Texas Agricultural Extension Service Expecting Budget Cut

The Valley Tribune has received so much from so many sources of the bad influence of the Gramm-Redmon budget and its effects on the nation and the world that it would be impossible to print all of it. One letter sent from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, which covers all areas of trade in the United States, says if the proposed Federal Budget is adopted by Congress, the federal funds for this service alone will be reduced by more than $10 million dollars. This would severely restrict programs in agricultural production efficiency and natural resource management, as well as family financial planning programs, educational programs for youth, consumer programs and community development educational efforts. This would have a direct impact on the people in our service area.

If the President's budget is approved, a number of special funded programs also will be eliminated. In Texas, these include the expanded nutrition program, integrated pest management, renewable resources, farm safety, and a portion of the 4-H program.

They realize, all of America does, that the gigantic budget deficit needs to be trimmed, but the investment in the Extension educational programs are an investment in the future, rather than a direct cost. The consequences of not having these Extension education programs in place in the future could represent a significant COST to our citizens.

TOY TRACTORS are a hobby for Jay Eudy (photo), Texas director of vocational agricultural education. He has more than 50 models—the pedal-powered kind—in various stages of repair. Some are true rarities: a 1948 Farmall H, for instance. Eudy carries a photo-scrapbook. "When someone gives you a childhood toy, you can be sure he wants to know what you did with it," Eudy says.

Beth Mills to Head Cystic Fibrosis Event

Beth Mills has been named chairperson of the Cystic Fibrosis drive this year. She is announcing the date for May 10, when there will be a Walk-A-Thon held at the track field at Valley School. More about that later.

Mrs. Mills urges everyone to check your newspaper for the date of the movie mentioned and be sure to view it with your family.

Alex Deford was born Saturday, October 30, 1971. She died Saturday, January 19, 1980 of cystic fibrosis.

Alex was an incredible child who never gave up and really never quit fighting. She was a feisty, funny little girl with an enormous love of and zest for life. Alex virtually transcended her debilitating disease and was an inspiration to everyone around her. When she died, her family was devastated, but her courage, spirit and hope were captured by her writer-father, Frank Deford, in the book "Alex: The Life of a Child."

In April, the movie version of "Alex: The Life of a Child" will air on ABC Television. Craig T.

Nelson, star of "Poltergeist" and "Call to Glory" plays Frank Deford, Bonnie Bedelia portrays his wife and 8-year-old Gennie James from "Places in the Heart" is Alex.

This spring the Foundation's fund-raising events will be conducted in honor of Alex Deford. The airing of the movie will provide a heightened awareness of the tragedy of cystic fibrosis.

Uniting farmers, small bankers and business leaders consumers to end the rural crisis is the goal of a "Fight Back" campaign waged by National Farmers Union. The toll-free telephone number is 1-800-437-7571.

PCG Says Farmers Should Take Close Look at CRP Program

More than a few farmers of a mind to bid on putting land in the new long-term conservation reserve program (CRP) may be about to make a big mistake. That's a concern being voiced by officials of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. and others who've taken a close look at the CRP program.

The CRP section of the 1985 farm act allows farmers to contract with the government to retire highly erodible land for 10 years in return for an annual payment. Landowners may submit bids indicating the minimum annual payment they'll accept in return for converting land to conservation uses and maintaining it for the life of the contract. The bidding period is March 3 through March 14.

When a bid is accepted the Soil Conservation Service will assist with preparation of a conservation plan, including the establishment and maintenance of a cover crop of grass, forest trees, wildlife habitat or field windbreak. The federal government will pay up to 50 percent of actual costs, or a flat rate, for establishing the cover.

All maintenance cost will be at the expenses of the producer, except that if the cover is lost, re-establishment costs will be shared by the government—if federal money is available at the time. Grazing or other commercial use of the land will be prohibited for the duration of the contract.

"What's causing our concern," explains PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson, "is the bid figures we're hearing from farmers." Too many are talking about from $15 to $30 per acre he says, "which in many instances may not even cover the annual maintenance cost."

Contacted at his office in Mesa Gin in Dawson County, State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Committee Chairman Jerry Harris concurred that bidding land in too cheaply could get some farmers in big trouble. "Farmers are prone to compare this program to the soil bank program of the 1950s," Harris notes, "and the two are as different as daylight and dark."

Maintenance costs under the soil bank program were practically nil, he points out, but the maintenance required under the CRP, heavily influenced by the Soil Conservation Service and environmental purists, "are going to be high."

And, he adds, if a farmer whose rental payments aren't enough to cover those costs is found in violation of his contract, he'll be required to return all past cost-sharing and rental payments.

"I certainly don't want to discourage use of the program, because we want to make it work," Harris emphasizes, "but I'd like to thank that every bidder made his bid with a full understanding of program requirements, the potential cost of those requirements, and the consequences of default."

Area Extension Economist Jackie Smith of Lubbock is another who is urging farmers to look before they leap. He advises that interested farmers utilize a CRP "break-even bid worksheet" prepared at Texas A&M and available at all county extension offices.

The worksheet provides guidelines for comparing returns from participation versus non-participation, for calculating costs of establishing and maintaining conservation uses and for finding the cost of re-establishing cropland after the 10-year retirement period.

WEST TEXAS UTILITIES MAY DECREASE BILLS

West Texas Utilities Company's retail customers should see another decrease in their electric bills soon if the Public Utility Commission of Texas approves a request filed Monday in Austin.

WTU is asking permission to refund to customers a total of $9.3 million in retail revenues collected in excess of actual fuel costs, and to lower its fuel charge rate. The total includes $9,146,092 in actual fuel cost savings which have accumulated since the current fuel rate for WTU was set by the PUC last August, plus $215,837 in interest.

This would be the second time within a year for WTU to make a refund and to lower its fuel cost factor. Over $16 million was refunded in August 1985.

If a reduction in its fuel rates, technically known as the Interim Quarterly Fixed Fuel Factor, is approved, WTU officials estimate the fuel cost charges to its customers will drop by 8.2 percent during the three-month quarter beginning in May.

The due amounts on customer bills include both fuel costs and base rates. Utility companies are not allowed to make money on fuel. WTU has had no change in its base rates since 1984.

Under WTU's proposal, all existing retail customers would receive refunds through one-time credits to their bills in the billing month of May, except for seasonal cotton gin customers, who would receive their refunds in December.

A typical residential customer would receive refunds of $22.

Glen D. Churchill, WTU president and chief executive officer, said this refund, as well as the one made last year is necessary because of a softer fuel market and the fixed factor method of collecting for fuel costs.

The present method was ordered by the PUC after the Public Utility Regulatory Act was amended in 1983. Previously, an automatic fuel adjustment clause matched fuel billings to fuel expense each month. These immediate adjustments prevented over-recoveries and made refunds unnecessary.

Churchill said WTU's fuel costs have declined two years in a row.

"This reflects our successful efforts to purchase natural gas at lower prices to the extent possible, and to take advantage of declining prices," he said.

"Also, we had substantial benefits from lower fuel costs associated with power purchased over our system's high voltage direct current tie with Public Service Company of Oklahoma, which now has been in operation for a full year."

Natural gas is the principal fuel for all of WTU's eight major power generating stations. In recent years, fuel costs have amounted to more than half of WTU's total operating costs, but have dropped from an all-time high of $3.18 per million BTU in 1983 to $2.55 in 1985.

Texas Food, Culture
To Be Highlighted

"Foods of Yesteryear, Tastes of the Texas Sesquicentennial," a celebration of Texas food and culture, will be held at the Bura Handley Community Center, 10th and Amarillo Street, Wellington, Texas on March 10, 1986 from 10:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m.

Sponsored by the Collingsworth County Extension Homemakers Council, several organizations will participate in bringing the history of the county and the state to life with foods representing several of the cultures of Texas, including Irish, English, German, Italian, Indian and Mexican, with tastes of the old South and the West blended in. Exotic Indian curry, spicy lasagne, tasty enchiladas, or Western barbecue can be chosen on a full lunch for $3.00 a plate, or individual treats like Cornish pasties, Irish stew, a variety of side dishes and breads can be tried for prices ranging from 25c to $1.50 each. Delectable desserts, including syrup pies, bread pudding, cookies, cakes and pastries can be sampled or bought whole to take home. Most foods can be prepared for carry out, and some can be reordered from club members if the supply runs out.

A display of antique quilts will hang in the club room, where there will be entertainment provided throughout the day by such groups or individuals as the Girl Scouts, the Bishop sisters and Ben Carnes' pianists.

County Cookbooks, a collection of over 400 old and new recipes recently published by the Extension Homemakers will be on sale, along with official Texas Sesquicentennial memorabilia, including T-shirts, lapel pens, magnets and patches. Girl Scouts will have a cookie booth.

Since all Texas schools will be dismissed on March 10, it would be a perfect opportunity to bring the family for a Taste of the Texas Sesquicentennial.

Some of the organizations participating are the Extension Homemakers, including the Lillie, Midway, Samnorwood, Dodson, Wellington and Fresno clubs, the 1954 Study Club, the Satellite Center, and the Chamber of Commerce.

Caprock Camera Club Has Its Monthly Meeting

Caprock Camera Club held its monthly meeting Thursday, March 13. The slides from the recent "Scavenger Hunt" were shown and Wilburn Leeper was the winner of the hunt.

The Scavenger Hunt consisted of 20 different items that each individual had to photograph on a 20-exposure roll of film. After the slides were developed, they were mailed to a judge and each different category was judged.

Leeper won a Kodak book for his slides in the Scavenger Hunt.

The monthly print competition was judged by Ed Russ of Glendale, California and ribbons were awarded to the winners. The critique on each print was read and each participant was able to learn new ideas and techniques for his prints.

First-place winner was Randy Stark; second-place winner was Wilburn Leeper; third-place winner was Kathy Frizzell, and fourth-place winner was Bart Owens.

If you have a print that you would like to enter in the monthly competition, bring it to the next Camera Club meeting April 10.

National GSPA Calls For New Start On Farm Bill

The National Grain Sorghum Producers Association has requested that Congress re-write the 1985 farm program. After reviewing the provisions and implementation of the "Food Security Act of 1985", the National GSPA board of directors stated its view that the program will only accelerate the farm bankruptcy crisis. The board endorsed a resolution calling for Congress to consider the "Food and Fiber Security Program" which was ratified by the National GSPA membership and board in 1984.

The following statement was mailed to all members of the U. S. Senate and House of Representatives.

"Due to the excessive cost of administering and implementing the 'Food and Security Act of 1985,' National GSPA feels the program is unfair to farmers and taxpayers. The program will lower income to American farmers without achieving the goal of making American commodities competitive on world markets. In addition, it will be a tremendous drain on American taxpayers. Action should be taken immediately to replace the 'Food Security Act of 1985' with a program which will cost less and do more for farmers.

"To achieve this goal, we feel consideration of the National GSPA proposed 'Food and Fiber Security Program' should be paramount. We feel strongly that, under our proposal, farmers' incomes would be raised, American farm commodities would again be competitive and federal program cost would be reduced by an estimated $42 billion."

"The Robe" to Be Presented at Wayland University

"The Robe," a dramatized version of Lloyd C. Douglas' novel, is now in rehearsal for presentation March 24 through 28 at 8:00 p.m. at the Harrell Memorial Auditorium on the Wayland Baptist University campus in Plainview.

The play is a joint production of the University's Christian Communications Department, the Plainview Civic Theatre, and the First Baptist Church of Plainview, and is being offered as a community endeavor in the very old tradition of highlighting through drama the observances of the Holy Week preceding Easter.

Derived from one of the best-loved inspirational novels of the century, the plot of "The Robe" symbolizes the miraculous power of Christ moving in men's lives. The story suggests also the amazing history of the Christian religion as it spread through the Roman world, conquering men in a manner unknown to Roman power.

Directing a 30-member cast, Wes Naron is assisted by Mark Nazworth, with Larry Wheeler as technical director and designer of the sets. Members of the cast that include Plainview citizens and Wayland students of various denominations are finding their involvement in this drama a significant spiritual experience.

Tickets are $4.50 for adults; $3.50 for groups of ten or more; $2.50 for students, citizens over 65, and for Wayland faculty and students with WBU ID cards. The box office at the Auditorium will be open Saturday, March 15, and Monday through Saturday, March 17 to 22, from 9-12, 1-5. Tickets will be available at the door for each performance, and Plainview Civic Theatre memberships will be honored. Call 293-3515 for reservations.

Scott Launches Program To Raise Funds For Amarillo Ronald McDonald House

Local grocers and Scott paper are teaming up to raise money for the Ronald McDonald House located in Amarillo, as part of a nation-wide effort to raise $1 million for Ronald McDonald Houses and Ronald McDonald Children's Charities.

The Ronald McDonald House in Amarillo is a residence where families throughout the tri-state area can stay while their children are receiving treatment for serious illnesses at hospitals and treatment centers in Amarillo. The Amarillo House is a project of The Children's Oncology Services of the Texas Panhandle, a non-profit organization, and a program of Ronald McDonald Children's Charities, which was established in memory of Ray A. Kroc, founder of McDonald's Corporation, to support projects that directly benefit children in need.

During the two month retail fund-raising campaign, major Scott brands will carry a special package design indicating to consumers that purchase will trigger a donation to the Ronald McDonald Houses. The $1 million national donation will be reached through a combination of these purchases and a direct corporate gift from Scott. In addition, Scott will donate a year's supply of paper products to each Ronald McDonald House.

According to local Scott representative Carroll Jones, Scott will donate funds directly to the Ronald McDonald House in Amarillo in the names of all participating retailers in the tri-state area.

The Scott products included in the fund-raising effort are Scott-Towels; Viva Towels; Scot-Tissue; Waldorf; Family Scot; Cottonelle and Soft 'N' Pretty bathroom tissue; Scott Family Napkins and Viva Napkins; Scotties facial tissue; Baby Fresh and Wash 'bye Baby baby wipes.

"Scott is proud to have the opportunity to take part in this very special fund-raising activity," said Scott Chairman and Chief Executive Officer Philip E. Lippincott. "We view it as a chance to help two of the most effective charities in the country. Scott applauds and supports the efforts of the Ronald McDonald House program and Ronald McDonald's Children's Charities in providing help and comfort to families in times of extreme personal difficulty."

"Scott's initiative in putting this fund-raiser together," said Edward H. Rensi, President and Chief Operating Officer, McDonald's U. S. A., "indicates the kind of company it is. We are pleased that retailers of Scott products across the country will join in this effort in calling consumer attention to the programs of Ronald McDonald Children's Charities and especially the Ronald McDonald House. We welcome the support of Scott and the retailers of its products and the help they will bring to so many children and families."

The nearly 100 Ronald McDonald Houses across the United States and other countries serve more than 83,000 family members annually. The Amarillo Ronald McDonald House has served more than 500 families of critically ill children from 50 Texas cities, 28 Oklahoma cities, 11 New Mexico cities, several other states and two foreign countries since opening in August 1983.

Is your sewing machine sick?

Is it locked in the closet because the stitch plays "loop ti loop" and it sounds like a thrashing machine? That's no way to treat that valuable piece of machinery! It's time to get started on spring sewing and that means having a sewing machine in excellent working order.

Since some of you who have been in my classes have complained of machine problems, I have contacted a dealer-repairman in Amarillo about coming to Silverton for a one-day Sewing Machine Clinic.

If we have at least 10 machines, he will clean, oil and adjust for $15.00 which is about one-half of what he charges on an individual basis. If we don't have that many, the charge will be some higher.

Any parts needed would be extra. If extensive repairs are required, he might have to take it back to Amarillo.

Call my office, 823-2343, to put your name on the list. This will determine the priority of the machines repaired. You need to give the brand name of your machine and any particular problem. You are responsible for bringing in your machine and Government bonds (at par value) or a satisfactory Bid Bond executed by the Bidder as an acceptable surety in an amount equal to five percent (5%) of the total Bid shall be submitted with each Bid.

The City of Quitaque, Texas reserves the right to reject any or all Bids or to waive any informalities in the bidding.

This is a service to home sewers with limited time for repair work. It is not an endorsement of the brands of machines he sells.

I will again offer a free Beginning Clothing Construction Class in late April and May with the class limited to 10. If you are interested, call my office. Meeting dates and times will be determined by the participants but will probably begin at 4:00 p.m.

Spring is definitely upon us and so are the weeds and insects that are associated with Spring.

As most of you are aware, we are now a regulated county use of herbicides. The application of any regulated herbicide is prohibited April 25 through October 15, except in Precinct 2, where application of regulated herbicides is prohibited for a period beginning May 10 and ending October 15 of each year.

The aerial application brush control may be permitted under the direct personal supervision of the Texas Department of Agriculture. In addition, application of regulated herbicide by ground equipment is banned in these same frames, except for dicamba (vel) products. Permits are obtained prior to the application of dicamba by ground equipment. An additional exemption Precinct 2: the application of 2,4-DB will be permitted ground application.

Your next question is, "is a regulated herbicide?" regulated herbicide list in Texas Herbicide Law list 2,4-D, 2,4,5-T, MCPA, Silvex, polychlorinated benzoic acid derivatives and formulations each. Your next question is, "What do I do to obtain a permit to apply Banvel® in summer?" Your first step is to apply with the Texas Department of Agriculture in Amarillo (806-358-7285). They will answer questions about the crop, timing, and most importantly, they will inspect the farm to be sprayed. They will then issue an individual permit to apply herbicide at a cost of 10¢ per acre. A permit is not required during any one year the permit applies herbicide to a acreage of 10 acres or more.

Commercial applicators apply for a blanket permit for summer months, to put dicamba only, by request from the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Please remember, you are liable for any crop damage even if you have a permit. You still need a private or commercial applicator's license when you apply chemicals or when you purchase chemicals.

In recent days I have also told that certain granular formulations of pesticides contain any of eight active ingredients: Aldicarb (Temik), Carbon (Furadan), disulfoto (Disyston), Ethoprop (Mocap), fenfuthion (Dassanil), fonofas (Dylophor), Phorate (Thimet), and terbufos (Counter), and terbufos (Counter), have recently been classified as restricted-use pesticides by the environmental protection agency. This means these chemicals can only be purchased and applied under direct supervision of a certified applicator. If you are using any of these restricted-use chemicals and don't have a private or commercial applicator's license, contact me as soon as possible at 823-2343.

Douglas-Burton Vows Read Saturday Evening

Donna Glea Douglas of Lubbock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Berry Wood, jr. of Plainview, became the bride of Terry Alton Burton of Muleshoe in a candlelight ceremony performed in the Family Life Center Chapel of the First Baptist Church in Plainview Saturday, March 15, 1986 at 6:00 o'clock in the evening. The Rev. Barry Bradley, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Muleshoe, read the vows.

Wedding vows were exchanged before an altar centered with an arched candelabrum and spiral candelabra flanking the arch. Each candelabrum was decorated with greenery and candlelight bows and hurricane lamps in the greenery. Baby's breath and candlelight bows marked the aisles.

Pre-nuptial music was presented by the organist, Martin Duckett. He accompanied the soloist, Laurie Noel.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a formal gown of ivory all-over Chantilly lace. The natural waistline bodice was form-fitting, with a high neckline and beautiful leg-o-mutton poof sleeves. The entire bodice and sleeves were encrusted with seed pearls in re-embroidered design. The outstanding feature of the gown was the wide lace ruffles cascading down the skirt into a semi-cathedral train. She chose an ivory veil with silk flowers and pearl peeps forming the contour wreath headpiece. The two-tiered veil of silk illusion fell to fingertip length with filament fluted pencil rolled edge.

For something old, she wore her grandmother's gold bracelet, she borrowed a pearl necklace from a friend, and the blue ribbons attached to her garter complimented the wedding tradition.

She carried a cascade of cymbidium orchids, burgundy and white sweetheart roses, stephanotis and baby's breath tied with satin candlelight ribbon. The orchids were removed for her going-away corsage.

Maid of honor was Kay Postell of Post, Texas. She wore a tea-length dress of burgundy taffeta with a fitted bodice, gathered skirt and large bows on each shoulder. She carried a cascade of burgundy and white sweetheart roses and baby's breath tied with satin candlelight ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Belinda Baras and Susan Noah of Lubbock. They wore dresses matching that of the maid of honor, and their flowers were the same.

Best man was John Colburn of Lubbock.
