Much Interest Shown In Castor Beans As Cash Crop

Much interest has been shown in the past year in the planting of castor beans as a cash crop in Donley County. H. M. Breedlove, County Agent, asks that everyone interested in planting some castor beans in 1952 to come by his office and give him their names so that he can get an idea of the amount of seed needed in the county and order in one lot so that the seed can be bought cheaper.

Castor beans are planted about the same time as cotton and from eight to ten pounds of seed are planted per acre. The price at the present time is around eleven dollars per hundred.

The production of castor beans ranges from five to nine hundred pounds per acre, depending on the fertility of the soil and weather conditions.

Breedlove says that he must have an acreage estimate from the farmers as he wants to try to work out a contract with the Baker Castor Oil company of Oklahoma City, for the marketing of the beans. This company is operating in Texas and has much acreage under contract in the Vernon area.

According to Breedlove the first thing we must do is see how much acreage would be planted in the county next year and then we can proceed from that point. If you wish to plant some castor beans next year then come by the office of the county agent and leave your name and acreage and discuss the matter with him.

Freezing weather has been recorded every night since the first freeze. This particular area had not received a killing frost prior to the freeze. The spell stopped all crop gathering until Wednesday of this week, but if the weather continues in a clear manner, harvest work will proceed at a rapid pace since the freeze killed all foliage.

Farmers Main Hub In Scrap Metal Drive

DALLAS—"Farmers, always on the vital job of producing food for our fighting men, and civilians, today began gathering a crop of tanks, guns and ships as well as refrigerators and automobiles, from fields and barns," according to Ernest L. Tutt, regional director, National Production Authority, U. S. Department of Commerce. This new "harvest"—iron and steel scrap for the country's steel mills and foundries, will be a continuous process, weather permitting.

At the request of NPA, more than 3,000 Department of Agriculture state and county mobilization committees are organizing local scrap groups to help move farm scrap to the mills. Additional sub-committees are being organized to reach farmers individually at the township level.

Mr. Tutt emphasized that only heavy scrap was wanted now, and that the campaign is not a farm-to-farm drive for tin cans. It is pointed toward recovering such heavy items as broken and worn-out machinery, plows, harrows and old horse-drawn equipment; also old mill and water towers, broken tools, anvils and sweeps.

"There is no longer a scrap shortage," Mr. Tutt emphasized. "The situation has become an emergency."

"In launching the current program, the Agricultural Mobilization Committees are performing a two-fold task," Mr. Tutt said. "First, they are making certain that farmers are fully informed. Second, they are taking steps to make it as convenient as possible for farmers to dispose of the scrap. When scrap moves through the farmer's gate onto the road to town, the biggest bottleneck in getting farm scrap to steel mills has been broken," he explained. For this reason farmers are urged to take their scrap to the nearest dealer or to consult their local farm equipment dealers for information regarding proper disposal methods.

In some states mobilization committees are meeting with local scrap dealers to discuss problems of collection. "Counties in Texas are making certain that buyers are on hand when the scrap is brought in," Mr. Tutt said.

Elsewhere on the scrap "front," the Mobilization Committee for Iron and Steel Scrap, organized to help uncover heavy industrial scrap, has reported a million tons of scrap sent to the mills since the campaign was inaugurated five months ago. In New Orleans, for instance, 15,000 tons have been uncovered by plumbing contractors.

Mr. Tutt pointed out that while iron and steel scrap is of paramount interest, copper, brass and bronze, aluminum and lead scrap, also are "vitaly needed."

Bro. John Reynolds and wife of Tyler, Texas spent Thursday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Pittman.

Air Force Band To Be In Amarillo November 10-11

The official United States Air Force Band from Washington, D. C., will arrive in Amarillo in the early morning hours of November 10 to take part in the Armistice Day Formal Opening of Amarillo AFB Parade. Ceremonies marking the official opening of the Base are scheduled for Armistice Day week-end, November 10 and 11.

Judged the nation's finest band by music critics all over America, the Air Force Band returned on September 10 from the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto, Canada, where more than three-quarters of a million visitors heard their concert.

Last summer, for the third time, the USAF Band made a two-month European tour that took them through ten countries and brought their music to the ears of more than half-a-million European listeners.

On November 10, the USAF Band will lead off the downtown Armistice Day parade in honor of the formal opening of Amarillo Air Force Base and will play for a review of Amarillo AFB troops on Sunday, November 11.

A concert by the USAF Band will be presented Saturday, November 10, in Amarillo's Municipal Auditorium. Limited numbers of tickets for the concert will be available from downtown merchants in Amarillo.

Sunday's review of Amarillo troops will follow the dedication ceremonies at Amarillo Air Force Base by a top-ranking general of the Air Force. The public is invited to attend the dedication ceremonies and inspect base facilities during the open house scheduled at the base from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m.

The appearance of the USAF Band will be set off by the colorful new uniforms which they will display. The official Band is the only unit in the Air Force allowed the privilege of wearing contrasting uniforms to distinguish their organization.

Featured with the band's appearance will be Pfc. Maurice Wilcox, four times World Champion Baton Twirler, who has made personal performances all over the world.

HERE'S WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT THE NEW TEXAS "SAFETY RESPONSIBILITY LAW"

- 1 Enforcement Begins January 1, 1952. On this date, the new Safety Responsibility Law, as passed by the Legislature, goes into effect. This law was designed to protect you against financially irresponsible drivers and owners of motor vehicles involved in accidents. It affects all drivers and motor vehicle owners (except Federal, State, County and City-owned cars).
- 2 What Must You Do After An Accident? Under existing laws, you must file a written report to the Department of Public Safety if your car is involved in an accident where there is a death, an injury or property damage in excess of $25. Under the new law, a written report must be filed within ten days if your car is in an accident resulting in death, injury or property damage in excess of $100.
- 3 You Don't Have to Carry Liability Insurance, But . . . If you are not insured against bodily injury and property damage liability, you must be able to deposit with the Department of Public Safety security equal to the estimated damage, not exceeding $15,000.00, to cover all claims growing out of an accident anywhere in Texas in which you or your motor vehicle were involved. If you cannot establish financial responsibility for the future, your driver's license and your motor vehicle license plates are automatically suspended.
- 4 It's Easy to Establish Financial Responsibility with a motor vehicle liability insurance policy. If you do not now have such a policy, call your local insurance agent today. He is a qualified insurance counselor who will be happy to advise you concerning your needs.
- 5 What is the Minimum of Your Liability? The law permits each driver to establish the following minimum limits of liability: up to $5,000.00 for injuries sustained by one person; up to $10,000.00 for all personal injuries resulting from one accident, and up to $5,000.00 for property damage. You do not have to establish such liability but it is the easiest way.

United Council of Church Women

World Community Day was observed Friday, November 2nd at the Methodist Church. Mrs. J. R. Bulls opened the meeting with prayer. Many useful articles of warm clothing were brought for homeless children in Korea. Fourteen large blankets and four baby blankets were brought to be sent to Church World Service. The offering of $51.85 will be divided three ways: $16.65 for the general fund; $15.55 for the Scholarship fund; $19.65 for the Leprosy fund. Election of officers was held and the following new officers were elected: Mrs. Elba Ballew, president; Mrs. Park Chamberlain, vice-pres.; Mrs. Carl Bennett re-elected secretary; Miss Mable Mongole re-elected treasurer.

Mrs. J. H. Howze presented "Crusade for Freedom" in an interesting and informative manner—giving a clear picture of the program material which is being broadcast to communist-occupied countries. Mrs. Millard Word gave a timely message based on the theme for this Community Day, "Live thy faith." The meeting closed with the song, "My God and I", which the council uses for a benediction, sung by Mrs. Heckle Stark and Mrs. Howze, accompanied by Mrs. Word at the piano.

Every church in the council was represented at this meeting—it is to be hoped every member of the council will work with renewed vigor and encourage our new president, always remembering the council's purpose: "Our purpose shall be to unite church women in their allegiance to their Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, through a program looking to their integration in the total life and work of the church and to build a world Christian Community."

Farm Bureau Meeting Held Tuesday

There was a meeting of the Membership Committee of The Donley County Farm Bureau at the County Agents office Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of turning in their members obtained, and to appoint a committee to draw up some resolutions for recommendation to the State Convention which begins Nov. 19th lasting through the 21st. At which time we must have in our membership renewals and also new members, in order to be credited with our proper number of voting delegates for our representation at the State Convention.

Your Farm Bureau is doing a wonderful job for you in State and National matters. One of our most recent benefits, is the 30c per hundred increase in the loan value on Milo that Texas Farm Bureau Pres., Walter J. Hammond secured for us from the Secretary of Agriculture. (If he could obtain 100 or at least 90% of parity on grain sorghums for us he would be doing us another great deed.) Well any way we did not have a very big turn out at our meeting Tuesday afternoon and are quite away from our 526 members which will give us 6 voting delegates to the State Convention. I did not pin the boys down and say, "You must give Farm Bureau a certain day and all of us get out on that day and canvas the County," because I felt like they were all too busy and could pick a time more convenient to them. Well they just never did get around to it: "It just simply did not work." So here we are the time is almost gone and we are far behind with our membership drive. The State of Texas would like very much to get its hands on that 4c per gallon gasoline tax that we are refunded on our tractor gas, if you burn as much as 4 bbls. per year. They will take that away from us next year if we don't keep on fighting for it. Haven't you noticed the articles in the papers about it? We will have to be on our guard even more in the next session. Farm Bureau claims a good share in the prevention of that last 5c "Rollback" in livestock prices also.

Let's all do our part; let's all become members of the Donley County Farm Bureau. Come to Lelia Lake School House Monday night, Nov. 12th at 7 p. m. Enjoy a chili supper with us, prepared by Flip Breedlove, and there will be some one on hand to take your membership.

Lee Shaller, President
Donley Co. Farm Bureau

Canadian Defeats Bronchos 31-7

The Canadian Wildcats retained their top position in District 1-A last Saturday afternoon by defeating the Bronchos 31-7. The Wildcats were just too much for the Bronchos to handle on account of the big weight difference. The Bronchos played a good game on a pound for pound basis but were outpounded by the Wildcat steam-roller tactics spearheaded by 220 pound Schaefer. The Bronchos held the visitors scoreless during the first quarter but were unable to keep them corralled during the remaining three quarters.

Schaefer and Hoover scored one time each for the Wildcats in the second quarter, then they slipped in a pass during the third period for 60 yards and made their extra point bring the score to 19 to 0. In the fourth period Schaefer plunged over for another, and another pass late in the fourth brought the score to 31. The Broncho score came in the fourth period when Hall flipped a long pass to Lefew for 40 yards and the counter and the extra point was added by Hearn.

The Bronchos played a good game in view of the opposition and the score would possibly have been different if Mooring had been permitted to fill his usual position.

Among those attending the Methodist Rally in Pampa Sunday afternoon were Rev. and Mrs. John English, Mrs. R. Y. King, Ruth Ann and Rebecca and Mrs. Victor Smith, also Mr. and Mrs. Frank White, Jr. and Frank III, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Chunn, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bairfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Porter.

Mrs. Hugh McCord of Sherman, Texas visited from Monday thru Friday in the home of her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McCord.

HIGHWAY HIGHLIGHTS

Primary Highway Alarm Dominates Commission Hearing
 The monthly public hearings of the Texas Highway Commission make a pretty good barometer of current thinking by road boosters throughout the State. An analysis of the presentations made by seventeen delegations attending September hearings shows that Texans are becoming more concerned with their primary highways than they were a few years ago.

It would take about $12 million to give each of the groups the specific roads they wanted. Only five of the seventeen delegations wanted to talk about farm-to-market roads. The remainder urged widening and/or reconstruction of their main inter-city routes.

Biggest delegation, composed of 60 members, asked for the biggest single project. The group from Jefferson County expressed alarm over the tortuous condition of US 90 between Beaumont and Houston, urging that something be done about it. Engineers estimated it would take about $5.5 million to comply with their request.

As an official sounding board, the present trend at the Commission's hearings bears out the belief that Texas needs and Texans want something to be done about the deteriorating primary arteries of traffic.

$78 Million For Farm Roads During Next Two Years

There's a sound reason behind the lessened agitation for more farm roads. Texans are beginning to realize that most of the farm roads they wanted for so long are now built or on the way. Two factors have brought this happy condition. One is the remarkable progress made in farm road building during the past five years. The other is the fact that $78 million will be spent for farm roads during the next two years. The next development in this regard will come early in November or December. Then the Highway Commission will receive field recommendations for roads to be built with the $30 million of state funds provided for the next two years by the Texas Legislature at its last session. These recommendations follow consultations between Highway Department engineers and County Judges, Commissioners, Chambers of Commerce, and other local groups. It was the objective to select projects in each county on the basis of their importance in the view of local opinion and local traffic needs. The studies have been under way since early August.

The federal aid farm program, announced last July, had already set up a $48 million schedule for a two-year period, using federal funds matched dollar for dollar by the Highway Department.

Attest:
Walker Lane Clerk,

The first book we shall announce is "Hard Rock and Silver Sage" by Ross Santee. This is his most recent novel. It has been stated by good authorities that Santee's books are the best being written today about the Old West. Simple and straight forward, they manage to convey the essence of the cow country as it was some forty years ago. Mr. Santee illustrates his own books, and a sketch of his life proves him to be an unusual character. There is one new book for the little people, "Amonda & The Bear" by Tasha Tudor. This is a factual story that will amuse little people.

We have received a number of gift copies of books recently. Some of these are duplicates of our present books; others will be quite useful. Also received a number of current magazines, so come read with us.

Texas Makes "Billion Dollar Farm Income" Club in 1950

Texas was among six Mid-American states to make the "billion dollar farm income" club in 1950, according to a survey made public by Capper's Farmer. Texas farmers received $1,993,263,000 in cash farm income last year, including $806,100,000 from livestock and livestock products and $1,187,163,000 from crops, says the survey, based on U. S. Department of Agriculture statistics.

The nationally-circulated farm magazine reports that the five other states in the billion dollar farm cash income bracket were: Iowa, with $2,058,101,000; Illinois, $1,720,050,000; Minnesota, $1,164,558,000; Missouri, $1,009,281,000; Kansas, $1,000,790,000.

Total 1950 U. S. cash farm income was $27,920,746,000, comprising $15,598,222,000 from livestock and $12,322,524,000 from crops.

Farm income for 1951 is likely to set an all-time high of $35 billion, or $7 billion above last year's level, the magazine estimates.

Amarillo Air Force Base To Be Dedicated

Amarilloans and their "suburban" neighbors at Amarillo Air Force Base Saturday were gearing up for what has all the earmarks of being the most colorful panorama of events this city ever witnessed.

Saturday and Sunday, November 10 and 11, will be double-barreled D-days signaling the dedication of the huge new military installation that is Amarillo Air Force Base. The two-day series of events officially opening the sprawling new station, the only jet airplane mechanics school in the nation, is expected to draw more "Who's Who" among military and legislative branches of the United States than ever before has been assembled in this area.

Stars, galaxies of them in the persons of high echelon Air Force military men will converge on Amarillo for this significant event in this area's history along with top level Texas statesmen and other legislative leaders.

The colorful spectacle opening the dedication program will get under way at 10:30 Saturday morning, November 10, with a military parade rolling down

Polk Street. The world famous official United States Air Force Band will participate in the parade in one of its three appearances here in connection with the dedication ceremonies. Approximately 1500 Amarillo Air Force Base airmen will keep cadence down Polk from 14th to 3rd Street marching past a reviewing stand filled with dignitaries. The Amarillo Air Force Base Band, a crack marching and playing unit, will occupy a position of prominence in the line of march, and Major Sullivan has been designated commander of troops for the downtown parade. A full evening concert at Municipal Auditorium by the official USAF Band is slated for Saturday night at 7:30. The huge Air Force Band also will play Sunday afternoon at ceremonies on the base.

Climaxing the entire dedication observance, an open house has been declared by Colonel Clark at the Air Force Base during Sunday afternoon. Gates will be open to the public from two until five p. m. At 2:30 p. m., visitors may witness the official dedication ceremonies followed by an important address by a top-ranking Air Force general. Then the strength of Amarillo Air Force Base will pass in review on the base's flight line in honor of the occasion. Static displays, a full array of jet powered aircraft, school buildings, airmen's new dormitories, and dining halls will be open for public inspection.

The entire celebration has been planned by officials here to coincide with Armistice Day observances over the nation, pointing up the vital link in the chain of preparedness being forged thru the establishment and operation of Amarillo Air Force Base. This base is the only station in the nation devoting its facilities and personnel exclusively to the training of men to keep America's new, sleek and fast jet aircraft in the air.

BLOWIN' Out the CORNERS

By Uncle Zeb

I heard the following story on a coon hunter from down in the piney woods of East Texas. It seemed that after one of his usual nights of coon hunting one of his favorite dogs was missing. "Old Red", as the dog was called was one of his favorites. In Lige Turner's estimation he was the best coon dog in the whole of East Texas and the greater part of Arkansas. Anyway, all night long he hunted and called for Old Red but when morning came he couldn't find his nor hair of him. Sorrowfully, he came by the house; woke up Mama and all ten of the kids, gulped down a cup of coffee, and with the help of all the family began the long search for the lost treasure. Lige and the oldest kids hunted in the swamps; Mama and the young-uns hunted out the upland. Along toward night they met at an appointed spot and took invoice but there was no Red. On top of all that Little Lige Jr., a ruskus 12 year old son was missing. "Mama", said Old Lige, "You take the other four little ones and hunt Lige, me and the old-uns will keep huntin' fer Old Red. Soon as we can find him we'll come help you hunt fer "Little Lige."

Heard the following on a certain Scotchman. It seemed that he had a particular yen for homemade pies. On top of all that he liked them made by certain of his feminine neighbors. Anyway, the story comes to me by very reliable sources that this certain Scotchman bought four five cent pie pans; sent one pan to each of these four neighbor ladies along with the following message "Not hinting at all." According to the way I heard it, all four of the ladies baked, each baked a pie and brought over to this Scotchman's house. This is absolutely true and proves just about everything that I have ever heard about the Scotch. This "takes the cake", or as in this case the pie. If any of you doubt the above, I have the sworn word of several very reliable characters to bear it out. They are all neighbors to Uncle Bob Robertson. Who can guess who this Scotchman is? Just one other clue. Uncle Bob is fond of pies, so I hear.

No. 6393 in the joke book

A negro boy was examining an inscription on a tombstone which read "Not dead, but Sleeping". Scratching his head he remarked, "He sho ain't foolin' nobody but hisself!"

A Goodnight lady told me the one about the Taxi-cab driver that was given a friendlier welcome by St. Peter at the Golden Gate than was given a couple of preachers entering at the same time. "Come on in, Sir", said he, "you have scared more Old Nick out of people than both of these preachers combined."

Said a third grader to a first grader: "I'll explain that to you when we get more time."

"You mean it will take you a long time to explain it to me."

"Yeah", said the educated one, "Especially, being as I don't understand it myself."

Has anyone a joke book for rent? If I had another joke book maybe I could stay off of politics for awhile.

Heard a preacher tell this experience a few nights ago. It seemed that he preached a certain sermon one Sunday morning that was designed to "Rake some of the members over the coals", just a bit. Anyway, after services one old sister came by an informed him that she didn't like the sermon one bit and proceeded out the door in a huff. That night to the preachers surprise the lady was back in her pew. He went over and talked with her and told her that he was glad to have her back; that he had been afraid that he had driven her away.

"I'd just like to know why you didn't expect me back," said the lady. "You don't own this church and you are not keeping me away from church. I am going to come to church even if we do have a devil in the pulpit." And the lady was just about right; we ought to go to church no matter who says what or which, or who does how or when. After all they don't own the church, or accept our responsibility to it.

Guests in the home of Mrs. S. D. Churchman and Mona Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Rumpy and daughter of Lakeview and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Moss and daughter of Memphis, also Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Churchman.

STOMACH DISORDERS may be classed under many different names, as there may be certain pathological changes in the structures. There is often a similarity of symptoms prevailing in the various forms of stomach trouble.

CHIROPRACTIC does not depend for its success upon a diagnosis of the case. Our fundamental does not concern itself with whether the patient is suffering from gastritis, peptic ulcer, nervous dyspepsia, etc. We know that something is wrong with the stomach and that there are certain nerves supplying the stomach. We know that these nerves must be free to carry the life-giving mental impulses (vital nerve energy) to the stomach and that the only point along the entire course of the nerve supply where this carrying capacity can be interfered with is in the spinal column. The brain is our powerhouse. From it is supplied the vital nerve energy necessary to produce proper function in the stomach. The nerves are cables which convey this energy, and any pressure upon them decreases their carrying capacity and results in disease in the organs supplied.

THE CHIROPRACTOR adjusts the subluxation (a condition where the segments of the spine are not in proper alignment). Because of this adjustment, pressure is taken off nerves supplying the stomach and the nerves are free to carry mental impulses in normal quantity to the stomach.

CASE HISTORY: Mrs. A.M.E. writes, "During 1940 I suffered severe pain in the abdomen. I was dizzy and could not keep food on my stomach. I lost much weight and was weak and miserable. Medical diagnosis was cancer of the liver moving rapidly toward the stomach, with no chance of my living more than a few months. At this point a Chiropractic analysis was made. I took adjustment faithfully for 18 months and today (6 years later) I am perfectly well."

Donley County Soil Conservation District News

THAT CONTROVERSIAL WEEPING LOVEGRASS
Weeping Lovegrass, the most often discussed and sometimes

"cussed" grass used in this area for reseeding, has proved to be highly profitable to a large number of District Cooperators. More than 4,000 acres of this introduced grass from South Africa has been seeded in the Donley County District. Sam Lowe whose farm is about 2 miles south of Clarendon, seeded 120 acres of weeping lovegrass in the spring of 1950 in a cultivated field.

Due to favorable moisture in the summer of 1950, sufficient growth was made to allow some late summer and fall grazing the first year. Mr. Lowe started stocking this seeded pasture together with approximately 100 acres native range last March and by April had increased the number to 45 grown cows, 46 2-year old heifers and 9 calves. Nearly every cow calved and these calves weighed from 450 to 600 lbs. when sold. These cattle grazed this area without any supplemental feed (except occasionally in early spring during cold spells cake was fed) until November 3, at which time all but 41 cows were sold.

According to Mr. Lowe, the cattle did as well on this pasture as they would have done on native range, however he did observe that they preferred the native grass to the weeping lovegrass.

"The advantage of weeping lovegrass", stated Mr. Lowe, "is its high carrying capacity of at least five times that of native range".

Mr. Lowe planted an additional 60 acres of weeping lovegrass last spring and plans to seed more next spring.

W. G. Johnson, 1 mile northwest of Hedley, seed his 1 acre sudan patch to weeping lovegrass last spring. Mr. Johnson ran 2 milch cows on this 1 acre this summer from June 1 to October 15. "Weeping Lovegrass will offer 4 times the grazing of sudan", reported Mr. Johnson.

G. W. Self of the Hudgins community, reports that his hogs having access to weeping lovegrass and alfalfa, spend about one-half time grazing the lovegrass.

J. D. Kennedy, 1 mile south of McKnight, planted 14 acres to weeping lovegrass in April of 1950. About 3 acres of this area was infested in Johnson grass. Grazing began in June of 1950 with 5 cows and 2 heifers. Five acres of native pasture was grazed with the lovegrass during the summer.

In 1951, Mr. Kennedy increased his cattle to 9 cows and 6 calves, however, 14 acres of sudan was also grazed.

He observed that his cattle although preferring sudan did spend a part of each day grazing the weeping lovegrass.

"My net returns from the weeping lovegrass made more profit than this type of land in crops", stated Mr. Kennedy, "and I intend to plant 10 acres more next spring."

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hardin of McLean visited in the home of Mrs. W. E. Hardin Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Newt McBrayer of Ft. Worth visited relatives here the latter part of the week.

Mrs. W. E. Davis of Brice was a guest in the M. L. Pittman home Thursday afternoon.

Jeannie McAnear spent Saturday night with Iris McBrayer at Childress.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"Talks Turkey" - Long Distance

Some people chuckled when Sonny Fisher rented a home recording machine to record the noise his flock of turkeys make.

"I sent the recording to a buyer for a super-market chain," Sonny said. "I told them 'My turkeys speak for themselves—listen to this record!' They not only took my birds, but bought the record!"

"Why did they want the record?" I asked him. "Very simple," he says. "They're going to play it over the loud speakers in their stores—and then an announcer on another record reminds the customers that turkeys are plentiful and a good buy."

From where I sit, it's not always smart to make fun of someone just because he does things a little differently. I think a glass of beer is the most refreshing beverage there is. You—or Sonny—may prefer something else. But who's to decide one's right and the other's wrong? Let's stay "on record" that everyone's entitled to his own tastes and opinion.
