Farmers interested in the growing of sweet potatoes will get a chance to see a demonstration today, Thursday, May 21st on setting out the slips and also the use of starter solutions. H. M. Breedlove, county agent, who is in charge of the demonstration, says that Mr. Joe Cole, Horticulturist of the Texas A&M College Extension Service will be on hand to explain in detail all phases of growing sweet potatoes. Actual setting of the slips will start about 11 a.m. on the Horace Green farm, about five miles west of Clarendon on the Amarillo road.

Breedlove said that Mr. Cole would make a short talk on the production of sweet potatoes at 1:00 p.m. in the yard at the Horace Green home. Be sure to be on time for each phase of the demonstration as 3,000 plants will be set out in this variety test. Donley Farmers Apply In Wool Program

A total of two county wool growers have applied for incentive payments under the national wool program for the 1958 marketing year, according to Mr. Cooke of the Donley County Agricultural and Conservation Office. The deadline for applications was April 30.

On the basis of wool applications received throughout the country, the national percentage rate of payment will be calculated and payments will then be made to growers through their county ASC offices. Payments are expected to be made some time after July 1. Payments will be made at the percentage rate necessary to bring the national average farm price of wool up to 82 cents a pound, which is the announced incentive level. That percentage will be applied to each grower's marketing to calculate his payment. On unshorn lambs, payment is made at a rate based on the wool rate.

The purpose of this program, Mr. Cooke points out, is to increase U. S. production of wool, of which this country produces less than its needs. This is done by means of an incentive payment to growers, which is applied on a percentage basis to encourage growers to do the best possible job of marketing their wool.

Noblitt was presented this plaque last Thursday night when he and Mrs. Noblitt were honored here in the College gym by the Texas Butane Dealers Association at their first Annual Butane Dealer of the Year Award Banquet. Mrs. Noblitt was presented the big bouquet of roses by Mrs. M. G. Highnote, wife of the Association president.

Giles Picnic Slated For May 30

Once again it is almost time for the Giles picnic. There'll be "big doin's" on the banks of old Buck Creek when this annual celebration gets under way the morning of May 30th. Everyone is invited!

Already big plans are in the making. There will be a boosters' caravan starting from the Lowell Houston home at 1 o'clock Saturday, May 23, for an afternoon tour stopping at Memphis, Childress, Wellington, Hedley and Clarendon. A group of the Beasley Square Dancers, fiddle music, and singing will furnish the entertainment at each stop. The towns to be visited will be alerted as to possible time of arrival of the Giles Picnic Troupers.

Flip Breedlove, the Panhandle Barbecue King, will barbecue the beef again this year and will set up camp on the grounds the day before the celebration. Milton Beasley raised the beef, a white-faced black steer so as not to offend either the Hereford or Angus breeders.

Lowell Houston, mayor of Giles, and Walter Johnson as Giles High Sheriff will be on hand from first to last to see that everybody has a good time and doesn't eat too much.

Mrs. Charlie Crow has been as busy as a bird dog in hunting season for weeks making gingham bonnets for the lazy picknickers and Richard Stotts will head the music committee and see that we have music going most of the day and night.

The festivities will begin about 10 o'clock with Bob Ayers as master of ceremonies and continue on into the night with dinner, supper and singing on the ground. While red beans, stewed fruit, onions, and pickles will be served with the barbecue, anyone wanting to bring pies, cakes or salads is welcome to do so.

This year for the first time folks are invited by the Houstons, owners of the Giles Section, to bring their camping gear and pitch camp if they like.

Flip Breedlove will enjoy the company if you don't get in his way as he will be a busy merchant cooking the beef to a turn. There will be drinking water and lights on the ground but bring your own appetite and come to have the time of your life at the GILES PICNIC!

Social Security

Benefits Available

"Have you seriously considered what your Social Security taxes could mean to us," was a question asked by Hal S. Geldon, manager of the Amarillo district office today. Asked if he would explain benefits available and protection for the typical young father, the manager gives this pertinent information.

"Social Security protection is provided for the widow and children under age 18 of a deceased worker, for disability benefits for the worker, age 50 or older in the event of a permanently disabling condition, benefits at age 62 for the workers widow, and retirement benefits for the worker at age 65." "In addition, Geldon added, "there is protection for children, disabled before age 18, and who have continued to remain permanently disabled after age 18. These 'children' may receive benefits in the event of the death or retirement of the breadwinner. Many families do not know that the social security tax paid each year can mean so much to their financial security. As an after thought, Hal S. Geldon added, "the amount of a benefit check is directly related to the average monthly earnings the worker has had in work which the social security tax was withheld, or paid. Many times the aggregate sum of these monthly benefits reaches $20,000, $25,000 or $30,000 thousand dollars. This amount of insurance is not unusual for the young father with three children and who draws a good salary."

Major James C. Brewer, navigator in the U. S. 8th Air Force and stationed at Westover AF Base, Mass., has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Brewer, and sister, Dollie Bain and family a few days. All spent Saturday and Sunday in Dumas where they visited in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Pool and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Peden.

Horse mounted patrols were employed by Marines in Santo Domingo and later in Nicaragua.

INCREASED CONSUMPTION OF TURKEY SOUGHT

The Texas Turkey Federation intends to do something about the surplus problem and at the same time gain back for Texas producers higher national ranking, productionwise.

George Draper of the Poultry Science Department at Texas A&M College and an official of the Federation report that plans are well underway for the launching of an all out effort to increase the turkey consumption.

The turkey industry, points out Draper, contributes about $35,000,000 annually to the agricultural income of Texas. The sale of about 4 million birds and 18 million hatching eggs, over half of which are exported to other states, are the major income sources.

During the past decade, Draper said Texas had dropped from first to fifth place in the nation in turkey production and cited as a factor the failure of Texans to increase consumption.

The Federation, he said, is hard at work on the problem, and promises that food buyers in order to get turkey in their menu planning will not have to buy an entire bird. Turkey quarters will soon be on the market and housewives will be able to purchase attractive packages containing from 2 to 6 pounds of a food that has long been famous for its high protein and low fat content. The quarters are to be labeled "Golden Roast" and included in each pack will be full instructions on preparation.

Federation officials and others connected with the industry believe this change in marketing will help get more turkey consumed. The new package will give the housewife the opportunity to purchase flavorful turkey in an amount for a single family meal or a banquet.

Draper said the Texas group would get assistance in their promotion program from the National Federation which will launch a nationwide effort in the near future.

Failure demonstrates the fact that there is also plenty of room at the bottom.

LELIA LAKE SCHOOL NEWS

One of the best tests of educational interest is supposed to be found in the amount and range of coluntary reading being done by students. A conservative count of books bought through some agency or Scholastic Magazine book services by Lelia Lake students and teachers this year is 317. This applies only to those residents in the community. Teen-Age Book Club, for grades 7-12; Arrowhead Book Club for grades 4-6; and bargain books for almost every age, were handled by Mrs. Rachel Butler, Mrs. Anita K. Thurman, and M. R. Mathis. A number of other teachers took part.

This has been a year beginning in hot weather and seeming to be headed for a similar type of close. Thanks to the Donley County Leader for its helpfulness with this column, and to the teachers.

M. R. Mathis

Mrs. Eddie Orsak of San Antonio returned home Wednesday after visiting the first part of the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Harnell.

Mrs. Carra Adkins of Carnegie, Okla. is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. C. E. Underdown.

Bees are becoming increasingly important to Texas farmers as crop pollinators. Last year, according to C. J. Burgin, state entomologist, 219 permits were granted covering the relocation of 118,351 colonies of bees.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin — Senators and Representatives will have only a brief breather between regular and special sessions of the Legislature. Gov. Price Daniel announced that lawmakers would convene again, the first of the week.

Big question around the Capitol now is how many special sessions will be needed to solve the state's tax problem.

Since the lawmakers failed during their 120-day regular session, to erase the $65,000,000 deficit and balance the budget for 1960-61, that chore will be No. 1 on their agenda. And most observers thing it will take at least two, and maybe more, 30-day special sessions to iron things out.

Only matters specifically offered by the Governor may be considered during a special session of the Legislature, and all legislation started during the regular session must start over, practically from scratch. Revenue-raising proposals will have to be introduced again in the House, heard in committee, etc., before they can go to the Senate.

"OPEN SHOP" TEACHING — Any college graduate could teach school in Texas—at least for a year or two—under a House-passed bill.

Bill would grant a teacher's certificate good for one year to any bachelor's degree holder, whether he had had teacher training or not. Certificates could be renewed twice. After that, the applicant would have to take 12 semester hours of teacher education.

Miss Maud Isaacks of El Paso, herself a teacher for many years, sponsored the bill. Professional educators were divided on the merits of the plan.

Some said it would increase qualified personnel; others, that it would attract to Texas the misfits and ne'er-do-wells from "all the freshwater colleges" in the nation.

PLOUGHED UNDER — In the final days of a session, there usually isn't time to revive a bill that gets pushed aside. Among the bills whose setbacks were interpreted as death for this year are these:

Milk Import Regulations, sponsored by Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo. House supporters couldn't muster the two-thirds majority to take the bill out of order. Proponents said the restrictions on milk brought across the state line was needed for health reasons. Opponents called it a trade barrier that would raise the price of milk.

Broadening the Common Purchaser Oil Law, by Sen. Hazlewood. Senate refused to take up the bill which would require pipelines to provide connections to new fields of transport the oil to market by truck.

Ban on Sunday Auto Sales, by George Parkhouse of Dallas. It passed Senate, but House refused twice to take it up.

Ban on Nudist Camps, by Rep. James Turman of Gober. Senate passed, but House refused to call it out of committee. Committee had referred it to the Attorney General who said it would be legal.

Highway Zoning—Both houses moved quickly toward passage of a bill to protect smaller roads from heavier truck loads.

Governor Daniel asked for such regulation when he signed the bill to increase permitted truck loads from 58,420 to 72,000 pounds.

Proposed bill would allow the State Highway Department to one state highways and farm roads for lighter truck loads and give same authority to County Commissioners for county roads.

Insurance Question Marks—Whether the State Board of Insurance should operate full-time or part-time was an issue expected to carry over into the special session.

House made its preference clear by putting full-time salaries in the House appropriations bill and by passing a bill specifically providing for a full-time Board.

Senate version of the appropriation bill provided for what would amount to about one-third salaries ($5,000 a year) for Insurance Board members. Many senators opposed a full-time Board in addition to a full-time Commissioner when the Department was re-organized two years ago. Since then, they have been angered because the Board retained William A. Harrison as Commissioner after the Senate had disapproved him.

Since no conference committee was appointed to adjust differences between the two houses' appropriation bills, it was obvious the insurance hassle could not be resolved in the regular session.

TOURIST BILL PASSES—The much discussed and battered bill to permit the state of Texas to advertise its tourist advantages finally was approved by both houses of the Legislature before adjournment of the regular session.

As passed, the bill puts into ef-

Indian Intelligence

Austin, April 19, 1959—We stop the press to give the following Indian news:

Mr. Charles E. Barnard and Captain Marlin, just from the Brazos Agency, report that the entire area of frontier country, some distance above Belton, extending from the Colorado to the Trinity river, is overrun by small thieving hands, say from three to ten of Nohonie and Tenewish Indians. These are tribes of the Northern Comanches, a portion of whom felt the retributive vengeance of our government, in the chastisements received from the brave Ford and dashing Van Dorn. On the 8th instant, a party of these devils, consisting of five men, had a desperate encounter with William Holden, whom they finally killed and scalped. Holden was armed only with a six-shooter, with which from the evidences of violence near the scene of conflict, he fought like a tiger at bay, killing one of his assailants and probably severely wounding a second. When found, his body was pierced by 28 arrows.

On account of the late excitement of the frontier counties against them, the Reserve Indians have abandoned their farms and concentrated for protection near the Agency buildings. They are furnishing the United States troops with scouts, and are aiding the citizens whenever called upon in the recovery of stolen property.

Captain Plummer, about the 12th inst., arrived at the Reserve with a well furnished company of troops. Capt. Ford is expected to arrive in Austin today.

Farewell to sleep, when bed-bugs prey.

Or rats and mice (confound them) play.

Professor Lyon found a plant in the interior of Asia, the powdered leaves of which is certain death to garden insects: ants, roaches, bugs, fleas, ticks, moths, etc. A small amount of the powder will preserve a garden of plants and rid a house of all these annoying pests. It is free from poison and harmless to man and domestic animals. It is more valuable to preserving crops than guano in making them grow. Many worthless imitations are advertised. The only genuine is signed E. Lyon. It can be ordered through any merchant. Powders kill all insects in a trice, But pills are mixed for rats and mice.

Mayorality — At the municipal election in Galveston, on the 8th inst., Thomas M. Joseph was elected mayor over L. A. Thompson, Esk.

HEDLEY NEWS

Mabel Bridges

The Hedley FFA chapter held its annual parent and son barbecue in the Lions Den Friday evening, May 15. There were some 65 guests and 30 members present. The occasion had been planned by the boys and they had done much of the preparation from raising the chickens to writing the invitations, making the programs, and decorating the tables. Two of the boys gave the speeches of the evening instead of getting a guest speaker.

Jon Leggitt spoke on "Vocational Agriculture and the Individual." David Moreman's topic was "Agriculture Education in Relationship to World Economics." Billy Wiggins, president of the FFA, conducted the opening and closing ceremonies with the help of chapter officers and welcomed the guests.

Mary Baker, sweetheart of the local FFA as well as the Greenbelt District, was presented a beautiful white jacket with the FFA emblem.

John Lee Stephens presented medals from the FFA Foundation as follows: Farm Safety, David Morris; Farm Electrification, Doyle Clendennen; Soil and Water Management, Jerry Kinney; Public Speaking, David Moreman; Farm Mechanics, Jack Donald Doherty; Dairy Farming, Jon Leggitt; Chapter Star Farmer, Bobby Stephens.

Mr. Messer introduced the Dairy Products Judging team that placed third in the recent state contest and then presented the speakers of the evening. Susan Cox played dinner music during the evening.

The room was decorated with the blue and gold colors of FFA. The tables were centered with vases of spring flowers and also on the various tables were the FFA emblems.

The menu was barbecued chicken, potato salad, beans, onions, stewed apricots, bread and Coca-Cola. Henry Moore cooked the chicken and the mothers of the boys prepared the other food which was served buffet style.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Masterson returned home last week from Hot Springs, Ark. and Ardmore, Okla. where they spent several weeks.

Sorry to report Mr. Dee Leach had to go back to the hospital and he is not doing so well.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stone and family of Amarillo visited the Burt Stones Sunday.

Doyle Messer spent several days at various points in Oklahoma selecting pigs for his FFA boys project next year. We are very proud of Mr. Messer and his Ag boys and FFA work. They have made quite a fine showing in different fields of work and Hedley is very proud of both teacher and pupils.

Mesdame Herlie Moreman and C. E. Johnson visited recently in Mineral Wells with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dickson are vacationing in Denver, Colo., visiting their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mickell and Tony.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Moffitt and J. B. Yates attended the banquet in Clarendon honoring Mr. Noblett.

Mr. G. F. Leeper was badly burned while using gasoline in red ant beds setting it on fire. His clothing caught fire. Mrs. Luther Petty was in the next yard. She ran to him with a blanket and smothered out the fire. His burns were third degree. He is slowly recovering in a Memphis hospital.

Master Sgt. and Mrs. Frank Hargrove of Hot Springs, Ark. are visiting the lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wiggins—and a special event in the commencement of their son, Rodney, who is a senior in the Hedley school. Chas. Rains spent the weekend here repairing his farm house damaged in the hail storm.

FARM BUREAU AN-NOUNCES DRIVE PLANS

Mr. Holly Wood, president of the Donley County Farm Bureau, has announced a President's Drive for more Blue Cross-Blue Shield members. All applications for the Drive must be in the hands of the Dallas office of Blue Cross-Blue Shield by June 13.

The President's Drive is being carried out in the form of a state-wide contest with prizes available for winning County Presidents and winning State Directors. In addition, the County Farm Bureau treasury will receive an extra bonus if the County meets its quota of one-third increase in their Blue Cross-Blue Shield as of April 1, 1959, or a minimum of thirty applications, whichever is greater.

Details of the contest and prize and rules are available by contacting Mrs. Hubert Rhoades, phone 669-253.

The Texas Farm Bureau, working with Blue Cross and Blue Shield, has offered a program of prepaid hospital and medical-surgical care since June 1, 1944. This was, and still is, based on a deep conviction that farm families have as great a need for prepaid health care as anyone.

With the cooperation of Blue Cross-Blue Shield of Texas, it has been possible for the Farm Bureau to obtain such a program on terms that are equal to, and in some instances, better than, similar plans being offered groups of industrial firms. The present program offers to its Farm Bureau members the finest prepaid health protection that has ever been made available to them.

In participating in this program the Farm Bureau is joining with over 56 million other people who have chosen Blue Cross as the most satisfactory prepaid hospital care available. Hospital costs have been steadily increasing, along with other living expenses, and more than most services for reasons that are peculiar to the special job that the hospital does. The hospital is open 24 hours a day, every day, offering to its patients the most modern equipment, and all, or most, of the newest drugs and techniques that have become available.

Budgeting for prepaid health care has become the accepted method of spreading the risk of hospital costs, together with the major portion of the bill for doctors' services. One hundred and twenty million Americans now have some kind of prepaid health care and in Texas, one million, one hundred and fifty-seven of these carry Blue Cross-Blue Shield prepaid protection.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bain and children of Shamrock spent the weekend in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Schollenbarger and Butch. Others visiting in the Schollenbarger home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Roper and family of Darrouzett.

Mrs. Mae Cook and Mrs. John Goldston visited Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Quattlebaum. They also visited Mrs. Eva Allgren.

Pilot Saved By Quick Thinking

Capt. L. D. Harrison, husband of the former Marilyn Merchant, saved his own life and that of his crew chief by his quick thinking when he was forced to make a belly landing of his B-57 Martin turbo-jet bomber at Holloman AFB last week.

Harrison performed an emergency operation with a crash axe by chopping into his landing gear control panel while in full flight after discovering that his aircraft had lost all its hydraulic pressure from a ruptured valve. In a second streak of bad luck, the T-handle which would have released the emergency landing gear was broken off. Bail-out was impossible because the loss of fluid prevented the opening of the canopy.

Harrison managed to land the plane safely by pulling the emergency landing gear up tightly between his two hands and pumping about 500 strokes on the emergency hand pump while watching his instruments and landing operations. Using a pocket handkerchief to stuff the hydraulic line and redirect the fluid, he was able to open the canopy after landing.

Parcel Post Is Losing Proposition

One way to do something constructive about the explosive federal budget problem would be for the government to charge an honest price for commercial services it renders.

Take, for instance, fourth-class mail, which is parcel post. This is purely commercial undertaking. It is also directly competitive with taxpaying private carriers on the national, regional and local levels.

Back in 1913, when Congress authorized the service, it was specified that the rates charged should fairly reflect the costs and that parcel post should not be unduly competitive with private enterprise. These provisions have been violated during most if not all of the succeeding years. Costs have consistently outrun the charges. The result has been huge deficits. This simply means that everyone pays a part of the bills of those who use parcel post.

On top of the direct losses, there have been heavy indirect losses as well. They come from the fact that certain important expenses connected with the service are paid for out of general postoffice funds and aren't specifically allocated to the service.

If one wishes to ship a package in this manner it's only fair that he pay the full bill. And the saving to the taxpayers—and the good effect on the budget—would be substantial.

Don't bet your life on the other fellow's brakes.

Adult Classes In Homemaking Available During June

During the regular school term, the Homemaking classrooms are in use every period of the day making it impossible for you to have access to the equipment or the services of the homemaking teachers. The "out-of-school" youth and adults are just as important to our program as the youth still enrolled in high school, therefore during June, if sufficient interest is manifested, a minimum of 10 students meeting for six hours of instruction. Classes can be scheduled at a time most convenient to you, to study or work as a group with the assistance of the homemaking teacher any phase of homemaking you desire most. This is a free service of your high school homemaking department.

In the past, most interest has been in clothing construction. This summer we thought you might enjoy a cooking school in our new remodeled kitchen. Suggested lessons might be: 1. Low calorie diets and dishes using sugar substitutes; 2. Yeast breads and its variations; 3. Outdoor cookery; 4. Rotisserie cookery; 5. Selection, care and use of small equipment for the kitchen. Local merchants have been most cooperative in this study when high school girls visit and question them.

Are you a Brownie or Girl Scout leader or assistant leader? In helping to get Girl Scouting started in Clarendon we have found many more girls interested in becoming Scouts than we have found adults to lead and direct them. "I don't have time," or "I wouldn't mind helping, but I wouldn't know what to do with them," are the two most common reasons mothers have given for not helping to organize troops and leading them.

Time is your most important possession. At best, you will have your daughter at home only six or seven more years if she is Scouting age. She is asking for your time and help now. When she reaches high school age, you will be interfering if you offer your time. You may feel slighted, left out, or possibly relieved. Many badges that the girls may want to earn, can be attained through the homemaking program when they reach high school, but they will not receive a badge signifying "I am proficient" for their hours of work. If a short course in 1. First-aid, 2. Home nursing, 3. Needlecraft, 4. Sewing, 5. Basketry, 6. Outdoor cookery, etc. would help you either as a leader or a prospective leader, let us organize a class, pool our knowledge and let the girls in Clarendon who are Scouting age know that as adults we can and will help them.

If you would enjoy a craft course during June, the college craft course (night class) has stimulated a lot of interest among high school students with the work they have done. College credit was given for this course, but a similar course could be planned for you, free of charge except for materials you use in class.

Clothing construction is of interest to women always. Can you use your attachments? Would you like to learn to blind hem on your machine without attachments, put in zippers without basting, the easy 1-2-3 way, or use the Singer Slant-O-Matic machine for trimming the summer casual clothes you will be making?

If you are interested in taking either of the courses suggested, would you call Mrs. Fred Bourland at the High School or come by the Homemaking Department and fill out an enrollment card. Classes most likely will be scheduled for night or morning since our building is not air-conditioned. Enrollment time, May 18-20.

NOTARY PUBLICS TO REQUALIFY JUNE 1-10

Secretary of State Zollie Steakley has announced that he will reappoint persons now holding notary public commissions but that such persons must requalify by the filing of a new oath and bond with the County Clerk of his residence between June 1, 1959 and June 10, 1959.

Steakley emphasized that notaries public should not send requests for reappointment or for commissions directly to the Secretary of State. The law specifically requires the County Clerks to approve notary bonds.

Any person not now a notary public who desires appointment should apply to his County Clerk between April 1, 1959 and May 20, 1959. Applications during this period will assure prompt attention before the rush procedure of reappointing present notaries.

Secretary of State Steakley further pointed out that each person applying for a commission as a notary public must be at least 21 years of age and a resident of the county for which he is appointed. The exact name and permanent address of the applicant must be furnished the County Clerk. (15-c)

Dial Equipment Being Installed Here

Installation of the most modern dial equipment for Clarendon's future unattended dial system began on April 7, 1959 according to Roy L. Brewer, district manager for the General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

The district manager stated that this equipment, the latest in design, will provide greatly improved telephone service to 1,123 customers in the Clarendon area. The new dial equipment will allow customers in this area to dial directly to the desired numbers, without the assistance of an operator, hence permitting a much more rapid completion of all local calls.

Company plant personnel will be assisted in this installation by a team of technical experts who specialize in the installation of this type equipment, said Brewer.

The completion date set at the present time for the installation of this new dial equipment is July 15, 1959.

Livestock Dealers Must Register

Scores of southwest livestock buyers are expected to register and furnish bond under a new amendment to the Packers and Stockyards Act, effective May 24, 1959.

This was announced today by W. C. Ball, district supervisor, Packers and Stockyards office, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Fort Worth, Texas.

Dealers, market agencies, either buying or selling on a commission basis, and packer buyers—operating across state lines either in the country or at markets subject to the Packers and Stockyards Act—must register, Mr. Ball points out.

Also, all except packer buyers must furnish bond. Bond coverage is based upon the volume of business transacted, but in no case less than $5,000.

Previously, the regulations on interstate livestock marketing applied only to persons dealing at markets subject to the Act.

Mr. Ball emphasizes that the law places the responsibility on the dealer to register and obtain bond coverage if he is operating across state lines.

Texas and eastern New Mexico livestock dealers should register immediately with the District Packers and Stockyards office, 231 Livestock Exchange Building, Fort Worth, Texas.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WEEK

What do public school officials think of Sunday Schools? Dr. John J. Theobald is Superintendent of Schools in New York City, controlling the teaching and preparation for life of one million boys and girls. Here is what he says about Sunday Schools:

"Man's two greatest adventures are exploring the world around him and the worth within him. Whether he probes with a missile or a prayer, he's on the high road to adventure, and his preparation must begin early in life. Sunday Schools of all faiths stress the principles that start young people in the right direction."

To help focus attention on the importance of our nation's Sunday Schools, the Laymen's National Committee, Inc., a non-sectarian, non-profit organization, has been sponsoring a National Sunday School Week in April for the past 15 years. The observance this year will be from April 13 to 19. The slogan is "Make Every Week Sunday School Week."

Let's start our children in the right direction by giving them a chance to learn the Word of God in our Sunday Schools.

COTTON GROWERS ADVISED TO USE COST CUTTING PRACTICES

"Cotton producers have made their final decision on their 1959 allotment, either plan A or B," C. B. Bates, extension farm management specialist said, "and unless disaster occurs, growers know the exact acreage they are permitted to harvest."
He said proper fertilization, good stands, control of weeds, and effective insect control are some important considerations in getting the highest production at lowest cost from the cotton grown.
Plans should be made to use every practice that will help to reduce unit production costs, as lower costs per bale of cotton marketed will mean greater profit for Choice A and B producers alike.

In some areas the importance of certain practices rank higher than others. Cotton growers should check with their county agricultural agent for local practice recommendations, Bates suggested.
Like other enterprises, cotton deserves the best management that can be given, he said.
Extra attention to cost-reduction practices are especially important this year, advised Bates, since price support levels are below those for 1958.

Sorghum almum has a larger stalk than Sudan and is non-sweet. It gives more grazing in mid-summer to fall than Sudan but may give trouble from prussic acid. It will likely act as an annual when grazed heavily.
You can plant after danger of frost is past. You should plant in 36 to 42-inch rows to get the longest grazing period. Stock will not trample row plantings as badly as drilled plantings, Trew said.

The planting rate per acre for 36 to 42-inch rows is Sudan, 7 to 10 pounds, Pearl millet, 5 to 7 pounds, Perennial Sweet Sorghum, 4 to 5 pounds, and Sorghum almum, 3 to 5 pounds. Stagger plantings at two to four week intervals to prevent all being ready to graze at the same time, suggests Trew.

WORLD HEALTH

Since this seems to be an age of fear, and each of us lives from day to day wondering what the morrow will bring for us to be more scared of than we were of the stark tragedy that was to befall us yesterday, it occurred to me that the people of this country might be interested in the present health of the world. I must confess I have never been too deeply concerned about our chances of being ripped apart or destroyed by some hobgoblin that is the creature of the mind of some fellow human being. Usually these unworldly creatures of destruction are born because of the desire of some scare artist to capture the attention of the American people. I do not mean to say I am not concerned by the many problems which daily confront human beings in the battle for existence. I look upon these daily difficulties as problems to be solved by human beings rather than as catastrophes against which there can be no defense. I do not believe that man can destroy the earth, hard as he has tried since God placed us here. I do believe that each year brings man closer to the realization that a proper utilization of the faculties with which God has endowed him will bring greater benefits to future generations, and avoid the necessity of periodic intervention by God to prevent man from destroying himself.

I feel that the proof of this theory lies in the advance which has been made in health matters during our lifetime. Although there is much to be done and the future will require much more to be done, the progress to date is remarkable. More than 25 per cent of the people of the world can expect to attain an age of 65 years. Strange to say, the highest life expectancy rate is in Norway. There, it is 73 years. Others enjoying a rate of 70 years or more include the United States, Australia, the United Kingdom, Sweden, and Japan. These are all highly developed countries from an industrial standpoint. Russia has a reported life expectancy rate of 66 years at the present time. Those having a rate of above 50 years include the southern portion of South America, Spain, some central European countries, the Philippine Islands, the Sudan in Africa, Mexico, and others. The lowest rates of life expectancy are in central and northern South America, southwest Asia, India, Egypt, and others. It is also noteworthy that very few of the countries enjoying high expectancy rates are located near the Equator, yet most of the countries with the lowest life expectancy rates are located at, on, or near the Equator. Whether or not this geographical location has any effect on the situation, I do not know, but it would seem that such is the case. Also to be considered is the fact that most of the countries having the low expectancy rates have a high percentage of poverty. In summarizing the world data, we find that 801.3 million or 28.7 per cent of the world population have an estimated average life expectancy at birth of 50 years; 278.5 million or 10 per cent of the world population have a life expectancy of 65 years or more. It should also be said that approximately one-third of the world's population, 996.3 million, cannot be the subject of such information because there is not sufficient data from which to make an estimate.

In 1957, it was estimated there were 2,790 million people living in the world. More than one-half, or approximately 1,400 million, live in Asia, 204 million live in Russia, and 174 million in the United States. This population is increasing at an accelerating rate, due primarily to the declining death rate, rather than an increased birth rate. The fastest rate of increase occurs in Middle America, where it is 2.7 per cent. It is 2.5 per cent in southwest Asia, and 2.4 per cent in South America. The smallest rate of change occurs in Europe, where it is 0.6 per cent. The fact that America is ahead of the other countries in the increase in population is due primarily to the great strides which we have made in the solution of health problems and the splendid contributions to medical science by our medical profession.

So long as good health conditions continue to grow better and better, producing strong, healthy human beings, and these on the increase, I do not believe we should have much fear about being overtaken by some grave catastrophe that will wipe out all humanity.

IN-FURROW FUNGICIDES HELP CONTROL COTTON SEEDLING DISEASE

Use of in-the-furrow fungicides at planting time may be an effective aid for controlling cotton seedling disease in some areas, says Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist.

Cotton seedling disease is one of the major diseases attacking cotton in Texas, Smith pointed out. Last year it cost Texas farmers a little over 4½ million dollars.

Information concerning use of in-the-furrow fungicides at planting time, a relatively new seedling disease control practice, was first published by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in January of 1958. About 400 Texas producers used the practice on a total of 26,523 acres last year.

Most of the treated acreage was centered in the High Plains and Lower Rio Grande Valley, Smith explained. However, there were small tests in several other areas. A Wharton County grower tried it on 50 acres and obtained quite favorable results.

For general use a mixture of Captan, Zineb and PCNB applied as a spray or dust is recommended. As a spray, 5 pounds of a formulation containing 15 per cent active Captan, 22.5 per cent active PCNB and 26 per cent Zineb applied in water at the rate of 7 gallons per acre is suggested.

As a dust, 10 pounds of a formulation containing 7.5 per cent active Captan, 11.5 per cent active PCNB and 13.0 per cent active Zineb per acre is effective. Nabam applied as a spray at the rate of 1 gallon per acre should give good results in soils with a pH below 7.3.

For more information see your local county agent.

WET SPRING WEATHER BIG FACTOR IN CHEMICAL CONTROL MESQUITES

Control of mesquite has dropped off in the last five or six years, said G. O. Hoffman and B. J. Ragsdale, extension range specialists. Drouth, they added, has been a major factor.

In 1951 and 1952 over a million acres were treated. But the late and dry springs of these years resulted in very little total kill of mesquite. In 1957, the specialists said, only 20,000 acres were treated, but in 1958 the acreage treated more than tripled.

Mesquite is moving east and is taking over a lot of abandoned cultivated land. It is an aggressive, persistent plant on some 75 million acres of grazing land in the Southwest, the specialists said.

The best time to spray mesquite is in the late spring. The best mixture for single stem plants is ½ pound of 2,4,5-T, 1/2 gallon of diesel oil and enough water to make 3 gallons of spray solution per acre. For multiple stem and sprouts and regrowth, they recommend 1/2 pound of 2,4,5-T. Spray with an airplane in swaths not to exceed 60 feet in width for single stems. For multiple stems and regrowth, spray swaths should be 42 feet or less. Cost for the control will be about 50 cents per acre per year with returns averaging about $1, the specialists said.

Mechanical treatments using root cutters, anchor chains and root plows give some immediate results, but may be expensive. Often a combination of mechanical and chemical treatments may give the most control for the least cost per acre per year, they said.

After using chemicals, defer grazing from the treated area during two growing seasons and stock to obtain moderate utilization. This combination of practices, they said, would prolong treatment for at least two years. For further information on mesquite control, they suggest a visit with the local county agent.

Haste Can Make Waste

Recent rains have improved agricultural prospects and will also cause a step-up in the tempo of farm and ranch activities. "Haste can make waste," reminds the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, and suggest that all possible care be exercised so the human and other assets don't become waste due to an accident.

BLOWN Out the CORNERS By Uncle Zeb

We have just returned from a swing down in deep East Texas and back up through the South Central part. No place looked any more promising since the rains than does the plains part of the Panhandle. It can wait, say they say, just 10 minutes before it is too late and then rain. Within days miracles can and will happen.

Much of East Texas reminds us somewhat of a large part of my wife's home state of Oklahoma in that it has so many trees one can't see the country. We always have an argument about this when we tour Oklahoma. She loves trees and would like to own a ranch covered with thick tall and every kind of trees and when I mention that folks kill out the growth many times so that grass can grow she still defends the trees. As for me, I like trees, especially one to get under when the sun is beaming down, but somehow an open expanse of wide and sprawling prairie is more appealing to me.

One thing we like about parts of East Texas, say like Kilgore, Overton, and Longview areas is the presence of oil. You can find a farm of not more than 0 acres with a whole roost full of pumping wells. We understand that they were dug before the spacing rule took effect. Anyway, there are spots with more of these loveable capital sustaining virtues than we have seen any place we have travelled. We even heard of one church that had so many oil wells on its churchyard that it was prone to sell out and move. As for me it would seem better to hear oil wells pumping than sermons designed to raise money. So much more relaxing.

In making conventions in eight of our largest cities, and in making other trips to a dozen or so points of interest and always going and coming a different route we thought that we had seen Texas but there was a larger hunk right down the East side than we imagined that we had always missed. We had been to Tyler before but never when the roses were so lovely. Small wonder that it is famous for its roses.

We didn't get to meet anyone from the chamber of commerce in Tyler but we most felt like preaching a sermon on our impressions of this fair city. It is a beautiful city, and on top of this it is growing by leaps and bounds. Everywhere you see new buildings with the last word in modern trends. They have already built a highway by-pass around the city and the folks don't seem to mind at all but rather seem determined to build out to and beyond it. Some three miles from downtown stands a newly finished high school which we were told just about surpasses anything anywhere and we were told this by a school man. All the way out in the country stands this school and already beautiful brick homes are reaching out that way. As we looked at the staggering growth since our last trip we could see that their plans proved that they meant for Tyler to keep growing. If we should suggest a slogan we would say "We are building to keep growing." We don't know where its income comes from but there seems to be wealth popping from the seams. So a big bunch of red roses to this fine city.

Travelling over East Texas in the Kilgore, Marshall and Longview country it is just a hop and a jump over into the neighboring state of Louisiana. We were amazed not to find much that we could call a difference. Shreveport could well qualify for an East Texas city. Actually, we couldn't find but two things that was absolutely new to us. We had never noticed liquor stores in Texas with a big sign displaying the word Whiskey instead of the usual Liquor. But everywhere this was true. Don't get me wrong we didn't go inside, just noticed the signs.

Along the roads in these parts colored farmers were peddling their wild berries along the highways. Maybe the whole family sitting beside the road visiting with each other, resting themselves and holding up buckets of freshly picked wild berries. The fence rows and open spaces were covered with berry vines. We had never seen this before.

They have politics down there the same as in Texas, this we already knew but, on many of the bridges and on other projects we would see inscriptions such as this: "Built during the administration of Huey Long." We bought a paper and one headline caught our eye. The writer was saying that the present Gov. Earl Long was trying to Out-Huey-Huey. We had never heard the expression but it was easy to catch on to his thinking. Speaking of the Negro people in those parts we guessed that they were most in the majority in numbers. They seemed happy and prosperous especially in the towns where there was work everywhere. It was Saturday afternoon and everyone was shopping madly for bargains which seemed more scarce than on Polk Street or in my home-town.

Seventy-nine Marines were awarded the Medal of Honor for acts of valor performed in World War II.

All things come to those who wait—on themselves.

GABIE BETTS BURTON LIBRARY NOTES

EDITH BARNES

Most of you know the few rules we have at the library but for those of you who do not here they are: We are open every day except Sunday from 2 until 5 o'clock. Membership fees are 25c for three months, 50c for six months, etc. You can keep the books for two weeks with one 2-week renewal. One cent a day fine on each book for each day over due. Three magazines can be taken out at a time, only one current, seven days on them. You pay for books that are lost or torn up.

Since we only have one copy of new books I would appreciate you reading them as soon as possible so that more folks would have a chance to read them. I know of only one thing read less than last year's best-sellers and that is last week's newspaper.

Most of you read about Mrs. Antrobus being the oldest club member present at the convention held in Lubbock a few weeks ago, and that she is a member of the "Path Finders" Club. Mrs. Ryan brought us a lot of material on the "Path Finders" that her mother, Mrs. Gentry, had saved. Some of it goes back to the club's founding.

If any of you have the "Life" magazine with Marilyn Monroe's picture on the cover may I have it? Mine went out once and did not return. This is the issue that gave Bob Neece's "Prison Exposures" such a write up.

"Prison Exposures" is one of the new books we did get. Most of the ones I ordered I did not get but expect they will be shipped at a later date.

Bob Neece was editor of "Presidio," the prison magazine published at Fort Madison, Iowa, when he was in the penitentiary there. I do not believe anyone can read and study the pictures of his "Prison Exposures" without wondering if society was a little more interested in rehabilitation prisons could become builders of men rather than training grounds for more hardened criminals.

still belong on the team. Turkeys, especially the smaller sizes, also have stepped into the May list for this area.

Edible fats and oils, milk and dairy products, lard, and potatoes are expected to continue plentiful this month.

And with huge harvest of celery now underway, this item also deserves special attention this month.

The monthly list of foods in heavier-than-normal supply is provided by USDA through the southwest food distribution division of the Agricultural Marketing Service, after national and local supplies are determined. Menu planners usually will find it to their advantage to serve plentiful foods more often.
