Broncho Basketball Team Cinches Dist. Title By Defeating Canadian

By JOHN PAYNE
Student Council Sports Reporter
 The high flying Clarendon Bronchos nailed down the District 2-A basketball honors Friday night by an ever convincing score of 59-43 over a strong Canadian team. This cinched the district honors even though they had a game remaining to be played against Memphis.

They finished up with a perfect record Tuesday night by defeating Memphis 47-23 and the girls cinched second place in the district by defeating the Memphis girls 39-28.

According to all available records, this is the first District honors in basketball for the boys team to go on record here. Coach Kenneth Clapp and his Broncho squad are to be commended on this achievement and local fans probably will really come alive now to give them added support to win By-District honors against either White Deer or Stinnett, who play this week end for district honors.

In the Canadian game, the Bronchos played heads up ball all the way and it was truly a team victory. Seven boys figured in the scoring with Eddie Baten leading the way by scoring 18 points. Other boys scoring vital points when needed, were Jerry Behrens, Don Mills, John Morrow, John Payne, Richard Wallace and Doyce Graham. Behrens played a brilliant defensive game by snaring rebounds off both boards.

The high school girls defeated Canadian in a very exciting affair 60-58. Jo Ann Bennett and Glenda Borden led the scoring by hitting 32 and 20 points respectively. However, Sharon Riley of Canadian led all scoring with 48 points. Barbara Darnell hit 6 and Pat Spurgeon 2 for the locals. The four main guards Virginia Taylor, Jo Anna Lane, Beth Lamberth and Maggie Morrow played good defensive ball.

Let's all come out and support the Bronchos Friday night when they play Groom in two non-conference games.

Two Day Irrigation School To Be Held April 3 & 4th

County Agent H. M. Breedlove announced this morning that a two day irrigation school would be held in Donley County on the third and fourth of April. A one day school will be held at Hedley and one day at Clarendon. The time and places of the meetings will be announced later as soon as all of the plans are worked out.

Mr. Bob Thurmond and Mr. Dave Sherill, both irrigation specialists of the Texas A&M College Extension Service will be on hand for the meetings to give first hand information for all persons interested in irrigation. There will be lectures by both men and then a question and answer period in which farmers can get personal information on any irrigation problems that they might need help.

Breedlove says that wells are going down all the time in Donley County and recently a good well was brought in west of Hedley on the Harve Wilson place. Many farmers are showing interest in irrigation and the increased production due to irrigation has proven that it is sure a paying proposition where the water is available.

The amount of the bid was $139,655.90.

Work on the new road is expected to begin this next week. It is expected to be completed in 120 working days and will use on the average of around 20 workmen. About ten men will be hired locally. Ollie Higgins Jr. of Abilene will be superintendent of the project.

Salaries And Fees Of County Officials Reported

Local residents apparently are taking more interest in county affairs according to the numerous inquiries we received the past week after publication of the Annual Account of the County Clerk. One of the foremost questions was in regard to the salaries of our county officials. The impression was that we had "erred" in the figures so we decided to see what we could find out. We learned that all officials receiving fees would have their final return by January 31st. The following is what the records showed in regard to total salaries and fees received by county officials:

Sheriff, Tax Assessors here.
 —Salary $4,670 plus expense; $8,960.81 was in fees but this total amount was turned over to the county. Justice of the Peace, Precinct No. 3, Salary $240.00 plus $53.25—total received $293.25; Justice of the Peace, Precinct No. 2 — Salary, $900.00 plus $1,787.00 fees, total received $2,687.00; Constable Precinct No. 2—Salary $810.00 with $64.35 in fees which went into county funds; County Judge, Salary $4,050.00 plus fees collected $2,918.30 for a total of $6,968.30. Since $6,750 is maximum to be received by county official, $218.30 was turned back to county; County Treasurer—Salary $2,343.76; County & District Clerk — Salary, $2,925.00 plus $4,725.18. Office help in the amount of $3,435.20 paid out of fees, leaving net fees at $1,289.98 for an overall total of $4,214.98; County Attorney — Salary $1,462.53 plus $4,969.80 for a total of $6,432.33; Commissioners Salaries—$2,850 plus $600 car expense for each of the commissioners in all four precincts.

In regard to other questions, you may go to the court house and ask to see the county records any time you wish as they are open to the public.

Clarendon & Lelia Lake F.F.A. Exhibit Swine At El Paso

Members of the Clarendon and Lelia Lake F.F.A. Chapters have sixteen head of top barrows on exhibit at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show at El Paso this week. Bobby Lee, Lelia Lake Voc-Ag Instructor, and Geno Goad of Lelia Lake and Milton Mann of the Clarendon Chapter took the pigs to El Paso. The pigs will be shown Tuesday. The local groups feel that they have some top barrows at the show and hope to win some of the top honors.

Members of the Clarendon and Lelia Lake Chapters swept almost all the top honors in the swine division at the Amarillo and Fort Worth Shows during the past two weeks. The Houston Show will be the last one the local group will participate in this spring.

February 14th is the day of the big agriculture clinic to be held in Clarendon says County Agent H. M. Breedlove. The meeting will be held at the Mulkey Theatre and will start at 10:00 A. M. and end at 4:00 P. M.

Breedlove says that every one in Donley County and surrounding territory is urged to attend. The meeting will feature speakers who are specialist in their respective fields of agriculture from the Extension Service and the meeting is co-sponsored with the Fort Worth & Denver Railroad with the Extension service. This is an educational meeting and information given will be the latest available. The program is as follows:

10:00 A. M. — American Free Enterprise and Conservation—Mr. Norris F. Schroeder, rancher and farmer of Fort Morgan, Colo.

11:00 A. M.—Hybrid Grain Sorghums and New Crop Possibilities—Mr. Jack King, Agronomist, Texas A&M College.

1:00 P. M.—Economics of Irrigation—Mr. Tom Prather, Farm Management Specialist, Texas A&M.

2:00 P. M.—Soil Bank Possibilities and Practices—Mr. Bob Cherry, Agricultural Economist, Texas A&M.

3:00 P. M.—Livestock Feeding Practices and Mesquite Control—Mr. Charlie Fisher, Supt. Spur Experiment Station.

Breedlove urges every one to remember the date and time of meeting and be on hand and let's try to fill the Mulkey Theatre for this big all day meeting. Later on in April a two day meeting will be held by Mr. Bob Thurmond and Dave Sherill, both irrigation specialists of the Extension service with the two days devoted to nothing but irrigation. The meetings will be on April 3 & 4th, with one meeting at Hedley and one at Clarendon. The exact time and places to be announced at a later date.

Donley 4-H Club Members Make Good Showing

Donley County 4-H Club members made a good showing at the recent Amarillo Fat Stock Show says County Agent H. M. Breedlove.

Gene Floyd of Hedley showed the highest placing calf for the 4-H Clubbers with his lightweight Hereford which placed right next to the Grand champion of the entire show. This made him second in his class only to the grand champion. The steer was not sold and will be shown in Houston.

Jean Harrison and Troy Harrison of Hedley placed fourth and fifth in the heavyweight division and Ronnie Longan eighteenth.

Chuck Cosper placed fourth in the lightweight Angus and eighth in the heavy Angus. Red Stone placed twelfth with his dry lot Angus; Ike Noble placed tenth. Five steers were sold from prices ranging from thirty one cents per pound to thirty five cents. Nine steers were brought home to take on to the Houston show in late February.

Gene Floyd of Hedley was chosen as the second best steer showman for the entire show and was given the Pronglet Brothers award for this place of twenty dollars; last year he placed sixth. This award is for care, grooming, sportsmanship and how he conducts himself in the show ring of both himself and his steer.

The group lived and ate in the 4-H Club bus. The part for each person for eats during the week was about six dollars each. Mr. Hershel Heath also furnished his bus which was right beside the 4-H Club bus and both 4-H Club boys and FFA boys slept in this bus.

TAX-MAN SAM SEZ:

The tax folks say that thousands of us fail to send in a check for the tax we owe when we file our income tax returns. They think a lot of people read the instructions, check their records, figure their tax, check their arithmetic, get all their W-2's attached, but then fail to enclose their check. These fellows sure went to a lot of trouble to get their tax right and then forget to enclose a check. Most of us know we have to pay the tax. Let's all save Uncle Sam time and money by putting in our checks with our tax return. Don't send in your check without identifying what the check is for. The tax office has thousands of payments. They have trouble finding who to credit the payment to when you don't attach the check to your return.

SKIN AILMENTS
 by E. M. Gildow, D.V.M.
 Skin ailments in dogs are as numerous as those in humans. They may be simple in origin as those caused by cuts in the skin, friction with inflammation or callouses, burns, chemical irritation as from lye, acid, or irritant antiseptics, or from too frequent bathing with soap without the use of irritating soaps. On the other hand, the cause may be more difficult to determine such as hormone disturbances, allergic dermatitis from contact with certain allergic producing substances, from occasional internal or external medicinal treatments or from specific foods, from skin tumors, bacterial infections, fungi (ringworm), mange, lice and fleas.

This large group of causes of skin ailments may be confusing to the dog owner. However, one can treat the simple ailments and call the local veterinarian for help if the trouble is severe or persists.

Minor skin injuries can be cleaned with mild soap and water and treated with a healing powder.

One of the commonest causes of summer dermatitis is the common flea. This dermatitis consists of itching areas on the back above the tail, over the shoulders, or on other areas. It is associated with a moist exudate or discharge or a bald spot with thickening and sloughing of scabs or dandruff-like material.

Control of fleas and simple treatment of the area involved will usually control this skin ailment.

Feeding Tip: Dogs, like children, often prefer candy to vegetable, meat, and potatoes. Your dog will be better nourished with a complete dog food like Friskies.

from the County ASC Committee

1957 COTTIN ACREAGE RESERVE

Cotton producers in Donley County should have received cards informing them of their 1957 payment rate for cotton Acreage Reserve. If any are interested in entering into a 1957 Acreage Reserve contract, you have through March 1st to sign a contract. The maximum amount of acreage that can be put under an agreement is 30% of the farm allotment or 10.0 acres whichever is larger. If there are any producers who would like to have more than the maximum acres in the Acreage Reserve, he should tell the clerk at the time he signs up. If the county's budget is not used up after the final signing up date, those who indicated that they wanted more will be allowed to put that amount in. You will not get an additional amount if you do not tell the clerk when you make the first application that you want more. The Acreage Reserve agreement is for only one year at a time, and no crop may be harvested or grazed from the acreage during the year. You will be requested to designate the acreage when you sign up and no cotton can be planted on this acreage during 1957.

GRAZING ACREAGE RESERVE

Permission to graze 1957 Wheat Acreage Reserve has been extended to February 28, 1957. You can graze the land that you plan to designate as cotton Acreage Reserve up until the date you sign a cotton Acreage Reserve Agreement.

1957 WHEAT PERFORMANCE

Reporters have begun measuring wheat acreage and 1957 wheat Acreage Reserve. It is important that you remain with the reporter while he is measuring your farm so that you may help in plotting it accurately.

COTTON PREMEASUREMENT

Premeasurement services shall be made available to all farm operators requesting the service in connection with cotton acreages. Producers may make applications for premeasurement of their cotton land in the office now and through March 15, 1957. The cost of this service is $7.00 for the first plot and $2.00 for each additional plot.

Whereas, The Boy Scouts program has affected the lives of over 26,000,000 American boys and men since 1910, and now has an active membership of 4,500,000 and,

W. H. Cooke III Makes Good Showing With Hereford Bulls

W. H. Cooke III of Hedley made a good showing with his Hereford bulls at recent shows says County Agent H. M. Breedlove. Breedlove has been working with Cooke on his beef cattle improvement program for several years and says that this prominent Hereford breeder is getting better all the time. He showed a pen of six junior bull calves at the Amarillo Fat Stock Show and took first in his class and won the reserve champion pen of six bulls. He took a pen of five junior bull calves to Fort Worth and went up against some of the toughest competition in the country and won fourth place.

Mr. Cooke bought two bulls at Fort Worth. One bull was bought from Hull-Dobbs at their private sale at Saginaw, Texas and was a son of Zeto Heir the twenty seventh, a bull that Hull-Dobbs paid forty five thousand for a half interest. His other bull was bought from the Turner Ranch and is Real Silver bred bull. These young bulls crossed with his present breeding should give him some of the best bred cattle in the country. Mr. Cooke says that some of the calves from these bulls will go to 4-H club members for their breeding projects. He gave a Hereford calf to the best Hereford in the Donley County Fat Stock Show and it went to Jean Harrison of Hedley who fed the grand champion.

Dale Carnegie Course Begins Here

The first demonstration meeting of the Dale Carnegie course was conducted in the basement club room of the Donley Hotel last Tuesday, February 5.

Indications of a good response were seen at the first meeting, and Emmett Simmons, president of the sponsoring DCCI organization, said, "The general public is again invited to this meeting to see what the Carnegie training is, how it is conducted, and what individuals may gain through the training."

Another meeting will be conducted next Tuesday, February 12, at 7:30 P. M. It will again be held in the Donley Hotel, where the class will be conducted during the 15 week sessions.

Many Clarendon residents have enrolled in the training, but a few more are needed to complete the class.

The Dale Carnegie Club International will again serve refreshments for all visitors at the meeting. Everyone is invited, and "Whether you're interested in joining the course or not," Simmons said, "you're assured an educational and entertaining evening."

Wayland Queens Defeat Comets, 43 to 32

The Hutcherson Flying Queens of Wayland College continued to hold their supremacy over the Clarendon Junior College Comets as they handed the local girls a 43 to 32 defeat here last Thursday night. It was the 88th consecutive victory for the three-time National Champions from Plainview.

The Comets battled the famed Queens to a standstill during the first quarter which ended with the score tied at 4-4. However, the visitors pulled away during the second quarter and held a 20-12 margin at the half. The Comets played even with the Queens during the last half and at one time in the last quarter came within five points of tying the score.

Jean Crawford, steller Comet forward, again paced the Clarendon attack with 16 points followed by Mary Mann with eight. Again, the Comet's inability at the free-throw line cost them a number of points. The Queens outscored the Comets from the field by only one field goal.

The largest crowd of the season was on hand for the game.

902 Poll Tax Receipts Issued Before Deadline

The local tax office reported business good in the Poll Tax department last Thursday when over 150 receipts were issued to bring the grand total to 902. This total included eleven exemptions. This figure certainly beats the total reported last Thursday but should have been even higher as this is only about half the number that was paid last year. With this total and the usual number of over age voters, we will have voting strength of around 1,300 in the county.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES IN CALIFORNIA

Elton Wilkinson, brother of O. L. Wilkinson of Clarendon, died in a Los Angeles, California hospital Thursday of last week. He had been a resident of that city for the past 10 years having moved there after living 23 years in Clarendon. He was 52 years of age. Burial was in Los Angeles.

Survivors include the brother, O. L. Wilkinson of Clarendon, and two sisters, Mrs. Mamie Hall of Amarillo and Mrs. Jay Devenport of Cheyenne Wells, Colo.

Bulldogs Lose To Amarillo Badgers In 68-58 Battle

The Clarendon Junior College Bulldogs experienced their "coldest" shooting experience of the season last Friday night and lost a thrilling 68 to 58 conference game to the Amarillo College Badgers in Amarillo.

The Bulldogs could hit only 18 field goals out of 55 attempts for a .349 average while the Badgers were hitting at a .682 average.

Boyd White led the scoring for the game with 21 points. Buzz Bailey accounted for 11 points and Steve Jarnigan, who has been averaging 19 points per game, could only hit four field goals and two free throws for 10 points. Cordell Brown, hustling Badger guard, was high for Amarillo with 16 points.

The teams played on even terms during the first ten minutes of the game for an 18-18 deadlock, but the Badgers jumped out in front 31-24 at the half. The Bulldogs put up a gallant fight during the last five minutes and pulled within four points at one time, but the Badgers hit three quick baskets in the last minute for the ten-point victory.

JR. HIGH BASKETBALL TEAMS PLAY McLEAN

The Clarendon Jr. High basketball girls defeated the McLean girls by a score of 24-20 in a closely played game Monday night. Alice Johnson was high point girl for Clarendon with a score of 12 points. She was followed by Barbara McBryer with nine points.

When we look about us these days and enter into the ever going and never ending argument that the younger generation is going to the dogs, we never fail to come but to one conclusion. That, if there are instances where we find a worse condition among our small fry that existed a few years back the blame can rest no place in the world but on the adults. Mostly we doubt that on the whole the real basic moral principles are any worse accordingly among our young than it is among our older folks. We still find that in the families where raising their children is the most important thing in their life, and no stone is left unturned to help them grow up to be the very best possible, that mostly these children are solid and fine and wonderful boys and girls. Most of our troubles come from the parents who either fail to live right themselves or never teach their children to do so.

reach for the sky and miss we at least won't come up with our hands full of mud.

Every once in awhile we get a letter that has written on it, "Opened by mistake." More often than the above we realize too late that we opened our big fat mouth by mistake. I guess the hardest advice to take is the saying that "Advice not asked for is not wanted." Something will look plain as the nose on our face to us and we will stick our neck way out to give some advice and like as not we our entire unsolicited efforts will go completely unheeded and unappreciated and down the hatch. Yet, we never learn.

"Criticism is said to be the price that we pay for doing things." Anyway, it is only when we do something that we get criticized. If we could sit real still and never move or get in the way of anyone we might get by, but I doubt that because someone would just about call us a lazy no good. Anyhow just remember that sticks and stones are only thrown at fruit bearing trees. And that someone builds a structure and another just scribbles on its walls. I always think about this when I see some scribbling somewhere to the effect that So and So has been here. Actually, it seems very poor taste to me for any club, class, or what have you to write, paint or smear their name, year, or motto on some building, water tank, or out house. Just sort of like forging our signature on another man's property. How did we get off on this subject?

DONLEY COUNTY SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Irrigation farming is rapidly increasing in the Donley Soil Conservation District. Because this District is divided into two land resource areas—the High Plains in the northwest corner of the District and the remainder in the Rolling Red Plains — irrigation problems vary widely. The only satisfactory way to irrigate most of the land in the Rolling Red Plains is by a sprinkler system. However in the High Plains and on a few farms in the Rolling Red Plains, other methods of irrigation are satisfactory. Following is food for thought for those planning to irrigate land by other than sprinklers.

The pumping of irrigation water on the high plains is an expensive operation. With the cost of butane at 6½ cents per gallon, the fuel cost for pumping alone on a well with a 900 gallon per minute output and a lift of 350 feet is $1.05 per hour. Every two hours that your pump is running costs you another bushel of wheat alone, not considering your labor, depreciation on the motor and pump, and the oil expense.

Since the pumping cost is high and crops being irrigated may have a low return per acre, every possible effort should be made to obtain a high efficiency out of your irrigation water. The factors that enter into obtaining this efficiency are: The rate at which the soil will take the water, the length of run, the grade in the row, the amount of water available, depth of application, crops being irrigated, and water loss to evaporation and deep percolation. If you fail to consider any one of these, your efficiency will be lowered.

Border irrigation is one method used to help obtain a more uniform penetration and does away with the costly tail water. This method of irrigation is particularly adapted to steeper land. The field is broken up into small strips varying in width from 20 to 60 feet. The area between the strips is leveled and each strip is watered as a unit. The borders on each side of the strips are high enough to prevent the water from breaking out on the leveled strips below it. This type of system allows the use of all rain-fall since there is no run-off, but is expensive to install, and farmers don't like because of the small areas.

Field leveling is another method used to increase the returns from irrigation water. This method is used on flatter lands and areas leveled vary from 10 to 80 acres in a block. After a piece of land has been field leveled, it may be used to grow row crops and furrow irrigated, or temporary borders put in for drilled crops. Field leveling provides for a more flexible means of farming and watering.

The most widely used method of irrigation on the flatter slopes in this District is furrow irrigation. As a rule its efficiency is lower than any of the other methods. Since there is little or no dirt moving expense to prepare the land for irrigation, this is the system most used. For correct furrow irrigation, the grade should not exceed two tenths of a foot per 100 feet of length. Water should first be applied at a rate four times the intake rate of the soil. This fast rate of application rushes the water to the end of the rows. After the water reaches the end of the row, the amount of the water applied should be cut back to equal the intake rate of the soil. This allows for uniform penetration without excessive tail water.

Figuring out an efficient irrigation system is much too technical to go into in this article, this information is available to you through the technicians of the Soil Conservation Service assisting the Donley District.

By May L. Prewitt

There are several books ready for your entertainment this week. For Juniors we offer, "Old Yellow" by Fred Gipson, and "Black Tiger" by Thomas Hinkle.

Fiction is Nelia Gardner White's "A Little More Than Kin." Her stories are usually worth one's reading time. There are some memorials from the Porter Memorial Fund. These are "The Burden Is Light" by Eugene Price. This is a Spiritual volume. Another from this fund is a book of Dr. Ivan Belknap's entitled "Human Problems of a State Mental Hospital," and also "Arthritis and Common Sense." These are books that our readers have desired, but too expensive to buy with our meager income, so when donations are made to the memorial fund of some one, I try to purchase something that will interest most of my readers.

The children's books added are: "The Ugly Duckling," "Bed Time stories," "Wild Bill Hickok," "My Daddy Is a Policeman," "Here Comes The Band," "The Elephant Child," "What Are You Looking At?" "Choo Choo," "Timothy's Shoes," "The Little Bear and the Beautiful Kite," "Willy," "Poor Kitty," "Getting Ready for Roddy" and "Frisky."

This book was given by a friend in memory of Mr. Prewitt. Mr. Prewitt loved all phases of nature so he would surely appreciate two books recently commemorated to his memory — "The Birds Are Yours" and "World Out Side My Door." "Cheyenne Autumn" by Mari Sandoz is another memorial he would appreciate.

Dr. Evans always had such a lovely lawn, so the book, "Garden Clinic" by Laurence Blair was chosen by a friend for a memorial book to be commemorated to his memory.

Best thing about portable irrigation is that you get water where and when you want it. Hilly terrain is no problem. Sandy soil that sucks water out of ordinary irrigation ditches is no problem.

Portable irrigation is as precise as watering each plant by hand. What does this freedom from dry spells and troublesome terrain cost? A lot less than you think. We know farmers, right in this county, who have paid for their systems in two years—three years. They did it with better crops. By getting to market first. By being independent of drought.

Call us or stop in today and let us show you how to engineer a portable irrigation system to your farm. We carry complete systems, parts and the very finest Alcoa Aluminum Pipe.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

H. J. RES. 117

The big question in Washington today is the possible fate of House Joint Resolution 117, the so-called "Eisenhower Doctrine" or "Middle East Policy". Soon after this proposal was announced in President Eisenhower's first message to the Congress, a campaign got underway to sell it to the American people. The two major items in the proposal were the vesting of power in the President to send American boys into the Middle East, and the granting to the President of wide powers to spend money in that area. They quickly brought forth opposition from a number of people in our country. These were generally divided into three groups.

One group was against the granting of any of the powers requested by the President on the theory that the right to declare war should remain in the Congress; that the granting of power to the President to use armed forces in foreign areas was, in effect, granting to the President the right to wage war, declared or undeclared. Another argument by this group was that the United Nations had been formed to provide a police force to handle matters of armed conflict such as the Middle East situation. Another argument was to the effect that American tax dollars that had been poured into the bottomless pit of foreign aid had not produced the results that had originally been anticipated, and that the further lavish expenditures of such funds would constitute additional waste without effective results.

The second group vigorously opposed the use of armed forces of the United States, but did subscribe to the use of American tax money for both military and economic aid in the troublesome areas of the Middle East. Their reasoning was to the effect that, since we were a member of the United Nations, the entire matter of policing the area should be left to the UN, but that money would be needed by these countries in order to meet their economic needs, and that the providing of ample sums for this purpose would lessen the danger of shedding American blood in those areas.

The third group followed the school of thought that the power to send American armed forces into these areas should be vested in the President, because it was the only way that moves of dictatorships could be countered by this country. In other words, if a dictatorial country decided to move armed forces into an area, that decision could be issued at the same time; that if the President had to wait until Congress acted before such an order could be given, we would be at a serious disadvantage. This group felt that all sums expended in dealing with the Middle East problem should be devoted to military matters and none to economic aid grants. They argued that the military operation would be much more effective in settling the matter and that the granting of economic aid could well create a situation that would make the military operation more difficult.

Of course, there were other divisions of thought but the three groups above named seem to constitute the nucleus of the opposition to the plan. However, the sales campaign that was commenced shortly after the White House pronouncement was most effective and is gaining momentum. The result is that a substantial amount of opposition in all three groups was measurably reduced. Much of the opposition was converted to support of the overall plan, but on the condition that the power to send American boys into the Middle East should be separated from the power to spend American money in that area; that both powers be granted to the President as he requested, but that they be granted in two separate authorizations so that each could be weighed separately by the Congress and subjected to such limitations as the Congress might want to place on either or both of them. It will be approved by the House Committee on Foreign Affairs and by the House of Representatives in almost the same terms as requested by the President. There is still some doubt as to the form it will take when it is approved by the Senate. But the present trend, as indicated by the high powered sales campaign, indicates that any changes made by the Senate will be minor.

The punch line that is being used with telling effect in this campaign is that "the adoption of the Presidential proposal is necessary in order to stop communism". If this could be established, the vote for the proposal in both Houses would be unanimous. In fact, there would be no need for a vote. The proposal would be adopted by unanimous consent. However, the thinking of many Members of Congress is that the adoption of this proposal is an abdication of power by the Congress of the United States and poses a serious constitutional question in a strict interpretation of the Constitution.

China adopted tea drinking because the water was impure.

Duval Methods Closely Parallel Repression in Hitler's Germany

By—FRANZ ROSENWALD

SAN DIEGO, TEX.—The Parr family, ruling dynasty in the malodorous Duchy of Duval, was in the boss business long before Adolph Hitler was ever heard of in my native Germany.

Hitler was painting bad picture postcards and living in a Vienna flophouse while Tsar Parr was running things high, wide and handsome in this sun-seared section of Texas.

As a German, and reputedly a bit of an expert on dictatorships (I've seen the Red kind and the Brown, or Hitler, kind), I've been asked to look at Duval from that point of view. I came, I saw and I shuddered. Duval was too much like home.

Last anyone consider a Hitler Germany-Parr Duval comparison as an invidious one, remember that I'm making no such comparison. I don't have to. History beat me to it.

Let's look at a curious, and disquieting situation in Germany at this moment. Then we'll look at an interesting incident just a few months ago in the Grand Jury room in the Duval County Courthouse here in San Diego.

In West Germany "Nazis" are being brought to trial on all sorts of charges harking back to the days of Hitler, war crimes, theft of public funds, graft, political murder.

A few years ago these same men were mousy, quiet, biding their time. Today they're arrogant, truculent, threatening.

In court they thunder at the judge and thunder at the jury, daring them to convict. The day is coming, and soon, they shout, when the "right" will triumph, when the hated foreigner will be thrust from the sacred soil of the Fatherland. On that day true Germans will know what to do. They'll punish the enemies within and the enemies without.

This courtroom strategy is working like a charm. The frightened jurors are acquitting the Nazi bully boys one after the other.

Now let's get back to the Grand Jury room in the Duval County Courthouse here in San Diego.

Red-headed George Berham Parr, of Duval, has been hailed before the jurors and questioning him is Sidney Chandler, assistant to Attorney General John Ben Shepperd. Chandler doesn't get very far with the Duke. Parr stands on his constitutional rights, invoking the "Fifth Amendment"—that a man may remain silent if his testimony might incriminate him or even tend to incriminate him. Then the jury adjourns and Chandler mops his brow in frustration.

"Sidney," Parr said, "I've got something to say to the jury."

Chandler, curious, told him "Go right ahead."

Parr turned quietly to the jury and eyed each man in turn. He knew each man by his first name, and he reminded them of that. One grand juror was a Parr tenant, another an employee, several owed him money.

Then Parr's voice rose in fury to a crescendo. He shook his fist in the face of each man, shouting that soon there would be a new State government in Austin, a new government in Washington—and George Parr would again be firmly in the saddle. Then there would be a reckoning, a settling of scores.

One grand juror described the scene to me this way: "He yelled and screamed so loud you could hear him in Alice ten miles away." County employees came out of their offices and stood on the stairs outside the Grand Jury room, listening in awe. Parr's harangue went on for twenty minutes.

"I respect you as Grand Jurors," he raged, "but only so long as you sit in this room. Outside of this room I don't have to respect you a G... D... bit, not a damn bit. Outside of this room I do as I please. Remember that! Remember that, all of you!"

That Grand Jury, white-lipped and frightened, listened—but right there the parallel ends. Unlike the cringing jurors in Germany that jury in Duval braved the threat of wrath to come and voted thirty-one indictments against members of the Parr machine.

We'll take just one more example of intimidation, an effective weapon in the hands of any efficient political boss or any dictator. Here in San Diego those terms are interchangeable.

On Monday, July 16, my writing partner and myself sat in the court room in San Diego, District Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin presiding. The suit, brought by Manuel Trevino and Manuel Olivares, was to contest the results of last April's civic elections in San Diego when Parr forces captured four out of five seats on the city council.

The action was of particular importance because if it succeeded in unseating one of two Parr men, Alberto Garcia or Leopoldo Sepulveda, the Duke of Duval would have been stripped of his private army, the San Diego police force.

Here's the way it works: Never in its long and stormy history has San Diego had a police department. None was needed because the sheriffs of Duval County and Jim Wells County, together with their deputies, were well able to handle things to the taste of George Berham Parr. At one time Duval County alone had as many as 200 deputies, gun-slinging pistoleros. Some people put the figure as high as three hundred.

But Parr no longer controls the sheriffs. So the San Diego council dutifully gave him a police force with Manuel Amaya, former deputy sheriff, as chief.

Amaya and his constables are officially paid $50 each per month. Under Texas law a peace officer must be paid at least $40 per month from the public purse, before he has the right to pack a pistol.

I have talked to these men, sat with them in the Windmill Cafe, favorite haunt of Parr supporters. They eat well, dress well, have their own cars and show no signs of poverty. Yet their official pay is less than $12.50 per week. Parr reputedly makes up the difference out of his own pocket.

I watched these men in action in Judge Laughlin's court room that hot and sleepy afternoon.

It was a job of straight, out and out intimidation of witnesses.

One lone Texas Ranger, Wiley Williamson, sat near the judge's bench, keeping a wary eye on the scene.

Parr's policemen, their .45's loosely holstered, circulated about the big room, here whispering into the ear of a witness, there patting another on the back, digging playful knuckles into the ribs of yet another.

The policemen were smiling, jovial, friendly. But the witnesses weren't smiling. They had fright written all over their faces.

Through a Spanish interpreter the witnesses, dozens of them, were sworn in as a group. Then the questioning began, with the interpreter relaying the questions and answers. It was amazing how much the witnesses couldn't remember. Their voices were hardly audible.

They couldn't remember, for example, whether they'd ever been convicted of a crime and so lost their right to vote. Or whether they'd received pardons from the governor and so regained their civil rights. One after the other they shuffled to the stand.

My partner and I were in the courtroom for but part of one afternoon of the four day hearing. That was enough to see Parrism in action.

At the conclusion of the hearing Judge Laughlin ruled that one Parr man, Leopoldo Sepulveda, had lost his seat to Manuel Trevino. The election of Alberto Garcia was confirmed, but the anti-Parr forces now had a three to two majority on the city council. The case was immediately appealed, the Parr man keeping his seat for the time being.

Thus George Berham Parr keeps his police force.

(Note: since this article was written another election was ordered by a higher court and Parr lost control of the city government. Thus his last means of keeping his pistoleros armed was taken away. Earlier he lost control of the Commissioners Court after a months-long series of court battles with Attorney General Shepperd, and saw his old enemy Donato Serna installed as Duval County auditor after more than a year of resistance which took the case up to the Texas Supreme Court. Putting an impartial man in the county auditor's position, Shepperd explains, was the key to blocking Parr from the misuse of county funds. The San Diego city government was Parr's last ditch, from which he is now evicted.)

Boy Scout Week To To Celebrate 47th Anniversary

The nation's 4,500,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers, and adult leaders will celebrate the 47th anniversary of their organization during Boy Scout Week, February 6 to 12.

The observance has as its theme, "Onward for God and My Country" with a special emphasis on "Duty to Country."

Sunday, February 10 is Boy Scout Sunday. Scouts and leaders will attend religious services in uniform in countless churches of all denominations. Those of Jewish faith will hold their observances in synagogues and temples on Friday evening, February 8 and Saturday, February 9. Many sermons, addressed to Scouts, will touch on some aspect of the Boy Scout Week theme.

In hundreds of communities, Scouts, their parents, and institutions sponsoring Scout units, will unite in paying their respects to the volunteer adult leaders whose contributions of time and effort in behalf of youth makes these units possible.

National Scout officials say that 48.7 per cent of all Scout units—and there are 111,000 of them—are made possible by the sponsorship of churches and synagogues of all faiths. Civic groups make possible 30.8 per cent, while schools sponsor 19.9 per cent of Scout units in all three age levels.

Many store windows will be given over to Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Explorers for displays of their handicraft and to demonstrate some of the useful skills they acquire through their programs.

In countless elementary, junior high, and high schools, Boy Scout Week will be recognized in school assemblies through flag ceremonies, acts, and stunts by Cub Scouts, exhibits of handicrafts by Scouts, motion pictures of Scouting activities, demonstrations of Scouting skills and talks by boys of some of their adventuresome activities.

Traditionally on February 8, the actual birthday date of the organization Scouts and leaders recommit themselves to the Scout Oath or Promise at 8:15 P. M., in each of the four time zones. These ceremonies will take place, in some instances, at Scout family birthday dinners, while some Cub Scout dens, Boy Scout patrols and Explorer crews will meet in the homes of members.

Others will meet with their parents in churches and synagogues. At these Boy Scout Week celebrations many units will review its program highlights and the successes of the first year of the Four Year Program, "Onward for God and My Country," camping and other outdoor activities, and planning for participation in the Fourth National Jamboree which is expected to attract more than 50,000 Scouts, Explorers, and leaders for a week of camping together at historic Valley Forge, Pennsylvania next July 12 to 18.
