Valley Takes Sixth Win of Season At Amherst Friday Night

The Valley Patriots went to Amherst Friday night following a hard-fought game with top winner Nazareth the week before and came away with another victory. This brings them to 6-1 for the season and 4-0 in district play. The final score was Valley 38 to Amherst 0.

Coach Giddens says that often times, a team will let down on the next game after winning over a strong team and one that was rated higher than the Patriots, but from all evidence, this bunch of Patriots is the most consistent of many years. They go out to win in each game.

Valley had 19 first downs to Amherst's four, and yardage gained rushing, the Patriots had 180 to Amherst's 50. The Pats made 16 pass attempts, completing four and gaining 96 yards. The Bulldogs attempted 13 passes and completed none. The Patriots intercepted six passes and Amherst none. The Patriots had 57 yards in penalties and the Bulldogs had 97 stepped off against them. By quarters, the Patriots scored 14-0, 17-0, 7-0 and 0-0, for their final 38-0 tally.

Coach Giddens says, "The defense played well again. We held Amherst to 59 total yards. We had 13 turnovers from them with six interceptions and seven fumbles. I thought the team played well, coming off the big ball game with Nazareth last week. Sometimes after a big game, you lose your intensity the next Friday."

He continued, "J. Dale Butler is playing great for us right now on the defensive line. He played excellent against Nazareth and Amherst."

"Barry Johnson, three-times state champion in the hurdles, was Amherst's best threat. He is probably the best back we have faced this year. Amherst has a good football team. They will surprise some more people the Fall Has Arrived!

The last few weeks have been typical Fall weather, with one day hot and the next needing the heater turned on and a sweater to wear.

A total of 2.10 inches of rain had fallen in the Quitaque area up to 6:00 a.m. Wednesday. All of the wheat farmers are pleased with any amount they can get and want more, but the peanut and hay farmers are not wanting it just now.

Sunday night, Quitaque recorded .79 of an inch of rain and Monday night another .10 of an inch fell, bringing the yearly total to 12.30 inches which is far below normal.

Mrs. Roy Patterson, the Turkey reporter, has been at St. Anthony's Hospital with her husband, and she reports, unofficially, the moisture at Turkey was about the same as at Quitaque.

PUBLIC NOTICE!

Mrs. Edith Guest of Turkey was also a Sunday afternoon visitor in the Taylor home.

Rev. W. L. Armstrong and Dr. Wayne Maxwell visited in Amarillo Friday with Jendy Turner and Rev. Roy Patterson, both of whom were patients at St. Anthony's Hospital.

Sale of Crude Oil Is Important
Contribution To Economy

The sale of crude oil and natural gas from Briscoe County wells made an important contribution to the county's economy in 1982 and accounted for $115,080 of the $41.1-billion wellhead value of Texas petroleum production last year.

In its annual survey of the economic impact of oil and gas industry operations in the significant producing counties of Texas, Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association reported that the county ranked 211th among Texas' 254 counties on the basis of value of its marketed petroleum production. Such production includes condensate and casing-head gas.

The county's wells produced 3,554 barrels of crude oil, valued at $11,844, and 1.6-million cubic feet of natural gas, valued at $3,236. Owners of royalty in the county received $14,385 as their share of the output, the Association noted.

"The figures cited in this survey offer graphic evidence of the continuing importance of petroleum production to nearly every county in Texas, a situa-

TFU Participates
In "Dial Hay"

Today's DIAL HAY program, announced by the Texas Department of Agriculture, is "Jim Hightower's finest hour as Agriculture Commissioner," says Mike Moeller, Texas Farmers Union president.

The program, which provides a connection between farmers and the hard hit, drought-stricken ranchers of West Texas has the strong, active support and cooperation of the Texas Farmers Union membership. In fact, Hillsboro farmer Jerry Bailey, one of TFU's more active members, has become the initial supplier of hay at a reduced price to West Texas rancher Edd Hughes.

The initiative for this program, taken by TDA and TFU, is in answer to the lack of meaningful action by John Block, head of the United States Agriculture Department. "With a flick of his Bic, Secretary Block could release Panhandle-stored grain of poor quality as emergency feed stock and help solve many of the problems of those West Texas ranchers," observes Moeller. "But since the Secretary is not now disposed towards helping us voluntarily, the DIAL HAY program is our best bet. Not only is this grass roots type action, a neighbor-to-neighbor movement among Texas farmers and ranchers, but it was put together at a cost to the taxpayer.

tion which should continue indefinitely," said the Association's chairman, Joe C. Walter, jr.,

Houston independent producer. "There are a number of encouraging signs indicating that the oil and gas industry's protracted slowdown in activity is coming to an end. A general economic recovery in the United States and other industrialized countries will increase the demand for petroleum products, thereby stimulating geophysical and drilling activity here and abroad. The domestic petroleum industry stands ready to drill more wells as drilling projects become economically feasible," Walter said.

In addition to paying property taxes to cities, counties and school districts, producers in the county supported state government through production tax payments estimated at $5,388, according to the Association survey. Crude oil taxes amounted to $5,145, while natural gas levies totalled $243.

In the search for new petroleum reserves in the county, oil and gas producers spent a reported $4.8-million in the drilling of eight wells, including six wildcat, or exploratory, wells. This effort resulted in the completion of two oil wells, although some $4.2-million was lost in the drilling of six dry holes.

Leather-bound books will benefit from periodic applications of saddle soap, neats-foot oil or petroleum jelly.

THEN NOW

Awareness of the acidic nature of rain is not new.

THEN: As early as 1852, a French scientist noted measurable quantities of nitric acid and nitrogen compound in the rain of Paris. In 1872, the acidic nature of rain was documented in a lengthy book on the chemistry of English rain.

NOW: Scientists say that today all rain is acidic. Normal acidities cover a fairly broad range and acid rain influences the acidity of lakes into which it may fall far less than does the high acidity naturally found in forest litter. Many of our lakes were known to be acidic long before the major urban growth in the Northeast or the industrial growth of the Midwest.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. C. T. Rucker, sr.
Buried Sunday

Another Quitaque pioneer, Mrs. C. T. Rucker, sr., 89, died in Plainview Friday after a long illness.

Services were held Sunday, October 16, at 3:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Quitaque where she held membership. The Rev. Sid Parsley, pastor of the First United Methodist Church in Crowell, officiated, assisted by the Rev. Wayne Norman, pastor of the First United Methodist Church in Quitaque.

Burial was in Rest Haven Cemetery by Schooler-Gordon Funeral Directors of Quitaque.

C. T. Rucker, sr. and Ada Lois Stewart married December 24, 1911 at Aubrey, Texas, in Denton County. To this union three children were born, Mary (Rucker) Pittman, C. T. Rucker, jr. and W. A. (Bill) Rucker.

The Ruckers moved to the Quitaque area in 1925, living in a one-room house that measured ten feet by fourteen feet for a month. The family reports five people ate and slept in this small space. They moved again to a larger house when one was available, then in 1927, the family moved into the farm home where they lived for the next thirty-five years. Mr. and Mrs. Rucker and daughter, Mary, moved into their new brick home in Quitaque in 1960. Mr. Rucker died in 1970, and Mrs. Rucker and Mary continued to live in the home until Mrs. Rucker's health required more extensive medical care and she entered the Lockney Care Center.

GRANDSON OF LOCAL FOLK

HOW LESTER OTTO MONK LOST HIS NAME

Sixty years ago, back in 1923, Wayne Daniel, Clyde and Lester Monk erected a basketball goal on the section that joins Quitaque on the northwest. It was located about 150 yards northwest of where J. H. Simmons erected his home many years later.

After the goal was up, they began shooting at the goal. Wayne began calling Lester "Pete." After doing this for some time, he switched to calling him "John." Later, he put the two together and began calling him "Pete John." When this reached school, someone cut it short, to "P. John."

This new name of "P. John" stuck pretty well, since most people where he has lived for 62 years don't know that for the first thirteen years of his life he had another name.

(Sent in by Clyde Monk, brother of P. John. Thanks!)

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Clary of Tulia visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Brunson Sunday.

JOSH SMITH CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY IN HEREFORD

Rev. Roy Patterson returned from St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo Monday afternoon. He is recuperating nicely.

R. V. Johnson is a patient at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, where he had surgery. He is reported to be doing satisfactorily.

Folks used to wonder what Grandpa Brown and I had in common. He must have been close to eighty when I was just a kid. But I remember him as one of the best friends I ever had.

He was a wonderful old man, with a simple, native wisdom. We used to go fishing together and he would talk to me about God and Faith and Love. I remember he said people shouldn't wait until they're in trouble before going to Church. "When you're happy," he told me, "take time out to offer a prayer of thanks."

The Church had acted as a balance for him during good times and a bulwark during bad times.

Down through the centuries the Church has made great Christians out of unassuming people. They in turn have transmitted the blessings of the Church to oncoming generations. I hope I can bring Grandpa Brown's faith and wisdom to others, as I was impressed by him.

JUDGES ATTEND SEMINAR
-Ninety-seven justices of the peace attended a 20-hour Justice of the Peace Center seminar September 15-16 in Amarillo. The training is based at Southwest State University in San Angelo. The seminars are held in accordance with Article 5972.

Bentsen Urges Action on Feed

Senator Lloyd Bentsen urged recent steps by Congress to force the Department of Agriculture to take action, had that the department take immediate emergency feed assistance in drought-stricken areas. JUDGES ATTEND SEMINAR

Ninety-seven justices of the peace attended a 20-hour Texas Justice of the Peace Training Center seminar September 13-16 in Amarillo. The training center is based at Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos. The seminars are held in compliance with Article 5972, Section vote by both the House Appropriations Committee and the Subcommittee on Conservation and Credit of the House Agriculture Committee," Bentsen said.

B, of the Texas Revised Civil Statutes. Among the judges attending were [left to right] Roy Patterson of Turkey, Hall County, Precinct 4; Dick Taylor of Quitaque, Briscoe County, Precinct 2, Place 1; Ruby Roden of Memphis, Hall County, Precinct 1; and James Edwards of Silverton, Briscoe County, Precinct 1.

"However, there will be a substantial delay before we can proceed with final passage of this legislation."

"Unfortunately, the drought that is now plaguing ranchers in Texas and other states is continuing unabated. It is essential that sales of this damaged grain begin as soon as possible in order to prevent forced liquidations of livestock that might not otherwise be necessary."

"You have previously declined our requests for sales of some of the 21.1 million bushels of damaged grain in Commodity Credit Corporation inventory in Texas for livestock feed assistance. However, we respectfully request that you reconsider this decision in light of the Senate action and the likelihood that these sales will shortly be required by law."

"At this point we believe that further delays would only inflict needless damage on the livestock industry."

"A drought is a terrible, relentless thing, Mr. Secretary. We believe, and the Senate has agreed, that the taxpayers should not have to pay over $11 million per year to store damaged grain in an area where it is so badly needed for livestock feed," Bentsen said.

"We urge you to use your authority to begin making these sales immediately rather than waiting for the enactment of this law," Senator Bentsen said.

"Time is precious, but truth is more precious than time."

Bentsen Urges Ag Secretary To Act on Feed Emergency

Senator Lloyd Bentsen, saying recent steps by Congress could force the Department of Agriculture to take action, has urged that the department provide immediate emergency livestock feed assistance in drought areas.

Bentsen, in a letter to Secretary of Agriculture John Block, said immediate action is essential "to prevent forced liquidations of livestock." The Senator was joined in signing the letter by Senator John Tower and Representatives "Kika" de la Garza and Tom Loeffler.

"On October 6, the Senate unanimously approved an amendment which would require the selling of damaged grain held by the Commodity Credit Corporation to ranchers in drought-stricken areas. Similar legislation has been approved by voice

WASH AND WEAR?

One hundred years of research have created man-made fibers that have revolutionized the way we live and dress and lightened the load of household chores. But new fibers and fabrics require new care methods.

When cotton, wool, silk and linen were the only fabrics and a bar of lye soap was the only soap, clothing care was simple (except I have never figured out how they cleaned the silks and elegant clothes with beads and lace).

With many forms of polyester, rayon, acrylic, nylon and the blends of these synthetics and natural fibers, hundreds of new fabrics are on the market. Detergent manufacturers create new formulas to clean these fabrics. Many laundry aids are available to make cleaning easier—pre-soaks, pre-wash treatments, water softeners, bleach products, and fabric softeners.

Care labeling legislation passed in 1972, required each article of clothing to have a care label permanently attached by the manufacturer. Fabric is also required to be labeled. Do you look at the number in the triangle on the end of the fabric bolt and ask the salesperson for the care label of that number or read the care requirement for that material before you buy it?

One study showed that consumers care for the garment the way they want to regardless of the label information. When their care method ruins the garment, they are unhappy.

Detergent boxes give directions for detergent use but many consumers do not follow these. I saw an example of this when I visited the Soap and Detergent Association in New York. Water varies across the United States. Hard water requires more detergent for good cleaning. Minerals in water create additional problems.

For best results in clothing care, read labels BEFORE buying clothes or fabric and read and follow instructions on all laundry products. If you have problems, call me (823-2343) or come by my office. I have many resources on clothing care problems and stain removal.

Panhandle EMS Issues Halloween Warning

Panhandle Emergency Medical Services System Paramedics have issued a few warnings for the ghosts, goblins and witches out on Halloween. It is the time of year when some special problems occur. Here are a few tips on warding off these unwanted tricksters:

Halloween costumes are notoriously poor insulators from the cold, so be sure to bundle up under the costume. The head accounts for the greatest percentage of heat loss from the body. A good stocking cap or other well insulated hear gear is in order. Of course, well bundled bodies are musts in the cold, since a child is less likely to complain of being cold in the excitement of the moment. Extra pairs of socks and a warm pair of gloves is recommended. It's a good idea to unbundle as soon as you get home to prevent overheating the child.

Unfortunately, parents must beware the criminally insane people who seem to enjoy giving out dangerous treats on Halloween. Anything from Chocolate-covered mice to razor blades in apples have been reported in the past. Parents can best avoid these idiots by following a few basic rules for trick or treaters:

- (1) Only visit people you know well.
- (2) Caution your children to never accept treats from other children, especially older children.
- (3) Never allow your child to have homemade treats such as candied apples or popcorn balls unless you know the giver well.
- (4) Examine each treat yourself for any evidence of tampering and caution your children to never eat a treat until you have examined it.

(5) Only allow individually wrapped treats that can be examined easily for evidence of having been opened or tampered with.

(6) Caution your children to never let someone else examine or handle their treats.

If your child eats one of their treats before they get home and begin to manifest symptoms of nausea, vomiting or general distress after having been well all evening, you may want to notify emergency medical personnel.

In the case of suspected poisons, you can call the Poison Control Center through the Panhandle Emergency Medical Services System at 1-800-692-1331.

Do not take chances if you suspect poisoning... call for help immediately!

DOUBTER

She's young, she's beautiful, but she doesn't believe in God. At least, she doesn't think she does.

Shocked? Lots of young people today and a good many older ones aren't all that sure of the "old religion." They don't want a panacea. They want something of substance, a truth to live with.

That's why the Church has risen to meet the challenge. There's a new tide in today's church, a reality as old as the centuries but as new as the future.

You owe it to yourself to investigate.
