"A Paper Dedicated To Building A Better Future For Clarendon And All Of Donley County"

Highway project to begin next week

More than 60 people attended a town meeting Tuesday night in the Clarendon College Bairfield Activity Center to discuss the upcoming reconstruction of US Hwy. 287 through Clarendon.

The meeting was hosted by the Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT), the City of Clarendon, and Gilbert Texas Construction of Ft. Worth.

TxDOT Area Engineer Danny Brown said signs and barricades will be going up next week, and construction will begin in earnest soon after. Gilbert Texas is the contractor for the project and plans on doing the project one-half width at a time.

At presstime, the contractor was still studying whether to do the north side or the south side of the project first. Brown did say that indications are that construction would begin on the east side of town.

Chief among citizens' concerns Tuesday night was maintaining access to homes and businesses along the highway. Brown said a representative from TxDOT and the contractor will personally visit each business and land owner with property on the highway to discuss driveway entrance needs.

If a home or business has two entrances, Brown said one would be kept open at all times. If there is only one entrance, however, it will be torn up at some point in time, but access will always be provided at night and on weekends.

Access also will always be provided to downtown businesses via the intersection on Kearney Street.

Sidewalks will be replaced where they already exist, but new sidewalks will not be built if none are already present, Brown said.

The $2.8 million project calls for US

Hwy. 287 to be completely rebuilt, strengthened, and widened from the east city limit to the west city limit of Clarendon. A continuous left turn lane will be added through town, and concrete pavement will be installed at the intersections with Kearney and Koogle streets.

To improve storm drainage along the highway, concrete curb and gutter will be added through town and additional drainage structures will be installed near the Clarendon Outpost and "Sam Hill" Pit BBQ.

Safety lighting will be included from the west city limit in the median in front of the Clarendon College campus. Seven twin luminaire fixtures will provide this lighting.

TxDOT has estimated the construction will last 12 months, but Brown said the contractor is estimating only nine months. The first half of the job is projected to be completed about February 1998, and the whole job will hopefully be completed by July 4, 1998.

However, acts of God (such as any excessive precipitation caused by the El Niño weather pattern) are beyond the control of TxDOT and the contractor and could easily lengthen the construction time.

Clarendon mayor Tex Selvidge was optimistic about the highway construction.

"I think we can all agree this project is going to be good for us," Selvidge said. "This will make our city look nice. It's also going to be an inconvenience, but I think the outcome will be worth it."

"Some in the business sector will be affected as far as a loss of business. But I think the construction workers may offset that loss as they eat, buy gas, and live here."

Selvidge said the city will be passing an ordinance to lower the speed limit to 25 m.p.h. through town and that effective January 1, 1998, traffic fines will be doubled in the construction area.

Brown was pleased with Tuesday's meeting. "I appreciate the good attendance and the positive attitudes," Brown said. "We want to do everything we can to minimize the inconvenience of the project."

The Clarendon Enterprise will be working with TxDOT officials to provide weekly construction updates. Additional updated information will be available through flyers at The Grocery Store and B&R Thriftway.

Breckenridge wagon wins third Goodnight Chuckwagon Cookoff

For the third year in a row, the Col. Charles Goodnight Chuckwagon Cookoff has been declared a whopping success.

Estimates put attendance at about 1,500 for the event held last Saturday on the grounds of the Saints' Roost Museum, which sponsors the cookoff.

Twelve chuckwagons participated this year.

Lunch was provided by the Clarendon VFW Post in the form of delicious hamburgers and hot dogs.

Tours were given of the museum facilities throughout the day by the Clarendon High School Junior Historians in period costumes, and the old Ft. Worth & Denver Depot building housed a trade show with a variety of Western vendors.

Relatives of Col. Goodnight also attended this year's event and reportedly had a great time swapping genealogical information.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by Western singer Duke Davis and cowboy poet Tater Paschal.

Winners of this year's gathering were:

- Best All-Around Wagon Team (wagon and food combined) — 7D Wagon
- Most Authentic Wagon — Darcy Wagon
- Most Enthusiastic Team — 3H Wagon
- 1st Place Meat — Uh Oh Wagon
- 2nd Place Meat — C Bar C Wagon
- 1st Place Beans — Darcy Wagon

Meet Charlie Goodnight...

James Owens (left) visits with Charlie Goodnight of Minnesota during the chuckwagon cookoff at the museum last weekend. Mr. Goodnight was named for his relative, the legendary Panhandle cattleman Col. Charles Goodnight. Mr. Goodnight arrived before the weekend festivities and was nice enough to lend a hand with renovating the old Ft. Worth & Denver Depot.

Burton Library receives Tocker Foundation grant

Burton Memorial Library received a grant from The Tocker Foundation in the amount of $5,000.00.

This money will be used for youth non-fiction materials. The staff at the library is excited about being able to bring new and updated books in for young patrons. Watch for updates on what is new on the shelves.

The Tocker Foundation was established in 1964 to implement the philanthropic interests of Phillip and Olive Tocker. Phillip Tocker was practicing attorney but changed careers in his later years by purchasing the Waco outdoor advertising plant.

The family business was destroyed in the 70's by a tornado. The family rebuilt and the business survived. Phillip Tocker's vocational career culminated to the position of President of the Outdoor Advertising Association of America. After retiring, Phillip and Olive Tocker actively pursued their avocations. Phillip and Olive endowed the foundation with their estates in 1994 and 1993 respectively.

In 1992 the foundation board decided to focus grant distribution to small rural libraries serving a population of 12,000 or less.

The direction is to assist libraries in making services more accessible to individuals who by reason of distance, residence, handicap, age, literacy level, or other disadvantage are unable to receive the benefits of public library services.

Grants are distributed to assisting libraries to serve as community information referral center and provide literacy and bilingual programs. The foundation partners with community libraries to meet the particular needs of the community.

Thornberry sponsors bill to abolish tax code by 2001

WASHINGTON, D.C. — US Rep. Mac Thornberry announced recently that he has signed on as a cosponsor of legislation which would effectively abolish the United States tax code by the year 2001.

"Both the House and the Senate are looking at ways to reform the IRS," Thornberry stated, "While it's important to stop IRS abuses and give American taxpayers more rights, I think it's also important to keep in mind that the only way to really solve this problem is to overhaul the current tax system. The legislation I'm supporting will do this by abolishing the tax code in four years."

"Just as important, the bill will also require Congress, the President, and the American people to begin a debate over how to replace it. If the people I hear from are any indication, this is not only a debate we need to have, but one that's long overdue."

The legislation Thornberry is cosponsoring is HR 2490, also known as The Tax Code Termination Act. Introduced on September 18 by Rep. Steve Largent, the bill would repeal the current tax code by December 31, 2001.

HR 2490 also suggests that any new federal tax system adhere to seven basic principles, including: applying a low rate to all taxpayers; requiring a supermajority of both the US House and Senate to raise taxes; providing tax relief to working Americans; protecting the rights of taxpayers and reducing collection abuses; eliminating the bias against saving and investment; promoting economic growth and job creation; eliminating the bias against marriage; and protecting the integrity of Social Security and Medicare.

In supporting the Tax Code Termination Act, Thornberry cited research conducted by the National Commission on Restructuring the IRS which shows just how complex and out of control the tax system has become.

For instance, the Commission found that Americans spend 5.4 billion hours each year complying with the tax code - which is more time than it takes to build every car, truck, and van in the US. The commission also reported that the cost of complying with the tax system totals about $200 billion annually - or $700 for every man, woman, and child in America.

Thornberry also said his support for HR 2490 reflects what he's been hearing at home. "Since my election nearly three years ago," he said, "I've held over 75 town meetings across the 13th District. In each of these meetings, the most commonly addressed issue, and the most often asked question, had to do with taxes. Not just tax relief, but tax reform."

"In short, the people I've heard from feel not only that taxes are too high and need to be reduced, but that the tax code itself is too convoluted and

CC and Gem Theatre offer children's theatre workshop

Clarendon College will offer a nine-week theatre workshop to area elementary-age children, beginning Tuesday, October 14, in Claude.

Taught by Dr. Carale Manning-Hill, Managing Director of the Gem Theatre in Claude, workshop students will discover the fun and skill of acting through classes and productions of the well-known children's play - The Best Christmas Pageant Ever by Barbara Robinson.

"The workshop is designed for two age groups. One group is for first through fourth graders, and the second category is for fifth and sixth graders," Dr. Manning-Hill said. "The workshop will stress individualized attention; thus, the sessions are limited to 12 students in each age category."

Students participating in the Clarendon College Children's Theatre Workshop will complete the course with the timeless favorite The Best Christmas Pageant Ever on Friday, December 13, in the Gem Theatre in Claude. The class will also perform the play on Saturday, December 14 at the Harned Sisters Fine Arts Auditorium.

The workshop will be held at the historic Gem Theatre in Claude. CC will provide van transportation to and from the Gem Theatre for classes. Departure will be from the CC Harned Sisters Fine Arts Auditorium in Clarendon at 4:30 p.m. each Tuesday.

First through fourth grade students will meet from 5 p.m. - 6 p.m., while fifth and sixth grade students will meet from 6:15 p.m. - 7:15 p.m. Children who can read and are not yet enrolled in school are also encouraged to register for the Children's Theatre Workshop.

Students attending the workshop will attend for the following Tuesdays until December 9, according to Dr. Manning-Hill. "Parents are especially encouraged to attend the workshop and watch the children learn and rehearse she said.

"It is truly heartwarming to observe the natural acting talents of children, and I want parents to experience that joy as well. The Best Christmas Pageant Ever will also need parents as cast members. What a great family experience the workshop will be for both children and their parents."

No stranger to the arts and working with children, Dr. Manning-Hill previously taught at South Plains College and Texas Tech University. As a freelance director, she worked with the Texas Tech Museum, Lubbock Garden and Arts Series, Lubbock Senior Citizens Center and the Lubbock Community Theatre.

She has directed seven plays in the last two years, with two being children's plays. Also, two of Dr. Manning-Hill's own plays have been produced.

Dealing with children comes easy to Dr. Manning-Hill. To date, she has opened her heart and home to 78 foster children.

"Although I've acted, directed and costumed professionally, I believe that teaching and working with children are still my favorite areas," she said. "Children are truly a joy to work with and a work of art."

Registration deadline for the Children's Theatre Workshop is Friday, October 10. Cost of the nine week program is only $45 and is payable at the Clarendon College Administration Building or the first night of class at the Gem Theatre in Claude. Class size is limited; therefore, interested parties are requested to register early. Another class session will be added if the demand is there, according to Dr. Janie Noble, CC Director of Continuing Education. "We think this will be a popular class; therefore, we are ready to add another class session if more students want to enroll in the workshop."

For more information, please contact Dr. Janie Noble, Director of Continuing Education, at 874-3571.

Donley County courthouse featured in 1998 calendar

Donley County's historic courthouse is featured in the 1998 "Old Friends: Great Texas Courthouses" wall calendar, along with one other Panhandle courthouse and 11 others from across the state.

Other counties in the new calendar are Deaf Smith, Atascosa, Comal, Eastland, Jim Wells, Johnson, Lamar, Mason, Maverick, Montague, Navarro, and Trinity. Each section — the cover and each month — includes a color painting of a courthouse and a 1,500-word history of the building and its county.

"The Donley and Deaf Smith buildings are representative of the wide diversity of Panhandle courthouse architectural styles," said writer-illustrator Bill Morgan in a press release to the Enterprise.

The Dallas area resident visited Clarendon three times because "I was sure I'd missed something about that great old courthouse — and I still think I did."

The 1998 "Old Friends: Great Texas Courthouses" calendars are at bookstores and some historical museums. Mail orders ($12.95 per calendar) should be sent to Bill Morgan, 116 Sunview, Sunnyvale, TX 75182. Phone 792/203-1752 for more details.

Capitol Comment Priorities must be set on federal border policies

by U.S. Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchinson

The Clinton administration is going to have to decide which is more important: stopping the flow of illegal drugs across the Mexican border into this country, or making the border more hospitable for nocturnal ocelots.

Down in Brownsville, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service has drawn a bead on the Immigration and Naturalization Service. As part of Operation Rio Grande, the Border Patrol has increased its manpower, added equipment and installed some two dozen lights along the banks of the Rio Grande to foil nighttime sneaking activities by drug smugglers and illegal aliens.

But these lights, Fish and Wildlife officials allege, disturb two large species of cat, the nocturnal ocelot and the jaguarundi. Brownsville INS sector chief Ernesto Castillo says the lights are an essential element of the Operation Rio Grande strategy, protecting both Border Patrol agents and thwarting drug traffickers.

Mexico is the source of between 20 percent and 30 percent of the heroin and 70 percent of the marijuana shipped into the United States. It is the transit point for between 50 percent and 70 percent of the cocaine sold in the United States. The use of illicit drugs among eighth-graders has risen 150 percent in the last five years. Heroin addiction is climbing, and crack cocaine remains an epidemic in America's urban centers.

As valid as it is to be concerned about endangered animals, I am even more concerned about an endangered generation of children in America.

The federal government has all but lost control of the 1,200-mile border between Texas and Mexico. One of Mexico's largest drug cartels operates across the border from Brownsville. Texas farmers and ranchers are being terrorized on a daily basis by drug thugs who operate with impunity in that area. And the McAllen Border Patrol Sector, which includes Brownsville, now exceeds San Diego in the number of illegal aliens crossing the border.

On August 25 the INS stepped into that breach—lights and all—with its Operation Rio Grande. Congress has few higher priorities among its legislative activities than to provide the resources to address this problem, and Operation Rio Grande is part of the Clinton administration's response to our concerns.

I oppose any attempt to diminish the impact of Operation Rio Grande, or any other effort to secure the Texas-Mexico border. Not one light should be turned off.

The administration should rein in Fish and Wildlife and instruct it to work with the Border Patrol to resolve this matter in a way that does not impede law enforcement efforts. The overriding issue here is the well-being of our children and our nation as a whole.

Kindly intentions toward wildlife notwithstanding, that must be our first priority.

A Job Well Done

Our community owes a debt of gratitude to several hard workers for their efforts to renovate the old depot building.

In particular, local bootmaker James Owens deserves recognition for the long hours he put in readying the Ft. Worth & Denver Depot for use during the Col. Charles Goodnight Chuckwagon Cookoff last Saturday. Mr. Owens put in many hours spearheading the work on the building.

Against the odds of time and the elements, he and his helpers managed to repair the wood siding of the building, repair the windows and doors as well as the eaves and overhangs, and get it all painted and looking great for the event.

Mr. Owens says that he had a lot of help in getting the job done. In particular, Sherman Cosper, Johnny Cooper, Billy Chadwick, Nathan Parks, and Tim Lockeby provided many hours of service to the project. Roy Williams did a fine job with the new concrete work, and Allen Estlack wired the building in time to light it up for the cookoff. Heck, Mr. Owens even got Charlie Goodnight to pitch in and help! (Okay, it wasn't the colonel, but he is a relative of the colonel's from Minnesota.)

The building made an excellent place to house the trade show accompanying this year's cookoff, and Clarendon can be proud of this historic structure.

If you haven't already seen the depot's restored appearance, then take time to drive by the museum and take a look. And by all means, if you see James Owens or any of his helpers, be sure to shake their hand and commend them for their contribution to the community.

Issue Update with Mac Thornberry

New National Testing Standards Aren't the Way to Improve Our Kids' Education
Last week, the House passed an amendment which would block the Department of Education from spending money on a new national testing program for our kids.

I voted for this amendment - not because I'm opposed to higher standards in schools, but because I'm opposed to bureaucrats in Washington telling states and local communities what those standards should be.

As it stands now, the federal government spends nearly $100 billion dollars each year on 7600 programs spanning 40 federal agencies. The government will also spend more than $500 million this year alone just to help states come up with their own exams measuring academic achievement and performance. If there's anything we should have learned over the past 30 years, it's that the problems facing us as a Nation cannot be solved simply by spending more money or creating a new government program.

As the president himself said in a speech last March, "We cannot ask the American people to spend more on education until we do a better job with the money we've got now."

Doing a better job doesn't begin with national testing. It begins with sending more money to the classroom and taking steps to strengthen basic skills in basic academics.

It also begins with giving a greater role to the people who matter most in children's lives - their parents.

Other colleges trying to be like CC

There may be only one certainty when it comes to future of higher education. It's certain that the future is uncertain.

Early one recent Saturday morning, I trekked to Borger to hear one of our nation's foremost educators speak, and that theme came through rather resoundingly. Dr. John Roueche, the director of the Community College Leadership program at the University of Texas, provided a throng at Frank Phillips College with a glimpse into the 21st century.

It's a Star Wars kind of future, Roueche noted, which will witness education being delivered into the dens and living rooms of American families across the nation via technology that is arguably progressing faster than man's ability to implement it.

Technology is refashioning the educational marketplace like the wheel did transportation. The good news for Clarendon College, in my humble opinion, is that we may be less impacted by this new wave of technological competition than the big boys. I'll explain later.

Roueche, who has authored some 33 books on education and has won UT-Austin's Distinguished Faculty Award, told an auditorium full of teachers and staffers that by the year 2005, any community with cable TV (that's us) will be equipped to receive 25 learning channels. Thus, the average couch potato could earn a college degree from the likes of Walt Disney Corporation, Paramount Studios, Brigham Young University, and the University of Southern California while force-feeding him- or herself with Nacho Cheese Doritos.

Did you catch those names? Walt Disney? Paramount? Geez, Louise.

Moreover, did you know what university is the world's fastest-growing? It's the University of Phoenix. Yes, the University of Phoenix. I wouldn't be surprised to learn that the University of Phoenix doesn't even have a campus. It's basically an entity that exclusively offers technology-based degrees and courses.

"All the old boundaries are vanishing," Roueche said. "Why should a student live in a dorm when he/she can get interactive instruction and a tutor over an 800 line?"

Winner of the American Association of Community Colleges' Distinguished Leadership Award in 1986, Roueche used the analogy of the retail industry to illustrate technology's potential impact on higher education. He noted that the "Mom and Pop" store in downtown America: once thrived, only to fall victim to shopping malls and Sam Walton.

"The downtown merchant didn't think he'd be impacted at first," Roueche recalled. "He reasoned that he was a member of the Lions Club, a local church, and a product of five generations in the community. He had confidence that quality of service and customer loyalty would prevail. Guess what? It didn't happen. Downtown America died almost overnight. The same thing could occur in higher edu-

That technology is the enemy of higher education wasn't Roueche's point. On the contrary, as one of the nation's most progressive educators, I am certain Roueche believes in incorporating technological tools into the curriculum. He was, however, issuing a warning to colleges about what they must do to remain viable in a technological age.

"The key," Roueche said, "is the quality of human interaction we provide students. Students' relationships with faculty, counselors, and other staff will be critical."

"Teaching," Roueche continued, "is a human intensive profession. It's a personal development profession. We are in the business of assisting students in acquiring the skills, competencies, and attitude that will cause them to be good, self-supporting citizens in a democratic society. I am convinced that those who desire only to teach their discipline to highly motivated students have a limited future in this business."

So, what was Roueche saying?

Home, he was saying that educational institutions who want to remain viable into the next century, in the face of aggressive technological competition, i.e., earning a degree over the Internet, are going to have to become a lot more like Clarendon College. That's right - a lot more like Clarendon College.

Remember the motto we coined a couple years ago? We started calling Clarendon "The College that Cares." Even put it on the front of our catalog.

That's exactly what Roueche was talking about - taking a personal interest in every student, creating an environment, as he put it, "where students want to be." Roueche even cited examples - like faculty holding hamburger cookouts for students. Does that sound familiar?

So, there's good news for Clarendon College. Yes, we need to be far more technologically oriented, in my opinion, which is why we want to build a new library equipped with the bells and whistles that will offer our students an array of new learning opportunities. We want to network our Clarendon and Pampa campuses. We want Internet access for every student

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Sally Thornberry, wife of US Rep. Mac Thornberry, is featured in a pair of public service announcements focusing on two important health issues for women.

The first PSA is entitled Health Choice and encourages women to abstain from drinking alcohol during pregnancy.

The second PSA is entitled Make Your Birthday Count and encourages women to schedule an appointment with their doctor for a breast exam on

"I think these are two important issues which all women should know about," Mrs. Thornberry stated.

"The statistics are frightening. According to a 1996 study by Columbia University, at least one out of every five women in the United States uses alcohol and/or other drugs while pregnant.

"I think it's important that we let women know that their actions before their baby is born are just as important as their actions after.

"Breast cancer is also a concern to me because it touches so many families. One out of nine women will be diagnosed with this disease at some point in their lives. The best way to fight breast cancer is to catch it early, which is why it's so important that women get exams on a yearly basis."

4-H launches a National Public Service campaign

by Leon J. Church, County Agent

4-H launches its national public service advertising campaign, "Are You Into It?" on Sunday, October 5, 1997, during National 4-H Week, October 5 - October 11.

The campaign will kick-off in our community with youth and adults picking up trash as part of "Adopt a Highway" on Hwy. 287 west of Clarendon on Saturday the 4.

The campaign goal is to motivate youth to become involved in helping their communities through volunteer and community service projects.

The campaign's premise is that youth are an untapped resource for community service and that youth and their volunteer efforts can be of benefit to themselves and their communities. 4-H will provide the infrastructure to create a close connection between young people and community programs.

4-H "Are You Into It?" is a part of The Advertising Council's "Commitment 2000: Raising A Better Tomorrow". Watch for the national campaign that will be started during this coming week.

4-H and community service projects have a long history. One of the purposes of 4-H is to develop young people who serve others. That philosophy is an important one in our society. The most satisfaction one can receive is when giving of oneself to others in a positive constructive manner.

Anyone, youth or adult who would like to join the 4-H group and the "Adopt a Highway" cleanup on Saturday, October 4, can meet at the Donley County Courthouse at 1:30 p.m.

We will have a short safety session and receive instructions, then proceed to the highway cleanup.

Clarendon for promotional activities," Williams said. "Clarendon has a lot to offer, and we need to figure out the best way to get this information to the public here and in the surrounding area," she added.

Broncos overcome Hart Longhorns, record evens to 2-2

Clarendon's trio of Josh Allred, Cael Shields and Kareem Abdullah made a dramatic goal-line stand with under a minute to play to prevent Hart from tacking on a two-point conversion that would have stolen the game from the Broncos.

The Broncos won in a nailbiter, 28-27, Sept. 26 in Hart to even their record to 2-2.

Clarendon ends their three-game road trip with Friday's contest vs. Sunray in Bronco Stadium.

The Broncos were either tied or led most of the game, but the outcome wasn't determined until the final minute.

Hart took over the ball with about 5:56 remaining in the contest after a Blake Bass 1-yard run that gave the Broncos a 28-21 lead. "We're thinking that we'll play good, strong defense, and they made three fourth-down attempts on that," head coach Tooter Draper said.

But Hart, who worked their way to within feet of the end zone dug themselves into a hole when they were whistled for unsportsmanlike conduct, setting them back further away from payday.

Hart's go-to man J.J. Finch, who Draper said got stronger as the night went on, motored in nine yards with :45 ticks on the clock.

The Longhorns had missed an earlier two-point conversion in the third quarter, setting up a coach's nightmare. They had to decide whether they were going for two before a homecoming crowd or play for the tie with a PAT and go into overtime.

Earlier, Hart successfully made its only PAT of the night in the opening quarter.

When Hart lined up, Clarendon looked to stop Finch, who rushed for 250 yards on 30 carries.

But the two-point run attempt wasn't without controversy. One official signaled the run as good, but it was overruled by the other, closer referee.

"We looked at it on film. (Finch) took the ball on the 5-yard line and his body falls on the 3-yard line," Draper said.

Hart attempted the ensuing onside kick, but it was recovered by Shields before running the clock out the last :45.

Although the final period was the most memorable, plenty of action occurred prior to the last minute theatrics.

Junior quarterback Scotty Elliott made a 12-yard pass to senior Chris Bruce with 5:02 in the opening quarter. Abdullah's kick was good for the 7-0 lead.

But Finch responded less than :25 later with a 5-yard run after a break-down on the kick-off team, Draper said.

As the season progressed, more teams have started to provide double coverage on Abdullah, Draper said. Elliott, who completed 12-of-24 passes, has had to look elsewhere for receivers, and he hasn't been disappointed.

Elliott made a 58-yard TD pass to senior Jason Archuleta. Abdullah's kick was good, and the Broncos led, 14-7, at halftime.

Clarendon had its biggest lead of the game when Shields scored on a 24-yard run for a 21-7 advantage. But the huge lead evaporated a minute later when Ricky Urbin took in a 70-yard pass from Lupe De La Fuente. In a pivotal moment, Hart went for two and the pass failed, and Clarendon led, 21-13.

Finch opened the fourth period with 8:49 on the clock with a 15-yard run. Finch ran in the two points, and the two squads were deadlocked, 21-21.

Bass scored on a 1-yard run after freshman Sam Holton ran across the middle and pulled in a 40-yard pass. Abdullah's kick was good, and Clarendon led 28-21 before the final minute theatrics.

Adjustments in the special teams is what proved decisive in this week's contest, Draper said. "It was the difference in the ball game. We went four-for-four in our special points. (Abdullah) kicked. We started using him last week. We're looking at the difference in the ball game."

"Our extra points, that was a big, big thing for us. The offensive line, I can't say enough about the pass blocking of all of our receivers. Brent (Gaines) and (Abdullah), (Shields), (Bass), (Archuleta) ran great routes. We also had (Bass) back full strength, and he did an outstanding job blocking."

Patton Springs downs Hedley, 30-19

Patton Springs' deep bench and muscle was too much for the Hedley Owls to handle as the Owls lost their homecoming match-up, 30-19, Sept. 27 in Hedley.

Hedley led at the end of three quarters, but Patton Springs scored the last three TDs to take away the victory.

The six-man school has the week off before taking on McLean Oct. 10 in McLean at 7:30 p.m. in their district opener.

The junior high meets Samnorwood Thursday in Owl Stadium at 5 p.m.

Senior Kenneth Dishong opened the scoring with a 24-yard run. The PAT failed, and the Owls led 6-0 after the first quarter.

Patton Springs scored in the second quarter, and the PAT kick was good for an 8-6 Patton Springs lead at halftime.

Hedley sophomore Dustin Monroe returned an interception six yards to put Hedley ahead 12-8 at the end of three quarters. Sophomore Jeremy Wells rambled on a 34-yard TD run to spark the Owls in the fourth. Dishong tacked on the PAT run and Hedley held onto a 19-8 lead.

"Hedley was leading with 8 minutes remaining in the game, but Patton Springs' superior size and number of players (Hedley had nine players) wore Hedley down," according to head coach Bob Giffin.

"Then Hedley's quickest player, Jeremy Wells, was injured, and Patton Springs scored three times in the last 8 minutes."

The Ups and Downs Of Life

Everybody has ups and downs in their life, and the way we respond to them is a reflection of our personality and faith in God. I once heard it said that, "It is nice to be on the mountaintop, but it is in the valleys with the fertile ground, that everything grows." We usually do not grow much when we are on top of the mountain and everything is trouble-free and good. It is when we are in the valleys, and things are not going well, that we must depend on our loving God and have faith that things will work out for the best. It is difficult to understand how troubles and afflictions can be a blessing, but God's desire is for us to love and trust Him. Our time spent on earth is a learning process and is relatively short compared with spending eternity in heaven. Things are constantly changing in this world and we will always be confronted with life's ups and downs. The good news is, that in heaven there are no "downs," and for those who know Jesus as their Savior, their souls will live forever with God on the mountaintop.

*Trust in the Lord with all your heart, never rely on what you think you know.
Remember the Lord in everything you do, and He will show you the right way.*

Lady Broncos continue improving

Clarendon's cross country team continued to improve their times Sept. 27 at the Amarillo Invitational in preparation for the District 2-2A meet Oct. 25 in White Deer.

The Lady Broncos travel Saturday to Wheeler.

Team and place totals for the Amarillo meet were not available at press time.

Times typically tend to be slower at the Amarillo meet, head coach Steve Schmidt said.

"They never seem to be real good; (the course) might be a little on the longer side of two miles. But we definitely competed hard, judging by the pain and sweat on their faces," Schmidt said.

"Two years ago, Clarissa (Smith) ran a 14:52 on this course and she went on to the regional meet that season. This year, she ran a 14:52 and three others (Jamie Sawyer, Geri Butler and Kathy Bryley) ran real close to that."

"If we can get one more to get up there with the top four, we'll have a pretty tough team by district time. And I'm sure Courtney (Newhouse) can do that for us."

Finishing for the Lady Broncos were Smith, 14:52; Sawyer, 14:56; Butler, 14:59; Bryley, 15:08; Newhouse, 15:24; and Danielle Holden, 15:58.

The Amarillo meet always attracts tough competition, Schmidt said. The meet's elite runners forced the Clarendon team to push themselves and compete with some of the best.

Schmidt also was pleased with his junior varsity and junior high runners. The two teams ran together, which can be intimidating for the younger athletes, he said.

"Claire Rodriguez decided to 'go for it,' and stayed up with the leaders," Schmidt said. "She stayed up with the leaders for most of the race. She ended up 12th overall to win a medal."

The top 15 finishers garner individual medals. "(Rodriguez) has the potential to be one of Clarendon's best," he said.

Christine Holden finished 17th with a time of 15:44 and April Bryley was 19th with 15:56.

Other finishers in the junior high were Carrie Helms, 47, 16:47; Kelley Lemley, 63, 17:27; Kristen Glover, 74, 17:50; Brandi Betts, 85, 18:26; Brandi Martindale, 95, 19:54; May Butler, 103, 21:5; and Mandy McKinney, 104, 21:4.

JV finishers were Stephanie Smith, 55, 17:07; America Santos, 18:11; and Tonya Wilson, 83, 18:17.

The CHS Junior Historians provided a great service in giving tours of the Saints' Roost Museum during the third annual Col. Charles Goodnight Chuckwagon Cookoff last Saturday. Those helping were: (top) Aaron Ortega, Jason Bailey, Kajal Patel, Jessie Shelley, (middle) Walker McAnear, Paula Jackson, Chandra Ford, Mary Hoggatt, Tina Jones, (front) Michael McFarland, Pat Church, Lindsay Green, and Pati Ceniceros.

Colts to play White Deer; JV traveling to Claude this week

The junior high travels to White Deer Thursday for 4:30 p.m. and 6 p.m. starts. The junior varsity team will meet Claude Thursday in Claude at 6:30 p.m.

The seventh graders lost their game to Memphis, 14-0.

The eighth graders won their first contest of the season with an 8-0 win over Memphis Sept. 25 in Clarendon. Antonio Wilson scored on a 3-yard run. Josh Louis ran in the two-point conversion on the hand-off by quarterback Cody Watson.

The junior varsity continued its four-game winning streak with a come from behind 26-22 victory over Memphis Sept. 25 in Bronco Stadium.

Freshman quarterback Colt Floyd hooked up with Aaron Kidd on a 30-yard pass for the opening score for the Broncos. The PAT was no good. Junior Wes Ritchie scored on a 5-yard run.

Ritchie evaded several tacklers on the final TD late in the fourth quarter to put the Broncos ahead for good. Floyd ran in the two-point conversion.

Clarendon College Livestock Judging Team competes at Ft. Smith contest

Clarendon College's freshman and sophomore Livestock Judging Teams recently competed at the Arkansas-Oklahoma State Fair in Ft. Smith, Arkansas.

Clarendon College's Sophomore Team placed fifth overall while the Freshman Team earned sixth place honors. Team members participated in sheep, beef, and swine judging, as well as reasons. More than 20 teams from Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Kansas competed in the livestock judging competition at the 1997 Arkansas-Oklahoma State Fair.

Freshman Clayton LeCompte (Tucumcari, NM) earned first place in reasons and seventh place overall while sophomore Kevin McCright (Stamford, TX) placed second in the cattle judging division. Freshman Megan Tuell (Yuma, CO) earned third place honors in the swine judging division.

According to Coach Jerry Hawkins, this was the first contest of the year for both of CC's Judging Teams. "All the teams that placed above Clarendon had already attended other contests," Hawkins said.

Members of the Sophomore team are Becky Baker, Durango, CO; Christin Davis, Strawberry Plains, TN; Kelli Griffith, Pavillion, WY; Kevin McCright, Stamford, TX; and Justin Stafford of Waller, TX.

CC to host second annual Counselors Roundtable

Area high schools superintendents, principals, and counselors are invited to Clarendon College's 2nd Annual Counselors Roundtable on Wednesday, October 8.

According to Michelle Hughes-Wilson, CC's Coordinator of Counseling and Testing, the event is designed to inform high schools of the latest TASP Legislative decisions and CC admission requirements.

"During the conference, we will discuss TASP issues, dual credit, concurrent enrollment, scholarships, financial aid and Clarendon College's three new Tech-Prep Associate in Applied Science programs," she said. "A roundtable format allows us to talk over these issues and to receive feedback on the college's progress as seen by the high school administrators."

Wilson also stated that Clarendon College is facing a new era of high technology, changing student demographics and changing values. "As CC prepares for the 21st century, we want to keep area high schools informed of the latest educational issues facing us," she said.

The second annual Counselors

Roundtable will begin at 10 a.m. in the Bairfield Activity Center. Guest speakers include LeAnne Vogel, Director of Panhandle Tech-Prep. Vogel will discuss the new ASAP program. For more information, please call Clarendon College at (806) 874-3571.

County names new extension agent

Sue P. Church was appointed the new county Extension Agent for family and consumer sciences effective September 15 by Donley County Judge and Commissioners, and officials with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Amarillo. The announcement was made jointly by Judge Jack Hall and Donna C. Brauchi, District Extension Director for Panhandle District 1.

Church has joined Donley County's agricultural agent, Leon Church, in sharing responsibility for a substantial and ongoing education program base offered by Extension in Donley County. She will be providing leadership in family and consumer sciences, in addition to 4-H and youth development efforts.

The new agent holds a Master of Science degree in clothing, textiles, and merchandising from Oklahoma State University (OSU) at Stillwater. Her graduate degree specialization was in consumer education and merchandising. She also served as a graduate teaching assistant. Church earned a Bachelor of Science in home economics from University of Idaho at Moscow, graduating cum laude in home economics education and business.

Her previous employment includes a position as a high school home economics teacher with the Bureau of Indian Affairs in Many Farms, Arizona. Church was a partner in Design Source in Greenleaf, Idaho, and has experience in accounting and personnel records management, computer information systems, and in baking.

"We are extremely pleased Sue has chosen to join the Extension faculty at this time," said Brauchi, who stressed the importance of the partnership between area counties and the Extension Service. "Placing quality educators in every panhandle county ensures continuity of leadership and programming. It is a pleasure to join with Judge Hall and the Donley County Commissioners in making this appointment," said Brauchi.

The Churches moved to Donley County from Okanogan, Washington, in January. They are parents of a son and daughter.

New 4-H Foods and Nutrition Group is created by Sue Church, County Agent

Now is the time for area youth to sign up and join the new Foods and Nutrition project group.

Any young person from 3rd grade and above is eligible to participate. Topics covered throughout the year will be food preparation, nutrition education, meal planning, buying, social customs, and more.

Donley County 4-H is proud to announce that Connie Powell and Virginia Patten will be the adult leaders for this group. They are busy making plans for a Foods and Nutrition Extravaganza on Saturday, October 25th.

This introductory event will involve a morning of educational experiences and activities which the 4-Hers are sure to enjoy. Additionally, the Extravaganza will help prepare individuals for the upcoming county food show which is to be held Saturday, November 15th.

Come join the fun by signing up at the Donley County Extension Office.

For additional information call 874-2141 or visit with one of the adult leaders.

Louis L'Amour's writings display evidence of why his 86 novels, 16 short story collections, and three nonfiction works are so popular with readers. Many avid western fans may have wished, at times, they had known the man himself. His Education of a Wandering Man offers readers an insight to his mind which produced such literary creativeness.

This is different than any other L'Amour book you have read. It is part memoir and part reflection of his love for learning and reading. It tells of his decision to leave school at age 15 to "make the world his classroom."

At some point, he wanted to be a storyteller. To use L'Amour's words, he had "falling in love with learning, and it became a lifelong romance." He possessed enthusiasm and excitement for books and tried to "squeeze something of value from every printed page."

"He skinned cattle in Texas; worked as a circus roustabout and a mine caretaker; won small-town prize fighting exhibitions; hoboed across Texas on the Southern Pacific; and shipped out to the West Indies, England, and Singapore as a merchant seaman."

This particular book focuses on his adventures, a source for his storytelling and writing which provided his unusual education. Readers will be as fascinated with L'Amour's real life incidents as with his fictional characters about whom he has written.

Mr. L'Amour sums up this book's contents with the following words: "What has been offered here is one man's quest for knowledge, in which he is much less impressed by what he has done than by what has not been done. Along the way, I have written some stories - stories for people I have known about people I have known. These stories contain moments of drama because their intent is to entertain, but woven into their lines is much about how men have lived, fought, and survived. The world in which I have lived has often been a harsh, bitter one, but it has always been tinged with romance. I doubt I could have endured the one without the other."

This large print edition of Education of a Wandering Man will only be in Burton Memorial Library two more months before it rotates with other large prints to another Panhandle library. Why not check it out?

Donley County Senior Citizen News

Senior Citizens Center receives $685 from Arts and Crafts Club

The Donley County Senior Citizens received $685.00 from the 1985 Arts & Crafts Club to repair the roof on our warehouse. Last week we received a $25.00 donation from a Clarendon couple. We need to raise an additional $164.81 to pay for the supplies. Ted Shaller and a group of men from the First Methodist Church have offered to replace the warehouse roof for us. Anyone who would like to volunteer to help on this project is welcome. Please call the Senior Center at 874-2665 for more information. After the roof repairs are completed, we plan to paint the warehouse.

Nancy Davis will be showing us how to make a paper angel on Tuesday, October 21, at 12:30 p.m. here at the Senior Citizens Center. There is no charge for this class. We invite all interested crafters to come and bring their scissors. Call the Center for more information.

We appreciate Doris Braddock and Billie Shaffer for the fresh tomatoes, Onita Thomas for the peppers, and Stanley McKee for the watermelons. We also appreciate everyone who helped "corral" the watermelons when they were escaping down the street. Sybil Cash had her son and daughter-in-law, Robert and Glenna Cash, with her for lunch at the Senior Center last week. We appreciate Mike Suiter for his help unloading the Food Bank truck. We hope Lora May Moffett, Nell Vitarelle, and Judy Thomas are all feeling better after recent hospital stays.

The election for the board of directors of the Donley County Senior Citizens will be held on November 4, from 8:00 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. here at the Senior Citizens Center. Absentee voting will start October 20. Current board members serving terms through December 1998 are: Bill Hodges, president; Bob Kidd, vice-president; Onita Thomas, secretary; and Tommie Saye. Current board members serving terms expiring December 1997 are: Billy Powell, Patsy Hill, Murle Butts, and Wesley Thomas. We have a wonderful list of candidates running for our board. We will elect four people from the following list: Billy Powell, incumbent; Patsy Hill, incumbent; Jim Aveni; Nelson Christie; Charles Deyhle, Sr.; Ruth Hancock; Billy Jack Land; and Delbert Robertson. We are very fortunate to be able to offer our membership such a fine list of candidates from which to choose.

We invite the public to a Catfish Supper on October 9. We will be serving the catfish fillets that we serve on our regular menu. These are large delicious fillets. We will also be serving pinto beans, coleslaw, cornbread, cake, and coffee or tea. Carry outs will be available. Cost is $4.00 per plate.

Donley County Senior Citizens 1998 memberships are now due. We want to welcome all Donley County resident age 55 and over to join our wonderful organization. Our memberships are still only $1.00 per year.

September Volunteers: Freida Tucker, Onita Thomas, Wesley Thomas, Margie and Mike Suiter, Lucy and Tommie Saye, Cennet Rhode, Billy Powell, Nita Meador, Al Musgrove, Helen and Bill Land, Bob Kidd, Cora Hamilton, Patsy Hill, Judy and Billy Hodges, Hazel Guy, Sharon Grady, Helena Catoe, Louise Carter, Clara Mae Carter, Anna Gay Ceniceros, Virginia and Nelson Christie, Dolly Cole, Lee Caskey, Tammy Christopher, Jean Baten, Thelma Behrens, and Murle Butts.
