Cotton Festival Is Big Success

Saturday night marked the end of a bigger and more successful Cotton Festival in Hedley. Friday and Saturday were packed with activities and entertainment that was enjoyed by large crowds each day. "It was a great success in every way with a much larger attendance than last year," stated Clifford Johnson, Hedley banker. The Parade Saturday afternoon was exceptionally nice and was quite colorful. The Upper Basin of Salt Fork and Red River Association had the winning float in the Parade and in the band judging, the Memphis band placed first, Clarendon second and Hedley third. The Hedley Cotton Festival was started last year and just as soon as it was over the Hedley Lions Booster Club started work on the Festival for this year and have certainly put Hedley on the map as far as the entire Panhandle is concerned. They advertised their celebration everywhere they could and when they could. The untiring efforts of those folks paid off and they want to thank everyone who visited Hedley or had a part in their second annual Cotton Festival and made it the great success that it was.

Only Ten Identify Mystery Farm No. 10

There were only ten who correctly identified the Leader Mystery Farm of the Air last week. This was quite a drop from the total of seventy that identified the Mystery farm the previous week, so all you folks be sure to come in or call in your identification on the Mystery farm this week.

D. E. Leathers was the first on the rural list to identify the mystery farm and received the free subscription to the Leader and Mrs. Jennie Aten was the first on the city list and will also receive a free subscription. Mrs. Harvey Shaw was the fifth on the rural list and received the only free ticket to the Mulkey Theatre as there were only four who made correct identification on the town list, so someone missed a free show ticket.

Those on the rural list to make correct identification were D. E. Leathers, Lamar Aten, D. F. Miller, Mrs. H. K. Leathers, Mrs. Harvey Shaw, and Mrs. Carl Barker. Those on the city list were Mrs. Jennie Aten, George Watson, Mrs. A. L. Whitsett, and Mrs. D. W. Hinkle.

Bronchos Lose First Conference Game To Panthers, 26-6

The Clarendon Bronchos tasted defeat for the first time this season when they were outpointed by the Panhandle Panthers here Friday night. The final score was 26-6 in favor of the visitors but the game was a tighter affair than the score indicates. The Bronchos suffered several costly penalties, and fumbles figured a big part in helping the Panthers toward their scoring spree. Not counting first downs on touchdowns, the Bronchos came out of the game ahead in the Panthers 11. That big fellow named Bentley, in the Panther backfield was the Bronchos biggest problem and although they jarred him on numerous occasions, he was hard to get down and he had plenty of speed after he got into motion. It was a good game and local fans can be proud of the way our boys played against the heavier, more experienced Panthers.

The scoring started off with Bentley taking the ball on the first play from scrimmage and going around right end for 46 yards. He also ran the extra point. The remainder of the first half was a see-saw affair with no more scoring until the third period when Bentley added two more Tds. The Bronchos came back early in the fourth with their only tally, Kidd tossed a long one to Ronnie Martin for 15 yards, and the 6 points. Panhandle came back late in the fourth with another 7 points to round out the final score.

Services Held Wed. For Mrs. Lloyd Hahn

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Murphy-Spicer Funeral Chapel for Mrs. Ruth Virginia Hahn with H. D. Shields and Carl DeNio officiating. Mrs. Hahn, age 33, died Tuesday afternoon in a Memphis hospital after a short illness. She had been a resident of Donley County the past two years and was the wife of Lloyd Hahn, Clarendon farmer.

Survivors other than the husband are her mother, Mrs. Robert E. McCauley, Burlington, N. C.; three sisters, Hallie McCauley, Mrs. Eva Ray, Mrs. Sue McCauley, and one brother Ralph McCauley, all of Burlington, N. C.

Her body was sent by rail this morning to Burlington, N. C. for interment in the Cemetery there. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of Murphy-Spicer Funeral Home.

Misfortune Eased By Liberal Donors

According to the last tabulation, the cash fund for the James Tolbert family had passed the fourteen hundred dollar mark. This money, given of free will, will help Mr. Tolbert considerably, and the fact that Mr. Tolbert had asked for no help, whatsoever, shows that people here in Donley County really want to express their neighborly spirit in whatever manner is needed most.

The death of his wife as a result of the fire that consumed their home and the severe burns suffered by his little daughter Lynda, made Mr. Tolbert's loss greater than figures or words can express. We know Mr. Tolbert is very appreciative of all the help and kindness that has been extended during his time of sorrow.

Collection points where this money was received and is still being received are Ben Lovell's Garage, Ashtola, the two Clarendon Gins, and the three local banks. Over $500 dollars was received at Mr. Lovell's and approximately the same amount was turned in by Ed Wheeler from a long list of people wishing to have a part in this helpful deed.

Dr. Stewart reported at noon Wednesday that little Lynda Tolbert is improving nicely at the present time and should be able to be up some within a few days.

More Interest Needed In Scout Organization

Approximately 35 boys and several parents were present for Maverick Night at the Methodist Church Monday night and three dens of Cub Scouts were formed under a temporary basis as more leaders are needed to bring about a successful organization. Mrs. J. G. Stewart, Mrs. Carroll Lewis and Mrs. J. G. McAnear were named den mothers for the cubs.

Rev. Wm. A. Cockerell, Maverick Night chairman, reported that more interest and more definite leadership is necessary before Scout troops and dens are actually organized. He announced that a meeting of parents and leaders only, no boys, will be held next Tuesday night, October 20th at the First Presbyterian Church in an effort to get better organized whereby the boys interested in scouting will not be disappointed. All parents interested in your boys and helping them to be members of the Scout organization are urged to be present and take an active part in this youth program.

Language - Arts Workshop Held Here Thursday

Miss Louise Platt and O. J. Sizaz of the American Book Company, with headquarters in Dallas, met with the teachers of the Elizabeth Stevens and Junior High School Thursday, October 9 to conduct a workshop in the Language-Arts field. Purpose of the workshop was to aid teachers in the adoption and use of new Language-Arts books.

The morning sessions were spent in the Elizabeth Stevens School where Miss Platt gave a demonstration with fourth grade students in which different phases of the language program in a year's study were used. The children were very interested in participating in Choral reading, plays and poems.

The afternoon was spent in discussing the language arts in the sixth, seventh, and eighth grades. This workshop was conducted free of charge by the American Book Company. To enable teachers to attend, mothers helped out by substituting for the day. There is a deep appreciation for the mother's help.

Teachers and their substitutes assisting for the day in the grades were Third: Mrs. Evelyn Guy, Mrs. C. L. Benson; Third: Mrs. Ruby Lee Sandifer, Mrs. Lawrence Neece; Fourth: Miss Edgar Mae Mongole, Mrs. Homer Bones; Fourth: Mrs. Mari Rhode, Mrs. Wm. A. Cockerell; Fifth: Mrs. Velma Weaver, Mrs. L. L. Wallace; Fifth: Mrs. Claudine Todd, Mrs. John McClellan; Sixth: Mrs. Clara Gillham, Mrs. Ann Kennedy, Mrs. Alfred McMurtry, Mrs. Johnny Blocker; Seventh: Mr. Newton Richardson, Mrs. Nellie Hoggatt, Mrs. Clayton Mann; and Eighth: C. R. Brown, R. B. Christian, Mrs. Dale Hill, Mrs. Evelyn Moore.

BRONCHOS TO PLAY BUCKS AT WHITE DEER FRIDAY NIGHT

Jr. Hi Colts To Play First Conference Game Tonight

The Clarendon Jr. High Colts will journey to McLean tonight for their first conference game of the season. Game time has been set for 7 o'clock.

Coach Christian reported his boys in high spirit for the game. They really want to win this first conference game, so we should be able to see some good football, he added. The Colts lost their game to the Pampa Jr. High team last Thursday 19-0, but showed up right well for the opposition they were competing with.

Next Thursday, Oct. 22nd they will play the Lefors Junior High boys here, so all of you fans not able to make the trip tonight can look forward to seeing the Colts in action here at home.

Services Held Friday For Mrs. S. J. Tolbert

Funeral services were held Friday morning at the First Baptist Church for Mrs. Lorene Marie Tolbert with Rev. T. H. Harmon, pastor of the Martin Baptist Church, officiating. Mrs. Tolbert, age 32, died last Wednesday morning, Oct. 7, at a Groom hospital from burns received when the Tolbert home near Ashtola was consumed by fire. She had been a resident of Donley County a number of years. She was a member of the Martin Baptist Church.

She is survived by her husband, James Tolbert, three daughters, Norma, Delores and Lynda; her mother, Mrs. James C. Sutton, Vernon; one sister, Mrs. Harold Graham, Ashtola; eight brothers, Claude of Wellington, Jess of Ed Couch, Texas, Johnnie, Jimmie, A. T. and Ira Sutton of Vernon, Deolis Sutton, Wichita Falls and Ralph Sutton, Sweetwater.

Pallbearers were Clarence Reynolds, Raymond Waldrop, Jack Lamberth, O. L. Hill, Dane Perdue and C. E. Jackson. Burial was in Citizens Cemetery with the Murphy-Spicer Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Kirtley of Killeen, Texas visited with friends here last week end.

The Bronchos will journey away from home for their second conference game of the season Friday night. Their opponent will be the White Deer Bucks who also dropped their first conference game last Friday night to Canadian while the Bronchos were losing to Panhandle. Game time has been set for 7:30.

The Bronchos lost their game last week to Panhandle by a one-sided score that doesn't indicate the close game that was played. They will be in their full force Friday night to get back on the winning side again and naturally they will meet some strong opposition, for White Deer will have the same thought in mind.

The probable starting line-up for the Bronchos will be Wallace, Phillely, Kidd, B. Johnson, M. Johnson, Lamberth, Clifford, Cosper, Hill, Martin, Wilson and Hensley.

Coach Moore reports the Bronchos in fair condition for this game Friday night except for three of the regulars who were injured last Friday night in the Panhandle game. They are Bobby Phillely, Bobby Wilson and Ronny Martin.

The Bucks have not released a starting line-up, but the report from previous games is that they have two outstanding players, the Ellory twins, that can bear watching Friday night. Plan to go along with the Bronchos Friday night and take a car load of fans with you and let the boys know you're behind them all the way.

Dairy Organization Meeting Held

A dairy organization meeting was held in the office of county agent H. M. Breedlove on Thursday the eighth of October at one thirty P. M. Dairy farmers from Hall and Armstrong counties also attended the meeting. There were about sixteen at the meeting.

Mr. M. C. Jaynes of the Texas A&M College Extension Service explained the importance of the dairy organization and how it would help the dairy business in the advertising of dairy products and other phases. A temporary organization was set up with Mr. S. C. Waites of Hall County elected temporary chairman and Frank Cannon of Donley County as secretary.

The next meeting will be held on the 29th of October at the Vocational Agriculture veterans buildings at the Clarendon College at 1:00 P. M. Breedlove said that at this time a permanent organization would be set up for the three counties and some by-laws drawn up. Other counties are invited to attend.

Parent - Teacher Talk

For years the PTA has called on the teachers to do this and help with that and last week for the first time the teachers turned around and asked the PTA to do something. The mamas were flattered and delighted.

Mr. Truitt asked Mrs. Neece for a dozen mothers to "baby-sit" classes on Thursday and release that many teachers for a textbook instruction session. The teachers left detailed lesson plans with the mothers and the following two and a half hours of baby-sitting were eye-openers. Not one mother in the group had had the vaguest idea of the scope of talents needed to put across the three R's. Teachers are truly unsung heroes.

There's a good program lined up for the PTA meeting this afternoon with the eighth graders using the first twenty minutes of the time. This is to be followed by the Character and Spiritual Education program, which will consist of five minute talks by a teacher, a preacher, a mother, and a father.

This will be a good chance to bring that cup towel for the lunchroom if you've been meaning to and just haven't remembered.

With the membership drive over, PTA was abashed to learn that it netted almost fifty dollars less this year on memberships than last. This means everyone will have to work harder on the Carnival to make up that loss, so that there will be a respectable amount in the treasury when the project for the year is decided upon next month.

Seemed too good to be true that every room had chosen a project for Carnival. It was Mr. Brown's eighth graders decided in favor of play and no work that night, but they agreed to chip in so much each for the privilege and they may come out ahead of some of the others at that.

Mrs. Hoggatt's seventh graders are already at work on their Freak Show for the Carnival. It isn't giving away too many secrets to say that some of the freaks are being constructed in art classes.

If Principal Richardson's House of Horrors proves too exciting for its patrons on Carnival night, they can refresh themselves with snow cones, which Mrs. Gillham's sixth grade room will sell in connection with a dart throwing game.

There's to be a nice, big prize—a dressed turkey (if someone will donate one) or a three-layer cake (if ditto)—at any rate a nice prize—given by Miss Mongole's fourth grade to the person guessing the number of beans in the jar.

Mrs. Sandifer's room mothers felt fortunate to come across a Romanian gypsy gracious enough to re-arrange her schedule so that she might make a one night appearance in Clarendon for the Carnival. Being the seventh daughter of a seventh daughter, she reads stars, palms, cards, or skull bumps with equal skill and for a purely nominal fee.

Weather permitting and ponies available, there will be a pony ride for the youngsters sponsored by Mrs. Kennedy's sixth graders. But they also plan to have cotton-picking in their room so that they won't be caught idle on Carnival night.

Mrs. C. T. Morgan will be the ticket-seller for Mrs. Rhode's fourth grade cartoon and comedy movie.

Eight dozen toys have already been purchased to be used as prizes in the Carnival games. A share of these will go to Mrs. Todd's fifth grade basketball throw; Mrs. Hendrix's second grade grab bag; and Mrs. Johnson's second grade fishing pond. But these prizes will have to be padded out with white elephants so dig around in the basement or the hall closet and see what you can find to contribute.

Lynda Gordon and Barry Hudson are the handsome couple to have the stellar roles in the Tom Thumb wedding, but their bridal party is not yet complete.

Mrs. Hendrix' room has Treat Day next Tuesday.

Modern Art Takes a Licking!

Did you know we had a real artist in town? Yes sir! Handy Jackson was a contributor to the Sculpture Exhibition at the Centerville Fair last week.

His work was streaky pink and curved all around—sort of streamlined. Caused quite a stir. Nobody was sure what it was supposed to represent, but some liked it and thought it was good art. Handy gave me the lowdown: "Why, it was nothing but a piece of cattle salt our cows have been lickin' at for months. I just had it mounted. Fooled a lot of folks—one fellow even wanted to buy it!"

From where I sit, Handy's "modern art" just shows how some people can be led astray. Some even get to be "experts"—especially about the other fellow's business. Whether it's art or music, or a simple thing like choosing, say, beer or milk with a snack, we should live and let live. There's no call for either of us to set ourselves up as a "model" for the other!

Inquiries and Sidelights on your State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN—Politicians are working up a head of steam that will blow off when President Eisenhower visits Texas this month. As far as any public announcement is concerned, the reason for Ike's Texas trip is to join President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines of Mexico in the dedication of Falcon Dam on the Rio Grande. But it is clear that H. J. Porter of Houston, Republican national committeeman, will use the presidential trip as a means of rallying G.O.P. support in Texas.

When Eisenhower gets to Texas, his official host will be Governor Allan Shivers. The president will stay at the Shivers' palatial home at Sharyland, near Mission.

While Shivers led the Democratic Party of Texas in helping to elect Eisenhower last year, there is no indication that the governor and his political friends will line up with the Texas Republicans as a permanent arrangement.

On the contrary, Shivers has said that the G.O.P. has "delusions of grandeur" on the question of making Texas a two-party state.

In other words, the Shivers Democrats were for Eisenhower—but that does not mean that they will move over into the Republican ranks in the Texas political battles of next year.

At the Falcon Dam celebration there will be represented a third political faction, the Texas Democrats who supported Adlai Stevenson.

Senator Lyndon Johnson, a Stevenson Democrat, is expected to be present at the border celebration.

Porter, by the way, has announced that the Texas Democrats will put up the strongest candidate they can find to oppose Johnson next year.

That candidate may be Ben Guill, who once served as a Texas Republican congressman from the Panhandle district.

Guill is now an executive assistant to Postmaster General

Summerfield.

Workers in state departments and some of those in state hospitals and other institutions received $15 per month pay increases on the first of this month. Increases ranging up to $300 per year also went to faculty members of state colleges and universities.

And some state workers received "incentive" raises amounting to as much as $50 per month under a new law authorizing such boosts out of savings effected by decreasing the number of employees.

There will be more pay hikes if the courts uphold the Texas natural gas gathering tax, Governor Shivers has said.

Twenty-one church schools formed an association and will ask Texas business and industry for a million dollars to balance their budgets this year.

Texas Foundation of Voluntarily Supported Colleges and Universities is the long name of the organization, whose board of directors will meet in Dallas November 1st.

Dr. R. W. White, president of the foundation and head of Baylor University, said the organization already has the support of the National Association of Manufacturers, the Texas Association of Manufacturers, and the United States Chamber of Commerce.

During the next few months, the highway department will spend $11 million to maintain and improve roads.

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer calls the program "a stop gap to protect the investment of the public in the state highway system."

Most of the money will go for widening, reconditioning, and resurfacing 633 miles of roads that are suffering from deterioration.

Texas' street and highway financing problem is still with us. Jim Wright of Weatherford, president of the Texas League of Municipalities, wrote Governor Shivers asking him to take the lead in getting statewide action on roads.

Wright suggested a meeting of the top executives of various interested agencies, such as the County Judges and Commissioners' Association, the Texas Good Roads Association, the regional chambers of commerce, the Rural Letters Carriers Association, and the Farm Bureau Federation.

PATHFINDER CLUB

Members of the Pathfinder Club observed Guest Day in a meeting at Patching Club House Friday afternoon, October 9. Hostesses were Mesdames Heckle Stark, R. Y. King, S. M. Black, and Miss Mable Mongole.

Opening the meeting, Mrs. I. E. Biggs led the group in prayer. Mrs. Clyde Hudson, president, welcomed the guests and introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Bill Greene, Jr.

Mrs. Greene gave a very interesting and entertaining review of "A Persian Adventure" by Ann Sinclair Mehdevi. Mrs. Mehdevi married Mohammed Mehdevi and lives in New York. She is originally from Wichita, Kansas. "A Persian Adventure" is the story of the young Shah of Iran and his family. The book is written in the first person, telling of the author's first meeting the Shah, who was a member of the UN Delegation. After seven years of marriage and the arrival of three children, the family decided to visit the Shah's native land.

The story revealed many customs of the country and traditions among the wealthier families of Iran. Women waited for breakfast at 10 o'clock, tea until 2 o'clock, lunch, tea again at 5 o'clock, and a night meal at 10 o'clock with a constant round of visitors throughout the day. People were described as slow in their actions, fads being the prevailing mode of the day. Thru her association with a German doctor, Ebhey by name, Mrs. Mehdevi learned more about Persia than thru any other source.

Marriage contacts were drawn up for 40 or 60 days and 99 years. They can not be broken by men and women, only by men. It is considered proper for a woman to ask for her dowry. The Shah explained to his wife that he would have more respect for her if she would follow this ancient custom of his country. This she did and they were married in religious rites traditional to Iran, before their return to America.

Tea and coffee with cake was served from a beautifully appointed table laid with a white cloth. The centerpiece of pyra-cantha was flanked with yellow candles in silver candelabra. Mrs. Clyde Hudson presided at the silver service.

Approximately one hundred members and guests attended.

The Fifth Plate

The present birthrate in the United States indicates that one extra person will be sitting at every American table for four by 1975. People are now asking: "Where is the food coming from to fill this fifth plate?"

If population forecasters are right, our agricultural production will have to increase 20 percent to feed the next generation as well as we are eating now. This means a big demand for additional food.

In the past, such demands have led to drastic changes in the lives of many people. When the Irish potato crop failed in 1845, hundreds of thousands left their native country to find homes in the United States. As the population increased in the eastern states, people moved west, opening new land and advancing the frontier.

In World War I, American farmers expanded their production by putting vast acreages of land into cash crops. And you all know the years of distress that followed when the war-time market collapsed in the 20's.

When a second World War again demanded the utmost of farmers, they increased production by nearly one-third. This was about the limit of our production capacity at that time.

Today, each farmer now raises enough to feed himself and about 15 others. And there are 7,000 new babies to be fed in the United States every morning of the year. New farmers and new farms can't be created fast enough to keep the ratio balanced.

If we have to raise our sights to feed a permanently expanding population, where shall we turn this time? There are no new frontiers of first-rate land to be opened up. Only a little more than one-fifth of our land area is now being used for crops, so millions more acres could be put into cultivation—but the investment for irrigation alone would be staggering.

The problem is not a new one. About 150 years ago, Thomas Malthus, a brilliant but rather short-sighted English economist forecast starvation for the human race because the world population, he said, was outstripping agricultural production. But Malthus was wrong. He underestimated the farmer's ingenuity in constantly improving his crop raising methods.

The answer, then, lies in a greater application of science to agriculture. We must find new ways to apply research to agricultural production and teach approximately the present number of farmers to use new scientific knowledge on approximately the present area of cropland.

We have nothing to fear from the "fifth plate" as long as the farmer continues to increase his per-acre yields, improve his soil conservation practices and work for better plant and animal breeding.

It's Part Of Growing Up

When four-year-old Johnny grabs a toy away from his younger sister, his mother probably will take immediate steps to correct him.

She may talk to him and explain what he did wrong—or, if it is a repeated offense, she may punish him—but whichever method she uses, her purpose will be to teach Johnny good manners.

Johnny's mother knows, as do millions of other parents, that learning good manners is a part of growing up. She wants Johnny to be well-liked and popular when he gets older, and so she knows she must help him become well-mannered.

If Johnny's mother is wise, she will put just as much effort into helping him form safe traffic habits. It can be just as slow and painstaking a job as teaching him good manners. It can be even more important.

Learning safe traffic habits also is a part of growing up—in-deed, how well the lesson is learned can, and often does, determine whether a child will have a chance to grow up. Last year more than 4,000 children, killed in traffic, didn't get that chance. "Teach your child safety as you would good manners."

Average Age For Texas Farmer Is 49
 The average Texas farmer is a little over 49 years of age and has operated the same farm for 12 years, according to a report of the 1950 Census of Agriculture just received by Supervisor James M. Hamilton of the Census Bureau's district office at Fort Worth.
 The report is a preprint of the General Report, 1950 Census of Agriculture, Volume II, Chapter 2, and presents data on age, residence, years on farm, work off the farm and other income of farm operators. The preprint is available from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, for $1 per copy.
 Texas farm owners, on an average, are 11.4 years older than farm tenants, according to the Census report which states the average age of farm owners as 54.0 years and the average age of farm tenants as 42.6 years. Among farm operators reporting on number of years of residence on the same farm, owners averaged 16 years and tenants averaged 6 years.
 Almost two out of five Texas farmers derived income from work off the farm, according to the Census Bureau. Of 331,416 Texas farm operators enumerated in the 1950 Census, 135,670 reported work off the farm in 1949 and 60.7 percent of these had worked 100 days or more off the farm.

DONLEY COUNTY SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

J. A. Tollett was re-elected supervisor of sub-division No. 5 of the Donley County Soil Conservation District at the election in Hedley last week.
 Soil Conservation Districts are divided into five sub-divisions with a supervisor elected from each sub-division.
 Sub-division 5 is that part of Donley County lying south of the Ft. Worth and Denver Railroad and east of the Brice Highway.
 Supervisors are elected for a five year term and the terms are staggered so that only one supervisor is elected each year.
 Tollett has served as a Supervisor since the District first began operation in the spring of 1946.
 Through the Board of Supervisors which is the governing body of the District, local people formulate their own soil conservation program. The Board coordinates the conservation efforts of various State and Federal agencies and other organizations. State funds appropriated by the State for purchase of soil conservation equipment and supplies are managed by the Supervisors.

 Soil Conservation Districts are becoming more and more popular each year throughout the country. There are approximately 2500 soil conservation Districts now in operation in the United States. These districts include four-fifths of the country's farm land and six-sevenths of its farms and ranches.
 In the years ahead, Soil Conservation Districts offer America the greatest opportunity it has had in modern times to strengthen its idea of self-government and solve at the same time one of the most fundamental problems—the protection of its vital land and water resources.

Fall Shoots Lure Texans To Northland

AUSTIN—Reports from neighboring states to the north indicate that Texans utilize their big game seasons as a warmup for the wildlife harvest at home.

The Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission said thousands take out non-resident licenses particularly in Wyoming and Colorado where the main hunting seasons generally are over before those in Texas begin.

"Texas has a greater variety of game than any other state but many of our folks take a pre-season shoot away from home," he said. "Our species range from the more popular deer, turkey, quail, doves and waterfowl to antelope, white-winged dove and even pheasant. Yet the outside attractions are great because of the opportunity to make a long hunting trip and also because of the food and sport involved."

The Executive Secretary said the interest of Texas gunners is welcomed in states having surplus in some species which have to be reduced to meet habitat limitations. For example, Wyoming plans to harvest about 46,000 prong-horned antelope. The combined antelope bag in that state last fall was 41,020, and the over all big game harvest there was an estimated 90,100 animals.

Texans going to Wyoming may bag elk, moose, deer, bear and mountain sheep. License fees for non-residents range from $25 for antelope to $75 for moose, or $100 for a special all-inclusive permit. The principal attraction of antelope is regulated under different seasons in different localities ranging from September 5 thru October 31. Persons interested in precise information may write

EFFECT ON FUTURE ALLOTMENTS OF UNDERSEEDING 1954 ALLOTMENT

For the information of all wheat farmers a press release covering the Secretary's announcement of September 29, 1953 appears below:

Future Wheat Allotments Not to Suffer from Underseeding of 1954 Acreage Allotments:

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson announced today that farmers who seed between 90 percent and 100 percent of their 1954 wheat acreage allotment will not be penalized for such underseeding in the establishment of any future farm allotments which may be required under existing law.

"Past acreage of wheat is one of the major factors which local committees must consider in the distribution of the county allotments to farms," the Secretary said. "and many farmers have felt that they should seed as closely to their current allotments as possible in order to protect their interests in any future allotment program. However, it is my purpose to relieve farmers of the inconveniences inherent in control programs whenever I reasonable and properly can do so."

"If a farmer can seed 90 percent or more of his allotment in one field, there is no reason why he should have to split another field and seed part of it to wheat just to round out his allotment. Therefore, it will be the policy of the Department in any future program required by present law to treat each farm on which the operator underseeds the 1954 Wheat allotment by not more than 10 percent exactly as it would be treated if the wheat

Secretary of the Colorado Game and Fish Commission, said the deer harvest runs between 70,000 and 80,000; elk between 5000 and 15,000 and antelope from 3000 to 5000. Non-resident licenses are $30 for one deer of either sex, $40 for elk, mostly bulls, and $25 for antelope. Interested Texans may write C. D. # Blowin' Out the Corners

For my people have committed two evils; they have forsaken me the fountain of living waters, and hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns, that can hold no water." Jeremiah 2:13

All of us agree that this was true in the days that this prophet of old reminded the people of how they had been cared for by their God, led out of their difficulties, fed on manna from heaven, given water to drink from fountains made before their very eyes. All this should have convinced them that their God was an everlasting fountain, a never failing answer to all their need, but it was not so. Adam, the first man could have saved himself a lot of trouble if he would have recognized the blessings that were all about him and remained content and thankful with and for them. But no, Adam along with his descendants to whom Jeremiah spoke had his own ideas that he wanted to try out and they were anti-clockwise with the will of God. He wanted to honor himself by his own decisions; to hew out his own cistern that he could look upon as his work. But, likewise with Adam the cistern wouldn't hold water; it was a broken cistern, and the polluted water of this cistern brought sin and disease and punishment on him and his seed forever. Almost 2000 years ago Christ gave us His Sermon On The Mount in which he reminded us of this ever satisfying fountain that we can have only in our turning to Him, but we turned away, back to our own cisterns and said "Crucify Him." Today there is a book that is a proven testimony of this living way. Today His Holy Spirit tugs at our heart strings urging us to drink from this everlasting fountain of hope, but we will not. We consult doctors; we buy books. We buy security; we pile up riches, but we remain a restless unhappy nerve wrecked people. Hungry, thirsty, and sick because we drink water from our own broken and polluted cisterns.

Heard this over the radio: "Keeping things from some people is sort of like trying to smuggle daylight past a rooster."

Lately we have been having some misgivings about the faithfulness of one member of our Ain't Smoking Right Now Society. He is Frank Boggess of Claude, Texas. Once not long ago we dropped by his home and there was a package of cigarettes on the smoking stand. Quickly he explained that he kept them for friends who called. Then just a few days ago we were driving through town and standing on the sidewalk was Frank; a cigarette between his fingers. We stopped, came up behind him and took hold of his hand without his knowledge. When he saw us, for just a moment we seemed to both be flabbergasted. Then, he gave me this story; "Never again will I hold a cigarette for Andrew Stalcup." How positive does evidence have to be? One other circumstantial part to the story is this; Mr. Stalcup does not smoke. My, my. Anyway.

So far, no one has mailed in a new drouth joke. If you have a new one that might relieve the tension somewhat, send it in. Maybe it could be just a bit old. By all odds it should be newer than the length of the drouth.

Advertising to Americans has become an accepted tradition and since it is a tradition we are often guilty of over looking exaggerations and fraudulent statements because it is "only advertising." Because of our acceptance of half-truths in advertising we leave the field open to certain individuals and concerns to use an advertising method called the "bait-ad" gyp. "Bait-Ads" read this way, "Factory rebuilt! name brand merchandise! Only $29.95." The article may be rebuilt, but not by the manufacturer. If a salesman comes to your home to demonstrate the article, he may start in by running down the cheap rebuilt article then try to sell you a new article with an unknown name, and should you buy either the new or old article you would have no guarantee against mechanical failure or defects. If you will just notice you can usually pick out the "Bait-Ad" Gyps, so BEWARE of them and if you are not sure of it check with a reliable source before buying. For further information on "Bait-Ads" read the article titled "Beware The Bait-Ad Gyp", in the August issue of the "Readers Digest." I saw the Clarendon High School Band in the Hedley Cotton Festival parade Saturday and they were good, winning second place. They were greatly improved over the first time I saw them play last April. I understand that they need new uniforms badly; let's see if we can't do something about it.

I heard of a small town that has this sign on its streets, "We are only a small town and do not have any children to spare, so PLEASE DRIVE CAREFULLY."

GABIE BETTS BURTON LIBRARY NOTES
By May L. Prewitt

Ross Santee's new book "Lost Pony Tracks" has just been purchased. Ross Santee tells in words and pictures of his experiences as a horse wrangler in the old west. There are twenty-six drawings. Writing in his own easy, casual style, Mr. Santee reminisces about the every day life of the cowboy and he relates stories about all the other things which made up the life in the West during the early years of this century.

We also purchased Fred Gipson's "Cowhand". The readers will find in this true story of the life of a working cowboy a somewhat different presentation than the stereotype. Quite a few of our readers will enjoy these books.

Our copy of "Anthony Adverse" by Harvey Allen was completely worn out, and since there are occasional calls for the book a used copy was secured from the Personal Book Shop.

"The Lone Foot Print" by Frances K. Judd is a junior edition for girls. This book completes the series in print to date.

Since Jerome Price was a citizen of our town since his early childhood it is only fitting he should be remembered. The Baracus Antrobus family ordered a book for the Junior section to be dedicated to his memory and I too, am giving a book to the same section, in his memory. We have more young readers who patronize the Library than adults.

Early Puritans celebrated Christmas about the middle of the 19th century.

Stars and stripes in the American flag, were suggested by the coat of arms of the Washington family.

Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP has been rightfully called the greatest advance in motor fuels since the introduction of tetraethyl lead in 1922. For here, at last, is a gasoline so dramatically different that the average motorist can feel the improvement in his car after just two tankfuls. Yes, after your second tankful, chances are you will know why we say Conoco Super with TCP will:

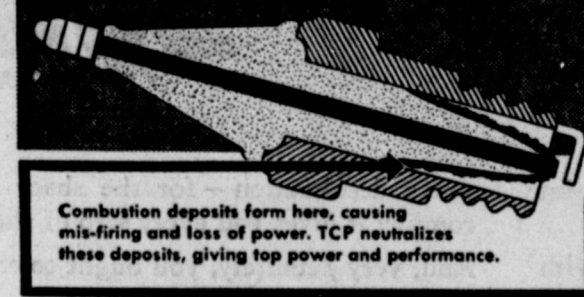

- Boost power as much as 15%!
- Increase spark-plug life up to 150%!
- Give you extra gas mileage!

For Conoco Super is a new kind of gasoline—a gasoline especially developed to correct the greatest single cause of power loss affecting most of the cars on the road today.

Combustion deposits drastically reduce power

When you drive your car, deposits constantly build up on spark plugs and in the combustion chambers. These deposits can "cheat" you of power two ways. First, they short-circuit spark plugs—causing them to mis-fire. Second, deposits in the combustion chambers cause fuel to ignite before it should. This is called pre-ignition or "wild ping." The combined effect of mis-firing and pre-ignition is loss of power, lack of "pep" and wasted gas.

How Conoco Super with TCP works

TCP is a special chemical additive which is added to Conoco Super Gasoline. It was specifically developed to overcome the loss of power and fuel caused by combustion deposits. TCP neutralizes harmful deposits on spark plugs—your plugs spark as they should. It prevents deposits in the combustion chambers from causing pre-ignition—"wild ping" is controlled. Thus, every time you fill up with new Conoco Super, it's like getting your spark plugs cleaned and your engine tuned-up.

TCP helps your car, whether new or old

If you are driving a new car, with a high-compression engine, you need Conoco Super Gasoline to keep your car delivering all the power that was built into it. If you drive an older car, with tens of thousands of miles on the speedometer, Conoco Super can restore much of the "new car" performance and power you've been missing.

Start your "TWO-TANK TEST" today

When your gasoline tank is one-quarter full or less, fill it with Conoco Super with TCP. Now, there will still be some ordinary gasoline mixed in with your Conoco Super. So make sure your next tankful is Conoco Super, too. So rapidly does Conoco Super work, that with this second tankful, chances are you'll feel as if your engine has had a tune-up. You'll feel a boost in power. Try it today. We're sure you'll stay with Conoco Super.

Now—at your Conoco dealer!

THE JAYCEES SPEAK

Promised to have some additional information on our proposed Religious Program by this issue. There is less to report than this writer had hoped due to a delay in receiving the guide material which was to be sent out from the State office. The local committee has been set up however. It is composed of George Watson, chairman; Harlie Gordon and Maurice Lane. They have already begun work on the project though nothing concrete is ready for release at this time. You can bet there will be some tangible evidence produced before long with better than hoped for results.

There is little doubt as to the good that will come of the Five State Institute meeting held in Amarillo last week. Most have read by now the summary in the other papers and see the seriousness with which the Jaycees tackle the present day problems. Speaking of tackling, are we all behind our local school like we should be? Seems to most folks who regularly attend the local games that the crowd is not what it should be. ### TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

There are several controversial matters getting quite a bit of attention in Washington at the moment. Probably the two important ones, or that is, the ones receiving the most attention, are the sales tax issue and the recent appointment of Governor Warren to the Supreme Court.

SALES TAX ISSUE: The President, at his recent news conference, appeared to be unqualifiedly opposed to a retail sales tax collectable at the retail level. I think the great majority of the Congress is in wholehearted accord with the President's position on this particular matter. However, there is a sharp difference of opinion with regard to the so-called "manufacturers tax." This is actually a sales tax under an assumed name. The only difference is in the method of collection. If a federal retail sales tax, collectable on the retail level, was enforced, it would simply mean that the tax would be collected over and above the advertised price of the product. In other words, if a loaf of bread sold for twenty cents and a retail sales tax of five per cent was in effect, the grower would sell you the bread for twenty cents and charge you one cent sales tax before he delivered you the bread. If the tax was put on at the manufacturers level, it would simply mean that the government would figure out the tax and charge the baker who produced the loaf of bread so much for each loaf of bread that he sold. This would mean that, instead of the loaf of bread costing you twenty cents at the grocery store and your having to pay an additional one cent extra tax, you would simply pay twenty-one cents for the loaf of bread and that would be the advertised price for it. The truth is that a federal retail sales tax collected at the retail level would be utterly folly. The cost of administering and policing such a program would be almost prohibitive. The most practical and the least expensive method of collecting a federal sales tax would be to levy and collect the tax at the source of the product to be taxed. This would not only save millions and millions of dollars in the administration of such a program and in the policing thereof, but it would put a stop to many, many loopholes and practices that could be indulged in by those who wanted to escape or dodge such tax. The presence of such loopholes in such a program would simply mean that the taxpayers would again get it in the neck insofar as expenses were concerned because many people would be arrested for violation and tax evasion and the costs of trying these cases and in getting them ready for trial would run into the millions. State and municipal retail sales levies must be collected at the retail level, simply because many of the products sold, or we could say, most of them sold, at retail are not manufactured in the state in which they are sold. This would not be true insofar as a federal retail sales tax is concerned, because all of the articles that are sold over the counters in the United States are manufactured here with the exception of those goods that are imported. This would not create any problem, because all imports are of record anyway and such a tax could be levied and collected from the importers.

I want it definitely understood that I am opposed to a Federal Retail Sales Tax, whether it is put on to be collected at the retail level or at the manufacturers' level. The people of Texas have long opposed sales taxes and have been successful in their fight against this type of tax, both in the Texas Legislature and in the several municipalities. Therefore, I will say that I sincerely hope that a sales tax, either under its real or an assumed name, does not pass the Congress. I shall certainly do all in my power to prevent this additional levy being placed on the backs of the American taxpayers, regardless of what it is called.

Even after football season is over, students will hang around the colleges until warm weather sets in.
