

New Publisher Takes Over Clarendon News Williams, Estlack Publicly Announce Change of Ownership for Local Newspaper

This week's issue marks a change in ownership of The Clarendon News. Bob and Lynne Williams announced today the sale of the newspaper to Roger Estlack.

According to a contract signed last week, Estlack is now the owner of The Clarendon News, The Clarendon Press, and The Donley County Leader.

Estlack, who has spent the last four years working on his bachelor's and master's degrees at Texas Tech University, brings with him a family history of newspaper work. The new editor's great-grandfather, J.C. Estlack, started The Donley County Leader in 1929, and the family owned and operated that paper until 1974.

Roger Estlack grew up in Clarendon and attended Clarendon schools and Clarendon College before going to Texas Tech. For about 13 years, he has worked with his father as an electrician. He is the son of Allen and Helen Estlack.

The new publisher has big plans in store for the newspaper. Some will be noticed immediately, and others will not be seen for six months or more.

"We want to bring more community news to the newspaper," Estlack said. "For example, we are making an effort to bring Hedley news to readers every week. Our goal is to include all of Donley County in our coverage."

"We also want to make the paper easier and more enjoyable to read by implementing some style changes."

For the foreseeable future, deadlines for The Clarendon News will remain unchanged. People are encouraged to contribute their articles, pictures, and letters to the newspaper, but if something is brought in after the deadline, it is probably not going to make that week's issue.

Advertising policies will be under review for 30 days before any changes will be made in that area.

The Clarendon News will be committed to bringing you all the local news while it still is news.

Subscriptions are $18.50 for residents of Donley County and $22.50 for folks living outside of Donley County. Send your check or money order to P.O. Box 1110, Clarendon, Texas 79226, or come by the office at 105 S. Kearney.

Flag Ceremony Set At Old Fort Elliott

The colors were lowered from the flag pole at Fort Elliott 105 years ago this month.

On October 1, 1890, the last two companies of Cavalry rode out abandoning the fort, according to post returns located in the National Archives.

On October 21, 1995, a period 37 star post flag will be raised on the original Fort Elliott flagmast. The flagmast is the only surviving original fort flagmast in existence in the United States. Continued on Page 2

Thunder Junction Meeting Oct. 23 Famous Cowboy And Country Music Personalities To Attend Next Update Session

The next community update meeting for Thunder Junction Western Heritage Theme Park will include major announcements regarding the progress of the planned attraction.

Eight-time world champion rodeo calf roper, Roy Cooper of Childress, music artists Tommy Overstreet of Branson, Missouri, and Red Steagall of Fort Worth will attend the next Thunder Junction community update meeting to be held Monday, October 23, 1995 at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be held in the Bairfield Building at Clarendon College and the public is invited to attend.

Westwood Enterprises, Inc., the developers of Thunder Junction has announced plans for the construction of the Old West Town. The town will feature a wagon wheel design layout of retail shops with each street reflecting a specific period in Texas history.

"The town will feature arts and crafts, shopping, dining and musical entertainment," said Stan

McClendon, spokesman for Thunder Junction. He added that potential vendors and concessionaires are encouraged to attend the Monday night meeting.

"We are delighted that Roy, Tommy, and Red are planning to be at the meeting," said McClendon. "It is remarkable how the support for this project has exploded," he added.

The first project now under construction is a 37 foot tall three-slide water complex. This will be enhanced by the addition of a children's play area featuring flume and foam slides. New Braunfels General Store (NBGS) is designing several of the children's water play areas and plans are to encompass the water area with a lazy river.

There will also be an announcement made by Yesterday's Children, a not-for-profit senior citizens organization. The group is planning a project for the park that will enhance the Grand Entrance and design of the Old West Town.

Group Halts Plan To Merge Burton And CC Libraries

Several concerned citizens attended a meeting of the Burton Memorial Library Board on Monday evening amidst concern over a proposal to merge the Burton Library with the Clarendon College Library.

The idea of the merger was brought up at a recent meeting of the Clarendon College Foundation as a way to expand and improve the school's library facility. Last week, the idea was presented to the city council.

CC President Scott Elliott attended Monday's meeting to determine if there was community support for such a merger. He quickly found out that there is no such support.

Attendees patiently listened to Elliott as he explained some potential advantages of combining the two libraries' resources. They then told him of their own concerns and explained their preferences for keeping the two facilities separated.

The Burton Memorial Library is an excellent facility that is fulfilling its mission in a way a combined facility never could. Focusing much of its resources on the needs of senior citizens and children, the Burton Library plays an important role in the community and especially in downtown Clarendon.

Citizens were quick to point out that they were in no way adverse to improving the college library. All seemed to agree that the college needs a first-rate library facility and indicated that they would aid in raising funds to expand the college library.

Elliott indicated that after Monday's meeting, the proposal to combine the two libraries will no longer be considered. It seems to effectively be a dead issue.

"Our Place" To Hold Open House

The Texas Panhandle Mental Health Authority's Clarendon rehabilitation program, "Our Place," will hold an open house Wednesday, October 25, 1995, from 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. at 111 South Kearney.

They recently remodeled their kitchen and would like to invite the public to come and view their facilities.

Bronchos Whip Cyclones, Set Sights on Canadian

A slow-starting Clarendon offense was pushed into overdrive Friday when the visiting Memphis Cyclones struck first, but the Bronchos responded and eventually took control of the contest downing their highway rivals, 33-18.

Clarendon improves to 5-1 overall and 1-0 in district. Memphis drops to 3-3 and 0-1 in district play.

In other District 2AA action, Panhandle rolled over Wellington, 53-7; and Canadian edged improving Amarillo Highland Park, 21-12.

Tradition-rich Canadian is next on tap for the Bronchos this Friday at 7:30 p.m. at Broncho Stadium. Canadian blanked Clarendon during the 1994 season, 49-0.

The Wildcats return 15 lettermen, including six starters on each side of the line, who finished 8-3 last season and won the District 2AA title. The Wildcats lost to West Texas High 21-13 in the bi-district round.

Canadian has advanced to the play-offs the past three years, and the perennial powerhouse has Coach Kent Allison's attention.

"We've been working all off-season and all year for this game," Allison said. "When we started off-season, we asked 'Who do we want to beat?' They all said, 'Canadian.'"

"We have to be focused. And we have to be focused for the next four weeks."

Playing at home will be to the Bronchos' advantage, Allison said. Clarendon has traveled to Canadian the past two years because of realignment.

"We have a lot of confidence playing inside the rock walls."

But the real advantage in the game will be quickly recognizing Canadian's various offensive set-ups. Canadian sets up quickly on the line of scrimmage.

Allison plans on keeping his adjustments simple.

"They have a great defense and great offense. They throw the ball quite a bit. Their offense does so much."

Looking ahead to the Canadian game may have been one of the reasons the Bronchos fell behind early in their district opener against Memphis last Friday, Allison said.

The Bronchos got an early call when Memphis took charge of the game in the opening minutes of the first quarter. The Cyclones scored on the second possession of the game — a nine-play drive covering 54 yards.

A 20-yard touchdown to Jason Fowler at the 2:33 mark in the first quarter capped off the scoring drive.

Clarendon blocked the PAT, and the Cyclones led 6-0 at the end of the first quarter.

Memphis's early lead was the first time the Bronchos trailed early on in a game in which they had won, but Allison didn't panic. "When we put ourselves against the wall, I knew there was no reason to panic."

"I thought it was a good wake-up call."

Running back Lorenzo Moore provided the spark in the second quarter rushing 50 yards on Clarendon's fifth possession and finally darting 18 yards for his first of two touchdowns for the evening.

His second touchdown came on a 28-yard weaving run before half-time, giving Clarendon a 12-6 half-time advantage.

But Memphis could not be denied. Nick McFalls rambled five yards to knot the score at 12-12, but back-up quarterback Drew Jeffers sparked the offense after starter Phillip Hearn went out of the game with a bruised knee.

The injury may keep him out of Friday's contest giving Jeffers another shot at leading the offense.

Robert Taylor, who is back for his first game since he injured his knee at Boys Ranch and underwent orthoscopic surgery, may get the nod on Hearn's defensive back position, Allison said.

Midway through the third quarter, Jeffers kept the ball on a bootleg and ran 51 yards for the TD, and Clarendon would never trail again. The workhorse, Moore, who rushed for 124 yards on 26 carries, converted the extra points.

An insurance TD came on a gorgeous 61-yard pass from Jeffers to Mark Barefield, which kept Memphis at bay despite a 22-yard pass from Hughs to Jason Fowler.

Ebony Butler added one more TD in addition to his 81 rushing yards and kicked the PAT to end the game.

"We were glad we could still run the ball (with Moore and Butler) and keep on feeding them," Allison said. "They (Memphis) held us in check a little bit, and we made some adjustments. Moore ran well and stepped it up a notch."

Allison pointed to several players who played exceptionally well, including tight end Barfield, who caught that picture-perfect pass, linebacker Clint Green, who hustled on defense; and Kareem Abdulah, who did an outstanding job at punt returns and on defense when he intercepted a pass.

Change of Ownership Indicates Other Changes Down the Road

It's official! Folks all over town have been talking and speculating about what was going to happen with the newspaper. But this week we are pleased to announce the purchase of The Clarendon News.

Before I go any further, I must give some thanks to certain people. With my family's history of being associated with Donley County newspapers, I can't help but think that there are some of my predecessors looking down on us as we take up this challenge. I hope they are smiling. I must also thank my parents and family for so many things. I also thank all of the friends who have encouraged me to do this. Cheryl Johnson also deserves some recognition. As our administrative assistant here at the paper, she is doing a great job of getting me trained and keeping things on a pretty even keel.

Most of all I must thank someone without whose help this would have all been nearly impossible. My brother has gone above and beyond what he had to in the last month to help me out. Thanks, Russ.

I actually have been running the paper for two weeks, but it was only last Thursday that we finally got the contract signed. Several of you have already noticed some changes in the newspaper, and I thank you for your kind words.

However, as a wise man once said, "You ain't seen nothing yet!" Look for the News to acquire a different look in the weeks to follow. We are now attempting to present information to you in a more "reader friendly" format. We want to make it easy to find the information in which you are interested.

Now naturally we have our own ideas about how to do that, but we want to know what you want in your local newspaper as well. Drop us a card or letter and let us know what you think The Clarendon News needs in its pages.

We may not always agree with you or may not always be able to implement your ideas, but I can assure you that we will listen to what you have to say.

We want to represent the community's best interests in our columns. Primarily we wish to accomplish this by fairly reporting what happens in Clarendon and Donley County. Undoubtedly, there will be times when we have to make a stand on certain issues. When those times come, we may be accused of stirring things up. I firmly believe, however, that if things were never stirred up from time to time, then our community would soon stagnate.

If you have a compliment or a concern, write it down and send a letter to the editor. The free flow of ideas is beneficial and is a uniquely American tradition. I encourage readers to write letters to the editor to enliven public debate. Don't be a chronic whiner though. We'd like to see some optimism in our columns.

Which brings me to my next point. If you don't have a sense of humor, then you probably will not want to read The Clarendon News anymore. We are going to take our job seriously here, but we also plan to have some fun, too. Life isn't worth living if you can't laugh once in a while.

As our weekly installments begin, we ask for your indulgence. We're bound to make a few mistakes while we get our feet on the ground. Hopefully, none of them will be major ones. Within a few weeks we hope to be producing the best newspaper this county has seen in over 20 years.

Now let's get started.

Dangerous Don

benefits are made possible by the strong, primarily agriculture-related, corporate sponsorships of the "Road Show" Tour.

The "Wit and Wisdom of Dangerous Don" appears regularly in the Amarillo Globe-Times, Channel 10 KPDA News, and on KSLR radio from Memphis.

Dangerous Don was raised in Windy Valley (a small community that used to exist near Leila Lake and Hodley). While reality has not been kind to Donley County's Windy Valley, the community is a hot bed of activity in Dangerous Don's routines and articles.

The "Old-Time Town & Country Road Show," featuring "Mayor of Windy Valley" Dangerous Don, will be held in the Harned Sisters Fine Arts Auditorium on the campus of Clarendon College on Nov. 11, 1995, at 7:30 p.m.

Cost is $5 for children 12 and under, $8 for adults, and $15 per couple. Tickets may be obtained from any Lions Club member or by coming by the office of the Clarendon News.

Fort Elliott Flag Ceremony

The flag will be raised in a ceremony scheduled for 10:00 a.m. and will feature the 4th U.S. Cavalry Regiment, E. Company (Old Fort Griffin Memorial Regiment) of Amarillo, which has been recently adopted as the official military reenactment unit of the Old Mobeetie Texas Association. The program at the Mobeetie Jail Museum will include guest speaker, Bob Izzard, mounted troopers, and a color guard.

A chuck wagon lunch of stew, cornbread, and cobbler will be available for $6.00 between 11:30 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. The proceeds will be used for Jail Museum activities.

For information call 806-826-3094.

Hill Fund Established

The home of Bob and Cula Jo Trout has been a beehive of activity as family members, friends, and neighbors have been preparing for the return home of their daughter, Wanda Hill.

Wanda, who grew up in Clarendon and is a teacher at Clarendon High School, was injured earlier this year in a one-car accident. Since that time, she has been a patient, first in Northwest Texas Hospital and more recently at Integrated Health Services of Amarillo.

Volunteer builders are helping Bob add a room and bath, along with renovations to the house that will make it wheelchair accessible. Seven to twelve men have been working each day. Lunch is being provided each day by friends, neighbors, and the ladies of the First Baptist Church where Bob and Cula Jo's family are such devoted members. This is a labor of love for the whole Trout family.

If you would like to share in the cost of building materials and special equipment that Wanda will need, a fund has been established at the Donley County State Bank. Any teller will take your donation in any amount to the Wanda Hill Fund.

The whole community is invited to share in making this project a reality.

The Clarendon News welcomes "Letters to the Editor" as means of encouraging debate among varying public opinions. Views expressed in these letters are those of the writers and do not necessarily reflect the views of the editor or staff of The Clarendon News. Submission of a letter to the newspaper does not guarantee publication of that letter. Letters may be edited for grammar or for length. To improve your chances for publication, type and double space your letter. Stick to one main topic, and keep it brief. All letters must be signed, and letters will not be returned.

"Self-Imposed Chains"

Sometimes life teaches us serendipitous lessons.

Last weekend I journeyed to Amarillo for a musical concert, but I came away with something far more valuable than a night on the town.

As it happened, one of my all-time favorite recording artists, pop balladeer Dan Fogelberg, was performing at the Civic Center. My wife Claudia and I were really looking forward to the concert, Fogelberg being a household name with our generation.

Getting my 14-year-old son, Scotty, excited about tagging along proved an entirely different story. His attitude could be summed up with, "Dad who?"

Anyway, we located our seats about half an hour before the show's start. People were milling about like wheat in the wind, some were conversing with friends, and some surveying a sea of faces.

Just as I had gotten comfortable in my padded theater seat, Coke and candy in hand, I observed something that touched me in a special way. A bearded man was making his way down the aisle with a woman on his back. Yes, on his back.

Doing a double take at the petite, brunette lady riding piggyback, I immediately noticed her limp, withered legs. It was obvious she was physically disabled.

Understand that the Civic Center auditorium is a staircase, terraced design. I supposed the couple, therefore, had a choice between stationing the lady's wheelchair in some "designated" area or taking advantage of better seats via the man's carrying his companion.

Just before the couple sat down, they encountered some friends. With the woman still aboard, they happily commiserated for five or so minutes. While trying not to stare, I nevertheless found myself making a study of the situation.

Their contentment with one another and the situation was obvious, if not startling. That suggested to me that they made a practice of this totting routine, not letting anything get in the way of where they wanted to go and what they wanted to do.

It was also obvious that the couple was not at all concerned about gawking ignorammuses like me. I continued to observe them after they'd taken their seats. As the man carefully sat her down, the woman achieved physical equality with the masses. She had a great seat and was laughing and talking - filled with anticipation about the curtain rising. The lady was beautiful - inside and out.

My thoughts then turned from inspection to introspection. I found myself envying the cheery woman, deciding that she was far less paralyzed than me.

I silently took inventory of how many times in the course of a day that I permit little things to numb, if not cold stop me. Worrying about small change like what this person or that person might think or say about my actions has become as commonplace over the years as breathing.

As Fogelberg's roadies made final preparations, I pondered the unhealthy investment I make every day in fretting over things like political correctness, the paltry balance in my checking account, how it's becoming increasingly difficult to cover up my bald spots, or why my son isn't the next Jerry Rice. And on and on and on, the list becoming a sadder commentary with each item.

I suspect that young couple in the Civic Center has risen far above such trivia. Their priorities are undoubtedly better placed, and their lives better served.

I'm likewise confident, that in a free society, that couple is decidedly more free than me. In the final analysis, I guess the only chains we wear are self-imposed. The only person who can really stop us is the one in the mirror.

Without actually talking to that courageous and lovely lady, she said all that to me - in no uncertain terms.

BRAND RIO CRUSE, JODI D'ANN KIDD

Kidd-Cruse Announce Engagement

Larry and Paulette Kidd proudly announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Jodi D'Ann to Brand Rio Cruse, son of Donnie and Judy Cruse of Plomont.

The wedding will take place January 6, 1996, at the First Baptist Church in Clarendon.

Archaeology Society Meets

The Clarendon Archaeological Society met Tuesday, October 10, 1995, at the Burton Memorial Library.

Walter Warner, president, announced that the Indian village site at Greabelt Lake had been officially accepted in September, 1995, as the Texas Archaeological Society state dig to be held the second week in June, 1996. The local group will help in preparation for this event.

Members present were Sue Dunagan, Lucille Eanes, Mary Neal Risley, Lucy Saye, Tom Saye, Bliss Knorpp, Ruby Jewel Hardin, Pat Thornberry, and Walter Warner. Representatives of the Saints Rost Museum present were Bill Russell, Helen Parker, and Kevin Welch.

The next meeting will be November 14, 1995, in the library. Everyone is invited to attend.

Pathfinder Club Holds Guest Day

The Pathfinder Club held its fall guest day, October 13, 1995, at the Patching Club House. Guests and members were welcomed into the meeting room decorated with autumn flowers and leaves and small scarecrows.

The speakers for the afternoon were Gene and Jodie Davis, who both grew up in the Clarendon area. Mrs. Davis will be remembered as Joveta Roberts, daughter of Willie and Buck Roberts; and Gene grew up in Hedley.

In 1994, they went to Tanzania, Africa to help build a clinic. They were there six months and grew to love the native people. The conditions there are very primitive, and the people live in abject poverty. Nonetheless, they are very eager and open to hear of Jesus and his love for them.

Janie Noble Amon and Patsy Hill were welcomed into the club as new members.

The Social Committee -- Murle Butts, Tena Powell, and Anita Mooring -- served cheese and crackers, mixed nuts, and individual pumpkin pies with a hot spiced drink. The serving table was decorated with scarecrows, small bales of hay, and ears of Indian Corn; and the buffet had Halloween decorations.

Guests and members attending were Jeanice Weatherly, Jo Shaller, Melba Risley, Mary Neal Risley, Gladys Sawyer, Freida Tucker, Lucy Saye, Mazine Hardin, Sue Dunagan, Lucille Eanes, Patsy Hill, Hazel Brandon, Willie Roberts, Evelyn Mann, Dorothy White, Mary Lee Noble, and Janie Noble Amon.

Check It Out

By Mary Beth Nelson

Is she amazing? You decide.

In Burton Memorial Library's May Owen, MD, author Ted Stafford depicts the character of a woman whose perseverance against many obstacles led her to become one of Texas' outstanding medical doctors. During a six-decade career, she experienced progress from simple folk remedies to highest technology.

At age nine, May Owen, daughter of hard-working Welsh and German immigrants in Falls County, Texas, decided she wanted to be a doctor at a time when women doctors were unheard of. Fathers ruled the family. Women and children were not considered capable of doing anything other than what he ordered. May was no stranger to housework and farm work since her mother died before she started to school.

From the time May entered first grade, the greatest joy in her life was learning and reading. Her grades remained highest in her class each year. Her favorite farm chores were those involving working with livestock. She related to animals well; and, at one time, she thought she would like to be a veterinarian.

May's family could not understand why she was so intrigued with reading. The only book in her house was the Bible, seldom used except on special occasions. While still a young girl, she read from Genesis to Revelations several times. Occasionally, a teacher or neighbor loaned her a book, and the County Vet brought a stack of veterinary journals. Even though her father wanted her to receive everything the country school offered, she was never encouraged to attend high school. Entering Medical School was considered ridiculous and outrageous. However, May kept her dream alive. At age 21, she received a letter from an older brother who had just discovered she existed. He made arrangements for her to attend the academy at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth to receive her high school diploma.

During the first fall at TCU, she traveled home on weekends to help her dad harvest his large cotton crop. Returning to school on Monday mornings with sore hands, she never faltered in her desire for more education. Her quick grasping and understanding of science astounded professors, and she began assisting in the chemistry and biology departments. She soon earned scholarships for a college degree.

Dr. Truman C. Terrell and his wife seemed to take May "under their wing," becoming a source of encouragement in several ways. May would later spend much of her career as pathologist at Terrell Laboratories in Fort Worth.

After Medical and Nursing School rejections, her persistence finally resulted in acceptance to an all-male school. The author reveals the attitudes of the students and the humorous way they accepted and respected May as an equal med-student.

For a time, she involved herself in forensics at the Medical Examiner's Department in New York's Bellevue Hospital, and in deep study in clinical pathology at Mayo Clinic and Scott and White Hospital. After gaining valuable experience at these reputable medical facilities, she eagerly returned to her beloved Texas, confident that she could deal with any situation in her specialty.

First Woman President of Texas Medical Association and Texas Women's Hall of Fame induction are only two of May's numerous distinguished honors. Her life was one of humility, modesty, determination, and generosity. Humble and modest because she always shared credit and acknowledged others for their part in her successes; she never tried to become known because of her accomplishments. Determined because of love and devotion to Medical research to benefit others. Generous because of physical and financial aid willingly given to students. Almost 500 current doctors began their professions through Dr. Owen's personal efforts. The May Owen Irrevocable Trust for student loans, which began decades ago, is still active.

This exceptional Texas lady maintained alertness and worked until the day before she died in 1988, three weeks before her 97th birthday.

Thanks, Verna Teague, for directing me to this fascinating account of a remarkable doctor, educator, benefactor, and admirable Texas legend. Why not check it out?

CFSA Disaster Relief Available

(Austin, Texas) - In response to a request from Gov. George W. Bush, the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture has designated Donley County eligible for emergency physical loss loans through the Consolidated Farm Service Agency (CFSA).

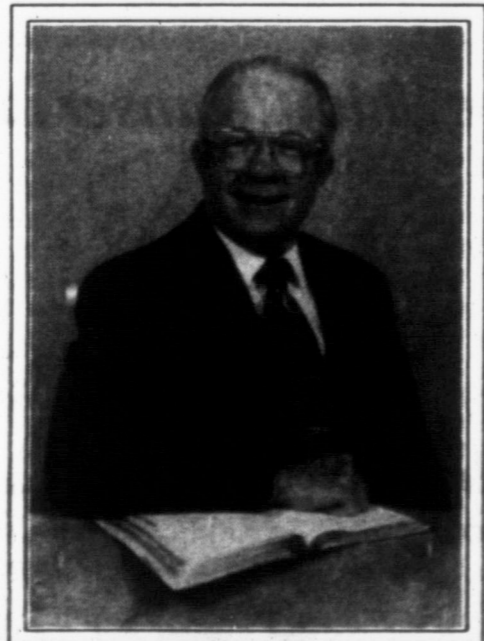

Gov. Bush's request came on the heels of damage and losses by hail, rain, and tornadoes on June 8. In addition to Childress, seven contiguous counties are eligible for physical loss loan assistance. They are: Armstrong, Briscoe, Carson, Collingsworth, Gray, Hall, and Wheeler counties.

The designation allows family-size farm operators in both primary and contiguous counties who suffered severe physical losses only, to be considered eligible for emergency loans from CFSA through April 26, 1996.

CFSA has a variety of farm-loan programs available, in addition to the emergency loan program, to assist eligible farmers to recover from periods of adversity. Additional information and assistance is available through local CFSA county offices.

Amarillo Youth Orchestra To Have Guest Conductor Next Week

Nancy Reavis, Chair of the Amarillo Symphony Youth Orchestra Committee, announced that Paula Fishman will serve as guest conductor for the opening concert of the Youth Orchestra's season on Thursday, October 26, 1995. The concert will be held at Amarillo High at 7:30 p.m. There is no charge for admission.

Mrs. Reavis said, "We are very pleased to have a guest conductor with such experience to substitute for our Music Director, Dawn Harms. Ms. Harms has taken a leave of absence from the Youth Orchestra, The Harrington String Quartet, and the Amarillo Symphony to play with the San Francisco Opera for three months."

Paula Fishman was the Music Director and founder of the Jacksonville Symphony Youth Orchestra in Jacksonville, Florida in 1993. She was also the Associate Conductor of the Savannah Symphony Youth Orchestra from 1991 to 1992.

Previously, Mrs. Fishman was Orchestra Director for the Winter

Park High School Orchestra in Winter Park, Florida, where she had more students win positions in the Florida All-State Orchestra than any other school in the state. She had been a frequent clinician in Oklahoma and Florida and a board member of the National Orchestra Association and the American String Teachers Association. In addition to conducting, she also performs with the Amarillo Symphony as a violist. She is from Oklahoma City, where she was a member of the Oklahoma Symphony for seven years. She was a viola major at the University of Texas and Oklahoma University and has also studied with the Principal Violists of the Dallas and Houston Symphonies. She moved to Amarillo in January of this year.

Paula Fishman said, "I am delighted to be able to lead this fine group of young musicians in their opening concert of the 1995-96 season. We will perform music by Bartok, Bloch, Brahms, Gould, Musorgsky, and Saint-Saens."

Thornberry Gains NEXRAD Upgrade

WASHINGTON, D.C. - In the first of two actions he plans to take over the next week to address weather radar problems in North Texas, U.S. Rep. Mac Thornberry (TX-13) today won approval of an amendment that will upgrade the standards applied to radar sites like the one at Altus Air Force Base in Frederick, Okla.

"My amendment basically states that weather radar facilities run by the Department of Defense must meet the same standards of coverage as radars operated by the National Weather Service," Thornberry said. "Up until now, DoD facilities have operated under different standards. With the lapses in coverage this past summer and in recent years, it's apparent that these standards are not high enough and need to be changed."

Thornberry introduced his proposal as an amendment to H.R. 2405, the Omnibus Civilian Science Research Act. The amendment would require the Secretary of Defense to take immediate steps to ensure that DoD-operated NEXRADs function as fully committed and reliable elements of the national weather radar network, operating with the same standards, quality, and availability as the National Weather Service-operated NEXRADs. These standards would include:

That the radar must be available for detection at least 96 percent of the time each month. In 1994 and 1995, less than 90 percent of DoD radar met this requirement; for nine of these months, no more than 70 percent of the sites met this requirement.

That the communications capability of the dedicated lines between the radar site and the weather service office must be at least 56 kilobits per second. The current standard requires a capability of 9.6 kilobits.

The standards contained in the Thornberry amendment are based on recommendations made by the National Research Council and the Government Accounting Office in separate studies of the NEXRAD network. The standards would apply to DoD-operated NEXRAD sites which provide primary detection over their range of coverage. There are currently 15 such sites across the country, including the radar facility located in Frederick.

"This amendment will help address some of the problems I heard about when I visited Altus in August," Thornberry stated, referring to the meeting he had with base personnel and representatives from the National Weather Service and two phone companies. "In particular, I believe it will increase the number of safeguards with regard to communications, which have been especially troublesome in the past.

"However," Thornberry added, "if the ultimate goal is to provide the best coverage technology can provide, we must do more than elevate the standards of radar operation. We must also modernize the radar network itself, from accumulating data to communicating warnings. For this reason, I will be testifying next week before the House Science Committee to discuss what can be done to improve coverage for North Texas."

Thornberry was referring to a Science Committee hearing which will focus on modernization of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration and the National Weather Service network. The hearing will be held on Tuesday, October 17, at 1:00 pm. Thornberry's testimony comes at the request of Science Committee Chairman Robert Walker (PA-16).

Earlier this year, Walker - at Thornberry's request - had written to Commerce Secretary Ron Brown expressing his concern over coverage problems in North Texas.

For more than 80 years, Lone Star Gas has been providing safe, dependable energy to its customers. By following a few simple rules, you can help make sure you and your family stay safe and sound with natural gas:

DPS Offers Safety Halloween Tips

The month of October, cooler weather, leaves falling; all reminders that Halloween is just around the corner. For many, private parties have become the tradition, but for many others, Halloween is opportunity to visit our neighborhood door to door.

For those who will be collecting candy this Halloween, Trooper L.B. Snider, with the Texas Department of Public Safety offers these following tips:

For Kids:

- Wear light colored clothing or reflective tape so you can be seen easily.
- Make sure your costume fits well.
- Face make up is preferred, but if you wear a mask, make sure that you can see through it.
- Small children should be accompanied by adults or other older children.
- Trick or treat with friends. It's fun and safer, too.
- Carry a flashlight, it helps others to see you.
- Trick or treat in a familiar neighborhood.
- Only visit homes with porch lights on.

For Parents:

- Motorists should drive slowly in residential areas.
- Be alert and watch for kids darting into the street between parked vehicles.

- If you participate in Halloween, leave a porch light on.
- Remove obstructions in the walkways.
- Instruct your children in traffic safety, such as using sidewalks whenever possible.
- Advise your children not to eat the candy until you have had an opportunity to check it out.

The Hedley Owls were defeated Saturday by the Harrold J.V. in Harrold, 56-27.

Broncho J.V. To Travel To Canadian

In what might be called a David versus Goliath matchup, the Clarendon High School Junior Varsity Broncos will trek to Canadian Thursday night for their second straight road contest. Kickoff will be approximately 7:30 p.m. following the seventh and eighth grade games. The Broncho J.V. will likely dress about 13 players, while always tough Canadian will have about 40 on its roster.

The Broncos are coming off a loss at Memphis, at which Clarendon faced another outmanned situation.

At Memphis, the Broncos were led by Josh Allred, who had his best defensive game of the season with seven solo tackles. Big Ronnie Tabor, Jeremy Shelley, Trent Mooring, D.J. Edwards, Keith Kidd, and Blake Bass were among those who also turned in solid defensive efforts.

For the season Tabor leads the team in tackles with 22 solo stops. Free safety Scotty Elliott has recorded 18 tackles, and Shelley has 17.

On offense, sophomore tailback Oren Shields has rushed for 180 yards to lead the team. Shelley continues to improve at fullback with 55 yards rushing on the year.

The Broncos continue to suffer from injuries. Center D.J. Edwards came off the injured list last week, but Clifford Alexander and Brock Holland may be out of action this week.

Bronco Magic Decals Available

New window decals featuring the words "Bronco Magic" in an arch above the horse head logo of the high school athletic teams are ready now for display by supporters.

These easy-to-apply decals were made by Don Stone to be attached to windows in stores, homes, or vehicles.

The decals will withstand weathering as they are made from the same material as outdoor signs. A limited number were prepared to test the market for this expression of support for the Clarendon High School team.

There will be a charge of $5 per decal, and they're available from the Chamber of Commerce office located in Poor Boy's Antiques on Kearney. The money raised will be used to support the Chamber's participation in a statewide economic development seminar during November. Donations for this special fund also will be appreciated.

A full report on the seminar and decal sales will be made next week.

"T-Star" Added To Clarendon Schools

Distance communication capabilities have been added to the technology advances in the Clarendon Public Schools. The Texas Education Agency awarded the district an $11,500 grant for installation of a satellite receiver system, called "T-Star", for instruction and staff development purposes. Various other programming and school board training is also available through this system.

A satellite receiver dish has been located between the band hall and the junior high school building. This receiver is capable of receiving from multiple satellites in orbit. A six foot, chain link fence has been installed around the dish.

Receiving equipment is located in the secondary library. The receiver, a VCR, and 27 inch television, along with a high quality computer, were provided as part of the grant. The elementary library and junior high social studies room have been connected to this unit where 27 inch, ceiling-mounted televisions are available for viewing. Cable drops have also been installed at other locations within the elementary and junior high buildings. Current events, documentaries, and curriculum related programming is available at all of these sites. Standard cable services available to the district have also been integrated into the satellite services.

Clarendon School are very fortunate to receive this quality equipment with the expanded capabilities that can be offered.

On Saturday, October 21st the Clarendon Bronco Band will be travelling to Borger, TX to compete in the annual Region I U.I.L. Marching Contest. The contest begins with the class "A" bands marching at 1:00 p.m. at Borger Stadium. The Broncos are the last class "AA" band to perform and will be taking the marching field at 5:24 p.m. Those bands in classes "A", "AA", and "AAAA" who win a Division I Saturday will have the opportunity to march in Lubbock, TX the following Saturday (October 28th) at Jones Stadium to possibly qualify for the State Marching Contest.

The Bronco Band is under the field direction of Louis Ellerbrook and will feature soloists Missie Butts, Robert Bertrand, and Jason Lee. Director of the Clarendon Bronco Band is Todd Baker.

Lady Broncos Bring Home 12 Medals

The Clarendon Lady Broncos placed second and brought home 12 medals Saturday at the Motley County Ranch Run on the Roaring Springs Ranch in their last meet before the District 2AA race next week.

The district meet will be held in Canadian on Monday. They Lady Wildcats are favored to win the meet, according to Lady Broncos coach Steve Schmidt.

"They're (Canadian) real strong, and they've done really well this year," Schmidt said in previewing Canadian. "We definitely have a chance to place second."

The top two teams and top six finishers advance to regional competition at Mac Simmons Park in Lubbock in early November. Schmidt expect the Lady Broncos or individual runners to advance to the regional meet.

"The Canadian course is pretty tough from what I've heard," Schmidt said. "I think they are ready to compete with their own district."

Saturday's race at Roaring Springs Ranch in Motley County was a good course to prepare for the district meet, Schmidt said. "It was pretty hilly and had a lot of sand and a lot of turns, and they ran over water."

"I think they enjoyed it. It was really nice."

The varsity girls nabbed second out of six teams finishing behind Class 3A Floydada. The top finisher was Clarissa Smith, who placed sixth with a time of 14:43.

Other finishers were Lolli Menchaca, 10th, 15:18; Kasi Ashcraft, 13th, 15:34; Tangelia Smith, 14th, 15:36; Kasi Keown, 21st, 16:15; and Paula Jackson, 22nd, 16:16.

The junior varsity girls team took home first place grabbing the top six spots in their only meet of the season.

"I wanted them to run for experience," Schmidt said. "I wanted them to get some kind of competition before they get to basketball."

Finishers in the two-mile race were Kathy Bryley, 1st, 15:47; Patti Cenicerros, 2nd, 15:51; Tracy Hankins, 3rd, 15:53; Stephanie Smith, 4th, 15:58; Jill Hicks, 5th, 16:26; Lindsay Green, 6th, 16:49; Kim Alexander, 9th, 17:18; Jenny Roberts, 11th, 17:22; Cindy Hearn, 12th, 17:26; Lindsey Eads, 15th, 17:41; Nettie Wilson, 16th, 17:44; Marci Moor, 17th, 18:02; Melisse Campbell, 20th, 18:25; Stephanie Floyd, 21st, 18:32; Kirsten Bertrand, 22nd, 18:33; and Laura Finch, 23rd, 18:39.

In the junior high competition, eight grader Kala Holland ran a fast pace of 15:01 finishing first and on the heels of one junior high boy. The junior high boys and girls races were combined.

New Policies Announced For Cheerleader Try-Outs

A new policy has gone into effect for the following spring concerning junior high school cheerleader try-outs.

All students who try-out for cheerleader will be required to put down a $200 deposit when they sign-up to try-out. The money will be refunded if the student does not make the team. The student has about five months to earn and save this entry deposit.

Those student that are elected to be cheerleaders will have about six weeks to raise the remaining balance to pay for their uniforms. All money will need to be paid before the uniforms are ordered at the end of May.

The junior high cheerleaders will attend a day camp this following summer in place of the week camp that the high school cheerleaders attend. This will help cut down on expense in order to be a cheerleader at the junior high school level.

Top Ticket Sellers For Pile-On Announced

The Clarendon Band Boosters have announced the top four ticket sellers in the High School and Junior High School for the recent Mexican Pile-On dinner held October 6.

The first place winners of $30 each were Tracy Hankins in high school and Nickless Devin for junior high. Robert Carmichael, high school, and Tim Wortham in junior high each received $20 for second place.

Colts Beat Memphis

The Clarendon Colts 7th grade team downed the Memphis Whirlwinds while the eight graders lost another heartbreaker to the much larger Memphis team.

The 7th graders won 26-0 while the 8th grade lost to the tune of 33-12.

Tailback Dee Thompson struck first on a breakaway run. Flanker Josh Williams chipped in his own TD a little while later scoring on a reverse.

Thompson ran a kick-off back the length of the field in the second half, and Quarterback Colt Floyd burst through the defensive line on a long run.

"They all played real well," Junior High Head Coach Bryon Bass said.

"They're making great strides." Tailback Cael Shields scored on TD on a long run in the eighth grade game, and Flanker Jeff Hearn scored at the end of a long sustained drive late in the game. "They did a good job," Bass said. "They were outsized tremendously." The Colts meet Canadian at Canadian beginning at 4:30 p.m. Thursday.

Girlstown USA Plans Coat and Shoe Project

The 26th Annual Coat and Shoe Fund Project to benefit Girlstown U.S.A. is underway throughout the Texas Panhandle. Conducted by the Lions Clubs of District 2-T1, the project was begun in 1969 to provide each deserving girl a coat and a pair of shoes.

This year, about 90 girls will be coming to Amarillo for the big shopping trip, November 10 and 11. Each girl will have a credit limit within which she may purchase her coat, shoes, and other much-needed clothing items. Many of the girls have never purchased so many new articles of clothing before. They will be assisted in their shopping by Lions Club members, their families and friends.

Among the youths from Girlstown, U.S.A., will be about 20 girls from Cal Farley's Family Program at Borger, Texas. This facility, now in its second year of operation, provides homes and opportunities to children of elementary school age. The Lions have included these girls in the annual fund raising effort.

The Chairman of the Coat and Shoe Fund is Keith Christie of Dumas, Texas, who is serving his tenth year in that position. Along with promoting the fund drive with area Lions Clubs, Mr. Christie coordinates the shopping trip and the amount of funds each girl may spend. Every penny the Lions receive for the Coat and Shoe Fund is used to purchase the girls' clothing.

Since 1987, Girlstown, located near Whiteface, Texas, has been affiliated with Cal Farley's Boys Ranch. Youths often come there from broken homes or dysfunctional family situations and are in need of firm guidance, education, and social development. According to Keith Christie, "The Coat and Shoe Fund is conducted by people who care a great deal about helping young people. The Lions are very much involved in the lives of these kids, and we are fortunate to friends who contribute and make possible this happiness each November."

As with the Christmas Suit Fund for all of the Ranch's boys, the clothes for Girlstown's youth serve as a year-round reminder of the generosity of others. Contributions to the Girlstown Coat and Shoe Fund may be mailed to: Keith Christie, HC2 Box 4, Dumas, Texas 79029-9606, or to Girlstown, U.S.A., P.O. Box 1890, Amarillo, Texas 79174-0001.

Gramm Pledges to Keep Promises

WASHINGTON—U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm will stick by his promise to cut taxes by $245 billion—and not a dime less—when he takes his seat on the powerful Senate Finance Committee.

"I didn't get in the Finance Committee to cut deals," Gramm said. "I'm going on the Finance Committee to cut spending and to cut taxes."

"If we can't let working people in Texas keep more of what they earn to spend on their own families, we can take a big step forward to creating jobs, growth and opportunity in our state," said Gramm, explaining his deep commitment to cuts in government spending and taxing.

The Finance Committee has broad jurisdiction over taxes, Medicare, Medicaid, welfare, and trade, as well as most of the budget-cutting issues that form the heart of the congressional agenda this year.

As the Committee's newest member, Gramm vowed to resist any attempt to scale back tax cuts Republicans proposed for inclusion in the Senate budget reconciliation bill.

"The American people said to us, 'Stop the taxing, stop the spending, stop the regulating.' I am committed to doing exactly that. We set out in the budget the goal of $245 billion in tax cuts; and I will not vote for any bill that does not live up to that, period," Gramm said.

The Lions Tale

By Gene Alderson

The Clarendon Lions Club held its regular meeting at noon on Tuesday, October 17, 1995, at the Lions Hall.

Eleven members, four guests, and Lion Sweetheart Dee Williams were present to enjoy a delicious fried chicken dinner. The meeting was called to order by Boss Lion Johnson.

Following the regular opening ceremony, Liantamer Henson introduced the guests including Scott Elliott, Clarendon College President who was the guest of Lion Robertson; Matt Davis, an Ag Real Estate Representative from Throckmorton who was the guest of Lion Hayes; and Frank Amon, owner of Computer Solutions, and Roger Estlack of the Clarendon News, who were the guests of Lion Allen Estlack.

The club voted to donate $100 to the Girls Town Christmas Coat and Shoe Fund. Lion Smith distributed additional tickets for the Dangerous Don Town and County Road Show. The Boss Lion took a head count for the Ladies' Night Banquet on October 24. There will be no noon meeting that day.

There was no other business, and the meeting was adjourned.

Former Clarendonite Gets Fellowship

Steve Hill, Administrator of Tri-City Community Hospital, recently advanced to Fellowship status in the American College of Healthcare Executives (ACHE). Achievement of Fellow status represents the highest level of leadership distinction in the profession of healthcare management.

Some of the major objectives of ACHE are to establish standards of competence, promote excellence, develop and promote standards of education and training, and to recognize individuals who have provided note-worthy service, all involving the field of healthcare administration. ACHE also strives to educate the public, healthcare professionals and members of governing bodies of healthcare organizations to understand the issues surrounding the practice of hospital and healthcare administration, including the special role of education and experience.

As a candidate for admission to the College, Hill had to submit evidence of high moral character, ethical conduct, participation in hospital and health related association activities, and civic affairs.

It takes approximately 10 years to achieve the prestigious status of Fellow. The candidate for Fellowship is required to advance through three states, the first being Nominee, then Diplomate for five years, followed finally by Fellow. The process requires education, experience, continuing education, both oral and written exams, and community service. A Diplomate who does not advance to Fellow within the allotted six-year period must recertify as a Diplomate.

As Diplomate, the aspirant must accomplish case studies, complete a thesis or a mentorship of two years, submit to the board for approval such updates, then a summary, which the board reserves the right to approve or disapprove.

Hill chose the mentorship process which is a highly structured advanced management leadership development experience which documents involvement, judgment, and leadership development capability of the candidate, while providing practical management development literature for the field.

In order to maintain his Fellowship, Hill must proceed with his continuing education (an average of 10 hours annually), be dynamically involved in a healthcare executive position and be active in civic involvement.

Hill's graduation ceremony took place August 20, 1995, in San Francisco, California.

Hill is the son of Sue Seagull Payne and the nephew of Bobby and Jean Moore. He attended Clarendon Schools.
