Turkey Residents Warned of Nitrate In Water-Advised to Protect Infants

The Texas Natural Resource Commission has tested Turkey water samples, and found that Nitrate/Nitrite is 13.40 mg. This is a high enough level to cause concern among parents of very young infants

The Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission (TNRCC) sets drinking water standards and has determined that nitrate poses an acute health concern at certain levels of exposure. Nitrate is used in fertilizer and is found in sewage and wastes from human and/or farm animals and generally get into drinking water from those activities. Excessive levels of nitrate in drinking water have caused serious illness and sometimes death in infants under six months of age. The serious illness in infants is caused because nitrate is converted to Nitrite in the body Nitrite interferes with the oxygen carrying capacity of the child's blood. This isan acute disease in that symptoms can develop rapidly in infants. In most cases, health deteriorates over a period of days.

Symptoms include shortness of breath and blueness of the skin. Clearly, expert medical advice should be sought immediately if these symptoms occur.

Letters have been sent out to notify Turkey residents of the results of the nitrate test, to encourage parents andother responsible parties to provide infants with an alternate source of drinking water. Local and State health authorities are the best source for information concerning alternate sources of drinking water for TNRCC has set the drinking water standard at 10 parts per million (ppm) for nitrate to protect against the risk of these advers effects. It has also set a drinking water standard for nitrite at 1ppm. To allow for the fact that the toxicity of nitrate and nitrite are additive, TNRCC has also established a standard for the sum of nitrate and nitrite at 10 ppm. Drinking water that meets the TNRCC standard is associated with little to none of this risk and is considered safe with respect to nitrate,

Caprock Public Library Receives Grant

A letter from Mrs. Laura Bush who is the Chair of the Inaugural Endowment Fund ommittee, informed Caprock Public Library that it was receipient of a $3,000 grant.

The fund from which the rant was awarded was established by the legislature with money raised in excess of expenses for the 1995 Inauguration of Governor George W. Bush and Lieutenant Governor Bob Bullock.

The committee, composed of Mrs. Jan Bullock, Mrs. Nelda Laney, Mr. John Nau, chair of the Texas Historical Commission and Mrs. Laura Bush submitted and reviewed projects for funding. The legislation specified that monies from the fund might be used for grants in support of Texas public libraries. Caprock Public was one of the rural libraries in Texas which received the

Museum Valley FFA members Attend 1997 Houston Livestock Show

Twenty Valley FFA Members On Saturday, March 8th the and sixteen adults traveled to Turkey Museum Committee will Brenham for the hog sift, and to Houston for the rest of the livestock show. The Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo is the world's largest livestock exhibi-

You may purchase your tick- Zack Burson Show Champion At Houston

On February 25, 1997, Judge Steve Nichols, a hog producer from Indiana chose Zack Burson's Middle Weight Hamp hog named One Step as the Reserve Breed Champion of the 1997 Junior Market Barrow Show which sold for $8,500. Zack a fourth grader from Silverton, Texas is the son of Bryan and Lana Burson. He is the grandson of James and Wilda Fuston of Turkey and Mary Tom Burson of Silverton.

Judge Nichols has been judging livestock shows for 20 years. Judge Nichols commented the the first thing he looked for in a hog is shape of the top, then shape through the center of the ham. Judge Nichols said that Burson's barrow had tremendous body conformation, good production and excellent muscle expression.

"I have anticipated judging Houston for a long time," Nichols said. "It is the biggest show in the country, and it's everything I expected and more.

"I may not remember the hogs, but I'll remember the kids, and how good their attitudes were at the show.

Nichols said he had judged a lot of shows all over the country but he has never seen the quality of hogs and kids that he saw in Houston.

The Houston Livestock Show provides a unique learning forum for thousands of young FFA and 4-H exhibitors. The show annually benefits students across the state of Texas through scholarships, research projects, awards and other educational endeavors.

The stock show annually commits more than $4 million to Texas students across the state There are more than 11,000 volunteers that donate their time and services to produce a quality event each year.

Valley FFA members that showed hogs at Houston had to first make it through the two sifts at Brenham. There were 3,900 hogs at Brenham and only 660 were allowed to go on to Houston.

Valley FFA students that participated in the Steer Show this year were Jarret Pigg, Briana Sperry and Jamie Pigg.

Good Guys and Gals Award

by Louis Randell On Valentine Day, four young people came to our house and gave me beautiful home-made Valentines. I was puzzled as to why they were bringing me Valentines. bringing me Valentines. Besides the Valentine greeting, the cards read "God Bless You" and "Thank You For Serving Our Country."

We found out they were delivering these to all the Veterans in Turkey. I think these young people from the First Baptist Church, Cassie and Johathan Farley, Dalton Reynolds and Krystal Clinton deserve the "Good Guys and Gals award. Also, Kathy Far-ley deserves thanks for driving them to the Veteran's homes. What a nice thing for them to

In the old "crank telephone" days you always got at least one person to speak to you, and if the conversation lasted several minutes you had everyone on the line to visit with.

When you rang a number and no one was home, a neighbor answered and told you where your party was located. There was no need to listen to goofy machine messages and beeps

In the past, if the phone went dead, you saddled your horse, tied on some extra telephone wire and within the hour your phone was working. Today, when our phone quits, we have to drive to town, dial San Angelo, push twenty buttons listen to a weird tune, wait patiently, finally tell our story, answer lots of questions and in a day or two, if you are lucky, your phone will be fixed at exactly 12:03 p.m.

Why do we really need a private line? Grandma Trew used to say, "Don't fuss about eavesdroppers. We are Christians, obeying the Ten Commandments, we have nothing to hide, and they are our friends and neighbors.

Strange as it may seem, we had a good 911 emergency system. If you got hurt, had a fire, or needed help quickly, just crank out a long continuous ring. When you let up the operator and everyone else on the line would be ready to help you.

You could save a lot of money on invitations and mailing. Just let the word slip and everyone on the line would be at the party or

The price back then was OK too, as our phone bill was about $4.00 most months. And the most wonderful part of all no one ever called up wanting us to change service.

THINGS SEEN OR HEARD

by Ann Coker While Janice Russell and I were in Plainview last Friday, we decided to eat at Furrs. As we were carrying our trays in we saw the Valley Boys Basketball Team and their coaches enjoying their lunch. They were on their way to Levelland. Such a nice June Montgomery were doing some shopping in Plainview.

We ate lunch last Sunday at the Line Shack in Memphis and visited with the owner, Lavon Gafford. Lavon reported his last medical check-up was great, no sign of can-

While there Imogene (Melton)
Molloy and her mother, Lois Melton, came in to eat. Lois was a patient in the hospital but was able to leave to eat lunch with her daughter. The joys of country living--we were serenaded last Monday night by a pack of coyotes--sounded quite

The Fire Department was quite busy on Monday because of people burning off their yards. The Fire Boys were called to help control a fire at the Green's house behind Stacy Price's house.

Later they were called again to the Charles Daniel's home to another yard fire.

Keith and Bettie Green spent last week-end in Levelland with Cathryn and Elgin Conner. They also at tended the Valley basketball game

We were happy to hear that Coach Kenny Chandler's boys basketball team from Sweetwater will be playing at Austin for state.

Visiting with her parents, Gene and Fredia Fuston last week-end was Kacey Fuston. Kacey is a student at Texas Tech.

I enjoyed a phone call from Bar-para Eudy last week. Barbara and Jay are enjoying their retirement in Levelland. Jay has some abnormalities in his arteries and is on heart medication. Their oldest son, Steve and family live in Kalispell, Montana and their daughter is a patient at Mayo Clinic with Crohns disease. Their son, Scott and family live in Florida and Jay and Barbara spent some time there when their

Thanks again and bless you all, Viola Calvert 38 1tp

I want to thank all the EMT's who came to my 911 call last Thursday night and for Don, Steve, Jimmy and Travis for taking me to the Lockney hospital.

Thanks so much because of the bad weather we were experiencing at that time.

Folks, we have some of the nicest men in this town to be willing to sacrifice their time and sleep in such wretched weather to help another person in time of distress.

I shall always be grateful for the help you gave me.

THE TURKEY WHO FLEW IN FOR DINNER A Happy Depression Story

Recent publicity about the Quitaque Trail celebration featuring two guineas who each had a $100 bill fastened to one leg to be pushed out of an airplane for some lucky person caused me to ask myself: "Quitaque can have a guinea story, why can't Plainview and area have a turkey story?"

Here it is! Can you handle another Great Depression story?
In about 1938 my husband and I and our two sons lived in Muleshoe, Bailey County. The weekly Muleshoe Journal had been ballyhooing a merchandising project in which six live turkeys were to be released from an airplane to what was hoped lots of prospective catchers

I read about it and knew that with two toddlers I wouldn't have a chance to catch a live turkey. I vasn't on the track team back in PHS anyway.
On the morning of the Muleshoe turkey pitch, Earl and the boys were in the chicken pens feeding chick-ens and as I heard the airplane overhead, Ilooked out the back door.

I saw a large fowl or bird, outside the plane. We were more than a mile from the proposed dispersal point and I thought: "No, this can't be a turkey!"

I continued to watch the bird's progress, scarcely daring the boys he would land in our pen! Will he! Can he! Yes! Yes, he can and he will and he has!

A few feet in front of Earl and Louise, a surprised turkey landed and looked his situation over. He wasn't any more surprised than we

What was he thinking? Maybe he remembered his mama's words: Tom with your adventuresome personality, you are going to wind up somewhere, sometime, somehow into something you can't get out of."

Maybe he hummed a few bars of "Mamma Tried." I've gotten carried away--this was before Haggard's day.

I asked myself today what was I thinking? "Manna from Heaven?" I don't think so. I think I took one look and said: "Hello Thanksgiving

StateWide Screening Program Offered

The Legislature passed a law in 1985 that requires all sixth and ninth grade students to be screened for spinal deformities. Early detection of abnormal spinal curvature can prevent serious health problems.

This is a problem that may begin during the early adolescent years (from 10-14 years of age), with an estimated 1 in 10 adolescents having some degree of abnormal curva-ture. Curves that are detected early may only require periodic observa-tion by a specialist.

Moderate curves may require the wearing of a brace, which is usually supervised by an orthopedic spe-cialist. In most cases, the need for major surgery for this deformity can be eliminated through early detec-

To that point in our married life we had always had thanksgiving dinner with my dad's sister Minnie Tipton and her husband, Dow. She raised turkeys for spending money. So Aunt Minnie always baked a turkey, made cornbread dressing and assorted aunts, uncles, cousins and a grandma fixed the rest and we had a feast.
Suddenly I saw a chance for the Earl Hickses to have their own baked turkey and fattened this dude up. This was before fat was a no-no. At the proper time, Earl, who was raised on his grandparents' farm in Floyd County, knew how to kill and dress this bird. He handed it to me with a "you're on your own" look.

I'd never baked a turkey before but I had watched. I baked him a nice and golden brown and prepared the traditional dishes and of course, the pumpkin pie. A feast!

Maybe you'd have had to live in those days to properly appreciate my pride.

I related this story once in the hearing of our son Jim. He said, "Mama, this is so unreal, even weird, nobody will believe it!" Frankly, I could see he didn't!

OK Jim, I saw him land. Dad killed and dressed him. I baked him and you helped eat him!

Surprise Birthday Dinner For Leap Year "Child"

Mrs. Luke Lane was honored with surprise birthday dinner Sunday, February 29, when she celebrated her 11th birthday. This was quite an occasion for Mrs. Lane for it is not every year she celebrates a birthday. The dinner was given in the home of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer

Chicken and dressing, boiled ham, salads, vegetables, pies, coffee and a big birthday cake with 11 candles was served to Mr. and Mrs. Luke Lane and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson and Gary, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Smith of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Smith Guest and Shelia, Mrs. Albert Lacy, Mrs. Betty Wynn of Memphis and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Burl Pierce has purchased the Pinkerton farm located south of town on Turkey creek from Mrs. Eva Pinkerton of Plainview. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pinkerton who have been living there are moving to Plainview.

Miss Gloria Cagle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Cagle of Flomot, who has been ill the past two weeks, has recovered and is now back in business college at Lubbock.~~~ Mrs. Ernest Young of Memphis was a guest of Mrs. Lewis Eudy Sunday.~

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Gilmore visited with Mr. and Mrs. Preston Mosley of Flomot Sunday night.~

When planting a young tree, pick a day in the appropriate season that is cool, overcast and windless. Your tree will have a better chance of surviving.

A kennel should be at least two times the length of the dog you are building it for. Measure the dog from its nose to the tip of its tail.
