I agree with President Johnson that enactment of the tax cut is "the single most important step" taken to strengthen the economy since World War II and that the cut "will strengthen our economy and bring a better way of life to our citizens." The new law marks a most important milestone in our economic development because it constitutes a strong endorsement of the free enterprise system. Behind it is the principle that capital freed for spending by the private sector of the economy, by con sumers and by business, ca bring greater economic stimulus than could a higher level of spending by the public sector— by the government. The Governor was returning to Texas from New York. where he dedicated the Texas Pavilion at the World's Fair site. Governor Connally said he hopes it will not be necessary to call the Texas Legislature into Special Session this year on the question of redrawing the boundaries of the State's Congressional Districts. In his view, he said, re-districting is necessary and should be a priority matter for the Session of the Legislature the Session of the Legislature beginning next January. But he said he hoped the matter could be better handled in a regular Session of the Legislature. The Texas Delegation expressed its unanimous conviction that the Texas Legislature is perfectly what the hoped he has matter in able to handle the matter in whatever situation arises.

When will Congress adjourn? Possibly in late June or early July, in time for the Republican National Convention scheduled to begin July 13 in San Francisco. At the moment there is a rush in the Senate and the House to try to clear from com-mittee consideration bills affecting local areas in the country. Many Members feel pressed about this because the Senate is preparing to begin its debate on the civil rights bill, and this debate—accompanied by a filibusbate—accompanied by a filibuster of history - making proportions—is certain to consume weeks if not months of time on the Senate floor. The problem is this: The current Session, the Second Session of the 88th Congress, is the last of the two-year Congress. All bills introduced in this Session will die if not enacted by the time the Session concludes. Many bills have been passed by the House and are awaiting consideration in the are awaiting consideration in the Senate—and obviously many of them cannot be considered be-fore the civil rights debate be-gins. After that debate is over, gins. After that debate is over, the Senate will be hard put to a ct upon appropriation bills acted on by the House in the meantime. It's going to be a very difficult matter for the business of the Congress, particularly that on the Senate side to be concluded in time for adjournment in early summer. It is possible that the Congress will be recessed for the Republican and Democratic National Conventions and then return to Washington in late summer or early fall. If the Congress follows this course, I predict that it will be difficult to keep the Members' minds on Congressional business; after all, this is ional business; after all, this is a Presidential election year and the focus of the country's at-tention will be on that.

by Mrs. Mary Pittman, chairman of the Commission on Christian Social Concerns.

We are pointing to our Spring Revival on April 5-12, with Rev. Jim Boswell as our preach-er. All of the churches in our community need to witness that Jesus Christ saves from sin, and gives an unspeakable joy along with unheard-of power, and makes staggering claims. What will your vote be?

Meanwhile, the "regular work of the church" (sounds dreary, doesn't it?) goes on.
"That same old preacher" gives another sermon in the morning and a session of the church-wide mission study that evening. "Maintain the spiritual glow," Moffat's rendition of Rom. 12 11. is the morning text for Project in Maintenance:" w Project in Maintenance:" while in the evening service the text is "Woe is me if I preach not the gospel," I Cor. 9:16. two months now since we came to this fair city and already we have moved our camping equipment back to our home in Whit. Texas and we will go our way to other fields in our Missionary activity throughout the North and West Texas Districts, leaving the local field here in Quitaque in capable hands, for we are a greatly hards, for we are a greatly privileged people to have the Cecil Rice family move into the parsonage and enter the church actitivity, the father being a faithful witness and Bible in-structor, the mother a rather effectual evangelistic minister of near twenty years experience, and the three boys 15, 13 and 9 years of age, are all consecrated children and active in the Youth and Children's activity.

This family is concerned in Lay activity only, and will give place to a pastor as soon as one is chosen, which will probably be in the very near future, since Rev. R. L. Lockwood of Le. fors is dated to minister to and for the church on next Sunday March 15th, contemplating an agreeable arrangement for him and his family, a wife and four fine boys to take over the re-sponsibility of pastoring and evangelizing this community— and with this fine arrangement and with this fine arrangement and possible full accomplishment of the "Will of God" hereabouts, we are happy for our stay and part in this attainment and will go on our way rejoicing in the expectancy of the local church fulfilling its mission in cooperation with the other churches of the area. In other churches of the area. In-deed, ours has been a delightful stay in both the very finest congeniality of the neighbor-hood and blessed fellowship of the membership of the local con stituency, and our future will be greatly enhanced because of our having come this way, and the possibility of occasional passing and ministering with these splendid peoples.

National Farmers Union today in testimony presented to the Housing Subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Banking and Currency by J. I. Naman, President of the Texas Farmers Union.

It was pointed out that the rural housing loan prograrms administered by the Farmers Home Administration have been "spectacularly successful" in that some 80,000 families have received about $650 million to help build or modernize their homes and farm buildings. Mr. Naman pointed out that these were families who were unable to obtain ctedit for their housing needs from private credit resources. Mr. Naman also voiced strong opposition to the establishment of a yearly $300 mill. strong opposition to the estab-lishment of a yearly $300 mil-lion ceiling on Farmers Home lion ceiling on Farmers Home Administration Housing loans.

"With a program as phenomenally successful as this has been, we respectfully suggest that it makes sense to provide the agency with funds to meet the need that exists without limitation or ceiling," Naman said.

The farm leader referred to the 1960 census which showed that one out of four of our rur-al families are living in homes that are "either deteriorated or so run down that they were classified as dilapidated. One-third do not even have complete plumbing. "Around every city there are rural slums or shack towns. The Congress has wisely extended the housing loan program of the Farmers Home Administra-tion to these areas. It should be realized, however, that loans are of little or no benefit because the residents do not have the ability to repay loans or to pay rent in the amount required to pay the cost of decent housing."
