FARM NEWS

from the County ASC Committee FARMERS SHOULD THINK OF FUTURE RESULTS

Yes, farmers should think of future results as well as their present situation when they decide whether or not to participate in the new feed grain program. A factor is the possible effect such a program could have on the present huge feed grain surplus. Government-owned stocks of these grains are so large that, at the current rate of disposal, it would take Commodity Credit Corporation approximately nine years to move them into use on a first-in, first-out basis. USDA economists estimate that if enough farmers participate in the new program, this surplus could be reduced substantially in just one year. Also, this year's program could lay the groundwork for additional reductions of the surplus in the future.

Another consideration is the amount of taxpayer's money that would be saved on the storage of this surplus. Commodity Stabilization Service estimates that the new program would result in a savings of from $400 to $600 million in storage costs on the 1961 crops. In every county, there will be two county average rates of payment per acre established for corn and two for grain sorghum. One rate will be based on 50 per cent of the county normal yield per acre times the county support rate. The other rate will be based on 60 per cent. These rates will be adjusted for a farm according to the farm's productivity in relation to the county average yield. And whether the 50 or the 60 per cent rate applies on a farm will depend on how much of the base acreage is diverted. The higher rate applies to each acre between 20 and 40 per cent of the base.

Yes, we realize that it may not be easy to remember all these details just from hearing about them once, so any questions about the program should be taken up with the county ASC committee. Incidentally, the payments will be made in the form of negotiable certificates for which producers may receive grain or a cash equivalent of grain.

Any producer who feels that the feed grain base and/or payment rate established for his farm are incorrect or inequitable as compared to the feed grain base and/or the payment rate determined for similar farms, may appeal to the County Committee within 15 days from the date shown on Form CSS-471, Notice of 1961 Feed Grain Acreage and Payment Rates. The final date to file Form CSS-477, Intention to Participate and Application for Payment, is May 31, 1961.

THE ARMY'S HAWK air defense missile is now deployed with combat troops of the field Army. Where engagement of extremely low flying targets is required, HAWK complements the surface-to-air capabilities of NIKE AJAX and NIKE HERCULES. It can also reach targets at altitudes in excess of 50,000 feet and has successfully destroyed the supersonic HONEST JOHN and LITTLE JOHN rockets in tests. Raytheon Manufacturing Co. is prime contractor, and Northrop Corp., Aerojet General Corp. and Food Machinery and Chemical Corp. are major subcontractors.

THE ARMY'S NIKE HERCULES is an air defense guided missile, now being installed around key cities and defense installations in the U. S. Western Electric Co. is prime production contractor of this supersonic missile, capable of soaring to heights exceeding 100,000 feet over a range of 75 miles. It can defeat any known aircraft or air-supported missile. Over 5,000 subcontractors are engaged in the total HERCULES production.

MEMBERS OF Texas & Panhandle Press Associations

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

A Reappraisal

This newsletter is being written immediately after I have finished dictating a House Resolution, which will be introduced in the House of Representatives before most of you receive this letter. The following is a copy of the Resolution:

"Resolved, That there is hereby created a Select Committee to be composed of nine members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker, one of whom he shall designate as Chairman. Any vacancy occurring in the membership of the Committee shall be filled in the same manner in which the original appointment was made.

Sec. 1 (a) The Committee, acting as a whole or by Subcommittee, is authorized and directed (1) to investigate the personnel of the Department of State of the United States of America;

(2) to investigate the practices and procedures of choosing personnel in all divisions of the Department of State; (3) to investigate the methods, practices, and procedures in assigning personnel for both routine and special work or assignments; (4) to investigate the background and capabilities of all personnel with relation to the particular duties and assignments of the individual; (5) to investigate any and all personnel, whether directly assigned to or employed by the Department of State of the United States of America who have duties or assignments directly or indirectly connected with the operations of the Department of State in any manner whatsoever; (6) and to formulate recommendations concerning future adherence to or future changes in the methods, practices, procedures, and policies with relation to the staffing of the Department of State and any agencies, bureaus, boards, or other components of the Federal government associated with the fulfillment of the duties of the Department of State.

(b) As used in this Resolution, the term "personnel" includes any and all persons whomsoever associated with, employed by, or in any manner connected with the Department of State of the United States of America in the operations of that Department, whether domestic or foreign, and such term shall and does include any and all foreign nationals as well as citizens of the United States.

Sec. 2. For the purpose of carrying out this Resolution the Committee or any Subcommittee thereof authorized by the Committee to hold hearings is authorized to sit and act during the present Congress at such times and places within the United States, its territories and possessions and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and any foreign country, whether the House is in session, has recessed, or has adjourned, to hold such hearings and to require, by subpoena or otherwise, the attendance and testimony of such witnesses and the production of such books, records, correspondence, memorandums, papers, and documents as it deems necessary; except that neither the Committee nor any Subcommittee thereof may sit in the District of Columbia while the House is meeting unless special leave to sit shall have been obtained from the House. Subpenas may be issued over the signature of the Chairman of the Committee or of any member of the Committee designated by him and may be served by any person designated by such chairman or member.

Sec. 3. The Committee shall report to the House (or to the Clerk of the House if the House is not in session) as soon as practicable during the present Congress the results of its investigation, together with the recommendations called for by Section 1 and such other recommendations as it deems advisable.

I am sure that many of you will agree with me that it is long past time for a full and complete investigation and appraisal of the employees of the Department of State. The Department of State or its counterpart in any government is a fertile field for the activities of the enemies of a country. The danger has measurably increased in the past few years. This should point up the vital need of our Department of State being staffed by none other than loyal and capable patriots of this country. It is not the purpose of this Resolution to reflect on any person whomsoever, but it is the purpose of the Resolution to provide the representatives of the people of this country with full information as to whether or not any employees of the Department of State — past, present, and future — might willingly or unwillingly aid or abet those who subscribe to ideologies in conflict with ours. The sensitive nature of this Department of the government requires that there be no question as to the absolute loyalty and abilities of every individual associated with it. I had hoped that the prior Administration would have instituted some program or some procedure to bring about the result sought in this Resolution. The "agonizing reappraisal" so often referred to by the late John Foster Dulles should in my opinion, have been applied to the personnel of the State Department. The new Administration has made no indications that a different procedure will be followed now. Hence, it is my feeling that Congress should step in and exercise its two major powers: investigation and legislation. The investigation anticipated by this Resolution would provide the means and the knowledge upon which to base legislation to guide the future staffing of the State Department, and it would certainly be the best means of uncovering any suspect activities, if such are present.

Advice to me from the security agencies of the Federal government indicates that these organizations are watching very closely and doing a splendid job with relation to the possible infiltration of subversives into our government. Nonetheless, I feel that this is a matter which should be thoroughly and exhaustively investigated by the people themselves, through their representatives, to insure that every safeguard is being employed and to provide a means of placing the responsibility in the future.

Leader—Local rate, $3.00 a year

This week is Soil Stewardship Week. The Supervisors of the Donley Soil Conservation District ask each of you to cooperate in observing the week by evaluating yourself as to whether or not you are a good Steward of the Soil. Remember that the earth itself, although you may have a deed to it, is yours to use only as long as you live. One day you will be gone, and this soil that you have used will have to produce enough for your children and your children's children. Will their living be as bountiful as yours has been? Will it be better because you have been a wise steward and left them the land in a better condition that you received it? Or will they have a poorer living because you have abused the land, and left it less productive than it once was? Consider these things and evaluate yourself.

The theme of this year's Soil Stewardship observance is "The Reward of the Steward." What is the real reward? Of course, wise land use, in the long run, makes more money. This is part of the reward. But, the lasting reward, and the best part of the reward, is that the good steward knows that he has received from God the right to manage his land, and that he has done a good job in doing so. He can pass the land on to those that follow him in a better condition than he received it.

This is the lasting reward to the good Steward.

PROPOSED INCREASES IN MONEY ORDERS AND SPECIAL DELIVERY FEES

Proposed increases in money order and special delivery fees starting July 1, 1961, were announced today by Postmaster General J. Edward Day.

No changes in special delivery fees for first class mail are planned.

Special delivery fees for second, third and fourth class matter will be increased by 10c in each of the non-first class fee brackets as follows:

Increases other than First Class	Current Fees	Proposed Fees
Up to 2 lbs.	45c	55c
Over 2 to 10 lbs.	55c	65c
Over 10 pounds	70c	80c

The increases for this service are expected to yield about $2.5 million in additional postal revenues, based on current special delivery volume.

Money orders up to $5 and over $50 will be increased by 5 cents. The new money order schedule will combine the present 15-cent and 20-cent fee brackets into one at 20 cents. It also splits the present 20-cent bracket at the $50 level, raising to 35 cents the fee for denominations up to $100. These changes will affect over 100 million money order transactions. Based on this volume, new revenues would total about $5 million.

Present Schedule
Money Order Value	Fee
$0.01 to $5	15c
$5.01 to $10	20c
$10.01 to $100	30c

New Schedule
Money Order Value	Fee
$0.01 to $10	20c
$10.01 to $50	30c
$50.01 to $100	35c

These proposed changes can be put into effect by Postmaster General Day under his existing administrative authority. Similar action was taken recently to adjust postal rates for mail going to foreign countries.

Emmett Brysons Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Bryson celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with an open house at their home in Clarendon, Sunday afternoon, May 7. Hosts were their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Bryson and Bill of Clovis, New Mexico.

The golden theme was carried out in decorations using yellow iris and yellow roses. Bill Bryson presided at the guest register.

The refreshment table was laid with a yellow cloth and centered with a tiered wedding cake decorated with yellow rosebuds, white wedding bells, and gold leaves. Crystal appointments completed the setting. Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Bryson presided.

Emmett Bryson and Johnnie Coleman were married May 3, 1911 at Seymour, Texas. They moved to the Panhandle in 1916 and for the past 17 years have lived in Clarendon.

A host of friends called to wish the couple many "happy returns" of the day.

CHAMBERLAIN COMMUNITY

By Mrs. Alfred Ivey—Reporter
The Chamberlain Community met Friday night at the Community Center. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Hawley Harrison. It was voted upon to buy our Center a piano. Our Community Center now owns a piano which we feel we all will enjoy very much. We had a large crowd who enjoyed games of Forty-two, and were served sandwiches, cookies coffee, cold drinks by our hostesses, Mrs. Mark Allen and Mrs. Donald Ballev.

The ladies of the Chamberlain Community want to thank Mr. and Mrs. Alton Webb for giving us the right to sell cokes, coffee, and candy at their home Saturday afternoon at the auction sale. The funds will go to our Community Center fund. Don't forget our next party night, May 19. Mrs. Roy Blackman, Mrs. A. C. Carter will be our next hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Butler visited in the John Hatley home at Brice Sunday.

CARDS OF THANKS

be bestowed upon each and everyone.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Nelson

Words cannot express my sincere appreciation for the love and kindness, the beautiful cards and flowers, the letters, and your thoughtfulness while I was in the hospital. Your remembrance did much to shorten my hours there.

Mrs. Lloyd Risley and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cross and Annette visited Sunday in Amarillo with her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Lemons and Donnie.

There are no words to express our appreciation and thanks to our wonderful neighbors and friends, also postman and wife, and fire department for everything they did when our home burned. Wonderful neighbors gathered in and helped remodel our home for us, for which we are grateful. We can never repay them. Thanks to everyone for all the nice things given us and may God's richest blessings

Top Rural Community Sought by Contest

COLLEGE STATION — During the next six weeks, judging teams will score 241 communities in their search to find Texas' most progressive rural community. Progress made during the past year will be of prime importance in the fiscal determination, said Reagan Brown, rural sociologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Brown added that such broad areas of improvement as increasing and managing farm income, improving health conditions, improving the farm and home, increasing social opportunities and participation in all phases of community life will be considered by the judging teams.

The sociologist said the past year had been the most successful in the 14-year history of the Extension Service conducted program. Awards on the district and state basis are currently being provided by 10 electric utility companies which operate in Texas, Brown added.

Community judging is now underway and will continue until the participating communities have presented their improved neighborhoods to the judges and the public. Brown said the public has a special invitation to participate in at least one of the judging tours. He put it this way — "You will see community progress at its best. You will share the thrills of seeing a community made better by neighbors who have worked, played and prayed together to accomplish their goals. It's democracy at work in its best form."

At the conclusion of the judging period, the top three communities in Texas will be named. They will come from the first place district winners and Brown said would be most typical of community progress for better homes, on better farms and in better communities.

Best Profits Found In Quality Eggs

COLLEGE STATION — For greatest profits, poultrymen who produce and sell eggs on the basis of known grade standards should apply good business principles to their marketing operations. Producers must be alert at all times for the handling and marketing practices that will maintain the high quality that eggs have when laid, says F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist.

Heat and time are two mighty important considerations in maintaining egg quality. Because heat causes eggs to lose quality, it is especially important at this time of the year to pay particular attention to conditions under which eggs are kept. The other factor, time, refers to the time elapsed from laying to consumption. Too long a handling time can deteriorate egg quality, according to the specialist.

If a producer of quality eggs does the things necessary to maintain quality, it is equally important that dealers, wholesalers and retail distributors keep eggs cool, handle them carefully and package them in clean and well constructed containers. Beanblossom points out.

When hens bred for quality are used as producers, and the eggs are handled properly, the poultryman should market 90 to 93 per cent of his eggs at A quality or above. This is very important because market value and net profits from eggs will vary according to the percent of the different grades produced. A producer selling only 75 percent A quality will receive much less for his eggs than will the one who sells 90 percent A quality.

There are usually other losses when the percent of eggs sold drops below 90 percent A quality. There will be more B quality and a possibility of some C quality eggs. In most cases, there will also be more loss from breakage due to poor handling and management practices, the specialist explains.

ALL YOUNG PEOPLE INVITED

All young people are invited every Wednesday evening at 8:00 p.m. to the home of the Rev. Charles C. Carman, Episcopal Vicar of the Church of St. John the Baptist. Discussed at these times are the Whys and Hows of Church life, dating problems, and other interesting subjects brought by the young people themselves. If interested, call or contact the Vicar at 3542.

Best Bermudagrass For Improved Pasture

COLLEGE STATION — Texas cattlemen are asking, "What Bermudagrass is best for improved pastures?" With several varieties to choose from, your decision may be easier with a quick review of research findings, says George McBee, extension pasture specialist, Texas A&M College.

All factors considered, Coastal Bermudagrass ranks at the top of the list, the specialist reports. The hardy hybrid generally is adapted to all sections of the State below 3,500-foot elevation. But supplemental irrigation, he warns, is necessary in areas of low rainfall.

Midland Bermudagrass, a hybrid cross between Coastal and a cold-resistant strain of common Bermudagrass grown in Indiana, generally is a bit less productive than Coastal, McBee says. Its added cold-resistance, however, makes it well suited for the Lubbock area and northward.

Suwannee Bermudagrass, also a hybrid, is similar to Coastal. Georgia tests revealed more drought resistance on deep sands, but it is less tolerant of heavy grazing and less desirable than Coastal in Texas.

Other varieties such as hybrid Selection No. 3 and Greenfield are not presently recommended in Texas. Selection No. 3 has produced greater yields than Coastal in some cases, but it is low in palatability and cattle do not readily graze it.

Several questions directed to McBee's office concern NK-37, a seeded variety of Bermudagrass developed in Arizona. Experiment Station tests and numerous field trials supervised by county agricultural agents reveal generally good results during the first growing season. First year yields may surpass first year yields of Coastal, but it is usually a different story during the second growing season, the pasture specialist says. NK-37 showed a high degree of susceptibility to leaf spot disease, and attacks often were severe by mid-summer. Poor yield prospects resulted in the abandonment of some experimental plots.

To sum it up, Midland Bermudagrass appears best for the Texas Panhandle, and Coastal gets the nod for the rest of the State, McBee included.

"A poll on labor legislation by a national private research organization came up with these surprising results: 62 per cent of a cross section of Americans questioned believe unions should be brought under anti-trust laws; 63 per cent of union members polled favored close regulation of unions by the government." — National Review.

Veteran Washington observer Arthur Krock writes: "There is . . . a demonstrable check against waste and inflationary spending that the President has not mentioned in his messages and statements thus far. It has been sought by and for presidents ever since 1876, and was steadily denied by Congress, although most of the states have granted it to their governors. This is the so-called 'item veto' power whereby the President can refuse to approve certain appropriations in a federal supply bill without disapproving the entire measure . . . If President Kennedy could get this authority he would have a most effective, immediate and self-evident means of regularly balancing spending and revenue."

Amarillo Air Force Base Band Presents Program

A highlight of the current year's assembly programs was presented in the college gymnasium last Monday afternoon by the music personnel of the Amarillo Air Force Base.

The 37 musicians showed a great deal of versatility in that the entire group performed as a concert band playing various musical scores from current and contemporary Broadway plays.

The second portion of the full one hour performance was a chorus of 16 voices selected from the concert band group. Their rendition of folk songs, spirituals, and popular numbers received a highly enthusiastic ovation.

Then to conclude the program, 16 members of the group quickly slipped into costume and presented a stage and dance band which presented each member as a master of his unit of the program.

The musical entourage was under the direction of Captain E. S. Bridges who also served as conductor of the concert band and director of the choral ensemble. The assistant who was second in command and who served as the stage band director was Warrant Officer Burns. At the conclusion of the program the extended ovation was sufficient to command an encore from the stage band.

As a climax to the program, Captain Bridges presented a member of the concert band to the audience. The band member was David D. Foard of Memphis who attended Clarendon Junior College until his joining the Air Force at the close of the spring semester 1960.

CJC Senior Roundup Includes 150 Seniors From 16 Area Schools

On April 23 the Clarendon Junior College entertained an estimated 150 seniors from 16 area schools at their third annual Senior Round Up in the college gymnasium. Total estimated attendance calculated from the registration sheets was 375. Appearing on the program preceding the dance session was the college trio, Elaine Behrens, Jean Welch, Sandra Pinkerton; college sextet, Elaine Behrens, Jo Ann Wood, Rosalie Welch, Linda Self, Sandra Pinkerton, Ida Lou Dickson; Nancy Thomas, the young sister of John Al Thomas, a student of Clarendon Junior College, in a tap dance routine; Jerry Manual of Wellington in two very popular guitar numbers; Andra Pinkerton soloed; Robert Moss, the youthful and talented local musician was featured on the drums accompanied by Mrs. Dee Williams; Clayton Ferris, a junior in high school, was presented in a piano solo, and Mrs. Dee Williams, accompanist for the college department of music, and her daughter, Connie, presented a piano duet. Dixon Latham of Hedley, a first year student of Clarendon Junior College, served as M.C. of the program.

Six academic scholarships to Clarendon Junior College were awarded students from local and area schools. Included in these six were Susie Romo of Wellington, Darlene Holleman of Childress, Bobby Hutton of Clarendon, Jack Fuqua of Lefors, Marilyn Plunkett of Samnorwood, and Beth Johnson of Clarendon.

In addition, the Coca-Cola Company presented Donna Fowler of Lake View with a year's scholarship which was drawn by lot from the tickets of all the seniors in attendance. The Sultans of Swing of Lubbock furnished the music for dancing, and officials of the college heard many compliments and much commendation on the success of the third annual CJC Senior Round Up.

Being humble in the face of success is the true mark of a real person. Giving credit to those who have helped us along the way is one of the best proofs of an humble heart. The abiding place of an humble spirit is always found in a heart filled with love.

On the other hand we need to have courage and confidence in our times of failure. The easy way out would be to blame someone else. The true test would come when we admit that the failure came from our lack of effort.

An old Negro preacher gave the following definition of being humble. He said:

"I don't rightly know just what being humble is, but I do know that when you say that you are—you ain't."

This is just about as close as one could come to a definition of an humble person.

An old Negro who used to pick cotton for my father had a rather similar expression:

"It's not what you says you am, but what you am that counts."

Peter Marshall put it into prayer with these words: "Lord, help me admit when I am wrong, and make me easier to live with when I am right."

An humble heart may not always win the battle, but it might well win the peace, and this has been the crying need of our age. The fight may go to the strong, but friendship comes to those who can admit the wrong.

A Reader handed us the following which is supposed to be a letter to the Secretary of Agriculture. The neighbor of Mr. Bordereaux may be a bit over enthusiastic but it shows what can happen when we go too far with this non-raising business.

Dear Mr. Secretary, My Friend Bordereaux received a check from the government in the amount of $1000 for not raising hogs, so I want to go into the non-raising hog business.

What I want to know first is, what would be the best kind of hogs not to raise? I would prefer not to raise razor-backs, but if necessary will just as gladly not raise Durocs or Poland China.

How much will you pay me for not raising 100 hogs, and will the same rate apply if I increase my non-raising capacity to 1000? Also, will you pay me for not raising 10,000 bushels of corn, which I will not feed to the hogs I am not raising?

Please answer soon as this looks like a good year to be in the non-raising hog business.

P.S. Would it be all right for me to raise a couple of hogs on the side so that we can have a little ham and bacon to eat?

All joking aside, there have been times when the going was pretty rough on the cattle and hog producers. However, for the most part they have steered clear of government controls and the like. Thus far they have weathered the storms and somehow we feel that things have worked out just as well.

Weldon Lewis of Borger, Texas sends us a little pamphlet from the Amicable Life Insurance Company entitled "Eulogy on The Dog." It is a speech by Senator George West, famed Dixie orator, as a lawyer for one man against another who had killed his dog. We quote in part:

"The best human friend a man has in the world may turn against him and become his enemy. Those who are nearest and dearest to us, those whom we trust with our happiness and our good name may become traitors to their faith. The money that a man has he may lose. It flies from him perhaps when he needs it most. The people who are prone to fall to their knees and do us honor when success is with us may be the first to throw the stone of malice when failure settles its cloud upon our head. The one absolutely unselfish friend that a man can have in this world is his dog. A man's dog stands by him in prosperity and in poverty. In health and in sickness. He will sleep on the cold ground, if only he can be near his master. He will guard the sleep of his pauper master as if he were a prince. If fortune drives the master forth an outcast in the world, friendless and homeless, the faithful dog asks no greater honor than to accompany him. When death comes and takes the master in its embrace and his body is laid away in the cold cold ground, no matter if friends pursue their way, there by the graveside may the noble dog be found, his head between his paws, his eyes sad but open in alert watchfulness, faithful and true, even in death."

The Senator won his case . . . The little booklet made us remember the favorite dog of our boyhood. We were within a month of the same age. When we were both about 11 years old the time of parting came. The family moved hundreds of miles by chartered car and there was no room for Old Buck. We cried but he was given to a neighbor. Years later we learned that Buck never accepted the change. He stayed half-way between the houses until in kindness the neighbor ended his life.

Bill Gernern of Borger spent Sunday night with Mrs. E. H. Gerner.

Will Writes

From Austin

Rep. Will Ehrle

AUSTIN — Critical legislative re-districting will occupy a great deal of the spotlight in the waning days of the regular session of this Legislature.

As a result of the federal census and our Texas Constitution, we are required to re-district and change our state legislative districts.

The four big cities — Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth and San Antonio — will have six new seats in the Texas House of Representatives next session.

Amarillo should gain one additional member, as should Lubbock, Austin, El Paso and Galveston.

Cities Gain

Thus, we will take approximately 12 members away from the rural areas and give them to these city and metropolitan areas.

After this is done, then each rural district such as ours will have about 50 or 55,000 people.

Twice As Big

Thus, our legislative district must be almost twice as big as it now is. In fact it may wind up even larger than that.

Committee Proposal

The Re-districting Committee in the House reported out a proposal which would merely combine our 88th representative district with the 82nd district.

This would put Donley, Hall, Motley, Childress, Cottle, Foard, Hardeman and Wilbarger counties in a new district.

Can't Agree

I, of course, can't agree with this proposal as it does not seem to be quite fair to our area. Perhaps something can be done to effect a better solution to the re-districting problem in our area. Although we live in small towns and in rural areas, I believe our folks are entitled to a strong voice and to adequate representation in our Texas Legislature.

Subversive Material in Mails

"Operating under the 'sanctity of the mails' tradition, the U.S. postal department delivered approximately seven million pieces of Communist propaganda to addresses in this country last year . . . Although we certainly want to maintain this sanctity of the mails, it hardly seems reasonable to maintain it to the extent of making a 'sacred cow' out of Communist propaganda. No other free country in the world permits Moscow's propaganda to be delivered at the expense of the taxpayers and many countries refuse to let such subversive material in under any circumstances."

GEORGE'S WIFE

By "Sarah"

All through the heated discussions pro and con about the John Birch Society, and Mr. J. Edgar Hoover's Master of Deceit uncovering 'em all around us the past few weeks, had us looking under our beds at night, giving our friends and acquaintances the once over before we would pass the time of day.

This was just during our opinion forming stage, true to the plan the Communists have for us as well. We reached a decision on all this, and have found another's opinion very close to our own which tells it much better.

We found this article by Mr. Paul Harvey, and though we know nothing of his life, except what we read, we will give it as he wrote it.

No more organizations needed. What we do need is more participation by decent, dedicated, on-the-ball Americans in already established institutions. We need, desperately to re-infiltrate the organizations which are in influential positions, but whose influence has been diluted because its members are ignorant, apathetic, uninterested — or because they fail to be participant. Also, he says, influence those around you. This is the technique which has won a hundred million new disciples to communism every year since the big war. They don't bother to create new organizations, or societies. They infiltrate existing ones.

He suggests the American Legion as an organization with experience, know-how and ability to exercise tremendous influence, but the American Legion is only as strong as its members, is only effective as its post-level participants. According to FBI Director Hoover, our P-TA is a top target for Red infiltration."

There are many other established institutions to which we belong, and all the ills Mr. Hoover suggested could be applied to our own approach to them. Woodrow Wilson said this, we can apply it to this problem facing us as well as all of life. "There is something better, if possible, that man can give than his life. That is a living spirit to a service that is not easy, to resist counsels that are hard to resist, to stand against purposes that are difficult to stand against."

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

It's almost brush control time again.

The control of moderate to heavy stands of brush, followed with good management, will increase the carrying capacity of rangeland as well as improve the ease of handling livestock. Better erosion control will result from controlling brush and the range improvement that follows. As much as 400 per cent increase in grass production has been observed following brush control. Grasses are much better than woody plants such as mesquite to provide the dense cover needed for protection from wind and water erosion. This has become an established fact throughout the brush infested areas of the southwest. Brush requires about four times as much water to produce a pound of dry matter as does grass, and the brush is not usable forage.

Mesquite can be controlled by aerial spraying or by dozing with ground equipment. The percent of root kill on sprayed mesquite will vary by years and will range up to 60 per cent. Dozed mesquite may be 95 per cent killed. The cost of spraying mesquite is approximately $3.10 per acre. The cost of dozing is approximately $11.00 per acre. Cost sharing programs are available to most operators which pays one-half of the average cost. The net cost to the rancher would then be approximately $1.55 per acre and $5.50 per acre for the two methods. Range improvement following brush control may be slow or may be relatively rapid, depending upon the range condition at the start. Range grasses will increase in vigor and size as well as a change in grass species. Ranges that are deferred from grazing will improve the quickest as compared to those not deferred.

The Texas State Experiment Station at Spur has shown an increase of 4.5 pounds beef per acre per year for brush cleared pastures. This is an increase of more than $1.00 per acre per year, thus aerial spraying of mesquite will be repaid in two years and dozing will be repaid in five years.

The Great Plains Conservation

Program, administered by the Soil Conservation Service, includes payments for brush control, among other practices.

Some Donley County Soil Conservation District people who plan to control brush this year are Joe McMurtry, George Saunders, McDowell Estate, L. R. Hagy, J. Doneghy & Rhode & Gould. Cooperators who are interested in controlling brush should contact the local Soil Conservation Service office that assists the Donley County Soil Conservation District.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—Capitol hands are engaged in a legal and dead-serious type of "numbers game."

Object is to figure out how much money certain tax bills will bring in. Also what the legislature needs to round up in order to meet the state's obligations. Then, find out how much additional cash is necessary to foot all bills. Any number of persons can play this game—and a good many are. Looks like all Texans will be affected.

Gov. Price Daniel, who takes a dim view of the House-passed 2 per cent sales tax, said it still would leave the state $50,000,000 short of needed revenue. Rep. Charles Wilson of Trinity, sponsor of the sales tax, offered it as a means of raising $127,000,000 a year.

Texas Research League, which has made a continuing study of state finances, estimated Wilson's bill would raise $265,000,000 in the next two years, with $22,000,000 more coming in late because of a two-months collection lag. This would take care of the general appropriations bill as passed by the Senate, says the League, leaving some $106,000,000 to pay for teacher raises and medical care for persons on state welfare rolls.

Wilson has also put forward another bill that would repeal the corporation franchise tax and substitute a 4 1/2 per cent corporation income tax for a net gain of $50,000,000 a year in state revenue.

Governor Daniel has proposed a new eight-point compromise plan designed to add $73,316,000 to the general revenue fund over a two-year period.

His plan calls for (1) passage of the twice-defeated escheat bill, (2) doubling tuition at state colleges, (3) shifting the $15,000,000 farm-to-market road spending from the general fund, (4) requiring county school superintendent expenses to be paid from local funds, (5) collecting $3,000,000 from families able to pay for care of relatives in state hospitals and schools, (6) diverting one per cent ($12,000,000) a year from the permanent school fund for current expenses and (7) revising or shifting several other school fund allocations.

HOUSE PASSES BUDGET BILL — House passed a general appropriations bill calling for the spending of $2,520,000,000 during the next two years.

House bill is about $20,000,000 higher than the appropriations bill passed by the Senate in late March. It is about $130,000,000 more than is provided for present two-year period.

One of the biggest increases would be for education, which would be boosted by $36,000,000 a year under the House bill.

Other provisions by the House would allow: $15 per month raises for state employees making less than $200 a month; 40-hour work week for employees of state hospitals and special schools; raises for State Liquor Control Board inspectors.

"UNIVERSITY" BATTLES — "University" has become a "fighting word" in the Senate, one that held up regular business for almost two weeks.

A determined group of Senators has opposed creating any more state-supported universities on grounds it will put Texas in the position of the "old woman who lived in the shoe."

Nevertheless, Sen. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells obtained final passage of a bill that would change the name of North Texas State College to North Texas State University. Opponents scoffed at the prospect of having two universities in Denton (pop. 27,000). Other is Texas Woman's University (formerly Texas State College for Women).

Sen. Robert Baker of Houston had more difficulty with his bill that would admit the University of Houston to the state college system. Senators Hubert Hudson, Wardlow Lane, Charles Herring and W. T. Moore teamed up to "talk the bill to death."

CAR TAX END SOUGHT — City and County property taxes on automobiles and trucks would be abolished under a proposed constitutional amendment passed 102-to-35 by the House.

School district property taxes on vehicles would be retained. Auto property taxes have been a source of considerable dissatisfaction since some cities and counties collect them and others don't bother. Rep. Murray Watson of Mart, sponsor of the plan, said he would urge that the Legislature also adopt a law requiring car owners to show a receipt for payment of school taxes as a requirement for getting license plates. Watson's proposed amendment also would authorize the Legislature to increase vehicle registration fees to one-third to create a fund for improving county roads and city streets.

If passed by both houses of the Legislature, the amendment would have to be voted on by the people.

GARNISHMENT APPROVED

— Another proposed constitutional amendment approved by the House would allow courts to garnishee (take over) 50 per cent of a father's salary for child support payments.

Rep. Ben Jarvis of Tyler, sponsor, said the measure would result in a lightened load for the State Welfare Department. Frequently, said supporters, fathers ignore court orders to pay child support, causing the children to become a public welfare problem.

Opponents called the measure too severe.

ELECTION CODE IS TARGET — Changes in future balloting and candidate filing procedures continue to be a prime legislative topic.

A bill introduced by Senators George Parkhouse of Dallas and Robert Baker of Houston would raise substantially the filing fees for legislative candidates in Dallas and Harris counties. A senatorial candidate would have to pay $1,000 and a House candidate, $500, compared to the present $100 for each.

Another bill by Senator Parkhouse would limit each political party to one poll watcher per precinct and require that the watcher be a resident of the precinct in which he keeps his vigil.

A bill that would allow voters to check the candidate they favored rather than scratching all others has been approved by House committee and sent to the floor. Committee also approved a bill that would require that the boxes containing ballot stubs be turned in after the election with unbroken seals.

WATER STORAGE RIGHTS URGED — Gov. Price Daniel has written President Kennedy urging his support for a pending congressional bill that would spell out the right of a public agency (such as the state) to buy permanent water storage space in reservoirs constructed by the Army Corps of Engineers.

Daniel pointed out that the present Legislature already has approved a constitutional amendment that would authorize use of state funds to buy such water storage.

HIGHER BARBER LICENSES — House passed on second reading a bill that would double the license fee for barbers. Present charge is $10 for examination, $5 for license renewal.

Extra money would be used to hire more state inspectors, upgrade barber college standards, said Rep. Ben Jarvis of Tyler, sponsor. He said barbers favored it.

Jarvis' bill also would eliminate very small barber colleges by setting a 20-chair limit for schools.

SHORT SNORTS
Rep. V. E. (Red) Berry's last-ditch effort toward legalizing horse racing and parimutuel betting was killed by the House. It sent back to committee a proposal for a state-wide referendum on racing.

Fines of from $25 to $200 could be levied on policemen who trap speedsters by waiting in a hidden spot under a bill proposed by Rep. Collier Adams of Lubbock. Texans would begin their days an hour later, use an extra hour at the end of long summer days under a daylight savings time bill introduced by Rep. Joe Ratcliff of Dallas.

Texas' general revenue fund deficit would be taken care of by a commission empowered to issue bonds to raise money to cover the shortage under a measure proposed by Rep. Ben Lewis of Dallas.

People who move from Texas would be allowed to vote absentee in Texas until they qualify for a vote in their new residence under a constitutional amendment proposed by Rep. Reed Quilliam of Lubbock. This privilege would last for only 24 months and would apply only to presidential elections.

Rep. Grainger McIlhenny of Wheeler has introduced a new bill to exempt farm trailers from licensing requirements. It is a substitute for a similar bill vetoed by Governor Daniel. New bill includes a number of safety, weight and speed limitations.
