat growers who have some question about their eligibility to vote in the upcoming referendum on the 1964 wheat program are encouraged to discuss the matter with the Briscoe ASC County Committee. The referendum will be held sometime in May or June, the exact date to be announced later.

The referendum will offer wheat growers a choice between (1) limited production of wheat, a relatively high price support, the payments for wheat acreage diverted to a conservation use; or (2) no limits on production or marketings and a relatively low price support only to growers who stay within their allotments.

OUT OF TOWN RELATIVES ATTEND RITES FOR REED INFANT

C. Mabry and girls, Tulsa; Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Jenkins, Tecumseh, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Neal Smith, Jr., Edmondson; Mrs. Orville Lee, Olton; and Mr. Sebastian Skinner, Roswell, N. M.

Guests in the home of Minnie Mae Roberson Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Roberson of Wellington, Mr. and Mrs. Delton Grayson of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Roberson and Miss Minnie Roberson of Clarendon, and Mr. and Mrs. Slocum Roberson.

Quitaque Business Review

Suzie's Barber Shop

One of the many men of this area who has learned to rely on the skilled barber service at Suzie's Barber Shop is Mr. M. B. Self; shown at work is Ted Wynn, who is better known as Suzie to his friends. You will find him on duty Tuesday through Saturdays, 8 hours each day.

The other half of the crew at Suzie's Barber Shop is Trent McKay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lon McKay. Trent is in charge of the shoe shine business and the broom. He is on duty afternoons after school and on Saturdays. For a bang-up good shine, Trent advises everyone to come in and let him do the job.

Many of our community services are often taken for granted by the public. A prime example of these services that would be hard to get along without are the barbershops. There always seems to be a barber on hand to whom we can go when our hair gets a little shaggy and the 4 o'clock shadow on our face gets to be the 5 o'clock brush. But it would be a sad state of affairs if we should get up some morning and get all set for a shave and hair trim only to find no barber around.

Unless we could train our wives in the art we'd soon take on the appearance of the grizzled old frontiersmen, who were forced to go without this service for months and months.

There are many features connected with the operation of a barbershop that the public will overlook. For example, there are many regulations set up by the State Board to assure higher standards of service and to elevate and protect the profession. The regulation which demands new towels for every customer, for example, is meant for the customer's protection, and of course, results in a pretty big laundry bill for the shop. All barber tools must be kept in a sterilizer. The license, which requires considerable study and practical experience, must be renewed every year.

Ted (Suzie) Wynn, owner and operator of Suzie's Barber Shop in Quitaque, is a barber that you will always find on hand to provide friendly, barber service to his patrons in and around Quitaque—that is except on Mondays. He takes this day off, and simply for the convenience of his clients, most of whom find it more convenient to get their barber work done Tuesday through Saturday rather than at the first of the week.

Wynn received his barber training in Amarillo, finishing at the O'Neal Watson Barber College in 1948. This training followed over two years of service during World War II. Twenty-three of the 25 months spent in the service was sent overseas in the Quartermaster Corps of the 76th. Wynn joined this outfit in Honolulu and was later sent to the South Pacific. He was in on the landing at Guam.

He is a native of this area and attended school at Bridlebit, near Turkey. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wynn. Suzie is married to the former Opal Lynce of Bonham, Texas, and the couple has one son, Ronnie (Butch) who is seventeen and a Junior in Tulla High School.

This is the second time that Wynn has resided in Quitaque, barbering here from 1950 until '57. "This time it's permanent," he explained recently. "I plan to make my home here as soon as Butch graduates."

Manager of the Panhandle Compress of Quitaque, R. J. Harmon, who came here from Roaring Springs 10 years ago to operate this local company, pauses for Tribune picture. Clearing house for the many thousands of bales of cotton ginned in this area, this company provides insured storage facilities and is operated under rigid government specifications.

Panhandle Compress

The Panhandle Compress, located conveniently near the Fort Worth and Denver Railway and the two gins that serve the Quitaque area farmers, has played an important role in the development of agriculture and has contributed greatly to the economy of the community. This bonded warehouse and storage company, which is insured and operated according to government specifications, receives and stores thousands of bales of cotton each season.

The Panhandle Compress has served the Quitaque area for over a quarter of a century and its storage facilities consists of three large warehouses that covers several acres of ground and has a capacity of around 12,000 bales of ginned cotton.

Seven regular hands are required in operation of the plant, with this number more than doubled in the rush of the fall activities. Management of the plant is under the direction of R. J. Harmon, superintendent, who moved to Quitaque ten years ago to assume his duties with the compress. Harmon came here from Roaring Springs, where he was reared and attended school. Although he has seen quite a bit of the world, he's always seen fit to return to West Texas and the cotton country.

After leaving school in Roaring Springs, Harmon worked at various jobs in Arizona and California, and during this time he worked in service stations and lumberyards and was also one of the workers

He entered the service in 1937, just "wanting to see how wide the world was." He was with an artillery company stationed in Honolulu until 1940. He left the service for a year and then re-entered the Army in 1941.

Harmon married the former Lola Belle Fletcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Q. A. Fletcher of Roaring Springs. Mrs. Harmon operates the Lola Belle Beauty Shoppe here.

The Harmon's have three children: Mrs. Rhonda King of Ralls, Robin, a senior in Quitaque High School and Rex, a freshman in QHS. Robin plans to enter Clarendon Junior College this fall.

The Harmon's have one grandchild, three-year-old Kim, daughter of Mrs. King. This little three-year-old girl, needless to say, is a constant visitor in the Harmon home.

The story of the Panhandle Compress wouldn't be complete without a mention of the secretary-bookkeeper, Geneva Curtis, who is in charge of the office when Harmon is busy with other duties. From all indications there are lots of records to keep and reports to make out, along with the regular work of bookkeeping, so Geneva stays pretty busy during the season, which starts in late summer and continues through late winter or early spring.

FROM ORE TO MORE
The first mining for ore in the Sudbury District of Ontario began in 1886, when some 3,000 tons of copper ore were removed. Today, the same area can produce annually nearly 400,000,000 pounds of nickel as well as a nearly equal amount of copper and important commercial quantities of 12 other elements.

FINE FUEL FILTER
Screens, with openings as small as 15 ten-thousandths of an inch, are used for fuel filters in jet air craft. They are made by electroforming pure nickel.

THE SWISS WERE FIRST
Since 1881, when Switzerland issued the first coin made of pure nickel, 42 countries have used nickel in its pure state for 124 different coins.
