PAPER MONEY'S OLDER THAN YOU THINK! THE FAMOUS TRAVELER, MARCO POLO FOUND THE CHINESE USING IT IN THE YEAR 1273. THEIR PAPER WAS MADE FROM THE BARK OF THE MULBERRY TREE.

IT'S A FACT!

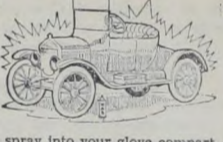

Last year the U. S. Motor Vehicle Bureau registered over 80 million passenger cars, and that number is increasing every year with a total of 114½ million predicted for 1968. Cars need care, and the Aerosol Division, Chemical Specialties Manufacturers' Association, lists dozens of products now packaged in spray form to do the various jobs needed to keep your auto in the best possible running order.

The place to start your car care is under the hood, with an aerosol engine cleaner. A de-rusting spray will loosen nuts and bolts and remove any rust, and a carburetor and choke cleaner will spray away the carbon buildup. You can stop here if you wish, or go on with some of the protective items that help keep the motor and other working parts in condition. A high-heat engine enamel, specially made for cars will make the oldest engine look factory-fresh, and also provide protection against rust and weathering. You can also buy aerosol coating for your battery terminal, fan belt and ignition system which will cut the wear and tear on these parts, saving you some costly repairs and a lot of annoyance.

Now you can turn your attention to protecting and prettifying the outside of the car. Your de-ruster is handy here too, for loosening nuts on the wheels. Has the paint been marred or scraped? You can buy touch-up paint to match almost any U.S.-made car, a lot cheaper than a body-shop paint job. A combination cleaner/wax will save you the time and trouble of scrubbing the car, and for a really high sheen, use your cleaner/wax first and spray over it with plain auto wax. Then spray a chrome protector on your fenders and other metalwork.

An aerosol windshield washer is next — antifreeze additives make this another double-duty product — and it's time for the finishing touches. There are aerosol cleaners for almost every type of upholstery, and a tire cleaner to brighten up those whitewalls. Teflon spray-glide can be helpful in dozens of places — window frames, hood, trunk and door latches, accelerator, brake and clutch pedals and many others. Finally, tuck a car deodorizer spray into your glove compartment and you're ready to roll. Or are you? Did you remember all the aerosol safety products that add the extra plus to your own safe driving? A fire extinguisher is important, and an aerosol tire inflator so easy a woman can use it might be a "lifesaver" for night driving. Winter brings its own problems — and the aerosol industry has solutions to many of them. Do you have trouble starting your engine in cold weather? Spray some starting fluid into the carburetor and listen to it turn over. Defogging and de-icing agents are a must, and the latest aerosol item on the automotive shelves is a traction spray for the tires, to drive yourself out of that snowbank. Aerosols can handle almost all your car care, except perhaps to drive to the service station and fill up the tank. The CSMA gives these tips for proper use: (1) read the label; (2) store away from heat; and (3) keep out of the reach of children.

DESCRIBES TRIP TO NATIONAL FFA CONVENTION

(Eddie Owens returned recently from an expense-paid trip to the National FFA Convention in Kansas, City, Mo. Eddie's Ag Instructor, Elmer Berryhill, ordered him to write a report on his trip. The following is Eddie's story).

I left Quitaque Monday night, October 14, about 7:30. Mr. and Mrs. Berryhill and my parents took me to Claude where I spent the night with the Ag teacher and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Booth. We were on the road by 5:30 Tuesday morning.

For the first few hours, the trip was quiet. There were four of us at Claude and we picked up the other boy at Shamrock. We slept until we got to Shamrock, where we ate breakfast. We were traveling in a station wagon, which was not uncomfortable, so we slept again until about 11 o'clock. Then we played cards until about 12:30, when we had our lunch at a place in Oklahoma, which was off the road and which had gas, lodging, and food. It cost each of us $1.25 for all we could eat and it was good.

We got back on the road and arrived in Kansas about 2:30. We were on a toll road then all the way into Kansas City, arriving there about 4 o'clock and to the hotel at about 5:00. We stayed at the Pick-Wick Motor Inn Downtown, about 8 blocks from the Municipal Auditorium. We walked around town until about 6:30 and then we ate our supper. That night we went to the Vespers Service at 7:30. The opening session of the convention was that night.

The next morning we got up at 7:30 and went to eat, then walked over to the Auditorium for the second session. The National FFA President, Craig Bamford of Colorado, was presiding. The session lasted until noon.

We went to the third session that afternoon. We skipped the night session for a walk around Eddies Trip Cont town. We went into several of the stores and met boys from all over the country.

We saw several boys from Breckenridge who were staying in the hotel where we were. Nearly all of the Texas delegation was staying at the Pickwick. In one room, our advisor, Mr. Booth of Claude, was rooming with Don Hinkley of Claude and Charles Batenhorst of Canyon. I was rooming with Danny Miller of Darrout and Keith Morris of Dumas.

Thursday morning we got up, ate our breakfast and were at the Auditorium by 9:30. We were interviewed, along with Tony Cheadveaux of Claude, who won the Santa Fe Award, by Royce Bittford of KGNC, Amarillo. We attended the convention until noon, then that afternoon took a tour of Farmland Industries, Inc. This is the distributors of all the Co-op products across the country. After supper we went back to the Convention, where we heard debates on whether or not to allow girls to become members of FFA.

The new National FFA officers were elected. The new president is from Oregon. Lowell Catlett, our State Vice-Pres., was elected as Southern Region Vice-President.

Friday was the last night of the Convention. We got up and ate our breakfast, then went to the session at 10 o'clock. We stayed until 11:30, then went outside to have pictures made of the entire Texas delegation. After lunch we took a bus to the American Royal Cattle and Livestock and Horse Show. The finals of the FFA Livestock show was being held. After the judging, the American Royal Horse Show was presented. This consisted of three divisions of horses competing for prize money. Following this was a show put on by the Rodeo Kids. These were little boys and girls who played a sort of game like musical chairs. The kids would race around the arena on horses then jumping off the horse and sitting in a chair, with one less chair each time than the runners. The youngest of these was just three years old.

Following the Kids' show, The Wilson Certified Co. brought out their six Clydesdale horses, each weighing over a ton. Then there were two more horse divisions to show. Following this the Royal Canadian Mounted Police came out and put on a show, which consisted of many different maneuvers and formations on horseback.

Following this, the final horse division was run off, which was the jumping horses. That concluded the show for the afternoon.

We shopped around town until time for the final session. That night the final address by the president, Craig Bamford, was given, with the installation of new officers presented. The mothers of the outgoing officers were presented with a certificate and the fathers with the degree of honorary American Farmer. After the closing ceremony, the boys were presented with special entertainment by a comedy team, an accordion player, and the Brothers and Sisters singing group. This lasted about an hour.

During the convention the Mayor of Kansas City, presidential candidate Richard Nixon, and former Miss America 1958, Marilyn Van Debur, spoke.

Saturday morning we watched the American Royal Parade, then left Kansas City for our trip home about 11 o'clock, arriving at Claude at 9:30 p. m. I rode to Canyon with Charles Batenhorst, where I met my parents after the football game and came home with them.

THE GOODIE CORNER

It seems that one is always looking for a different way to prepare potatoes. The potato is usually thought of as a quiet vegetable but it can be quite a pacesetter if the right ingredients are added to it.

In the spring when the new potatoes are quite plentiful, the two following recipes are delicious.

REAL DILL POTATOES
1 1/2 pounds or about 8 small new potatoes, scraped
1 cup dairy sour cream
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon of dill seed

Cook your new potatoes in boiling water to which you have added some salt. When they are tender, drain. Combine the sour cream, salt and dill seed. Pour this mixture over the new potatoes and heat not over two minutes. As they heat turn the potatoes to coat. This will amply serve four.

HARPER VALLEY P-TA
By Phyllis Cheatham
President, Quitaque P-TA

Every year the membership committee chairman utters a prayer for the inspiration to present the PTA message so provocatively that everyone who hears it will hurry off to join the nearest local unit. This year the prayers were scarcely uttered when they were answered, although no one seemed to recognize the answer when it came.

Early in August the airwaves suddenly throbbled with the rhythm of the P-TA! True, it was not the P-TA as we know it, but the P-TA set to an irresistible beat, and beamed primarily to the young people of America. Almost every day the most popular country music song was a little ballad about a notorious mythical unit, the Harper Valley P-TA, which aired its questionable business all over America.

When I first heard this sordid tale beat out over the air, country music style, I was shocked, then convulsed with laughter by its incongruity.

Many of you apparently reacted the same way, some of you wrote while still in a stage of shock before the laughter to inquire whether our exclusive right to the service mark of P-TA did not make this use of our name libel. We referred these questions to our legal counsel who answered with forthright wisdom: "It is apparently necessary to point out quite frequently that if we have a claim to exclusive ownership of P-TA, it is only in the sense that we may be able to prevent a non-affiliated organization from passing itself off as a P-TA or preventing somebody from printing a magazine called the P-TA. It does not, however, give us an exemption from being talked about, written about, and sung about, satirized, ridiculed, or otherwise abused, something which amounts to actionable libel or slander.

The P-TA is a venerable American institution, and it is fair game for comment, favorable or unfavorable, to the same extent as politicians or other persons and organizations in the public eye who are subject to open attack.

In the meantime I began tuning in my radio in my car and I was always impressed in hearing the P-TA sung about more often in one week than it has been in its entire 71 years of history. It was also talked about knowingly by disc jockeys, most of them, obviously not having given a thought to it since the days when they took the meeting notices home in their pockets from school.

One day as I listened again, marveling that the P-TA was where I had always thought it should be, number one on the Hit Parade, and regretting that the jingle wasn't carrying the P-TA message I had in mind, the light dawned, and in a flash of clarity I recognized as good a membership message as I had ever heard. The story of the Widow Johnson and her orphan child are these facts:

1. P-TA and Country Music are a part of the American folkway and both are beamed at young people. It was inevitable that the two should get together.

2. Membership in the P-TA is open to anyone who is interested in children, regardless of race, religion, national origin, social or economic status, manners, personality, or social practices. Anyone can join and, obviously, everyone in Harpers Valley does join.

3. When the welfare of a child is involved, the nearest dependable organization that will take action is our P-TA.

4. With a little leadership training, even the odd-ball Harper Valley unit could broaden its concern to include all children and vastly elevate its program.

5. Among the 45,000 local units there are bound to be a few that are not as highly motivated or well organized or effective as most P-TA's.

The P-TA is not only "hep" but always has been "hep" to the needs of children growing up in modern America, "hep" to the eagerness of parents and teachers to bring the very best to all children, "hep" to the fending of modern research that enables P-TA members to guide their efforts into new channels.

We have a song in our hearts, a silent song of P-TA endeavor. Let us voice this silent song, this unheard melody, for every neighbor, every friend, every citizen, who cares about the welfare of children. Let us use it, not to sell a million records, but to bring in ten million new members, then, all by itself, the P-TA can stage a hit parade.

THE ART OF HAPPINESS

You can't pursue happiness and catch it. Happiness comes upon you unawares while you are helping others: "Help your brother's boat across, and lo! thine own has reached the shore."

Happiness does not depend on a full pocketbook, but a mind full of thoughts that are rich and a heart full of rich emotions. Happiness does not depend on what happens outside of you but inside of you; it is measured by the spirit in which you meet life's problems.

Happiness is a state of mind. Lincoln once said, "We are as happy as we make up our minds to be." It doesn't come from doing what we like to do, but from liking what we have to do, from putting our hearts into our work and doing it with joy and enthusiasm. It is the afterglow of satisfaction that comes from success in a difficult task that demands our best.

Happiness grows from harmonious relationships with others based on attitudes of good will, tolerance, understanding and love. It comes from keeping constructively busy. Happiness is found in little things: a baby's smile, a letter from a friend, a kind word, the beauty of nature.

The master secret of happiness is to meet the challenge of each new day with a serene faith that "all things work together for good to them that love the Lord," and by continually proving our love as we give help and encouragement to our fellowman.

Happiness is in knowing we are in God's divine favor because we have learned of His promises and His will and have, to the best of our ability, done His will.

collection money. The youth will meet at First Methodist Church for instructions and return to the same church to turn in the money collected.

CROP is the abbreviation for "The Christian Rural Overseas Program" which is an interdenominational, non-political organization dedicated to the relief of suffering overseas when the suffering is due to lack of food and clothing, which is purchased with the money collected. The food and clothing are then shipped to foreign countries for distribution through missionaries. It is said that 99 percent of the money donated is used for the purpose for which it is intended, since there is only one paid employee in the state of Texas: the state director. The other workers are volunteers who receive no pay at all.

It is hoped that a large number of youth will participate in this activity and that donations will be generous.

BOGANS TELL OF TRIP TO TYLER ROSE FESTIVAL

By Sid Bogan

On Thursday, October 17, the S. T. Bogans left Quitaque to go to Tyler to attend the Rose Festival. They spent Thursday night, Friday and Friday night in Richardson at the home of their son, S. T., Jr. and his family. Early Saturday morning Sid and Seney, together with S. T., Esther and Dorrie left for Tyler, which is about 100 miles east of where S. T. lives. We arrived there in time for the parade, which we all enjoyed, especially Dorrie, 5 year old daughter of the S. T. Bogans. We left the parade route shortly before it was over, because it seemed to us, people were there from all over east Texas, and we found our way to the spot where we were to meet the Barney Bogans by previous appointment. They were not there at the time so we made our way to a good place to eat, and after a good meal we went back to the appointed place and Barney and Emily Margaret were there. While they were eating their lunch we went across the street to visit Mrs. E. G. Rice, but she was not at home so I left her a note "bawling her out" for not being home.

We went back and picked up Barney and Emily and drove to Rose Stadium where the roses were on exhibit.

There were many, many roses, a lot of beautiful roses but we were a bit disappointed because some of them were beginning to fade. If you have never seen the rose festival, you have missed something.

After we were all walked down we all drove to Nacogdoches and spent Saturday night and until about 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon with the Barney Bogans, which we all enjoyed very much. They have a beautiful home in the tall pines. Two of their daughters are gone from home but they still have Roger; also one mare, one colt, and one dog, all very friendly.

Upon leaving there we drove back to Richardson. On Monday we drove over to the home of Jerrel and Betty Gaddy's home, where we just rested all day Tuesday, then drove home Wednesday, arriving about 3:30 p. m. We had a very enjoyable time, and lots of good food.

Mrs. A. L. Morris spent from Saturday until Monday afternoon at Claude at the home of her son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Merrell, Bruce and Billy. She reports having a very good time.

Mrs. Janice Wheeler and Mrs. Kay Eudy were in Tulsa Monday on business.

money for such a worthy project as this.

It is certainly a wonderful privilege to live in a community such as this, a community that is as interested in its young people and school. A community is as good as its school. And you and I had a small part in raising money to make it a little better for your children and mine. And speaking of young people, we have some very talented young people, such as Laura Eudy, who used her wonderful artistic ability in the drawing of the huge pumpkin carriage pulled by a large Turkey, which was the background of the stage.

Again, let us offer our many thanks to everyone for their help and support.
