VALLEY TEACHER ATTENDS MOTOR WORKSHOP—Jon Davidson (left), vocational agriculture teacher at Valley High School, receives a certificate of completion of an "Electric Motors in Agriculture" workshop from Seth Thomason, manager of agricultural and industrial power of Southwestern Public Service Company (SPS). The workshop was held at West Texas State University in Canyon August 14-15. It was sponsored by SPS, Texas-New Mexico Power Company, and the university. Participants from throughout the region learned about electric motor characteristics, repair, maintenance and safety.

Leaders Announced in Local Fishing Contest

The Tribune was provided with a list of the leaders in the current fishing contest this week.

A rundown was also provided on some of the leaders in recent weeks.

The leader in the bass division is Calvin Jobe of Kress with his 7 lb. bass. The first leader was Joey Barefield with a 3 lb. 2 oz. catch at Lake Theo. Rex Harmon then took over the lead with his 5 1/2 lb. bass from Dry Creek, until Jobe registered his 7 lb. bass.

The current leader in the crappie division is Max Meyer with his 2 1/4 lb. crappie caught at Bell's Ranch. Earlier David Brunson's 1 lb. 13 oz. crappie from Graham's Lake had led the contest for eight weeks.

The largest perch has been caught at Cottonwood Lake by Angus Davis, it weighing 1 lb. 4 ozs. Ronald Clay was the initial leader in this category with a 1 lb. 1 oz. perch taken from Birdwell's lake.

There is still no official entry in the catfish division. Truman Merrell brought in a 12 lb. 8 oz. cat from Graham's, but it had been caught on a drop line and was ineligible, for all catches must either be with poles or rod and reels.

Receives Degree

Elisa Ann Ross has received a master of science degree in library science from North Texas State University in Denton, Texas.

Those attending the graduation ceremonies held on Saturday, August 16, were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ross of Flomot; aunt, Mrs. Ruth Williams of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Ross, Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Macip and daughter, Desirae, Denton; Mr. Bryan Westerman, Colleyville.

Elisa is the granddaughter of Mrs. Hoyte Paschal of Olton.

Nice Rains Fall On Quitaque Area

After the 100° and above weather we have had in the area, the moist, cool air Monday morning was very pleasant. The editor was pressured so much last week that we didn't get a story into the newspaper about the wonderful rain that Quitaque and the surrounding area received on Wednesday, August 13, when 2 1/4 inches fell on Quitaque proper and similar amounts around which was badly needed. The area below the caprock had a good underground moisture due to the sandy land holding moisture better than the porous land on the plains.

The crops all around that survived the hot, dry weather look fine and there is going to be another bumper cotton harvest if an early frost and freeze doesn't come. Some of the crops, especially the dryland, was lost, the grain sorghums and probably some cotton, but overall now the crops look good. A man stated after the good rain that it was "a million dollar rain."

It is cloudy and cool as we go to press with a possibility of more rain.

Funds Provided for Park Operation

In recent days there has been some speculation as to whether the current budget crisis would temporarily close some of the state parks across Texas, and Caprock Canyons State Park had been listed as one of the parks that might be affected.

In a communication from State Representative Foster Whaley, a letter was enclosed from Charles D. Travis, Executive Director of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department to State Representative Edmund Kuempel. Permission was given by him for release of his letter for distribution.

The letter of Mr. Travis indicates the House of Representatives has voted to include the necessary funds for ordinary state park operation in 1987, and that there will NOT be any closing of state parks made.

A copy of the letter received by Representative Whaley is as follows:

Dear Rep. Kuempel:

The general appropriations bill that was passed by the House of Representatives for the 1987 fiscal year included a general revenue funding reduction of $2,405,000 and a rider provision that provides the Department the necessary flexibility to make the $2,405,000 reduction.

House Bill 81, as passed out of the House Appropriations Committee, eliminates the fiscal year 1987 cigarette tax allocation to the local park fund. Although this action will affect state park acquisition and development and the funding of local park projects during the 1987 fiscal year, it will not have an effect on state park operations.

Therefore, under the provisions of the general appropriations bill that was passed by the House of Representatives and House Bill 81 that was passed out of the House Appropriations Committee, the Department will NOT close any state parks.

Please let me know if I can provide any additional information.

Sincerely,
Charles D. Travis

A Trip to Remember
by Zelda Leeper

We left Quitaque headed for Cantral Island, New York. What a fantastic trip, but we were glad to get home again, too. We left here, we felt quite trepidation because Scott, had just arrived after a stint with the stationed in Germany.

On our entire trip, we through parts of states, Oklahoma, Tennessee, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, New York, Washington, Maryland, North Carolina, Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi and Louisiana, course, Texas.

One of the places visited was Memphis, Tennessee. Ronda and I were very ed in Graceland, the Elvis Presley. If anyone ever has been, interested in Elvis, this is a "must." his gold and platinum his costumes, his mon Cadillac, his "jungle-roo" many, many other memorabilia. Of course, area of interest was his place. Even though the many people there at there was a "hushed" quietness at his graves fortunately, this trip land was not Wilburn's thing to do."

Another city we v Tennessee was Nashville didn't have a lot of time opted for a tour of stars the city recording studio Ryman Auditorium, which old "Grand Ole Opry." some time at the Grand Hotel. This is one beautiful with a huge atrium with two waterfalls, many plants and secluded walk.

The drive was beautiful especially, as we drove Great Smokey Mountain haze seemed to hang much like smoke would.

Now, New York City my idea of a place to alone to live! I've never erred so many rude people! Driving in New York (downtown, no less) is a if one rolled down the and stuck out a hand probably would stick into someone's mouth. But, this wasn't as bad tunnels. These are main that are built UNDER Hudson River; I really these.

There are, also, many interesting things in New York. On Long Island was very able. We spent time at Point on the beach of the Ocean. It was so calm and there with the salt water ing on everyone. The made it very enjoyable the nudie beach! On the spot where we played, and sat on the beach, white shark was killed before we were there.

A Trip to Remember

by Zelda Leeper

We left Quitaque July 18, headed for Central Islip, Long Island, New York. We had a fantastic trip, but were glad to get home again, too. When we left here, we felt quite a bit of trepidation because our son, Scott, had just arrived home after a stint with Uncle Sam stationed in Germany.

On our entire trip, we drove through parts of seventeen states, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Tennessee, West Virginia, Virginia, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Washington, D. C., Maryland, North Carolina, South Carolina, Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi and Louisiana, and, of course, Texas.

One of the places that we visited was Memphis, Tennessee. Ronda and I were very interested in Graceland, the home of Elvis Presley. If anyone is, or ever has been, interested in Elvis, this is a "must." We saw his gold and platinum records, his costumes, his mom's pink Cadillac, his "jungle-room", and many, many other items of memorabilia. Of course, one main area of interest was his burial place. Even though there were many people there at the time, there was a "hushed" feeling of quietness at his gravesite. (Unfortunately, this trip to Graceland was not Wilburn's "favorite thing to do.")

Another city we visited in Tennessee was Nashville. We didn't have a lot of time, so we opted for a tour of stars' homes, the city recording studios, and Ryman Auditorium, which is the old "Grand Ole Opry." We spent some time at the Grand Ole Opry Hotel. This is one beautiful place with a huge atrium complete with two waterfalls, magnificent plants and secluded walkways.

The drive was breathtaking, especially, as we drove into the Great Smokey Mountains. A haze seemed to hang over us much like smoke would.

Now, New York City is NOT my idea of a place to visit, let alone to live! I've never encountered so many rude people in my life! Driving in New York City (downtown, no less) is a travesty! If one rolled down the window, and stuck out a hand, one probably would stick a finger into someone's mouth or nose. But, this wasn't as bad as the tunnels. These are main streets that are built UNDER the Hudson River; I really hated these.

There are, also, many interesting things in New York. Our stay on Long Island was very enjoyable. We spent time at Montage Point on the beach of the Atlantic Ocean. It was so calm and serene there with the salt water spraying on everyone. The serenity made it very enjoyable—even the nudie beach! On the very spot where we played, walked and sat on the beach, a large white shark was killed the week before we were there.

Another point of interest on Long Island is the Teddy Roosevelt home. It is such a beautiful old house—still has his trophy heads, ivory tusks, etc. intact.

Because we wanted to see the Statue of Liberty, we drove our car onto the Staten Island Ferry, and rode over to Staten Island. The Statue is really a beautiful greenish-blue lady, and knowing for what she stands, makes her even more beautiful.

When we left New York, we went to Washington, D. C. We really needed a week there in order to see everything. We took a tour bus and saw the White House, the Capitol Building, Washington Monument, Lincoln Memorial, Jefferson Memorial, the Vietnam Memorial, the Smithsonian, Union Station, and many other sights too numerous to mention.

At Durham, North Carolina, we visited a place called Bennett Place. There were many old, authentic buildings at Bennett Place, where in 1865 Confederate Joseph Johnston surrendered to Union General William T. Sherman, thus ending the Civil War in the Carolinas, Georgia and Florida.

Of course, about this time,

Wilburn was in "hog's heaven" because of all the "Old Glory" there was to view.

While we were in Atlanta, Georgia, we went to the Cyclorama at Grant Park. This was one of the most impressive things I saw. The Cyclorama houses the world's largest painting. It deals with the last remnant of the Civil War. The painting, which was done by many German artists, has been established in a huge round room. Diorama figures have been added to make this more impressive. The viewers are seated on chairs on a moving apparatus which circumnavigates this huge room while the story of Atlanta is told—very impressive!

One other battle area that we toured was Vicksburg, Mississippi. Here we saw many beautiful monuments, old homes and points of interest.

These are but a few of the many interesting things that we saw. Had I written down everything, I'd have written a book.

Beautiful trees, magnificent mountains, majestic oceans, rushing rivers, Empire State Building—all these were beautiful and something to be remembered always, but I'll take prairies, little hills, and our valley because it is God's Country—the most beautiful and lasting!!

(The editor wants to thank Mrs. Leeper for a beautiful story, well written, and very interesting. Thank you, Zelda, for sharing this vacation trip with us.)

Americans consume about 40 billion pounds of meat a year.

Do animals play games? National Wildlife magazine reports that animals apparently have more fun than we originally thought. Chimpanzee juveniles, like human children, play follow the leader, hide-and-seek, king of the hill, and tug-o-war. Young right whales playfully butt against their mother and slide off their brows, and river otters repeatedly slide down stream-banks.

A group of roebucks is called a bevy according to International Wildlife magazine. The term may stem from the Old French beverage—a drinking session, since roes are frequently seen together at a watering place. Speaking of water, a group of ducks is called a paddling when on water, but on land or in the air they're simply a flock.

Experiment Station Field Day To Be Held September 9

The 77th annual field day of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock/Half-way will be Tuesday, September 9, at the research center north of Lubbock International Airport (FM 1294 just east of I-27 at the Shallowater exit).

Principal stops on the tour of the center will feature research to enhance cotton fiber and reduce trash in lint; studies on the effects of environmental conditions upon cotton growth and productivity; use of remote sensing to monitor crop growth and stress; research on wine and table grapes suitable to the South Plains; weed and insect control, and the "systems" approach to farming to reduce production costs and increase net returns.

Public tours will begin at 1:00 p.m. However, you are invited to participate in a special briefing tour at 9:30 a.m., which will give you an opportunity to gather information and obtain interviews with research scientists before the crowd arrives and the schedule becomes as hectic as usual. It is hoped that this advance tour will be helpful to you.

As customary, Joe Bryant, Area Communications Specialist, will be on hand throughout the day and will assist you in any way possible.

The label "chicken" is usually pinned on non-aggressive people, but National Wildlife magazine reports that real chickens can be aggressive and even violent. A good example is the chicken's "pecking order." The strongest hens shower blows on the lesser ones, winning priority over feed, dusting areas and roosts.

OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO MEDICARE PATIENTS

In an effort to help Medicare patients understand their rights to quality care in the Nation's hospitals, a nationwide effort is being made to provide them with more information about hospital discharges and their right to appeal discharge decisions. The greater awareness is expected to reduce instances of so called "quicker and sicker" discharges and the public perception of declining quality of hospital care for Medicare patients.

Under the plan, a message explaining patients' rights and appeal procedures will be provided to all of the more than nine million Medicare patients admitted each year to hospitals which are reimbursed under Medicare's prospective payment system. This new system has resulted in the need for greater patient awareness of appeal rights under the Medicare program. Under the prospective payment system, which went into effect in October 1983, hospital services for Medicare patients are reimbursed according to pre-set rates, which vary according to diagnosis. The rates reflect average costs of treating specific conditions.

As the "message from Medicare" explains, hospitals must inform Medicare patients 48 hours in advance of a hospital-initiated discharge.

If patients feel they are being asked to leave the hospital prematurely, they or their authorized representative should file an appeal by telephone or in writing with the peer review organization (PRO), a physician organization under contract with Medicare to review the hospital treatment of Medicare patients. The PRO will review the case in question and decide within three working days after receiving the appeal. If the decision supports the need for continued hospitalization, the patient can remain in the hospital under Medicare payment until the next discharge decision point is reached.

If the PRO decides that Medicare payment is no longer appropriate, the patient becomes liable for all hospital costs starting the third day after receiving the written discharge notice. The name, address and telephone number of the PRO servicing that hospital will be listed on the written message.

Anyone who needs more information on this process should come by the office at 1401-B West 5th Street, or call 293-9623.

Poisons spilling into wetlands from farms and other surrounding areas have contaminated the water at more than a fourth of the 428 National Wildlife Refuges reports National Wildlife magazine. These toxic substances have poisoned thousands of birds in California alone.

Feelin' blue? Well if you're a satin bowerbird, that means you're feeling great. Ranger Rick magazine reports that the dove-size Australian bird's favorite color is blue. Male bowerbirds decorate their nests with blue objects to impress female bowerbirds. This means gathering blue feathers, flowers, plastic toys, pens, toothbrushes, and any other blue objects that the bowerbird finds attractive.

Hall Countians voted 88 percent in favor of the creation of the Hall County Hospital District, as the final vote tabulation was 1006 votes in favor of and 137 votes against.

The election, held last Saturday, saw all the voting boxes except one voting in favor of the creation of a hospital district.

The Precinct 4, Box 4, at Turkey voted 78 against and 21 for the hospital district while Precinct 1, Box 1 voted 203 for and 8 against, Prec. 2 Box 2 Lakeview 56 for, 5 against, Prec. 2 Box 5 Memphis 167 for, 4 against, Prec. 3, Box 3 Estelline 56 for, 5 against, Prec. 3, Box 6 Memphis, 210 for, 7 against, and Prec. 4, Box 7, Memphis 125 for, 3 against. Absentee carried 167 for and 27 against.

Hall County Judge James Chappell said Wednesday that the next step in the creation of a Hall County Hospital District will be the action of the Texas Legislature which will not go into session until next January.

Until the Texas Legislature officially creates the Hall County Hospital District, Judge Chappell said the Hall County Commissioners Court will officially act as the Hospital Board.

New Arrival

Richard and Jo Beth Edwards of Olton are the proud parents of a daughter, Kimberly Beth, born Saturday, August 16, 1986 at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock at 4:43 a.m. The young lady weighed 6 lbs. 14 ozs. and measured 20 inches.

She has two "big brothers," Chris who is nine years old and Kevin who is five.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Stewart McCracken and Mrs. Barbara Edwards, all of Tulia.

Great-grandmothers are Mrs.

Estelle Davidson and Mrs. Floye McCracken, both of Quitaque.

Laura Stewart, owner and operator of Laura's Beauty Shop, is studying advanced techniques in hair cutting and styling at Jessie Lee's Beauty School in Lubbock.

Mrs. Jack Bradley of Dalhart came to Quitaque Thursday and spent the night with his sister, Mrs. Dick Taylor and husband. On Friday, they drove to Lockney and visited their mother, Mrs. J. T. Bradley, then they drove to Anson where they visited the C. C. Moss and J. C. Moss families. They were met there by Mrs. Leslie Beard and they report a very good visit over the weekend.

For some members of the animal kingdom, good acting can mean the difference between life or death, reports National Wildlife magazine. For example, the bombardier beetle, which lives in the Arizona desert, fights off predators by spraying an irritant from its abdomen while doing a headstand. A related beetle, which has no poison but good acting skills, manages to scare off enemies by imitating the same headstand position.

On July 31, 1964, Alvin Parker made the longest single-seat glider flight on record: 644 miles.

Packaging People

Know why we build skyscrapers? In order to have many more people working in a limited area. We package people vertically!

Among the skyscrapers our photographer has discovered a church. It too has a vertical element — a steeple pointing heavenward.

Church architecture with its traditional spires expresses our beliefs. People today are packaged too tightly. Pressure, custom, conformity crowd in upon our souls. Christ teaches that every person is important . . . each one of us is loved by our Lord.

As we worship God each week side by side, our beliefs point us heavenward.

When Souls Communicate

When souls communicate — it's like prayer. There may never be a word spoken . . . just a sigh, a wish, a hope, a longing. A child trying to express some simple feeling to its Mother. Mother trying to express her devotion to her child.

All prayer is founded on the idea that God loves us and cares about the things that affect us. Jesus taught us to pray "Our Father . . ." He wanted men to see God's love on the parental level.

When you feel the need to pray, reach out with your heart to God. You may not be able to find words. Yet He hears, He understands those deep feelings we find hard to express.

In church our efforts to communicate with Him are strengthened by the fact that many others are praying with us. They need Him just as much as we do. And we need their longings, their hopes and wishes and feelings to help us express our own. Join us in prayer at your local church or synagogue.

I want to thank all my family and friends who remembered me with cards, flowers, your prayers, and so many other ways while I was in the hospital and since I have been home. May God bless each one of you.

His name ain't on no sign boards,
In no park his statue stands,
All his life he farmed the land,
You could tell it by his hands.
The wealth he left behind him,
Wouldn't load a sardine can,
But, I go to God and thank Him,
For giving me my ole man.

I would like to say "thank you" to everyone who remembered me in any way while I was in the hospital and since my return home. The cards, flowers and food were all appreciated so much, but your prayers helped the most.
Thanks again,
Vernell Cotten

PUBLIC NOTICE

Implementation of the Indigent Health Care and Treatment Act (SB-1) will take place September 1, 1986. On that date, counties without public hospitals will begin operation of health care programs for county residents governed by minimum standards of eligibility and services established under SB-1 and rules and regulations promulgated by the Texas Department of Human Services. Application procedures and documentation requirements will be publicly displayed on the County Court-house bulletin board, and will be posted there for all county residents' information. This program will be administered through the County Judge's office, and any inquiries should be directed there. Any eligible residents may also request assistance in filling out necessary forms for Indigent Health Care, in the County Judge's office.

How did the armadillo cross the river? Well, armadillos can either walk, float or swim across water, reports Ranger Rick magazine. Armadillos can gulp down air and blow up their stomachs and intestines like inner tubes. Then, they float across a river, armor and all. They can also dog paddle, or hold their breath long enough to walk across the bottom of smaller rivers.
