PIONEER COUPLE—The Pioneer Couple for this year's 57th annual Floyd County Pioneer Celebration are Bill Sauls and his wife, the former Bessie Yeary, who have lived in the Quitaque area since 1908. The two were presented during ceremonies May 25 in Floydada by the Floyd County Pioneer Association. Mrs. Sauls replied after receiving the honor: "Surprise, surprise—isn't it odd how things unfold, like a piece of crochet being unraveled. My nephew, Rex Yeary, made sure we were coming to the Old Settlers Reunion. At 10:00 o'clock, he was very sure we would enjoy the program. I look out over the crowd and see many, many pioneers and we're so very grateful for being chosen."

Area Students Score High In Piano Auditions

Twenty-six area piano students were among 18,000 participants in Texas to enter National Piano Guild Auditions recently. They were the local students of Mrs. Ross Herrington. Over 100,000 students and 500 judges are participating in auditions nationwide.

Area students were honored this year to have one of the most prestigious educators in the U. S. for a judge this year in Memphis, Texas. She was Mrs. Mary R. Wiltshire, and has judged in every state in the United States over the years including many major cities—Dallas, Chicago, Los Angeles and Houston. Three years ago she judged over 300 students in Hawaii. She stayed there three months and judged on every island that involved 67 teachers. She is a well-known educator and musician.

Students entering this audition were Tara Nance and Kimberly Burson, Silvertown; Gina and Lori Conner, Stacey Rothwell, Cari Morrison, Joe Morrison, Melissa and Amy Maupin, Sarah Hewett, Vera and Tommy Pinkerton, Lori Martin, Joni Hancock, Julie Ross, Kacey and Kyle Fuston, Amity Mooney, Claudia Hinojosa, April Stephens, Alecia Weir, Robyn, Samantha Stark, Penny Mars, Tina Clay, Shadi Mullin.

New rules forbid grade publishing; however, five students made the Critic's Circle of Superior Plus which only two percent of students entered achieve. Seventeen students memorized ten pieces each. All look forward to start preparing for this event in September. All were winners of District, State or National honors and received pins, engraved certificates and report cards. Mrs. Wiltshire recently remarked in her critique that "all students were poised, polite and courteous, with a clean-cut technique, and played as if they enjoyed performing." Congratulations, students!

Rev. Bruce Parks, District Superintendent of Plainview United Methodist Churches, preached Sunday night at the Turkey United Methodist Church. The pastor, Rev. W. L. Armstrong, was in Clovis and preached at the church where he preached his first sermon.

New Wheat Arriving Daily At Valley Mill & Elevator

Arville Setliff has announced that new wheat is arriving daily at Valley Mill and Elevator, Inc. in Turkey. The first load was brought in May 24 by James Lynn Kimbell from the T. D. Williams Ranch located about 10 miles east of Turkey.

Mr. Setliff says it looks like it will be a much better year than last year, probably yielding about two or three times more than the last harvest. He said some of it would possibly yield 35 bushels to the acre.

Mrs. W. L. Armstrong will return this week from a visit to Washington, D. C. with her sister. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Aaron Speer of Graham.

Joe Mark Davis Injured In Pickup Accident Recently

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Davis visited a few days recently with their son, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mark Davis and sons in Levelland. He told them about an accident he had.

He said he and his crew of three men were on their way to work when a pickup carrying two brothers sped through a stop sign and he said "there was no place to go."

He suffered a concussion and stitches were taken in his head. One of his crew had his nose broken in two or three places and needed plastic surgery. One of the men in the speeding pickup suffered a broken neck. All the men were bruised severely and needless to say, Joe Mark's pickup was "one big heap of scrap iron," his mother said, but "we are thankful that all concerned are recovering."

Billy is the son of Ray Gene and Donna Hutcheson.

Enroute down, Lela Mae stopped in Katy and visited another son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Hutcheson and children. They all drove over to Lake Jackson for the graduation exercises.

Lela Mae and the Joe Bedwells remained at the Ray Gene Hutchesons until Sunday when they drove home.

Mr. and Mrs. James Barefield drove to Lubbock Tuesday of last week and visited their son, Joey Barefield, and their daughter, Mrs. Frankie Pittman. They returned home Wednesday.

Extension Highlights

Briscoe County Extension Agent

Since last week's article, I've talked to several of you local home gardeners and your BIG questions were what about the bugs, weeds and disease. We can all agree that as safety and economic minded as we are, that the long-handled hoe is our best tool for weed control. Chemical weed control usually is undesirable and unsatisfactory because of the selective nature of weed control chemicals.

The wide variety of vegetable crops normally planted in a small area prohibits use of such chemicals. Cultivate and hoe shallowly to avoid injury to vegetable roots lying near the soil surface. Control weeds in the seedling stage to prevent them from seeding and reinfesting the garden area. Finally, always remove the weed debris from the area. This again will assist in stopping the recurrent weed problem.

Our other major problem is insects. Everybody is interested in identifying and killing those pesky rascals. In the home garden there are various chemicals on the market to control all or some of the more common insects. When using any of these chemicals always follow the manufacturers' directions on the label, to prevent any harmful damage to the plant or people.

The most common pests posed to our home gardens are the thrip, aphid, leafhopper and spider mite. Insecticides that show the best results in controlling most of these pests are Diazinon, Sevin and Malathion. Remember, for best results, always follow the directions on the label. Also remember that there is a time interval between when you spray and when you can harvest. It is different for each chemical.

For control of all common diseases such as spotted Wilt Virus, Curly Top Virus, Potato Y Virus, Tobacco Mosaic Virus and early blight, use the common chemicals such as Benelate, Captan or Maneb. All of these products are suitable for control of these common diseases in the home garden.

If a gardener follows some simple cultural practices in and around the garden area he can reduce or eliminate many insects and subsequent disease problems. These practices are as follows:

1. Maintain a clean, closely mowed area adjacent to the garden.
2. Dispose of any trash, boards or old plant debris in the area.
3. Keep the soil at maximum fertility level and well watered.
4. If only a few plants are involved, hand-pick larger insects, crush insect egg masses, or wash smaller insects off plants with a water hose.
5. Use cardboard protectors around transplants.
6. At the conclusion of the season, remove all plants and debris.

In closing, I hope that all of you have the best of luck this year and hope your thumb is as green as ever.

Mrs. Dorothy Cannon of Garland had visited the Rest Haven Cemetery and called the Valley Tribune editor Friday to commend the Senior Citizens for the work they had done on cleaning the cemetery. She stated it was very clean and beautiful. (Saturday, the hail damaged the trees and shrubs and the flowers that had already been laid at the cemetery. Some that came by shortly after the hail thought it a devastation.)

The editor drove out Monday afternoon and many more flowers had been laid at the graves and the cemetery looked good.

Many of us take the care of the cemetery for granted. I heard a lady remark, "What goes with that money we send for dues each year." That is like the subscription dues to the newspaper. That doesn't go far over a year period.

I drove out to the cemetery at Silverton Monday for the good program, and the first thing I saw was the flag at Gaston's grave. That takes time, to put them out and pick them up at the end of the day. The cemetery was clean from one side to the other. A plot of land was purchased a few years ago, and that has almost filled. The president of the cemetery association stated another plot is in the process of being purchased. For so many years, those who had loved ones buried there took lunch and made a day of cleaning the cemetery. Those who had no family left and those who neglected to visit and keep the graves clean, had to have those who went to care for those neglected graves.

For many years George Seanev gave his time and energy to care for that cemetery and get help to do the job. He is getting on in years and just a few years ago, he gave it up to those younger. Don Burson is president and Mrs. Carolyn Lowrey is secretary. There are eight members on the board. I mean to tell you, they have done an excellent job. That type of work is not cheap, and when you have an extra dollar to give to your cemetery, wherever you are, then just drop it into an envelope and send it to the ones who are caring for your loved ones' last resting places. Let's stop taking so much for granted.

Mrs. Coye Payne and daughter, Frances (Sissie) drove to Cal Farley's Boys Ranch on Saturday, May 18, to visit Mrs. Payne's grandson, Bobby, who lives there and is a student at the ranch. They report Bobby is doing fine in his school work and sports events. He sent eight ribbons and one medal home for his grandmother to keep for him. Saturdays are set aside for clean-up day and there are several of the boys given the duty of mowing the lawns. The Jeffries Dormitory, which is Bobby's home, was built and furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Jeffries in memory of their son who was killed in Vietnam. This young man's picture adorns the living room wall. His parents are always doing something for "their boys" as they call the boys in the dorm.

Mrs. Payne and Sissie took a picnic lunch, and they and Bobby ate at a picnic table under a tree. After lunch, Bobby took them on a tour of the campus. They took pictures, and Bobby told what each building represented. He showed them the gardens where cabbages are beginning to head and the tomato vines are knee high. Bobby knows all about the gardens because that is part of his work job and he loves it. Each boy has a job and gets paid for it.

Bobby had an agriculture project, and as in FFA, he had to keep a record and pay all the expense, and when it was over, he was able to bank all he had made above expenses, which totaled $60.00. This put a smile on Bobby's face.

His grandmother and Sissie stayed until Bobby had to report to the dorm, which was 5:00 p.m. They left him smiling and happy. His grandmother says he has come a long way and seems to be heading in the right direction for which she is very grateful.

On picnics, foods containing mayonnaise, eggs or milk products should be refrigerated until time to eat them. They're a prime cause of food poisoning.

Herrington Receives Degree From University of Texas

Maintaining its historic position of preeminence as one of the great universities of the world, The University of Texas, Austin, presented its 102nd annual commencement on May 18, 1985. Almost 5,000 students received their degrees in an open air ceremony at the Main Building South Terrace. Earlier in the afternoon the College of Engineering presented its Commencement at the Performing Arts Center Concert Hall where 1500 students received degrees in engineering. The Degree of Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering was conferred upon Lex Sterling Herrington.

Instead of a single Commencement speaker, four outstanding alumni spoke as representatives of UT's former students and represented different periods in the University's history. In addition, one hundred distinguished alumni including eminent physicians, scientists, attorneys, corporate executives, and others recognized as having achieved distinction in their chosen fields, marched in the academic procession.

Lex attended Texas Tech University one year and was a member of Alpha Zeta Fraternity honoring students in the top 2/5 of their class. He attended UT four years and was a member of Pi Tau Sigma, an honorary Mechanical Engineering Fraternity, and Tau Beta Pi, honoring those engineering students who demonstrated distinguished scholarship abilities, and chosen from the top fifth of the senior class. He was on the Dean's list almost every semester, and was in the top 1/8 of his class with a 3.79 semester average.

At the evening outdoor ceremony the College of Engineering and other colleges sat in groups together. The degrees were conferred by UT Regents Chairman Jess Hay and President Peter Flawn. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the great Tower, rising 307 feet above the campus, lighted up and beamed a bright orange beacon across Austin. The great Longhorn band sent the new graduates marching out into the world with a final chorus of "The Eyes of Texas."

Friends and relatives who attended the commencement exercises included Anne Marie and Max Ham, Traci and Chase; Glenn Roger Taylor; Ross and Patsy Herrington, parents, Quitaque. Among those attending from Austin were Lisa Herrington, Kimberly and Ron Eudy, and Walt Simmons. Following the ceremony a dinner was held in Lex's honor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Eudy.

Lex has accepted the position of Management Engineer at Frito Lay, Lubbock, Texas.

With The Sick

Oval Cogdill is progressing well following his surgery at Veterans Hospital in Amarillo on Wednesday, May 22. Mrs. Cogdill reported that he was scheduled to go into therapy on Tuesday of this week, and would probably get to return in about two weeks.

Mrs. Dollie Woods was taken to Lockney Hospital Friday, where she remains as we go to press Tuesday evening. Her daughter reports she is improving.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Clinton and Karen and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Clinton and family over the weekend were Debra Clinton, Helen McClung and Brenda Baker, all of Ponca City, Oklahoma.

Rod, Diana and Bobby Hill of Amarillo, Jana Payne of Plainview, Carol Weatherly, Jess Weatherly and Lynn Davis of Memphis visited Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hill over the weekend.

CUSTOM SEWING

GROWING IN POPULARITY

It's working women who are now expanding the market for custom sewn clothes.

"An increasing number of women don't have the time to sew, but appreciate the quality, fit and distinctive nature of home sewn garments," says Alma Fonseca, a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service clothing specialist.

At the same time, custom sewing offers an employment option for some women with young children or other responsibilities at home. These home-based entrepreneurs can add to the family income without leaving their homes. Many home sewers have the ability to fit, tailor, work on special fabrics or help clients plan wardrobe to enhance their coloring or figure.

Others specialize in specific needs such as bridal wear, tailored suits for the professional woman, western wear and children's wear, she explains.

There are more than 25 million people with high blood pressure—hypertension—in the United States.

Air Conditioner Maintenance Important

Few things are worse than a broken air conditioner on a hot, humid day—except the bill to get it fixed.

Preventative maintenance can help avoid a possible breakdown during the summer months and make an air conditioner run more efficiently, says housing specialist Dr. Peggy Owens.

"Since air conditioning is one of the largest single users of home energy, proper service and maintenance can help consumers hold down electric bills," remarks the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist.

Checking the system for warning signs is a simple matter, Dr. Owens maintains. Put your hand in front of the air supply vents. If the air feels lukewarm, it could indicate a problem with the ductwork, compressor, evaporator or refrigerant.

You should also feel air movement from the vent. If you don't, it may indicate a fan problem, a dirty filter, dirty evaporator coils or ductwork leaks.

Then check the condenser unit outside. It's normal for the air being discharged from the unit to be hot. If it isn't, there could be a problem with the compressor.

"Fixing or maintaining a central air conditioning unit is usually not a job for a do-it-yourselfer," Dr. Owens cautions. But because a service call can be costly, homeowners should know what to expect for their money, Dr. Owens advises.

The specialist suggests that a maintenance service call should include the following:

- Lubricate the condenser fan bearings, if not permanently sealed.
- Clean the air intake side of condenser coil.
- Tighten the electrical connections on the condenser, and check the operating current and supply voltage with volt amp meter.
- Check the refrigerant levels and pressures.
- Inspect the compressor start and run capacitors.
- Clean or replace the blower filter.
- Lubricate an unsealed blower fan motor and blower bearings. Check and adjust the belt tension and inspect the belt if the fan is belt-driven. Clean the blower wheel.
- Clean the evaporator coil and check the fin condition on blower unit.
- Clean and inspect the drain lines and pan in the blower unit.
- Check for excessive attic air leakage into the return air chamber of the blower unit.

Ask the service technician to provide a checklist of the maintenance provided for your unit, to insure that you're getting the most for your service dollar, recommends the home economist.

MR. AND MRS. BILL DENTON

Mayfield-Denton Vows Exchanged In Plainview

Miss Staci Lea Mayfield and Billy Dolph Denton exchanged marriage vows at three o'clock in the afternoon on April 27, 1985 at Brown Chapel on the campus of Wayland Baptist University in Plainview.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wayne Mayfield of College Station and Rev. and Mrs. Royce Denton of Clovis, New Mexico.

Rev. Denton performed the double-ring ceremony before an arch of brass candelabra decorated with pink gladioli, pink roses and grape ivy accented with double pink satin bows. Boston ferns interspersed with pink roses completed the altar setting, and pink satin bows marked the bridal aisle.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a tea-length gown of ivory slipper satin and ivory garden-glo lace accented with rosettes and seed pearls made by her mother. She added an ivory derby covered with ivory tulle and caught with a double bow. Ivory lace rosettes and seed pearls highlighted the bridal veil made by the bride's mother.

She carried a nosegay of feathered pink carnations and pink sweetheart roses surrounding an ivory orchid. To carry out bridal tradition, she wore a blue garter accented with tatting made by her late maternal grandmother, Clarice Douglas, and carried the handkerchief carried by her mother in her own wedding for something old. For something new, she chose her gown and hat. She borrowed diamond earrings and necklace which belonged to the groom's maternal grandmother, Mrs. William Ennen of Clovis, New Mexico.

Serving her sister as maid of honor was Miss Traci Mayfield of Austin. She wore a dress of pink embroidered silk and a halo of sweetheart roses and baby's breath was caught in her hair. She carried a fan covered with pink sweetheart roses, gladioli and baby's breath from which fell a cascade of pink streamers.

Guests were seated by Zane Mayfield of Silverton and Dayne Mayfield of Austin, brothers of the bride, and Rick Cooper of Plainview, brother-in-law of the groom.

Serving his friend as best man was James Jarrett of Lubbock.

Traditional wedding selections, including "Through the Eyes of Love," "Theme from Ice Castles" and "The Lord's Prayer," were presented by Sherman Aten and Tammy Payne.

The bride's mother wore a white linen suit with purple and pink accents, and added a corsage of sweetheart roses, feathered pink, orchid and yellow carnations and baby's breath. The groom's mother wore a powder blue suit and matching accessories, and also added a corsage of sweetheart roses, feathered pink, yellow and orchid carnations and baby's breath. Both corsages were showered with rainbow ribbon.

RECEPTION

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the Heritage Room of the Van Howling Library on the campus of Wayland Baptist University in Plainview.

The refreshment table was decorated with the bridal bouquet. The three-tiered wedding cake iced with ivory, accented with pink roses and topped with ivory bells and pink lace was served by Jeni Denton and Joni Denton, sisters of the groom. Others assisting with the reception were Mmes. Earlyne Hutsell and Pat Fitzgerald.

Following a wedding trip to Cancun, Mexico, the couple is at home in Lubbock where he is employed by RepublicBank. The bride is a graduate of Silverton High School and of Wayland Baptist University. She is employed by the Lubbock Independent School District.

The groom is a graduate of Silverton High School and Texas Tech University.

The bride's mother is a cousin of O. R. Stark and Mrs. Ross Herrington of Quitaque.

REHEARSAL DINNER

A rehearsal dinner party was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Rick Cooper and Rev. and Mrs. Royce Denton in the Cooper home in Plainview.

Home Sewing Requires Skills

"Starting a home-sewing business requires entrepreneurial skills that not everyone has," says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service clothing specialist Alma Fonseca. Self-confidence, originality, task- and result-orientation are all important.

Extension courses or programs on custom sewing and starting a home business are available in many locations, she notes. For information about resources for home sewers in your community, she advises contacting the home economist at your County Extension Office.

Pointers For Parents

When your child has a cold or hay fever, look for antihistamine/nasal decongestant products that are alcohol-free. That's healthier for your child, doctors say.

Children are more likely to take medication if it tastes good and is easy to swallow. Many doctors and pharmacists may recommend a pleasant-tasting syrup called Drixoral, from Schering Corporation. It has a wild cherry taste and is alcohol-free. In a taste-trial, many pharmacists said they would prefer to give their own children this syrup over a comparable leading product. They say you can't buy more effective relief of nasal congestion due to colds, hay fever or sinusitis without a prescription.

Read label directions carefully when giving medication to your children. Youngsters should not receive the same dosage as adults.

Kelli LaBaume Is The New Miss Floydada

Kelli LaBaume, 14-year-old daughter of Jon and Elaine LaBaume and granddaughter of Ashel and Mildred McDaniel, was crowned Miss Floydada by last year's recipient, Misti Orman, at the annual pageant sponsored by the Floydada Chamber of Commerce Saturday night, May 18, in the Floydada High School Auditorium. The winner was chosen over 10 other lovely young ladies. Piano music was furnished by Penny Ogden.

The pageant opened with a dance routine performed by all of the girls in matching outfits. Each girl modeled a sportswear outfit in the first portion of the competition. The second half of the modeling was in formal wear. After the top five were chosen, they were asked to draw a question from the bowl especially prepared for the occasion.

The new Miss Floydada, who is a freshman in Floydada High School, rode in a convertible in the parade for Old Settlers Day.

Thompson Pharmacy was her sponsor for the pageant.

Miss LaBaume is the great-niece of Mrs. Gerald (Anna Mae) Smith of Quitaque.

Senator Bill Sarpalius Reports

ALCOHOL LEGISLATION SUCCESSFUL

AUSTIN — Two years ago, we launched a campaign to get drunk drivers off Texas' streets and highways. We also made a commitment to making the state more responsible to the needs of its alcoholic citizens.

We're proud to say our campaign largely has been successful. Since 1983, we've toughened Texas' laws against drunk driving, raised the legal drinking age to 21 and given individual counties an easy way to fund alcohol rehabilitation programs.

This regular session has been a particularly successful one. Just this week we saw our Senate Bill 21 passed by the House and sent to the governor for his signature.

According to the terms of S.B. 21, the drinking age will be raised to 21 on Sept. 1, 1986 in order to comply with federal legislation that requires states to raise their drinking ages by October 1986 or lose federal highway funds.

The federal threat will expire in 1988, and the bill requires the Legislature in 1989 to vote to keep the drinking age at 21 or it will lapse back to 19. We're confident the dramatic increase in lives saved will convince our fellow lawmakers to keep the drinking age at 21.

Last week, we also saw two other critical bills pass the House. This week, we concurred with the House amendments to those bills, and they now are awaiting the governor's signature.

Senate Bill 620 probably is the most far-reaching of these measures. It allows counties to dedicate all or part of their fines from alcohol-related offenses to pay for alcohol-rehabilitation.

S.B. 620 is strictly permissive. Counties are not forced to do anything; the state merely is giving them permission. The measure already has been praised by the American Bar Association as the first of its kind in the nation.

Less of an attention-grabber but just as important was the passage of Senate Bill 111, which puts the finishing touches on the drunk-driving bill passed in 1983. S.B. 111 makes it easier for law enforcement agencies to determine whether alcohol was a factor in a traffic accident by giving morticians permission to take blood samples after a crash is suspected of being alcohol-related.

The only blight on an otherwise successful session was the failure of a House subcommittee to approve Senate Bill 135, the so-called open-container bill.

S.B. 135 would have made it illegal for a person to possess an open container of alcohol or consume alcohol while driving on Texas roads. The penalty would have been a Class C misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of up to $200.

The measure passed the Senate State Affairs Committee by a 12-1 vote and the full Senate by a 22-4 vote. At least 84 of the 150 House members were committed to supporting the bill. A recent University of Houston poll indicated 82 percent of all Texans backed the measure.

Yet one man, Rep. Kenneth Armbrister, was able to kill the bill. Armbrister, D-Victoria, was chairman of the subcommittee studying the bill and an avowed opponent of the open-container concept.

Armbrister alone said no to the Senate, no to the House and no to a majority of the state's people. He snubbed the testimony of Department of Public Safety Director Col. James Adams, who said putting an open-container bill on the books would eliminate 80 percent of the drinking while driving in Texas.

The San Antonio Express, reflecting on Armbrister's stand, said, "By thwarting the will of the people, who want to get drunks off the road, self-serving politicians... are in effect sentencing many Texans to die at the hands of drunken drivers." We couldn't agree more.

How Bad Is Soil Erosion In America?

We have all seen the pictures of starving people in Ethiopia. Our evening news broadcasts on television are full of stories about babies born to die, about young children scratching through the dirt for single grains of wheat, about whole families turned away from aid stations because there is not enough food to feed them.

How did Ethiopia get into this condition? Was it caused by the weather? The government? Certainly there must have been a combination of many conditions that have led to such a tremendous famine in a country that once almost fed itself.

Reporters and resource experts have made it clear to us that mismanagement and abuse of the land has left vast areas of Ethiopia eroded and unable to produce food. Soil erosion strips away the topsoil and reduces, or destroys, the ability for farmers to produce food for a nation. In Ethiopia, the ability of farmers to feed even themselves has been destroyed in many areas.

But what about our country? Are we immune to the same problems? Look around at our most vital natural resources, our soil and water. We, too, are in a crisis that most people do not even realize.

To give you an idea, think about the following example that Ken Rasch published in "Land Improvement Contractors of America" magazine.

The 1982 National Erosion Summary shows the state of Iowa with the nation's highest topsoil loss per acre at 10.2 tons. This includes wind and water erosion.

With 36,016,200 acres of land eroding at an average of 10.2 tons per acre, this comes to 342,368,000 tons of soil from Iowa heading for the Gulf of Mexico, never to grow food again.

If one railroad car holds 70 tons of soil, it would require 4,890,978 rail cars to haul it, making up trains 284 miles long from the Nebraska to the Illinois border. There would be 149 trains from Minnesota to the Missouri border, or a train every 1.3 miles.

If you were waiting at the railroad crossing on the Illinois border for the trains to cross, going 40 miles per hour, you would have to wait 44 days to see all this topsoil go by on its way to the Gulf of Mexico.

And this is only for the state of Iowa!

We have been lulled into a feeling that our nation has unlimited resources, and that we will always have the ability to produce an abundance of food. It has been estimated that soil erosion costs the United States approximately six billion dollars per year.

Next time you see pictures of people starving in Ethiopia, thank God and American farmers that you have plenty to eat, and find a way to help those who don't. Then, remember the example of soil erosion in Iowa. Let's find ways to stop our soil loss, before it's too late.

Excellent Year For Spraying Mesquite

With good moisture conditions over most of the state, this is an excellent year to use foliar herbicides for controlling mesquite, says a range brush and weed control specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Before applying a herbicide, make sure mesquite leaves are fully extended and have turned from light to dark green in color. This is usually about 40 days after bud break.

Soil temperature at 12 to 18 inches of depth should be 75 degrees F. or above.

Herbicides registered and effective for mesquite control on rangeland include triclopyr (Grazon ET); 2,4,5-T; picloram (Grazon PC); and dicamba (Banvel).

Producing High Quality Hay

Producing high quality hay takes a lot of advance work as well as proper attention to certain management practices. A number of these practices came to the forefront at the 1984 Liberty County Hay Show where producers with hay entries completed information sheets that detailed their production practices.

This information indicated that maturity of hay at harvest was the biggest factor affecting hay quality, with hay harvested at 20 to 30 days of age (from the onset of active growth or from the last cutting) being of the highest quality. Proper fertilization was the second most important factor in determining hay quality, noted a forage specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Working Women Need a Vacation

Many of the women who most need a vacation are least likely to have one, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist.

"Women who work full-time jobs and then come home to cook, keep house, sew and play chauffeur, often with little help from other family members, have the equivalent of two full-time jobs," says family life specialist Diane T. Welch.

These women may be in a double bind at vacation time, she explains. Some tend to save up chores like sewing, housecleaning, gardening or house painting to do on their vacation time.

Others may continue to carry the burden of house-cleaning, cooking and other tasks while the family vacations in a campsite, cabin or condo. The surrounding may change, but the work doesn't.

Couple To Marry August 3 in Booker

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Everett Hughes of Elmwood, Oklahoma and Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Reagan of Silverton are pleased to announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their children, Tracy Dawn and Bryan Shane.

The prospective bridegroom is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Reagan of Quitaque.

The wedding vows will be solemnized on August 3, 1985 at 7:00 o'clock in the evening at the First United Methodist Church in Booker, Texas.

The couple will be attending Panhandle State University at Goodwell, Oklahoma in the fall, where the prospective bridegroom plays football for the Aggies.

Friends and relatives of the couple are invited to attend the ceremony.

Working Women Need a Vacation

Many of the women who most need a vacation are least likely to have one, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist.

"Women who work full-time jobs and then come home to cook, keep house, sew and play chauffeur, often with little help from other family members, have the equivalent of two full-time jobs," says family life specialist Diane T. Welch.

These women may be in a double bind at vacation time, she explains. Some tend to save up chores like sewing, housecleaning, gardening or house painting to do on their vacation time.

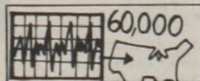

Others may continue to carry the burden of house-cleaning, cooking and other tasks while the family vacations in a camper, cabin or condo. The surroundings may change, but the work doesn't.

Employed women who "vacation" in this manner are getting no vacation at all, says the specialist. "They return to work exhausted, but in a different way."

When vacation time comes around, employed women should have a plan for using the time for self-renewal, she advises.

"Plan some time to relax completely when you do absolutely nothing and to do some activities just for enjoyment," Ms. Welch says.

Everyone—especially busy working women—need some true leisure time on vacation in order to go back to work renewed and refreshed, concludes the specialist.

4-H Roundup Time At Hand

More than 2,000 4-H members, including nine from Briscoe County, adult leaders, friends of 4-H and County Extension Agents will gather on the campus of Texas A&M University June 4-6 for the annual Texas 4-H Roundup.

The 4-H'ers will be participating in 39 different contests and events, ranging from demonstrations in consumer and mechanical skills to livestock and horse judging and public speaking, says Gayle Hall, 4-H specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. The Extension Service is the parent organization of 4-H, a program for youth between the ages of 9 and 19.

Roundup activities will begin with the State 4-H Food Show and State 4-H Project Show the first day.

An opening assembly at 7:00 p.m. in Rudder Auditorium the first evening will officially kick off Roundup activities, Ms. Hall says.

Don Clark, an internationally known speaker from Salt Lake City, Utah, will give a keynote address on "self-competition."

Two 4-H alumni will be recognized at the assembly, and four individuals and businesses will be honored for their long-time support of 4-H. Also, 99 outstanding 4-H members will be awarded scholarships totaling more than a half million dollars.

Competition in various contests and method demonstrations will command attention the second day of Roundup. 4-H'ers competing in these contests must have won at the county and district level to qualify for state competition, says Ms. Hall. Roundup contest winners will be recognized at a special assembly in Rudder Auditorium that evening at 8:00 o'clock.

The State 4-H Project Show will be open for viewing beginning at 10:00 a.m. June 5 in the Memorial Student Center on the A&M campus. The show provides an opportunity for 4-H'ers to demonstrate their expertise in certain project areas which they have developed over the years, notes the 4-H specialist.

A special luncheon on June 5 will honor 28 outstanding 4-H adult volunteer leaders from across Texas, two from each of the 14 Extension Service districts.

4-H'ers attending Roundup will be able to choose from a number of career workshops presented by the Texas A&M University staff on the final day. The workshops will include the fields of agriculture, engineering, business and veterinary medicine.

4-H members will compete in and enjoy a host of events and activities during the three-day Texas 4-H Roundup, which may consider a highlight of their association with 4-H, Ms. Hall says.

CARDS OF THANKS

Words cannot express how much I appreciate the cards, phone calls, visits and the many other kindnesses shown me while I was in the hospital and since I've been home. What a blessing it is to have such wonderful friends. May God bless each of you.
Sabra and George

I would like to take this opportunity to say thank you to my friends and customers in Turkey and surrounding area who have supported me through the many years that I have worked here; although it is a hard decision to make, I feel like it is time to quit so as of May 29, 1985, I will be closed. Thanks again.
Guy Smith 51-1tp

I want to thank everyone who has shown me love and kindness all year during my illness. Thanks to those who have brought food and flowers. Thanks to my family who has always been there when I needed them. Thanks to those who went to the hospital with me, and most of all, thanks to my church for the many kindnesses its members have done.
Elvie Hamner 51-1tc

I take this means of saying thanks to everyone who was so kind to me while I was in the hospital; your visits, cards, gifts and, especially, your prayers. May God bless each of you.
Coye Payne 51-1tp

FAMILY TRIBUTE

Perhaps you sent a beautiful card, sat quietly in a chair. Perhaps you sent a funeral spray, if so, we saw it there. Perhaps you were not there at all, just thought of us that day. Whatever you did to console our hearts, We thank you for your part. A special thanks to all our neighbors, friends and relatives for every kind word and act in our time of sorrow. God bless you all.

BIG COWS NOT

ALWAYS EFFICIENT

Big cows may not be the most efficient producers in a beef cattle herd. Although big cows generally produce the heaviest calves, their maintenance costs may outweigh the benefits of the extra pounds of beef, notes a beef cattle specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The Texas A&M University System.

A demonstration at the Four Ranch near Hempstead the past two years showed that cow maintenance costs need to be considered along with the age of cows in coming up with an efficient herd. In the demonstration, the heaviest cows produce calves only 13 pounds (2% heavier than calves from medium-weight cows, but these heavy cows required about 18% more energy and 13% more protein on a daily basis.
