Peanut Producers And Handlers Urged To Check Contracts

To give peanut producers and handlers more flexibility when they contract to sell additional peanuts—those grown in excess of the farm's poundage quota—the U. S. Department of Agriculture recently eliminated form CCC-1005, "Handlers Contract with Producers for Purchase of Additional Peanuts for Crushing or Export." The contractual agreement now will be drawn up between the producer and the handler, according to Billy Don Atkinson, County Executive Director.

"The specific terms and conditions of individual contracts are entirely the responsibility of both parties," said Mr. Atkinson, "and each one should check to see that the agreement is in their best interest."

Except for eliminating the form, the contracting procedure and the regulations governing additional peanut contracts have not been changed. Contracts submitted to ASCS for approval must still specify the price and quantity of peanuts sold, and contain the signatures of the parties.

"All contracts between producers and handlers must be filed at our office by April 14," he said.

When entering the contract, peanut handlers should be aware that USDA no longer requires a delivery date, a lien disclosure statement, the crop year or the name, address and signature of the farm owner or operator. Peanut producers should be made aware that USDA no longer requires escapement clauses for failure to produce peanuts or failure to deliver peanuts because of natural disasters. Clauses reserving the right to renegotiate a higher contract price, place the peanuts under loan at the additional support level, and to deliver farm poundage quota before delivering the contract additional peanuts are also deleted as a USDA requirement. If any producer or handler wishes to continue these clauses or add others they may. However, it is the responsibility of the producer and handler to examine the terms of the contract to insure that their interest is protected.

In the event of a dispute, approval of the contract by ASCS does not constitute a determination of the respective rights and obligations of the handler and producer, according to Billy Don Atkinson, County Executive Director.

PUC Asked To Place Moratorium On Disconnections

The Public Utility Commission of Texas is asking electric utilities to place a moratorium on service disconnections for customers unable to pay unusually high December bills.

In a letter to chief executive officers of Texas electric utilities, Chairman Al Erwin outlined the program which utilities may participate in voluntarily. The voluntary moratorium applies only to electric utilities. Guidelines are:

*Customers must request that the utility not disconnect their service

*Utilities may offer extensions of payment plans following PUC rules

*The moratorium is voluntary and statewide

The plan is intended to address only the December usage and billing period. Almost $300 million in statewide damages resulted from the unusually cold weather which was experienced throughout Texas in December.

"We hope that the electric utilities will want to participate in the moratorium in order to prevent service disconnections to customers unable to afford a single payment for December's usage," said Chairman Erwin.

Utilities participating in the program are asked to inform the PUC's Consumer Affairs Office, 512 458-0252. Utility customers may contact the Consumer Affairs Office for this information.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Seaney of Follett and Mr. and Mrs. George Seaney of Silverton visited Mrs. A. C. Barrett recently and took her out to eat.

Valley Takes Two Wins From Claude Friday Night

The Valley varsity boys and girls hosted Claude Friday night, taking two wins.

The girls' scores were Valley 6 to Claude 11 at the end of first period, but the girls decided to begin playing and at halftime, they were ahead 21-18. At the end of three periods, Valley had tallied 27 and Claude 23. The final score put Valley ten points to the good with 41-31.

Renett Brittain hit for 14 points and Sherri Hendrix added eight for high scores.

The Valley Patriots sported 16 and Claude had 19 at the end of the first quarter. It was nip and tuck all the way. At halftime, the Patriots were still lagging behind, 30-35, but in the third period they moved into the lead, 46-44. At the final buzzer, Valley had 55 and Claude 54.

Kraig Cox, Tommy Williams and Will Williams each dropped in 15 points to earn individual honors.

Tuesday night, the varsity drove to Amarillo to meet Clayton, New Mexico in a game played at Amarillo College. The JV teams played at Crowell.

Friday night the varsity boys and girls will drive to Lakeview for a couple of games.

The Superintendent's Corner

by Wilburn Leeper

We stand proud of the boys and girls who represented Valley School in the recent Canadian basketball tournament. This pride comes for more reasons than one. First, the teams are to be congratulated for playing well and winning. Second, and perhaps more important, they are to be commended for the exemplary way in which they conducted themselves both on the court and off.

The girls put together three good games, defeating Childress, Spearman and Canadian, and won first place in the tournament. This has been an exciting year for the girls and fans because they are more successful than first anticipated. The girls now have a 13-4 won-loss record. It goes to show what a combination of skill, dedication, hard work, and good coaching can do.

The boys beat Childress in the opening game of the tournament, lost a thriller to Spearman in game two, and came back in the final game to defeat Darrouzett for third place. The boys got a late basketball start this season due to successfully prolonged football playoffs, but are coming along fine. They are well coached, disciplined, exciting, talented and a credit to Valley School. Most schools will have played 18 to 20 games by this time of year but our boys have played only 11. Their record stands at 7 wins and 4 losses. The first district home game will be January 24 against Silvertown.

When our students participate in activities in other schools and towns, they are representing our homes, our community and our school. The impression they have on others will have a lasting effect. The young men and women from Valley left a favorable and lasting impression upon the people in Canadian and were invited to return again next year. They feel good about Valley School. There was never a need for apologies for any kind of misconduct nor did any embarrassing situations arise. Parents can be proud of their children, the school can be proud of its students and the community can take pride in its citizens—we were represented well.

While visiting with a group of kindergarten students, their attention and interest became directed to my wrist watch. After several comments were made concerning watches, I asked, "I wonder why a watch is called a watch?" Expecting most any kind of response, one little girl spoke up and said, "Hub, you don't know anything, do you?" In school there are responses to questions and then there are just responses.

Another kindergarten story: One youngster who had been trying the teacher's patience for sometime and had been threatened with punishment on numerous occasions, finally had come to the actual punishment stage. While walking down the hallway to the Principal's office, the youngster became aware of what was actually going to happen and began tugging at the teacher's sleeve. After gaining the attention of the teacher, the student said, "Teacher, teacher, I'm really going to get it this time, huh?" She did.

U. F. Coker has been elected to serve on the Hall County Appraisal District board of directors. His responsibilities will be to function on the five-member board which makes decisions concerning taxing situations for all taxing entities associated with Hall County. Jan Turner and James Fuston are past members of the board.

As a reminder: Flashing lights on school busses are to enhance the safety of school children. Flashing amber lights are a warning that the bus will soon be stopping to load or unload riders. The red flashing lights are to let everyone know that children are either loading or unloading and all traffic should come to a complete stop until the lights stop flashing. All busses stop at railroad crossings but flashing lights will not be operated and traffic may proceed as usual.

OUT-OF-TOWN FRIENDS AND RELATIVES ATTENDED THE COKER FUNERAL

Among the friends and relatives from out of town who were in Turkey to attend the funeral of Mrs. U. F. Coker, sr. were Sue Henderson and Jessie Bishop of Dalton, Georgia; Mrs. Martha Crumley, Mr. and Mrs. James Russell, Katherine Russell, Robert Marler, Danny Marler, all of Amarillo; Kenneth Lane, Chicago, Illinois; Keith Lane, Greeley, Colorado; Mr. and Mrs. Barry Lane and family, Ruidoso, New Mexico; Kim Coker, Sugarland; Brenda Coker, Bryan; Linda Coker, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Marler and family, Fort Sill, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. Pat Dunavin and family, Cleburne; Steve Stevens, Farmington, New Mexico; Stan Mayfield, Cleburne.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Grundy drove to Lubbock Saturday to visit her sister, Mrs. Fannie Mae Lokey. They all drove to Meadow to attend a music festival Saturday night. The Grundys report it was very good and they enjoyed it a lot. They returned home Monday.

Mrs. Meacham Is Hostess To Nuevo Study Club

Mrs. Paul Meacham was hostess to members of Nuevo Study Club in her home Thursday, January 12, at 4:00 p.m. Mrs. Ella Colvin, president, conducted the business session.

Mrs. R. C. Green invited the club to have an all-day meeting on January 26 in her home because Mrs. Walker could not be hostess at this time. Her offer was accepted and it was decided to have a salad luncheon beginning at 12:00 noon.

It was voted to send a donation of $25 to Girlstown, USA at Whiteface.

Mrs. Bert Degan, program leader, gave an interesting review of the life of Julia Dent Grant, wife of the late president Ulysses S. Grant. They entered the White House in 1869, she said, and it was reported that Mrs. Grant said it was the happiest time of her life. They had four children. After leaving the White House, the Grants made a trip around the world in 1877.

Mrs. Degan also gave a devotional on Forgiveness, as this was the first meeting of the new year for the club and the poem fitted right in with that theme. Members gave interesting items for roll call.

The hostess served a delicious and attractive refreshment plate to Faye Armstrong, Marjorie Bain, Virgie Powell, Kathleen Green, Mayme Adamson, Judy Gafford, Marcella Patterson, Virginia Degan and Ella Colvin.

Texas Farmers Union Holds Annual Convention In Lubbock

"Farmers Union—United and Strong," was the theme of Texas Farmers Union's 80th annual state convention held in Lubbock January 12-14, 1984. Delegates and members of the 10,000 member family farm organization gathered at the Holiday Inn-Civic Center in Lubbock for determining annual policy and hearing from important speakers.

TFU President Mike Moeller of Hays County said, "As the economic crisis in American agriculture continues, it is essential that the public be made aware of the problems and needs of our family farmers. With consideration of major farm legislation to begin in 1984, we feel this was an excellent time for the real farmers and ranchers in Texas to air their complaints and to plan a course of action for the future."

National Farmers Union President George Stone delivered the banquet address Saturday evening at the close of the convention. Stone has been an outspoken critic of efforts by the Reagan Administration to weaken the family farm system in the United States. He recently announced that he will not seek re-election as President of the Nation's largest genuine farm organization, and gave his last speech to Texas delegates as NFU President. Cy Carpenter, President of the Minnesota Farmers Union, addressed the delegates, as did TFU President Moeller.

Most of the major candidates for the U. S. Senate seat now occupied by John Tower were in attendance at the convention.

Former Ambassador Bob Krueger, Congressman Kent Hance, State Senator Lloyd Doggett, and Businessman Harley Schlanter were present to address the delegates at varying times throughout the convention.

The convention opened Thursday, January 12, at 8:00 p.m., and the final gavel fell Saturday night at the conclusion of the banquet.

The local folk attending report that all the speakers brought very interesting and informative addresses.

AUSTIN — There are signs that Texas is a good place to live, despite the recession that has plagued the state along with the rest of the nation.

One example of how Texas is becoming a better place for its citizens shows up in the poverty report. It tells us that there were fewer "poor" people in the 1980s than there were in the 1970s.

The federal government defines the poor as those families and individuals living below the poverty line. Presently that yearly income level for a family of four is $9,862. That is the minimum amount the federal government says is necessary to provide basic necessities like food, clothing and shelter.

From 1970 to 1980, the people living below the poverty level in Texas decreased 21.8 percent, far better than the national reduction of 9.5 percent.

Every area of Texas made some strides against poverty during the statistical period. Our Plains region of the state, which includes all of the Panhandle and a portion of lower West Texas, saw a decrease of 23.7 percent. The poverty level was 14.2

Every area of Texas made some strides against poverty during the statistical period. Our Plains region of the state, which includes all of the Panhandle and a portion of lower West Texas, saw a decrease of 23.7 percent. The poverty level was 14.2

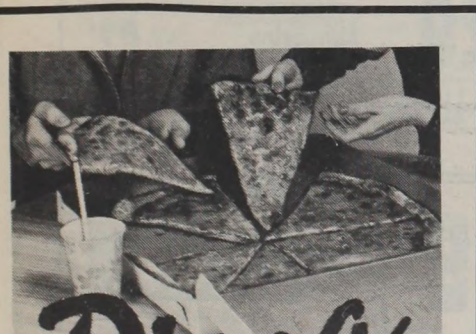

percent of our population in 1980, compared to 18.6 percent in 1970.

The national economic recession has pushed a larger number of people below the poverty line in the past three years. Our area has been especially impacted by the drop in oil and gas activity and the drought which has adversely affected farming.

According to federal statistics, the number of people living in poverty throughout the U.S. has increased from 12.4 percent of the population in 1980 to 15 percent in 1982.

Our worst fear is that the progress we have made in Texas over the past decade in the war on poverty may have been eroded by the lingering depression that has hurt us in the Plains area and has been particularly painful along the Texas Border and Gulf Coast, coupled with huge increases in utility and health care costs and cuts in federal programs.

Battling back against the economic setbacks is one area that the Texas Legislature will focus on during the next legislative session.

Governor Mark White REPORTS

AUSTIN — Texas hosted 30 major film projects in 1983, a new record for a relatively young Texas industry that is becoming a significant economic asset to our state.

Productions ranged from artistically and commercially successful box office features, such as "Terms of Endearment," to critically acclaimed television movies like "Bill: On His Own," "Adam," and the internationally popular TV series "Dallas."

The Texas Film Commission, a division of the Governor's Office, is responsible for attracting film and television production to Texas and building a climate here in which the industry can thrive.

In the past four years, the Film Commission has worked with production companies filming 83 major projects in Texas as well as hundreds of TV commercials, documentaries, educational films, and corporate communications features. Altogether, the industry has spent nearly $500 million in our state since 1980.

Aside from the natural and varied beauty of the landscape and the dramatic backdrops found in our urban centers, producers find Texas attractive because of the availability of skilled labor and a full range of support services. This enables them to shoot on location without having to bring the necessities of modern filmmaking cross country. Texas' wealth of seasoned technicians, professional acting talent, movie-making equipment, and sound stages continues to grow.

As film production increases in the state, more Texans are apt to find movie crews setting up temporary housekeeping in their home communities.

Film companies will take their business where government officials and private citizens are willing to help them achieve creative control over the locales used in production.

America's film industry is decentralizing and moving away from the Hollywood lot. Famous old studios, such as MGM and Paramount, no longer dominate the industry and newer companies, like HBO and Tri-Star Pictures, are producing the majority of their films outside Los Angeles.

Texas is in a good position to take advantage of this movement away from Hollywood. Support services — even whole film companies — are already in place here. Still, the sources of capital to finance movie production, encourage new film talent, and distribute films exist largely outside Texas.

The Texas Film Commission is developing programs to familiarize those outside the film industry with its financial potential and to encourage local creative talent.

With an aggressive marketing plan, Texas' star can continue to rise as a respected filmmaking center.

A young oyster is called a set.

CAKE MIXES VARY IN COST AND CALORIES

Not all cake mixes are created equal in cost or calories, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service foods and nutrition specialist.

The addition of extra eggs and oil to some mixes increases the calories as well as the cost of the cake. The specialist suggests that consumers make it a habit to read the labels on mixes, since nutritional differences among cakes are surprisingly large. The fat content of various cake mixes ranges from four to fourteen grams for one twelfth of the cake; the calories from 180 to 300 per slice; and the sodium from 270 to 375 milligrams per slice. In general, angel food cake and white cake mixes, made without egg yolks, are lower in fat and calories, and cake mixes that require additional oil or shortening are higher. The good news for chocolate lovers is that chocolate cake mixes are not significantly higher in fat or calories than other flavors.

SEWING SUEDE

Are you afraid of sewing synthetic suedes? If you have good sewing skills on other fabrics, you should be able to "tackle" suede.

After the initial shock of paying for the fabric, remember how much you save by making the garment. I can make a skirt for under $45 compared to a similar ready-made skirt for $200.

You also save on care cost. This beautiful fabric (Ultra-suede®) is machine washable and dryable. It gets softer when washed. However, if your ready-made synthetic suede garment recommends "dry clean only," that is the care method you should use. Only when you construct your own garment and know what type of lining, interfacing, and shoulder pads you use would you be safe in machine washing the garment.

Select a pattern with simple lines and construction details, especially if this is your first project with suede. Be absolutely certain that the pattern fits properly. When in doubt, make a trial garment from a fabric with a similar stiffness.

Remember, synthetic suede, like real suede, has a nap. Cut each piece with the nap running in the same direction. I prefer the nap running upward on the body since this makes the color look richer.

You may want to use transparent tape to hold the pattern on the fabric when cutting since pins are difficult to place in the fabric.

Machine stitches should be relatively long to avoid puckering. Good pressing techniques are crucial. Avoid touching the iron directly on the suede. Always use a press cloth and press from the wrong side of the garment. Use strips of paper between the seam allowance and the garment when pressing to avoid imprints on the right side. Do not over press.

Several have asked for information on sewing with synthetic suede. If you are interested in attending a workshop where you could work on your garment and receive help with problems, call my office, 823-2343. If there is enough interest, I would be glad to schedule a workshop on two or three days that would be convenient for the majority of those interested. There will be no cost.

Let me know if I can help you with questions on working with this fabric or any other.

TIME-SAVING SHORTCUTS

TRASH COMPACTORS

Disposing of household trash has always been a messy, smelly, arduous and often irritating task... stuffing and cramming, lifting and hauling... and then picking up the inevitable litter in the front yard. When you think about it, it all adds up to a considerable amount of time... time that can be spent in better ways.

According to home economists from Whirlpool Corporation, a trash compactor can make the job a lot easier and faster. It helps take the trash straight from the kitchen to the curb, with no stops in-between. No muss, no fuss... and no mess.

This hard-working appliance takes care of a week's worth of trash for a family of four by compacting trash to about one-fourth its original bulk. Only 15 inches wide and countertop high, it comes in both built-in and freestanding designs. Some models even feature a touch-toe bar drawer opening so that when your hands are full, you just press the toe bar and the drawer slides open to let you simply drop in the trash.

Along with the convenience it offers, it is also extremely energy efficient, using only about 8 kilowatt hours a year for an annual cost of about 25¢.

New WTU Rates Receive Approval

New rates for West Texas Utilities Company's retail customers have received final approval of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, and are now in effect.

The rates are designed to provide an annual revenue increase of $11.97 million. The company, in its rate request filed last June 10, had asked for $26.5 million.

Although the change means a 5.2 percent increase in total retail rates, the current effect will be a decrease for customers who have been paying temporary rates the past 2 1/2 months. WTU had started collecting interim rates, as allowed by law, on October 22 from all customers except those in 30 towns whose cases had been appealed to the PUC.

Because the final rates approved by the PUC are lower than the temporary rates, WTU will refund the difference plus interest. This will be done by crediting customer bills and should be accomplished during February and March.

Cash refunds will be mailed to customers who have moved off WTU lines or transferred to towns where the interim rates were not in effect. These checks will be sent to the customer's last known address.

If these customers have not received refunds by April 1, they should contact their former local WTU office.

Amount of refunds will vary according to the size of the customer bills. For example, for a customer using 1,000 kilowatt-hours of electricity a month, the difference would be $4.34. At this rate, his refund for the entire period would amount to about $12.

Refunds will be made to all customers served by WTU during the period from October 22 to January 6, except those who live in the city limits of the following towns: Alpine, Aspermont, Balmorhea, Bronte, Clyde, Cross Plains, Dodson, Estelline, Hawley, Iraan, Jayton, Junction, Lawn, Lueders, Marfa, Memphis, Menard, Merkel, Miles, Presidio, Putnam, Quitaque, Rankin, Santa Anna, Shamrock, Sonora, Sterling City, Turkey, Tuscola and Valentine.

Nine of the rate changes apply in the City of Vernon, where WTU's rates are kept the same as those of the city's municipal system and already are higher than those in the remainder of the system.

Miss Judy Barrett honored her brother, Danny, with a birthday dinner last Friday evening. Those present for homemade pizza were the honoree, Danny, and guests, Johnny and Teresa Griffin and Miller and Eloise Walker, and the host, and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glynn Barrett.

Lottie Owens accompanied her sister, Ollie McMinn of Silverton, to Canyon to visit the Melvin Watkins Sunday. Miss Anita Watkins of Amarillo was there for lunch, and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Shoemaker and boys joined them in the afternoon for a visit.

Mrs. McMinn hit the snow at Happy and didn't have any trouble until turning off the access road at Royal Used Cars and hit a streak of ice and the car turned completely around. Returning home, the snow had melted and no trouble was had by the ladies.

Mrs. Gerald Lane took her father, Claude Spivey, to Wichita Falls Wednesday, January 11, to visit his sister who was in the hospital. They also visited her husband who had suffered a heart attack the night before and had been hospitalized in the same hospital.
