FARM NEWS

from the County ASC Committee

No Conservation Reserve Signup This Fall

There will be NO signup this fall of additional land or contracts under the Soil Bank Conservation Reserve. Program contracts which expire in 1960 or later are no longer eligible to be extended for an additional period of years.

Under the Soil Bank Act enacted in May of 1956 the Secretary of Agriculture was authorized to enter into Conservation Reserve contracts with producers during the five year period 1956-60. The sign-up under the 1960 program was held last fall, so that farmers would know in advance of the cropping season whether their land would be accepted into the Conservation Reserve. Since the authorization to enter into new contracts has not been extended beyond 1960, there will be NO signup period this fall.

Farmers should understand, however, that the existing contracts for 1960 and previous years will remain in effect and payments will continue to be made under them for the period of the contracts and in accordance with contract terms. The annual Department of Agriculture appropriation bills provide money with which to meet obligations already on the books.

There are 277 Conservation Reserve contracts in effect this year in Donley County, involving a total of 34,909.5 acres. Contracts periods range from 3 to 10 years, and annual rental payments for 1960 amount to approximately $327,114.22.

Cotton Marketing Cards

Cotton producers may call at the Donley ASC office for cotton marketing cards when needed.

1961 Farming Operations

If you have a change in your farming operations for 1961 by buying, selling or leasing land, it is very important that you contact this office so that our farm records may be kept on a current basis.

This is important to you so that current 1961 cotton allotment notices and other related information will be sent to you and not to previous operator.

Broncs To Play Wellington Fri. Night

The Bronchos will journey to Wellington Friday night to tangle with the Skyrockets at 8 p.m.

Wellington is reported to have a big team but have been the underdogs so far this season. They were defeated by Lefors 32-0 last Friday night and were defeated by Memphis by a lesser score the previous week.

According to coach Jinks, the Bronchos will be under par this week with two regular linemen out of the game and Robinson on the doubtful list due to illness. Tipton is ready to go again and will help fill the gap in the backfield. Jinks canceled out the B game Thursday night and has moved several boys up to the first team to help the situation.

Soil Conservation Supervisor Election October 4th

October the fourth is the date set for the election of a soil conservation supervisor in Donley County for zone number 2. This zone takes in all land north of Highway 287 to the Gray County line and all land west of Highway 70 to Jericho to the Armstrong County line. F. J. Hommel is the present supervisor for this zone. H. M. Breedlove, County Agent, will hold the election.

The supervisor elected will serve this zone for the next five years. Qualified voters are land owners in zone 2 who are over 21 years of age. Wives of eligible land owners in the zone are eligible to vote and should do so since they have an interest in the soil conservation district.

The soil conservation districts are sub divisions of the State of Texas and are charged with carrying out soil and water programs in the district. Through the district technical help, equipment and other services are provided the land owners.

The meeting will be held at the courthouse in Clarendon on the 4th of October at 8 p.m. and all land owners and wives are urged to attend and elect a supervisor.

Broncs And Tigers In 14-14 Tie

The Clarendon Bronchos seemed to have everything going their way in their battle with the Groom Tigers last Friday night leading with a score of 13-0 until late in the fourth quarter when over-confidence, errors, etc., took over. The Groom boys capitalized on the Bronchos laxity and pushed over two quick touchdowns to even the score 14-14. The first half of the game was played in a steady shower of rain and even though it stopped at halftime, the field was wet thru the remainder of the game hampering players on both teams.

Clarendon's first score came in the first period when Dwight McAnear skirted left end for the 6 points. The conversion failed. Shortly before the half, a Tiger fumble on their own 25 yard line put the Broncs in scoring position again and McAnear passed to Neal Carter who raced on over for the score. McAnear plunged for the extra point.

In Groom's scoring department, Kit Littlefield plunged over for the 6 points but their conversion attempt failed. Their next counter was set up by recovery of a Bronco fumble on Clarendon's 6 yard line. On the next play, Lloyd Littlefield romped around right end and went over the goal untouched. Cornett tossed an uncontested pass to Eldred James for the extra two points which tied the score.

B SQUAD TIES LEFORS

In the Bronco B squad game Thursday night, Coach Coate's boys fought a nip and tuck battle with Lefors and came out with a 6-6 tie.

Teddy Graham scored for the Broncs in the 3rd quarter and on the kick-off to Lefors on the next play, Lacy raced 78 yards on the return for the score that tied the ball game.

Four Injured In Car-Pickup Crash Sunday Morning

Four persons were injured, two seriously about 5 o'clock Sunday morning 14 miles west of Clarendon when a car driven by Roy Don Coleman of Memphis crashed headon into the rear of a parked pickup.

Patrolman John Lowrie, who investigated the accident, reported that the pickup which belonged to Claude Maggard of Albuquerque, N.M., was parked a good distance off the highway and Coleman apparently went to sleep losing control of the car. Maggard had just stopped to take a nap and was lying down in the seat when the accident happened. The impact knocked Maggard's pickup 204 yards and Maggard was thrown from the pickup enroute, Patrolman Lowrie stated. Both vehicles were headed east.

Lowrie reported that the pickup was loaded with 30,000 bass minnows and that he never had witnessed so many fish scattered over such a large area. Cars approaching the scene skidded on the fish as did those that were walking around.

The car driven by Coleman was a '59 Ford, owned by Mrs. J. H. Barbee of Lakeview and the pickup was a '59 Chevrolet. Both were considered a complete loss, Lowrie stated.

Maggard was alone in the pickup. He sustained a head injury and bruises. Occupants of the car were Coleman, Mary Lee Melton, and Kenneth Barbee, both of Lakeview. Coleman received a broken pelvis and left arm with numerous other injuries. Miss Melton received a crushed right leg and numerous other broken bones and injuries and along with Coleman is listed on the critical list at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. Barbee received numerous cuts and bruises.

THE DANGER OF RED CHINA

Part IV: A Foreign Policy?

The tired, heavy gates of Peiping swung open in 1793 to admit the personal representative of no less a king than George III of England. The British envoy had come to the Imperial Court seeking improved trading conditions and permanent diplomatic relations, but his mission was largely unsuccessful. The Chinese Emperor looked at the world a bit differently than did George III. "Our dynasty's majestic virtue," said the ruler, "has penetrated into every country under Heaven. . . . Our celestial Empire possesses all things in prolific abundance, and lacks no product within its own borders. I . . . have no use for your country's merchandise."

The Emperor soon learned his lesson. Driven by the rapidly spreading Industrial Revolution, the European powers inaugurated the most imperialistic era in modern history. By the end of the American Civil War, China's sovereignty had been severely compromised and the first cracks had begun to show in the veneer of the ancient dynasties. It would be impossible to picture the full impact of the West: not only the technical advances, but also the new, fresh thinking which seeped in and gradually reached the people themselves. The irresistible seeds which the outside world had planted in China began to grow, and the old order finally toppled in 1912.

The pulse of history now began to quicken. Another Western-inspired epoch, beginning in the wake of World War II, again swept a new form of government into power. The unpleasant success of China's communism coincided with the Atomic Revolution, and the changes wrought across this stolid country have been described earlier. Even today, Mao Tse-tung and his subordinates are using the memory of European injustices in China to whip their people into a frenzied hatred of the Western world. In fact, the first touchstone in understanding Red Chinese foreign policy is the realization of just how tremendously the outside world itself has influenced China's development.

Most of today's statesmen are as astonished with China as George III must have been when he received the Emperor's reply more than 150 years ago. Nevertheless, the impatient and radical hands which guide the destiny of China will have an immense amount to say concerning the future of peace. In the immediate short-run, China is important to us only as an arm of the Soviet Union. She is separated from the United States by six thousand miles of ocean and is presently without significant supply of missiles or naval vessels.

In the long run — and this may not be so long as we once supposed — the situation is altogether different. Communist China, by merely following her present course, will eventually become an important power. This is a fact which can be denied only at our serious peril, and the question of the best means to deal with this prospect should be an important line of thinking for us all. Recognition of Red China, which even Peiping may not really desire, would be an unwise and haphazard move. Still, communism is apparently in the saddle in China, and this unhappy situation poses a threat to our freedom fully as ominous as the one set forth by Soviet Russia.

The factor which we as Americans should not forget is that the foreign affairs of the People's Republic of China are nothing more than the means to an end. Peiping's contact with the West has been based almost solely upon the internal revolution. Their rather warm attitude toward nuclear war is only another means to drive the people toward a more productive labor effort and a more secure faith in communism's strength. In this sense, Communist China has no real foreign interest at all. Her every act is calculated to fit the internal need, and no one in the outside world — not even the Soviets — are prepared to influence this condition.

Thus the Chinese present not only an evil countenance, but a highly fluid one as well. We have, in other words, much more than an extremely powerful acid. It is an acid running free outside its container, rolling along like a careless river and capable of destroying the most precious object almost innocently. In this concluding segment of our discussion on Red China, I would like to emphasize that we in the United States must stand against that country with a thorough realization of its preoccupation with itself. Like a highly selfish individual, China cannot be "talked to," but neither can it be allowed to use others as stooges for its own ends. I think we will be much more successful in our relations with Red China if we devise a means of constantly reducing the areas in which she can use us for her own good and nothing more.

INSECTS DAMAGE STORED GRAIN

College Station — In many areas of the state, grain has been stored or is now in the process of being stored. Insects will damage much of this stored grain if preventative measures are not taken before storage. C. F. Garner and R. L. Ridgway, extension entomologists, offer helpful hints on ways to prevent insect damage of stored grain.

One of the first requirements for proper grain storage is the use of adequate storage facilities, the specialists say. Grain storage structures should exclude all outside moisture, and they should also be easily accessible for inspection and fumigation of the grain. Bins in which grain can be aerated are helpful in cooling or drying grain.

No matter how well the storage facilities are constructed, they cannot protect the grain unless they are clean. Before they are used, bins should be cleaned thoroughly of all waste material and sprayed with a residual spray. Old grain, trash or other debris furnishes excellent living quarters for insects, the entomologists continue. The specialists point out that good housekeeping practices in and around grain storage bins will aid in eliminating insect infestations.

Malathion has been approved for use in stored grain as a protectant against insects. The specialists report that a tolerance of eight parts per million has been established. If this chemical is applied before the grain is placed in final storage, it will greatly reduce the possibility of insect damage.

Garner and Ridgway suggest a conference with the county agent before grain harvest begins. The agent can supply valuable information and suggestions that may prevent sizable losses due to insect damage.

Henry Hazlitt writes in Newsweek: "From time to time I get letters from readers asking how they can protect themselves from the eroding effects of inflation on their savings. It is possible to answer this question in a way that is helpful to a particular individual; it is not possible to answer it in a way helpful to everyone. What is still not widely understood is that inflation can benefit one man only at the expense of another. The price of what you have to sell can go up more or faster than the average price of what you have to buy only if the price of what other people have to sell to you goes up less or slower than the price of what they have to buy from you. . . . The political appeal of inflation comes from fostering the illusion in the great majority of voters that they will somehow get the better of the swindle, and profit at the expense of a few unidentified victims."

HERE! '61 CHEVY TRUCKS

WITH WORK-PROVED INDEPENDENT FRONT SUSPENSION!

Chevy's '61 fleet swings in with a ready-made reputation as the trucks that are worth more because they work more... the latest editions of the haulers that scrapped the I-beam axle and proved the important advantages of independent front suspension!

You'll find new models for '61—long-wheelbase 4-wheel drive units—and thoughtful refinements throughout the line. But the big news for '61 is nailed-down proof (based on owner reports) that Chevy's torsion-spring design is the best thing that's happened to trucks in decades!

With Chevy's independent front suspension and Sturdi-Bilt design, you cruise over trails where other trucks creep. You feel the difference in less wheel fight and vibration. You can see why drivers are happier, why loads are better protected and why the truck itself will stand up to thousands of miles of more work. That goes for any size Chevy, too—pickups, tilt cabs, tandems, all of them.

Check the latest specs with your Chevrolet dealer: capacity, power teams, options. Then, by all means, drive a '61. Once around the block and you'll never be satisfied with a front axle truck again!

WORTH MORE BECAUSE THEY WORK MORE!

BLOWIN' Out the CORNERS

Evil Deeds make strange bed-fellows. We can bet that the intent is evil as to the carryings-on of Mr. Khrushchev and Me Too Castro while on their rampage before the United Nations. To see these two characters teamed up together as bed fellows would make even a bad dream want to go some place else to happen.

Just about one hundred years ago Abe Lincoln is supposed to have said; "You can fool all the people some of the time, and some of the people all of the time; but you can't fool all of the people all of the time." Honest Abe never dreamed that anyone would ever become the Ruler in any country where all that he couldn't fool would be shot or shipped to the coal mines to die.

As we watched the expressions of Khrushchev and Castro while Mr. Eisenhower reminded them of their sins it was pretty obvious that behind these cold mask-like faces was a feeling of bitterness and hatred. We felt a bit like the fellows who upon being ignored in a special way were giving their expressions full force;

Said the one; "I just don't like that fellow's "Altitude."

Another made his point by saying; "On top of that he is too "Sourcastic."

Me too . . . We just couldn't think of two words that would fit these two more perfectly. Mr. Khrushchev is sky-high in his own personal "Altitude," and on top of that both are artists in the art of being "Sourcastic."

We heard one solution to the whole matter that makes a bit of sense. Give our seat in the United Nations to Red China, buy out all of their interests in the building with some lend-lease money, turn it into a school-house in which to teach Democracy, and then ask them to move the thing just as far away from our shores as possible. Could be.

A Smile is such a simple thing. Requires no work at all. And yet there's nothing which can bring.

Such joy to one and all.

According to those who have made a study of such things it requires fewer muscles and less effort to smile than it does to frown. This being the case it seems such a pity that the whole world contains even one grouch.

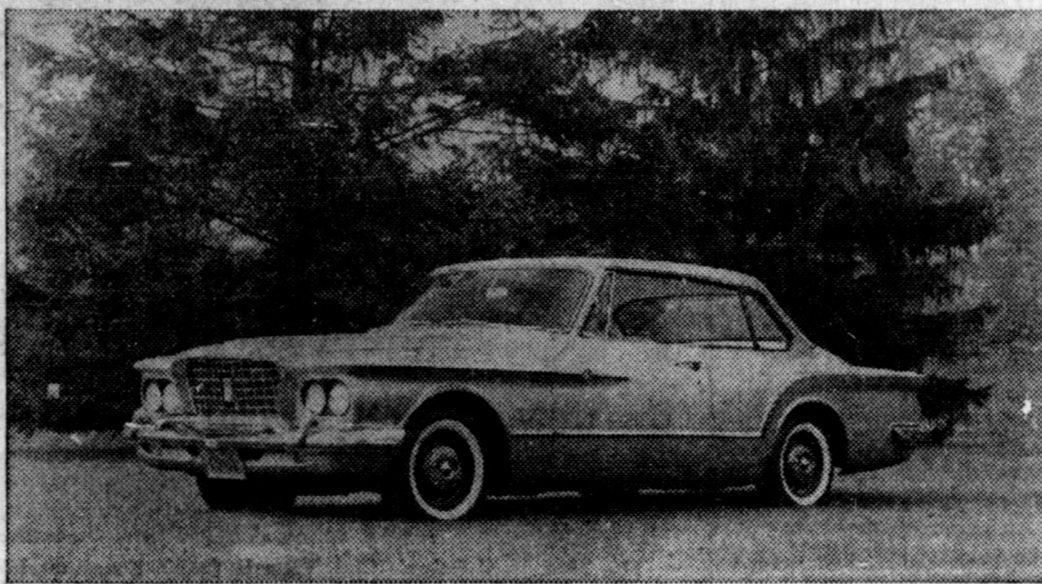

A smile will help any situation. A frown will almost always create one.

A smile is said to be a frown turned upside down. With the corners turned up it is possible to catch any little bits of happiness that might be floating around.

A smile always adds to our face value. A frown takes away help your personality to get top from our real worth. A smile will rating, while a frown will give your true self away.

A smile will show your teeth, but a frown will let folks see your disposition. It reaches out

Enhanced '61 Valiant Adds New Models

Valiant offers a more complete line of body styles for 1961 in the low-price, compact car class, in anticipation of even greater buyer demand for the most economical American-built cars. In addition to the four-door sedan and the suburban in two different series, there is now a two-door sedan in the V-100 series and a two-door hardtop in the V-200 series. The 1961 Valiant has been improved in many ways for operating economy, durability, performance and smoothness of ride. In external appearance, it continues to accent the beauty of line and proportion which won wide acclaim when the car first appeared last year. Valiant offers air conditioning for the first time as a dealer-installed option.

to bring happiness to those about us, and grows inward to warm our own heart.

He smiled, and his home was a happier place for his family. He smiled — and those with whom he worked had a more pleasant day. He smiled — and his neighbors spoke well of him on the street. He smiled — and folks were glad to see him in church. He smiled — and the world was a better place in which to live. He smiled — and he lived longer in a pleasant world.

A smile costs nothing, but gives much. In fact smiles are even cheaper by the dozen. It makes the life happier that receives it, and at the same time makes the life of the one giving it away even richer.

It takes only a fleeting moment to smile, but the results of it may last for days or even years. There are none so rich but that a smile will make their life even richer, whether it is to give or to receive. There are none so poor but that it will make their life more precious.

It is said, that a smile is something that cannot be bought, begged, borrowed, or stolen. The reason being that it is of no value unless it is given away willingly and freely.

The next person we meet along the street may not feel up to giving out a smile so we ought to be the first to pass one along to him. It might be just the thing that he would need to make his day a better one.

One of the most common ailments in the world is the feeling that folks are down on us. To meet someone with a friendly smile is the most convincing proof that we are wrong.

The best place to give away one of our best smiles is in the sick room of a friend. In this condition he will never appreciate a sad look for he already has enough troubles of his own. But a smile will do good like a doctor's medicine and he will thank you for it.

Yes, a Smile costs nothing but will reward us much.

A frown will cost us much and reward us nothing.

Charles E. Webber of the Sun Oil Company says: "The double set of rules under which gas producers operate is a condition unparalleled in Americas business. We have all the hazards of free enterprise. Everyday we compete with each other for additional business — or to hold on to what we already have. Yet, when it comes to selling the gas, the Federal Power Commission holds us under a utility status. We are required to live as utilities without the guarantees ordinarily granted to them. We are not even permitted to recoup the cost of gas replacement because of unrealistic price ceilings set by the FPC."

A man who came West from the East to go into the cattle business primarily for the money that was in it, was often referred to as a "boot-black puncher" by the old cowhands.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — With all the hoopla over the national elections, many Texans may get to the polls Nov. 8 before they realize they have other important decisions to make that day.

Four proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution will be voted on at the general election. Voting to approve or reject alterations in the state's basic law is one of the most important responsibilities a voter has. It is the average citizen's one and only opportunity to participate directly in the lawmaking process.

Here, in brief, are the proposed amendment (in the order they will appear on the ballot) and what they would do:

AMENDMENT ONE: Would authorize creation of special hospital districts in Lamar County, Hidalgo County and Commissioners Precinct No. 4 of Comanche County.

Approval of this amendment would not actually create these hospital districts, but would give local voters authority to do so in a local election.

Amendments such as this one, which apply only to the areas specifically mentioned, usually are passed on the grounds that they give local voters authority to take care of local affairs. Since it is permissive rather than mandatory, local voters can decide for themselves whether they want to carry it through.

Some argue against such amendments on the grounds that such details as this should not be added to an already overly-long Constitution.

AMENDMENT TWO: Would permit a rate of interest not to exceed 3½ per cent on bonds issued hereafter for the benefit of the Veterans Land Fund. Present constitutional ceiling is 3 per cent.

Veterans Land Board is authorized by law to sell bonds and use the money from these sales to buy land which is re-sold to qualified Texas veterans. Law provided for the sale of $200,000,000 in bonds, but the Board has not been able to sell the last $62,500,000 of these bonds because, in today's market, 3 per cent interest does not make them an attractive investment.

Financial experts think that raising the permitted interest rate to 3½ per cent should be sufficient to make the bonds salable again.

AMENDMENT THREE: Would change the pay scale of members of the Legislature to give them annual salaries of $4,800 plus $12 a day for each day in session. It would limit regular sessions to 140 days (present limit is 120 days). Lawmakers would receive $12 a day for each day of a 140-day regular session plus $12 a day for each day of a 30-day special session.

At present, legislators receive no annual salary. They get $25 a day for each day, up to 120 days, of the regular session plus $25 a day for each day of a 30-day special session. They receive no pay in years the Legislature does not convene (such as 1960). Under this proposal, they would receive $4,800 a year base pay whether they spent any time in session or not.

Present provisions for travel expenses would not be changed. These provide for the lawmaker to receive $2.50 for each 25 miles of the round trip between his home and Austin once each session.

This amendment is essentially a compromise between the present arrangement and the constitutional change proposed in 1958. Last time the proposal was for annual salaries of $7,500 and no per diem. It also provided for annual sessions which, many think, contributed to its defeat.

Proponents of the current plan say that it will make it possible for better qualified people to serve in the Legislature without having to make so much of a personal financial sacrifice to do so.

Opponents argue that it will create "professional legislators." They contend that it is better for the lawmaker to have another job in private life to keep him closer to the problems of the peo-

The 1961 Ford Galaxie Club Victoria (top), a new model in the Ford line that will be introduced to the public on September 29, features the crisp, fresh appearance that earned a gold medal from an international fashion authority for "functional expression of classic beauty." Ford's station wagon series includes the nine-passenger Country Squire (bottom) and introduces another new model—a six-passenger version of the Country Squire. The new Ford station wagons have a roll-down tailgate window, and the tailgate itself is seven inches wider than in 1960. All 1961 Fords feature new dimensions for greater maneuverability and such major engineering improvements as 30,000-mile lubrication, heavier, self-adjusting brakes, and longer-lasting bright trim and underbody parts.

If the amendment is passed, a Texas legislator would receive for his two-year term of office minimum pay of $9,600. In other states, the pay for a two-year term ranges from $200 in New Hampshire to $15,000 in New York. Average is about $3,600.

AMENDMENT FOUR: Would give the Legislature authority to classify loans and lenders, to license and regulate lenders, to define what part of the charge made on loans should be considered interest and to fix the maximum rate of interest which should be charged.

This is generally known as the "anti-loan shark" amendment and is being supported by a blue ribbon committee of citizens from over the state.

At present the Constitution provides that the maximum rate of interest shall be 10 per cent. This is widely, almost universally, violated by the small loan industry, usually through additional charges besides the interest — "handling charges, service charges," etc.

Attorney General's department investigations have turned up cases of flagrant abuses by loan companies, making charges that totalled altogether as much as 300% of the amount loaned. On the other hand, the investigators themselves admit that a loan company making short-term, high-risk personal loans cannot stay in the black on 10 per cent. If this amendment is passed, it will be up to the Legislature to decide what is a fair charge. Even those legislators who voted for this proposal admit they dread the prospect of having to decide what rates are fair.

HIGHWAY SLOWDOWN DUE—Public highway work in Texas will be cut back about one-half for the months of November and December, the State Highway Department announces.

This is a seasonal drop, according to State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer. Spring and summer are the "rush season" for highway work because the weather is good. They are also the months when revenue from gasoline taxes runs high.

Sale of license plates next spring will bring the annual bounce-back in money to the Highway Department, and a rise in highway contract lettings is expected about the same time.

Total construction contracts for September and October are expected to hit about $21,000,000 each month, but will probably drop to half of that for November and December.

SHORT SNORTS — Kenneth I. Kimbro has been named chief clerk under Comptroller Robert S. Calvert. He succeeds the late Gus Farrar . . . A. T. (Moon) Mullins, chief clerk of the General Land Office, has resigned to enter private law practice in Austin. Mullins has been with the Land Office since 1948 . . . U.S. Dept. of Agriculture has predicted this year's Texas Cotton crop at 4,425,000 bales, an increase over earlier predictions. Other crop forecasts: sorghum, 276,432,000 bushels, just short of last year's record crop; peanuts, a record yield of 313,125,000 pounds; car-rots, up 6 per cent; and pinto beans, 30-per cent increase.

Announcing the 1961 Ford...
Beautifully proportioned to the

CLASSIC FORD LOOK

The 1961 Ford Galaxie Club Victoria—beautifully built to take care of people

An honor to be proud of, this is the medal presented by the international fashion authority, Centro per L'Alta Moda Italiana, to the 1961 Ford for functional expression of classic beauty.

BEAUTIFULLY BUILT TO TAKE CARE OF ITSELF

The 1961 Ford introduces a whole new concept of what a car can do for you . . . and for itself!

It lubricates itself. New nylon bearings and a newly developed lubricant keep the '61 Ford freshly greased for 30,000 miles. It cleans its own oil. The 1961 Ford's Full-Flow oil filter lets you go 4,000 miles between oil changes.

It adjusts its own brakes. A "mechanical brain" keeps brakes adjusted for the life of the lining.

Rust? Ford's body is specially processed to resist corrosion, even to galvanizing body panels beneath doors.

Ford takes care of itself on the turnpike, too, with a new 390-cu. in. Thunderbird Special V-8 that has all the punch you'll ever need. The 352 Thunderbird Special V-8 and 292 Thunderbird V-8 thrive on regular gas. And, for top economy, you can choose the '61 Mileage Maker Six.

This is the 1961 Ford . . . beautifully proportioned to the Classic Ford Look . . . beautifully built to take care of itself.

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF

LUBRICATES ITSELF. You'll normally go 30,000 miles without a chassis lubrication.

CLEANS ITS OWN OIL. You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes with Ford's Full-Flow oil filter.

ADJUSTS ITS OWN BRAKES. New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves automatically.

GUARDS ITS OWN MUFFLER. Ford

mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminized—normally will last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.

PROTECTS ITS OWN BODY. All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing body panels beneath doors.

TAKES CARE OF ITS OWN FINISH. New Diamond Lustre Finish never needs wax.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

THE DANGER OF RED CHINA

Part III: Brave New World
China is the homeland of civilization's most enduring dictatorship — the very Alpha and Omega of despotism. Its hand of oppression reaches back from the Atomic Age and touches the ancient patriarchs who walked in the pre-dawn twilight of history. Its allegiance to totalitarian doctrine outlives the Pyramids, the Code of Hammurabi, or the Laws of Moses. And when Mao Tse-tung's triumphant army marched into the Forbidden City of Peiping on February 3, 1949, five thousand years of dignified but tortured Chinese looked down with profound silence.

The communists are thus not the first masters of China, but they may well be the last. The degree of regimentation and repression of the people, planned or already afoot, is one of the truly revolutionary developments in all of man's experience. For life in China today seeks nothing less than the destruction, in large measure, of a part of human instinct itself. Indeed, the image which this land has presented in the past few years calls to mind a passage from Aldous Huxley's book of the 1930's, "Brave New World":

"People are happy; they get what they want, and they never want what they can't get. They're well off; they're safe; they're never ill; they're not afraid of death; they're blissfully ignorant of passion and old age; they're plagued with no mothers or fathers; they've got no wives, or children, or lovers to feel strongly about; they're so conditioned that they practically can't help behaving as they ought to behave . . ."

None of this, of course, has quite come true for China today. But as one sees more and more of the incredible upheavals within Chinese society, the picture which Huxley has painted appears less and less imaginary. The people who live under the Peiping regime are not only subjected to the familiar naked power of a police state. Something new, a more positive factor, has been added. The people cannot merely endure, they must appreciate; they cannot simply parrot communist doctrine, they must actively enshrine it; they cannot even hope to die, but must publicly and convincingly expound the glories of life in the mass.

What are the outlines of this life? Pack five thousand families onto a 10,000-acre farm. Work them ruthlessly for an annual salary of about $35. Place their children in remote nursery centers. Shuttle them about ceaselessly, without regard to separations of husband and wife. Brainwash them daily in small "study groups." Drill them incessantly under full military discipline. Feed them at a common trough in gigantic mess halls. Develop an extreme emotional insecurity with an intolerance for and hatred of all other social and political beliefs. The result is roughly equivalent to commune life.

Four hundred million Chinese — three of every four rural dwellers — live in such a nightmare every day. And the movement is aiming toward the eventual envelopment of the entire population. It is more than the physical terror of a Stalin or a Hitler. It is a purge of the mind and the past, a systematic blotting out of virtually all loyalties except those to the regime. Patriotic songs, street corner skits, fanatic slogans, and official ideology all penetrate to the most remote homes with all the endless pitter-patter of a carnival huckster.

More than half a billion people are neatly divided into "voluntary" study groups containing no more than a dozen members. Here the Psychology of the Herd is employed with insidious efficiency. Silence is impossible. Regular meetings require not only a thorough understanding of official doctrine, but an application of this doctrine calculated to discredit one's own ideas in light of the orthodox version. A crusading fervor combines with an understandable urge to belong and produces an irresistible and positive conformity unprecedented in human experience.

China, when the communists took over in 1949, had but one trump card: the most abundant population in the world. Mao and his followers have played that card with all their might and at every conceivable opportunity. The people were China's only natural resource, and they have been refined and molded far beyond the limits of reality. For all its horrible achievement, there is a sort of permanent danger of failure bound up with the entire process. As Winston Churchill once said in relation to another power, "Dictators ride to and from upon tigers they dare not dismount. And the tigers are getting hungry." The stress of China's mental as well as physical diet may keep the tigers hungry for many years to come.

GEORGE'S WIFE

By "Sarah"

We wonder if the "Chicken episode" in New York's Hotel Shelburne will not become as famous as the "Kitchen episode" at the fair in Russia. Used for a far different reason we'll grant, but we haven't heard the last of it by any means. We will be looking forward to pictures of the bearded ones plucking their Cuban born chickens, in an American Capitalist Hotel. This no doubt, was a trait left over from his guerrilla war days, when stolen chickens and vegetables out of his enemies back yards was the means in which his army survived.

We played it safe though, when his arrival with the large welcoming crowd was shown on TV. We heard of a housewife watching these goings on while cooking breakfast, burned the bacon so badly it set the house on fire. We wouldn't trust ourselves around the stove, or with the dishes, but started waxing floors on our knees. This chore we had put off for months, they had gotten so bad we thought a shine would never be brought back to them. Like the lady who caught her house on fire, we got carried away. The floor shines, and after our anger subsided we discovered we were on our knees, which is a good place for all us during this world shaking event.

We asked a friend if they had visited the County Fair last week, the reply was: nope seen one, you've seen 'em all. In spite of them though our Fair was better than ever. Our conception of a County Fair is, every one taking a part in friendly competition. The more who take an active part, the better the Fair. There are some in every Community who go far beyond the call of duty, to make a bigger and better Fair each year.

The Tri-State Fair sounded so glamorous this year, we ask George if we were going to take off a day and see the sights . . . you guessed it, he said; nope, you see one, you've seen 'em all.

They had better wind-up all the big events real soon, we have to have the air-way for the World Series. Just hope someone stays home to mind the store, it would be an awfully good time for those who do not care for this all American event to slip the rug from under us.

YOU HEAR STRANGE THINGS ABOUT CATHOLICS

Yes, you do hear some strange things about Catholics.

You hear it said that Catholics believe all non-Catholics are headed for hell . . . that they believe non-Catholic marriages are invalid.

Some think Catholics believe the Pope is God . . . that he can do no wrong . . . that they owe him civil allegiance and that he should have the political power to rule America.

It is said that Catholics want religious freedom only for themselves . . . that they oppose public schools and separation of Church and State as evils which should be destroyed.

The claim is made that Catholics pay the priest for forgiveness of their sins . . . that they must buy their departed relatives and friends out of Purgatory . . . that they adore statues . . . are forbidden to read the Bible . . . use medals, candles and holy water as sure-fire protection against loss of a job, lightning or being hit by an automobile.

But what is worse, some say, Catholics corrupt the true teachings of Jesus Christ with the addition of pagan superstitions and practices that are nothing less than the inventions of the devil.

If all these things or any of them were true, it would be a pity. For at least one out of every four Americans is a Catholic and it would be a national tragedy if one-fourth of all Americans entertained such erroneous ideas.

If you have heard and believed any of these false claims, and want the truth, we will gladly send you a free pamphlet explaining the true teachings of the Catholic Church. This free literature will be sent with the compliments of the Knights of Columbus of this area.

BURN OUT THE DROSS

Dr. V. Orval Watts, professor of Economics at Antioch college, a lecturer at Harvard, and the author of many books, recently came to Portland, Oregon, to speak at the School for Anti-Communists. In an interview he said:

"Free enterprise, gold standard economics has become an almost underground movement in the college today. The writings have been suppressed, many of the men have been fired for teaching free enterprise economics so they have become a minority group."

"More and more the time of the American businessman is being taken to win an opportunity to keep his business going and to expand it in the face of growing restrictions by government and increasing tax burdens."

"If you are not an idealist, you don't teach free enterprise economy very long. There is considerable unpopularity involved."

However, said Dr. Watts, "All truth has to go through a period of suppression and persecution to burn out the dross — to get people thinking. I am hopeful there is a change in the trend of the thinking of the young people not very far ahead, a return to the revolutionary ideas of the founding fathers."

Much of our present-day school and college teaching pays homage to a line of ideas that glorify big government and promote socialism — that leave a student confused and with a feeling that there is something wrong or crooked with American business and the profit motive, and that only the "common man" (whoever he is) and the politicians have the best interests of the people at heart.

More teachers like Dr. Watts are needed to help build respect for and belief in the superiority of private property rights, personal liberty and individual opportunity, instead of more advocates of political control of the individual and "cradle to the grave" security, which means lost freedom. You can't swap freedom for security without losing both.

Nearly 37,000 people were killed, and 3 million injured, in automobile accidents in the U.S. in 1958. Forty-nine per cent of the traffic injuries occurred in week-end accidents.

Travel and vacation plans are determined by women in 75% of American homes, according to a study conducted by an airline.
