While here, Santa will visit on the street later in the morning and will also make the rounds of the hospital and convalescent homes.

This is an important time of the year and all you parents are reminded to keep the time in mind so all the little fellows can enjoy this happy occasion. This is the one big event of the year that your local merchants and Chamber of Commerce want the youngsters to enjoy their hospitality.

Christmas Lighting In Evidence

The holiday season is here and this is more in evidence at night when you drive over town and see the beautiful lighting which has been put in place the past week or so.

More and more Christmas trees and other lighting shows up each night and will be added to in greater numbers by this week end. The City lighting catches the eye when entering the city from either direction.

A number of business firms have put on their Christmas dress and are very attractive. An outstanding Christmas scene is noted at the Donley County State Bank. In the front window, Santa is seated on one of his reindeer and is in motion. The inside back wall of the bank completes a very attractive background. Texas Optometric Association

Contact Lenses: How To Get Them And What To Expect of Them

Altho this is the last of this series on contact lenses, we will continue to report new developments as they occur and comment from time to time on questions as they arise. Any particular question you may have can be sent to me in care of this newspaper and we will see that you receive an answer in future columns, direct to you, or both.

In commenting on the "How to Get Them" angle I feel I should quote a paragraph "lifted" from the editorial column of The Optometric Weekly (one of our professional journals). The Editor states "The individual skill of the optometrist can not be over-emphasized. Certainly, it requires specialized study and training to fit contact lenses; such skills cannot be learned through correspondence courses; nor can they be self-taught with the "aid" of kits—as has been hinted by commercially inclined firms and individuals. Also, a thorough knowledge of the various types, techniques, and sizes of contact lenses is essential to a contact lens fitter."

And to add another quote, this from a pamphlet "What is the Cost of Contact Lenses to You" published by the Eye Research Foundation: "Most important, when you consider contact lenses, do no 'bargain hunting'. Beware of blatant claims. Select a reputable vision specialist, and trust his counsel. Your eyes are priceless; they deserve the finest professional care". I could add nothing of importance to the above two comments on why to select an optometrist of ability except to say that in the yellow pages of your telephone book you will find, usually grouped under

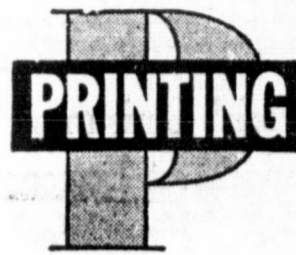

"Optometrists - O.D.", listings identifying certain individual optometrists as members of The Texas Optometric Association, the official professional organization of optometrists in this state. You can rely on the fact that the men so identified are men of the highest integrity and qualifications who will give you the best of advice regarding your individual case.

Now to the "What to Expect". When you consult the optometrist of your choice his first step will be to do a complete visual analysis (eye examination). This may reveal that you don't need glasses in which case you certainly don't need contact lenses. Or he may find that generally your eyes and vision are good and that your visual activities require glasses for certain things only—like reading glasses to aid in a job (or school) calling for excessive near work (desk distance). If this is the case, he will advise against using contact lenses in most cases. Or you may need glasses badly for wear all the time, in which case, if you desire contact lenses he will probably agree that you very well might like them better than specs and decide to give them a try.

I say "a try" because altho there are very few people who just can't wear cinctacts because of certain valid technical reasons there will be some who won't wear them for psychological reasons — "too squeamish about putting something in the eye" or "I think I look better in glasses" or "I'm satisfied the way things are." These are common reasons for not wanting contact lenses.

More people travel by automobile than by all other means of transportation combined.

FROM WARM SPRINGS

FACT & FANCY

by W. H. Rickett

(Wherein the director of public relations at the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation tells of Texas' own physical rehab center and also throws in a little tongue-in-cheek palaver for which, incidentally, the management is not responsible.)

There is a sign, I have been told, in an unintegrated colored cafe in Georgia which reads: "If you is broke, you is done et."

This puts across a point very nicely and without the coldness that is inherent in the usual "Don't ask for credit" type sign.

I also like the candor of a sign I saw the other day which pointed to a side road and read: "Poverty Lane." This tempted me to drive in to see what sort of place or people I would find there. I just bet you they are folks short on pomp and long on the attitude that the Joneses could not possibly have anything they felt impelled to keep up with.

This all set me to thinking about how a system of communications could be developed to prevent or minimize awkward situations resulting from visitors in the home. As you know, for example, housewives are forever apologizing to unexpected visitors because the house is in the shape that any house that is being lived in necessarily stays in most of the time.

What I have in mind is a series of removable panels carrying pertinent legends and placed at the front entrance. Think how the pressure would be reduced if you walked up to a home which displayed one or more of the following messages:

"House probably in mess but come in anyway."

"If you are planning to visit, give us time to move Dad to the back room."

"You are welcome to visit at night but we go to bed at 9:30."

"Everything stops for 'Have Gun, Will Travel' at our house."

"Expect man of house to be in foul humor around first of month."

Get the idea?

Here is how contributions are processed at the Texas Rehabilitation Center (Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation): The mail is opened by two trusted employees working together who log all receipts immediately.

A secretary then makes the receipts in triplicate, mailing the original to the donor. One copy goes to the chief bookkeeper who enters the figures in the appropriate ledger and deposits the money.

Another employee then checks the figure entered by the bookkeeper to see that it conforms with the figure logged by the employees who opened the mail originally. Further spot checking is done by the Foundation auditors, Haskins & Sells.

All individuals handling money are under bond.

Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Cosper of Amarillo are the proud parents of a little daughter born December 16. She weighed 6 pounds, 13 ounces, and has been named Pamela Sue. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Cosper and Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Marsh announce the arrival of a daughter, Monday morning at Groom Hospital. The little Miss weighed 4 pounds, 3 ounces, and has been named Pamela Starlene. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Saunders of Wellington and Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Marsh of Bakersfield, Calif. She has a little brother 2½ years old. Marsh is Deputy Sheriff here.

There's a real treat in store for you at BROTHERHOOD This week

The Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church will have their regular monthly meeting on December 18th at 7:30 p.m. at the church, according to Bro. Ray J. Noblitt, the Brotherhood President.

Bro. O. C. Watson, the program chairman, has announced that Mr. Trenton Davis, a Deacon and a brotherhood member of the First Baptist Church of Amarillo, will be the speaker of the evening. Mr. Davis is the circulation manager of the News-Globe Publishing Company in Amarillo. He comes to us highly recommended and Bro. Bailly Estes, the membership chairman urges all men to attend.

This, of course, is a covered dish meeting which has been the practice of the Brotherhood in the past and a practice which has proven highly successful.

All men of Clarendon are cordially invited to attend and enjoy a good meal and a fine speaker.

Keep your face to the sunshine and you cannot see the shadow.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT
 By Congressman Walter Rogers

STATES
 House of Representatives
 Washington 25, D.C.
 TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18th DISTRICT:

THE SOUTH
 The South, which refers to several southern states, will constitute the whipping boy during the next session of the Congress. This does not mean that it has not been the whipping boy in the past. The point is that it will be in for a great deal more publicity of a scandalous nature. This will be true not only in this country, but also in many other countries of the world. Efforts to associate the South with racial hatred, lynchings, and intolerance will be stepped up. This will be done not only for political purposes, party-wise, but also for the purpose of trying to do damage to the prestige of the South in the the Congress. Many of the key committee assignments are held by Southerners because of seniority in point of service. This has been a thorn in the side of ultra-liberals on both sides of the aisle. It is the desire to break this power and influence that has been the real cause behind the efforts of those who continually flail the southern states.

The South has traditionally been conservative therefore, the general political philosophy of the Sons of the South has not been in keeping with the philosophy of those who would create an all-powerful Federal government and concentrate all of the powers in Washington. The racial controversy has afforded an excellent weapon for those who desire to beat the South over the head. It can be expected that isolated transactions will be advertised as the general policy throughout the South. This is an unfair and dishonest approach, and it is hoped that the people of the United States will demand the full truth concerning such accounts. There are rabble rousers in all camps, and it should not be expected that they will not be heard from in loud and vociferous tones during the next year or two. It is not unusual for members associated with the southern group in the Congress to be referred to as "Confederate Generals."

Notice is being served in many quarters that the days of effective southern influence and prestige are numbered; that un-

Texas Water Prospects In 1959

Texas Department of Agriculture
 John C. White, Commissioner

It won't be news to people in the flood-soaked Rio Grande but fall rains over much of Texas bring reasonable assurance of good surface water supplies for 1959.

The Falcon Dam on the Rio

Grande has backed up more than its share of irrigation water for the next growing season. But unfortunately, the state as a whole has not even approached its potential in construction of surface storage facilities along its major streams and rivers. However, prospects are good for the natural underground water resources upon which so many of us depend.

Snow survey experts along the Continental Divide report 1958 as a good year as a result of heavy snow water runoff, high stream-flow and good carryover storage. Gradual seepage of snow water from the mountains of New Mexico and Colorado account for a big portion of our underground water supply in the Panhandle area of Texas. Although nothing is more unpredictable than the weather, indications are for additional heavy snows this winter which will eventually add to Texas' natural subsurface supplies.

It is no secret that our underground water reservoirs took a real beating during the seven year drought. Many natural springs in Central Texas dried up for the first time in the history of white settlements and our water tables in West Texas dropped alarmingly.

The year 1958 saw these springs once again flowing and some improvement was noted in the water tables along many irrigation belts of the state. Early fall weather conditions indicate a wet winter is in store for many sections of Texas. However, years of good water supply point up the importance of adequate water storage facilities, both for better distribution through the irrigation season, and for balancing the available supply between dry years and those of abundant snow and rainfall.

Demands upon our Texas water supplies are increasing every year. More and more water is required by agriculture, industry, rapidly expanding city populations and for recreational and other uses.

In 1921 and 1926, during a violent outbreak of armed robbery, the Marine Corps provided a force of about 2,500 men to guard the U.S. Mail throughout the country.

less they fall in line and do as they are told, they can expect no mercy.

Some others who appear to be calling the tune, and having such a good time deciding what they are going to do to the South, would better read the history books and find out themselves that the South has never yielded to threats in war or peace. It would be much to the benefit of this country if some of those who so loudly castigate the South and would undertake to destroy its history and traditions would try to apply the yardstick of reason before it is too late.

VISITORS
 We were honored to have as visitors in our office this week Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Stein and their daughter Nancy, and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Berry, all from Amarillo. They had a very nice visit in the Nation's Capital, and we hope they can return again soon.

Also visiting the office was Lt. Jack Ramsey of Tulia, Texas, who is stationed here at Walter Reed Hospital.

One of Seven Texans Over 65 Years of Age

COLLEGE STATION — As the number of older persons in the population increases, the needs of the "senior citizens" in towns and in rural communities are of growing interest, says Reagan Brown, extension rural sociologist.

Texas now has one half million persons over 65 years of age. This represents 1 out of 7 or about 7% of the total population. In rural areas, the percentage is even higher, Brown says.

Research shows that older folks want to live as independently as possible. They prefer to live in familiar surroundings near their friends and associates. They prefer to be near married children or grandchildren but not to live with them. Elderly persons like to be where they can watch adults work and children play, rather than being only with other aged people.

Most older farm people like rural surroundings with open spaces, according to Brown, a place for animals, a chance to watch gardens or crops grow. But they don't want to be isolated. They want to be able to walk or drive, to go shopping, to go to church or other meetings, see friends and relatives, have help if needed and be outdoors when weather permits.

They want a house with various safety features—a 1-floor plan with few steps to the outside. They favor a house safe from fire and falls, with no slippery floors, no loose or sliding rugs, safe bathtubs, showers with convenient handholds, faucets easy to reach and use, and rubber mats to prevent slipping. Older people desire plenty of heat in winter, automatically regulated; adequate lighting, windows that open and shut easily and a place for daytime naps.

Above all, older persons want to feel needed and carry on a useful, pleasant day to day schedule of activity, adds Brown.

FARM NEWS

from the County ASC Committee

FARM OPERATOR

The farm operator, or his representative who is familiar with the farm, will be responsible for assisting the reporter or the supervisor in making necessary measurements, as steel tapes are being used, and it is all but impossible for the reporter to do this himself.

Due to this year's reduced budget, we will be unable to employ any additional reporters to assist in measuring the 1959 wheat crops which will require two men to operate a steel tape. The farm operator will also need to show him the farm boundaries and all areas on the farm allotted to crops subject to acreage allotments and marketing quotas and other acreage for which determinations are required.

Several farmers have asked for an approval to do listing and chiseling as a protective measure against wind erosion. If you have not asked for approval and you are interested in this practice, please come by the office and let us help you.

EFFECTIVE DATE ON CONSERVATION RESERVE CONTRACTS

New Conservation Reserve contracts now being signed by farmers in Donley County will in general become effective on April 15, 1959, according to Cooke, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

All Conservation Reserve contracts require that the land included be devoted to grass, trees, or a water or wildlife conservation practice. If the conservation practice to be used on the designated land is performed before April 15, the contract becomes effective at the time the practice is started.

This means that 1958 crops on land put in the Conservation Reserve this fall can be harvested before the contract goes into effect. In addition, the land put in the Reserve for the first time this fall may be grazed until the contract goes into effect. After the contract goes into effect the farmer agrees not to graze the land or harvest a crop from it.

Christmas Tree

Safety Suggestions

In order to help prevent a tragedy at this time of year, Fire Chief C. W. Bennett, Jr. and Fire Marshal George L. Green are offering the following suggestions:

Because the Christmas tree is a potential fire hazard, use caution in its selection, placement, maintenance. And to keep your Christmas merry, observe these safety suggestions:

1. Choose a small tree instead of a large one. A small tree can be just as pretty, less hazardous.

2. Keep the tree outdoors until you're ready to install it.

3. Don't set up the tree until just before Christmas.

4. Set up the tree in the coolest part of the house, away from radiators, heaters, fireplaces. Stand it in water to retard drying.

5. Use fireproof decorations of glass or metal, never cotton or paper decorations unless flame proof.

6. Don't set up electric trains around or near the tree.

7. Use electric lights—never candles. Inspect every electric socket and wire to make sure set is in good condition. Discard lighting sets with frayed wiring.

8. Provide a switch at some distance from the tree for turning tree lights on and off.

9. Don't leave lights burning when away from home.

10. From time to time inspect the tree to see whether any of the needles near the lights have started to turn brown. If so, change the position of the lights.

11. When needles start falling, take the tree down and discard it outdoors.

12. Gift wrappings, of course, should be discarded promptly and safely after presents are opened.

Bulldogs Win Two, Comets Lose Last Week

The Bulldogs of Clarendon Junior College brought their season's record to five wins against one defeat last week when they defeated the Wayland College Freshmen, 84 to 54 on Thursday night and trounced the Sayre, Oklahoma, Junior College team 71 to 51 on Saturday night. The Comets lost their fourth game of the season, this time to the Wayland College Queen Bees, by a score of 49 to 40.

In Thursday night's game, the Bulldogs completely outclassed the boys from Wayland College. The Bulldog starters built up a 26 to 6 lead after the first ten minutes and the reserves came in to extend the lead to 47 to 20 at the half. The regulars came back in the second half and ran up a lead of 71 to 37 and with ten minutes to go Coach Travis sent the reserves back in to finish the game.

Lloyd Stephens, Bulldog leading scorer for the season, again paced the scoring attack with 7 points and was followed by Art Carter with 16, Buz Bailey with 10 and Felix Johnson with 7. Other boys who saw action in the games were Bub Eldridge, Penny Leslie, Jack Buttram, Richard Vallance, H. D. Yarbrough, Max Whittington, Gerald Garvin and Pat Wilkins.

The Comets, in Thursday night's game, stayed with the Queen Bees until the last three minutes of the game. The score at the first quarter was 12 to 10 in favor of the Comets and was tied 22-22 at the half. It was tied again, 33 to 33, at the end of the third quarter. Late in the fourth quarter the Queen Bees pulled away for the win.

Myrlene Nichols led the Comets in scoring with 22 points followed by Janice Martin with eight, Gay Ivey with four, Nancy Challenor with three and Virginia Sellers with two. Other girls who played included Georgia Binford, Melva Kelton, Janice Brotherton, Jean Sanders, Sharon Holt and Traverne Gillham.

In Saturday night's game with Sayre, the Bulldogs again took quick command of the game and were never in danger. They built up a comfortable 48 to 20 lead at the half and coasted the rest of the way for the easy victory. Penny Leslie, grandly improved sophomore, scored 11 points in 22 minutes for the easy victory. Leslie, Stephens and Aza Carter came in with 17 each. Carter, Bub Eldridge and Jack Buttram showed power on defense.

CHICKEN SUPPER A SUCCESS

The chicken supper held Wednesday, December 10, by the Junior Class was termed a success by members of the class. The patronage of the public made this possible and all class members and their sponsors appreciate your support.

Colts Win First Fillies Take Consolation

The Junior High School basketball teams were both winners in the Annual Basketball Tournament at Alameda the past week end. The Colts won first place after wins over the Shamrock Irish 26-21 and the Lefors team, 33-13. They met a sharp hitting, hustling team from Groom in the finals and defeated them 25 to 19 with Dwight McAnear, a regular from last year's Colt team on the bench with an injured arm, received in the first quarter. Gerald Johnson, John Cearley, Jerry Elmore, Troy Petty, David Hudgins, Danny Ray, James Moffett, Gary Campbell and David Moore made up the squad that brought home the bacon. The girls' team made their way to the consolation finals after a loss to Shamrock in their first game of the tourney. The girls looked better in their second start with Deanna McAnear, Eileen McAnear and Sharon Williams at forwards and Jan Weathers, Sue Phelan, Connie Martin and Janie Ivey doing the guarding chores. With the seventh grade girls playing much of the final game the Fillies won the consolation trophy with a score of 21 to 8 over Alameda. Some time back we asked for some comment on the question of whether the so-called "Good Old Days" were better than today. One of the letters we received gave the following argument in favor of the days past and gone.

Eanes Irrigation Service

Well Developing and Repairs. PEERLESS PUMPS EDWIN EANES Naylor Route, Clarendon

Dear Uncle Eeb, I would say yes... There are several basic reasons. One is that we did not have so many problems... Another, we just didn't have so many responsibilities. And then, we were not so selfish in those days... We had a more time to visit and have fellowship one with another... this had a great bearing on our appreciation of each other. Now, we know, but we fail to give enough consideration to the fact that we are our brother's keeper... In conclusion: "There is a destiny that makes us brothers. No one goes his way alone. All that we send into the lives of others, Comes back into our own." W. A. PAINTER, Edmondson, Texas.

we just about agree with you. Your letter brought back memories when we used to help each other fix our windmill and all the neighbors meet together and have a hog-killing. This was the day. It was work but we did love it. Anyway, send us your ideas in 50 words or less, and we will see if you agree with Mr. Painter.

Another nice letter comes from Mrs. H. A. Green of Rt. No. 1 Clarendon, Texas. She sends me a poem written by her grandmother back on the last day of November, which happened to be Grandmother Morris's 91st birthday... I hope that I can write a poem like this when 91... It goes:

NINETY-ONE YEARS OF LIVING

By Addie Morris For ninety-one years I've lived in this old world, I'm told. Ninety-one years I've watched this beautiful world unfold. It's priceless riches and resources of mankind. It's rivers, forests, mountains and valleys are sublime. Agriculture and education have made great stride.

Science and medicine have performed miracles side by side. From ox-wagons and horses to autos and planes.

From sail and steamboat to ships and liners of fame. I've traveled the rocky road of sorrow and pain. I've had much joy and happiness along life's last day. When all was dark, and I was lifted me to mountain heights. And said "The sun shall be the clouds have vanished, it is right."

Yes, I've had ninety-one years of love and living. And ninety-one years of receiving and giving. Friends and dear ones give me happiness and love. Now I am waiting for that beautiful world above.

Thank you Grandmother, and may God keep you blessing you real good.

GABIE BETTS BURTON LIBRARY NOTES

By May L. Prewitt

We replaced two of the Bobsey Twins editions, "Mystery Mansion" and "The Forrest Adventure." Also replaced Owen Wister's "The Virginian" which is required reading in some of the schools and our two copies were too mutilated for use.

Our new books of fiction are "Boys Pickers," by Al Dewlen. Al Dewlen has written a novel, "The first page to the last with its upward humor, its warmth and passion, its vigorous and imaginative relation of a grotesque but creative way of life."

"The Best of Everything" by Rona Joffe has been on the best seller list for weeks, so it is a fascinating reading to maintain its "prestige."

"Victims" by Frances Parkinson Keyes possesses all the charm and intrigue of her novels of Louisiana. This does not have the New Orleans setting, but set in west Louisiana in "Crowley" the rice capital of America. "The Athens of The Panhandle," a History of Clarendon College, by Ethel Harvey, is placed here in memory of Alfred Estlack. He did not attend the college until it became a junior college, but he would have appreciated its history, and did appreciate the many ex-students who have been termed successful by us and several have recognition of national repute.

The book "Friend to Friend," by Pearl S. Buck, and Carlos Romulo was given in memory of Mr. William Cooke, Jr. You have likely read a review of this as it has appeared in several of the book sections of our Sunday papers.

A special message for people who plan to buy a '59 car

By now you've had a chance to look over all the 1959 models. They're all on the market now, bright and shiny and dazzling as only new cars can be.

Now is the time to ask yourself the question, "Which car should I buy? Which car will give me the most value, the most satisfaction for my money?"

What do you want in a car?

We don't expect to sell everyone in 1959. We know that some people will end up buying small cars, and some, foreign imports. We accept the fact that a few will buy high-performance sports cars, and that others, because of their position, cars that cost far more than any Dodge. That's fine. We don't expect to sell them all.

But if you're in the market for a smart-looking, solidly built, full-sized car that's reasonably priced and that performs beautifully, a car designed for your comfort and convenience that you can drive with pride anywhere—WE ARE TALKING TO YOU.

Imitation is the sincerest form of flattery

Let's start with styling. How a car looks is an important consideration; no one buys a car they don't like. But styling, like beauty, is relative. What is hot stuff to one person is cold potatoes to another. So we will only say this about Dodge styling: Our competitors obviously like it. We think that's quite a tribute.

Rumor: Some '59 cars are hard to get into You'd think all cars would be about as easy to get into and out of, and as comfortable to sit in. After all, they all have doors and they all have seats. The fact is, there's a big difference—particularly this year.

Attention Station Wagon Buyers! Dodge station wagons are terrific, too. Write for your free copy of the Dodge Station Wagon Booklet. Dodge Division, Box 1259, Detroit 31, Michigan.

P.S. Don't forget to watch Lawrence Welk.

Frankly, some '59 cars are known to be a little difficult to get into, as well as out of. This wasn't intentional, of course. In trying to design a car that was as low and modern as our Sweep-Wing Dodge, it just worked out that way.

This is not true of Dodge, because Dodge is designed around you. You get in easily and naturally, without hanging your knee on the door post or the steering wheel. You sit on seats that give you wonderful support. There are no high door sills to trip over.

Of course, we won't even mention the fact that the other '59 cars don't offer Swing-Out Swivel Seats. Oops!

Which do you want: Push Buttons or a shift stick?

We know that a number of people like a lever-type automatic transmission. They've used them for years and they're satisfied. We have no quarrel with them. But there's a lot of wisdom in what Alexander Pope says in his Essay on Criticism: "Be not the first by whom the new are tried, nor yet the last to lay the old aside."

Push-button driving isn't new. This is the fourth year that Dodge has had it. We would guess that, conservatively, over two million owners have used it—and loved it. So we're not going to try to sell you on the ease of push-button driving; we do hope you'll just give it a try.

You want a modern ride, don't you?

You can divide all the '59 cars into two groups. Those (like Dodge) that have Torsion-Aire and those that have coil springs. Now don't get us wrong. Coil springs are okay. They've been used on cars for years.

But that's just the trouble. When you buy a 1959 car, you want a 1959 ride to go with it. That's Torsion-Aire. It's the newest, finest, most advanced suspension system in the industry. (Pardon our enthusiasm.) And remember this. You don't pay a penny extra for the extra comfort you get with Torsion-Aire. It's standard equipment.

Wouldn't you like to be pampered a little?

There's almost no end to the wonderful convenience features you can get in a '59 Dodge. Swing-Out Swivel Seats. They're great! Push-Button Torqueflite transmission. Full-Time Power Steering. Outside mirrors that adjust from the inside. Inside mirrors that adjust electronically to banish glare. They're all available at extra cost—and well worth it.

A few words about quality and performance and price

These are things that are hard to measure. What do you mean by quality? What constitutes good performance? What is a good buy? We would sum up our case for Dodge in this manner: It is a car that is well engineered and well built to give you years of driving satisfaction. It will more than match any other competitive car in the performance department. It is, we honestly believe, an extremely good buy for the money.

Are we prejudiced? You bet we are!

We'll admit we're prejudiced about our '59 Dodge. We think it's a great car. And if a new car is in your plans for 1959, we'd like the opportunity to convince you of this. How about giving us a chance, to show you this Dodge, to point out its many exclusive advances, to handle all the details so that you can drive it and draw your own conclusion. We're really serious about you. Why not make a good buy?

STATE CAPITAL
Highlights
AND Sidelights
by Vern Sanford

Austin—Foresadowing many hours of debate in the next legislative session is the steady build-up of proposals and counter-proposals for improving public schools.

Texas State Teachers Association has voted to push a 19-point legislative program. TSTA will go along on most of the Hale-Aikin Study Committee's recommendations, though its own program omits a few H-A proposals and is lukewarm on others.

Most notable difference is that TSTA calls for larger teacher salary raises. Present minimum starting salary is $3,204. Hale-Aikin Committee recommends hiking this to $3,800. TSTA is asking for $4,000 for bachelor degree holders, $4,200 for those with a master's degree. TSTA's salary increases would cost some $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 a year more than the Hale-Aikin plan. Overall, enactment of the Hale-Aikin school improvement plan would cost the state and estimated $110,000,000 a year than is now being spent.

Other planks in the teachers' legislative platform are specific changes to expand or enrich school programs—driver education, special programs for gifted children, more funds for small schools, etc. TSTA approved the Hale-Aikin proposal for lengthening the school year but indicated it would not go all-out for it.

Because they call for new spending at a time when the state already is in the red, no one expects smooth sailing for the school proposals. Governor Daniel warned teachers that he could not foresee available money for all the program. Many legislators are haunted on the one hand by the need to dig up new money just to keep the state in business—and on the other by campaign promises not to vote for certain kinds of new taxes. They're inclined to view new spending plans like smallpox germs.

On the other hand, advocates of school improvement constitute a large and very active group. And all such efforts gained tremendous new leverage when Sputnik I whizzed into orbit.

FOR BUSINESS SEEKING—Texas Industrial Commission is asking the Legislature for a $100,000-a-year appropriation to be used in attracting new businesses to Texas.

Commission voted not to go into tourist promotion unless asked to by lawmakers.

Proposed budget allocates $16,500 annually for an executive director's salary and $75,000 a year for advertising in national publications. All this activity will be brand new to Texas, made possible Nov. 4 when voters removed an 82-year-old constitutional ban against spending state money for advertising.

Commission also announced that it is opposed to any plan of offering temporary local tax exemption as a sort of "prize" to new industries.

BACK TO WORK—For the first time in 1958, Texas non-farm employment broke the three million mark in October.

Christmas rush and other gains may bring the number of workers to a new record high in December, according to the Texas Employment Commission.

Settlement of 13 labor-management disputes involving 9,749 workers contributed to the October employment peak of 3,001,400.

December's bright hopes are based on expectation of the usual retail job increases, more employment in cotton processing due to a high per-acre yield, plus gains in manufacturing, transportation and school employment.

OLD AGE ROLLS SHORTER—Number of Texans receiving old age assistance payments dropped during the past year, but Texas still has a greater percentage of its population on state old age pensions than most other states.

State Welfare Department's report to the governor notes that an increase in the number of elderly persons receiving Federal Social Security payments is apparently causing the shrinkage in the state welfare rolls.

Despite this trend, Texas has 33.6 per cent of its 65-and-over population on the state pension rolls compared to a national average of 16.2 per cent. Texas' average payments are lower—$47.08 per month compared to the national average of $61.39.

During the past fiscal year the State Welfare Department paid out $125,353,296 for old age pensions. Of this, 30 per cent was state funds, the rest federal.

JUDICIAL REVIEW UPHELD—Persons unhappy with State Water Board decisions may appeal to the courts, but not for a new trial starting from scratch.

State Supreme Court ruled that appeals from Water Board rulings may be considered only in the light of the evidence presented in the original hearing. In so ruling, the high court invalidated a provision in the water code providing for trial de novo (or anew).

At issue was a Water Board decision denying Southern Canal Co. of Houston permission to take water from the Trinity River. An Austin district judge had ruled that he did not have jurisdiction. Now the case can go back to district court for judicial review under the "substantial evidence" rule.

Effect of the Supreme Court decision could be far-reaching if applied to appeals from other administrative decisions. Heretofore, trial de novo has applied to appeals from the State Board of Insurance.

SHORT SNORTS—Jake Jacobsen, Governor Daniel's top assistant, will leave his job Jan. 1 to enter private law practice in Austin. Jacobsen has been a close associate of the governor since the days when Daniel was attorney general. . . . Texas Employment Commission Chairman S. Perry Brown has been reappointed by the governor for a new six-year term despite protests from labor groups. . . . U.S. Dept. of Agriculture is recommending a 12 per cent cut in 1959 acreage allotments for spring potatoes in Texas. This would be 7,875 acres for next year compared to 9,000 in 1958. . . . Texas Heritage Foundation President Paul Wakefield has petitioned President Eisenhower for a full pardon for one of Texas' most famous sons, the late William Sydney Porter, better known as short story writer O. Henry. Porter was convicted in federal court of embezzlement and served a prison term, but Wakefield declared there is "abundant proof of his innocence." . . . Wayland C. Rivers, Jr. has resigned as an assistant to Attorney General Will Wilson and entered private

The following is a quotation from our church bulletin. I think it would be well for us to find out just how a situation of this sort came about. How and by whom was it propagated? Perhaps in so doing other communities and states can be saved from such atheistic pressure.

no Christmas carols. The state legislature has passed a law which will make all school Christmas observances illegal, beginning in 1959.

Carols have also been ruled out in parts of California and Illinois. The attorney-general of California, Pat Brown, has ruled that God cannot be mentioned in the classroom. In carrying out that ruling, one of the schools in the state has instructed its librarian to take from the shelves and from circulation all books that mention God! The Ten Commandments had already been banned from the schools of New York and New Jersey, or at least local bans in those states have been upheld by state authorities.
