Surplus Property Assured to Farmers When Available

Farmers and rural area are assured equal opportunity to purchase surplus property as it becomes available. Surplus Property Board's Regulation No. 6, June 1, 1945 sets up for channeling surplus property into agricultural uses. However, surplus should not be sold or channeled to areas so that farmers and cooperative associations given opportunity to buy before surplus is made available to distributors, wholesalers, farmers' co-ops, or retailers who distribute in rural areas. The Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion has announced that surplus property will be made available to distributors and dealers and not to individual consumers. This is to insure that surplus property will be sold to those who need it most.

Estimate it in these terms: The job of moving millions of men from one front to another. Thousands of ships to carry the supplies of battle. Agricultural Information For Servicemen and Veterans

In order to provide agricultural information to servicemen and veterans of this war who are interested in agriculture, the Department of Agriculture has placed kits containing sample available information in support centers, hospitals, libraries, and centers of the Army, Navy, Forces, and the Veterans Administration. These kits will be available for review in approximately 1,000 places in the continental U. S. and overseas. Accompanying each kit will be order blanks which the veteran of service can order by a simple check any item or group of items he wants. Among the materials are several general publications designed to help the agriculturist decide whether or not he really wants to become a farmer. In addition the kit contains 12 leaflets on subjects such as poultry raising, Dairy Farming, Irrigation Farmhouse Plans, and Cotton Farming.

UNEMPLOYMENT BEGGING MORE WORKERS

Backs in industry should be in wide unemployment," Verna Mae Ramsey, secretary of the local board of Civil Examiners at the Cross Plains office, "In many fields," she said, "the U. S. Government is not doing enough for men and women, and effort is suffering from lack of work on the part of the men."

U. S. Navy mostly needs mechanics, machinists, and sheet metal workers for the West Coast. Shipbuilders complain that ships are out of the water on the coast because of lack of repairmen.

Employment of the West Coast is exaggerated as a whole.

Surplus Property Assured to Farmers, When Available

Farmers and rural areas generally are assured equal opportunity to supply their needs out of surplus property as it becomes available, the Surplus Property Board said. The board's Regulation No. 3, effective June 1 1945 sets up procedures for channeling critically needed trucks, machinery, and equipment into agricultural uses. Farmers, however, should not expect a flood of surpluses at give-away prices, the board warned. First and second purchase priorities given by the Surplus Property Act of 1944 to Federal Agencies and State and Local Agencies will absorb many surplus items, but trucks, machinery and equipment in critical short supply will be distributed on the basis of greatest need. Disposal agencies designated by the board are directed to cause appropriate quantities of surplus property to be sold or channeled into rural areas so that farmers and farmers' cooperative associations will be given opportunity to buy. Sales will be made to distributors, dealers, wholesalers, farmers cooperative associations or retailers who customarily distribute in rural areas, and who certify that the surpluses being purchased will be so distributed.

The Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion has announced that surpluses will be sold mainly through dealers and distributors, not to individual consumers. An exception to that rule is provision for direct sales to veterans who wish to buy surpluses to establish themselves in business, the professions or agriculture.

Let's raise the money in the MIGHTY SEVENTH

OUR FLAG flies once again over Corregidor. The cost was great in blood and pain, but our fighting men did not turn back. And on Iwo Jima, four thousand men—more and more—died to take the long step forward to Victory. Twenty thousand others suffered wounds. Yes, we're on the way to Tokyo!

At home, your contribution to Victory is measured in dollars. The Seventh War Loan is the biggest in America's history because seven billion dollars must be raised from individuals alone. That means you must buy more and bigger War Bonds.

This is really two great loans in one; for this time last year you had called upon twice to subscribe in War Loans. As our fighting men raise Old Glory all over the world—let's raise the money back home!

NEW PRICE REGULATIONS SET ON AUTO REPAIR WORK

Specific limits have been set on the hours of labor that automobile repair establishments may charge for in computing prices for 56 common passenger car repair jobs.

The Office of Price Administration announced this action, effective June 14, 1943, is taken to check a practice in some repair shops of charging customers for more hours of labor than were actually required to do the particular repair job.

The repair jobs covered range a little way from a minor brake adjustment to the complicated job of installing the crank shaft and bearings. All shops are required to supply sales slips or receipts to customers for any of the 56 listed operations, regardless of whether or not requested by the customer.

The slip or receipt must describe briefly the service, cite its number in the new regulation, the shop's hourly rate, the number of hours charged for, the prices charged for parts and materials, and the total charge.
