CARL ESTES, BLACK SPAR OVER LOBBY

About Our Friends
By STEPHEN A. LONG

Well, we're home from the big Lion convention in history... from the standpoint of what it offered in cultural entertainment for the delegates who attended and saw Mexico City, the seat of the most ancient civilization, perhaps, of which we have traces today. An ex-president of Mexico speaking of his country said to the Lions that Mexico was a land of contrasts... too much contrast... the over rich and the utmost poverty.

President E. L. Smith and his delegation from Cisco did unusual work of advertising Cisco, maintaining old contacts and making new ones among the hundreds of delegates from over the United States and Mexico. Cisco was the only city, outside the next convention city of Providence R. I., that was advertised as a city, California, Louisiana, Kansas and Arkansas had some advertising for their states but none for individual cities.

Smith's delegation donned the headgear, club and shield of the warriors and gods in the great celebration of the Harvest feast put on especially for the Lions at the great pyramids where the heart of the victim was cut out as a sacrifice to the sun, and pictures were made for the press of Mexico and by numbers of other cameramen from over the country. Cisco's advertising handbills were placed on the heads of the native Indians and were shot in the pictures.

Cisco's delegates were the only ones to be placed side by side with the king of this aggregation of 2,500 natives taking part in the pageant at the pyramids.

It is safe to say that Cisco has been heard of and the name will be recognized by thousands of these same people when they come to the Dallas Centennial next year.

Mexico is a wonderful country from many angles... Climate... cool the year round but no fires

Kingfish Comedy Over $5 Picture

NEW ORLEANS, July 29 — The newest Kingfish comedy was being enacted today, to the screaming of police sirens.

The entire police department was concentrated in a search for Arthur Romaguera, the chauffeur of Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley, who is accused of "stealing" a $5 portrait of President Roosevelt from the offices of the regular democratic machine, which only a few days ago was anti-Long but now is vociferously pro-Long.

State Park Engineer To Be Sent Here Soon

WILL ARRIVE AUG. 19 SAYS WORKS HEAD

Cisco has been promised a man to work out plans for the state park here, in the near future, it was announced this morning by Secretary J. E. Spencer of the Chamber of Commerce.

George Bringhurst chief of the field division of the park topographic work, is due to arrive here about August 9, the secretary said.

The announcement was made following receipt of a letter from R. O. Whiteaker, chief engineer of the state parks board at Austin, saying that Bringhurst had been assigned to Cisco next.

Due to the fact that Bringhurst had to report to national guard camp a few days after finishing his work at Nocona, however, he will come on the date announced instead of this week, it was said.

About four weeks will be required for making the survey and mapping plans for the state park work here, Whiteaker's letter said. This calls for laying out work to build up the park gradually, looking forward to a CCC camp here when the camps are next shifted.

The announcement of Bringhurst's assignment came after Spencer had repeatedly queried the state park board in regard to sending an engineer here, it was said.

The city has for some time been trying to obtain a state park in the canyon northeast of town, south and east of the Lake Cisco dam. Various means have been used, but all were pending laying out of plans by a state park engineer.

Neutrality Bill To Be Pushed Forward

WASHINGTON, July 29 — Senator Bennett Champ Clark dem., Mo., one of the sponsors of the neutrality legislation, served notice today that proponents of the pending bills to keep this country out of future wars will press for enactment at this session of congress.

Clark's notice was issued in the face of administration statements the neutrality bill, now before the senate foreign relations committee should not be allowed to delay adjournment or impede the "must" legislation.

President Roosevelt has indicated his sympathy with the intent of the bill but the state department feels they need much revision.

JUDGE TO CITE JOURNALISTS IN CONTEMPT

ANGLETON, July 29. — District Judge M. S. Munson announced today he would cite six Houston newspaper men for contempt of court for disobeying his orders not to publish accounts of the Clyde Thompson murder trial last week.

The contempt of court citations are to be issued today against Managing Editor Ed Pooley and Harry McCormick of the Houston Press, Editor George Cottingham and Ed Elder of the Houston Chronicle, and Managing Editor Max Jacobs and Frank White of the Houston Post. Judge Munson revealed his intentions of calling the six into court just before the trial of Raymond Hall, Retrieve prison convict, began today.

Italy Believes War With Abyssinia Near

ROME, July 29 — Italians believed today that war with Ethiopia was near. They saw in the League of Nation's effort to settle the crisis only a waste of words and increased confusion.

Stevados were loading 10 steamships with war materials at various ports. Additional thousands of soldiers were awaiting embarkation.

War spirit was high and the country was ready for a fight. It was said frankly that diplomatic negotiations with Great Britain and France had achieved exactly nothing after 10 days of spirited effort.

There was no approach at all between Britain and Italy and the limits of British and Italian concessions were apart.

Ethiopia's note of yesterday to the League, maintaining its position, caused no surprise for no concession was expected.

ETHIOPIA REFUSES TO ACCEPT DEMANDS

10 Texans Are Victims Of Violent Deaths In State During the Weekend

Ten persons died violent deaths in Texas during the weekend. Seven of the deaths were by automobile accidents, one by drowning, and two by gunshot wounds.

The greatest numbers of deaths occurred in and near Fort Worth, where three persons died in car accidents and 10 others were injured.

Nimmo Snow, 18, of Birdville, and Eugene Henson 18, of Fort Worth, were killed when their motorcycle crashed into the side of an automobile near Birdville. The driver of the car suffered a slight injury.

Ernest Thurman won Sunday's "Believe It Or Not" contest with a will, believed to be the shortest on record in the court where it was probed, which contained only 10 words. The will read:

"Twenty-five shares of United Shoe stock to my wife." The will was that of John Sullivan of Salem, Mass.

SPAT OCCURS OVER ATTACK UPON PROBE

WASHINGTON, July 29. — Carl Estes, Texas publisher, and Chairman Hugo Black of the senate lobby committee sparred angrily today when Estes vainly attempted to read the committee a prepared statement attacking the inquiry for "throwing mud."

"Black refused to allow the statement to be read.

"Well, I'm sorry, senator, but I'm a better sport than you," flashed Estes glaring at Black.

The Estes flareup came after the committee failed to get any hint of the whereabouts of H. C. Hopson utilities operator and one of the heads of the Associated Gas and Electric Utilities company.

In Hopson's absence figures were presented, showing that he received $2,855,000 from 1929 to 1933 from A. G. E., a fund described by Senator Lewis Schwellenbach as "taken out from the people who bought gas and electricity."

Estes had earlier given out a statement charging his room at a Washington hotel had been "ransacked" over the weekend. He had asserted last week he would "black Senator Black's eye" for introducing his name into the investigation, in which he was mentioned by a Texas witness as having made a radio speech against the utilities bill.

Black told the witness that the committee would hear him but would allow him only to answer questions.

WPA Group Holds Meeting at Dallas

DALLAS, July 29. — Representatives from 15 counties in the Dallas district were here today for a meeting of Works Progress Administration head and discuss methods of obtaining funds from the $50,000,000 allotted to Texas.

Harry Drought of San Antonio, Texas WPA administrator, was expected to tell officials what kinds of projects the government would finance and how they could obtain allocations. Discussion was expected to center around alleged discrimination against Texas in the allotment of funds for relief purposes.

It was pointed out last week that Texas $60 per man allotment was far below the individual allotment given by other states, some of which received as much as $110.

FFA CAMPING EQUIPMENT IS BEING SOUGHT

Chamber of Commerce and F. F. A. officials today issued a call for F. F. A. equipment which has been borrowed, to be returned for use.

J. M. Bird, vocational agriculturist, and J. E. Spencer, Chamber of Commerce secretary, said that the equipment would be needed for the Future Farmers encampment at Lake Cisco. They listed cups, plates, and other utensils as having been borrowed and being needed for the camp.

The encampment will begin on the morning of Thursday, August 8, and will last for three days. It will be held at the lake, with much time being spent in the big swimming pool, it was said.

The boys will be quartered in sections of the dam itself, as they have been in the past. It was pointed out that the water on the dam keeps these sections at a cool, even temperature, while they are protected from possible rain, wind or dust.

Final plans are being worked out, it was said, for an interesting program. Most of the time, however, will be given over to recreation. Bird said. He pointed out that Cisco offers excellent opportunities for such recreation for the F. F. A. boys, and that such a program has proved the most popular type in the past. Many contests are being planned including tournaments, and prizes will be awarded.

Old Age Pension Amendment

Just now the conferees of the U. S. senate and the house, are deadlocked over the provision of senate and house bills on old age pensions. Conferees of the house have refused to compromise and the conferees of the senate are backing the Clark provision, recognizing the private pension system inaugurated by corporations and other concerns known as large employers of labor.

Texasans are face to face with a proposed pension system. It calls for an amendment to article three of the constitution and proposes by adopting a new section to be known as section 51b will provide that the legislature shall have the power to legislative, "under such limitations and restrictions as may be deemed by the legislature expedient," for old assistance and for payment of same not to exceed $15 per month each to actual bona fide citizens of Texas over the age of 65 years, who are habitual drunkards nor habitual criminals nor inmates of any supported institutions. It further provides that the requirements for length of time for actual residence in Texas shall never be less than five years during the nine years immediately preceding the application for old age assistance and continuously for one year immediately preceding such legislation; and providing that the legislature shall have the authority to accept from the government of the United States financial aid for old age assistance.

This will make Uncle Sam at least the stepfather of all the states, whose lawmakers accept federal aid. Really the amendment is a very cumbersome document and it gives the Texas lawmakers a very wide field for experimentation and all the details that go with an experiment of this nature.

There is a federal security bill which had the backing of the president first and last and all the time. Its conferees are deadlocked. In other words they "are groping in the dark to discover a way out of the wilderness." As for the Wagner bill, it contains provisions for employment insurance and is one of the most important laws ever enacted by the American congress concerning the rights of the employer as well as the rights of the employee.

Qualified voters of Texas are interested in the seven amendments on the ballot to be voted on in a statewide election during the closing week of the month of August. There has been a campaign of education waged by the leading daily and weekly newspapers of the state. It is for the qualified voters, the taxpayers of Texas, to return a verdict at the ballot box.

In the not remote past a "swat-em-all" campaign against the adoption of very important amendments to the constitution was waged in the commonwealth and the most vital to the people of these amendments were defeated owing to the active as well as most aggressive opposition of powerful interests and their brain trust lawyers and field men on election day. This will not happen this year. Certain amendments may go down in defeat, but the amendment dealing with the repeal of constitutional prohibition and providing for control of the liquor traffic as a state monopoly is certain to call out those who are lined up for old-time prohibition as well as those who call for a new deal and insist that the liquor traffic should be legalized and the revenue derived should be used for relief purposes in coming years.

The ballot box is open to all men and women who are qualified to cast a ballot. They know the road to take. This is a free commonwealth and the people remain the masters whenever they make a demonstration for the repeal of old laws or for constitutional amendments which pave the way for new legislation in the new civilization which came in with the World War and later with the crash panic of terror in the year 1929.

Jones and Processing Tax

Representative Marvin Jones of the Panhandle district is chairman of the house committee on agriculture. He is a very conservative and very level-headed man. He is a native Texan who was born on a blackland farm. His pioneer forebears were farmers and stockmen. Jones is hostile to the partial ban against processing tax recovery suits written in the administration's AAA amendments by the senate. Jones declared in a house debate that these amendments are "an invitation to chaos." He predicted the legislation as passed by the house would prohibit suits to recover any of the $900,000,000 of processing taxes already collected. As for the senate it voted to permit suits by "processors who had not passed the taxes on to consumers or producers."

Jones is a fighter. Known in his youthful days as "The Panhandle Kid" he has held his congressional post many years and his bold stand "apparently foreshadows a sharp struggle between house and senate conferees on the issue." Jones of the Panhandle has ever been for the growers of things. He would place agriculture and industry on the same footing and the protection given to the makers of things he would pass along the line in a division of the tariff spoils to those who produce the food crops and all other crops of the world. His district contains the largest reservoirs of natural gas known to the trade. His district is a large producer of petroleum. He is a states rights champion and why not? His forebears were Texan pioneers and they battled for the rights of freedom in all the wars and conflicts of the past.

Some business men have visions of greater things, but in carrying out their plans they forget the Golden Rule and go only far enough to miss their goal of achievement and their plans result only in a mirage.

Classified advertising is considered the most effective means for securing direct results at the lowest cost.

In the heart of the average man this venture into higher taxes is a mystery. It brings on little ills and frets. The multitude of taxes upsets the mind and one is worried as to how to pay them and what they are used for. Many of the taxes seem to be caused by dreams of the "New Dealers. It is never well to dream except it be in bed - and even then it's likely to end in a nightmare."

Almost every successful business man considers the good will which he has built up through years of continuous newspaper advertising and honest dealings as his one big asset.

A whole lot of cities are long on good starters, but short on good finishers.

Too many men are so intent upon admiring their own methods, their own progress, their own wisdom that they go not have time to observe their own faults.

Town in Kentucky Is Named for Car

There are plenty of instances in which an automobile has been named after a town; but when a town is named after an automobile—well, that's news.

At least, so thought a tourist who, looking over a fine stretch of new highway a few miles from Harlan, Ky., found himself in a small coal-mining settlement and noted a modest frame building bearing the sign: "Post Office—Chevrolet, Ky."

Scouting a story, he explored the place, which did not take long, and then sought out the postmaster who obligingly gave him the facts.

Up to a few years ago, his informant explained, the Blue Diamond Coal company camp, which is now the town of Chevrolet, was inaccessible except on muleback. Though only five miles from Harlan, it might as well have been 5,000, so far as automobiles were concerned. Mountaineers came in on foot or aboard their long-eared mounts to report "another auto stuck, trying to get up here."

Then the town grew large enough to need a postoffice. The subject of a name came up, and it was agreed that the place would be named after the first car seen on its streets. And that is just what was done.

Chevrolet now has 800 residents. There are some 60 cars in town. And as might be expected, fully half of them are Chevrolets.

BAND 103 YEARS OLD
MARRINGTON, N. H. — This town claims to have the oldest band in the country. It is 103. Its founder, James Wiggin, was the grandfather of the present leader, Elmer Wiggin. There are three generations playing in the band now and there has always been a Wiggin representative at its head since its existence.

NEW PROCESS DEVELOPED IN RUSTPROOFING

An entirely new method of rustproofing which, for the first time in the history of electro-chemistry, utilizes alternating current in the process, has been perfected by the Ford Motor company and is now being used on its entire production of head and tail lamps, at the Ford lamp plant at Flat Rock, Michigan—the famous "factory in a meadow."

The new process was adopted because it requires less floor space than other rustproofing methods, provides a surface all ready for painting as the article comes from the rustproofing machine, and with stands at least 300 hours of salt spray test without deterioration. Tests of 1,000 hours under salt spray have shown no rust, Ford chemists say. This is the equivalent of many years of ordinary use.

The process, which was first developed outside the Ford organization, did not work well when Ford the first commercial installation. The treated articles developed in part an "alligator" surface which was not fit for painting. It was finally decided the trouble arose through the lamp shells being too clean when they went into the zinc phosphoric rustproof bath. So instead of the shells going through a washing machine first, they are now made "dirty" by an operator who wipes over with an oily cloth the surface to be painted. The film of oil provides enough protection from the acid in the rustproofing bath for the deposition of zinc to begin before the acid has etched the steel.

BENEATH thriving Damascus is an important city of Syria, lies another Damascus that was probably of much greater wealth and renown than the modern center. From about 1400 to 800 B. C. ancient Damascus grew and prospered. Aramean capital and buffer for the little Hebrew and Phoenician kingdoms against the onslaught of the Assyrians.

The stamp of Syria shown here illustrates the modern Damascus. It is too great and valuable a city to be torn down for the satisfaction of historians, but were this done, relics of a gorgeous era would be uncovered. For the ancient royal city contained a luxuriant castle filled with sumptuous furniture, its walls and tombs inscribed, perhaps, with legends of a glorious past.

The effect of the alternating electric current is to permit the articles to take up the zinc without interference from hydrogen bubbles which form on the surface of the article to be rustproofed in the absence of the electricity. The process is not electroplating, however. In electroplating, the article to be plated is the electrical circuit, whereas in this new process the article is alternately cathode and anod, alternating 60 times a second. The actual deposition of rustproofing agent on the article is entirely by chemical action in this process.

Makes Bed Spread For College Money

DALLAS, July 29 — After graduating from high school in 1923 and lacking funds to go to college, Miss Jessie Mae Stewart of Parker county, decided upon a novel manner of earning money for a college course.

The other day her task was completed and she was offering the creation of her own hands for sale, and she hoped it would bring enough money to pay her expenses through the North Texas State Teachers' college. She displayed the creation in Dallas shortly after completing it.

Her work of art is a silk bed spread, the result of seven years, three months and 10 days of tedious labor of tating.

Into the spread went 33,750 feet of No. 30 white silk thread. To get an idea of the tremendous amount of labor involved it is only necessary to consider the fact that the spread contains 1,290 medallions each with 709 double stitches.

Miss Stewart's home is on Route No. three, 13 miles west of Weatherford on State Highway No. One.

News Helps To Find 'Leaks' In Gas Tank

It has been a regular service of the News to restore lost does, watches, wallets and whatnots to anxious owners. But today attention is called to the fact that the paper has helped find something which the owners did not know they had lost.

"Thanks to the News," says J. E. Pratt, local representative of the Gulf Refining company, "a multitude of motorists have found that they have been losing gallons of good gasoline without realizing it—just as surely as if there were a leak in the gasoline tank!"

Pratt refers to the result of a series of advertisements recently placed in the News by his company, offering all motorists the new free booklet, "15 Ways to Save Gasoline Money."

"Soon after the offer appeared in your paper, motorists began to flock to our filling stations to claim their copies of the booklet, and the original supply had to be renewed. An enthusiastic demand for them continues," Pratt said.

Among the 15 simple money-saving hints illustrated in the attractive little Gulf booklet is a pertinent pointer on parking. It explains, to the surprise of most motorists, that a car figuratively "burns up gas" even when it is parked, depending upon where and how you park it. Other hints in the booklet that materially increase mileage-per-gallon with proper use of the self-starter, accelerator; gear shifting and other ordinary operations in driving, any one of which wastes quantities of gasoline, if carelessly done.

"Titled '15 Ways to Save Gasoline Money,' the booklet is free for the asking at all Gulf service stations and dealers.

HITCH - HIKE
MURPHYSBORO, Ill. — Mr. and Mrs. Joel Webber, of Pittsburgh, have had a hitch-hike honeymoon lasting seven months. Married in Pittsburgh, they started out to hitch-hike with 15 cents between them. When they arrived here, they had been in 36 states and said they had walked only 100 miles.

Citrus Growers Of Valley Hold Meet

SAN JUAN, July 29 — A valley-wide committee to consider plans for the unification of Valley citrus marketing efforts and methods has been appointed at a meeting of growers and shippers here.

Another valley-wide meeting will be held August 5, at which time the committee will make an extensive report.

J. Adam Asch of Edinburg, president of the Texas Citrus Growers League, called the meeting. Charles Rovers of Harlingen was made secretary of the committee.

Valley citrus men called the meeting as the beginning of one of the most important steps in improving sales methods and conditions ever taken, and that the program under way will facilitate movement of the citrus crop to better advantage.

Merchant May Get Rich on Oil Land

ATLANTA, July 29 — For years North Spearman, pioneer East Texas merchant, has run his general merchandise store without any thought of getting wealthy.

Besides his store, his chief possession was a considerable acreage of land which had been in his family for years.

Then a few weeks ago, oil was struck near Reddosa, Louisiana. Already Spearman has received $107,000 for leasing his land to oil companies.

If oil is discovered on his property, he will receive many hundreds of thousands of dollars additional income from the "black gold."

BLUE GRASS ABUNDANT

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia. — Machines and hand tools are busy in every section of southwestern Iowa stripping blue grass seed from fields which were drought-seared in 1934. Seed companies have sent crews into the area and government estimates place this year's seed yield at five times that of 1934.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — Current hot-weather battles featuring spiders, snakes, tarantulas and other unpleasant forms of animal life are tame stuff alongside the grinding test of strength between the administration and the utility holding companies which still goes on.

No one recalls any parallel for this attempt to change the fate of a major bill, gone into conference, by exposing the extraordinary tactics of the big "power trust" lobby which defeated Roosevelt in the House when it persuaded a big majority of members to vote against the so-called death sentence.

Seldom has a rising pitch of excitement here seemed more dramatic.

SENSATIONS continue while pro-administration conferees hold off action until the evidence is heard and has time to sink in. Privately, "power trust" foes are predicting that the conferees—perhaps after another vote by the House—will eventually produce a bill satisfactory to an administration which insists on reducing holding companies to regulatable size.

If half the underground reports you hear are correct, you haven't heard anything yet. The billions of dollars behind the holding companies could command the highest priced talent available.

WAS J. Bruce Kremer, former Democratic national committee man from Montana, lobbying for Public Service of New Jersey? Was Arthur Mullen, former Democratic national committee man from Nebraska, working for Associated Gas and Electric? Where was Robert Jackson, that other prince of lobbyists who, with Kremer and Mullen, did so much to put Roosevelt over in 1932?

How much did Joe Tumulty, former wartime secretary to Wilson, figure in the lobbying? Who was ex-senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire working for?

And how about such ex-congressmen as Beedy of Maine and McKeown of Oklahoma?

MAIN STREET came before the Senate investigating committee—Main Street in Warren, Pa., with its Western Union office, its barber shop, its Kiwanis Club and its Savoy Cafe. Tragedy, high comedy, and human interest drama came along with it.

It was plain enough that Congressman Driscoll had been bombarded with anti-bill telegrams signed with names taken from the city directory and gathered by young messenger boys who asked people if they "wanted to send a telegram."

The wires were written and paid for by the Associated Gas and Electric Company, according to the evidence. And the eyes of the national capital were turned on that little cellar under the Warren telegraph office where the originals were said by witnesses to have been burned.

ONE recalls John S. Bayer, portly middle-aged undertaker, furniture man, and Kiwanian, whose name had been signed to a wire he knew nothing about. Monty McClure, president of Kiwanis, had come to him saying that "Fisher was on the spot about those phony telegrams" and couldn't he fix it up with Driscoll?

But Bayer, though he insisted to the committee that Fisher (the manager) as a Kiwanian had at ways stood in high repute, replied: "Two wrongs don't make a right" and refused.

Principals in New American Tragedy

In an alleged new parallel of Dreiser's "American Tragedy," Newell P. Sherman, left, 26, Worcester, Mass., machinist and choir singer, accused of drowning his wife, Alice, 23, shown with one of her two children, confessed, police say, that he overturned their canoe in Lake Singletary, near Worcester, and made no effort to save his wife.

Police assert his love for Ester McGill, 16, prompted him, to arrange the "accidental death."

Climbs Back to Diving Heights

These steps behind Mrs. Dorothy Poynton Hill led her back to the high diving championship in the national women's swimming meet of the A. A. U., held at New York. In her dives off the 30-foot board at Steeplechase Pier, Coney Island, she again flashed the form that led her to Olympic honors in 1932.

AND NO WONDER LONDON CABARET GIRLS COULDN'T TAKE IT!

British chorus girls can't stand the competition of American cuties, so they've called on John Bull to do something about it. Result: Yankee chorines dancing in London cabaret floor shows were told by the Ministry of Labor that they must leave the country when their contracts expire. From these pictures you can get an idea of what London night clubbers will miss, for Nancy Lyons (above) and Louise DeForrest (left), beauties from Nils Granlund's Paradise Restaurant show in New York, are among those falling under the ban.

Tigers, Yanks Lay Home Run Barrage

The first game of the crucial Tiger-Yank series in New York was an orgy of home runs. In the first inning, Hank Greenberg hit a homer, his 27th of the season, and Manager Mickey Cochrane followed suit. In the Yanks' half of the first, Lou Gehrig boomed one for four bases. Charley Gehringer, Tiger second sacker, hit a round-tripper in the eighth. Above, at left, Cochrane is shown crossing the plate after his homer; center, Greenberg scores on his clout; and right, Gehrig hits the last station on his trip around the sacks. Despite the Tigers' three-to-one advantage in homers, the Yanks won the first game, 7-5.

Show Brethren in Alaska the Way

While other Minnesotans have met discouragement in Alaska's Matanuska Valley, a group of their brethren back home, as shown above, are giving the depression a good fight. Several of the two-score colonists, jobless men from Minneapolis, given U. S. aid on a 640-acre tract of marginal land near Goodland, Minn., are pictured above building one of their three comfortable pole houses. Below is part of their poultry farm where they have 5000 chickens. Ethan Allen, the colonists' leader, namesake-descendant of the Revolutionary hero, and his helpers have 90 acres of land cleared and planted in fruits and vegetables. The colony has made such progress in seven months that women and children may soon be moved there from the city.

Britannia Flexes Her Naval Arm

A convincing demonstration of Britain's naval supremacy, this serpentine chain of battleships, extending as far as sight can reach, provided an impressive scene as His Majesty's Home and Mediterranean fleets paraded, in battle formation, off the Isle of Wight. Exercises during this royal naval review were viewed by King George.

Explaining Wonder Cable, Television Near

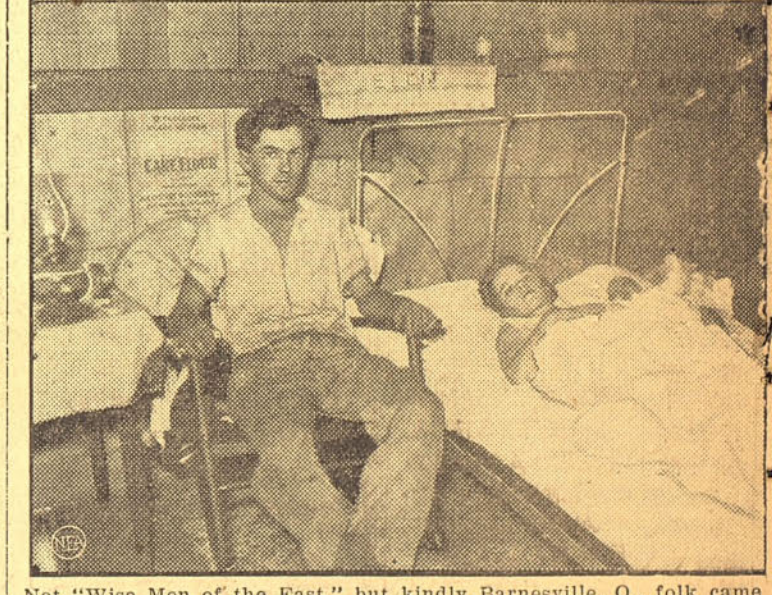

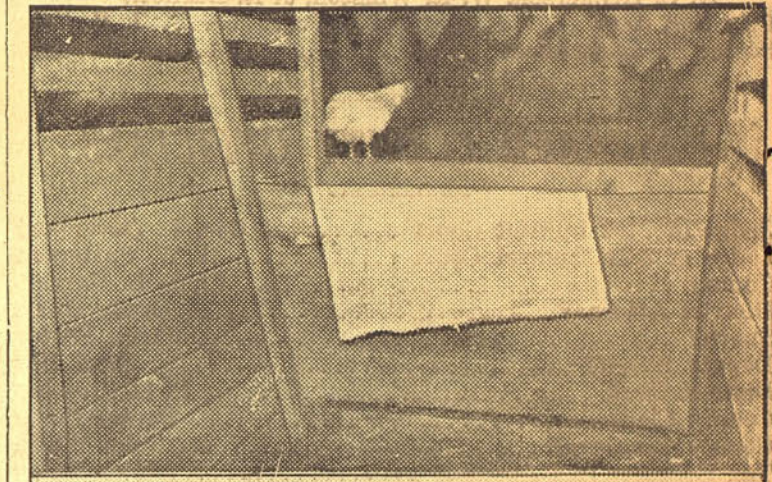

His revelations of advances in the telephonic field silencing opposition to the installation between New York and Philadelphia of a test circuit of a new type of electrical cable that promises to revolutionize the communications industry, Dr. Frank Jewett, president of the Bell Telephone Laboratories, won assurances of the Federal Communications Commission in Washington that license for the test would be granted. Judge Eugene Sykes (left) listens while Dr. Jewett reveals how the cable can carry 200 messages at one time and makes possible the transmission of television pictures over hitherto impossible distances.

New President of Two Roads

As another achievement in one of America's most amazing railroad careers, William Johnson Harahan, above, veteran railroad executive and son of the one-time head of the Illinois Central, has been named president of the Chesapeake & Ohio and the Pere Marquette railroads. Harahan, born in Nashville, Tenn., in 1867, started his railroad career at 14 as a messenger boy. He succeeds the late John J. Bernet.

A Babe Is Born in a Manger

Not "Wise Men of the East," but kindly Barnesville, O., folk came with gifts for the baby born in a manger at the town's race track to a jobless couple. After the newcomers had arrived, without special attention, in a straw-littered horse stall which the homeless transients, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Summers, had chosen for shelter, sympathetic townspeople brought clothes and food, and fitted up their "room" in the manner illustrated below, where the proud parents are shown with their offspring. The picture above, that of an adjoining stall in which the baby's blanket hangs, reveals how the infant's birthplace previously had looked.

Million Dollar Hall Of State Is Feature Of Centennial Exposition

Central unit of the Texas Centennial Exposition, the Texas State Building, will cost $1,200,000. Designed by a committee of Texas architects, the building will be a massive structure of Texas limestone with a frontal width of 488 feet, a depth of 258 feet and 80 feet high at its center, where the Niche of Heroes will be located. The two front wings will be occupied by regional rooms, devoted to the four geographical divisions of the state—East, West, North, and South—while at the extreme ends will be the Halls of 1836 and 1936. Forming a third wing, extending to the rear from Niche of Heroes, will be the Great Hall of Texas. This hall will be a larger room with six semi-circular bays in which will be displayed flags of the six governments that have ruled Texas. At one end, silhouetted against stained-glass windows, will be a heroic statue symbolic of Texas. On the floor will be outlined a map of Texas with bronze markers showing historic places and old pioneer trails. Murals will decorate the bays and walls of the regional rooms. Below the great hall will be an auditorium. The walls of the Niche of Heroes, behind its columns, will bear in relief heroic figures of the major heroes of Texas, while under the windows in the side colonnades will be placed smaller figures of other historic Texas characters. The interior of the Hall of 1836 will be a replica of a Texas mission, while that of the Hall of 1936 will be modern.

In other words, the national advertisers made it possible for the Cisco Daily News to render the service it has to the community, to give its readers the comic strips, United Press News and picture Service, national politics, market reports, sports news, in addition to the thousands of news stories, boosting the community and county in every enterprise.

A good newspaper is the City's best asset. No single effort in a community calls for as constant and exact service as that given by the newspaper publisher and his staff. What would a boom mean without a newspaper in this day and time, nothing. Or the work of reconstruction or the handling of public charity?

With the government, state and federal, working to restore a unanimity of buying, cheap advertising methods adopted to avoid a proper share of responsibility, only harm the real medium, the newspaper his trade and harm all.

Play the game according to rules and then nothing can go wrong. A recent national advertising survey shows that many companies increase their advertising in newspaper budgets with returns in profits in which several others decreased newspaper expenditures and suffered losses as a result.

SISTER MARY'S RECIPES

BY MARY E. DAGUE NEA Service Staff Writer

DON'T you envy the beautiful jars of canned fruit on the grocer's shelves? Well, you can make the same sort of thing at home.

Fruits canned in a syrup made with berry juice in place of water, or colored red with vegetable coloring and flavored with grenadine, are delicious. Other fruits, canned in a green mint syrup, add a new flavor to the meals.

These fruits are exceptionally useful for garnishing ice creams and in fruit cocktails and salads. Peaches canned in red raspberry syrup are something very different from ordinary canned peaches. I make the syrup heavier than usual, for use over ice cream on squares of sponge cake.

When I can fruits, I always plan how to use them. If your family doesn't care for plain canned fruit, there's really not much point in canning it. My own family likes preserves and jellies with hot rolls and biscuits. Consequently I concentrate on preserving and can only enough fruit for puddings and an occasional dessert with cake.

Red Raspberry Syrup

One and one-half cups sugar, 2-3 cup berry juice.

Put sugar and fruit juice in a sauce pan and stir until dissolved. Put over flames and boil ten minutes. Pour hot over peaches, peeled and cut in halves with stones removed, packed in hot jars.

You can the fruit just as if it were in a plain syrup—even, hot water bath or pressure cooker. If you can peaches or pears in grenadine syrup, add one-half cup grenadine to each cup of plain syrup, and color with red food coloring. If a maraschino

Tomorrow's Menu

LUNCHEON: Croquette made from soup meat with tomato sauce, frozen minted pineapple salad, chocolate cake, milk, tea. DINNER: Broiled cubed steaks, creamed potatoes, broccoli in lemon butter, stuffed pepper salad, ginger pears with whipped cream, coconut cookies, milk, coffee.

cherry is placed in the cavity of each half and the cherry side is placed against the glass, a sumptuous effect is gained. Pears are delicious canned either in grenadine syrup or mint syrup.

Mint Syrup

One-third cup mint leaves 1-1-4 cup sugar, 2-3 cup water, few drops green food coloring.

Add well washed leaves to sugar and crush. Add water and stir until sugar is dissolved. Bring to the boiling point and boil 6 minutes. Add coloring and strain over fruit packed in jars.

I often put up pineapple in mint syrup, too, and fruits in a sweet spiced vinegar provide a delectable sweet pickle to serve with the main course of dinner or luncheon.

And that's why the tobaccos in Chesterfield are carefully balanced one against the other... not too much of one—not too little of another.
