

Report Shows $47.5 Million Deficit

Latest Shallowater Business

Continued growth of Shallowater is obvious with the opening week of Circle S Food Store at the corner of 12th Street and Avenue L by owners and operator, Tommy and Janis Sewell of Lubbock.

The spacious grocery store with a complete line of general foods will stage its formal opening Friday, Saturday and Sunday with free prizes and drawings during the three day event.

Open seven days a week from 7:00 a.m. to 10 p.m., the store will carry a well stocked supply of all grocery and drug items, cold cuts, frozen foods, a good line of fresh produce and Texaco gasoline, honoring Texaco, Bank Americard and Master Charge Cards.

The Sewells are well experienced in the grocery business, having been associated in food stores for several years. They also own Circle S Food on North Ash Street in Lubbock, that is managed by a son Randy. Longtime Lubbock residents, the couple have two other children, David a senior at Monterey High School and Pam, a 14-year-old freshman at Evans Junior High School.

The Sewell's will be assisted in the new establishment by Linda Clemmer and Carol Flores and the group invites everyone to come in and get acquainted and to be sure and take advantage of the opening specials that are appearing elsewhere in today's issue of Suburban Today.

The 40' X 60' building was erected by James Coulson Building Contractors of Lubbock.

Lubbock County Hospital District board had waited more than a month to receive findings of the "Caraway Report"—but the report presented this week proved more than the board had bargained for.

In a presentation to the LCHD board and Texas Tech Regents this weekend, accountant Max Caraway laid it on the line—the Health Sciences Center Hospital is in serious financial trouble.

On a 10-year projection, operation of the teaching hospital will result in a $47.4 million loss, Caraway advised the hospital district Monday.

Caraway prefaced his remarks to the LCHD board by saying the figures are "based on assumptions as to transactions and events which have not occurred and which may or may not occur in the future." The predictions are based on the operation of the teaching hospital by one entity—either the hospital district or Tech Medical School.

The Caraway Report differs sharply from projections prepared by the hospital district staff. The basic difference between the two sets of projections are in the occupancy rate at the hospital and collection ratios.

According to Caraway, the occupancy rate of the teaching hospital in 1978 will be 30 per cent with a collection rate of 35 per cent. The hospital district staff had predicted the occupancy rate would be 35 per cent with a collection rate of 80 per cent.

Caraway defended his low projections on the collection rate as being based on what is currently going on at other teaching hospitals in Texas where collections are 35 per cent of total patient charges.

LCHD employes said their higher estimates for collection rates are based upon current collection rates of community hospitals in Lubbock where collections are running between 90 and 100 per cent. They also pointed out that teaching hospitals in other parts of the state have a different patient mix—meaning that some of the facilities have a large population of medical indigents.

The hospital district staff also noted that Lubbock has a higher degree of medically insured residents, which will make some difference in the collection rate.

Although the LCHD board made no official statement regarding its proposal that the university take over the hospital,

Youths Arrested Following Band Instruments Theft

A 17-year-old adult male was arrested last week by the local police and charged with a misdemeanor and felony theft along with six juveniles, one of which was filed on for felony theft. The other five juveniles were referred to juvenile hall for conspiracy to commit theft, following the recovery of three band instruments stolen from the Shallowater School band hall. All those involved are students in the local school system, two are in junior high and the others are in high school.

Chief of Police Don Rackler and patrolmen David Turner and Jess Aquilar started the investigation immediately upon it being reported to the police department by band director Eddie Hankins on Oct. 8. With leads from various persons the instruments were located, recovered and returned to their owners by Oct. 15. Stolen from the school band hall were two flutes, valued at over $200 and a piccolo with an approximate $100 value. One instrument was stolen on Sept. 10, another was missing around the last of Sept. and the third one was stolen on Oct. 2.

The first instrument was found and recovered by patrolman Turner on Oct. 13 from a pawn shop in Lubbock and upon a tip, the other two were found also, one on Oct. 14 and the other on the next day. One had been sold to a party residing in Carlisle.

The local police department is continuing their investigation as to whether any other persons were involved in the theft.

Chief Rackler state that the case was completed in a matter of two days, following location of the first instrument, due to the cooperation of school officials.

Shallowater's First Cotton Bale Noted

The first bale of cotton for the 1976 season was delivered to the Shallowater Coop Gin at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon by Sonny and Pat Luptan. The Stripper 31 variety was pulled from 1 1/2 acres on the Leftwick dryland farm, 1 mile west of Shallowater, that was planted on May 10.

Machine harvested by Alvin Lemon, the 2500 pounds of seed cotton netted a lint bale of 550 pounds of middling grade with a 31/32 staple. The bale was ginned free by the local gin with the market value around 68 cents per pound.

The Lupton's have 842 acres of cotton this year, most of it irrigated and reported that due to the early Oct. 8 frost, that defoliated the stalks, the cotton was beginning to open pretty good.

Carey Gooch, gin manager, stated that the busy season should get underway within the next two weeks, weather permitting; and the busiest time will last probably from 4 to 6 weeks, which depends on the weather also.

Cystic Fibrosis Campaign

Mayor Jack DuLaney, chairman of the Cystic Fibrosis Drive that ended last week reports that a total of $114.30 was collected in the door to door drive by members of the Girls Scouts, Boy Scouts and several adults who volunteered their services to help in the collections.

A child who is suspected of having cystic fibrosis is given the "sweat test" to measure the salt concentration in his perspiration. This test has proven a highly reliable tool for diagnosing children with C/F. The sweat salt content of children with C/F is three to five times higher than in normal children.

Sheridan's Ride

by Jack Sheridan

There is a very special day coming up for a very special lady who is a friend of all of us, any of us who have seen her on the stage and screen in her memorable roles, and in latter years as a soloist on numerous Billy Graham Crusade programs.

She is the black (she prefers "colored") woman who rose from obscure and unhappy childhood to become the first superstar of her race in vaudeville, night clubs, records, movies, such as "Member of the Wedding," "Cabin in the Sky" "Pinky" and the star in such memorable Broadway musicals as "As Thousands Cheer," "Lady, Be Good," "On with the Show."

Her songs include her introduction of such classics in American music as "Dinah," "St. Louis Blues," "Cabin in the Sky," "Happiness Is a Thing Called Joe," "Stormy Weather," "Taking a Chance on Love," "Supper Time" and a host of others.

In recent years she has written two books, one bearing the title of her song from "Member of the Wedding," which is her true "theme song," "His Eye Is on the Sparrow."

She is, of course, the beloved Miss Ethel Waters, who has been mostly inactive in recent years, living in retirement in Los Angeles. She has been plagued by multiple illnesses and has been seen and heard little since her appearance in Lubbock at Jones Stadium with Billy Graham little more than a year ago. She has been and is a longtime personal friend of mine; she calls me her "Son" and she is to me my loving "Mom." Our correspondence for the past year has been brief but monthly an event to be anticipated by me far more than mere words can ever convey. I am grateful, as she is, to Our Precious Lord, as we all are, I know, for the precious gift of this indomitable spirit.

So, now I am going to ask a favor of all who read this column today. On Oct. 31, Miss Ethel Waters will be 80 years old. She can't see very well; she feels rotten much of the time; but, bless her dear, great heart, she knows and she feels. I want each and every one of you to remember Oct. 31, Ethel Waters' 80th birthday and ask that you send a note or a card to her. It will gladden her trying hours and tell her just a little how much she means to so many people. Keep her in your prayers and your heart. For her eye is on the sparrow, too, and it reaches out in blessing to so many, as it always has done.

You can reach her by writing to the following address: Miss Ethel Waters, c/o World Wide Pictures, 2520 W. Olive, Burbank, Calif., 91505. For a few cents you can make an old lady, a great lady, very happy and it is only a token of thanks for the great treasure of her life that she has shared with each and every one of us. Please write? Remember, Miss Ethel Waters' birthday is Oct. 31, her 80th birthday.

Today, at 8:15 p.m. in Monterey High School Auditorium, the Lubbock Community Concerts Association will open its 1976-77 season with an appearance by the Gregg Smith Singers, the first of four events in this series. Season memberships are $12 for adults and $6 for students, covering all four events. I have long been associated with this group, from its very founding to date, but I am the "outsider" this time and so will not be present. You try to be. All four events are very worth while, believe me. And cheap at the price, too.

Another event coming up is the Mondine and Company modern dance group from Chicago. They are highly regarded and will be in residence on the Texas Tech University campus for classes and lecture demonstrations through Thursday. The public can see them perform at 8:15 p.m. Thursday in the new University Center Theatre. Tech students are $2 and the general public $4.

The event is a Texas Tech University Center Cultural Events Office presentation.

There is a U.S.-Italian-Color film current at the Lindsey Theater called "Street People." It is dubbed in English and has the rare distinction of being an Italian film that was made on the streets of San Francisco and Sicily. It is, of course, a Mafia story of incredible violence with destructive and meaningless car chases over the hills and dales of the City by the Golden Gate. (I sometimes wonder with so many car-chase films of killer intent being "shot" on the streets of San Francisco how the citizens ever get out of their houses long enough to go to work or to the nearest grocery store!)

The plot is inconsequential and the language is R, naturally. The sad part about it is that two stars are so wasted in this bravura effort. They are the stony-faced Roger Moore who simply plays it as Moore plays every role, by the lines and kept deftly away from any visible emotional involvement.

The really sad thing is that his co-star is Stacy Keach. Now, Stacy Keach has long been a favorite of mine, a man who, from time to time, has turned in work on screen and stage that is truly brilliant. He can be remembered for his first major screen breakthrough in a John Huston film called "Fat City," the story of a boxer and has since been seen in some good films, some incredibly bad ones. One that underscored his true talents was the American Film Theater's subscription film, "Luther," in which he played the religious protester-reformist Martin Luther with outstanding skill and sensitivity.

One thing that is inescapable fact that such trash as "Street People" are never going to advance him to that Academy Award. And, when I mark it as "sad" it is the fact that he is quite capable of achieving that end, if the "right" break comes along.

The Hayloft Dinner Theater brings in a new one next week. This time the comedy piece is "Susan Slept Here," a farce that enjoyed mild success many years back as a genial motion picture. Preview nights are next week, Thursday through Friday, Oct. 26-29. You get the dinner and the show at reduced prices these days. Dinner from 6:30-8 p.m. and the show at 8:30 p.m. on the four-square stage.

Shallowater Athletic Booster Club Holds Meeting

The Athletic Booster Club had its weekly meeting Tuesday night Oct. 19, at 7:30 in the auditorium.

A game film of the Seagraves-Shallowater contest was shown and narrated by Coach Wolski.

The club acted and voted upon these events for the coming weeks. They are as follows:

- (1) To sponsor the 7, 8, 9 grade boys, girls basketball tournament to be held December 16, 17, 18. Trophies will be given in each division plus an M.V.P. medal for the outstanding boy and girl participant in each grade.

- (2) To buy color film for one remaining home football game instead of black and white.

- (3) To host a coke and sandwich party for the coaches and wives to be held immediately after the O'Donnell football game which is the last home game for 1976 season.

New members joining last night were Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Wilson. We extend out thanks and appreciation. Next meeting is next Tuesday night. How about all Booster Club members coming and bringing a new club supporter with them. Basketball season is soon near and we as a booster club intend to give support in basketball as we have in football. See you.

Shallowater Study Club Meets

Mrs. J.U. Cone was the hostess for the Shallowater Study Club, Tuesday, Oct. 19 at 1:30 p.m.

The roll call was answered with a Halloween tale and the program was presented by Mrs. Carey Gooch on "Volunteer Agencies."

Refreshments were served to 16 members that were present.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. M.J. Williams on Nov. 2. Members are asked to bring their favorite piece of handwork.

South Plains EMT

The monthly meeting of the South Plains Emergency Medical Technician Association was held Tuesday, Oct. 12, at 7:00 p.m. in the group dynamics room, Christian Development Center at Lubbock Christian College.

Area candidates for the Texas Legislature presented the program and included Ralph Lee Page, Republican, District 75-B; Joe Robbins, Republican, District 75-A; Froy Salinas, Democrat, District 75-B; and Roy Ward, Democrat, District 75-A. J.D. Young of Shallowater attended the meeting.

County Commissioners Urged to Take Action by Official

The need for county commissioners to decide how they will assume responsibility for the county's private sewage regulation program was stressed this week by health department administrator Tom Grimshaw.

At the request of County Judge Rod Shaw, Grimshaw appeared before the commissioners court Monday to discuss the regulation program that was okayed last fall by commissioners and the Texas Water Quality Control Board. Grimshaw urged commissioners to take some action in the near future to prevent any lag in enforcement of the septic tank regulations.

According to Grimshaw, the full importance of the sewage system regulations will not be realized by local residents for a number of years. It is a very good program, he told the West Texas Times, and one that could mean a great savings in tax dollars in the future.

"In this area, water is of extreme value," Grimshaw commented. "This is a system to protect our water."

In the future, the city is likely to annex more rural areas, he said. The county's sewage system regulations will insure that all systems in the rural areas will meet the requirements that an incorporated city would have.

Since Feb. 1, when the regulation program actually got underway here, the health department has been carrying out the enforcement of the regulations. But with the health department becoming strictly a city program, this can no longer be, Grimshaw said.

To carry on the program, Grimshaw said, the county will have to hire a sanitarian to run the percolation tests on lands where septic tanks will be installed. He said there is a possibility that a state-employed engineer at the health department—namely himself—could provide technical advice for the program.

Although the state and city have not drawn up their final contract, Grimshaw said he believes the state will consider its employees' duties should extend beyond the city limits. If the state adopts this position, Grimshaw should be able to assist with the program—but a sanitarian would still be needed.

Commissioners postponed making any decision on the sewage system regulation program and the hiring of a sanitarian until they meet next Tuesday.

Other health programs that have been provided to county residents by the health department also face problems, Grimshaw advised commissioners. These include vector and rodent control and inspection of food service establishments.

Grimshaw said the health department has been in correspondence with outlying communities to see if they want to contract for vector and rodent control services from the health department.

$47.5 Million Deficit

 there appeared to be a subtle shift in emphasis on who will administer the hospital. In recent months, almost total effort has gone toward exploring avenues that would enable the Tech Medical School to assume management of the hospital either through an outright gift or a lease arrangement.

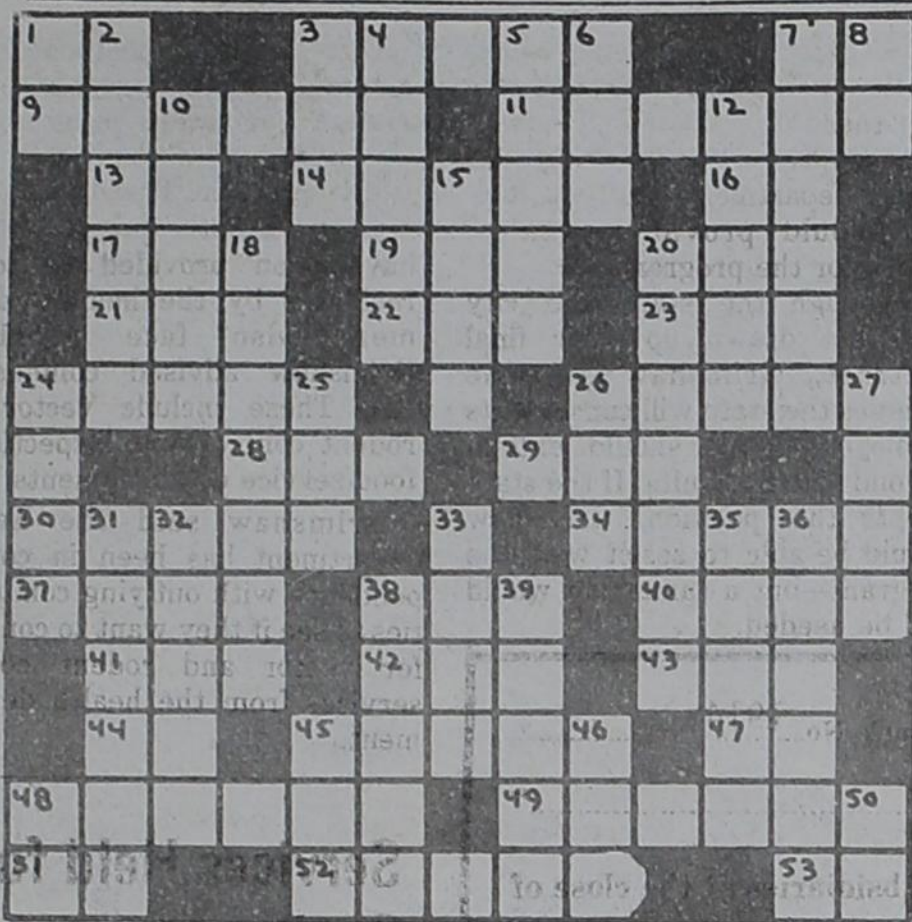

When questioned about the possible management of the hospital, board chairman Marshall Pennington said, "We have not decided. We're still thinking both ways. We are studying the figures and when the financial and legal questions are answered, the board will make a recommendation. But the community will make the final decision."

Board member John Flygare commented, "There are still legal obstacles in operation of the hospital by the medical school and it still may require dual administration."

If single entity administration proves impossible for legal or financial reasons, the problem of putting a price tag on shared services and teaching costs will again become important.

When originally commissioned by the LCHD board and regents, the Caraway report was to have identified these costs. However, in the Caraway presentation to the LCHD board Monday, the entire emphasis was placed upon the 10-year projection of operating cost by a single entity, with no mention made concerning the elusive price of the shared programs and teaching costs.

Bob Bullock

Comptroller Bob Bullock said last Friday that his auditors turned up more than $9 million in additional local sales taxes owed Texas cities and towns during fiscal 1976, more than double the amount turned up the two previous fiscal years.

Bullock said city sales tax audit production during the fiscal year ending Aug. 31 was $9,056,072, compared to about $4.5 million each of the two previous fiscal years.

The Comptroller Friday also mailed checks totaling $9.1 million to 478 cities and towns as their October rebate of the one-cent city sales tax.

He added that city sales tax rebates have totaled $239.1 million so far this year, well ahead of the $209.2 million rebated during the same period in 1975.

HORSE TALES

Six Weeks Superstars

by Alison Terry

SUPERSTARS of the first six weeks, as elected by National Honor Society members, are Benny Judah and Belinda Seale. Benny Judah, a proud senior at Shallowater High, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Judah. His most-liked classes are algebra and that old time favorite—basketball. Benny enjoys hitting a few tennis balls now and then and plucking the strings of his guitar. Young Mr. Judah is president of the Mighty Mustang Band. He is also a member of the 4-H Club. After graduation Benny plans to attend Texas Tech and major in accounting. He'd like to be a Certified Public Accountant.

Comments on his senior year: "I like this school year in a lot of ways, but in some subjects things could be improved. Overall, it's been a good year so far."

Belinda Seale is a junior at SHS. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Seale. She tagged English and homemaking as her favorite subjects. Belinda likes animals, especially her dog "Holly." Writing and being alone to think are Miss Seale's cherished pastimes. The junior class is honored by having Belinda serve as their secretary. She is treasurer of the pep squad and a member of FHA also. The future holds a college education for Belinda with a probable major in biology.

Comments on the school year from Belinda: "I like it and have enjoyed this year because it has been exciting and fun. It is easier than last year."

A Night At The Theatre

by Suzie De Anda

The English Four class went Tuesday night to see a Texas Tech play entitled "Seascape." The students and Mrs. Kulm dined at El Chico restaurant. After an excellent meal, the students went to the University Theatre to view a superb production.

The theme of "Seascape" was a middle-aged couple's fight against loneliness. The play centered around a human couple and a pair of green, slimy lizards. The lizards had the same problem as the human couple. The scenery consisted of a beach with a sand dune and sand.

Everyone enjoyed the play and the English Four class will go to more productions in the future.

Ponies Plucked The Eagles

by Gloria Lara

It was a very good Thursday night for the eighth grade Ponies when they went against the Seagraves Eagles. The Ponies worked hard all week long and they proved it when they won at a score of 22 to 0. The Seagraves Eagles thought they could play ball but the Ponies showed them when Joe Caballero and Marcus Lara went in for touchdowns. The Seagraves boys tried to break through, but our boys were strong and mighty.

They will go against the Plains Cowboys this Thursday, so let's go Ponies. Bring home another victory.

Bad Luck

by Gloria Lara

The Seventh Grade Ponies lost this Thursday. It was a defeat of 22 to 0, but plan to fight strong and win against the Plains Cowboys. Let's go out and support them. Good Luck!

Mustangs Blanked

by Steven Wilson

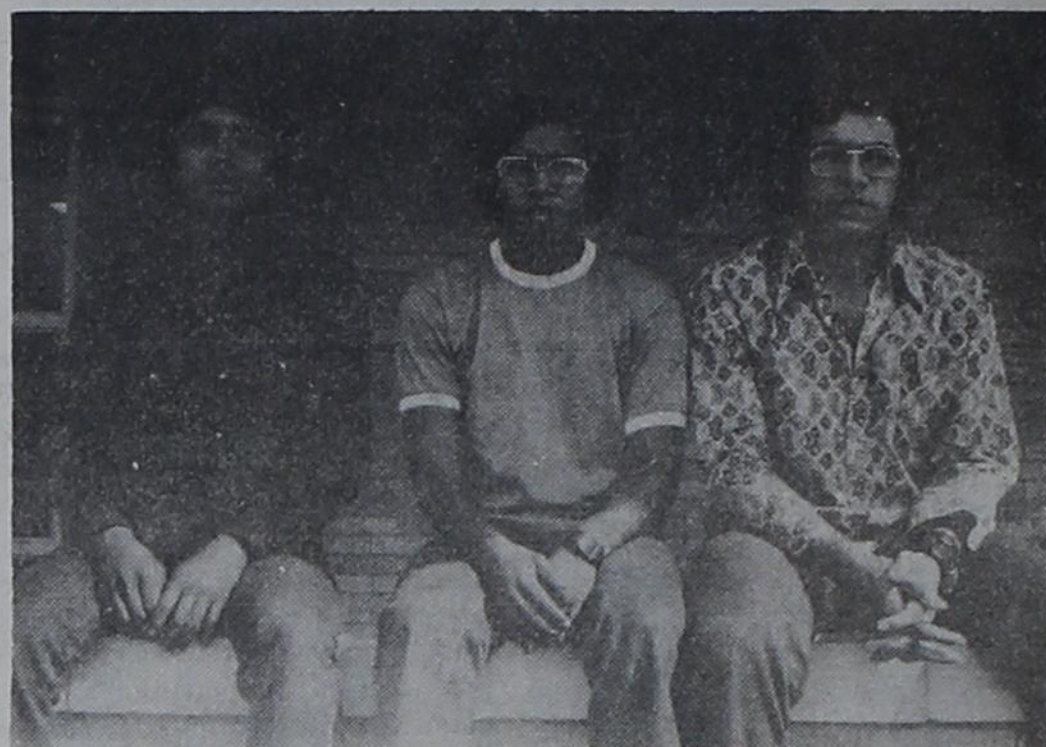

Shallowater failed to put any points on the board against Seagraves. Seagraves won easily by the score of 44-0 with their second team getting to see some action.

Seagraves scored three touchdowns in the first quarter, running no more than ten plays from the first score to the third. Two of those touchdowns came on the first plays of their respective series. By half-time the score stood 28-0.

An interesting thing happened during the game, it being the ejection of two players; one from both teams. There was not much excitement for Shallowater fans, but there was a little. Billy Glenn did some hard running, while Andy Blackmon threw some pin-point passes which were unfortunately dropped.

The players knew it would be a tough game and they went out to play a tough game. They did not quit and you can be sure they will be out there this Friday giving it their all against Plains.

Hall of Fame

by Steven Wilson

Ricky Barron, Ruben Gomez, and Louis Caballero are the three players presented this week. All three are juniors and have another year of eligibility remaining.

Ricky Barron suffered a broken finger before the season was underway causing him to miss the first part of the season. He has been in action for a few weeks now and is coming along fine. Ricky should do well at a wide receiver position and in the defensive secondary. Ricky stands 5 feet 8 inches and weighs 180 pounds. Now that he is healthy Ricky should do good things for the team. You will see him wearing number 23.

Ruben Gomez is the hard-hitting Mustang fullback. Ruben takes a hard beating as the fullback, but he gets right back up and goes after it again. Ruben is a tough player and one who is impossible to put away for good. Ruben also plays in the secondary at times. No matter where he plays Ruben will hit hard and never give up. Ruben wears number 33 and has a stature of 5 feet 5 inches. Ruben weighs in at 170 pounds.

Louis Caballero has a very special job, a specialty man in every sense of the word. Louis is the kicker and nothing else. He is the kick-off man, not a field goal kicker or a punter, but the kick-off man. Louis is a good one too, booming his kicks many yards down the field. Louis is a hitter even though he does not get much chance to do it. He will hit on kick-offs when he has a chance. You may see him on defense, but it is a rare case if you do. Louis wears number 73 and weighs 180 pounds. He stands at 6 feet even.

Sorrowful Defeat

by Claudett Lamb

The Shallowater Mustang's J.V. were defeated by Seagraves Thursday night. The score was 16 to 14. The Mustangs lead all the way through the game. The fans were sure to have a Mustang victory then disaster struck. The Seagraves Eagles went for another score. There wasn't any time to score back, so the Mustangs fell to a sorrowful defeat.

Next week we are sure it will be better. Stick in there boys we know you can do it. We will always be there yelling for you. Good luck against Plains.

NHS Intrigued

by Alison Terry

"There's more to handwriting than meets the eye," or so says Jack O'Donnell, graphoanalyst, more commonly called handwriting analysis expert.

Mr. O'Donnell intrigued the National Honor Society last Monday, Oct. 11, with his presentation on how to analyze one's handwriting. Moods, character traits, and so forth may be discerned from one's handwriting. Mr. O'Donnell analyzed several of the Honor Society member's handwriting. Most were surprised at the accuracy of his findings.

Before Mr. O'Donnell's program, those belonging to the high standard club were treated with a variety of salads brought by all the members.

The entire evening was most enjoyable!

FHA News

The FHA girls did a project last week called "Little Sisters." The old members picked a new member as a little sister for a week. They placed little gifts, notes, and letters in the little sisters' lockers all week. The little sisters did not know who their big sisters were until Friday. On Friday they all had a picnic lunch in the homemaking cottage and the big sisters revealed themselves by having the little sisters piece parts of a cartoon with theirs.

The next Impact project for FHA will be the Chili Supper on Oct. 29. The food will be prepared and served by the FHA members

A Chill For Halloween

The Future Homemakers of America are planning a Chili Supper for Oct. 29, right before O'Donnell vs. the Mighty Mustangs. The time and price have not been set yet, but make your plans to attend the supper Friday night in the Shallowater School Cafeteria. Support your FHA.

In the Shallowater School Cafeteria before the last home football game. A Halloween theme will be used. Money derived from this project will be used by the chapter to finance its many activities. Hope to see you there!
