Large Vote Expected In City Commissioner Election Tuesday

All indications point to a good turnout of voters for the City Commissioner Election which will be held next Tuesday, April 1st at the City Hall.

Three candidates have filed in the race with only two to be elected. Edwin Bailey, who has served the past two years, is seeking re-election. The other two candidates are Noel Cudd, Jr. and Willard Skelton.

The one thing to remember is that your vote can be the deciding vote for the men of your choice to head our city affairs—so be fair to yourself and your candidate by going to the City Hall next Tuesday and vote. No one else can vote for you.

KENNETH DAVIS WINS BOUT IN NEW YORK

Kenneth Davis, Marine sergeant, of Clarendon and now stationed in Los Angeles, won a unanimous decision over Isaac Chestnut, army corporal representing Newark, in the inter-city bouts at Madison Square Garden Monday night. Ken is a repeat featherweight winner of the Chicago Golden Gloves. His many Clarendon friends are proud of his achievements and the name he has built from coast to coast.

Red Cross Aids Disaster Area

Because of the overwhelming disaster which crushed dozens of communities in Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi, and Missouri on March 21, 1952, the Red Cross has an added burden of at least $5,000,000 for meeting human needs. This great emergency, the worst tornado in a decade, has caused thousands of chapter volunteers to be on duty since the tornado struck.

Miss Charlotte Molesworth, chairman Donley County Chapter American Red Cross, reports that the national organization is dispatching trained workers, including doctors and nurses to the stricken area. Food, clothing, and shelter are being provided. Whole blood and plasma have been delivered by plane. Cots, blankets, emergency power generators, and water purifiers, are a part of the Red Cross equipment rushed to the stricken communities.

With the Red Cross reserve depleted, it is necessary to go to the public for this money, not as a separate appeal, but one to be combined with our present annual campaign. Miss Molesworth states that on this basis, our chapter's fair share has been set by the American National Red Cross in the amount of $150.00.

Carl Allmond, Fund Chairman, states that $1100.00 of the $1542.00 quota, has been raised to date. To those who have given, and who want to increase their donation, due to this emergency, may leave their contributions at any of the three Clarendon banks. To those who have not yet "Answered the Call" your generous support is greatly needed.

Donley County Leader. $2.50 year.

Three More Days To Buy Car Tags

Apparently some seven hundred people will be involved in the mad rush at the tax collectors office between now and Monday afternoon March 31st which is the deadline for purchasing vehicle license plates before a penalty is added, and it will be unlawful to operate such vehicle on any public road.

To date 1,035 passenger plates have been sold, 207 commercial and 293 farm. According to last year's figures, the total number is around 700 short. If you are one of this 700, tax officials are reminding you to be sure and bring along your title and last year's license receipt, for both are necessary to purchase your new tags.

Time To Treat Fruit Trees For Borers

Now is the time to treat fruit trees for borers says county agent H. M. Breehove. The borers that do the most damage to fruit trees are those that are just under the ground in the trunk of the tree. The soil can be removed to below ground level and if gum is found and holes in the trunk then you know the borer is at work.

Mound up loose dirt to about six inches above ground level and apply ethylene dichloride emulsion in a small trench around the trunk of the tree, approximately one pint to a tree is the proper dosage depending on the age of the tree. Cover up the trench after the chemical has been applied and the fumes go down and kill the borers. This treatment should be applied to fruit trees in the next two weeks and the chemical can be bought from your local druggist. If more information is needed be sure to call by the office of the county agent.

Phelan Reports Successful C of C Membership Drive

"The Chamber of Commerce now has almost a hundred and fifty members, the largest it has ever had in the memory of most of us," were the remarks of Frank Phelan, Jr., General Chairman of the Membership and Finance Committee, at the Chamber of Commerce board meeting Monday night. "Forty-one new members have been added to the rolls, thirty seven have agreed to raise their membership dues and there are still a few firms and individuals to be contacted. The finances of the Chamber, while nothing to brag about, are in better shape than at any time in the last three years," continued Phelan with his report on the membership drive conducted last week.

Bob Moss, President, stated yesterday, "We have been doing some careful consideration, trying to get the best and most capable person to head each of the General Committees for this year. Before announcing these appointments we want to talk with the individuals on each phase of the committee activities. We need every member to fill in the check sheet for committee work and get it turned in as soon as possible so that we can announce the full committees as soon as possible", he continued.

"All of our General and Special Committees cannot be activated at one time but we hope to activate from one to three each week till they are all working on the program that has been adopted commencing next week," he concluded.

In other routine business the board favored employing a part-time clerical employee, at least until such time as the operating budget becomes current.

Gabie Betts Burton Library Notes By May L. Prewitt

"Famous Soldiers"—a book edition for teen age boys, is a gift that they can enjoy. The Bible tier of shelves has received some gifts recently from a friend in Utah. These are "A Short History of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints" "The Book of Mormon," and "These Amazing Mormons" by Joseph H. Weston.

We have the first of James Streets "Dabney Series"—"Oh, Promised Land". This is a reprint from 1940. The demand for these books, after his writing "Mingo Dabney" has resulted in our securing the entire series. We have a reprint of Elizabeth Seifert's "Orchard Hill". These reprints can be purchased at less than half price and when they happen to be worth while editions we do not have, they add to our selves. Some of them have apart missing due to a repeat in the type set up, we suppose.

The Lion's Club has arranged for our children's book shelves. These books necessarily have their "side exposures" to display the titles. This all calls for a different arrangement of shelves. We are truly elated to have the aid of the Lion's Club, as "the children" are the most frequent patrons we possess.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Taylor and Mrs. Reeford Blackwell and daughter Susan spent the last week end with Mr. and Mrs. Steve Matthews in Lubbock.

News From The Office of Price Stabilization

The Office of Price Stabilization employed an average of 7,405 persons and spent a total of $55,703,558 in 1951. Director Ellis Arnall announced today. Mr. Arnall became OPS director three weeks ago. Today he said, "It is a good thing to let the public know about the operations of the agencies of their government. I have been impressed by the fact that the OPS program of stabilization prices cost each American only 36 cents last year."

"On the basis of the most conservative estimate of what would have happened to prices if control had not been in effect, each man, woman and child in the nation was saved many, many times the cost to them of the stabilization program."

The year's average employment for the agency was divided into 1,752 persons in the national office and 5,653 in the 14 regional and 89 district offices. Total salaries were $10,508,892 in Washington and $28,672,858 in the field. Additional expenses, for services, equipment, printing, distribution of regulations, etc., came to $8,845,478 in the national office and $7,678,330 in the field

OPS total adjusted budget allocation for the fiscal year 1952, beginning July 1, 1951, and ending June 30, 1952, is $71,167,500.

Of the total budget allocation, $45,071,206 had been obligated as of February 29, 1952. National headquarters accounted for $12,162,800 of this total, and the field offices, $32,908,406.

At the close of last month, 11,796 persons were employed by OPS—2,476 in Washington and 9,320 in field offices.

Referring to the accomplishments to date in the stabilization field, Mr. Arnall said:

"As important as is the congressional act creating the Office of Price Stabilization and providing for direct price controls, there were other factors entering into the successful fight to hold the line.

"Increased production relieved some of the inflationary pressure.

Improving Moisture Conditions Over Limited Areas of Wind Erosion Belt Have Reduced Wind Damage

EDITORS NOTE—The following article was prepared by SCS Regional Director Louis P. Merrill, pertaining to potential wind hazard in Texas.

FORT WORTH — Improving moisture conditions over limited areas of the wind erosion belt of Oklahoma and Texas have reduced by 200,000 acres the total acreages exposed to wind damage, the Soil Conservation Service reported today.

SCS Regional Director Louis P. Merrill said the total in acreages not adequately protected by cover or plant residues declined in the last half of February from a blow-season high of 4,728,000 acres to 4,526,000 acres by month-end.

Sharpest drops in acreage exposed were at Guymon, Oklahoma, and Childress, Texas. Other Western Oklahoma areas, with the exception of Altus, reported winter cover making gains with improved soil moisture. Conditions in the Altus area had declined.

Although land undergoing wind erosion damage in the Oklahoma panhandle section remained at 160,000 acres, District Conservationist J. F. Bailey at Guymon reported early planted wheat making sufficient gains to reduce unprotected acreages from 500,000 acres a few weeks ago to 450,000 acres as the month ended.

In the Childress area, SCS District Conservationist George Taylor said conditions are improving with little soil blowing expected during the rest of the season. Exposed acreages dropped there from 200,000 to 120,000 acres in a two-week period. Taylor said he had observed that sorghum stubble in the Wheeler County Soil Conservation District had proved especially effective in preventing soil movement. Wheat, rye, clover and new alfalfa, benefited by several light rains, have been growing well.

Largest increases in unprotected acreage were at Big Spring, Texas, (where failing moisture sent the total from 398,000 acres to 429,000) and at Altus, Okla., where the new total is 76,500 acres as compared with 55,000 acres two weeks earlier.

Other field office reports to Regional Director Merrill show that where rains have fallen conditions generally are on the mend. At Lubbock SCS District Conservationist Homer Talff said wheat and other winter cover crops are making growth and conditions are generally improved. Moisture conditions remain good in his reporting area with the exception of the southern portion of Lynn County.

Areas checked by SCS men at Lamesa and Big Spring remained in critical condition with extremely dry conditions unrelieved by light showers. District Conservationist W. S. Goodlett at Big Spring said acreages undergoing wind damage in his area increased from 296,000 acres to 322,500 acres in the two week period with four sand storms occurring during the month. Blowing of some land is being controlled by deep-breaking

FARM NEWS

From the County PMA Committee

1952 GOALS FOR DONLEY COUNTY

Full production from American farms is essential in the defense effort; therefore, the highest level of production has been set as the aim for the most needed crops. Listed below are the 1952 Goals for Donley County.

Wheat—35,000 acres
Oats—5,000 acres
Barley—1,000 acres
Cotton—55,000 acres
Corn—3,000 acres
Grain Sorghums—50,000 acres

Farmers do not have to choose between helping produce what is needed to meet the 1952 goals or carry out soil and water conservation practices to protect their land for the future. They can do both.

The protective cover which many farmers have had on their land to keep it from blowing away during the winter, when turned under as green manure, serves to restore organic matter, release plant food and improve the tilth of the soil. This helps to increase production.

The terraces and contour farming help to hold moisture needed to increase production as well as to check run-off and erosion. Farmers are urged to keep in mind the 1952 production goals while planning their soil and water conservation practices.

APPLYING FERTILIZER TO PASTURES

For a long time it was believed that fertilizer didn't get down into the soil when it was scattered on the surface of a permanent pasture, and that the pasture plants could not get it, especially the phosphate.

That belief has been modified a good deal. Last year a pasture was fertilized on April 5 with 480 pounds of 10-10-10 fertilizer. It yielded 4,275 pounds of green grass to the acre. Another piece of land has exactly the same amount of fertilizer applied, 480 pounds of 10-10-10 but it was put on in November, 1950. It produced 2,200 pounds of grass. This yield from this spring application was about double that from the fall application; 4,275 pounds compared to 2,200 pounds.

When only 240 pounds of 2-20-20 was applied in the fall of 1950 it produced only 1,650 pounds of grass. That is from half as much fertilizer and a low nitrogen content. Pasture that was not fertilized produced only 975 pounds of grass per acre.

FARM NEWS
 From the County PMA Committee

Veterans Administration today announced for the first time the number of military personnel who have returned to civilian life as veterans since the Korean conflict started June 27, 1950. As of January 31, 1952, there were 655,000 living veterans with U. S. military service since the Korean conflict began. This is an average discharge rate of nearly 35,000 a month for the 19-month period.

Many of these since-Korea veterans also saw service during World War II.

A total of 135 veterans who were disabled in service since June 27, 1950, were being rehabilitated on January 31, 1952 under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act to overcome the handicaps of their disabilities.

Of the 135 veterans, 99 were in school training; 4, in institutional on-farm training, and 32, in job training. Institutional on-farm training combines classroom studies with practical work on the farm.

As of December 31, 1951, a total of 3,988 were drawing compensation for service-connected disabilities or pension for non-service-connected disabilities.

VA hospitalization was being provided on January 31, 1952, for 1,862 veterans with service since Korea.

In addition to living veterans with service since Korea, VA was furnishing benefits to dependents of deceased veterans of the Korean conflict. As of December 31, 1951, 17,061 dependents of 8,895 such deceased veterans were receiving VA death compensation or pension.

On the same date, VA had allowed 4,521 claims for indemnity payments to survivors under Public Law 23, the Servicemen's Indemnity and Insurance Acts of 1951. This is the law that provides a free indemnity of up to $10,000 less any GI insurance in force, for the immediate family of eligible servicemen and women who die in service or within 120 days of their discharge from service.

New members to the Ain't Smoking Right Now Society are: Peter Walsh and Moel Kennedy of Dublin, Eire (Ireland to most people). Anyhow, they were recommended for membership by our old pen-pal from St. Mary's Hospital in Dublin. He is Liam Hodgins a TB patient, who has been one of our boosters for some time.

Speaking of smoking, I will scarcely say anything against the habit for fear that someone will remind me of the days that I used to be a human smoke-stack myself, but if you would like to read an up to the minute article that will make you quake in your boots; will make you cough every time you see an Old Gold ad; read the article in this month's Home Life. It is written by a group of famous doctors.

We promised to tell you something about the St. Patrick's Day affair. It was fun. Few towns of any size put as much into a parade as does Shamrock. They go all out. They spend so much on it that it usually takes awhile to get up steam for another one. The parades are wonderful. I took dinner with the brother-in-law; this is the one without the appendix. This is also the one that feeds me on the cheaper cuts of meat unless I embarrass him in doing otherwise. I invited all my friends from hereabouts to have lunch with him too, but they let me down. This would have been wonderful. Anyway, we had baked ham. Is that stuff high???

It seems such a simple and easy matter to reach an agreement with the Red negotiators in Korea. We just have to do the same old thing over and over again; just give them their way about it all. I wonder will we ever be able to win back our self respect. Surely, congress will do something to insure that never will we stick our foot in someone's bear trap again without some thought ahead of time. No one knows how to get out now that we are in.

Have you read any of the propaganda put out by the friends of Sen. Kerr in behalf of his chances to be president? "Was born in log cabin, fought in bigger wars than Buffalo Bill, Senate strong man, and a farmer. Friend of poor, rich, farmer, laborer, school teachers, New Deal, Old Deal, and if that missed any one he loves them too." Um, Um, sounds too much like the same old line.

"Days for deeds are few, my Brother; Then today fulfill thy vow, If you mean to help another, Do not dream it—do it now." —from High Lights

Someone has said that; it was easier to do a job well than to explain to everyone why you didn't.

7,000 MILES OF LINES ADDED TO THE UNITED GAS SYSTEM

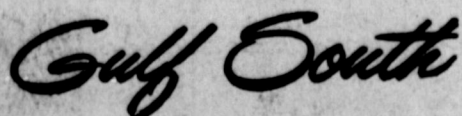

Dependable natural gas service is one of the most important factors in the growth and development of the Gulf South. To assure dependable service to United Gas customers, our company has built some 7,000 miles of lines since 1941—to gather gas in the fields, to transport it to markets, and to distribute it within those markets. That's a lot of pipe... and every foot of it was laid right here in the Gulf South.

Our company's expansion is a reflection of the growth of the Gulf South, and it is our desire, like that of every good citizen of this progressive area, to accept the responsibilities which are logically ours to help assure a continuation of this growth.

To The People of The 18th District

By Cong. Walter Rogers

THE TIDELANDS: The tide-

lands issue is presently being fought out in the Senate, and as of March 13th remained as the Senate's unfinished business in legislative session. The leader of the fight for federal control is

Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming. He is a very able man, very resourceful, and thoroughly familiar with his subject. He has in his camp a formidable array of talent, the powers and abilities of which must not be discounted. The proposal now pending as S. J. Res. 20 provides for continuation of operations under certain mineral leases covering submerged lands of the continental shelf, to encourage the development of such leases, and to provide for the protection of the interests of the United States in the oil and gas deposits of said lands. This is in effect an interim proposition that would provide present exploration and operation for the production of oil and gas from these submerged lands; and would leave unsettled the burning question of whether or not these lands belong to the separate states or to the Federal government. The proposal on its face would appear most inviting to those unfamiliar with the background of the matter and the principles involved. Should the O'Mahoney proposal be adopted, it would be the "foot in the door" for federal control that could well be the death knell of Texas' hopes to recover property that rightfully belongs to Texas. I witnessed a recent television program in the nature of a debate between Senator O'Mahoney and Senator Long, of Louisiana, concerning the tidelands question. I noted with interest one of the arguments of Senator O'Mahoney. He stated that since the Louisiana purchase was paid for out of the federal treasury, it became the property of the federal government and that Louisiana, as a part of the territory so acquired, had no more right to claim the tidelands than would the other states included in the Louisiana purchase and the rest of the United States. He also pointed out that the California territory was ceded to the United States by Mexico. On the television program he had a map on which he pointed out these different territories in support of his arguments. The interesting thing to me was that he never once mentioned Texas or referred to how Texas came into the Union. The truth is that the above arguments could not possibly apply to Texas. The Texas case is entirely different. The unanswerable fact in the Texas case is that Texas retained title to its public lands and the source of the title to the land that you live on is a Texas patent, and not a United States patent. When Texas came into the Union, changing her status from a sovereign power to a state, and by the resolution of annexation retained her public lands, she owned the 10 1/2 mile strip of submerged lands along her coast, and she still owns them under every conceivable law of mankind. For the federal government to assume ownership of these lands is nothing less than larceny, whether it be by judicial decree or legislative edict. The Texas delegation will continue the fight to protect our property rights until this question is settled right, and it will not be settled right until these lands are returned to the rightful owner, the State of Texas.

the expenditures are examining and re-examining the operations of their departments. This is resulting in the trimming of small unnoticeable items that will mean millions of dollars in savings to the American taxpayer. The Congress is not going to be satisfied with the recommendations and reports of the departments, but is going to make deeper cuts and force the departments to absorb them. The action of the Congress on the appropriations bills that have come to the Floor indicates that the economy wave is definitely on the move. Unless an expenditure can be unquestionably justified, the Congress will cut it off. The members are searching the budget requests and the committee hearings for every possible means of cutting down. This is a healthy situation and I hope we can keep it going full strength. It is the opening wedge for tax reduction.

Most people would prefer to tell the truth, but would rather be courteous.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS

The School Tax Collector is asking everyone who owns property located in the Clarendon Independent School District, to come in and render your taxes for 1952, if you have not been contacted by the Assessor. It is impossible for the assessor to contact each and every one who is a property holder in this District. This is especially important if you have bought or sold property during the past year. The School Tax Office is located in the Chamberlain Insurance Building.

noble, mag-nif-i-cent (mag-nif-i-sant), adj. (A) Identified with sensuous splendor or sumptuous adornment (B) a thing of grandeur or majestic beauty (C) grand, stately. [-OF. -magnificence

What's Your Notion of Magnificent Motion?

WE'LL admit that we're taking in a lot of territory when we use a word with the definition shown above. But no lesser term can do justice to all the things that make a Buick such a joy to drive and to own. Splendor and sumptuous adornment you'll certainly find in its rich interior—grandeur you'll certainly find in the mighty flow of its power. But this is only background for what is justly termed its Million Dollar Ride. Yes, sir, magnificent is the word for this majestic beauty in motion. There's such an earth-hugging, mile-skimming feel to it, as it bullets along the highway.

It holds a straight course without weave or wander—seems to snug down to the road on curves. A massive X-braced frame gives it solidity. A torque-tube firms its keel. End-sway and side-roll are neutralized. The engine is Hi-Poised mounted on rubber pillows—and big, soft-acting coil springs on all four wheels soak up the jars and jolts, float you over road-ripples, "washboard gravel" or weather-pocked macadam as if they weren't there. Even its Dynaflo Drive* contributes to the smoothness of its forward motion by cushioning the transmission of its power.

How about taking one of this year's Buicks—SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER—on a cruise of discovery all your own?

Touch off its Fireball 8 Engine that's a gas-saving high-compression valve-in-head—head it out for the roads you know by past experience—and let it speak for itself. Even the price tag is eloquent proof that this is the car for you.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

GRAND JURY INDICTMENT OFTEN CONFUSED WITH CONVICTION FOR CRIME

What does indictment by a grand jury mean? Lawyers find that many persons are inclined to confuse indictment by a grand jury with a court conviction for a crime.

EDWIN EANES, Owner

This misconception is unfair to anyone who becomes the subject of a grand jury investigation. Justice, in the United States, is based on the theory that a man is innocent until proven guilty, and public opinion should withhold its verdict until the courts have had an opportunity to determine guilt or innocence.

An indictment is simply a written accusation presented by a grand jury to the district judge. It charges some person or persons with a crime. It is not a conviction. When a grand jury indicts a person it merely affirms that there is sufficient reason for him or her to stand trial. That is as far as the grand jury goes.

After that, the judge and the trial jury take charge of the case. At the trial the indictment is simply the State's pleading in the case, to which the defendant may plead "Not Guilty". The trial jury is instructed by the judge that it must not consider the indictment as any evidence of guilt.

All felony offenses in Texas, that is all offenses punishable by imprisonment in the State penitentiary, must be prosecuted on an indictment by a grand jury. A grand jury may indict an individual for a misdemeanor, an offense punishable only by a jail sentence or by fine, but this is rather an unusual procedure.

Misdemeanor cases are customarily prosecuted on the basis of an "information" filed by the County Attorney. This serves the same function as a grand jury indictment.

The importance of a grand jury verdict is this: If it votes a "True Bill"—that is if someone is indicted—the District Attorney must prosecute the person indicted; but if the jury votes a "No Bill"—that is, not to indict—the suspected person cannot be tried.

In most cases, the District Attorney informs the grand jury of persons or crimes to be investigated and produces the evidence for it. However, the jury is free to order any further witnesses it may wish to hear brought before it, and is by no means limited to the evidence the District Attorney produces.

A grand jury cannot require a suspect to testify before it. But suspected persons sometimes ask to be allowed to appear before a grand jury to testify in their own behalf. They may do so and still be prosecuted and convicted.

The grand jury procedure is one of the basic protections enjoyed by the common man against outrageous procedures of would-be tyrants, and dates from early Anglo-Saxon times. It assures that no person shall be forced to stand trial for a felony on the basis of a malicious or frivolous accusation having no apparent factual support.

When called to serve on a grand jury you share with a group of fellow citizens some of the most solemn responsibilities known to our democracy. Consequences of life-or-death importance may hinge upon your vote. (This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)
