Guest speaker for the evening was Robert W. Goss of Tulsa, Swisher County chairman. He presented a very interesting and informative talk, but he did not paint a rosy picture, and he said it would take a lot of hard work and a strong leader to carry on the work, especially when asking for money to help the project along. He complimented the Briscoe County chairman on the work she has done and the interest that is being shown. He said the most important thing is organization and a strong leader. Team spirit is a good thing, also a strong membership drive.

HOME RULE BATTLE TO HIGHLIGHT

WEEKS CONGRESSIONAL ACTIVITY

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The showdown over "home rule" for the District of Columbia will dominate activity this week, Congressman Walter Rogers said Saturday. He added that last - minute amendments proposed to the home-rule bill "may not go far enough to make the bill acceptable to a majority of House members" and predicted a close vote.

Another week of morning-to-night sessions as the House works to clear its agenda for a possible October adjournment, Congressman Rogers said. The home rule bill, which reached the floor Monday, is one of at least half a dozen bills on which debate may be conducted.

"There's a possibility that the minimum wage bill will come up Monday," Congressman Rogers said. "It contains provisions to include within the scope of its coverage a large segment of U. S. farm labor. The ramifications of this proposal will require extremely close scrutiny."

"The home rule proposal is in trouble," Congressman Rogers said. "Some House members who had given general support to the idea of 'home rule' have withdrawn support after studying specific provisions of this legislation. They now realize that this bill would place the Federal Government, a sovereign entity comprised of fifty sovereign States, in a subordinate position to a ward-boss government of the District of Columbia."

Congressman Rogers said amendments have been drafted in an attempt to strengthen the bill. One would make the proposed "automatic" Federal support payment to the District subject to annual Congressional review and appropriation. Another would permit the President to assume command of the metropolitan police department "in the national interest", giving him emergency authority to take police control from the hands of the D. C. city council.

"These amendments may not go far enough to insure the bill's passage," Congressman Rogers said. "Unless improvements are made in other sections the House may well reject it."

The Congressman said the week's agenda also might include consideration of the proposed highway beautification program, the medical library assistance act, Federal employees' pay raise legislation, the sugar act, and final action on the omnibus farm bill.

Congressman Rogers also will attend sessions of the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce as it takes up proposed legislation to establish a Federal commission on problems of alcoholism. Also pending before the Committee is a bill approved by Congressman Rogers' Subcommittee on Communications and Power to prevent the Federal Power Commission from exercising regulatory power "to take over and engulf", as he put it, rural electric cooperatives.

A most regrettable error has been committed recently, although it is not the fault of anyone locally. The incident occurred during the investigation of a tumor that subversive organization had purchased the "Weekly Reader" magazine a paper read by many of our small children.

A report was received by Mr. Mason that this had happened and he immediately did the thing that anyone with the best interests of our children at heart —he wrote to the Texas Education Agency at Austin to have them check on the company publishing the paper and the agency wrote back and informed Mr. Mason that they made a mistake — that their letter should have read that the company in question was not on the subversive list. The most recent letter from the Education Agency to Supt. Mason is as follows:

Mr. Johnny Mason Supt. Quitaque Public Schools
Quitaque, Texas

Dear Mr. Mason:

I regret very much that an error was made in my letter to you dated September 9, 1965.

The third paragraph of the letter referring to the American Education Publications, Incorporated, should have read "We have checked the United States Attorney General's list of subversive Communist front organizations, and we do not find this organization listed"

The United States Attorney General's list of subversive Communist front organizations is shown on page 555 of the Public School Law Bulletin No. 647, and the American Education Publications, Incorporated is not on this list.

Very truly yours,
J. W. Edgar
Commissioner of Education

BUFFS SLAUGHTER TOUTED BOWLING GREEN FALCONS

Canyon — The odds makers will look at comparative scores and say West Texas State is the heavy favorite in this Saturday night's clash against Arizona State in Buffalo Bowl.

However, Buffalo head coach Joe Kerbel is looking past comparative scores to the fact that he has beaten the Sun Devils only once in five tries and that ASU is improving steadily even though its record is 0-2.

West Texas State blanketed two Mid-American Conference powerhouses in its first two games. The Buffaloes nipped Ohio University, 7-0, and stunned Bowling Green, 34-0, last Saturday in Canyon. Meanwhile, Arizona State has dropped a 24-6 decision to Brigham Young and fallen before Utah State 13-0 for its first shutout in the past 85 games.

Regardless of their record, Kerbel and the Buffaloes are not taking the Sun Devils lightly by any means. "Arizona State is an improving football team and, as usual, has probably more overall speed than any team we will play, which makes them especially hard to defend," said the Buff head man. "Ben Hawkins is a fine football player. He does many things very well," continued Joe.

Hawkins, the Sun Devils' All-America candidate, has played all but six minutes of his team's two games to date. In last Saturday's loss to Utah State, Hawkins was double-teamed most of the game, but still set the school record of 10 pass receptions. The Buffs expect to give him the same coverage, but hope for better results.

Arizona State is rated better than either Ohio University or Bowling Green by the West Texas State coaching staff mostly because of an outstanding defense and superior passing. Quarterback John Goodman has completed 25 of 44 passes in the two games.

The most impressive things about the Buffaloes are the defensive unit and the kicking game. The defense is unscored upon in two games and has had

Renovating Drought-Damaged Lawns

Drought has damaged many lawns during summer. Fall is the time to repair the bare areas so that your lawn will look like this one next spring.

Many lawns look positively pock-marked with dried areas because of the drought and the restrictions on watering. These lawns should be renovated this fall.

First, a fertilizer application is in order. This often works such wonders that no other treatment is necessary. If an inorganic (chemical) fertilizer is used, follow immediately with water.

Next, try to rent one of the vertical-cutting machines designed for the purpose of making shallow cuts into the soil. If this is impossible, then it will be necessary to loosen the soil surface of any bare areas in some other fashion.

Spade and rake might be used in large bare places, while a thorough raking with a steel rake may do for small spots which are minus grass.

Wait to plant seed until there has been a heavy, penetrating rain. Then cut the existing grass as short as you can so its blades do not shade emerging seedlings. Next, sow the seed.

There is no substitute for constant moisture after grass seed has been sown so, unless rains are frequent, watering will be needed. This is especially true when the wind is high or the sun bright. On such days it may be necessary to water the seeded three times.

Allow the lawn to grow during the time the seedlings are sprouting. This will take between two and three weeks. After that mowing can be resumed.

In areas where bluegrass usually is grown, lawns may be successfully renovated and new seed sown until October 15. When renovating is done in fall, the gardener can look forward to a beautiful lawn like the one in the picture by spring.

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES PLAN ASSEMBLY AT LAMESA

Von D. Tiffin, the presiding minister of the Quitaque Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, has been appointed to assist in organizing the attendant department for the circuit assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses at the Lamesa Junior High School Auditorium, October 1-3.

Tiffin is assisting in the oversight of the attendant department at the assembly. This is one of 20 convention departments Jehovah's Witnesses use at all their assemblies, large or small. He estimates it will take one worker to each six persons in attendance. About 100 volunteer Witnesses will work in some department during the three-day program.

"All of us work together like one happy family," he stated. "We have no national or racial problems in the New World Society of Jehovah's Witnesses," he said.

Mr. Tiffin attributes this unity to the power of God's Word, "Bible teaching," he said, "unifies Jehovah's Witnesses and draws them together in bonds of Christian brotherhood."

According to Tiffin most of the Quitaque Congregation, together with 15 other congregations in Texas Circuit 9, will attend the assembly. It is expected that more than 500 will be present hear the public discourse, "What Does the Resurrection of the Dead Mean for You and Yours?" Sunday, October 3, at 3 p. m. The speaker is A. A. Catanzaro, district supervisor and traveling representative of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society in New York.

Other speakers will include Erwin A. Grover, circuit minister.

FARMERS HOME ADMINISTRATION SPONSORS FARM TOUR IN SWISHER COUNTY RECENTLY

The annual Farmers Home Administration tour of farms was held in Swisher County on Thursday of last week. Purpose of the tour was to show results of loans made by FHA to farmers who are unable to obtain credit elsewhere. The approximately $1 million loaned small farmers through the Tulsa office produced agricultural income of $1,500,000 which circulated several times, boosting the economy of this area.

At the present time, there are 118 participants in Swisher and Briscoe counties, 76 in Swisher and 42 in Briscoe.

The FHA now has several different types of loans available to build or remodel homes, purchase or enlarge farms, drill wells or install underground pipe, purchase cattle and equipment, help low income families establish small businesses, install community water systems, replace equipment or rebuild homes lost from disaster, and several others.

Average age of FHA borrowers is 42 in this area.

THE QUITAQUE TRIBUNE — THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1945

PLYMOUTH, MICH. — If you're old enough to remember the heyday of the upright player piano, you're young enough to applaud the downright ingenuity of Paul Richards, President of Dynavoice, Inc. He's invented a portable (85 pounds), fully automatic attachment for pianos to play the more than 10,000 standard music rolls now available, as well as the ones that "Grandma" used.

The piano player sits right on the keyboard of any 88-note piano. You just snap two "safety catches" in place, plug it into the nearest wall outlet, put on your favorite piano roll, and sit back and listen. The 'Dynavoice' will play through one time, re-roll automatically and shut off, or can be set to play the same roll over and over.

a renewed interest in player pianos but that few were around to be bought.

Further research turned up the fact that more than one-half of the 10 million pianos in homes today are rarely if ever played. So Richards sat right down and sketched out his modern version of the old-fashioned foot-operated pumps. It has over 1,800 parts and operates on air from a General Electric vacuum motor.

The automatic piano player is now available through most music stores. It lists for about $350 and carries a one-year factory warranty.
