School Bond Assumption And Tax Election Set For Saturday, June 19th

The Board of Trustees of the Clarendon Consolidated Independent School District have ordered a Bond Assumption Election and a Tax Election for the 19th day of June, 1954. The election will be held at the School Tax Office in Clarendon, Texas. Polls will be open from 8:00 A. M. to 7:00 P. M.

The two elections are required by law since the recent consolidation of Martin School District No. 18 and Goodnight Independent School District with the Clarendon District. As a result of that election, it is necessary that the resident, qualified, property taxpaying voters of the enlarged Clarendon District vote for or against the Assumption of the outstanding bonds issued by the former Martin and Goodnight Districts.

Whenever the boundaries of a school district are enlarged, as in this case, it is necessary for a new tax rate to be set over the entire enlarged district, so that the rate will be the same over the entire district. The proposition that will be voted on in this election will be "Shall the Board of Trustees of the Clarendon Consolidated Independent School District have the power to levy and collect an Ad Valorem Tax of all property in said district, for the maintenance of the public free schools in said Clarendon School District and not to exceed $1.50 on the $100.00 valuation of taxable property in said district."

The present tax rate for the Clarendon District is $1.50 and this election will not change the rate in said district, but will equalize the rate with the newly added districts.

The qualified, resident voters of the original Clarendon District, the former Martin Common School District, and the former Goodnight Independent School District, who own personal or real property that has been rendered for taxation are entitled and urged to vote in this election. Do not forget the date, Saturday, June 19th, at the School Tax Office.

COUNTY SINGING AT GOLDSTON SUNDAY

The regular monthly meeting of the Donley County Singing Convention will be held at 2:30 next Sunday afternoon at the Goldston school house. A large crowd is expected and we want everyone who enjoys good singing or likes to sing, to know you certainly are welcome and urged to come Sunday afternoon, stated Rev. Ernest Phillips, president of the association.

Dusters Lose Close Game To Pampa

The Clarendon Dusters lost their second game of the season last Sunday afternoon at Pampa when they were edged out 12 to 11 by the host team. The weather was typical for a Duster ball game. A strong wind was blowing out of the south and there was plenty of dust swirling across the diamond.

The Dusters enjoyed a comfortable lead until the fifth inning when Pampa broke loose with a barrage of runs which included a home run that cleaned the bases with three on. This same thing happened in the second inning for the Dusters when Don Dorman hit a homer with the bases loaded. Clarendon racked up nine runs in the second and added two more in the fifth. Pampa scored one in the first, six in the fifth, three in the eighth and two more in the ninth. The Duster loss was attributed mostly to poor officiating which was very one-sided after the Dusters took such a long lead.

In other Caprock League games the scores were all high with each contest being decided by one and two runs. Hedley eked out over Pierce St. of Amarillo 15 to 14 and Groom took a 20-18 win over Amarillo Laundry.

First 1954 Wheat Brought Here Wednesday

The first load of 1954 wheat arrived in Clarendon early Wednesday morning. The wheat is owned by W. J. Lewis Jr. and J. L. Sisk and was grown in the Antelope Flat area. The wheat weighed 60 lbs. per bushel and had a moisture content of 12.87. Clarendon Grain Co. handled the wheat which went into government storage.

The dry hot winds of the past several days have done much to help mature the wheat all over this area and it is thought that more wheat will be arriving during the next week.

Increased Buying Noted During Dollar Days

Local merchants reported a larger volume of buying for the dollar days event just passed than the first, and more of the buying public expressed their appreciation of Dollar Day values as they were shopping. Local merchants are more aware that people are more thrifty minded these days and offered some enough specials that could be appreciated by anyone who was in the market for such items.

Shoppers were reported from a fifty mile radius. Buying came in spurts as our rural neighbors were busy in their fields planting. Business men participating in the Dollar Days event are already buying merchandise to offer at big savings when the next Dollar Days come up and are expecting an even larger number of shoppers at that time. They want everyone to know they can save more by shopping with Clarendon merchants and receive higher quality merchandise.

Dusters To Play Pierce St. Green House Sunday At Amarillo

The Clarendon Dusters will take to the road again next Sunday to meet Pierce St. Green House of Amarillo at Amarillo. Game time will be 3 o'clock and the baseball diamond is located on Osage Street. Turn right on Osage street about a block west of the State Highway Patrol headquarters on 10th, and drive north until you find the diamond.

Both the Dusters and Pierce St. are losers of their games last Sunday, and both will be in there doing their best to win, so this should be a very good game. This will be the first meeting of these two teams also as their first game scheduled here was rained out on May 9th. Pierce St. dropped their game last Sunday to Hedley by one run, 15-14 and the Dusters had a likewise score being defeated by Pampa 12-11. The Dusters will appreciate your support if you can make the trip.

More Moisture For Donley County

Thunder showers which invaded Donley County early Tuesday evening left heavy moisture over the west and north portion of the county, but apparently was less heavy in the eastern part according to reports received here Wednesday morning.

In the Goldston area, Sam Dale reported precipitation at 1.75. Ben Lovell reported that the Ashtola area received 2.25 inches which was the heaviest reported in the county. Van Knox phoned the Leader office that Lelia Lake had only received .85 inch. Here in Clarendon, Official Weather Observer Joe Goldston reported the total moisture at 1.41. This brings the total here in Clarendon since the first of the year to 9.63 inches.

Meager reports reaching the Leader office stated that it was too early to estimate just how much damage had been done to fields planted the last few days. In all probability some replanting will have to be done in the areas where the rain was heavy.

Persons past 65 years of age who continue in employment or self-employment covered by the Social Security Act often delay filing application for monthly payments until they actually retire from covered employment. Since they are still paying the social security tax they feel that they are increasing the amount of their eventual monthly payment by delaying the filing of an application.

According to J. R. Sanderson, Manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office, such a delay can possibly result in a decrease rather than an increase in a person's retirement pay. He points out that monthly payments are based on average monthly earnings. This average can decrease as well as increase after age 65.

The average is figured as of only two dates: The time the person is 65 years of age and has minimum employment to be entitled to payments, and as of the time he finally files application.

Sanderson, therefore, advises anyone who is now past age 65 and earning less than his average earnings have been for the past 3 years to contact his office. Anyone who is now at least 65 years of age and earned at least $3600 per year in 1951, 1952 and 1953 can file now and be entitled to maximum payments when he does retire. For such a person delay in filing cannot increase his payments, whereas such a delay can possibly result in a decrease.

tion in Alabama, spent a few days in the state, and planed off to Korea, where he and other state executives will make an inspection tour at the invitation of President Eisenhower.

While in the capital, Governor Shivers was very busy doing these things:

Answering charges of disloyalty to the Democratic Party by saying that when he supported Mr. Eisenhower for president in 1952 he was really fighting to preserve the principles of the party of Jefferson and Jackson because he wants the Texas party and the national party to return to those principles in unity.

Announcing that the campaign manager in his race for re-election will be State Senator Otis Lock of Lufkin, and that campaign headquarters in Austin would be opened right away.

Answering Stephen A. Mitchell, Democratic National chairman, who said that he would deal with the Texas Democratic Advisory council, rather than the state democratic executive committee. Shivers told Mitchell: "I strongly suspect that your statement is an announcement of your entry into the Texas governor's race. I welcome that challenge..."

Saying that Texas and other states would need years to work out compliance with the non-segregation rule.

Promising that as long as he is governor, there will be no state sales tax or income tax.

Naming Weldon Hart, chairman of the Texas Employment Commission, as chairman of the newly-created Governor's Economic Advisory Commission.

Announcing that John VanCronkhite, his former aide under attack in an insurance court case, is not in his present re-election campaign.

Loyd's Closed

After a nine-day hearing in 98th District Court here, Judge Charles O. Betts granted a temporary injunction, asked by the attorney general's department, forbidding the Lloyd's of North America Insurance Co. from doing business in Texas.

At one time, VanCronkhite was employed as public relations counsel for the company, he testified during the hearing.

Insurance Muddle

There was comment from several sources on the insurance situation.

Garland A. Smith, chairman of the state insurance commission, pledged the greatest possible protection to holders of policies issued by companies doing business in Texas.

Smith emphasized that state insurance laws are sound, fundamentally, but that some changes are necessary. He said some new laws will have to be passed, and that they probably will be, at the next session of the Legislature.

Attorney General John Ben Shepperd said he would appear before an El Paso County grand jury June 4 with evidence of possible criminal violations of Texas insurance laws.

At El Paso and other Texas cities, Shepperd has filed suits against insurance companies, forcing them into receivership. Charges have been that the companies were created through fraud and were insolvent.

advocates a law requiring publication of all financial reports on all government levels.

Shepperd also opposed secret sessions of governmental bodies, saying, "There is no place on an open door for a sign saying closed meeting or executive session."

What has happened in Duval County, Shepperd declared, "can happen anywhere, and will, unless the lesson is told and retold."

TV In Education

J. W. Edgar, state commissioner of education, has appointed a 56-member group, authorized by the Legislature, to study the role of television in education. S. Mortimer Brown, El Paso school superintendent, is chairman of the body.

Wets and Drys

Texas Rangers are investigating trouble between the wets and drys at Bandera.

Rev. Joe R. Townsend, Baptist minister in that West Texas resort and ranch town, moved for a dry election after saying that he had been thrown through a plate glass window.

Refunds Coming

Employers of Texas are going to get refunds amounting to several million dollars from the Texas Employment Commission.

A decision of the Supreme Court in a case concerning Todd Shipyards Corporation is responsible for the refunds. Todd maintained that its unemployment tax rate was too high and would have been lower if the corporation had been notified by TEC of all claims made by former Todd workers.

Lewis - Moore Nuptials Read

In a candlelight service at the First Baptist Church, Clarendon, Texas, Saturday evening, May 22, Miss Wanda Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Lewis, became the bride of Gordon Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Moore.

Rev. J. E. Byers, pastor, officiated before an archway of greenery entwined with orange blossoms tinted in blue and topped with a cluster of wedding bells secured with gold ribbon. The archway was banked with plumous fern and flanked with blue tapers in wrought iron candelabra, and baskets of white gladioli and greenery marked with blue satin bows. To the front of the altar blue tapers were seated in a base of greenery. A spray of fern secured with gold satin ribbon ornamented the kneeling bench. Tapers flanking the archway were lighted by Joe Shadle with little Miss Billie Carol Phillips, niece of the bride, attired in a gold taffeta dress with a bandeau of matching rosebuds, and Master Terry Moore, nephew of the groom, lighting the tapers at the altar.

Miss Mantie Graves, organist, played a nuptial prelude including "To A Wild Rose," "Serenade," and "One Alone," and accompanied Mrs. James Moore as she sang "Indian Love Call," and "I Love You Truly." Throughout the service Miss Graves played "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" as a soft musical background and as a closing prayer, Mrs. Moore sang "A Wedding Prayer."

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. W. W. Lovelady of Amarillo. Mrs. Lovelady was attired in a dress of blue nylon over taffeta. She wore a bandeau and wristlet of golden rosebuds, meline, and greenery. Wayne Moore, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Leland Lewis, brother of the bride, and Joe Shadle. Mrs. Doyle Walls, sister of the groom, presided at the guest registrar.

The bride escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of embroidered organdy over white satin, styled with a bouffant skirt, fitted bodice and three quarter length sleeves. Buttons extended from the small rounded collar to the center front waistline.

Her shoulder length veil of illusion fell from a half-hat of organdy and satin. She carried a colonial bouquet of a single white orchid and Calla glads with lilly of the valley secured in the love knots.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lewis chose a navy linen dress accented by a small white hat and navy accessories. She wore a corsage of yellow rosebuds. Mrs. Moore, mother of the groom, wore a navy crepe dress, white hat, navy accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents immediately following the ceremony. The refreshment table was laid with a lace cloth. The centerpiece of gold carnations and blue tinted orange blossoms in a silver footed epergne was flanked with blue tapers in crystal candelabra. Mrs. Bill Phillips served the beautifully decorated wedding cake while Mrs. Joe Brown of Amarillo dispensed punch.

For traveling, Mrs. Moore chose a navy linen suit with white trim. Her accessories were white and her corsage, the single orchid taken from her bridal bouquet.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Moore attended Clarendon Schools where Mrs. Moore was a member of the Kappa Sub Debs, and the F.H.A. After a wedding trip to New Mexico, the couple are at home at the Blocker Apartments, Clarendon.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lewis and Don, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Lovelady, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brown, all of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Turner and family of Altus, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Butler and Boyd White of Lelia Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Walls of Floydada; Mr. and Mrs. McHenry Lane of Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCoy of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Leland Lewis and boys of Groom; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lewis of Ashtola; Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Blair of Lubbock; Ned Barnes; and Pfc. FARM NEWS from the County ASC Committee

WHEAT MARKETING CARDS: Wheat Marketing Cards are prepared and ready to be delivered to all wheat producers who did not seed above their 1954 wheat allotment.

Wheat producers who are eligible may call at the County Office at any time now to secure a MARKETING CARD.

Cards will be mailed to those who have requested that service.

WIND EROSION CONTROL PROGRAM:

Applications for payment are now being prepared in the County Office for practices already carried out under the new Wind Erosion Control Program. No applications can be submitted for payment unless the statement concerning cotton has been signed by the producer requesting payment on a practice. If you have not been to this office to sign the statement that says, "I have not knowingly planted nor cause to be planted during 1954 cotton on any farm in which I have an interest in excess of the cotton acreage allotment established in 1954," your application cannot be submitted for payment.

NOTICE: A memorandum was received for the State Office stating that June 30, 1954 is the closing date for taking applications for 1955 "new" farm wheat allotments. "New" farm allotments apply to producers who do not have any wheat history for the past three years (1952, 1953, and 1954), but who want a wheat allotment for the 1955 crop year. All applications for "new" allotments must be made before June 30, 1954.

Someone remarked that the day of miracles was over, and then again some one remarked: "Oh no, that can't be. Just look how our wheat crop was all gone to the bad and then such a little while before it was altogether too late the rains came and within weeks a modern day miracle began to happen right before our eyes." Anyway, it wasn't just an every day accident and we should be so very thankful for all its benefits and use these blessings for the glory of Him who gives us all these good things. Always so much more than we rightly deserve.

Every time my dentist yanks out another one of my molars we are made to realize again how wise our Maker was when He filled our mouth so full of teeth.

It is said that there are two finishes for automobiles: lacquer and liquor.

The first Sunday in June was Shut-Ins Day. If you failed to write or visit some shut-in on that day it is not too late yet. Any time or any day is a good time to do this worthwhile deed. If you are a shut-in send us your name and address and we will strive to help you get more letters and other helps from friends. On the other hand if you would like to write to at least one shut-in send us your name and we will send you a name of a pen friend.

Dear John:

Many things have transpired since I last wrote you. First I would like to tell you about my church, (The Calvary Baptist). During the month of May we averaged 66 in Sunday School of an enrollment of 64. We also had one addition by baptism. And John, we had a visiting preacher last Sunday morning, Dr. Byron Todd, pastor, First Baptist Church, El Monte, Calif. Dr. Todd is the son of Mrs. A. P. Todd. He brought a wonderful message on "The Love of God." I don't believe our people will ever forget some facts he brought to us. We began a Vacation Bible School Monday the 7th and through Tuesday we have enrolled 86. The school is making fine progress and we expect to enroll a hundred before the school is over. Our workers are tireless in their efforts to make a successful school. The children are being trained in Handwork, Missions and Bible study.

John, if you are ever in our vicinity we invite you to stop in and worship with us. We have a number of visitors each Sunday and as fine fellowship prevails as one will find any where. Pray for us in this great work.

Sincerely,
Ima Baptist

Speaking of Shut-ins our little club that we sponsor among the readers of Southwestern Crop & Stock for them was in a large measure inspired by our good friend Tom Henry Miller, who is also almost a neighbor. We have always enjoyed our visits across the blocks with this friendly cheerful young man. From the different things that he does now one could hardly call him a shut-in even though he never leaves his bed. He has a leather craft business, a greeting card agency, handles flowers for all occasions, and will take your subscription to any magazine or your daily paper. Don't forget him if you live nearby and need any of these things. It just goes to show what one can do, where there is a will.

Jericho's Wall Came First

JERICHO—(American Peoples Encyclopedia News Service)—Recent excavations around this Biblical city of Jericho, disclosed that the people of that ancient city had learned to make houses and a wall before they discovered the art of making pots. With a continuous history of 6,000 years, Jericho is the world's oldest city. Today it has a population of about 1,000. During its long history, Jericho ("City of Palms") was destroyed by invaders' armies and rebuilt on or near the same site as many as 17 times. After Alexander's conquest of Persia (333-323 B. C.), Jericho became a cultural center with a fine university. When Herod the Great (d. 4 B. C.) came into power he rebuilt Jericho in Greco-Roman style, and made it his winter residence.

The Jericho which Jesus visited on His way to Jerusalem, had theaters, a hippodrome, a university, and resplendent palaces, temples, and synagogues. It was here, according to the New Testament, that Jesus gave sight to blind Bartimaeus and near here upon the mountain top that He resisted the tempting of Satan. It was upon the road to Jericho that He set the scene for His parable "The Good Samaritan."

Archaeologists have made extensive excavation in the mound of ancient Jericho, now known as Tell-es-Sultan. Seventeen settlements have been uncovered proving its extreme antiquity and existence through various periods of history from the Neolithic and Chalcolithic Ages onward.

An unbaked pottery head with polished shell eyes, found in one of the lowest stratas, dates from about 5000 B. C. and is considered one of the oldest art objects known to man and one of the earliest representations of the human form yet found in Palestine. Semitic sculptures, pottery, and other relics found are thought to be about 3,600 years old.

ANDY ROGERS

It was deep satisfaction in 1951, as a State Representative, to help create our new 30th Senatorial District and thereby give West Texas a fair share of representation in Austin.

It has been an honor, a pleasure and a privilege to serve as the first Senator from that new District.

In reviewing my record, I would be the first to insist that I have made mistakes. No doubt, I shall make others. These will always be honest mistakes.

As your freshman Senator, I gained the following committees: Chairman of Stock and Stock Raising; Vice-Chairman of Agriculture; Vice-Chairman of Education, and member of Water Rights and Irrigation, Veterans Affairs and Public Printing.

Major legislation I introduced, and which is now law, includes an amendment to the Gilmer-Aikin school program which has saved our District $250,000.00 of your local school tax money; Texas' first Grain-Warehouse and Grain Storage Law, and an act creating the Greenbelt Municipal Industrial Water Authority to build a dam on the Red River near Clarendon and Hedley.

My bill to prohibit the sale, publication and distribution of lewd, lascivious and vulgar literature and pictures in Texas passed the Senate unanimously, but died in the House of Representatives.

I consider water, its development and conservation, to be our most pressing State problem. I shall continue to do all within my power to keep the control of underground water resources in the hands of those who own the land.

When you elected me two years ago at the age of 27, I was the youngest Senator ever to have had the honor of serving West Texas. This is my fourth occasion to ask to serve the people of West Texas—twice as State Representative, and now, the second time as your State Senator.

This is the second time I have been unopposed. For this—and for all of your kindness, help, encouragement, cooperation, friendship and understanding—I say, "thank you" from the bottom of my heart.

I will appreciate your vote and support and pledge my best to the opportunity of serving you again. I shall approach the job humbly and prayerfully.

Continental Oil Co. Introduces New Super Motor Oil

HOUSTON — Approximately 31,000 Conoco motor oil dealers from coast to coast and from the Canadian border to the Rio Grande this week are introducing Continental Oil Company's New Super Motor Oil, described as "America's first double-duty motor oil".

"New Conoco Super Motor Oil is beyond question the finest motor oil Continental Oil Company ever has produced," Harry J. Kennedy, Conoco's vice president in charge of marketing, has declared. He pointed out that Conoco has been for many years an acknowledged leader in developing advanced lubricants, and was the first oil company to market an additive motor oil, in 1922.

The new Conoco oil is the product of extensive research and testing, according to Mr. Kennedy. More than 118,000 man hours of research work went into the development of its formula before it ever left the research laboratories for testing, he said. In addition, the oil was subjected to the equivalent of approximately 1,500,000 miles of tests in automobiles, truck and tractor engines before being offered to the motoring public.

"Conoco's new oil meets with margin to spare the exacting lubrication requirements of modern day high-compression engines in all types of service, especially the stop-and-go driving that accounts for the biggest part of car mileage," said Mr. Kennedy.

The new Conoco oil is being launched this week with the beginning of an intensive advertising program, including advertisement in The Leader.

Scientists have discovered more than 300 chemicals that will damage cancer cells, the American Cancer Society disclosed. Further tests will be made to learn if any of these might be developed as a useful cancer treatment.

Cancer is a disease that menaces mankind from the cradle to old age, the American Cancer Society points out. It kills more children from 3 to 15 than any other disease and yet half of its victims are over 65 years of age.

RAIN IN TEXAS:

When I had the pleasure of spending a weekend in Texas recently, I was overjoyed to find that practically every section of the State has now been blessed with rain. Some areas received the first abundant rainfall they have had in several years.

Some weeks ago I expressed the hope, based on information from the Weather Bureau, that the Texas drought would shortly be broken. That has happened. All of us are thankful.

But the relief brought by the rain must not blind us to the fact that Texas still has a water problem of major magnitude.

ACTION ON WATER:

Some of the friends with whom I have discussed this matter say, "Everybody is talking about water. Is anybody actually doing anything if so, what?"

It is a fair question. I am happy to report that from the Federal angle—with which I, as your Senator, am concerned—a great deal is being done and a great deal is being planned. I want to tell you about some of these activities.

RESERVOIR PROJECTS:

Throughout Texas, Congress has authorized 20 major reservoir projects for construction by the Army Corps of Engineers.

Each of these projects was conceived as part of an overall plan to benefit the entire river basin in which it is located. Harvested floodwaters stored in these reservoirs will be made available for industrial, agricultural, and municipal use.

These reservoir projects form an important part of the long-range solution to the Texas water problem.

STATUS OF DAMS:

Thirteen of the 20 authorized dams have been completed or are under construction. They include Addicks Dam and Barker Dam in the Buffalo Bayou Watershed; Belton Dam and Reservoir; Benbrook Dam, near Fort Worth; one dam of four authorized on the Neches and Angelina Rivers basin; Garza-Little Elm, between Dallas and Denton; Grapevine Dam; Hords Creek Dam and Reservoir, near Coleman; Lavon Dam, in North Texas, on the East Fork of the Trinity; San Angelo Dam; Texarkana Dam and Reservoir; Lake Texoma; Whitney Dam and Reservoir.

These 13 projects, when all are complete, will have a total controlled water storage capacity of 14,474,500 acre-feet. Their drainage area is 77,172 square miles.

multiplepurpose reservoir projects for flood control and allied purposes on the Brazos River and its tributaries.

OTHER PROJECTS:

Seven other reservoir projects in Texas have been authorized by Congress. Among them are three additional dams in the Neches-Angelina Rivers Watershed. The list also includes Canyon Dam and Reservoir, on the Guadalupe River; Lake Brownwood Dam and Reservoir; White Oaks Dam and Reservoir, near Houston; Ferrells Bridge Dam and Reservoir, in East Texas, near Jefferson.

Hardly a week goes by that I do not take some action which I hope will help get these authorized projects past the planning stage and construction started. I know how important they are not only to the areas immediately affected but to the State as a whole.

FUTURE PROJECTS:

In addition, I am pressing for authorization of other needed flood control and water conservation projects in Texas.

A few days ago, for example, I appeared with several Waco citizens before the Flood Control Subcommittee of the House Public Works Committee to urge authorization of a dam on the Bosque River, near Waco. This is one of several recommended

Future Demands On Our Water Supply

Texas Dept. of Agriculture

Water is our most precious mineral. It is an indispensable part of living. But in terms of present and future needs, it is growing alarmingly scarce.

The demand for water increases with each passing year. Water consumption records are set at an all-time high one month, only to be broken and surpassed the next month. It is a sobering fact we are using our available supply much more quickly than it is being replaced by nature.

According to W. P. Webb, author of "More Water For Texas", the population is doubling every half-century. If the consumption of water per capita remains uniform, the demand will double in the same period.

Actually, Webb points out, as the standard of living rises, as people move from the rural areas to the urban ones, consumption of water per capita will increase enormously.

For example, Texas in 1953 was consuming 34 times as much water as it did in 1890, although the population has increased only 3.2 fold. Texans were consuming 2.5 times the amount in 1950 that they did in 1940, though the population in that decade increased by only one-fourth.

In other words, each Texan is consuming 10 times the amount of water he did in 1890 and about twice the amount of 1940.

The ever-expanding industries in the state also are accounting for a terrific amount of our water—and will in years to come. They use many thousands of acre-feet of water.

An acre-foot of water equals an acre of land covered to a depth of 12 inches, or 43,560 cubic feet, or 325,800 gallons. Industry can make 22 tons of chlorine from one acre-foot, or 40 tons of sulphur, 36 tons of synthetic chemicals or 15 tons of rubber.

Surprising fact is that it takes 325,800 gallons of water to produce 200 pounds of beef or veal, or to grow 10,000 oranges or to raise only 200 pounds of cotton.

The estimated population of the nation by the year 2,000 A. D. is expected to be some 227 million persons, as compared with 151 million in 1950. It is obvious that a vast water conservation project is needed if our water supply is to meet the demand.

Some alligators have as many as forty sets of teeth during their lifetime.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Wise Stepmother

Have you heard about young Skeeter Roberts' unusual pet, the tame owl "Blinky"? He's had her about three years.

I say "her" because up to a couple of weeks ago nobody was quite sure. But now "Blinky's" a mother—of two chicks!

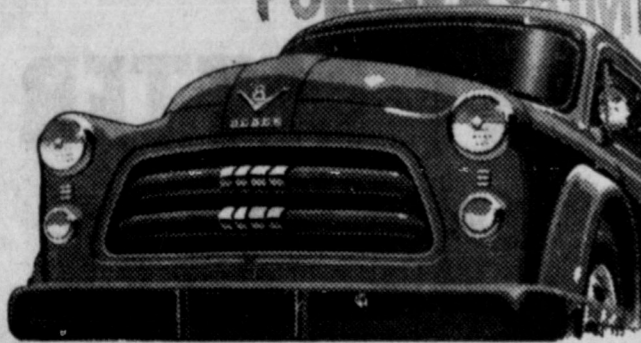

Seems "Blinky" had been acting kind of strange—so on a hunch, Skeeter put a couple of hen's eggs in her nest. Darn if "Blinky" didn't set on them for 5 days! Last Friday they hatched, and now "Blinky's" as proud as a mother hen! (So's Skeeter.)

From where I sit, there's a lesson for all of us. Guess you'd call it "tolerance." Birds and animals often seem to do better in that respect than humans. If I like a glass of temperate beer with supper and you'd rather have cider—it should be okay with both of us. Neither of us should give a "hoot" what the other fellow likes, says, or does, as long as he follows the law of the land. Right?

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

May 19, 1954

I saw an 1854 map of Texas this morning, and it was very interesting. At that time the entire Panhandle of Texas was a part of Bexar County. Bexar County is the county in which San Antonio is located. In 1854 it took in almost the entire western and northwestern part of the state. Immediately west of San Antonio there was a large tract comprising Uvalde County. The counties in Northeast Texas were all pretty well fixed, although there were very few towns. The major railroad came in close to Texarkana and swung south. It came close to Quitman, Texas, and very near what was then Waco Village. It extended on in a westerly direction and in the vicinity of El Paso. There were hardly any towns mentioned on the map west of Waco Village. Just think of the tremendous change that has taken place in 100 years in our own backyard. This is just a few years over the average lifetime of our citizens. If one thinks we are not living in a changing world, he has but to take one of these maps and carry it with him on a trip to Texas.

Speaking of history, I was in Montgomery, Alabama, for a few hours the other day. You will remember that this was the first capital of the Confederacy. However, we know that the people there hold no grudges, because on top of the railroad station is a tremendous electric sign which reads, "Union Station." I am sure that this structure must have been built after the unpleasantness of the 1860s, as I doubt if it would have survived.

UNCLE SAM, TRUSTEE

Did you know that Uncle Sam was a trustee of a group of islands in the Pacific Ocean, spread out over a territory larger than the United States. If you took all of the islands, 2,141 of them, and combined them in one land mass, that mass would be smaller than half the size of the state of Rhode Island, the smallest state in the United States. These islands are in 96 distinct atolls or unit groups. These 96 groups are divided into three main groups, known as the Marshalls, the Carolines, and the Marianas. Guam is not included as a trust territory for the reason that it has been in the possession of the United States since 1898. Uncle Sam occupied various of these islands in World War II in our Pacific campaign. Many of you will remember much reference to the Marshalls, the Marianas and the Carolines and the sea battles that we had there with the Japanese. The United Nations created a trustee-ship and confirmed the jurisdiction of the United States over these islands as trustee. This action of the United Nations and the trustee-ship created was ratified by Congress in 1947. It costs the United States several million dollars a year to administer and govern these islands. This is easily understood when you appreciate the fact that it is like operating several hundred 40-acre farms scattered over an area the size of the United States and separated each from the other by several hundred miles of water. Most of these islands had been under the jurisdiction of Japan since 1920, when Japanese control was confirmed in the form of a mandate from the League of Nations. Japan took over most of the islands by military operations in 1914 from the control of Germany. Germany had purchased the Marianas and Carolines from Spain in about 1900. The importance of these islands rests in their strategic location. This importance was pointed up during World War II, and this country is very fortunate in having control of this territory. Actually, we took these islands by force of arms and could have kept them. However, in all fairness, we worked with the United Nations and the United Nations created the trustee-ship referred to. The future status of the islands is now the subject of hearings before the Congress, and I thought the people might like to know what was meant when we speak of the Trust Islands of the Pacific. It is entirely possible that they may be in the news in a big way in the next few years.

What Has Happened To The States' Rights Crusade?

I had sincerely hoped that this Congress would not pass any legislation designed to further centralize the government of this country in Washington, and would relax some of the centralizing holds that have been grafted on the states. However, it seems that with each day I am in for more disappointments. Although much talk is indulged about states' rights and what the states and the people should be allowed to do for themselves, the legislation being presented to Congress seems to be going just the contrary. We are today discussing a bill that creates another advisory council to advise with the President. It seems that each day brings up a suggestion for some other type of council, board, bureau, agency, or committee to advise some department, agency, council, and the confusion is increasing. It will not be long until there will have to be a separate investigating committee set up to determine who is to advise who as to what, who is to take the advice, and most important, who is to pay for it.

Dr. Byron Todd of El Monte, Calif. who has been attending the General Baptist Convention in Chicago, stopped by Saturday night and spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. A. P. Todd and also filled the pulpit Sunday at the Calvary Baptist Church. He was accompanied by Mr. Edd Rollin, also of El Monte, Calif.
