Meet The Candidates In Local City, School Election

Editor's Note: In order for all voters to become better acquainted with the candidates for school board and city council, we have asked each candidate to state his or her ideas and policies. We hope this will help the voter make an informed decision at the polls on Saturday.

We regret that Warren Lee Merrell, running for Quitaque city council, Hubert Price, running for Mayor of the City of Turkey and Rita Guest, Brian Wheeler and Randy Powell, all unopposed could not be reached for interviews.

TURKEY-QUITAQUE I.S.D.

J.M. "Corkey" Garner, running for one full term

First and foremost I believe in academics. I also believe in the technical and professional studies as are related to the students future endeavors and needs.

I believe that with the present tax structure we can offer our children a quality education with no compromising or tax increase.

I'd like to see, as the Governor promised in his campaign a reduction in the "No Pass - No Play" rule from 6 weeks to 3 weeks suspension from extra-curricular activities. This rule as it presently is could, possibly hinder a students capability in obtaining an athletic scholarship, especially in their Senior year.

I strongly believe in the parents participation. There should be good communication between the school board, the teachers, the parents and the students. There should be an "Open Door" policy all around.

I graduated from Quitaque way back when; attended the University of Arizona with a major in Agriculture and am a retired airline Captain. Presently engaged in the farming and cattle business here.

I have two sons in the Valley School, one freshman the other a junior.

Your vote will be greatly appreciated and will be repaid with honesty, integrity and work for the betterment of our Valley School.

Rusty Henson, running for one full term

I am a farmer as well as being a co-owner of Valley Elevator Inc. in Quitaque and Valley Mill and Elevator Inc. in Turkey. My wife, Janice, is a teacher at Valley School where she has been employed for the past two years. We have two sons, Walt, age 8 and Wes, age 4. I'm a member of the First Baptist Church of Quitaque, the Quitaque and Turkey Lions Clubs, and Vice-President of the Briscoe County Soil and Water Conservation District Board.

I am running for a place on the School Board because I feel that what our children learn in school will, to a large extent, determine what they can and will do with the rest of their lives. I believe the emphasis in a school should be on academics, but the school should use every avenue possible to motivate students to not only stay in school until they graduate, but also to be competent in all areas necessary for them to compete with the rest of the world when they are out of school.

I would appreciate your vote in the upcoming election, and, if elected I will always try to be receptive to anyone's comments.

Robin Harmon, running for one full term

I want to serve as a Valley School Trustee for several reasons. First, because I am a parent with two children attending Valley. Second, I want to learn more about the structure of our school system, its needs, problems as well as its accomplishments. Third, I feel that individuals need to understand every aspect of the school system, to include the youngest student as well as faculty members.

I feel I can make a reasonable, responsible contribution to the school system and would consider it a privilege to serve as trustee. I also feel that with the help of fellow board members I can learn and work for the good of our school district.

FFA Competes At State

Members of the Valley FFA Dairy Products and Dairy Cattle Judging teams participated at the state FFA judging contest at Texas A&M University at College Station last Saturday.

Teams included Amy Maupin, Gina Conner, Tina Clay, Andrea Hinojosa, Shadi Mullin and Shane House on the Dairy Products team. This team placed 23rd in a field of 45 teams. These girls and boys have excelled in this contest in tough competition all year.

The Dairy Cattle team, consisting of Warren Merrell, Bengie Hughes, Chad Isbell and Jess Little, placed 40th in a field of 50 teams in this competition. They have also excelled, and will participate again next year.

Thelma Gafford, running for one unexpired term

I feel I have fulfilled my oath as a Trustee, and have enjoyed serving our school district. I've learned a lot about the different aspects of over-seeing a school that only one who has served could possibly know.

To be a good member of the board, one must always be looking at guidelines, regulations, policies, and laws for answers to what some may say is a simple yes or no question. Your interests and concerns must span from the kindergartners to the seniors to the faculty, and never to just your child's concerns.

I've made a lot of new friends the past 3 years, and probably lost a couple, but that's the case with anyone that puts themselves in the public eye.

I wish to remain on the Board of Trustees at Valley because I feel I can still work (and learn) for the good of the district.

I'm the wife of Lavon Gafford and the mother of two, Chad and Holly.

Steve Ulrey, running for one unexpired term

If you elect me to serve as one of the trustees of your interests on the Turkey-Quitaque I.S.D. Board, I will work diligently and faithfully to do so. I welcome the challenge of seeing that our children are provided the best possible education in a responsible way. I will work with other board members, administrators, faculty and staff, as well as the parents and tax payers in this school district, toward that end.

My wife, Julie, and I have three children enrolled in Valley, - kindergarten, 4th grade, and 7th grade. I'm Pastor of Quitaque-Turkey United Methodist Churches. I have a B.S. in Industrial Technology from Southern Illinois University, 9 years with General Tire and Rubber Co. in Production Control. I am attending Perkins School of Theology, SMU and I'm in my 5th year of ministry.

QUITAQUE CITY COUNCIL

Elgin Conner, unopposed for Mayor of Quitaque

Elgin Conner is running for the position of Mayor for the City of Quitaque. He states, "Even though I am running unopposed, I would greatly appreciate your vote as ship during a time that is extremely difficult for all rural communities in the Texas Panhandle."

Elgin has been a member of the City Council for the past nine years. He is owner of Conner Insurance Agency and minister for the Church of Christ. He was recently re-elected to serve as chairman of the Briscoe County Appraisal Review Board. Elgin holds a B.S. in Ed. degree from Texas Tech University. He and his wife, Ruth Ann, have three daughters: Gina, Lori and Karyn.

Manuel Cruz, full term, Quitaque City Council

If I'm elected I will try to do my best to serve the people. I would also like to see more involvement in city government from local residents, and participation in city council meetings.

Danny Mayfield, full term, Quitaque City Council

If I am elected to the City Council, I promise to serve to the best of my ability and to help in the future growth and development of our city. I know what it takes to run a business smoothly and could apply that knowledge along with help from other councilmen to the overseeing of our City. I'm open minded and interested to the concerns of other residents and am open to suggestions that would improve the quality of the lives in Quitaque.

Richard Greene, running for Mayor of Turkey

I am 34 years of age, married and a 22 year resident of the City.

I think there needs to be a younger person in office to bring fresh ideas for Turkey. We need more young people to serve in our government today.

My goal is to try to help the town financially, to try to get more business to come in. If elected, the city would be most helpful to new residents, and businesses with water and sewage hook ups, and promote the sale of city lots.

I'd like to see more concern for our elderly, in ways of a volunteer service to check-in on them, or run errands for them.

I would like to wish my opponent as much luck as I will have at the polls on Saturday.

 THE VALLEY TRIBUNE, BOX 478, QUITAQUE, TEXAS 79255

by Thelma Gafford

My daughter and I visited a nearby summer camp recently. It was really nice. The day was set aside for mothers like me, who can't turn loose of our little girls just yet.

Boy, they pegged me just right. I don't care how much fun they'll have, or how many lasting friends they'll make. They are asking me to give up my little girl for five whole days. Forget them, they can have their own little girls, the same way I did. I know the trend... first it's summer camp, then Jr. High, then High School, then gone.

They'll teach them survival, that's great if they grow up to live in the wilderness. And she already knows how to swim, fish, hike, dance, sing, and play games. This is their idea of fun things?? They even have someone to listen to their prayers. I'd be willing to bet they even have a nurse with those cute little Micky Mouse band-aids, in case one of them gets a scratch, or scrapes a knee. A total stranger to meet every little need. Hockey Puck!

I like having my little girl around, even if she did want to go, which I'm sure she wouldn't, I'd be firm. Anyway, I inspected every inch of that camp, while she left me to go running and skipping along. How could they expect these kids to have a good time, without a Jam Box blasting away, or a TV in every corner? I could only guess these people never had kids of their own.

As visiting hours were over, I had to drag my daughter kicking and screaming to the car. I knew I was right, this was no place for a child. In order to calm her down for the trip back home, I had to prove to her I'd already paid for her trip to summer camp A MONTH AGO!

The interim charges of this House Committee include possible reorganization of the structure of county government and the possible abolition of the county treasurer's office.

Editor's Corner

(Editor's Note: The following letter was received by the employees at Caprock Canyon State Park. I think it reflects how we all feel about "our" state park.)

"We were in your park on April 25, 1988, around 7:30 p.m. The gate station was closed so we could not pay our fee or get a copy of your rules and regulations. So we wanted to write to you and send you our fee, and request a copy of your rules and regulations and any other information that we may need in order to be able to use and enjoy your facilities.

We've been to the "Grand Canyon", the "Redwoods in Humboldt National Forest", "The Royal Gorge," "Mesa Verde", "Pike's Peak" to name a few, but I have to say that a drive through your Caprock Canyon was in itself a grand experience. We got such a deep sense of pleasure and gratitude, that this land has been set apart for us to use and enjoy, and it's right here in our beautiful Texas. We've already made plans to spend our vacation there at "Caprock Canyons" and as many days off as we can make it.

Words cannot, truly cannot, express the appreciation and gratitude for all the National and State Parks that are preserved and set aside for the people of this world to enjoy. God did, most assuredly, create all of these things for everyone to enjoy. I am so thankful that our government is preserving these places for us and our future generations to see God's work and enjoy the benefits of it."

Sincerely,
 Mr. and Mrs. Randall Hamilton

Hints for Homemakers

Goof-proof gravies and sauces can be yours in a wink. Melt butter or shortening in a saucepan. Put liquid, flour and seasonings into a blender, cover, and process at lowest speed until mixed. Pour into saucepan and cook until thick.

Many times, an "old reliable" really is the best of its kind. Back by popular demand is a blender first introduced in 1946. This classic two-speed Osterizer blender sports the famous beehive shape with a plated and zinc diecast base, along with many of the same features as the company's current models. The heavy duty glass container features removable stainless steel blades, so thick mixtures come out easily and clean-up is nearly effortless. The flexible vinyl cover has a handy feeder cap so adding ingredients with the motor running is a snap.

Use a rubber spatula when blending heavy mixtures. Turn off the motor, then move the spatula up and down the sides of the container to move the side ingredients to the middle. Remove the spatula, cover and process as usual. For more kitchen-tested hints and recipes, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to: Oster, Dept. HH, 5055 N. Lydell Ave., Milwaukee, WI 53217.

Becky McPherson Announces As DA Write-In Candidate

Please allow me to introduce myself to you. My name is Becky Bybee McPherson and I am running as a write-in candidate for your District Attorney. I was born and raised in Floyd County and my parents, Donnie and Vera Jo Bybee, are also lifelong residents of the area.

I am married to Steve McPherson and we have two sons, Matt and J.W. Steve's parents, Gale and Gay McPherson, are Briscoe county natives who have lived in Floyd county for the past thirty years. Steve farms and ranches with his father.

After Steve and I graduated from Lockney High School, we attended West Texas State University where we received our undergraduate degrees. In 1982, after I was awarded my Doctor of Jurisprudence from Texas Tech School of Law, I entered private practice in Kaufman County, Texas. In January 1985, I became the felony assistant District Attorney for Hale and Swisher counties and have been prosecuting felonies ever since.

In my capacity as assistane District Attorney, I have been involved in the successful prosecution of numerous felonies, some of which are theft, burglary, aggravated assault, sexual assault, aggravated sexual assault, injury to a child, murder and capital murder in which the defendant received the death penalty.

I am also experienced in prosecuting hot checks, juveniles, and Department of Human Service cases. I have worked closely with law enforcement and have taught classes and conducted training seminars for the Hale County Sheriff's office.

I have also had the opportunity as assistant D.A. and as the past president of the Hale County Bar Association, to express my views on prosecution to various groups and schools in Hale and Swisher counties. I would welcome the occasion to share those views with any service organization or group in your county.

I believe in the vigorous but fair prosecution of crimes and I think that the citizens of the county, sitting as jurors, should set the standard of punishment for the defendants who commit crimes in their counties. Thank you for allowing me to get acquainted with you and I hope to meet you in person in the near future.

ALL Beef Producers: May 10th Determines Your Future

In this year of elections, the last thing you need is someone else talking to you about politics or your responsibility to other beef producers. It's a busy time of the year, and you've got your mind on your operation, not on going to town.

But, on Tuesday, May 10th, if you don't stop for a few minutes, go to your County Extension Office and vote, you'll miss the referendum that decides the fate of the Beef Checkoff Program.

Just a couple of years ago, our industry was being beaten up, and we were backing up . . . taking it. But we got our backs up and did something.

We drew a line in the dust. We began to fight back. And you know what . . . it's working. Many people are eating beef more often, and the newspaper headlines read that beef is coming back.

Now, we're not telling you how to vote. That's your business. But, on Tuesday, May 10th, the National Beef Checkoff Program is going to continue, or it's going to stop dead in its tracks.

It's totally up to you. So take a trip to your County Extension Office and vote. You'll be glad you did.

Vote May 10th

Beef Checkoff Referendum at your County Extension Office

Don't let someone else determine your future.

Mrs. Dona Smith Sees Beef Checkoff Program As Beneficial To Producers

Real dollars are making Americans real happy beef is back in style. And that's basically what the beef checkoff program is all about: invested dollars profiting cattle producers with a predictable market that offers opportunity for a reasonable profit.

"The beef checkoff was started by beef producers with a firm goal in mind," says Dona Smith, Chairman of the Briscoe County Steering committee. "We needed to change how consumers perceived beef, its nutrition value, its wholesomeness, and its role in the diet."

"To cattlemen, the checkoff has become an investment in the future that we are beginning to see results from today."

Since the program began in October 1986, its structure has been unchanged. It will continue in the same way if cattlemen vote May 10 to allow the checkoff to continue. That's the date the U.S. Department of Agriculture has set for a producer referendum which will decide the future of the $1 checkoff.

Anyone regardless of their age, who has owned at least one head of cattle between October 1, 1986, and March 31, 1988, may vote at his or her county Extension Service office.

"It is important that you express your opinion on May 10," Smith said. "But make sure you understand what the checkoff is and what it is designed to do before you vote. Your future rests on a complete understanding of where your invested dollars go." "The most important point," Smith said, "is that the beef checkoff is controlled by producers who invest in the program, not by bureaucrats in Washington or an advertising agency in the east." The Beef Board, which is made up of 113 cattle producers, including 14 from Texas, oversees the program. A smaller operating committee, comprised of 20 Beef Board members, decides what checkoff programs are to be funded.

Secondly, states decide where to invest half of each dollar. This aspect of the law allows the Texas Beef Industry Council some leeway for meeting the unique needs of Texas beef consumers. The other 50 cents goes to national programs for research, promotion and education.

Third, a cornerstone of the beef checkoff program is that everyone pays a uniform amount of $1 for each animal sold. The dollar is paid by the seller and remitted by the buyer. All importers pay $1 on all live cattle and the equivalent of $1 on boxed and carcass beef.

This $1 assessment cannot be raised without the consent of Congress. Individual cattlemen would have to present their legislators with an overwhelming mandate in order for the amount to be raised. An additional aspect of the checkoff that allows the program to remain under the control of producers is that a future referendum may be conducted should 10 percent or more of the nation's cattlemen call for another vote.

Only 5 percent of total dollars collected may be used for administration of the beef checkoff program. In the first year of operation, administrative costs averaged only 2.8 percent of total dollars received - just about half of what the checkoff permits.

The Texas Beef Industry Council divides each dollar in the following way:

50 cents goes to the national Beef Board.
10 cents is held in escrow for refunds. (Only about 5 percent of total dollars remitted this year have been refunded.)

2 cents goes for administrative expenses.
6 cents helps monitor collection and gives feedback to cattlemen-investors of checkoff program progress.

(Only 4.5 to 5 cents of the 8 cents allowed for administrative and feedback-collection operations have been spent by the Texas Beef Industry Council in the past year.)
The remaining 32 cents goes to fund state and national beef promotion, research and education programs.

Nationwide, $73 million were collected, of which $5 million came from importers. In Texas, $12.9 million were invested. The 50 cents of each dollar that is invested by the national Beef Board has been used for promotion programs including consumer and health care advertising, public relations, foodservice and retail. Each of these efforts has been right on target in reaching the desired audience.

Take the advertising, which features actor James Garner on national television. These ads have reached 98 percent of the target audience an average of 49 times. Through these ads, consumers have been re-educated about the taste, convenience and popularity of beef.

Health care professionals have learned new facts about beef's nutrition and proper role in the diet. One ad on beef's contribution of iron to the diet outscored all other advertisements in the medical journals in which it ran. Other health professionals have been targeted through seminars. Through a series of these in 14 cities, 80% of the dietitians invited said they had changed their perceptions of beef after attending.

The beef checkoff is making inroads in the media, as well. More than 4,700 articles on the return of beef have appeared in national publications reaching more than 370 million consumers.

Foodservice and retail markets are being affected as well. Steak houses in New York are thriving, and restaurants back home are re-learning the sales potential of traditional beef preparations through the industry's Barbeque Americana kit. "The most telling fact about the program is the large number of consumers who have been reached through checkoff dollars," Smith said.

"Sixty-three percent more people expect to eat beef more frequently this year. Thirty percent more feel that beef is more popular. Twenty four percent more people agreed beef is good for modern lifestyles. And a full 50 percent said their overall feelings about beef have improved."

"These are increases fueled in part, if not all, by checkoff dollars. That's why the checkoff is not only an investment in our future, it's an investment paying dividends today."

It's time to reset your calendar watches to the Month of May and get ready for the weekend local elections such as City Councilmen and School Boards. They are really the only candidates that we know much about anyway, so we should get out and vote for things that affect our local communities. We've heard enough Bush - Dole, etc. VS Dukakis - Jackson, etc. to fill an encyclopedia, yet know very little about any of them. . . at best, none stack up very high in the average person's mind, so let's get out and support the people who are offering themselves, at no pay, to help run our local show!

The Town Loafer says he ran for office one time. . . says he woke up late, and missed the bus!

What we really need to be working on in these small towns and rural areas is something worthwhile for our young folks to come back to, once they finish their schooling and education. . . if we don't, and the present trend continues, all we will have left is cemeteries, and land in the CRP! If that happens, we had just as well turn it back to the Indians. . . they seem to have taken better care of it than we have!

Have you ever seen a lady step up to a pair of scales and weigh without taking her shoes off?

Health experts and scientists tell us that the very best thing in the world for taking care of our teeth is to brush with plain baking soda mixed with a capful of hydrogen peroxide to form a paste, yet we insist on making the tooth-paste and mouth-wash a billion dollar industry. Plain tap water is said to be the ultimate for rinsing out the mouth!

So much for the many many ways we waste our money in search of progress which is inflation where our outgo exceeds our income and our upkeep is our downfall!

In fact, if living conditions don't stop improving, we may run out of humble beginnings, where good people come from to run for public office!

A youngster today has to pass more tests to get into college than his parents did to get out!

Nobody though, is so pessimistic that we can't see the bright side of somebody else's mistakes!

"I'm sorry but I can't come out and play" said the young boy to his friend. "I've got to stay in and help dad with my homework!"

Vacation time is coming up, free from care. Your boss will say when, and your wife where!

The doctor came home to find his basement flooded and called the plumber. The plumber found the trouble and fixed it in five minutes and handed the doctor a bill for $100. "That's outrageous" said the doctor. "I'm a surgeon and I don't make that kind of money." "Neither did I," said the plumber "when I was a surgeon."

And then there was this guy who threw away his wife's girdle and now she's suing him for non-support!

Sign on a wrecking yard gate: "Drive carefully, we're over-stocked!"

The scientist rushed into the control room and announced, "Men, there's women on Mars! We just shot up a communications rocket and got a busy signal!"

That's -30- for this time, remember, nobody goes before his time, unless the boss leaves early!

U.S. Cotton Production Said Best In World

Raleigh, NC-- America's cotton production system is the most efficient in the world. However, fiber is sometimes damaged in the process of cleaning, drying and ginning. According to Dr. William Lalor, senior director of agricultural research at Cotton Incorporated, the way to get longer, stronger, cleaner, more nep-free fiber is to improve current production and processing stages.

"Agricultural research at Cotton Incorporated is a response to what consumers of U. S. Upland cotton are demanding," says Lalor. "And the search for improvements in both production and processing stages is aimed at making U. S. cotton become what mill customers want it to be."

Immunization Clinic Set

There will be an immunization clinic at Silverton Elementary School, Silverton, Texas, on May 19, from 2 to 4 p.m.

Immunization clinics offer vaccines that give protection against several childhood diseases. Protection is offered against polio, diphtheria, lock jaw (tetanus), whooping cough (pertussis), measles, rubella, and mumps.

The Texas Department of Health is charging money to help with the cost of keeping the clinic open. The amount of money charged will be based on family income and size, and the ability to pay.

Lalor says that there are a number of research projects currently under way aimed at finding new ways to protect cotton during processing and preserve fiber length.

For example, in conjunction with scientists at the U. S. Department of Agriculture research lab at New Mexico State, Cotton Incorporated is working to develop a machine that will dry cotton at low temperatures, thereby avoiding over-drying, which weakens fiber and makes it possible for lint cleaners to reduce staple length.

Another machine, also under development, confirms Cotton Incorporated's convictions that significant improvement in length properties can be accomplished during the processing stages.

Based on a ginning principle developed at Texas A&M, the "selective gin" is a revolutionary, gentle way of removing fiber from seed. Lalor says that the fiber removed from seed in this way has less short fibers and more long fibers than cotton ginned on a normal saw gin.

Also under development is a new cleaning machine called the coupled lint cleaner. This machine removes fiber directly from the gin saw and passes it through all the cleaning stages without bat formation, which results in significantly reduced short fiber content.

"The coupled lint cleaner is capable of cleaning cotton more efficiently than traditional lint cleaners, yet the fiber has longer staple and less short fiber," says Lalor. "This is the salient feature of the new cleaner design and the feature that appeals to textile mills."

Cotton Incorporated is also continuing cooperative research with USDA and Texas Tech in Lubbock, Tx, in response to the problem of barkly cotton.

"Cotton growers in stripper harvesting areas frequently suffer significant reductions in grade, price and profitability as a result of the presence of bark in the fiber," says Lalor. "The Barkly Cotton Task Force was formed in response to this problem."

According to Lalor, field experiments are currently being conducted to demonstrate the best available technology for reducing bark content in cotton.

"The list of quality factors on which we have to concentrate is a long one," says Lalor.
